Maria Elvira Salazar
Research Book

Republican Representative in Florida’s
27th Congressional District

Childhood & Misrepresentation of Upbringing

- Salazar was born in Miami to Cuban exiles, but grew up in Puerto Rico. She moved back to Miami at age 15 with her mom after her parents divorced.

- Salazar has repeatedly misrepresented her childhood to give the impression that she is an immigrant who struggled to make it in the United States.
  - Since running for Congress, Salazar has repeatedly said that she is a “Brown girl from the hood.” She has also falsely claimed that her “American journey” started with “$5 in my pocket,” including in campaign ads, despite being born in Miami and not starting with $5. After being questioned about her upbringing, Salazar doubled down and said, “we were poor” and “we were very pretty poor Cuban refugees.” However, Salazar was not a refugee.
  - In 2007, she described herself when she moved to Miami at age 15 as a “young unknown poor Cuban American.” However, in June 2022, Salazar posted a photo of her as a little girl with her father on a boat learning to waterski. In 1988, the Miami Herald even described Salazar’s upbringing as growing up “around TV studios in Puerto Rico” because her father was an actor and producer.
  - In that same Miami Herald piece, Salazar described herself as a “proud YUCA” or young upscale Cuban American. This description seems more accurate given that Salazar attended and graduated from a private high school in Coral Gables, where she was the “senior leader president” and on the cheerleading, volleyball and basketball teams.
    - In 1969, the Miami Herald reported that the private school was building a $250,000 air-conditioned gymnasium.
  - Salazar even paid to take “accent-reduction classes” for five years because she said she wanted to “speak English perfectly, better than the Americans” and didn’t want people to say, “she’s Latin.”
  - Too make matters worse, Salazar is still continuing to misrepresent her childhood. Her campaign website claims that she is “a product of South Florida’s public school system,” despite living in Puerto Rico until she was 15 and graduating from a private high school.
  - In 2010, Salazar said she had a “lifelong nanny” who take care of her daughters.

Note: Salazar has also misrepresented her political aspirations.

Family & Relationships

- Salazar has been married three times, including most recently in June 2022 to Lester Woerner, a “wealthy businessman” with investments in agriculture and real estate.
  - Salazar told Telemundo that she kept the relationship private because she was focused on her reelection campaign, but didn’t mention her job in Congress.
Salazar also said that she thought Woerner was originally interested in making a large contribution to her campaign, but instead became her husband. Salazar tried to downplay the connection to her husband’s wealth by saying, “the reality is that he is the one who is wealthy, I am still Maria Elvira.” She added, “the money is his, the heart is mine.”

Two days after the wedding, Salazar was not in DC for votes, and instead voted by proxy, claiming it was “because of the ongoing public health emergency.”

- Salazar was also once married to Arturo Cruz, a Nicaraguan presidential candidate in 2021 who was arrested and placed in a detention facility by Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega for being an opposition candidate.

- Salazar has been in other long-term relationships. She lived at a home owned by a businessman named Jaime Court for years, including as recently as 2021. In 2017, Salazar attended a gala with Court. In February 2021, Salazar said was “soon to be married” to someone she has been with for 10 years and “who is happy to support” her efforts as a congresswoman, which she appears to be referring to Court. At the time, Salazar’s attorney said that if Salazar was to get married before May 2021 the public would see a “whole lot of information about her husband and his holdings.” However, Salazar appeared to have never married Court and about a year later married Woerner.

- Coincidentally, Salazar married Woerner two days before she submitted her financial disclosures, which do not have any details about her new husband’s investments.

Finances

- In 2021, Salazar was allegedly forgoing her $174,000 congressional salary, a promise she repeatedly made on the campaign trail, despite reporting a $20,000 income and up to $5 million in debt on her 2020 public financial disclosure.

- Despite Salazar withholding her congressional salary and reporting $0 in earned income in 2021, Salazar’s finances have vastly improved since running for office. In 2021, Salazar’s net worth was between $1.2 million and $3.2 million, a drop from her net worth in 2020/2021 when it was $1.9 million to $7.7 million. However, her net worth is much higher than in 2018, when she was first running for Congress and reported no more than a $750,000 net worth.

- In 2021, Salazar said she had a long-time partner who was supporting her family financially, including helping with expenses. However, Salazar is no longer with that partner, which raises the question if her new “wealthy” husband is financially supporting her, despite saying “the money is his.”

- Separately, from 2000 to 2007, Salazar and an ex-husband took out nearly $7 million in mortgage debt on 8 properties, which resulted in three defaults.
  - In 2012, Salazar and her ex-husband were ordered to pay more than $500,000 to SunTrust Bank after defaulting on monthly credit payments.
In 2021, a long-time property dispute involving property owned by her ex-husband was finally resolved.

- Salazar seems to think she is above the law. In the last ten years, Salazar has received at least 13 traffic violations, but 12 have been dismissed.
- In addition, as of August 2022, Miracle TV, a company solely registered to Salazar, has failed to pay three traffic violations that occurred between 2015 and 2017. Salazar owes more than $1,100 in fines, which has resulted in a collection agency attempting to collect the balance.

STOCK Act Violation & Cano Health

- Prior to entering Congress, Salazar was making most of her money as a talk show host and media consultant for health care companies, including Cano Health.
  - From January 2019 to December 2020, Salazar had a contract agreement with Cano Health to anchor a weekly television show and promote the company.

- In 2022, Salazar violated the STOCK Act by improperly disclosing a six-figure stock trade more than two months after the legally required disclosure period. Salazar’s violation was for failing to properly disclosure between $250,000 and $500,000 in Cano Health stock.

- Salazar’s STOCK Act violation is less than 2 years after Salazar “blasted” her 2020 Democratic opponent for violating the STOCK Act, saying, “how can we trust her?”
  - During that time, Salazar is also seen on video describing the STOCK Act disclosure law and calling her opponents violation of the Act “despicable” and lamentable.
  - She even claimed that her opponent “broke the law to enrich herself off coronavirus,” but Salazar may have been the one who enriched herself off coronavirus:

- In April 2020, while Salazar was on contract with Cano Health, the CEO promoted hydroxychloroquine as a treatment for COVID-19 before the drug had been tested in a clinical trial.
  - Two months later, the FDA revoked emergency use authorization for hydroxychloroquine.

- Too make matters worse, Salazar produced and featured promotional videos for Cano Health, in both English and Spanish, but did not always disclose her business relationship with them even though she was also running for Congress.

- During the height of the COVID-19 pandemic, Salazar was repeatedly seen on video with the CEO of Cano Health providing outrageous medical advice, including advising people with symptoms of COVID-19 to call Cano Health to receive a prescription for hydroxychloroquine rather than go to the hospital for treatment.
  - Salazar is even seen on video saying Cano can keep you home with “the only medicine [hydroxychloroquine] that we have available.” Salazar also appears in a video in Spanish where she said if we could get chloroquine or hydroxychloroquine to the “most houses” it would make it “so people don’t end up in the hospital.”
Peruvian Bribery Scandal

- In the early 2000s, Salazar appeared to be the intermediary in a bribery scandal between Laura Bozzo, a Peruvian newscaster and coworker of Salazar, and Vladimiro Montesinos, a Peruvian intelligence chief who was sentenced for “crimes against humanity.”
  - Salazar connected with Montesinos through Bozzo and befriended him in order to get an exclusive interview on Telemundo, the network she worked at the time.
  - With the help of Bozzo, Salazar got Montesinos to commit to doing an interview; however, due to delays, Salazar would often take her own actions to get closer to an interview.
    - At one point, Salazar went to spy gear stores to find a way to put a “hidden camera” in Montesinos jail cell.
    - She even suggested that she committed a crime by going into the trunk of a car to sneak into a prison in Peru to get to Montesinos.
  - Salazar eventually interviewed Montesinos in 2002.

- During this period, Salazar was recorded asking Bozzo for $100,000 for Montesinos.
  - Salazar was heard saying, “You give me [the money for Montesinos] or I will give you an account, or the lawyer goes to Miami.”
  - Salazar was also heard saying, “Thank God that (Montesinos) did not say anything that compromises me because I am sinking, what scares me is that I screw up.”

- Bozzo provided the recordings to the Peruvian courts, and Salazar was questioned and accused of asking Bozzo for $100,000 to cover Montesinos’ legal fees.
  - Bozzo even accused Salazar of helping Montesinos in an attempt to extort her.

- Salazar denied any wrongdoing and said the recordings were edited and without her consent. Salazar claimed she was just passing messages from a “friend” to “another friend.”
  - Bozzo and Montesinos were allegedly in a romantic relationship.

- However, Salazar later claimed that Montesinos originally asked her to ask her boss at Telemundo for $100,000 in exchange for the interview.

- In 2002, a Peruvian judge came to Florida to interview Salazar about the allegations, but a Peruvian judicial source claimed Salazar was not the subject of the investigations.

- Salazar wasn’t found of any wrongdoings, but Bozzo was placed in house arrest for allegedly accepting $3 million in laundered money from Montesinos in exchange for political support.
  - Bozzo was later acquitted.

- While Salazar was found of no wrongdoings, she claimed she was going to sue Bozzo for defamation to defend her reputation.
  - Salazar described Bozzo as “arrogant and poisonous” and an “instrument of Satan.”
• While Telemundo executives were aware of Salazar’s communication with Montesinos, even paying for her trip to Panama to attempt to interview him, Salazar was let go from Telemundo around this time, which she claimed was because of the Montesinos allegations.
  o Salazar described it as a firing without an “explanation,” but Telemundo officials claimed it was contract disagreements and changes to the lineup.
  o Salazar claimed Telemundo defamed her by promoting the recording during segments and that they were afraid to be connected to Montesinos.

• In 2008, Salazar interviewed Bozzo, and Bozzo said she took Salazar to Panama to interview Montesinos. Salazar also claimed Bozzo apologized to her off camera.

• In 2010, Salazar wrote an entire book about the incident. In the book, Salazar claimed she was fired from Telemundo because of Bozzo while pregnant with her second baby.

• Salazar said the incident was “the darkest, most terrible moment” of her life, claiming she “should be dead, at least professionally.”
  o In the book, Salazar describes how she overcame the scandal to stabilize her finances and continue her journalistic career, which she heavily attributes to God. Salazar claims her family was on the verge of bankruptcy and they had to go “deeper into debt” to “pay for lawyers,” resulting in her almost losing her home.

Cuba & Castro (Pre-Political Career)

• Prior to entering Congress, Salazar was soft on Cuba – praising Obama’s Cuba policy, suggesting Trump should have negotiated with Raul Castro, and calling Fidel Castro “comandante” and “un revolucionario por excelencia.”
  o Despite Salazar repeatedly saying over the years that she opposes negotiating with dictatorships, in 2018, Salazar said Trump should negotiate with Raul Castro rather than Cuban President Diaz-Canel because Diaz-Canel was a “puppet.”
  o Salazar had a photo of her interviews with Castro (and Maduro) in her Congressional office.

  Note: This attack may not appear as credible because Salazar was most often critical of Cuba.

• In 1996, Salazar said Cuban exiles support the embargo, but are the first people who “violate” it by visiting Cuba.

Radical & Extreme Comments (Pre-Political Career)

• In 2017, Salazar appeared to make similar claims to Trump’s “bad people on both sides” claim after the Charlottesville white supremacist rally. Salazar said, “the violence doesn’t just come from the white supremacists” and that there were “tough protests” by opposing groups. Salazar added, “President Trump violently lashed out against the Ku Klux Klan, neo-Nazis and white supremacists.”

- In February 2016, Salazar outrageously claimed that “Hillary is a lesbian” and that “Hillary didn’t like having sex with [Bill], because she preferred sex with women.” Salazar was allegedly the first national television network to cover the story.

- In November 2019, Salazar said, “Imagine the Chinese stealing your book and publishing it under the author name “Ching-Chang-Chong.”

- In 2007, Salazar said Gov. Schwarzenegger was “very wrong” and “very racist” to say immigrants must learn English, despite Salazar paying to take “accent-reduction classes” for five years because she said she wanted to “speak English perfectly, better than the Americans” and didn’t want people to say, “she’s Latin.”

- Salazar writes in her book, “When I feel like ‘killing someone,’ I let myself be guided by reason rather than by feelings.”

- Salazar writes in her book that she made it to top of the media industry “without doing sexual favors in exchange for a position.”

Congressional Votes & Attendance Statistics

- Salazar was failing to do her job. She was not going to work in DC and instead frequently voted by proxy. As a Member of Congress, Salazar has filed 36 different letters authorizing a fellow member of Congress to cast votes on her behalf, which is the 12th most of any Member of Congress. However, according to the Associated Press, in April 2022, Salazar had the most proxy votes of any Republican in 2022.

- Salazar claimed she was not able “to physically attend” because of the “ongoing public health emergency,” but she has also said she was voting by proxy because her mother was in and out of the hospital. However, two days after getting married, Salazar was not in DC for votes, and instead voted by proxy, again claiming it was “because of the ongoing public health emergency.”

- Salazar has a similar pattern in missing committee hearings.
  - Salazar serves on the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, but has missed 25% of the committee’s hearings, including 60% of hearings for the Subcommittee on Middle East, North Africa, and Global Counterterrorism.
  - Salazar has also missed nearly 50% of her small business committee hearings, including more than 71% of her Innovation, Entrepreneurship, and Workforce Development subcommittee hearings and more than 57% of her Underserved, Agricultural, and Rural Business Development subcommittee hearings.

- Salazar has voted 91.1% of the time with the Republican Party.
Policy Issues

Note: This section is in alphabetical order by issue.

- [Abortion] Salazar was an anti-choice extremist who supported letting states ban abortion with no exceptions.
  - Salazar said that the Supreme Court’s decision to overturn Roe v. Wade “returns power to the states and their voters... as the Constitution intended.” But less than 4 years earlier, Salazar said abortion rights was “settled law” and that she didn’t think Justice Kavanaugh was “radical” or an “extremist,” and that she didn’t “like to take rights from people.”
  - Salazar repeatedly voted against the Women’s Health Protection Act, despite suggesting that she didn’t. The legislation would have codified the right to abortion to protect abortion access if Roe v. Wade was overturned.
  - Salazar voted against the Ensuring Access to Abortion Act, which would protect a patient’s ability to access legal abortion services in another state.
  - Salazar had an A+ rating from Susan B. Anthony List, an extreme anti-abortion group that wanted to “end abortion” and pledged after Roe v. Wade was overturned to restrict access to abortion “in every state” and on a national level. Salazar was also endorsed by them.
  - Salazar voted to make the Hyde Amendment, which banned federal money from being used to pay for abortions and health plans that covered abortions, permanent.

- [American Rescue Plan] Salazar voted against the American Rescue Plan, which she described as “socialism” but provided billions in funding for Florida, including money to fight child poverty, save police jobs, and improve schools.
  - Salazar opposed defunding the police and claimed she would “always fight to defend our police,” but by voting against the American Rescue Plan she voted against preventing police layoffs.
  - Salazar said she wanted children to have access to the “greatest education system possible,” but by voting against the American Rescue Plan she voted against $1.1 billion in federal funds provided to Miami-Dade schools.
  - Salazar claimed to support access to affordable healthcare but opposed the American Rescue Plan, which helped make health insurance more affordable during the COVID-19 pandemic.
  - Salazar falsely claimed people receiving $1,400 stimulus checks from ARP will pay “thousands and thousands more in taxes.”
  - Salazar took credit for the passage of legislation she proposed to extend repayment of COVID relief loans, despite ultimately voting against the bill included in the American Rescue Plan, which prompted backlash.

- [Antifa] Salazar cosponsored legislation to investigate Antifa’s role in riots in U.S. cities in 2020.

- [Baby Formula] Salazar demanded “answers” from the Biden administration on the baby formula shortage and even called for the use of the Defense Production Act to increase access to formula. But then Salazar voted against authorizing $28 million in emergency funding to the FDA to address the shortage.

- [Bad for Workers and Seniors] Salazar said people benefitting from government programs were “parasites of society” and falsely asserted the top 1 percent paid 99 percent of taxes.
  - Ironically, she has more recently said that if someone needs social help that “you have to give it to them” “temporarily.”

- [Big Lie] Salazar promoted The Big Lie and repeatedly voted against holding Trump and his associates accountable for their role in the January 6th insurrection.
  - Salazar voted against impeaching Trump for inciting the January 6th insurrection.
  - Salazar voted against establishing the Select Committee to investigate the January 6th attack on the United States Capitol.
  - Salazar promoted conspiracy theories about the 2020 election and January 6th. In April 2022, Salazar asked a journalist - “Are you working to uncover the full truth about what everyone knew before Jan 6th?”
  - Salazar refused to discuss Rep. Kevin McCarthy’s lies about January 6th and said that the press’s insistence on pursuing the story was because the press had been “infiltrated” by “Neo-Marxists.”
  - In 2022, when Salazar was asked about January 6th by the media, Salazar instead criticized the media and said the media is “not doing their job” when “there’s a major threat in this country” by what she calls the “socialists or the neo-Marxists: that’s the real threat.”
  - Salazar said getting to the bottom of Jan 6 begins by seeing what Pelosi knew.
  - Amid the release by the NY Times of tapes between Kevin McCarthy and other members of the GOP about how January 6th could impact Trump, Salazar suggested the tapes were edited and blamed the media for not “doing [their] job.”
  - Prior to election certification, Salazar said “what’s happening is outrageous” and predicted “evidence will be revealed” on January 6th.
  - Salazar promoted a conspiracy theory about Pennsylvania’s election results. Salazar said, “How is it possible that in Pennsylvania there are 200,000 more votes on election day than there were on the electoral rolls, that is impossible!”
  - Days after the 2020 election was called, Salazar appeared on Fox News and peddled conspiracy theory-style election rhetoric, saying, “we better do something in order to preserve the sanctity of the electoral process” or “we’re doomed.”
  - In November 2020, Salazar refused to respond when asked if they were aware of any Venezuelan efforts to change votes in the 2020 election.
  - Instead of working on protecting voter rights, Salazar cosponsored legislation that would require election officials to report the total number of ballots in their possession within one hour of polls closing.

- [Censorship] In January 2021, Salazar said, “censorship is infiltrating the U.S.”
• [Colombia] Salazar warned Colombians about Gustavo Petro, tying him to Bernie Sanders and corruption. After Petro won the Colombian presidential election, Salazar called Petro a “thief, terrorist, and a Marxist.”
  o Petro and a Colombian Senator both claimed Salazar was interfering in a foreign election, and the Senator claimed Salazar was carrying out a “smear campaign” against Petro.
  o They both pointed out that she was “strongly supported” by Uribe, who “illegally intervened” in Salazar’s campaign in 2020.

• [Cuba] Salazar appears to have flip-flopped on U.S. Cuba policy once she became a Member of Congress. In 2022, Salazar said, “the Biden Administration reopening US-Cuba relations gives oxygen to the Castro regime.” However, in 2016, Salazar described Obama’s visit to Cuba as “historic,” “noble,” and showed that the Cuban people “are not alone.”

• [Cuba] Salazar said AOC and the Squad should defend Afro-Cubans the same way they are trying to defend African American rights, adding that the “double standard” is “sickening.”

• [Cuba] In 2021, Salazar called on Biden to lead a military intervention to protect Cubans, but added, “we cannot trust Biden’s stance on Cuba.”

• [Confederate Statutes] Salazar sided with the far-right and white supremacists by voting against the removal of Confederate statutes from the US Capitol grounds.

• [Education] After Salazar praised DeSantis for signing legislation in Florida to teach students about the “evils of communism,” Salazar introduced federal legislation to produce anti-communist education programs for high school students, and cosponsored legislation introduced by Rep. Cawthorn to educate the public on “traditional American history.” The Cawthorn legislation prohibited grant funds to be used to teach the 1619 Project or Critical Race Theory.
  o Salazar also signed a letter that called “curricula like critical race theory” “harmful.”

• [Education] Salazar is attacking public schools. In 2022, Salazar cosponsored legislation that attacked public schools by providing a 100-percent income tax credit for individuals and businesses that contribute to scholarship funds for private K-12 schools.

• [Energy & Environment] Salazar claimed she would protect the environment, but has received support from oil & gas and pro-drilling groups.
  o Salazar supported the Republican tax law that opened the Alaska National Wildlife Refuge to drilling.
  o While Salazar has publicly opposed drilling off the coast of Florida, she has been funded and supported by pro-oil drilling groups who are pushing Congress to allow them to drill offshore, including in the Florida Straits, putting our coastline and water supply at risk. Salazar accepted $6,500 from Chevron and Exxon Mobil PACs, both of which are members of the American Chemistry Council. The American Chemistry Council has lobbied against banning offshore drilling, including in the Florida Straits. Salazar has also been supported by FreedomWorks for America via $76,000 in outside spending support.
FreedomWorks has opposed offshore drilling, including in the Atlantic, and called for markets to decide where to drill.

- Salazar has taken more than $68,000 from the oil and gas industry in her career, including $9,000 from oil and gas PACs.

- [Energy & Environment] Salazar supported a carbon tax proposal that would have caused consumers to pay nearly $500 more in yearly fuel costs by 2030.

- [Energy & Environment] Salazar has been critical of Biden’s energy policies, calling his policies an “assault” on energy and his actions “band-aids.” Salazar called for Biden to restore the Keystone XL Pipeline and end freezes on new oil and gas leases. Salazar wrote that clean energy policies without expanding our domestic capacity will empower China and Maduro.
  - Salazar criticized the Biden Administration for stopping the “drilling or fracking on government land.”

- [Energy & Environment] In April 2022, when gas prices were rising, Salazar said, “Biden should not use the strategic federal oil reserve to bring energy prices down.”

- [Ethics & Government Reform] During the 2020 campaign trail, Salazar repeatedly promised to donate her congressional salary. She even promised to use it to run an employment center in her district office. However, the House Ethics Committee advised Salazar against redirecting her salary to fund her congressional office. As a result, Salazar was not able to hire additional staff for a prosperity center, but said her district office would conduct additional casework related to employment. This raises the question if Salazar kept her promise and has been donating her salary.
  - When describing the employment center while running for office, Salazar said “my African Americans” would be the first to benefit.

- [Ethics & Government Reform] In 2020, Salazar promised to “fight for term limits,” but when she entered Congress, Salazar said she would “die doing this” if the voters allowed her.

- [Flip Flopper] In 2020, Tim Padgett, an editor for the Miami NPR affiliate WLRN, slammed Salazar as practicing “McCarthyism” and said Salazar was filled with “shameless double standards” that it would have “even made a two-faced politico like Fidel Castro blush.”

- [Guns] Despite voting for the bipartisan gun bill after the Uvalde massacre, Salazar has voted against common sense measures to crack down on violent gun crime.
  - Salazar voted against red flag laws that prohibited the purchase and possession of firearms by people who pose an imminent danger.
  - Salazar voted against The Protecting Our Kids Act that would have raised the age to buy a semiautomatic weapon.
  - Salazar voted against the Active Shooter Alert Act that was supported by multiple law enforcement groups in order to better respond to active threats.
  - Salazar voted against an assault weapons ban despite previously voicing support for banning assault weapons.
• [Health Care] In 2018, while Salazar was first running for Congress, she said Obamacare “was no good” and “we need to find another way.” She even called Democrats “socialistas” because of policies like Obamacare. However, in 2020, Salazar said, “If you like your Obamacare, you can keep it,” and “Obamacare needs to stay the way it is unless we can provide a better plan.” She also would not say if she supported a lawsuit to invalidate Obamacare.

• [Health Care] Salazar supported allowing the government to negotiate prescription drug prices, but voted against allowing the government to do so.

• [Immigration] Salazar has been all over the place on immigration. While she supports DACA and a path to legal status for undocumented immigrants, she does not support a path to citizenship. She once even said that “not just anyone” should be granted birthright citizenship.
  - In 2018, Salazar said undocumented immigrants under 14 years old should be sent back to their home countries, even those who fled violence.

• [Immigration] Salazar has also been all over the place on sanctuary cities. In 2016, Salazar said, “sanctuary cities are the best shelters, because at least they can’t be deported that easily.” In 2017, Salazar said sanctuary cities are “havens for criminals” and makes “Hispanics look like a bunch of imbeciles,” but a couple months later again praised California’s sanctuary city law and said it was “not as bad as it sounds.”

• [Immigration] Salazar has been critical of Trump and her own party, saying “the reality of immigration is not” as Republicans see it and that Republicans have never promised anything on immigration. Salazar also said that she did not like “what Trump has done on immigration.”

• [Inflation] Salazar said she hadn’t “done anything to help the average American” during her time in Congress because Democrats weren’t proposing bills to lower costs and fight inflation, but Salazar voted against multiple Democratic bills to lower the cost of food, fuel, and insulin. Salazar even voted against the Inflation Reduction Act, despite it lowering the cost for prescription drugs and lowering inflation.

• [Infrastructure] Salazar pledged to “work hard” to improve Florida’s infrastructure, but voted against the Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill that provided billions in funding to Florida to improve highways, public transit, drinking water infrastructure, and airports.
  - Salazar said she voted against the legislation because it was a “tradeoff between infrastructure and socialism” and said parts of the bill were “very questionable.”

• [Islam] In 2017, Salazar retweeted a post calling to ban Islam. A year earlier, Salazar also said the “political ideology of ISIS is based on the Quran.”

• [Israel & Anti-Semitism] Salazar presents herself as a dedicated ally of Israel and of Jewish Americans when talking in English, but in Spanish she shares anti-Semitic conspiracy theories about George Soros.
Salazar repeatedly called Ilhan Omar, Rashia Tlaib, and the “far-left” anti-Semitic for their positions on Israel and Palestine. But after tweeting in English that the media was guilty of dealing in “anti-Semitic canards,” Salazar tweeted in Spanish her own quintessential anti-Semitic canard about George Soros, claiming he was in the “shadow” of wanting to “silence conservative voices.”
  - The Anti-Defamation League considers conspiracy theories about George Soros and the media to be “well-known anti-Semitic tropes.”
  - Salazar was critical of the sale of Radio Mambi to “left-wing investors.”

Salazar has also outrageously tied socialism to anti-Semitism. She claimed all socialists are “anti-Jew” and even once said, “When you say socialism, you are talking about anti-Semitism in the same phrase.”

- [Jobs] In 2021, Salazar called for moving jobs overseas by providing financial incentives to companies that move jobs to Central America.

- [LGBTQ+] Salazar voted against the Equality Act which banned discrimination on the basis of gender identity or sexual orientation.
  - The Miami Herald called her vote “shameful.”

- [Medicare & Social Security] Salazar claimed she supported policies to help seniors, including calling to protect Medicare and allowing the government to negotiate drug prices, but voted against policies to do so. Salazar also claimed she did not support any cuts to Medicare or Social Security, but voted against preventing sequestration cuts to Medicare and was endorsed by a group who wanted to privatize Social Security and Medicare.

- [Medicare & Social Security] Salazar has aligned herself with Senator Rick Scott, who released a plan to sunset Social Security and Medicare and raise income taxes on half of Americans.

- [Palestine] In 2021, Salazar said the “average Palestinian doesn’t really understand that they are being used on behalf of this terrorist organization.”

- [Partisanship] In 2018, Salazar tried to style herself as a moderate and said she would “step into the center.” However, Salazar has voted with the Republican Party 91% of the time, was named Assistant House GOP Whip as soon as she entered office, and repeatedly showed support for Trump.
  - In November 2020, Salazar said it was “an absolute honor to serve” with Liz Cheney and described Cheney as someone who wasn’t “afraid to speak truth to power.” However, in 2021, Salazar failed to stand up for Cheney when she faced retaliation for speaking out against the Big Lie, and Salazar refused to say whether she voted to oust Cheney from party leadership.

- [Socialism, Communism, & Marxism] Salazar has made the fight against socialism and communism her top priority as a Member of Congress, often attempting to tie any policy supported by the left as “socialism.”
In Congress, she has introduced or cosponsored legislation to denounce socialism and communism, gaining praise from GOP dark money groups like FreedomWorks.

- [Socialism, Communism, & Marxism] As a politician, Salazar has always fearmongered about socialism coming to the United States, often claiming the Democrats have been kidnapped by socialists and Marxists. She has repeatedly connected Biden and the Democrats to socialism and Marxism, including claiming Biden will take us “down the path to socialism.”
  - Salazar also called Biden racist for comments made about low vaccination rates in minority communities because of more limited internet access.

- [Statehood] Salazar introduced a bill to admit Puerto Rico as the 51st state, but voted against making DC a state.

- [Taxes] Salazar supported tax policies, including the 2017 Republican tax bill, that enriched corporations and the wealthiest Americans, but voted against tax cuts for the middle class.
  - Salazar even called a plan that would cut taxes for the middle class and make corporations and the wealthy pay their fair share “socialist.”

- [Trump] While Salazar claims she is a moderate or in the “center,” Salazar has repeatedly shown support for Trump since 2016.
  - In August 2022, Salazar tweeted that the FBI raid of Mar-A-Lago was “extremely troubling.” In Spanish, Salazar was more extreme and promoted conspiracy theories. Salazar said, “government institutions, in this case the FBI and DOJ, are being weaponized as political threats” and “government institutions” were being used to “politically assault the opposition.” She was even more extreme on Spanish television, falsely claiming that there was “empirical evidence” of business dealings between Hunter Biden and China that should be “investigated.”
  - January 2021: Salazar voted not to impeach Trump following the Capitol attack on January 6th.
  - In a blog post from September 2019, Salazar denied that Trump had conditioned military aid to Ukraine on the country launching criminal investigations of the Biden family, and claimed that “government officials” with “an axe to grind” were sabotaging the president.
  - In 2018, Salazar called Trump a “special person.”
  - In 2017, Salazar repeatedly praised Trump’s immigration policies.
  - November 2016: Salazar voted for Trump.

- [Unions] Salazar has shown her opposition to unions by voting against the PRO Act and against a measure to allow her own staff to unionize.

- [Ukraine & Russia] At the beginning of the war in Ukraine, Salazar said that she supported a ‘no-fly zone’ over Ukraine, drawing fire from local media, including the Miami Herald who called her “ill prepared.”
  - Salazar was accused by Tucker Carlson of suggesting the United States go to war with Russia.
• [Ukraine & Russia] Salazar believed the United States should comply with all aid requests that Ukraine made to the United States.

• [Venezuela] In 2018, Salazar suggested the U.S. should “topple Venezuela, but seconds later said the United States should not be “promoting coups.”

• [Veterans]: Despite introducing and cosponsoring multiple pieces of legislation in support of veterans, Salazar has repeatedly voted against measures to improve health care for veterans.

• [Women] Salazar voted against the Paycheck Fairness Act or equal pay against equal work legislation.

Political Aspirations

• In 2021, after she was sworn in, Salazar posted on Facebook that “as a little girl, I never imagined that I’d one day represent” Florida in Congress. In 2018, Salazar also told reporters she never envisioned leaving journalism to run for office. However, in 1983, the Miami Herald reported that Salazar wanted to become a politician.

Campaign Finance

• From 2018 to 2020, Salazar loaned her campaign $192,000, including $182,000 in 2020, which was the same year Salazar only disclosed $20,000 in income. Salazar was not married at the time, which raises the question if Salazar illegally accepted nearly $200,000 from a close partner and made the contribution under her name to in order to evade contribution limits. Salazar has said that a longtime partner who she lived with was financially supporting her family.

• Salazar is getting most of her campaign contributions from outside the district. As of August 2022, Salazar has received more than 42% of her contributions from out of state. She has also received more than 42% of her contributions from outside of the district.

• Salazar’s donors are big dollar donors. As of August 2022, Salazar has only received 22% of her contributions from small dollar donors.
  - In 2020, Salazar only received 16% of her contributions from small dollar donors.
  - In 2018, Salazar only received 3% of her contributions from small dollar donors.

• In the 2022 election, Americans for Prosperity PAC, a PAC funded and affiliated to Koch, has spent more than $257,000 in support of Salazar. Salazar was also endorsed by American for Prosperity.

• Salazar took nearly $50,000 in contributions from an attorney who represented Alex Saab, a man Salazar called “Nicolás Maduro’s leading henchman” and a “drug trafficker who is responsible for flooding American streets with cocaine.”
• In 2020, Salazar faced an FEC complaint over failing to report employer and occupation data for some contributors. In 2021, Salazar was issued a FEC warning letter for having 13 donations exceeding the contribution limit. Salazar’s attorney said the donations were “misapplied”; however, two of those donations came from the Columbian lawyer (and his wife) who represented famed international criminal Alex Saab. Salazar said she was thankful for the attorney’s support.

  Note: The FEC Complaint was dismissed by the FEC.

Endorsements

• Salazar has received campaign support from foreign leaders. In 2020, a U.S. ambassador warned Colombian politicians to stay out of U.S. elections after former Colombian President Uribe endorsed Salazar for congress, which Salazar amplified on social media. Uribe said we “need” Salazar in Congress, and Salazar called Uribe “one of the great ones of Latin America.” In 2018, Salazar also circulated praise from former Colombian President Alvaro Uribe, causing Uribe to clarify his comments did not “represent political support.” Ironically, in 2007, Salazar appeared to connect Uribe to organized drug trafficking.

• In 2018, the Miami Herald Editorial Board said Salazar was “not ready for such a big job.” In 2020, they said, “she still isn’t.”

BACKGROUND

- BORN: Maria Elvira Salazar; November 1, 1961 (Age: 60); Miami, FL
- FAMILY: Nicoletta Maietto (Daughter); Martina Maietto (Daughter); Lester Woerner (Husband; Married 2022); Renzo Maietto (Married 1999; Divorced 2010); Arturo Cruz (Married 1992, Divorced)
- HOME: Miami, Florida 33143
- EDUCATION: Harvard University’s John F. Kennedy School of Government, (MPA) Public Administration (1993-1995); University of Miami, (BA) Communications (1979-1983); Miami Dade College
- POLITICAL: U.S. Member of Congress, Florida’s 27th Congressional District (2021-Present); U.S. Congressional Candidate, Florida’s 27th Congressional District (2018, 2020, 2022)
- AWARDS: 5 Emmys; Miami Dade College Alumni Hall of Fame Award (2007); Hispanic Media 100 Program honoree (2001); Metro-Dade Park and Recreation Department honored Salazar as part of Women’s History Month (1989);
Salazar was born in Miami to Cuban exiles, but grew up in Puerto Rico. She moved back to Miami at age 15 with her mom after her parents divorced.

Salazar has repeatedly misrepresented her childhood to give the impression that she is an immigrant who struggled to make it in the United States.

- Since running for Congress, Salazar has repeatedly said that she is a “Brown girl from the hood.” She has also falsely claimed that her “American journey” started with “$5 in my pocket,” including in campaign ads, despite being born in Miami and not starting with $5. After being questioned about her upbringing, Salazar doubled down and said, “we were poor” and “we were very pretty poor Cuban refugees.” However, Salazar was not a refugee.
- In 2007, she described herself when she moved to Miami at age 15 as a “young unknown poor Cuban American.” However, in June 2022, Salazar posted a photo of her as a little girl with her father on a boat learning to waterski. In 1988, the Miami Herald even described Salazar’s upbringing as growing up “around TV studios in Puerto Rico” because her father was an actor and producer.
- In that same Miami Herald piece, Salazar described herself as a “proud YUCA” or young upscale Cuban American. This description seems more accurate given that Salazar attended and graduated from a private high school in Coral Gables, where she was the “senior leader president” and on the cheerleading, volleyball and basketball teams. In 1969, the Miami Herald reported that the private school was building a $250,000 air-conditioned gymnasium.
- Salazar even paid to take “accent-reduction classes” for five years because she said she wanted to “speak English perfectly, better than the Americans” and didn’t want people to say, “she’s Latin.”
- Too make matters worse, Salazar is still continuing to misrepresent her childhood. Her campaign website claims that she is “a product of South Florida’s public school system,” despite living in Puerto Rico until she was 15 and graduating from a private high school.
- In 2010, Salazar said she had a “lifelong nanny” who take care of her daughters.

Note: Salazar has also misrepresented her political aspirations.
Salazar was born in Miami, but grew up in Puerto Rico before she moved back to Miami at age 15.

Salazar Was Born In Miami. “University of Miami senior Maria Elvira Salazar hopes to become a broadcast journalist and later a politician. To do this, she says, she wants to become absolutely accent-free. Salazar, who was born in Miami, grew up in Puerto Rico and came back to the States at 15 with what she considered a ‘horrible accent’ in English.” [Miami Herald, 2/27/83]

Salazar Grew Up In Puerto Rico Until She Was Fifteen. “University of Miami senior Maria Elvira Salazar hopes to become a broadcast journalist and later a politician. Salazar Moved With Her Mother To Miami When Her Parents Divorced. “He died four years ago, and Salazar has never quite recovered from the loss. ‘He taught me life. He taught me timing. All the things about the business,’ she says. ‘Whatever he said, I did. But this was in my blood or I wouldn’t have continued.’ After her parents divorced, she moved to Miami with her mother and learned English at a private school before going on to the University of Miami, where she majored in journalism. ‘I didn’t have much fun in college,’ she recalls. ‘I wanted to be someone.’” [Miami Herald, 5/29/88]

Parents

Salazar's father, Hector Salazar, was an actor-producer, sportscaster for Channel 23.

Hector Salazar Was An Actor-Producer And Salazar's Father. “Besides anchoring CNN news (for a salary she refuses to disclose), Salazar will be working for Telemundo, doing sporadic celebrity interview shows patterned after the Barbara Walters specials. ‘This is not gossip,’ she says. ‘They’re classy, informative interviews.’ The only daughter of actor-producer Hector Salazar, she grew up around TV studios in Puerto Rico, where her parents settled after leaving Cuba in 1960. At age 14, she was hosting an afternoon movie show produced by her dad.” [Miami Herald, 5/29/88]

Salazar’s Father Was A Sportscaster For Channel 23. “Born in Miami, Salazar grew up in Puerto Rico, moving back to the mainland when she was 15. She graduated from the University of Miami with a bachelor’s degree in journalism, taking years of diction classes to get rid of her accent in English. She also earned a master’s degree in public administration from Harvard University. Nevertheless, she wanted to follow in the footsteps of her father, Hector Salazar, a sportscaster for Channel 23 before he died.” [Miami Herald, 12/28/05]

Salazar's mother was Marta Bermudo.

Marta Bermudo Was Salazar’s Mother. “‘Do you know what it’s like to be there? You’re living doubly, you’re living your own life and others,’ says Salazar, who would like to combine anchoring and reporting. There’s also a social side to Salazar, who enjoys benefit galas and occasionally emcees them in Miami, where her mother, Marta Bermudo, is active in charity causes.” [Miami Herald, 5/29/88]
In the 1960s, Salazar's parents left Cuba as political refugees or Cuban exiles. They would later divorce when Salazar was a teenager.

At age 14, she was hosting an afternoon movie show produced by her dad.” [Miami Herald, 5/29/88]

- Salazar Said Her Parents Were Political Refugees. “It will be a seamless transition between Ileana and myself, because we believe in the same causes,’ said Salazar. ‘I’m a common sense Republican and I have common sense policies.’ ‘We may not agree on everything, but it’s the same plan,’ she continued. ‘We’re both daughters of political refugees. We know the community. We know what people feel, how people speak, how people act, because we are one of them. And that’s why people love her, and I think that’s why they love me, too.’” [WLRN, 8/29/18]

- Salazar’s Parents Were Cuban Exiles. “Salazar, whose parents were Cuban exiles, encouraged her opponents to work together to win in November.” [Miami Herald, 8/28/18]

Salazar’s Parents Were Divorced. "He died four years ago, and Salazar has never quite recovered from the loss. 'He taught me life. He taught me timing. All the things about the business,' she says. ‘Whatever he said, I did. But this was in my blood or I wouldn’t have continued.’ After her parents divorced, she moved to Miami with her mother and learned English at a private school before going on to the University of Miami, where she majored in journalism. ‘I didn’t have much fun in college,’ she recalls. ‘I wanted to be someone.’” [Miami Herald, 5/29/88]

Misrepresentation of Upbringing

"From The Hood"

Since running for Congress, Salazar has repeatedly said that she is a “Brown girl from the hood.”

[VIDEO] June 2022: Salazar: “A Brown Girl From The Hood.” “I have presented and I've said it to you, a law, an immigration reform law where you seal the border, seal the border, if I catch you coming back, once you were deported, you're going to go to jail for a long time. Very strong border security measures [...] my bill, a brown girl from the hood, presented by the GOP, pay attention to it, seal the border, and then take care of those who are here, who are contributing to the American economy. It's simple.” [Fox Business News Maria Bartiromo with Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 6/09/22 (4:51)]

May 2021: Salazar: “I Am A Brown Girl From The Hood.” “[SALAZAR]: Well, the problem is that they cannot - they don’t have a plan. Because immigration -- and I feel it on my own skin on the floor of the United States Congress -- is a very, very difficult word to pronounce. No one wants to touch immigration, because, unfortunately, you have to make tough choices. But I am a brown girl from the hood. I don’t have any problems with bringing a plan -- which I did, and I brought it to your show -- which is that we have - we've got to solve many problems. We have to solve the asylum process, which is broken. We have to fix the problem with the visas.” [Fox Business, 5/03/21]

November 2020: Salazar: “A Brown Girl From The Hood With An Accent Made It To The U.S. Congress.” “You know these forces that are trying to say that -- that the system doesn't work for us, oh, it's not true. Look at me. I am the daughter of political refugees, people that got here 60 years ago. A brown girl from the hood with an accent made it to the U.S. Congress, the seat of power in the world.” [Fox Business, 11/18/20]

“$5 In My Pocket”

Salazar has also falsely claimed that her “American journey” started with “$5 in my pocket,” including in campaign ads, despite being born in Miami and not starting with $5.

[VIDEO] September 2020: Salazar Was Accused Of Misrepresenting Her Background Since She Was Born In Miami And Did Not Start With $5 In Her Pocket. This Week in South Florida host Michael Putney interviewed Salazar and said, “In the ad you said my American journey started here with $5 in my pocket. [...] You were born in Miami and you didn’t really start here with $5 in your pocket. [...] So is this a misrepresentation.” [Local 10, 9/27/20 (1:20)]

- October 2020: Fabiola Santiago Column: Salazar Claim That She Began In Miami With $5 Was “A Gratuitous Lie.” “And, in a congressional rematch against incumbent Shalala -- who has been stridently anti-Maduro and anti-Bernie Sanders -- Salazar, a former journalist, peddles in a widely seen television ad that she arrived in Miami with $5 in her pocket. Yet, she was born right here in Miami in 1961. It's a gratuitous lie to appeal to Cuban Americans.” [Miami Herald, Fabiola Santiago Column, 10/7/20]

Salazar’s Campaign Website Says Her Parents Arrived In The United States “With Only Five Dollars In Their Pockets.” “Born in Miami’s Little Havana to Cuban parents, who emigrated to the United States, fleeing Cuba due to the arrival of Fidel Castro to power. With only five dollars in their pockets, the pursuit for freedom and the American dream was instilled in María Elvira Salazar at an early age by her parents. While being raised in Miami and Puerto Rico, Salazar listened as her parents told stories of the oppressive communist regime from which they escaped. Becoming American citizens at the Freedom Tower, Salazar’s parents wanted a better life for their family; they wanted freedom.” [MariaElviraSalazar.com, Bio, accessed 8/24/22]

- The Earliest Archive Of The Salazar’s Campaign Website Biography Also Says That It Was Her Parents Who Arrived With Five Dollars. “Born in Miami’s Little Havana to Cuban parents, who emigrated to the United States, fleeing Cuba due to the arrival of Fidel Castro to power. “We Were Poor”

After being questioned about her upbringing, Salazar doubled down and said, “we were poor” and “we were very pretty poor Cuban refugees.” However, Salazar was not a refugee.

[VIDEO] September 2020: Salazar: “We Were Poor. […] We Were Very Pretty Poor Cuban Refugees.” Salazar said, “No it’s not. We were poor. We lived in Little Havana in the apartment complex that you just showed in the commercial. And we were very pretty poor Cuban refugees and my childhood was not of abundance so that’s why I’m trying to say to the public that I want to serve the public because I know what they are feeling at this hour.” [Local 10, 9/27/20 (1:45)]

In 2007, Salazar described herself when she moved to Miami at age 15 as a “young unknown poor Cuban American.”

April 2007: Salazar Said MDC Helped Her When She A “Young Unknown Poor Cuban American – Who had Recently Arrived From Puerto Rico. “‘I have received other awards, but the one given by MDC is one of the most special ones,’ said María Elvira Salazar, host of Mega TV. ‘MDC helped me when I was a young unknown poor Cuban American--who had recently arrived from Puerto Rico. I am so proud of being part once again of the organization. Another example of the great system we live in.’” [Miami Dade College, Press Release, 4/13/07]

While running for office in 2019, Salazar said her opponent was part of the elite and that she “didn’t have those contacts” because she is “just a girl from Miami.”

2019: Salazar Said Her Opponent Was Part Of The Elite And That She “Didn’t Have Those Contacts” Because She Is “Just A Girl From Miami.” “The Democratic Party came and charged her, which shows that she has been part of the elite. Meanwhile, I didn't have those contacts, I'm just a girl from Miami, a member of the community,’ Salazar said, indicating that she intends to use his experience as a journalist in the political arena.” [El Nuevo Herald, 8/01/19] Translation

- Spanish Version: “El Partido Democrata vino y la cargó, lo que demuestra que ella ha sido parte de la elite. Mientras, yo no tenía esos contactos, solo soy una muchacha de Miami, miembro de la comunidad,’ dijo Salazar, indicando que se propone utilizar su experiencia como periodista en la arena política.”

Boat Ride
However, in June 2022, Salazar posted a photo of her as a little girl with her father on a boat learning to waterski.

For Father's Day 2022, Salazar Posted Photos Of Herself Learning To Waterski On A Boat With Her Father. “When my mother was pregnant, my parents risked their lives by fleeing Cuba from Castro to make sure I had a chance at achieving the American Dream. My father Hector inspired me to pursue a career in journalism. He instilled in me the love of God and freedom. I miss my dad so much, but I'm grateful for the many years I had with him and all the lessons he taught me. Let's honor our fathers today and everyday! Happy Fathers Day! 🙏🏼❤️” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 6/19/22]

In 1988, the Miami Herald even described Salazar's upbringing as growing up “around TV studios in Puerto Rico” because her father was an actor and producer.
Salazar’s Father Was An Actor And TV Producer. “The only daughter of actor-producer Hector Salazar, she grew up around TV studios in Puerto Rico, where her parents settled after leaving Cuba in 1960. At age 14, she was hosting an afternoon movie show produced by her dad. He died four years ago, and Salazar has never quite recovered from the loss.” [Miami Herald, 5/29/88]

Private School Education

In that same Miami Herald piece, Salazar described herself as a “proud YUCA” or young upscale Cuban American. This description seems more accurate given that Salazar attended and graduated from a private high school in Coral Gables, where she was the “senior leader president” and on the cheerleading, volleyball and basketball teams. In 1969, the Miami Herald reported that the private school was building a $250,000 air-conditioned gymnasium.

1988: The Miami Herald Reported Salazar Described Herself As “A ‘Proud YUCA’ (Young Upscale Cuban American).” “The Miami-born Salazar, who describes herself as a ‘proud YUCA’ (Young Upscale Cuban American), has traveled extensively throughout Latin America, reporting on political events.” [Miami Herald, 5/29/88]

Salazar Graduated From The Deerborne School In 1979. “SALAZAR, Maria Elvira, a Representative from Florida; born in Miami, Miami-Dade County, Fla., November 1, 1961; graduated from the Deerborne School, Coral Gables, Fla., 1979” [Congress.gov, Biographical Directory, accessed 8/15/22]

Deerborne Was A “Private School In Coral Gables That Was “Sold And Torn Down In 1982.” “Deerborne was a small private school in Coral Gables Florida between Sevilla and Almeria. The school was owned by Mr. Marvin S. Cone who was not only our Headmaster but more like a second father to us all. Unfortunately the school was eventually sold and torn down in 1982.” [Facebook, Deerborne School Alumni, accessed 8/24/22]

- The Deerborne School Is Considered One Of The Earliest Private Schools In Coral Gables. “Almost 30 years after its final graduating class received their diplomas, the Deerborne School, one of the earliest private schools in Coral Gables, is having a school-wide reunion Saturday night in honor of its late founder, Marvin S. Cone.” [Miami Herald, 11/13/10]

- In 1969, Deerborne Built A $250,000 Gymnasium ($2 Million In 2022). "Deerborne, a private school in Coral Gables, has under construction a $250,000-plus gymnasium which seats 1,000 and is scheduled to be completed sometime in December... The gym will be air-conditioned. It will have a hardwood maple floor and glass backboards. The court will be 94-feet long, and although there will be only a five-foot distance to the end walls, $5,000 worth of wrestling mats have been purchased to cushion a person’s impact against the walls.” [Miami News, 10/29/69]

- The Founder And Headmaster Of The School Was Known To Be Charitable And Gave Scholarships To Students Who Could Not Afford Tuition. “Known as a charitable man, Cone would give full scholarships to students who couldn’t afford to attend the school. ‘I was one of those underprivileged kids to be fortunate enough to get such a scholarship,’ said Juan Luis Perez, the reunion committee treasurer. ‘I graduated from Deerborne in 1981 and went off to study at Auburn University, a school that, had it not been for Deerborne, I would have never even dreamed about attending.’” [Miami Herald, 11/13/10]

Accent-Reduction Classes

Salazar Took Accent-Reduction Classes for Five Years Because She Said “I Want To Speak English Perfectly, Better Than The Americans... So That No One Will Be Able To Say: ‘Oh Look, She’s Latin.’”

“Salazar, who was born in Miami, grew up in Puerto Rico and came back to the States at 15 with what she considered a ‘horrible accent’ in English. ‘I have this obsession ... I want to speak English perfectly, better than the Americans,’ Salazar said. ‘So that no one will be able to say: ‘Oh look, she’s Latin.’ I want them to say: ‘She can speak English so well, and look, she can speak Spanish, too.’ ‘ She has taken accent-reduction classes for five years. Her present instructor, Lillian Poms, says Salazar has a slight trace of an accent that she will eliminate only by living for at least three months in a city where no Spanish is spoken. Salazar said she might do just that: ‘The only country I have is the United States. They speak English. And how do they speak it? In a different way than I do. In my own country.’” [Miami Herald, 2/27/83]

- Salazar Attended Private School In Miami To Learn English. “He died four years ago, and Salazar has never quite recovered from the loss. ‘He taught me life. He taught me timing. All the things about the business,’ she says. ‘Whatever he said, I did. But this was in my blood or I wouldn’t have continued.’ After her parents divorced, she moved to Miami with her mother and learned English at a private school before going on to the University of Miami, where she majored in journalism. ‘I didn’t have much fun in college,’ she recalls. ‘I wanted to be someone.’” [Miami Herald, 5/29/88]

“Product Of South Florida Public Schools”

Too make matters worse, Salazar is still continuing to misrepresent her childhood. Her campaign website claims that she is “a product of South Florida’s public school system,” despite living in Puerto Rico until she was 15 and graduating from a private high school.

Salazar’s Current Campaign Website Says That She “Is A Product Of South Florida’s Public School System.” “Maria is a product of South Florida’s public school system. She paid her way through the University of Miami and Harvard graduate school. All children must have access to the greatest education system possible.” [MariaElviraSalazar.com, Issues, accessed 8/24/22]

Note: Salazar lived in Puerto Rico until she was 15 and graduated from a private high school in 1979. It is unclear if Salazar attended this school prior to her senior year.

2010: Salazar: “They Say I’m Pretty, That I Have Good Legs, That I’m Intelligent And I Talk About God.” “For Salazar, who was educated in Catholic schools and became an ‘evangelical Christian’ 25 years ago with her mother, this is a fundamental issue. ‘They say I’m pretty, that I have good legs, that I’m intelligent and I talk about God, that for some it’s not cool, but the truth is that when a child gets sick, the first thing he does is run to church,’ reaffirms his decision to use on television, an industry often related to self-centeredness and frivolity, the phrase he says is found in the Bible in Romans.” [El Nuevo
Spanish Version: “Para Salazar, que fue educada en colegios católicos y hace 25 años se hizo ‘cristiana evangélica’ junto con su madre, éste es un tema fundamental. ‘Dicen que soy bonita, que tengo buenas piernas, que soy inteligente y hablo de Dios, que para algunos no es cool, pero la verdad es que cuando a uno se le enferma un hijo, lo primero que hace es correr para la iglesia,’ reafirma sobre su decisión de utilizar en televisión, una industria muchas veces relacionada con el egocentrismo y la frivolidad, la frase que dice se halla en la Biblia en Romanos.”

FAMILY & RELATIONSHIPS

TOPLINES

- Salazar has been married three times, including most recently in June 2022 to Lester Woerner, a “wealthy businessman” with investments in agriculture and real estate.
  - Salazar told Telemundo that she kept the relationship private because she was focused on her reelection campaign, but didn’t mention her job in Congress.
  - Salazar also said that she thought Woerner was originally interested in making a large contribution to her campaign, but instead became her husband. Salazar tried to downplay the connection to her husband’s wealth by saying, “the reality is that he is the one who is wealthy, I am still Maria Elvira.” She added, “the money is his, the heart is mine.”
  - Two days after the wedding, Salazar was not in DC for votes, and instead voted by proxy, claiming it was “because of the ongoing public health emergency.”

- Salazar was also once married to Arturo Cruz, a Nicaraguan presidential candidate in 2021 who was arrested and placed in a detention facility by Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega for being an opposition candidate.

- Salazar has been in other long-term relationships. She lived at a home owned by a businessman named Jaime Court for years, including as recently as 2021. In 2017, Salazar attended a gala with Court. In February 2021, Salazar said was “soon to be married” to someone she has been with for 10 years and “who is happy to support” her efforts as a congresswoman, which she appears to be referring to Court. At the time, Salazar’s attorney said that if Salazar was to get married before May 2021 the public would see a “whole lot of information about her husband and his holdings.” However, Salazar appeared to have never married Court and about a year later married Woerner.

- Coincidentally, Salazar married Woerner two days before she submitted her financial disclosures, which do not have any details about her new husband’s investments.

3 Marriages

Lester Woerner

In June 2022, Salazar married Lester Woerner, a “wealthy businessman” with investments in agriculture and real estate. Woerner is a Republican who contributed six figures to Trump’s 2020 reelection efforts and other Republican committees.
June 2022: Maria Elvira Salazar Married Lester Woerner. “The 60-year-old Miami congresswoman quietly married businessman Lester John Woerner, 62, of Palm Beach, on June 11, per their marriage license, which was signed by Pastor Thomas D. Mullins of Christ Fellowship church. It is her third marriage.” [Twitter, @NewsbySmiley, 8/20/22]

Salazar told Telemundo that she kept the relationship private because she was focused on her reelection campaign, but didn’t mention her job in Congress. She also said that she thought Woerner was originally interested in making a large contribution to her campaign, but instead became her husband.

2010: Salazar And Renzo Maietto Divorced. “Now eight years past her divorce from home builder and designer Renzo Maietto, Salazar’s decision to purchase millions in Miami real estate with her then-husband ahead of the economic collapse in 2008 has left her with a mess. Her net worth is upside-down, and she’s personally on the hook for a bank note under foreclosure after her ex defaulted on a $2 million home loan. Salazar says the problems are entirely out of her hands, both in their making and resolution: When the couple divorced in the summer of 2010, Maietto said in a settlement that he’d pay the mortgage on the now-distressed Radcliffe Manor property where the couple had hoped to live with their two children.” [Miami Herald, 9/27/18]

Arturo Cruz

Salazar’s first husband, Arturo Cruz, was a Nicaraguan presidential candidate in 2021 who was arrested and placed in a detention facility by Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega for being an opposition candidate.

June 2021: Salazar Came Out Strongly Against The Detention Of Arturo Cruz In Nicaragua. “We strongly condemn the Ortega regimes illegal arrest of yet another opposition presidential candidate and call for his immediate release. With today’s arrest of Arturo Cruz which comes mere days after the house arrest and detainment of Cristiana Chamorro it has become clear that Ortega fears those who dare run against him in November’s scheduled elections. With his popular support plummeting, Ortega appears willing to abuse state resources, trample the law, and violate the human rights of his fellow citizens with impunity, all in a desperate effort to maintain power. We echo the call made by governments and international organizations for the regime to immediately cease its persecution of opposition political candidates and civil society organizations. It must release the more than 120 political prisoners being held by the Ortega regime.” [State News Service, 6/6/21]

• November 2021: Salazar Called Ortega's Detention A “Flagrant Example Of A Stolen Election.” “In a speech on the House floor before the election, U.S. Maria Elvira Salazar of South Florida said that Ortega jailed her ex-husband, Arturo Cruz Jr., an Ortega critic. Cruz was one of the opposition candidates hoping to run in the November election. ‘Ortega has banned political parties. He has killed hundreds of Nicaraguans and jailed hundreds more,’ Salazar said. ‘Now we are on the eve of one of his most brazen moves in nearly 35 years of terrorizing this country - a sham election where all seven presidential candidates were arrested in broad daylight - one of them being my ex-husband, Arturo Cruz. ‘This is the most flagrant example of a stolen election we have ever seen, and the world to needs know that.’ [Omaha World-Herald, 11/14/21]
November 2021: Salazar Asked “Where Is The State Department” In Regards To The Jailing Of Political Opposition. “[Salazar] Seven of the presidential contenders are in a dungeon. They have been there for more than five months. How do I know? Because one of them, Arturo Cruz, was my first husband. One of the leaders of the Contra. How could you be in jail just because you’re running as a presidential contender because you want democracy in your country? That's Daniel Ortega and the Sandinistas, but where is the State Department? Where's the beacon of hope which is this country, the United States? They have been begging, beseeching, calling my office saying, why don't you do something?” [CNN with CHRISTIANE AMANPOUR, 11/08/2021]

At the time, Salazar’s attorney said that if Salazar was to get married before May 2021 the public would see a “whole lot of information about her husband and his holdings.” However, Salazar appeared to have never married Court and about a year later married Woerner.

February 2021: Salazar Said She Was “Soon To Be Married To A Gentleman” Who She Has Been With For 10 Years And “Who Is Happy To Support” Her Efforts As A Congresswoman. “As asked Monday during a 40-minute interview, alongside her attorney, how she'll make a living as a member of Congress, Salazar responded: ‘That's a very good question. I am soon to be married to a gentleman who is happy to support my efforts to be a congresswoman.’ Salazar declined to name her fiancé. ‘We have been together for 10 years and I want to keep it this way. Marriage would likely affect what shows up on the report, which requires lawmakers to list the income sources of their spouses ‘To be clear, depending on if her wedding is before May, you're going to see a whole lot of information about her husband and his holdings,’ said Salazar’s attorney, Jason Torchinsky.” [Miami Herald, 2/3/21]

- In 2021, Salazar was allegedly forgoing her $174,000 congressional salary, a promise she repeatedly made on the campaign trail, despite reporting a $20,000 income and up to $5 million in debt on her 2020 public financial disclosure.

- Despite Salazar withholding her congressional salary and reporting $0 in earned income in 2021, Salazar’s finances have vastly improved since running for office. In 2021, Salazar’s net worth was between $1.2 million and $3.2 million, a drop from her net worth in 2020/2021 when it was $1.9 million to $7.7 million. However, her net worth is much higher than in 2018, when she was first running for Congress and reported no more than a $750,000 net worth.

- In 2021, Salazar said she had a long-time partner who was supporting her family financially, including helping with expenses. However, Salazar is no longer with that partner, which raises the question if her new “wealthy” husband is financially supporting her, despite saying “the money is his.”

- Separately, from 2000 to 2007, Salazar and an ex-husband took out nearly $7 million in mortgage debt on 8 properties, which resulted in three defaults.
  - In 2012, Salazar and her ex-husband were ordered to pay more than $500,000 to Suntrust Bank after defaulting on monthly credit payments.
  - In 2021, a long-time property dispute involving property owned by her ex-husband was finally resolved.

- Salazar seems to think she is above the law. In the last ten years, Salazar has received at least 13 traffic violations, but 12 have been dismissed.

- In addition, as of August 2022, Miracle TV, a company solely registered to Salazar, has failed to pay three traffic violations that occurred between 2015 and 2017. Salazar owes more than $1,100 in fines, which has resulted in a collection agency attempting to collect the balance.

That's why Maria Elvira Salazar will donate her entire salary.’ She also repeated the salary donation pledge in interviews throughout the campaign.” [Miami Herald, 1/30/21]

- Salazar Promised To Donate Her Salary Despite Reporting A $20,000 Income And Up To $5 Million In Debt On Her 2020 Personal Financial Disclosure. “Salazar first vowed to give back her salary as part of an attack ad […] It's not unusual for wealthy politicians to donate their salaries. Former President Donald Trump donated his presidential salary four times a year to different federal agencies though he still earned profits from his real estate business. And Florida Republican Sen. Rick Scott donates his salary to various charities -- in April, for example, it went to medical researchers at the University of South Florida. But Trump and Scott are multi-millionaires and Salazar isn't -- though she might not be far from it. Her 2020 federal financial disclosure listed $20,000 in income for TV work, along with a net worth of at least $600,000. Salazar owes between $1 million and $5 million on a residential mortgage, according to her financial disclosure. Federal disclosures require lawmakers to report assets and liabilities in ranges, so a precise accounting of their net worth is impossible.” [Miami Herald, 1/30/21]

Mortgages & Defaults

Overview

From 2000 to 2007, Salazar and ex-husband took out nearly $7 million in mortgage debt on 8 properties, which resulted in three defaults.

Between 2000 And 2007 Salazar And Ex-Husband Maietto Took Out Roughly $6.8 In Debt On 8 Properties. “Salazar’s headaches stem back to 1999, when she and Maietto married shortly after her divorce from her first husband. Starting with property on Key Biscayne, the couple began taking out loans on at least eight properties around Miami-Dade County from Brickell to South Miami. The couple assumed the debt on the properties as individuals rather than purchase them through a corporation, which left them personally liable for the debt. Salazar says they did this because, for the most part, they lived in the homes they purchased. All told, the couple took on roughly $6.8 million in debt from 2000 through 2007, a period in which real estate values were spiking. They initially did well, selling the Key Biscayne home Salazar kept from her first marriage for $915,000 and another home on the island for $2.45 million.” [Miami Herald, 9/27/18]

Salazar And Maietto Owed $5 Million On Two Coral Gables Properties That The Couple Split When They Separated. “But as the couple purchased bigger and more expensive properties, the market suddenly cooled and their marriage soured. When the real estate bubble popped in 2008, they were still holding $5 million in home loans, most of it tied up in two homes near the University of Miami Coral Gables campus that the couple split when they separated. The most problematic of those loans was a $2 million mortgage on the property Maietto still owns at 7400 SW 72nd Ct., which the couple purchased for $780,000, tore down and rebuilt with plans to move in upon its completion.” [Miami Herald, 9/27/18]

  “But as the couple purchased bigger and more expensive properties, the market suddenly cooled and their marriage soured. When the real estate bubble popped in 2008, they were still holding $5 million in home loans, most of it tied up in two homes near the University of Miami Coral Gables campus that the couple split when they separated. [...] As for the home Salazar kept in the divorce, property records show she sold it in 2012 for $1 million. She now lives in Coral Gables.” [Miami Herald, 9/27/18]

[Miami Herald, 9/10/21]
Salazar Said Her Ex-Husband Agreed To Pay The Mortgage. “Since her first run for Congress in 2018, Salazar listed a residential mortgage worth between $1 million and $5 million as a liability on her disclosure forms -- a longtime financial burden from a marriage to home builder and designer Renzo Maietto that ended in 2010. But in 2021, the mortgage was no longer listed when a four-year fight in court between U.S. Bank and Maietto ended in November 2020 after he vacated the property in the face of an eviction notice. Salazar said Maietto agreed to pay the mortgage on the Radcliffe Manor property, a subdivision just outside South Miami, and signed over the deed to her ex-husband. But she remained a debtor on the property, which U.S. Bank acquired for $770,000 in 2019. The liability left her with a negative net worth during her first run for Congress in 2018. 'I'm under the impression that [Maietto] sold it to the bank or that the bank acquired it,' Salazar said. ‘I do know I'm not on the note anymore so I'm happy about that. It was on me even if I had no say on what we were going to do with that property. So I had all of the liabilities and none of the benefits.’ Maietto and Salazar, who said she hasn't lived at the Radcliffe Manor house since the divorce, were ordered to leave the property in February 2020, but the eviction was not executed. ‘The eviction was not executed due to Renzo Maietto no longer at 7400 SW 72nd Court,’ the Miami-Dade Police Department wrote in an eviction notice on November 13, 2020, a week after Salazar was elected to Congress.” [Miami Herald, 9/10/21]

Traffic Violations

Salazar seems to think she is above the law. In the last ten years, Salazar has received at least 13 traffic violations, but 12 have been dismissed.

As of August 2022, Salazar has received at least 13 traffic violations, but 12 were dismissed and 1 was withheld of adjudication. [Miami-Dade County Clerk, Traffic Online System Search, accessed 7/29/22; illumis Search, accessed 8/01/22; Nexis Person Report, accessed 8/01/22]

2018-Present: Salazar's Career Since Running For Office

TOPLINES

• Prior to entering Congress, Salazar was making most of her money as a talk show host and media consultant for health care companies, including Cano Health.
  o From January 2019 to December 2020, Salazar had a contract agreement with Cano Health to anchor a weekly television show and promote the company.

• In 2022, Salazar violated the STOCK Act by improperly disclosing a six-figure stock trade more than two months after the legally required disclosure period. Salazar’s violation was for failing to properly disclosure between $250,000 and $500,000 in Cano Health stock.

• Salazar’s STOCK Act violation is less than 2 years after Salazar “blasted” her 2020 Democratic opponent for violating the STOCK Act, saying, “how can we trust her?”
  o During that time, Salazar is also seen on video describing the STOCK Act disclosure law and calling her opponents violation of the Act “despicable” and lamentable.
  o She even claimed that her opponent “broke the law to enrich herself off coronavirus,” but Salazar may have been the one who enriched herself off coronavirus:

• In April 2020, while Salazar was on contract with Cano Health, the CEO promoted hydroxychloroquine as a treatment for COVID-19 before the drug had been tested in a clinical trial.
  o Two months later, the FDA revoked emergency use authorization for hydroxychloroquine.

• Too make matters worse, Salazar produced and featured promotional videos for Cano Health, in both English and Spanish, but did not always disclose her business relationship with them even though she was also running for Congress.

• During the height of the COVID-19 pandemic, Salazar was repeatedly seen on video with the CEO of Cano Health providing outrageous medical advice, including advising people with symptoms of COVID-19 to call Cano Health to receive a prescription for hydroxychloroquine rather than go to the hospital for treatment.
  o Salazar is even seen on video saying Cano can keep you home with “the only medicine [hydroxychloroquine] that we have available.” Salazar also appears in a video in Spanish where she said if we could get chloroquine or hydroxychloroquine to the “most houses” it would make it “so people don’t end up in the hospital.”
Overview

Prior to entering Congress, Salazar was making most of her money as a talk show host and media consultant for health care companies, including Cano Health.

In Recent Years, Salazar Has Made Most Of Her Money As A Talk Show Host And Media Consultant For Health Care Companies, Including Cano Health. “After a 30-year TV career that most recently included hosting a weekly Spanish-language talk show sponsored by a Miami-based health provider, ethics rules have forced newly elected Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar to sign off Salazar, a Miami Republican, announced in the final airing last month of ‘De Noche Con María Elvira Salazar’ — or, ‘At Night with María Elvira Salazar’ — that she could no longer host the Sunday night America TeVe program paid for by Cano Health [...] According to financial disclosures filed during her two runs for Congress, in 2018 and 2020, Salazar has in recent years made most of her money as a talk show host and media consultant for healthcare companies. Recently, the balance has shifted toward the latter, as her income from a company she set up to manage what her 2018 financial disclosure referred to as ‘journalistic activities’ dropped from $165,000 in 2017 to $20,000 in 2019 and dwindled to nothing through the first half of 2020.” [Miami Herald, 2/3/21]

STOCK Act Violation

In 2022, Salazar violated the STOCK Act by improperly disclosing a six-figure stock trade more than two months after the legally required disclosure period. Salazar’s violation was for failing to properly disclose between $250,000 and $500,000 in Cano Health stock.

June 2022: Salazar Violated The STOCK Act By Improperly Disclosing A 6-Figure Stock Trade More Than Two Months After The Legally Required Disclosure Period. “Freshman Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar, a Republican from Florida, appears to have violated a federal conflicts-of-interest law by improperly disclosing a 6-figure stock trade, according to congressional financial filings reviewed by Insider. [...] On June 10, Salazar disclosed in a congressional financial filing that, on February 14, she had received up to $500,000 worth of publicly traded stock in Cano Health Inc., a company that provides health care services for seniors. The STOCK Act requires members of Congress to disclose individual stock trades no later than 45 days after they’re made, meaning Salazar’s disclosure is more than two months late. Salazar said she obtained her Cano Health shares following a special purpose acquisition company (SPAC) transaction that resulted in her non-publicly traded shared in Cano Health's holding company being exchanged for publicly traded shares in Cano Health.” [Business Insider, 6/17/22]

- Salazar Requested That The Ethics Committee Waive The Fine. “‘Ms. Salazar had a unique financial occurrence involving options and a SPAC,’ Salazar spokesperson Shawn Balcomb told Insider in an email. “Ms. Salazar's team worked closely with Ethics Committee staff to address this.” Balcomb said that “there was no guidance” in House Committee on Ethics instructions regarding Salazar's specific kind of financial transaction. Salazar has requested that the House Committee on Ethics waive any fine — the standard penalty is $200 — associated with her late disclosure but has yet to hear back, Balcomb added.” [Business Insider, 6/17/22]

June 2022: Salazar Disclosed She Had Received Up To Half A Million Dollars In Publicly Traded Stock On February 14th, 2022. “On June 10, Salazar disclosed in a congressional financial filing that, on February 14, she had received up to $500,000 worth of publicly traded stock in Cano Health Inc., a company that provides health care services for seniors.” [Business Insider, 6/17/2022]

Salazar’s STOCK Act violation is less than 2 years after Salazar “blasted” her 2020 Democratic opponent for violating the STOCK Act, saying, “how can we trust her?” Salazar is also seen on video describing the STOCK Act disclosure law and calling her opponents violation of the Act “despicable” and lamentable.” She even claimed that her opponent “broke the law to enrich herself off coronavirus.”

Salazar “Blasted” Her 2020 Opponent For Violating The STOCK Act, Saying, “How Can We Trust Her?” “The development comes two years after Salazar blasted her congressional predecessor, former Democratic Rep. Donna Shalala, for herself violating the same law, known as the Stop Trading on Congressional Knowledge (STOCK) Act. ‘How can we trust her to represent us in Miami or oversee $2 trillion in government funds while she violates and skirts federal law with her own finances,’ Salazar wrote of Shalala in April 2020. Later that year, Salazar defeated Shalala in an upset victory to win Florida’s 27th Congressional District, which includes much of the Miami area.” [Business Insider, 6/17/22]

- September 2020: Salazar Said Her Opponent's Violation Of The STOCK Act Should Have Disqualified Her From Overseeing A Corporate COVID Relief Fund. As Shalala was set to begin overseeing a $500 billion corporate relief package set up in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Congresswoman noted she had begun selling many of her stock interests shortly after she won the CD 27 seat in 2018. Those 556 sales were not publicly disclosed, however, leading to Shalala paying a $1,200 fine to the House Ethics Committee. Now, the Herald shows Shalala failed to disclose another two sales. Those sales took place on April 1, 2019 and March 31 of this year. Both involved Shalala selling stocks of Tegna, which spun off from Gannett. [...] The National Republican Congressional Committee[4] has already gone after Shalala after her first batch of violations. Salazar has argued Shalala's failure to disclose the prior sales should disqualify her from overseeing the corporate relief fund. [Florida Politics, 9/30/2020]

- 2020: Salazar Would Not Accept Her Opponent's Admission That She Made A Mistake. She has broken the public's trust,' Salazar said. 'What Donna Shalala did was not a 'mistake' but is deeply concerning. [Florida Politics, 4/22/2020]

[VIDEO] 2020: Salazar: ““There Is A Law In Congress That If You Are Sitting In Congress You Have To Report Every Single Transaction That You Make In The Stock Market Within 45 Days.” Salazar said, “Donna Shalala is our representative and she is corrupt. She is very corrupt.” This Week in South Florida host Michael Putney said, “How did Donna Shalala enrich herself of coronavirus.” Salazar said, “There is a law in Congress that if you are sitting in Congress you have to report every single transaction that you make in the stock market within 45 days. Donna Shalala took 17 months to report her first transaction. We are talking about more than 500 transactions that includes Chinese companies that provide help to the repressive apparatus for the Chinese government. That is among those transactions.
She said that there were only 5 or 6. We are talking more than 500 worth up to $6 million.” [Local 10, 9/27/20 (2:10)]

[VIDEO] 2020: Salazar: “We Do Not Know What [Shalala] Has Made During 2020 While She Is Sitting On That Oversight Committee Because She Has Not Reported Anything, Number One.” Salazar said, “I’m going to give you what the facts are. We do not know what she has made during 2020 while she is sitting on that oversight committee because she has not reported anything, number one. Number two, she said that she was setting up a blind trust. The blind trust had not been set up by April of this year. [...] You know very well about a blind trust. You don’t trade, you don’t buy and sell while you are trying to set up a blind trust.” [Local 10, 9/27/20 (4:35)]

[VIDEO] 2020: Salazar: This Is Despicable. It’s Lamentable.” Salazar said, “All these are excuses because we caught her. I think this is...this is despicable. It’s lamentable that we have Donna Shalala sitting in Congress being a day trader and profiting from her position while she has been absent and silent here in the district.” [Local 10, 9/27/20 (5:15)]

[VIDEO] 2020: Salazar said, “Donna Shalala She Broke The Law To Enrich Herself Off Coronavirus.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, 9/22/20]

“Salazar’s office called the situation “unique “and requested for the House Ethics Committee to waive any potential fine.

2022: Salazar’s Office Attempted To Justify The Late Filing As A “Unique Financial Occurrence.” “Salazar said she obtained her Cano Health shares following a special purpose acquisition company (SPAC) transaction that resulted in her non-publicly traded shared in Cano Health’s holding company being exchanged for publicly traded shares in Cano Health. ‘Ms. Salazar had a unique financial occurrence involving options and a SPAC,’ Salazar spokesperson Shawn Balcomb told Insider in an email. "Ms. Salazar's team worked closely with Ethics Committee staff to address this." [Business Insider, 6/17/2022]

- 2022: Salazar’s Office Used The Excuse Of “No Guidance” And Requested The House Ethics Committee Waive A Potential Fine. “Balcomb said that ‘there was no guidance’ in House Committee on Ethics instructions regarding Salazar’s specific kind of financial transaction. Salazar has requested that the House Committee on Ethics waive any fine — the standard penalty is $200 — associated with her late disclosure but has yet to hear back, Balcomb added.” [Business Insider, 6/17/2022]

Now Salazar won’t say if she supports efforts to ban Members of Congress from trading stocks.

2022: Amid Her Own Violation Of The STOCK Act, Salazar Has Avoided Answering If She Supports Bipartisan Efforts To Ban Members Of Congress From Trading Stocks. “Balcomb did not say whether Salazar supports or opposes the bipartisan effort to ban federal lawmakers and their spouses from trading stocks — or otherwise curtail their ability to do so.” [Business Insider, 6/17/2022]

In 2021, Cano Health was in the process of merging with Jaws Acquisition Corp to take the company public, which resulted in Salazar’s investment in the company skyrocket in value.

2021: Cano Health Was Exploring A Merger With “Blank Check” Company Jaws Acquisition Corp. That Would Take Cano Public Valued At $4.4. Billion. “Salazar's investment in Cano Health — which does most of its business with Medicare Advantage patients — appears to be going much better. The company, which specializes in senior care and says it treats more than 100,000 patients across three states and Puerto Rico, is in pursuit of a merger with a Cayman Islands-based ‘blank check’ company called Jaws Acquisition Corp. The proposed merger would ultimately take Cano Health public at a value of $4.4 billion. The proposal is supposed to go to Jaws shareholders for a vote in the coming weeks. ‘Existing Cano Health shareholders will roll over approximately 90% of their equity stake into the new company,’ states a press release announcing the proposed merger, announced about one week after Election Day.” [Miami Herald, 2/3/21]

2021: After The Sale Of Cano In 2021, Salazar’s Investments In The Parent Company Ballooned To Over $1 Million, At Least. “Part of her compensation from Cano was 5,000 Class B shares in Cano Health’s parent company, which became a publicly traded company in June. Before entering office, Salazar pegged the value of her Cano shares between $100,000 and $250,000. But the same shares, which Salazar said she has not sold, are now worth between $1 million and $5 million.” [Miami Herald, 9/10/21]

I didn’t know that those shares were going to go up so much," Salazar said. "I don't control them. The price is the price. Let's hope it stays that way and keeps going up." [Miami Herald, 9/10/21]

Salazar’s contract agreement with Cano Health granted Salazar with 5,000 shares of their parent company Primary Care (ITC) Holdings. From 2020 to 2021, Salazar’s investment in Primary Care Holdings ranged from $100,001 to $5 million, but ultimately received between $250,000 and $500,000 when she reported her latest transaction in 2022.

- Miami Herald: Salazar Reported Being Paid Up To $250,000 In Stock In Cano Health’s Parent Company, Primary Care (ITC) Holdings For Hosting De Noche Con María Elvira Salazar.
“According to financial disclosures filed during her two runs for Congress, in 2018 and 2020, Salazar has in recent years made most of her money as a talk show host and media consultant for healthcare companies […] But in that time, Salazar — who during her campaigns has disclosed owing between $1 million and $5 million on an investment property she purchased 16 years ago with her ex-husband — became a 50% investor in a Perrine pediatric child care facility called 7 Heaven for Kids PPEC, an acronym that stands for prescribed pediatric extended care. And she continued to host ‘De Noche Con María Elvira Salazar’ under a contract that, she reported, has paid her up to $250,000 in stock in Cano Health’s parent company, Primary Care (ITC) Holdings.” [Miami Herald, 2/03/21]

In April 2020, while Salazar was on contract, the CEO of Cano Health promoted hydroxychloroquine as a treatment for COVID-19 before the drug had been tested in a clinical trial. Two months later, the FDA revoked emergency use authorization for hydroxychloroquine.

April 2020: The Cano Health CEO Dr. Marlow Hernandez Promoted Hydroxychloroquine As A Treatment For COVID-19. “Cano Health CEO Dr. Marlow Hernandez told ‘Tucker Carlson Tonight’ Monday that doctors, not politicians should determine whether the immunosuppressive drug hydroxychloroquine is worth trying as a possible treatment for the coronavirus. ‘We’ve used it on several hundred patients of ours and so far it’s pretty good,’ Hernandez said. ‘We have lower hospitalizations and lower mortality.’ […] Hernandez said that although the drug has not yet undergone a clinical trial against the virus, it has been effective in treating his patients.” [Fox News, 4/6/20]

June 2020: The FDA Revoked Emergency Use Authorization For Hydroxychloroquine After A Clinical Trial “Showed No Benefit For Decreasing The Likelihood Of Death Or Speeding Recovery.” “Based on ongoing analysis and emerging scientific data, FDA has revoked the emergency use authorization (EUA) to use hydroxychloroquine and chloroquine to treat COVID-19 in certain hospitalized patients when a clinical trial is unavailable or participation is not feasible. We made this determination based on recent results from a large, randomized clinical trial in hospitalized patients that found these medicines showed no benefit for decreasing the likelihood of death or speeding recovery.” [FDA.gov, 6/15/20]

Too make matters worse, Salazar produced and featured promotional videos for Cano Health, in both English and Spanish, but did not always disclose her business relationship with them even though she was also running for Congress. During the height of the COVID-19 pandemic, Salazar was repeatedly seen on video with the CEO of Cano Health providing outrageous medical advice, including advising people with symptoms of COVID-19 to call Cano Health to receive a prescription for hydroxychloroquine rather than go to the hospital for treatment. Salazar is even seen on video saying Cano can keep you home with “the only medicine [hydroxychloroquine] that we have available.” Salazar also appears in a video in Spanish where she said if we could get chloroquine or hydroxychloroquine to the “most houses” it would make it “so people don’t end up in the hospital.”

[VIDEO] In March 2020, Salazar “Interviewed” Cano Health Founder Dr. Marlow Hernandez About Cano’s COVID-19-Related Telemedicine Service. “I had a very good conversation a few days ago with Dr. Marlow Hernandez, who is the principal doctor at Cano Health. And he asked me to use my social media platforms to inform the public that his doctors are now available to anyone who has the coronavirus symptoms to do a teleconference, via internet, with one of his doctors and determine if that needs medicine or not.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 3/23/20]

[VIDEO] Dr. Hernandez Told Viewers That If They Called His Service They Could Be Prescribed Whichever Medicine They Thought They Needed, And Made Special Mention Of The Discredited Treatment Hydroxychloroquine. [1:40] “So, what we want to do is be able to put you in touch with one of our doctors, and then be able to make it convenient for you [Cano’s 1-800 number pops up on screen] to get whatever medicine you need [turns to Salazar] whether it's this chloroquine [Salazar nods and repeats "chloroquine"] or hydroxychloroquine ummm if you have the symptoms - consists of, again, fever, cough, shortness of breath, even now maybe some abdominal symptoms may be part of it, or of course the much more common diabetes, hypertension, CSS [sp?], COPD, all of those conditions need to be treated. So stay home, stay safe, and count on telehealth.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 3/23/20]

[VIDEO] Salazar Told Viewers Cano Would “Keep You Home With A Medicine – The Only Medicine That We Have Available.” [2:15] “The most important thing, doc, that I just learned out of this crisis, is that if you can stay home and you can take care of the symptoms at home, then you don’t wind up in the hospital where you can get sicker. And that’s why I think Cano is doing this - trying to keep you home with a medicine – the only medicine that we have available.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 3/23/20]

[VIDEO] Salazar’s Video Does Not Include A Disclosure That She Is A Paid Spokesperson For Cano, And Omits The Fact That She Owns An Equity Stake In The Business. The video’s description reads: “Interview with Cano Health. This past weekend I had the pleasure of interviewing Dr. Marlow Hernandez from Cano Health. He informed me that as a public service his facilities are offering free televi$it screenings for the COVID-19. Not only is the service free, but you do not have to be a patient of Cano Health to receive the screening. If you qualify for medication, they are also offering free home delivery. Since it is very important for all of us to remain home and prevent spreading the virus I urge everyone in the community that if they feel sick to first use a televi$it. If not with Cano Health, I urge you to take advantage of technology and schedule a virtual visit first. You can contact Cano Health at 1-800-201-6595. Thank you Dr. Hernandez for your service.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 3/23/20]

[VIDEO] March 2020: Salazar Said If We Could Get Chloroquine And/Or Hydroxychloroquine To The “Most Houses” It Would Make It “So People Don’t End Up In The Hospital.” Dr. Hernandez said, “The idea is that the more people who receive this medicine, the more people we can save. Salazar said, “What medicine is this? The chloroquine? Hernandez said, “The medicine is chloroquine ... and the hydroxychloroquine.” [...] Salazar then said what Cano is doing is “commendable.” Salazar added, “If you can make that medicine [chloroquine, hydroxychloroquine], approved by the federal government, gets to the most houses, it makes it so people don’t end up in the hospital.” In the video, Salazar told people to use Cano’s health services and told the doctor, “God will reward you.” [YouTube, Cano Health, 3/26/20]

Political Contributions

Salazar has accepted $34,100 from employees of Cano Health and Rangel Medical Center, two healthcare companies for which Salazar served as a spokesperson until her election in 2020.

Pediatric Child Care Facility

Salazar was also a 50% investor in a pediatric child care facility from 2018 to 2020. By 2022, Salazar sold her investment in the company, which was valued between $100,000 and $250,000.

Salazar Was A 50% Investor In A 7 Heaven For Kids PPEC, A Pediatric Child Care Facility. “But while the Cano shares have exploded in value, a separate business venture Salazar invested in prior to entering Congress isn't doing as well. Salazar was a 50% investor in a Perrine pediatric child care facility called 7 Heaven for Kids PPEC, an acronym that stands for prescribed pediatric extended care. She's since dropped her share of the company to 20%, and said she is no longer involved in the child care center's day-to-day operations. In her 2020 disclosure, her investment in 7 Heaven for Kids was worth between $250,000 and $500,000. In 2021, her disclosure listed the asset as being worth between $15,000 and $50,000. ‘Basically, in February, another partner came in so that reduced everyone's shares in the company,’ said Salazar's attorney, Jason Torchinsky. ‘The company itself, there's been virtually no financial activity in it.’ Salazar said the business struggled to attract clients ‘because of COVID.'” [Miami Herald, 9/10/21]
Between 2018 and 2020, Salazar became a 50 percent investor in a Perrine Pediatric Extended Care Facility. “According to financial disclosures filed during her two runs for Congress, in 2018 and 2020, Salazar has in recent years made most of her money as a talk show host and media consultant for healthcare companies […] But in that time, Salazar — who during her campaigns has disclosed owing between $1 million and $5 million on an investment property she purchased 16 years ago with her ex-husband — became a 50% investor in a Perrine pediatric child care facility called 7 Heaven for Kids PPEC, an acronym that stands for prescribed pediatric extended care. 2021: Salazar sold most of her shares in the childcare facility to support the struggling business and had promotional videos removed that featured her after being elected to Congress. “As for the pediatric facility, Salazar said the pandemic knee-capped 7 Heaven for Kids PPEC, which was licensed by the state in January 2020 and is still looking for its first patient. She said she sold most of her shares last year to infuse cash into the company, decreasing her 50% ownership to a 20% stake in a three-way partnership, with two other partners each owning 40% of the business. To comply with ethics regulations, she said her partners on Monday removed a promotional video she shot for the facility that was displayed prominently on its website.” [Miami Herald, 2/03/21]

Exit From The Healthcare Industry

2021: Salazar said she no longer worked to promote the healthcare industry, but was not sure what income would show up on her next financial disclosure.

Salazar said she no longer worked to promote the healthcare industry, but was not sure what income would show up on her next financial disclosure. “Salazar said that while her work promoting the healthcare industry has ended, she’s not sure what sources of additional outside income will show up on her 2021 financial disclosure, which is due in May. Marriage would likely affect what shows up on the report, which requires lawmakers to list the income sources of their spouses.” [Miami Herald, 2/3/21]

2021: Salazar left her job as a TV host after being elected to Congress.

Salazar announced she could no longer appear as a TV host after being elected to Congress. “After a 30-year TV career that most recently included hosting a weekly Spanish-language talk show sponsored by a Miami-based health provider, ethics rules have forced newly elected Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar to sign off. Salazar, a Miami Republican, announced in the final airing last month of ‘De Noche Con María Elvira Salazar’ — or, ‘At Night with María Elvira Salazar’ — that she could no longer host the Sunday night America TeVe program paid for by Cano Health. Addressing her viewers, Salazar explained that rules regulating members of the U.S. House of Representatives barred her from... continuing the show. ‘Once I became a congresswoman, I was informed by the Ethics Committee that I can't do a show like this one every week because it is not allowed for someone in my position to do it,’ Salazar said. She added later: 'In one way, I end my journalistic career with this program.’” [Miami Herald, 2/3/21]

- The Miami Herald Described Salazar’s Broadcast Journalism Career As “Award-Winning.”
  “Salazar told reporters after the celebration — which included a personalized conga jingle — that she never envisioned leaving the pinnacle of an award-winning broadcast journalism career to run for office. She said Ros-Lehtinen, Diaz-Balart and other members of the community approached her and convinced her to run.” [Miami Herald, 8/28/18]

In 2019, Salazar Said She Was Going To Continue Working As A Journalist While Running For Office Because She Had To “Make A Living Doing Something.” “For now, he keeps working as a journalist in a Sunday program, At night with María Elvira, which is broadcast on América TeVé. ‘The law doesn't stop me, I have to make a living doing something, and I've always been a journalist,’ he said in response to concerns that he might represent a conflict of interest when running for public office.” [El Nuevo Herald, 8/01/19] Translation

- Spanish Version: “Por ahora se mantiene trabajando como periodista en un programa dominical, De noche con María Elvira, que se transmite por América TeVé. ‘La ley no me lo impide, tengo que ganarme la vida haciendo algo, y siempre he sido periodista,’ comentó en respuesta a la preocupación de que pueda representar un conflicto de intereses al postularse a un cargo público.”
Peruvian Bribery Scandal

- In the early 2000s, Salazar appeared to be the intermediary in a bribery scandal between Laura Bozzo, a Peruvian newscaster and coworker of Salazar, and Vladimiro Montesinos, a Peruvian intelligence chief who was sentenced for “crimes against humanity.”
  - Salazar connected with Montesinos through Bozzo and befriended him in order to get an exclusive interview on Telemundo, the network she worked at the time.
  - With the help of Bozzo, Salazar got Montesinos to commit to doing an interview; however, due to delays, Salazar would often take her own actions to get closer to an interview.
    - At one point, Salazar went to spy gear stores to find a way to put a “hidden camera” in Montesinos jail cell.
    - She even suggested that she committed a crime by going into the trunk of a car to sneak into a prison in Peru to get to Montesinos.
  - Salazar eventually interviewed Montesinos in 2002.

- During this period, Salazar was recorded asking Bozzo for $100,000 for Montesinos.
  - Salazar was heard saying, “You give me [the money for Montesinos] or I will give you an account, or the lawyer goes to Miami.”
  - Salazar was also heard saying, “Thank God that (Montesinos) did not say anything that compromises me because I am sinking, what scares me is that I screw up.”

- Bozzo provided the recordings to the Peruvian courts, and Salazar was questioned and accused of asking Bozzo for $100,000 to cover Montesinos’ legal fees.
  - Bozzo even accused Salazar of helping Montesinos in an attempt to extort her.

- Salazar denied any wrongdoing and said the recordings were edited and without her consent. Salazar claimed she was just passing messages from a “friend” to “another friend.”
  - Bozzo and Montesinos were allegedly in a romantic relationship.

- However, Salazar later claimed that Montesinos originally asked her to ask her boss at Telemundo for $100,000 in exchange for the interview.

- In 2002, a Peruvian judge came to Florida to interview Salazar about the allegations, but a Peruvian judicial source claimed Salazar was not the subject of the investigations.

- Salazar wasn’t found of any wrongdoings, but Bozzo was place in house arrest for allegedly accepting $3 million in laundered money from Montesinos in exchange for political support.
  - Bozzo was later acquitted.
• While Salazar was found of no wrongdoings, she claimed she was going to sue Bozzo for defamation to defend her reputation.
  o Salazar described Bozzo as “arrogant and poisonous” and an “instrument of Satan.”

• While Telemundo executives were aware of Salazar’s communication with Montesinos, even paying for her trip to Panama to attempt to interview him, Salazar was let go from Telemundo around this time, which she claimed was because of the Montesinos allegations.
  o Salazar described it as a firing without an “explanation,” but Telemundo officials claimed it was contract disagreements and changes to the lineup.
  o Salazar claimed Telemundo defamed her by promoting the recording during segments and that they were afraid to be connected to Montesinos.

• In 2008, Salazar interviewed Bozzo, and Bozzo said she took Salazar to Panama to interview Montesinos. Salazar also claimed Bozzo apologized to her off camera.

• In 2010, Salazar wrote an entire book about the incident. In the book, Salazar claimed she was fired from Telemundo because of Bozzo while pregnant with her second baby.

• Salazar said the incident was “the darkest, most terrible moment” of her life, claiming she “should be dead, at least professionally.”
  o In the book, Salazar describes how she overcame the scandal to stabilize her finances and continue her journalistic career, which she heavily attributes to God. Salazar claims her family was on the verge of bankruptcy and they had to go “deeper into debt” to “pay for lawyers,” resulting in her almost losing her home.

Cuba & Castro
• Prior to entering Congress, Salazar was soft on Cuba – praising Obama’s Cuba policy, suggesting Trump should have negotiated with Raul Castro, and calling Fidel Castro “comandante” and “un revolucionario por excelencia.”
  o Despite Salazar repeatedly saying over the years that she opposes negotiating with dictatorships, in 2018, Salazar said Trump should negotiate with Raul Castro rather than Cuban President Diaz-Canel because Diaz-Canel was a “puppet.”
  o Salazar had a photo of her interviews with Castro (and Maduro) in her Congressional office.
  o Note: This attack may not appear as credible because Salazar was most often critical of Cuba.

• In 1996, Salazar said Cuban exiles support the embargo, but are the first people who “violate” it by visiting Cuba.

Radical & Extreme Comments
• In 2017, Salazar appeared to make similar claims to Trump’s “bad people on both sides” claim after the Charlottesville white supremacist rally. Salazar said, “the violence doesn’t just come from the white supremacists” and that there were “tough protests” by opposing groups.
Salazar added, “President Trump violently lashed out against the Ku Klux Klan, neo-Nazis and white supremacists.”

- In February 2016, Salazar outrageously claimed that “Hillary is a lesbian” and that “Hillary didn’t like having sex with [Bill], because she preferred sex with women.” Salazar was allegedly the first national television network to cover the story.

- In November 2019, Salazar said, “Imagine the Chinese stealing your book and publishing it under the author name “Ching-Chang-Chong.”

- In 2007, Salazar said Gov. Schwarzenegger was “very wrong” and “very racist” to say immigrants must learn English, despite Salazar paying to take “accent-reduction classes” for five years because she said she wanted to “speak English perfectly, better than the Americans” and didn’t want people to say, “she’s Latin.”

- Salazar writes in her book, “When I feel like ‘killing someone,’ I let myself be guided by reason rather than by feelings.”

- Salazar writes in her book that she made it to the top of the media industry “without doing sexual favors in exchange for a position.”

Peruvian Bribery Scandal

Overview

In the early 2000s, Salazar appeared to be the intermediary in a bribery scandal between Laura Bozzo, a Peruvian newscaster and coworker of Salazar, and Vladimiro Montesinos, a Peruvian intelligence chief who was sentenced for “crimes against humanity.”

2002: A Peruvian Judge Questioned Salazar About Her Knowledge And Involvement Of Alleged Money Laundering Between A Peruvian Newscaster And Montesinos, Their Ousted Intelligence Chief. “Peruvian Judge Saul Pena Farfan plans to travel to Miami on Tuesday to talk with former Telemundo TV reporter Maria Elvira Salazar as part of an investigation into what she may know about an alleged connection between a Peruvian newscaster and ousted Peruvian intelligence chief Vladimiro Montesinos. Salazar said she contacted Montesinos only to try to get an interview. In Peru, TV newscaster Laura Bozzo remains under house arrest as part of the investigation into her alleged relationship with Montesinos. Bozzo, who became a popular figure in Miami and other parts of the United States when Telemundo picked up her show two years ago, has been under arrest since late July. She was accused of receiving more than $3 million in laundered money from Montesinos in exchange for her political support. Bozzo, who is being questioned about her relationship with Montesinos, says he used Salazar as an inter-media. Salazar has denied any wrongdoing.” [Miami Herald, 9/9/02]
Montesinos Is Serving A Sentence For “Crimes Against Humanity” And Is “Regarded As The Power Behind The Throne In President Alberto Fujimori’s Government. “A court in Peru has sentenced the country’s former spy chief, Vladimiro Montesinos, to 22 years in jail for the forced disappearance of a professor and two students in 1993. They were killed in detention and their bodies burned in an oven in the basement of the intelligence agency. Former army chief of staff Nicolas Hermoza Rios was also found guilty of the same crime. Montesinos, 71, is already serving a sentence for crimes against humanity. He was widely regarded as the power behind the throne in President Alberto Fujimori’s government, which ruled Peru from 1990 to 2000. The former president is also in jail over human rights abuses committed during his time in office, including authorising killings carried out by death squads.” [BBC, 9/28/16]

Salazar And Bozzo Worked At Telemundo Together. “Salazar, Bozzo's former partner on the Hispanic network Telemundo, said today that she is forced to defend her name and that she will not hesitate to resort to US courts to accuse the popular Peruvian television presenter.” [Spanish Newswire Service, 8/22/02] Translation

Bozzo Said She Used Salazar As An Intermediary When Questioned About Her Relationship With Montesinos. “Peruvian Judge Saul Pena Farfan plans to travel to Miami on Tuesday to talk with former Telemundo TV reporter Maria Elvira Salazar as part of an investigation into what she may know about an alleged con-nection between a Peruvian newscaster and ousted Peruvian intelligence chief Vladimiro Montesinos. Salazar said she contacted Montesinos only to try to get an interview. Bozzo Appeared To Be The Person Who “Served As The Bridge” Between Montesinos And Salazar. “Bozzo, who is in house arrest while the judicial system continues a process of investigations for ‘embezzlement and against public faith,’ served as a bridge to the Telemundo network to obtain an interview with Montesinos, said the same sources of the judicial system Peruvian. According to the Peruvian channel Panamericana Television, ‘justice is investigating the origin of some emails that [Telemundo journalist Maria Elvira] Salazar wrote to the former adviser to coordinate an exclusive interview.’ ‘Laura Bozzo is mentioned in the messages, which is extremely important because it can help clarify whether she was in contact with Montesinos when he was a fugitive from Peruvian justice,' added a report from that channel.” [El Nuevo Herald, 8/16/02] Translation

Salazar connected with Montesinos through Bozzo and befriended him in order to get an exclusive interview on Telemundo, the network she worked at the time.

Salazar Allegedly Was Communicating With Montesinos For Two Years To Try To Get Him To Do An Interview, But Bozzo Allegedly Connected Salazar To Montesinos. “In an interview Monday with El Nuevo Herald, Salazar confirmed that, looking for an exclusive interview for the Telemundo network -- for whom I work until a few months ago --, she was in communication with Montesinos during the almost two years he was in hiding. Cont, however, that it was precisely Bozzo who put her in contact with the former right-hand man of Fujimori, because he knew his whereabouts. How and why did Bozzo know these details? It is, precisely, part of the prosecution's investigation.” [El Bohemio News, 8/27/02]

Salazar Said She Befriended Montesinos To Get An Exclusive Interview With Him. “Salazar said she met Montesinos through Bozzo while he was in prison, and befriended the former spy chief only to get an exclusive interview, which she says was assigned by Telemundo. However, Salazar was heard on audio tape asking Bozzo for $100,000 for Montesinos. Bozzo has accused Salazar of assisting Montesinos in an extortion attempt against her. Bozzo, host of the controversial Telemundo talk show Laura, remains under house arrest since July in her television studios in Lima. Bozzo was accused of receiving more than $3 million in laundered money from Montesinos in exchange for her political support. Salazar has denied any wrongdoing, saying she just passed the message 'a friend sent to another friend.'” [Sun-Sentinel, 9/11/02]

• Salazar Said She Contacted Montesinos About Interviewing Him. “Peruvian Judge Saul Pena Farfan plans to travel to Miami on Tuesday to talk with former Telemundo TV reporter Maria Elvira Salazar as part of an investigation into what she may know about an alleged con-nection between a Peruvian newscaster and ousted Peruvian intelligence chief Vladimiro Montesinos. Salazar said she contacted Montesinos only to try to get an interview.” [Miami Herald, 9/9/02]
Salazar said she was not a friend of Montesinos and was just a “journalist looking for a news story.” “She did not deny the conversation about the money and explained that she had limited herself to transmitting to Bozzo a request for help from Montesinos. That, she said, does not constitute extortion. ‘I was not a friend of Montesinos, Bozzo was, I was a journalist looking for a news story.’” [Spanish Newswire Service, 8/22/02] Translation

Salazar got close enough to Montesinos that she claimed he would call her two to three times a week to tell his story. With the help of Bozzo, Salazar got Montesinos to commit to doing an interview; however, due to delays, Salazar would often take her own actions to get closer to an interview. At one point, Salazar went to spy gear stores to find a way to put a “hidden camera” in Montesinos jail cell. She even suggested that she committed a crime by going into the trunk of a car to sneak into a prison in Peru to get to Montesinos. Salazar eventually interviewed Montesinos in 2002.

Salazar claimed Montesinos called Salazar two to three times a week to tell his story because he was afraid they would kill him. “During the time he remained hidden in Venezuela, former Peruvian national security adviser Vladimiro Montesinos called a Miami journalist two to three times a week by phone to tell her his story, because he was afraid they would kill him and wanted the world knew his version of the events for which he is currently in prison in his country. ‘The first time I called I thought someone was playing a prank on me, but just in case I didn't point it out. Shortly after that I realized it was him, and after that he started calling me two or three times a week.’ Cuban-American journalist Maria Elvira Salazar revealed to El Nuevo Herald yesterday.” [El Nuevo Herald, 8/17/02] Translation

Poco despues me di cuenta de que era el, y despues de eso comienzo a llamarme dos o tres veces a la semana,’ revelo ayer a El Nuevo Herald la periodista cubanoamericana Maria Elvira Salazar.”

Salazar said Montesinos was “concerned about his safety.” “‘He was very concerned about his safety. He was afraid that they would kill him and he wanted to tell his story. And he told me a few things. However, there was one condition: he could only divulge them in case he died, since he wanted the world to see them,’ knew his version of events,’ the journalist said. The conversations sometimes lasted more than an hour, since Montesinos was answering questions and the answers were long.” [El Nuevo Herald, 8/17/02] Translation

Sin embargo, había una condición: solo podia divulgarlas en caso de que el muriera, ya que quería que el mundo supiera su versión de los acontecimientos,’ dijo la periodista. Las conversaciones duraban a veces más de una hora, ya que Montesinos iba contestando preguntas y las respuestas eran largas.”

Salazar Said She Wanted To Interview Montesinos Where He Is Being Held So That He Could Tell His Story. “[At times like these] it is extremely satisfying for a journalist to hear the voice of one of the most wanted men in the world giving his version of events,’ Salazar said. The journalist explained that, for the moment, she does not want to reveal what she spoke with Montesinos, because she believes that he is the one who should explain himself. ‘I am a journalist and I am not a gossip, and people’s private lives have to be told by the person, not by me. What should happen is that the Peruvian authorities let us enter the base in Callao where they are holding him, so that It is Montesinos himself who tells us about everything that is said about him and his things, which is, in fact, a right that he has as a prisoner under the jurisdiction of Peruvian justice,’ he said.” [El Nuevo Herald, 8/17/02] Translation

Montesinos Wrote A Letter To Salazar Where He Committed To Doing His First Interview With Salazar. “The two established contact when Montesinos was still national security adviser and de facto head of the National Intelligence Service, during the administration of former President Alberto Fujimori. ‘I have a reputation for making difficult interviews, and the more difficult, the more I get for things. And with Montesinos it was no exception; the only thing is that he never granted it to me at that point,’ said the journalist. From Lima and while he was already in prison, Montesinos guaranteed Salazar in writing his intention to grant him a formal interview, in a letter to which El Nuevo Herald had access. ‘Through this document I ratify my commitment that the first interview I can grant, when my country respects my right to freedom of expression - violated as you have been able to verify personally - will be with you [ ... ],’ Montesinos wrote.” [El Nuevo Herald, 8/17/02] Translation

When Bozzo Told Salazar That She Was Not Going To Interview Montesinos, Salazars Said She Was Thinking The Following In Her Mind: “Lord, Make Sure I Don’t Spit On Her, Hit Her, Or Kill Her.” Salazar wrote, “She talked and talked while I felt a vapor of her coming from her through my body. His voice sounded distant: He told me that he was very nervous, that he couldn't give it to you, but that you prepare your passport, that he is going to Peru in the next few hours, he told me hastily, with his high-sounding, off-tempered voice. I fell stunned on the bed. Change. Not knowing what to say, how to react. With a mixture of nausea and disbelief in his mouth. I breathed, I breathed a lot. I tried to calm down as best I could, for the girl in my womb, for my own sanity. Lord, make sure I don't spit on her, hit her or kill her, she kept repeating to herself in her mind. But the feeling of mockery, of deception, burned my skin.” [Book: Si Dios Contigo, ¿Quién Contra Ti?, Author: Maria Elvira Salazar, p. 50] Translate

Salazar Went To Spy Gear Stores To Find A Way To Put A “Hidden Camera” In Montesinos Jail Cell So That She Could Interview Him. Salazar wrote, “From June to August, my communication with Estela was constant. She frequently went to Callao with a defense attorney’s credential. During that period it occurred to me to put a hidden camera in her cell. I talked to Peyronnin to see what kind of camera we could use that would give us adequate resolution for television, but at the same time go unnoticed by security machines. I went to every store in Miami that sells spy gear, I looked online, I talked to my fellow journalists, cameramen and producers, we even met with an expert on hidden cameras. He had something very small, a pen, a button, a watch. If the Callao guards were to discover Estela in her necessities, she would lose her license and even her freedom.” [Book: Si Dios Contigo, ¿Quién Contra Ti?, Author: Maria Elvira Salazar, p. 78] Translate

Salazar Appeared To Suggest She Committed A Crime By Going Into The Trunk Of A Car To Sneak Into A Prison In Peru To See Montesinos. Salazar wrote, “And then I told Estela: I'm going into Callao, even if it's in the trunk of the car. Once again, she was calm and confident that God would be with me, just as she promised, until the end of the world. The next day we went to Callao. I got into the trunk of the car, sweating adrenaline and trying not to make the slightest noise. If those soldiers caught us, we would go to jail. As simple as that. We made it past the initial gatehouse that flanks the twenty-foot wall that surrounds the fortification. That was already an achievement. The soldier recognized Estela and made no further fuss. My fear was that they would send him to open the trunk. I didn't want to get anyone in trouble. In the silence of the trunk, I felt iron doors open and close with a terrible metallic clang. With my heart paralyzed, I tried to imagine the way to the pavilion where Montesinos was being held. Half an hour passed, I tried to manage the little air I had to breathe. El Callao is a labyrinthine military base, divided into several pavilions, and guarded by hundreds of soldiers as impassable as those walls. We managed to get past several security checkpoints and, when we reached the patio from where we could see the Montesinos dungeon, Estela opened the trunk of the vehicle a little.” [Book: Si Dios Contigo, ¿Quién Contra Ti?, Author: Maria Elvira Salazar, p. 82] Translate

2002: Salazar Interviewed Montesinos. “Well-known news anchor María Elvira Salazar is the only person who since the Montesinos-Fujimori scandal broke out has been able to interview the inmate in the maximum security prison itself. Mrs. Salazar initially said that she had obtained the interview via phone call with Montesinos, detained in the naval prison of Callao, but later he stated that he had sent him a questionnaire with the defense attorney and he agreed to answer. Bozzo, host of the controversial Telemundo talk show Laura, remains under house arrest since July in her television studios in Lima. Bozzo was accused of receiving more than $3 million in laundered money from Montesinos in exchange for her political support. Salazar has denied any wrongdoing, saying she just passed the message ‘a friend sent to another friend.’” [Sun-Sentinel, 9/11/02]

Salazar Claimed Bozzo Had A ‘Close And Intimate Relationship” With Montesinos, And Salazar Was Trying To Help A Friend (Bozzo) By Passing On Montesinos $100,00 Request. “‘They had a close and intimate relationship. I witnessed that for two years,’ Salazar said. The journalist did not deny the conversation about the money, but claimed that it occurred within the context of ‘a request for help from a friend near.’ ‘When he arrives at the prison at the Callao military base, he sends me a message to please tell Laura that he needs her help. That money was for his daughters. At first I was reluctant to communicate the message, but after much insistence I agreed. My reasoning at the time was that communicating a message is not a crime,’ explained Salazar. Regarding the transcript, the journalist said she was convinced, which is not based on one recording, but on ‘dozens’ of them. ‘He must have recorded me many times, which is a federal crime. transcript is made up of inconsistencies. Obviously, it is an edition of several tapes with things that she has taken out of context,’ he said. Bozzo Was Allegedly Having An Affair With Montesinos. “Former Peruvian presidential adviser Vladimiro Montesinos was fed up with television presenter Laura Bozzo, with whom he was allegedly having an affair, but he put up with her because she was useful for his propaganda plans, according to two testimonies known in fragments today in Lima. Salazar Said Bozzo And Montesinos Were “Lovers.” “‘She offered me to interview Montesinos, she tells me that they are lovers, but that is exactly what the videos came out of,’ said María Elvira Salazar, host of TV Miami, in an interview on the Peruvian program Enemigos Públicos. The journalist, the other great value of Telemundo at that time, stated that she was even a witness when Montesinos proposed to Laura, via telephone, to marry him during his exile in Panama. But she was also a ‘victim’ of the Peruvian. When Montesinos was wanted by the Peruvian justice system, Laura was still in contact with him from her hiding place in Panama. Salazar wanted an interview with the politician, and Bozzo offered to help him get it. Finally, Montesinos tells him that he will give him the interview in exchange for $100,000, because according to Salazar, Fujimori’s former adviser needed money to pay his lawyers. Then the journalist went to the director of Telemundo, James McNamara, and gave him the message, without knowing that Laura Bozzo was clandestinely recording the conversation.” [Reforma, 1/24/11]

Aparentemente Salazar intento contactar a Montesinos a traves de Bozzo para entrevistarlo. Segun Lario, la animadora peruana esta ya siendo juzgada por ‘el tribunal de la opinion publica’ por su nexos con Montesinos, y existe una presion muy fuerte, tanto por parte de la fiscalía como de la prensa peruana, para que Bozzo no salga en libertad bajo fianza.”
A Peruvian Judicial Source Claimed Salazar Was Not The Subject Of The Investigations. “Although in the electronic messages Salazar forwards the questionnaire to Montesinos and apparently thanks him for answering them, a Peruvian judicial source assured that the Miami journalist is not the object of investigations, but that ‘justice is focused only on how Bozzo knew where Montesinos was and was able to manage the interview.’ The interview took place with Montesinos already imprisoned at the Callao Naval Base and without the knowledge of the Peruvian authorities. Salazar Said She Forgave Bozzo, But That Bozzo Is Living “Hell On Earth.” Salazar wrote, “It's been more than seven years of fighting, but I've gotten back up. Laura Bozzo, on the other hand, the woman who tried to bring me down, has lost everything: accused of fraud, child abuse, denounced by Jaime Bayly before the Peruvian justice system, Telemundo decided to suspend her program one year. Her career, built on one scandal after another, is at a dead end. The trial for her association with Montesinos cost her more than a million dollars, so her former fortune does not exist. When I interviewed her at the end of 2008 in Santo Domingo, I found myself in the shadow of the woman I knew more than seven years ago. I saw a defeated Laura Bozzo [...] I saw her alone, finished, diminished. I felt passion for her, and from the bottom of my heart, despite her and everything she made me suffer and all the difficulties that both my family and I went through thanks to her actions, I forgave her. She denied having been a lover of Montesinos, even though she had told me about her adventures and misadventures with the controversial character. She absolutely denied all the truths that I knew and tried to play the victim, over and over again, talking about how much she suffered while she was imprisoned in the Monitor studios. [...] However, she admitted, for the first time in public, that it was she who took me to Panama to interview Montesinos: ‘I wanted to give you the exclusive in Panama, she said very smugly. The famous house that I have told you so much about had become an unsustainable economic burden. The monthly payments, the taxes, the maintenance, were killing us. At that time, Renzo had received an offer from a speculator for less than half of what it was worth. It was a logical short-term solution to get out of the problem. But I felt inside of me that we shouldn’t do it. I told my husband not to do it, not to sell it. That he would rather end up

Cuba & Castro

Negotiating with Castro Regime

Despite Salazar repeatedly saying over the years that she opposes negotiating with dictatorships, in 2018, Salazar said Trump should negotiate with Raul Castro rather than Cuban President Diaz-Canel because Diaz-Canel was a “puppet.”

2010: Salazar: “There Is No Type Of Negotiation With The Castro Regime, Because Of Its Abuse Of The People.” “I am very strong in my ideals and opinions, in that there is no type of negotiation, and that applies to the Cuban issue: there is no type of negotiation with the Castro regime, because of its abuse of the people,' he concludes.” [El Nuevo Herald, 8/13/10] Translation

It is the typical Washington politician who wants to stay in power,’ said Salazar, who promised to donate her salary if she becomes a congressman.” [El Nuevo Herald, 10/21/20] Translation Es la típica política de Washington que quiere mantenerse en el poder,’ expresó Salazar, que prometió donar su salario si se convierte en congresista.”

Salazar Said Trump Should Not Talk With Cuban President Miguel Díaz-Canel Because He Was A “Puppet.” “Should Trump start conversations with Miguel Díaz-Canel, Cuba's newly appointed president, I asked her? ‘He shouldn’t talk to Diaz-Canel because he doesn’t reflect anything. We know it was a transfer of title, not a transfer of power.’ After the Q&A, I approached Salazar for a follow-up and she insisted that there was no point in talking to Diaz-Canel ‘the puppet’ when the man in charge was still Communist Party leader Raúl Castro. Should Trump then talk to Raúl Castro? I asked -- and she immediately and unequivocally answered that yes, he should. ‘Trump should talk to Raúl Castro. He calls the shots.’ But as soon as she said that, and I made a gesture to write it in my notebook, Salazar, who has been endorsed by the hardline Bay of Pigs veterans group, called out: ‘That's off the record!’ I reminded her that, as a former journalist, she knows the rules. It's not off the record until both parties agree that it is -- and no, I told her, the follow-up, as was the Q&A, were most definitely on the record.” [Miami Herald, Fabiola Santiago Column, 10/17/18]

During the interview, snippets of which were used in an attack ad by a self-described ‘political hitman,’ Salazar refers to the strong-man dictator as ‘comandante’ and ‘un revolucionario por excelencia.’ Her demeanor was criticized by some candidates in the primary as ‘flirtatious’ and inappropriate, especially for a politician looking to represent nearly 300,000 Cubans who live in the district and replace the first Cuban-American politician to serve in Congress. She was also criticized for calling former President Barack Obama’s policy change toward Cuba as ‘noble.’” [Miami Herald, 8/28/18]
“Hoping to paint her as a Castro sycophant, self-described ‘political hitman’ Stephen Marks is running grainy snippets of Salazar referring to Castro as ‘comandante’ and ‘un revolucionario por excelencia’ alongside an English-language appearance on Fox News following Castro’s death in 2016 in which Salazar referred to Barack Obama’s rapprochement as ‘noble.’ The attack -- which Salazar has called defamatory and sought to pull off the air -- is a potentially damaging salvo for a Republican running in a district that is home to 280,000 Cubans and represented by the first-ever Cuban-American elected to Congress in Ros-Lehtinen. [...] The commercial was put together by Marks himself, a self-described former political hitman who once ran opposition research for conservative candidates and political committees. He said he created the ad after listening to Salazar tout her Castro interview as evidence of her toughness on Cuba, and compared her referral to Castro as ‘comandante’ to a Jewish reporter hypothetically calling Adolf Hitler ‘Mein Fuhrer.’” [Miami Herald, 8/1/18]

2018: AmericaTeVe Initially Pulled Marks’ Attack Ad Against Salazar But Then Ran A Revised Version Of The Ad. “The attacks started when Stephen Marks, a self-described ‘political hitman,’ entered the race late after loaning $450,000 to himself. Salazar said she asked Castro difficult questions during her interview with him, and explained that calling Castro “comandante” and “un revolucionario por excelencia” were out of context.

Salazar Said She Asked Castro Difficult Questions During Her Interview With Him. “Cuban-American TV journalist María Elvira Salazar says she has no regrets about an interview she conducted with the late Cuban ruler Fidel Castro 23 years ago, which is now being used as a weapon by one of her opponents in the race for a seat in Congress. [...] In the interview with Castro, Salazar said she chose to refer to him as ‘comandante’ to avoid calling him president and that the phrase ‘un revolucionario por excelencia’ (a revolutionary for excellence) was a way to set up a question that followed but does not appear in the ad. The interview lasted an hour and included ‘very tough’ questions, Salazar said. Those questions, she said, included important issues for Cubans. Among them: difficulties islanders were experiencing during the so-called ‘Special Period’ following the loss of subsidies from the former Soviet Union; the call for elections in Cuba; and criticism over providing a safe haven for American fugitives.” [Miami Herald, 8/3/18]

Roberto Robaina, Cuba’s foreign minister at the time, interceded to get Castro to consent to an exclusive on-camera interview with Salazar, who had been trying to get to the Cuban strongman for several years. ‘Robaina told me that the only thing he could do for me was to invite me to a reception where Castro would be. In 1996, Salazar said Cuban exiles support the embargo, but are the first people who “violate” it by visiting Cuba.

1996: Salazar Said Cuban Exiles Support The Embargo, But Are The First People Who “violate” It By Visiting Cuba. In 1996, Maria Elvira Salazar said, “Cuban exiles are the ones who most support the American embargo, but they are the first to violate it. It is estimated that some 300 million arrive on the island every year from the United States. February 2008: Salazar Agreed With Jose Diaz-Balart That The Castro Brothers Are In The Business of Power, They Won't Be Willing To Open Cuba Up Politically, But They Might Economically. “GIBSON: Maria, there is a notion, not that I don't believe Jose, but that maybe there will be a Chinese communist kind of model taking over in Cuba in which the dictatorship continues but economic freedom is loosened up a little bit. Any chance of that, in your view? MARIA ELVIRA SALAZAR, CUBAN-AMERICAN JOURNALIST: I tend to agree with what Jose is saying. I think that the Castro brothers, they have been in power and that's their business. But I also believe that Raul knows that he is not his brother, that he doesn't have the charisma that Fidel has had, that he has generals around him demanding for changes. People want to consume. They want to live. They want to eat three times a day, which they don't do right now. They want to travel freely, and then that is the big question -- will Raul understand that, and will want to impose his mark on history? And now that he has the power officially in his hands, will he open up economically? What I mean by opening up, meaning allowing the average Cuban to open up a little beauty parlor or allowing the average lady to be able travel freely to Miami? That's where we need to see if Raul is going to be willing to do that, not because he wants to, but because the generals around him will push him to do that because people want to live better than they're living right now. But obviously, they are in the business of power, and there is no indication that will tell you that they are willing to open up politically, but economically, probably, yes.” [Fox News, Big Story with John Gibson, 2/19/08]

August 2009: Salazar Joined CNN To Discuss Fidel Castro. “I want to show you something, though. Take a look back at Fidel Castro. This is in the summer of 2006. This is about the time that he steps aside as president. And remember there were rallies in the streets of Miami? We covered a few of those. In fact, many thought that he was on death's door at the time with a rare and mysterious gastrointestinal ailment. Then, for a long time, we barely saw him, and now this. Take a look at this video of Fidel Castro. This is this weekend. Comparatively speaking, it's a huge difference. In fact, he seems to have recovered. While we look at this video, let's hear from the most popular television personality in the heavily Cuban exile community of South Florida, my old friend and colleague Maria Elvira Salazar joining me now. Good afternoon, Elvira. How are you? MARIA ELVIRA SALAZAR, HOST, "MARIA ELVIRA LIVE": How are you, Rick? Nice seeing you.” [CNN, CNN Newsroom, 8/24/09]

But, no. You know why? Because Fidel doesn't let him, because Fidel doesn't care about anything. Cuban Government Records

July 2009: At Least 11 Photos Presumed To Have Been Used By The Cuban Government As Evidence Of Unpatriotic Behavior By A Cuban Businessman And Several Top-Ranking Officials Were Dropped In Salazar’s Mailbox By Persons Unknown. “At least 11 photographs presumed to have been used by the Cuban government as "evidence" of unpatriotic behavior by one Cuban businessman and several top-ranking officials have surfaced in Miami. They were made available to the media on Wednesday by the MegaTV program María Elvira Live, whose host, María Elvira Salazar, said they were dropped in her mailbox by persons unknown. Of themselves, the pictures are innocuous. They show what appears to be a family picnic, with people eating, drinking, playing dominoes, dancing in a circle. But Raúl Castro used them in a video to tell Communist Party officials how a Cuban businessman, Conrado Hernández, befriended some top functionaries -- including Vice President Carlos Lage, Foreign Minister Felipe Pérez Roque, and Fernando Remírez de Estenoz, the Party’s director of international relations -- obtained classified information from them and passed it on to the Spanish intelligence service.” [Miami Herald, 7/23/09]

July 2009: Salazar Said 30 Pictures Showing Three Fired Cuban Officials Holding Cans of Beer and Partying At A Ranch Were Delivered Anonymously To Her Station; She Showed More than Half Of Them During Her Show. “A Miami journalist has released photos showing three fired Cuban officials holding up cans of beer and partying at a ranch apparently belonging to the deposed Cuban representative of business interests in Spain's Basque region. The pictures appear to be related to talk in Cuba that the officials _ ex-Vice-President Carlos Lage, former Foreign Minister Felipe Perez Roque and Fernando Remírez de Estenoz, the former head of international relations for the Communist Party _ were dismissed as part of a government purge in March for making insulting remarks about Fidel Castro while guests on the property of Conrado Hernandez, the Cuban business representative in the Basque region. Cuba’s government has given little official explanation for the firings, which included top Cabinet officials. But some Cubans say they have seen a video with recordings by state security agents that shows, among other things, the remarks on Fidel being made at Hernandez's ranch. In the photographs, Hernandez appears with the fired officials, toasting with beers and playing dominos. Maria Elvira Salazar, host of Maria Elvira Live on Miami's MegaTV, said about 30 pictures were delivered anonymously to her station last week, and she showed a bit more than half of them Monday and Tuesday during her show.” [Associated Press, 7/24/09]

Luis Posada Carriles

2011: Salazar was subpoenaed to testify in Posada’s trial because Posada appeared to take responsibility for bombings at Cuban tourist sites while Salazar interviewed him on her show.

- March 2011: Salazar Testified In The Trial Of Luis Posada Carilles. “A Cuban militant accused of lying to U.S. immigration officials about his past talked during a TV interview shown to jurors Tuesday about a string of bombings in Cuba, saying he felt no remorse and was willing to assume his "historical responsibility" for carrying out attacks. But Luis Posada Carriles, in the 1998 interview with Miami-based TV anchor Maria Elvira Salazar, did not assume direct responsibility for masterminding the string of bombings in Havana in the previous summer. Members of the jury saw a backlit, silhouetted Posada tell Salazar how he felt "no remorse whatsoever" and that the only option left to Cubans was to "to fight the violent regime with violence." [...] Salazar testified that her impression was that Posada was "taking responsibility for something he might have or have not done" and that at the time, she thought Posada was "boasting, showing off." She said she did not believe Posada when he said he would be willing to go back to Cuba, where he is regarded as public enemy No. 1, when at the moment of the interview his face "was half destroyed, his speech was difficult and his demeanor not altogether," due to an attempt on his life in Guatemala in 1990." [Associated Press, 3/8/11]

- During the Posada Trial, Salazar Said She Did Not “Specifically” Think That Posada Claimed Responsibility For The Bombings. “Did Mr. Posada specifically claim responsibility for the bombings,” asked Hernandez. “Not specifically," Salazar replied. Later, she added that she felt that Posada and other anti-Castro militants may be upset that there has not been a popular uprising against the Cuban regime. “Boasting [about the attacks] was more the thing I thought at the time,” Salazar said, referring to her own analysis of what Posada meant in the interview. “Also frustration that he and others have not been able to do what the Libyans are doing right now to get rid of the tyrant.”” [Miami Herald, 3/8/11]

1988: Posada Appeared To Take Responsibility For Bombings At Cuban Tourist Sites The Year Prior While Salazar Interviewed Him On Her Show. “Luis Posada Carriles appeared to take responsibility for bombings at Cuban tourist sites in 1997 in a video interview with Cuban-American Miami TV news host Maria Elvira Salazar played for the jury Tuesday in the exile militant’s perjury trial. ‘I, for any action against the regime of Havana inside Cuban territory, take responsibility,’ Posada was heard saying in the 1998 Salazar video interview that jurors watched and listened to intently.” [Miami Herald, 3/8/11]

1998: Salazar Interviewed Luis Posada Carriles About His Terror Attacks Against Castro’s Regime; Posada Claimed He Lied To The New York Times About Who Was Funding His Terrorism On Salazar’s Program. “Casting fresh shadows over an already cloudy tale, Cuban exile Luis Posada Carriles has claimed he lied to The New York Times about his ties to Jorge Mas Canosa to protect the real bankrollers of his terror attacks. [...] Posada first disavowed his comments one day after the Times story in a brief interview with a Channel 23 reporter that raised more questions than it answered. He was much more expansive in his three-hour interview with Salazar, who hosts a public affairs program called Opposite Poles. Other parts of the interview will be broadcast in the coming days as part of the station’s regularly scheduled news programs. Posada told Salazar that he had lied to The Times because its reporters seemed to be on the trail of the real sources of the financing for his terror attacks on President Fidel Castro’s regime.” [Miami Herald, 8/3/98]

- August 1998: Cuban Exile Luis Posado Carriles Told Salazar In An Interview That He MisLed The New York Times Because Its Reporters Seemed Close To Discovering Who The Real Financial Backers Were. “In the Telenoticias interview, Posada told reporter Maria Elvira Salazar that he misled the Times because its reporters seemed close to discovering who the real backers were. Posada would not identify the real backers. "If you're working on intelligence or clandestine things, when you see that the blame or the weight of the information is about to hurt someone, you divert that information toward a person who cannot be hurt," he said. "Jorge Mas was dead," Posada said, "and he could not be hurt by any legal action for having helped the Cuban cause."” [Orlando Sentinel, 8/4/98]
In 2004, Salazar interviewed an opposition leader in Venezuela who suggested killing Hugo Chavez.

2004: Salazar Interviewed An Opposition Leader In Venezuela Who Suggested Killing Hugo Chavez. “The Venezuelan government pointed to Miami as the epicenter of a conspiracy movement whose actions and provocations will be investigated to establish its responsibility in the murder on Thursday of the country’s most important prosecutor, Danilo Anderson. [...] In a telephone conversation with El Nuevo Herald, the minister referred specifically to an interview between Maria Elvira Salazar, on Channel 22, and Venezuelan actor and entertainer Orlando Urdaneta, one of the most visible opposition leaders in Venezuela. In that interview, broadcast last month, Urdaneta maintained that the only way out of Venezuela is through ‘the physical disappearance of at least the older dog,’ in a clear reference to Chavez. The journalist asked him to explain how the physical disappearance occurs and Urdaneta replied: ‘That happens with some gentlemen who have long weapons, with a telescopic sight that never fails.’ Urdaneta added that this action has to come from the military or from businessmen ‘who have the money to bring in an Israeli commando.’” [El Nuevo Herald, 11/20/04]

En conversacion telefonica con El Nuevo Herald, el ministro se refirio especificamente a una entrevista de Maria Elvira Salazar, en el Canal 22, con el actor y animador venezolano Orlando Urdaneta, uno de los mas visibles lideres de la oposicion en Venezuela. En esa entrevista, transmitida el mes pasado, Urdaneta sostuvo que la unica salida de Venezuela es a partir de “la desaparicion fisica por lo menos del perro mayor,” en una clara referencia a Chavez. La periodista le pidio que explicara como ocurre la desaparicion fisica y Urdaneta respondio: ‘Eso ocurre con unos senores que tienen armas largas, con una mirilla telescopica que no falla.’ Urdaneta agrego que esa accion tiene que venir de los militares o de empresarios "que tienen el dinero para traer un comando... israeli.”

A Few Years Later, A Spanish Newsite Suggested That Salazar Proposed Having Israelis Kill Hugo Chavez, But It Appears That A Guest On Her Show Suggested It. “In the first place, he mentioned a television program in the city of Miami where the American presenter Maria Elvira Salazar proposed that alleged ‘Israeli commandos’ carry out the task of killing President Hugo Chávez.” [UPI Reporte LatAm, 9/12/08] Translation

Charlottesville
In 2017, Salazar appeared to make similar claims to Trump’s “bad people on both sides” claim after the Charlottesville white supremacist rally. Hillary Clinton

In February 2016, Salazar outrageously claimed that “Hillary is a lesbian” and that “Hillary didn’t like having sex with [Bill], because she preferred sex with women.” Salazar was allegedly the first national television network to cover the story.

February 2016: Salazar Reported That Former Mistress of President Bill Clinton Claimed Hillary Clinton Did Not Like Having Sex With Her Husband Because She “Preferred Sex With Women.”

“MARIA ELVIRA SALAZAR, ANCHOR, MEGA NEWS: Now, the supposed ex-lover of former President Bill Clinton is assuring that Hillary is a lesbian. Miss Sally Miller, who was once Miss Arkansas, says she had a romance with Bill in 1983, and that the then Governor of that state told her that Hillary didn’t like having sex with him, because she preferred sex with women.” [Newstex Blogs, 2/22/16]

Newsbusters Praised Salazar For Being The First National Television Network To Cover A Baseless Story Alleging Hillary Clinton Is A Lesbian. “As an example: the Mega Newscast dared to present a story regarding allegations made by a former lover of former President Bill Clinton, regarding alleged lesbian tendencies of his wife, presidential candidate Hillary Clinton: MARIA ELVIRA SALAZAR, HOST, MEGA NEWS: ‘Now an alleged former lover of former President Bill Clinton is claiming that Hillary is a lesbian. Miss Sally Miller, who became Miss Arkansas, says she had an affair with Bill in ’83, and that the then governor of that state told her that Hillary did not like having sex with him, because she preferred to do it with women.’ The news was broadcast as part of a new segment of the news, entitled 'Political Circus', a daily summary of the events of the electoral campaign that illuminates what, according to the presenter María Elvira Salazar, 'happens under the tent'. The Mega Noticiero was the first national television medium, in English or Spanish, to broadcast the news. In doing so, the network evidently decided to take the risk, and trust its viewers to see the report and decide for themselves.” [Newsbusters.org, 2/22/16] Translation

La señorita Sally Miller, quien llegó a ser Miss Arkansas, dice haber tenido un romance con Bill en el 83, y que el entonces gobernador de aquel estado le contó que a Hillary no le gustaba tener sexo con él, porque ella prefería hacerlo con mujeres.’ La noticia se difundió como parte de un nuevo segmento del noticiero, titulado 'Circo Político', un resumen diario del acontecer de la campaña electoral que ilumina lo que, según la presentadora María Elvira Salazar, ‘ocurre bajo la carpa.’ El Mega Noticiero fue el primer medio televisivo nacional, en inglés o español, en difundir la noticia. Al hacerlo así, la cadena evidentemente decidió tomar el riesgo, y confiar en sus teledientos para que vean el reporte y decidan por sí mismos.”

Xenophobic
In November 2019, Salazar said, “Imagine the Chinese stealing your book and publishing it under the author name “Ching-Chang-Chong.”

Arnold Schwarzenegger

In 2007, Salazar said Gov. Schwarzenegger was “very wrong” and “very racist” to say immigrants must learn English, despite Salazar paying to take “accent-reduction classes” for five years because she said she wanted to “speak English perfectly, better than the Americans” and didn’t want people to say, “she’s Latin.”

June 2007: Salazar Said Gov. Schwarzenegger Was “Very Wrong” and “Very Racist” To Say Immigrants Must Learn English. “So Maria, first of all, what the governor is saying -- I know you -- your business is in the language of Spanish, but what he’s saying to immigrants is you got to learn English here. Is there something so wrong with that? MARIA ELVIRA SALAZAR, FMR TELEMUNDO ANCHOR: It's very wrong. Very wrong and I'm going to tell you why. I think it's a very racist remark. I want to tell you why... GIBSON: Racist? Why? SALAZAR: Because, basically what the government is saying -- the governor is saying is that we cannot walk and chew gum at the same time. That we do if the have the intellectual capacity to be able to hear one language and learn another. And there are thousands and thousands of Hispanic-Americans walking in the United States, like me, I'm a very good example -- that we have been hearing Spanish all through our lives in our - - with our families, with our friends, through television and learning English. I think his case could be unique, John, maybe he was not able to really learn English and speak German at the same time. [Fox News, The Big Story With John Gibson, 6/15/07]

Salazar Took Accent-Reduction Classes For Five Years Because She Said “I Want To Speak English Perfectly, Better Than The Americans...So That No One Will Be Able To Say: ‘Oh Look, She’s Latin.” “Salazar, who was born in Miami, grew up in Puerto Rico and came back to the States at 15 with what she considered a ‘horrible accent’ in English. 'I have this obsession ... I want to speak English perfectly, better than the Americans,' Salazar said. ‘So that no one will be able to say: ‘Oh look, she’s Latin.’ I want them to say: ‘She can speak English so well, and look, she can speak Spanish, too.' ‘ She has taken accent-reduction classes for five years. Her present instructor, Lillian Poms, says Salazar has a slight trace of an accent that she will eliminate only by living for at least three months in a city where no Spanish is spoken. Salazar said she might do just that: ‘The only country I have is the United States. They speak English. And how do they speak it? In a different way than I do. In my own country.’” [Miami Herald, 2/27/83]
Salazar writes in her book, “When I feel like ‘killing someone,’ I let myself be guided by reason rather than by feelings.”

Salazar: “When I Feel Like ‘Killing Someone,’ I Let Myself Be Guided By Reason Rather Than By Feelings.” Salazar was writing about her experience going to Panama with Laura Bozzo to do an interview with Montesinos. As they were getting ready to do the interview, Bozzo informed Salazar that Montesinos won’t be doing the interview anymore. Salazar wrote, “I am strong, but not violent; even in the worst situations, when I feel like "killing someone", I let myself be guided by reason rather than by feelings. Dialogue and words are the best weapons to defend yourself. Also, if I say that I am a Christian, the least I should do is practice it. Jesus was soft and spoke softly. However, that Saturday, October 21, 2000, in Panama, thirty-four weeks pregnant, with swollen legs, a paralyzed heart from waiting, and standing in front of a Laura Bozzo who, calmly and sportingly, said to me: Montesinos she's not going to give you the interview, she doesn't want to, she says it's not the time, the truth is that I thought I was killing her. He had been waiting for her all day with the cameraman ready, the questions ready, everything ready for the interview I have been waiting half a year for.” [Book: Si Dios Contigo, ¿Quién Contra Ti?, Author: Maria Elvira Salazar, p. 49] Translate

Salazar writes in her book that she made it to top of the media industry “without doing sexual favors in exchange for a position.”

Salazar said she was “like Oprah Winfrey.”

2010: Salazar: “I’m Like Oprah Winfrey [...] Independent Production Allows Me To Choose Who Works With Me And How Much That Person Earns.” “Perhaps the most hopeful thing is how Salazar managed to turn the situation around, and following her faith, continue working to get to the point where she is today, where she owns her show, María Elvira Live, which broadcasts Mega TV. 'I'm like Oprah [Winfrey]. Independent production allows me to choose who works with me and how much that person earns. Since I manage the budget, I can decide if I want to buy a video of Fidel Castro in his underwear. I write the check myself, I don't have to go to [the departments of] Human Resources or Legal,' says Salazar, who is satisfied with the ratings of the program in the United States and Puerto Rico, and aspires to be seen throughout Latin America.” [El Nuevo Herald, 8/13/10] Translation
Spanish Version: “Lo más esperanzador quizás sea cómo Salazar consiguió darle un giro a la situación, y siguiendo su fe, continuar trabajando para llegar al punto en el que se encuentra hoy, en que es dueña de su show, María Elvira Live, que trasmite Mega TV. ‘Soy como Oprah [Winfrey]. La producción independiente me permite elegir quién trabaja contigo y cuánto gana esa persona. Como manejo el presupuesto, puedo decidir si quiero comprar un video de Fidel Castro en calzoncillos. Yo misma hago el cheque, no tengo que ir a [los departamentos de] Human Resources o Legal,’ cuenta Salazar, que se siente satisfecha de los ratings del programa en Estados Unidos y en Puerto Rico, y aspira a que se vea en toda América Latina.”

Salazar prayed to God asking to be number one in the TV ratings.

Salazar Prayed To God Asking To Be Number One In The TV Ratings. Salazar wrote, “But never stop thanking God for what I had and for what was to come. Thanking him in advance is very effective, it is like visualizing the blessings on the way for us. I knelt saying: ‘Lord, thank you because I know that I will be the first in the market, you are going to raise my ratings, I will be number one.’ That fills you with peace and tranquility. It is peace, I repeat, it transcends the intellect and reaches your heart.” [Book: Si Dios Contigo, ¿Quién Contra Ti?, Author: Maria Elvira Salazar, p. 142] Translate

Salazar: “I Am A Winner In What I Set Out To Do, Period.” Salazar wrote, “This was normal for me: I spent four years, for example, working to achieve the interview with Fidel. I am, therefore, aware of the difficulties involved in approaching a character [Montesinos] of this magnitude. But when I commit to something, I do not give in, I do not give up, I do not give up until I achieve it, I am also convinced that I am more than a winner in Christ Jesus, and I take refuge in those words. I am a winner in what I set out to do, period. And I count on a superior force that opens the paths for me. This is what is promised in the Bible: Entrust your way to Me, so that I can do it. So I let Him do it, and it always works out.” [Book: Si Dios Contigo, ¿Quién Contra Ti?, Author: Maria Elvira Salazar, p. 25] Translate

Salazar said, “If God is with me, no one could be against me.”

Salazar: “If God Is With Me, No One Could Be Against Me.” Salazar wrote, “With no one to turn to...I knelt. And I looked at the sky. I clung to the only truly eternal: the Most High. I asked him to rescue me from the hole. May he save me from professional death, financial ruin, and the pain of failure. He was the only one who had the power to get me out; That is why I was before Him. I knelt down and from that moment I realized that if God is with me, no one could be against me. And I began to feel peace, that which transcends the intellect and reaches the heart. From the moment I clung to the Word of the Lord I began to feel its strength in me, that's why I knew that everything was going to turn out well. So it was.” [Book: Si Dios Contigo, ¿Quién Contra Ti?, Author: Maria Elvira Salazar, p. 9] Translate

It will air 11 a.m. Sunday in English on WFOR-Channel 4 [...] Salazar: Mr. Mas, in 1991 you concurred in calling Mr. Arcos Bergnes a traitor after he having called for a dialogue with Fidel Castro. If he and others -- like Osvaldo Paya of the Christian Movement -- are inside Cuba, in the line of fire, why don’t you give them at least your moral support?” [Miami Herald, 9/6/96]

- Salazar Asked Mas What Assurances He Could Give That Cuban Exiles Would Not “Impose A Savage Form Of Capitalism (In Cuba), Taking Advantage Of An Economy... Begs For (Foreign) Investment?” “HERE ARE excerpts from a transcript of last night’s debate, ‘Castro: Judgment on History’, between Ricardo Alarcon, president of Cuba’s National Assembly, and Jorge Mas Canosa, chairman of the Miami-based Cuban American National Foundation. Videotaped Aug. 23, the debate was aired last night on CBS Telenoticias. It will air 11 a.m. Sunday in English on WFOR-Channel 4 [...] Salazar: What assurance can you give the people of Cuba -- people who have nothing and are hungry -- that businessmen from the exile community, people like you, are not going to impose a savage form of capitalism (in Cuba), taking advantage of an economy in ruins that literally begs for (foreign) investment?” [Miami Herald, 9/6/96]

- Salazar Asked Alarcon What Responsibility The Government And Him Had For The Economic Crisis In Cuba. “HERE ARE excerpts from a transcript of last night’s debate, ‘Castro: Judgment on History’, between Ricardo Alarcon, president of Cuba’s National Assembly, and Jorge Mas Canosa, chairman of the Miami-based Cuban American National Foundation. Videotaped Aug. 23, the debate was aired last night on CBS Telenoticias. It will air 11 a.m. Sunday in English on WFOR-Channel 4 [...] Salazar: Cuba is going through the worst economic chaos in its history. In this period (of crisis), to what extent is the ruling circle responsible -- yourself included?” [Miami Herald, 9/6/96]

- Salazar Questioned Alarcon When He Claimed There Was No Hunger In Cuba. “HERE ARE excerpts from a transcript of last night’s debate, ‘Castro: Judgment on History’, between Ricardo Alarcon, president of Cuba’s National Assembly, and Jorge Mas Canosa, chairman of the Miami-based Cuban American National Foundation. Videotaped Aug. 23, the debate was aired last night on CBS Telenoticias. It will air 11 a.m. Sunday in English on WFOR-Channel 4 [...] Salazar: Cuba is going through the worst economic chaos in its history. In this period (of crisis), to what extent is the ruling circle responsible -- yourself included? Alarcon: Well, of course we are all responsible for the decisions, the efforts made to deal with an economic situation that couldn’t be more complicated. But let me tell you, we don’t have the hunger, the destitution that afflicts so many people elsewhere, particularly in Latin America. I don’t believe that all Cubans in Miami are millionaires, like Mr. Mas Canosa. If that is the objective (that exiles) offer Cubans, they should first attain it themselves in the United States. . . . Salazar: No hunger in Cuba? How can you say that there is no hunger in Cuba? There are rafters, however. Tell me: Isn’t a person who exposes his family to the sharks in the Florida Straits more than just a little bit hungry?” [Miami Herald, 9/6/96]

- Salazar Asked Alarcon And Mas If They Would Support The Other If They Were Popularly Elected. “Salazar (to Alarcon): If after Castro’s demise, and through general elections, Mr. Mas Canosa were to reach the presidency of Cuba . . . would you support that popularly elected government? Yes or no. Alarcon: A government elected by the people, yes. But not an American who represents a foreign government. The answer has to be No. Salazar: Mr. Mas Canosa, then. Alarcon: No, because he is not Cuban. This is where I left off Mas: Well, first of all, my Cuban citizenship is not the property of the Cuban Revolution or Fidel Castro or Ricardo Alarcon. I am a Cuban citizen and I carry (that nationality) in my heart. Simply said, power should be attained through free and democratic elections, universal and secret suffrage, respect for the will of the people, respect for sovereignty. Let the Cubans choose the system they deem convenient and the rulers they wish to elect. Salazar (to Mas Canosa): Likewise, if Fidel Castro exits the political scene in Cuba and Ricardo Alarcon becomes the man entrusted with the transition to democracy, would you give him full financial support? Mas: The question goes beyond one man. The conditions I just described must be present. If in a democratic election, where the will of the people is respected, where . . . Salazar: If Mr. Alarcon were to become the man leading Cuba toward democracy, would you give him your financial support? Mas: . . . where political parties are organized, we have the opportunity to express our ideas, to have equal access to the media, and Mr. Alarcon wins a free and democratic election -- or Mr. Juan Perez or Mr. Jose Rodriguez -- we would support him, yes sir.” [Miami Herald, 9/6/96]

PBS Documentary on Castro

Salazar on PBS's American Experience documentary on Castro: “It doesn’t have a frontal attack with words, but rather a bombardment of facts and images.”

Salazar On PBS’s American Experience Documentary On Castro: “It Doesn’t Have A Frontal Attack With Words, But Rather A Bombardment Of Facts And Images.” “PBS's American Experience series crosses the border tonight with the two-hour biography Fidel Castro. [...] Maria Elvira Salazar, a Cuban-American journalist who hosts Maria Elvira Confronta on Spanish-language station WDLP-Ch. 22, discussed the documentary in a special edition of her show. She says the documentary is made for a liberal audience. ‘Without using a negative word or an insult toward the figure of Fidel Castro, the documentary shows clearly and without a doubt the high social cost that the Cuban people have had to pay,’ says Salazar. ‘It doesn’t have a frontal attack with words, but rather a bombardment of facts and images.’” [Sun-Sentinel, 1/31/05]

Florida State Senate Debate

2006: Salazar moderated a debate between Bolanos and Villalobos.
2006: Salazar Moderated A Spanish Language Debate Between Florida State Senate Candidates Bolanos And Villalobos. “The only English-language debate in Florida’s toughest state Senate race became a single-candidate question-and-answer session Friday, after candidate Frank Bolaños declined to show. The reason: Bolaños kept a breakfast appointment with voters instead of debating incumbent Sen. Alex Villalobos. The debate, originally scheduled for Wednesday morning on the Jim DeFede Show on radio station WINZ-AM (940), was postponed due to Tropical Storm Ernesto. Both candidates did appear on a Span-ish-language debate Thursday evening on TV station Mega 22, hosted by Maria Elvira Salazar.” [Miami Herald, 9/2/06]

Argentina Foreign Minister Dante Caputo

December 1997: Salazar interviewed former Argentina Foreign Minister Dante Caputo.

December 1997: Salazar Interviewed Former Argentine Foreign Minister Dante Caputo and Senior U.S. State Dept. Official Peter Romero. “If foreign leaders do not get to South Florida often enough, South Florida gets to them. One night last week, Telenoticias’ Maria Elvira Salazar debated U.S.-Latin America policy by satellite hookup with former Argentine Foreign Minister Dante Caputo and senior U.S. State Department official Peter Romero on her weekly show Polos Opuestos _ Opposite Poles _ a Spanish-language version of CNN's Crossfire.” [South Florida Sun-Sentinel, 12/21/97]

- Salazar Compared South Florida to the Netherlands Capital Of The The Hague, Because It Is A Place For International Disputes To Be Resolved. “We have that ability to do that, because we are in the middle. Since we are impartial terrain (except for Cuban issues), all these things can be discussed here,” Salazar said. She compared South Florida with the Netherlands capital of The Hague, where many international disputes are resolved in the World Court. With satellite hookups from South Florida, Latin American presidents can face critics of their policies and perhaps create new diplomatic milestones, as occurred when Salazar organized last year’s "debate" between Cuban official Ricardo Alarcon and the late Cuban exile leader Jorge Mas Canosa.” [South Florida Sun-Sentinel, 12/21/97]

U.S. Senator Marco Rubio

May 2010: Salazar interviewed Marco Rubio.

May 2010: Salazar Pressed Marco Rubio On Whether Or Not He Supported Arizona’s Controversial Immigration Law. “Republican U.S. Senate candidate Marco Rubio, speaking on Spanish-language television Monday night, said he supported a change to Arizona’s controversial immigration law -- and not necessarily the law itself. "The law, how it is now, do you support it, yes or no?" Maria Elvira Salazar asked on Mega TV’s Maria Elvira Live. "I don't support states taking this into their own hands," Rubio replied. "I think this needs to be dealt with at the federal level. What I support is the change they made to the law, because that improved the law." Earlier this month, the conservative website Human Events asked Rubio if he would have voted for the changed version of the law. "The second one that passed hit the right note. Yes," he said.” [Florida Politics, 5/18/10]

2013: Salazar Worked For CNN Latino. “That’s partially why the national network, which produces eight hours a day for the CNN Latino broadcast, has hired heavy hitters like anchor Maria Elvira Salazar, whom Miami’s El Nuevo Herald called ‘one of the most recognizable faces in Hispanic television,’ and produced documentaries, debate shows and news analyses for Spanish-speaking audiences. Since launching in January, CNN Latino has expanded into cities composing a quarter of the country’s Hispanic households, including in Orlando, Miami, New York, Phoenix and Los Angeles.” [Tampa Bay Times, 10/7/13]

GenTV Channel 8

2013: Salazar’s show on GenTV Channel 8 was canceled reportedly because of contractual issues.

2013: Salazar’s Show On GenTV Channel 8 Was Canceled Reportedly Because Of Contractual Issues. “Popular Spanish-language television journalist Maria Elvira Salazar, who launched a new show on GenTV Channel 8 in Miami in October, is officially off the air. The nightly news debate show, Maria Elvira, stopped airing at its 8 p.m. time slot in late December, but it was unclear why. […] Salazar, one of the most recognizable faces in Hispanic television in Miami, is apparently a victim of a confusing contractual triangle, involving two local television stations and MundoFox Broadcasting, a new national Spanish-language network. On her Facebook page, Salazar said: ‘This has taken the channel’s South Florida audience, and those who work for it, by surprise. I feel bad that many of you will feel tricked by Canal 8 for changing its programming without notice.’” [Miami Herald, 1/23/13]

2000: Salazar Was An Anchor For Noticiero Telemundo, Which Aired On WSCV-Channel 51. “Telemundo’s Pedro Sevcec will move from afternoon talk show host to co-anchor of the network’s evening newscast starting Jan. 24, the network announced Monday. Sevcec, whose talk show is being pulled after a five-year run, will join Maria Elvira Salazar on Noticiero Telemundo, which airs at 6:30 p.m. weeknights on WSCV-Channel 51 in South Florida.” [Miami Herald, 1/12/00]

CBS

1998-1999: Salazar was a CBS News anchor.

1999: Salazar Was An Anchor For CBS TeleNoticias. “Faced with a severe cash flow problem, CBS TeleNoticias - the all-news Spanish and Portuguese-language network based in Hialeah - announced Thursday that it was dismissing 77 employees, more than a quarter of its work force. [...] Others who remain include Marian de la Fuente, Ricardo Brown and Maria Elvira Salazar, who will anchor the newscast that CBS prepares for Telemundo, the nation’s No. 2 Spanish-language network.” [Miami Herald, 7/23/99]

1998: Salazar Was A CBS News Anchor. “CBS News anchorwoman Maria Elvira Salazar presented a workshop on the involvement of youngsters in the mass media on March 18 at Hialeah Institute, an alternative middle and high school funded by Mi-ami-Dade County Public Schools. Telenoticias 1997: Salazar hosted a weekly show called “Polos Opuestos” for Telenoticias.

1997: Salazar Hosted A Weekly Show Called “Polos Opuestos” For Telenoticias. “If foreign leaders do not get to South Florida often enough, South Florida gets to them. One night last week, Telenoticias' Maria Elvira Salazar debated U.S.-Latin America policy by satellite hookup with former Ar-gentine Foreign Minister Dante Caputo and senior U.S. State Department official Peter Romero on her weekly show Polos Opuestos _ Opposite Poles _ a Spanish-language version of CNN’s Crossfire. The backdrops certainly proved her point, Caputo spoke from Buenos Aires and Romero from Washington, with the U.S. Capitol in the background. And the Miami-born Salazar, formerly a CNN Spanish-language anchor and foreign correspondent for Univision, served as the moderator from bilingual South Florida.”

Reuters & Telemundo

1993: Salazar was the Central American senior correspondent for Telemundo’s newscast in conjunction with Reuters Television produced in Miami.

May 1993: Telemundo Launched New Network Newscast, Including Central American Senior Correspondent Maria Elvira Salazar. “Proclaiming the dawn of "a new day" for Spanish-language television programming, Joaquin Blaya, president and CEO of Telemundo Group, Inc., unveiled plans today for the May 31 launch of a new network newscast to be called Noticiero Telemundo Con Raul Peimbert ("Telemundo News with Raul Peimbert"). Reviews & Commentary

Critical Review Of Salazar’s Performance As An Anchor
1988-1989: Carlos Coto reported on Salazar’s progress as an anchor.

1989: Carlos Coto: “Noticiero Telemundo, Hosted By Miami-Born Maria Elvira Salazar And Uruguayan Jorge Gestoso, Has Also Become A Sales Performer.” “Noticiero Telemundo, hosted by Miami-born Maria Elvira Salazar and Uruguayan Jorge Gestoso, has also become a sales performer. CNN’s parent company, Turner Broadcasting System Inc., which holds all in-ternational rights to the newscast, has sold it to affiliates in every Central American country, six South American nations and the Dominican Republic. Company officials expect the broadcast to be cleared in the rest of Latin America by the end of the year. Selling Spanish-language news south of the border will also enhance the product; every station or cable service that signs with CNN has a ‘reciprocal’ agreement to contribute to the newscast.” [Miami Herald, Juan Carlos Coto, 7/9/89]

1988: Carlos Coto: “Univision’s Jorge Ramos And Maria Elena Salinas … Seemed More In Command Of Hispanic Issues And Asked Tougher Questions Of Their Guests Than … Maria Elvira Salazar.” “If election night viewers had voted on the best Spanish- language anchors, Univision’s Jorge Ramos and Maria Elena Salinas would have won by a landslide. They seemed more in command of Hispanic issues and asked tougher questions of their guests than their counterparts, Telemundo’s Jorge Gestoso and Maria Elvira Salazar. […] During brief cut-ins after the 6:30 p.m. report, Salazar led rival Univision with early projections on some state races. But the advantage was short-lived. Salazar’s news briefs in the early evening were no match for Univision’s continuous coverage.” [Miami Herald, Juan Carlos Coto, 11/10/88]

1988: Carlos Coto: “Co-Anchor Maria Elvira Salazar Was Tongue-Tied And Consistently At A Loss For Follow-Up Questions To Her Live Guests. There Were Also Glaring Technical Errors All Week.” “Noticiero Telemundo-CNN, the Spanish language Cable News Network effort, was a farce. In addition to overall lack of stories and immediacy (some reports were day-old news), co- anchor Maria Elvira Salazar was tongue-tied and consistently at a loss for follow-up questions to her live guests. There were also glaring technical errors all week. Just one: On Wednesday night at 6:30 p.m., Salazar in-troduced a report by Pablo Gato, and one of hers ran. But by far the biggest outrage of Telemundo’s coverage was that they offered no translation -- no translation! -- of last night’s acceptance speech by nominee Michael Dukakis. As Dukakis spoke, anchors Salazar and Jorge Gestoso delivered a pointless summation of the speech.” [Miami Herald, Juan Carlos Coto, 7/22/88]

Miami Herald Review

In 1988, Miami Herald said the following about Salazar: “who seems to combine …proverbial toughness, tempered by offhanded personal charm and fashion-mannequin looks.”

1988: The Miami Herald On Salazar: “Who Seems To Combine …Proverbial Toughness, Tempered By Offhanded Personal Charm And Fashion-Mannequin Looks.” “As an anchor, I'll miss full-time reporting,’ says Salazar, at 27 a veteran of Latin TV news’ front lines. 'But I'll be doing something as exciting. And I'm going to convey that excitement.' In the Spanish communications industry, great things are predicted for this Cuban-American journalist, who seems to combine elements essential to TV news ‘talent’: aggressiveness, a keen intelligence and the pro-verbal toughness, tempered by offhanded personal charm and fashion-mannequin looks.” [Miami Herald, 5/29/88]

A few months later, Miami Herald criticized Salazar’s reporting, calling her “tongue-tied and consistently at a loss for follow-up questions to her live guests.”

July 1988: Miami Herald Criticized Salazar’s Reporting, Called Her “Tongue-Tied and Consistently At A Loss For Follow-Up Questions To Her Live Guests.” “The Spanish-language television coverage of the Democratic National Convention was like night and day. Noticiero Univision, though suffering from a booth echo, equipment drones and a penchant for anchor chitchat, showed immediacy and insight at the convention -- and, more importantly, addressed vital Hispanic questions. Noticiero Telemundo-CNN, the Spanish language Cable News Network effort, was a farce. In addition to overall lack of stories and immediacy (some reports were day-old news), co-anchor Maria Elvira Salazar was tongue-tied and consistently at a loss for follow-up questions to her live guests. There were also glaring technical errors all week. Just one: On Wednesday night at 6:30 p.m., Salazar introduced a report by Pablo Gato, and one of hers ran.” [Miami Herald, 7/22/1988]

Misinformation

October 2006: The Miami-Dade County Government Accused Salazar Of Spreading Misinformation About Build Code Enforcement At A Mobile Home Park, Saying She “Ignored The Basic Tenets Of Ethical Journalism.” “By ignoring all the court decisions, all the Building Department documentation and the police reports, Maria Elvira Salazar and her producers ignored the basic tenets of ethical journalism - truth and balance. Though the Building Department director Charles Danger and the department's Building Section supervisor Freddy Valderrama were both available to appear on the show, they were passed over in favor of giving forum to one-sided inflammatory statements.” [US States News, 10/6/06]

Death Threats

In 2009, Salazar and her daughters received death threats.

2009: Salazar And Her Daughters Received Death Threats For Interviewing Supporters Of A Peace Without Borders Concert In Havana. “Death threats against journalist María Elvira Salazar and her daughters added an alarming note in Miami on Tuesday to the aftermath of Sunday’s Peace Without Borders concert in Havana. ‘These are surely people who do not understand the spirit, who do not understand the changes in the history of exile or that they have to evolve,’ Salazar told El Nuevo Herald on Tuesday night. "The United States, unlike Cuba, is a country of laws and nobody is going to intimidate me. I am not afraid of these things. On Tuesday morning, the headquarters of Mega TV-Channel 22 received three threatening phone calls against the popular Cuban-American journalist. One of those calls threatened to kill her two youngest daughters. On his program María Elvira Live, broadcast on Mega TV, Salazar had interviewed Puerto Rican singer Olga Tañón on Monday night, one of the participants in the controversial concert, which also featured Colombian singer Juanes and more than a dozen Cuban and foreign artists. During the brief interview, Salazar thanked Tañón for his presence in Havana, the messages of hope he conveyed to the audience and, in particular, the phrase ‘it's time to change.’ In front of the cameras, Salazar was moved to tears when giving Tañón a bouquet of white roses.” [El Nuevo Herald, 9/22/09]

• Spanish Version: “Las amenazas de muerte contra la periodista María Elvira Salazar y sus hijas añadieron el martes en Miami una nota alarmante a las secuelas del concierto Paz sin Fronteras realizado el domingo en La Habana. ‘Esto son seguramente personas que no entienden el espíritu, que no entienden los cambios en la historia del exilio ni que hay que evolucionar’ dijo Salazar a El Nuevo Herald el martes por la noche. ‘Estados Unidos, a diferencia de Cuba, es un país de leyes y nadie me va a amedrentar. Yo sí no le tengo miedo a estas cosas.’ El martes por la mañana, la sede de Mega TV-Canal 22 recibió tres llamadas telefónicas con amenazas contra la popular periodista cubanoamericana. Una de esas llamadas amenazaba de muerte a sus dos hijas menores. En su programa María Elvira Live, transmitido por Mega TV, Salazar había entrevistado el lunes por la noche a la cantante puertorriqueña Olga Tañón, una de las participantes en el polémico concierto, que contó también con el cantante colombiano Juanes y más de una decena de artistas cubanos y extranjeros. Durante la breve entrevista, Salazar agradeció a Tañón su presencia en La Habana, los mensajes de esperanza que trasmitió a la audiencia y, en particular, la frase ‘es el momento de cambiar.’ Frente a las cámaras, Salazar se emocionó hasta las lágrimas al entregarle a Tañón un ramo de rosas blancas.”

- Salazar was failing to do her job. She was not going to work in DC and instead frequently voted by proxy. As a Member of Congress, Salazar has filed 36 different letters authorizing a fellow member of Congress to cast votes on her behalf, which is the 12th most of any Member of Congress. However, according to the Associated Press, in April 2022, Salazar had the most proxy votes of any Republican in 2022.

- Salazar claimed she was not able “to physically attend” because of the “ongoing public health emergency,” but she has also said she was voting by proxy because her mother was in and out of the hospital. However, two days after getting married, Salazar was not in DC for votes, and instead voted by proxy, again claiming it was “because of the ongoing public health emergency.”

- Salazar has a similar pattern in missing committee hearings.
  - Salazar serves on the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, but has missed 25% of the committee’s hearings, including 60% of hearings for the Subcommittee on Middle East, North Africa, and Global Counterterrorism.
  - Salazar has also missed nearly 50% of her small business committee hearings, including more than 71% of her Innovation, Entrepreneurship, and Workforce Development subcommittee hearings and more than 57% of her Underserved, Agricultural, and Rural Business Development subcommittee hearings.

- Salazar has voted 91.1% of the time with the Republican Party.

Proxy Votes

Salazar was failing to do her job. She was not going to work in DC and instead frequently voted by proxy. As a Member of Congress, Salazar has filed 36 different letters authorizing a fellow member of Congress to cast votes on her behalf, which is the 12th most of any Member of Congress. However, according to the Associated Press, in April 2022, Salazar had the most proxy votes of any Republican in 2022.

August 2022: Salazar Has Submitted 36 Proxy Letters To The House Clerk That Authorize Another Member To Cast Votes On Her Behalf. [Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, All Proxy Letters, accessed 8/16/22]
Salazar Filed Her First Proxy Authorization On June 30, 2021. “Dear [Clerk of the House], Pursuant to House Resolution 8, I write to notify you of the designation of a proxy to cast my vote. I am unable to physically attend proceedings in the House Chamber due to the ongoing public health emergency, and I hereby grant the authority to cast my vote by proxy to the Honorable Kat Camamck (Florida) who has agreed to serve as my proxy.” [Clerk of the House of Representatives, Salazar Proxy Letter #1, 6/30/21]

Salazar Filed Her 36th And Most Recent Proxy Authorization On July 26, 2022. “Dear [Clerk of the House], Pursuant to House Resolution 8, I write to notify you of the designation of a new proxy to cast my vote. I continue to be unable to physically attend proceedings in the House Chamber due to the ongoing public health emergency and hereby grant the authority to cast my vote by proxy to the Honorable Kat Camamck, who has agreed to serve as my proxy. I understand that this revokes the prior grant of my proxy to the Honorable Blake Moore (Utah) previously authorized on July 21, 2022.” [Clerk of the House of Representatives, Salazar Proxy Letter #36, 7/26/22]

August 2022: Salazar Has Submitted The 12th Most Proxy Letters Of Any Member Of The 177th Congress. [Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, All Proxy Letters, accessed 8/16/22]

As Of April 2022, Salazar Had Cast At Least 77 Votes By Proxy, Which Is The 15th Most Of Any Representative. According to April 2022 analysis by Honolulu Civil Beat, Salazar had cast 77 votes by proxy, which was the 15th most of any member of the House of Representatives. [Honolulu Civil Beat, 4/11/22]

As Of April 2022, Salazar Led All Republicans In Proxy Votes In 2022. “The 77 proxy votes this year by Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla., are the most among Republicans. In a statement, she said she is an only child and main caretaker for her 86-year-old mother, who became ill last year. "Without knowing how much time we have left together I want to be there for her," Salazar added.” [Associated Press, 4/20/22]

Salazar claimed she was not able “to physically attend” because of the “ongoing public health emergency,” but she has also said she was voting by proxy because her mother was in and out of the hospital. However, two days after getting married, Salazar was not in DC for votes, and instead voted by proxy, again claiming it was “because of the ongoing public health emergency.”

In Each Letter, Salazar Says That She Is “Unable To Physically Attend Proceedings In The House Chamber Due To The Ongoing Public Health Emergency.” “Pursuant to House Resolution 8, I write to notify you of the designation of a new proxy to cast my vote. I continue to be unable to physically attend proceedings in the House Chamber due to the ongoing public health emergency and hereby grant the authority to cast my vote by proxy to the Honorable Neal Dunn, who has agreed to serve as my proxy. I understand this revokes the prior grant of my proxy to the Honorable Blake Moore (Utah) previously authorized on July 21, 2022.” [Clerk of the United States House of Representatives, Salazar Proxy Letter, 7/26/22]
Salazar’s Office Told Politico Florida Playbook That Salazar Relied On Proxy Voting Because Her Elderly Mother Was In And Out Of The Hospital. “That list showed that Crist as well as Reps. Al Lawson, Frederica Wilson and Maria Elvira Salazar were among the top 15 members who were voting by proxy, a system set up by House Speaker Nancy Pelosi due to Covid-19. (For what it’s worth, there was a big drop-off from those at the top of the list and those lower down such as Salazar. Salazar’s office said she has relied on proxy voting because the congresswoman’s elderly mother has been going in and out of hospitals recently.)” [Politico Florida Playbook, 4/27/22]

- Salazar Said That She Was Voting By Proxy “Because Of The Ongoing Public Health Emergency.” [House Clerk, Salazar Proxy Authorization #27, 6/13/22]

Ironically, Republicans once sued Pelosi to block voting by proxy, saying that it was “wholly unconstitutional.”

Republicans Once Sued Speaker Pelosi To Block Voting By Proxy, Saying That It Was “Wholly Unconstitutional” And The Votes Should Be Considered Invalid. “After H. Res. 965 was adopted in May 2020, Republican House members responded immediately with significant pushback. Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy (R-CA) and 160 other Republican members filed a suit against Speaker of the House Nancy Pelosi (D-CA) and the House clerk. In his initial arguments in McCarthy, et al. V. Pelosi et al. (2020), the Republicans’ attorney, Charles Cooper, argued that remote voting was wholly unconstitutional; the founding fathers meant for members to be “actually present in their respective offices when they vote.” The legislative process, he contended, demands debate and deliberation, which becomes diluted in a remote format. Any votes cast by proxy, Cooper held, were to be considered “invalid.” The District Court, as well as the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, dismissed the suit and cited the court’s lack of jurisdiction over House rules. The case has been appealed to the Supreme Court, now with only two Congressional plaintiffs (McCarthy and Chip Roy (R-TX)).” [Brookings, 1/20/22]

POLICY ISSUES

TOPLINES

- [Abortion] Salazar was an anti-choice extremist who supported letting states ban abortion with no exceptions.
  - Salazar said that the Supreme Court’s decision to overturn Roe v. Wade “returns power to the states and their voters... as the Constitution intended.” But less than 4 years earlier, Salazar said abortion rights was “settled law” and that she didn’t think Justice Kavanaugh was “radical” or an “extremist,” and that she didn’t “like to take rights from people.”
  - Salazar repeatedly voted against the Women’s Health Protection Act, despite suggesting that she didn’t. The legislation would have codified the right to abortion to protect abortion access if Roe v. Wade was overturned.
  - Salazar voted against the Ensuring Access to Abortion Act, which would protect a patient’s ability to access legal abortion services in another state.
  - Salazar had an A+ rating from Susan B. Anthony List, an extreme anti-abortion group that wanted to “end abortion” and pledged after Roe v. Wade was overturned to restrict access to abortion “in every state” and on a national level. Salazar was also endorsed by them.
  - Salazar voted to make the Hyde Amendment, which banned federal money from being used to pay for abortions and health plans that covered abortions, permanent.

- [American Rescue Plan] Salazar voted against the American Rescue Plan, which she described as “socialism” but provided billions in funding for Florida, including money to fight child poverty, save police jobs, and improve schools.
  - Salazar opposed defunding the police and claimed she would “always fight to defend our police,” but by voting against the American Rescue Plan she voted against preventing police layoffs.
  - Salazar said she wanted children to have access to the “greatest education system possible,” but by voting against the American Rescue Plan she voted against $1.1 billion in federal funds provided to Miami-Dade schools.
  - Salazar claimed to support access to affordable healthcare but opposed the American Rescue Plan, which helped make health insurance more affordable during the COVID-19 pandemic.
  - Salazar falsely claimed people receiving $1,400 stimulus checks from ARP will pay “thousands and thousands more in taxes.”
  - Salazar took credit for the passage of legislation she proposed to extend repayment of COVID relief loans, despite ultimately voting against the bill included in the American Rescue Plan, which prompted backlash.

- [Antifa] Salazar cosponsored legislation to investigate Antifa’s role in riots in U.S. cities in 2020.
• [Baby Formula] Salazar demanded “answers” from the Biden administration on the baby formula shortage and even called for the use of the Defense Production Act to increase access to formula. But then Salazar voted against authorizing $28 million in emergency funding to the FDA to address the shortage.

• [Bad for Workers and Seniors] Salazar said people benefitting from government programs were “parasites of society” and falsely asserted the top 1 percent paid 99 percent of taxes.
  o Ironically, she has more recently said that if someone needs social help that “you have to give it to them” “temporarily.”

  o Salazar voted against impeaching Trump for inciting the January 6th insurrection.
  o Salazar voted against establishing the Select Committee to investigate the January 6th attack on the United States Capitol.
  o Salazar promoted conspiracy theories about the 2020 election and January 6th. In April 2022, Salazar asked a journalist - “Are you working to uncover the full truth about what everyone knew before Jan 6th?”
  o Salazar refused to discuss Rep. Kevin McCarthy’s lies about January 6th and said that the press’s insistence on pursuing the story was because the press had been “infiltrated” by “Neo-Marxists.”
  o In 2022, when Salazar was asked about January 6th by the media, Salazar instead criticized the media and said the media is “not doing their job” when “there’s a major threat in this country” by what she calls the “socialists or the neo-Marxists: that’s the real threat.”
  o Salazar said getting to the bottom of Jan 6 begins by seeing what Pelosi knew.
  o Amid the release by the NY Times of tapes between Kevin McCarthy and other members of the GOP about how January 6th could impact Trump, Salazar suggested the tapes were edited and blamed the media for not “doing [their] job.”
  o Prior to election certification, Salazar said “what’s happening is outrageous” and predicted “evidence will be revealed” on January 6th.
  o Salazar promoted a conspiracy theory about Pennsylvania’s election results. Salazar said, “How is it possible that in Pennsylvania there are 200,000 more votes on election day than there were on the electoral rolls, that is impossible!”
  o Days after the 2020 election was called, Salazar appeared on Fox News and peddled conspiracy theory-style election rhetoric, saying, “we better do something in order to preserve the sanctity of the electoral process” or “we’re doomed.”
  o In November 2020, Salazar refused to respond when asked if they were aware of any Venezuelan efforts to change votes in the 2020 election.
  o Instead of working on protecting voter rights, Salazar cosponsored legislation that would require election officials to report the total number of ballots in their possession within one hour of polls closing.

• [Censorship] In January 2021, Salazar said, “censorship is infiltrating the U.S.”
• [Colombia] Salazar warned Colombians about Gustavo Petro, tying him to Bernie Sanders and corruption. After Petro won the Colombian presidential election, Salazar called Petro a “thief, terrorist, and a Marxist.”
  o Petro and a Colombian Senator both claimed Salazar was interfering in a foreign election, and the Senator claimed Salazar was carrying out a “smear campaign” against Petro.
  o They both pointed out that she was “strongly supported” by Uribe, who “illegally intervened” in Salazar’s campaign in 2020.

• [Cuba] Salazar appears to have flip-flopped on U.S. Cuba policy once she became a Member of Congress. In 2022, Salazar said, “the Biden Administration reopening US-Cuba relations gives oxygen to the Castro regime.” However, in 2016, Salazar described Obama’s visit to Cuba as “historic,” “noble,” and showed that the Cuban people “are not alone.”

• [Cuba] Salazar said AOC and the Squad should defend Afro-Cubans the same way they are trying to defend African American rights, adding that the “double standard” is “sickening.”

• [Cuba] In 2021, Salazar called on Biden to lead a military intervention to protect Cubans, but added, “we cannot trust Biden’s stance on Cuba.”

• [Confederate Statutes] Salazar sided with the far-right and white supremacists by voting against the removal of Confederate statutes from the US Capitol grounds.

• [Education] After Salazar praised DeSantis for signing legislation in Florida to teach students about the “evils of communism,” Salazar introduced federal legislation to produce anti-communist education programs for high school students, and cosponsored legislation introduced by Rep. Cawthorn to educate the public on “traditional American history.” The Cawthorn legislation prohibited grant funds to be used to teach the 1619 Project or Critical Race Theory.
  o Salazar also signed a letter that called “curricula like critical race theory” “harmful.”

• [Education] Salazar is attacking public schools. In 2022, Salazar cosponsored legislation that attacked public schools by providing a 100-percent income tax credit for individuals and businesses that contribute to scholarship funds for private K-12 schools.

• [Energy & Environment] Salazar claimed she would protect the environment, but has received support from oil & gas and pro-drilling groups.
  o Salazar supported the Republican tax law that opened the Alaska National Wildlife Refuge to drilling.
  o While Salazar has publicly opposed drilling off the coast of Florida, she has been funded and supported by pro-oil drilling groups who are pushing Congress to allow them to drill offshore, including in the Florida Straits, putting our coastline and water supply at risk. Salazar accepted $6,500 from Chevron and Exxon Mobil PACs, both of which are members of the American Chemistry Council. The American Chemistry Council has lobbied against banning offshore drilling, including in the Florida Straits. Salazar has also been supported by FreedomWorks for America via $76,000 in outside spending support. FreedomWorks has opposed offshore drilling, including in the Atlantic, and called for markets to decide where to drill.
- Salazar has taken more than $68,000 from the oil and gas industry in her career, including $9,000 from oil and gas PACs.

- [Energy & Environment] Salazar supported a carbon tax proposal that would have caused consumers to pay nearly $500 more in yearly fuel costs by 2030.

- [Energy & Environment] Salazar has been critical of Biden’s energy policies, calling his policies an “assault” on energy and his actions “band-aids.” Salazar called for Biden to restore the Keystone XL Pipeline and end freezes on new oil and gas leases. Salazar wrote that clean energy policies without expanding our domestic capacity will empower China and Maduro.
  - Salazar criticized the Biden Administration for stopping the “drilling or fracking on government land.”

- [Energy & Environment] In April 2022, when gas prices were rising, Salazar said, “Biden should not use the strategic federal oil reserve to bring energy prices down.”

- [Ethics & Government Reform] During the 2020 campaign trail, Salazar repeatedly promised to donate her congressional salary. She even promised to use it to run an employment center in her district office. However, the House Ethics Committee advised Salazar against redirecting her salary to fund her congressional office. As a result, Salazar was not able to hire additional staff for a prosperity center, but said her district office would conduct additional casework related to employment. This raises the question if Salazar kept her promise and has been donating her salary.
  - When describing the employment center while running for office, Salazar said “my African Americans” would be the first to benefit.

- [Ethics & Government Reform] In 2020, Salazar promised to “fight for term limits,” but when she entered Congress, Salazar said she would “die doing this” if the voters allowed her.

- [Flip Flopper] In 2020, Tim Padgett, an editor for the Miami NPR affiliate WLRN, slammed Salazar as practicing “McCarthyism” and said Salazar was filled with “shameless double standards” that it would have “even made a two-faced politico like Fidel Castro blush.”

- [Guns] Despite voting for the bipartisan gun bill after the Uvalde massacre, Salazar has voted against common sense measures to crack down on violent gun crime.
  - Salazar voted against red flag laws that prohibited the purchase and possession of firearms by people who pose an imminent danger.
  - Salazar voted against The Protecting Our Kids Act that would have raised the age to buy a semiautomatic weapon.
  - Salazar voted against the Active Shooter Alert Act that was supported by multiple law enforcement groups in order to better respond to active threats.
Salazar voted against an assault weapons ban despite previously voicing support for banning assault weapons.

- [Health Care] In 2018, while Salazar was first running for Congress, she said Obamacare “was no good” and “we need to find another way.” She even called Democrats “socialistas” because of policies like Obamacare. However, in 2020, Salazar said, “If you like your Obamacare, you can keep it,” and “Obamacare needs to stay the way it is unless we can provide a better plan.” She also would not say if she supported a lawsuit to invalidate Obamacare.

- [Health Care] Salazar supported allowing the government to negotiate prescription drug prices, but voted against allowing the government to do so.

- [Immigration] Salazar has been all over the place on immigration. While she supports DACA and a path to legal status for undocumented immigrants, she does not support a path to citizenship. She once even said that “not just anyone” should be granted birthright citizenship.
  - In 2018, Salazar said undocumented immigrants under 14 years old should be sent back to their home countries, even those who fled violence.

- [Immigration] Salazar has also been all over the place on sanctuary cities. In 2016, Salazar said, “sanctuary cities are the best shelters, because at least they can’t be deported that easily.” In 2017, Salazar said sanctuary cities are “havens for criminals” and makes “Hispanics look like a bunch of imbeciles,” but a couple months later again praised California’s sanctuary city law and said it was “not as bad as it sounds.”

- [Immigration] Salazar has been critical of Trump and her own party, saying “the reality of immigration is not” as Republicans see it and that Republicans have never promised anything on immigration. Salazar also said that she did not like “what Trump has done on immigration.”

- [Inflation] Salazar said she hadn’t “done anything to help the average American” during her time in Congress because Democrats weren’t proposing bills to lower costs and fight inflation, but Salazar voted against multiple Democratic bills to lower the cost of food, fuel, and insulin. Salazar even voted against the Inflation Reduction Act, despite it lowering the cost for prescription drugs and lowering inflation.

- [Infrastructure] Salazar pledged to “work hard” to improve Florida’s infrastructure, but voted against the Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill that provided billions in funding to Florida to improve highways, public transit, drinking water infrastructure, and airports.
  - Salazar said she voted against the legislation because it was a “tradeoff between infrastructure and socialism” and said parts of the bill were “very questionable.”

- [Islam] In 2017, Salazar retweeted a post calling to ban Islam. A year earlier, Salazar also said the “political ideology of ISIS is based on the Quran.”
• [Israel & Anti-Semitism] Salazar presents herself as a dedicated ally of Israel and of Jewish Americans when talking in English, but in Spanish she shares anti-Semitic conspiracy theories about George Soros.
  o Salazar repeatedly called Ilhan Omar, Rashia Tlaib, and the “far-left” anti-Semitic for their positions on Israel and Palestine. But after tweeting in English that the media was guilty of dealing in “anti-Semitic canards,” Salazar tweeted in Spanish her own quintessential anti-Semitic canard about George Soros, claiming he was in the “shadow” of wanting to “silence conservative voices.”
    ▪ The Anti-Defamation League considers conspiracy theories about George Soros and the media to be “well-known anti-Semitic tropes.”
  o Salazar has also outrageously tied socialism to anti-Semitism. She claimed all socialists are “anti-Jew” and even once said, “When you say socialism, you are talking about anti-Semitism in the same phrase.”

• [Jobs] In 2021, Salazar called for moving jobs overseas by providing financial incentives to companies that move jobs to Central America.

• [LGBTQ+] Salazar voted against the Equality Act which banned discrimination on the basis of gender identity or sexual orientation.
  o The Miami Herald called her vote “shameful.”

• [Medicare & Social Security] Salazar claimed she supported policies to help seniors, including calling to protect Medicare and allowing the government to negotiate drug prices, but voted against policies to do so. Salazar also claimed she did not support any cuts to Medicare or Social Security, but voted against preventing sequestration cuts to Medicare and was endorsed by a group who wanted to privatize Social Security and Medicare.

• [Medicare & Social Security] Salazar has aligned herself with Senator Rick Scott, who released a plan to sunset Social Security and Medicare and raise income taxes on half of Americans.

• [Palestine] In 2021, Salazar said the “average Palestinian doesn’t really understand that they are being used on behalf of this terrorist organization.”

• [Partisanship] In 2018, Salazar tried to style herself as a moderate and said she would “step into the center.” However, Salazar has voted with the Republican Party 91% of the time, was named Assistant House GOP Whip as soon as she entered office, and repeatedly showed support for Trump.
  o In November 2020, Salazar said it was “an absolute honor to serve” with Liz Cheney and described Cheney as someone who wasn’t “afraid to speak truth to power.” However, in 2021, Salazar failed to stand up for Cheney when she faced retaliation for speaking out against the Big Lie, and Salazar refused to say whether she voted to oust Cheney from party leadership.
• [Socialism, Communism, & Marxism] Salazar has made the fight against socialism and communism her top priority as a Member of Congress, often attempting to tie any policy supported by the left as “socialism.”
  - In Congress, she has introduced or cosponsored legislation to denounce socialism and communism, gaining praise from GOP dark money groups like FreedomWorks.

• [Socialism, Communism, & Marxism] As a politician, Salazar has always fearmongered about socialism coming to the United States, often claiming the Democrats have been kidnapped by socialists and Marxists. She has repeatedly connected Biden and the Democrats to socialism and Marxism, including claiming Biden will take us “down the path to socialism.”
  - Salazar also called Biden racist for comments made about low vaccination rates in minority communities because of more limited internet access.

• [Statehood] Salazar introduced a bill to admit Puerto Rico as the 51st state, but voted against making DC a state.

• [Taxes] Salazar supported tax policies, including the 2017 Republican tax bill, that enriched corporations and the wealthiest Americans, but voted against tax cuts for the middle class.
  - Salazar even called a plan that would cut taxes for the middle class and make corporations and the wealthy pay their fair share “socialist.”

• [Trump] While Salazar claims she is a moderate or in the “center,” Salazar has repeatedly shown support for Trump since 2016.
  - In August 2022, Salazar tweeted that the FBI raid of Mar-A-Lago was “extremely troubling.” In Spanish, Salazar was more extreme and promoted conspiracy theories. Salazar said, “government institutions, in this case the FBI and DOJ, are being weaponized as political threats” and “government institutions” were being used to “politically assault the opposition.” She was even more extreme on Spanish television, falsely claiming that there was “empirical evidence” of business dealings between Hunter Biden and China that should be “investigated.”
  - January 2021: Salazar voted not to impeach Trump following the Capitol attack on January 6th.
  - In a blog post from September 2019, Salazar denied that Trump had conditioned military aid to Ukraine on the country launching criminal investigations of the Biden family, and claimed that “government officials” with “an axe to grind” were sabotaging the president.
  - In 2018, Salazar called Trump a “special person.”
  - In 2017, Salazar repeatedly praised Trump’s immigration policies.
  - November 2016: Salazar voted for Trump.

• [Unions] Salazar has shown her opposition to unions by voting against the PRO Act and against a measure to allow her own staff to unionize.
• [Ukraine & Russia] At the beginning of the war in Ukraine, Salazar said that she supported a ‘no-fly zone’ over Ukraine, drawing fire from local media, including the Miami Herald who called her “ill prepared.”
  - Salazar was accused by Tucker Carlson of suggesting the United States go to war with Russia.

• [Ukraine & Russia] Salazar believed the United States should comply with all aid requests that Ukraine made to the United States.

• [Venezuela] In 2018, Salazar suggested the U.S. should “topple Venezuela, but seconds later said the United States should not be “promoting coups.”

• [Veterans]: Despite introducing and cosponsoring multiple pieces of legislation in support of veterans, Salazar has repeatedly voted against measures to improve health care for veterans.

• [Women] Salazar voted against the Paycheck Fairness Act or equal pay against equal work legislation.

Abortion & Reproductive Health

Roe v. Wade

Salazar said that the Supreme Court’s decision to overturn Roe v. Wade “returns power to the states and their voters... as the Constitution intended.” But less than 4 years earlier, Salazar said abortion rights was “settled law,” that she didn’t think Justice Kavanaugh was “radical” or an “extremist,” and that she didn’t “like to take rights from people.”

June 2022: Salazar said The Supreme Court's Decision To Overturn Roe v. Wade “Returns Power To The States And Their Voters, Where Decisions Must Be Made, As The Constitution Intended.”
After The Supreme Court’s Decision To Overturn Roe, Salazar Said, “As A Christian And Mother Of Two Beautiful Daughters, I Support Life.” “And finally, the Republican María Elvira Salazar mentioned that ‘as a Christian and mother of two beautiful daughters, I support life. The decision of the Supreme Court returns power to the states and their voters, where decisions must be made, as the Constitution intends.’” [Emol, 6/25/22]

[VIDEO] 2018: Salazar: “It’s Settled Law. [Kavanaugh] Said It. […] I Don’t Think He’s A Radical. I Don’t Think He’s An Extremist.” A Florida anchor asked Salazar, “Where do you stand on abortion? Salazar said, “But he said it. It’s settled law. He said it the other day. It’s settled law. And I believe that he is a person that will follow and interpret the constitution the way it needs to be. I don’t think he is a radical. I don’t think he’s an extremist.” [YouTube, CBS Miami, 9/11/18 (2:15)]

[VIDEO] 2018: Salazar: “I Don’t Like To Take Rights From People.” Salazar said, “I don’t like to take rights away from people. I want to give them rights. [YouTube, Miami Herald, 9/26/18 (28:00)]

- 2018: Salazar Emphasized That Abortion Is Legal In The United States. “On the subject of abortion, Shalala spoke about a woman’s right to decide about her body, Salazar said that she wishes it were a less frequent decision but emphasized that abortion is legal in the United States.” [El Nuevo Herald, 10/13/18] Translation
  - Spanish Version: “Sobre el tema del aborto, Shalala se pronunció sobre el derecho de la mujer de decidir sobre su cuerpo, Salazar dijo que desea que fuese una decisión menos frecuente pero enfatizó que el aborto es legal en Estados Unidos.”

Women’s Health Protection Act
Salazar repeatedly voted against the Women’s Health Protection Act, despite suggesting that she didn’t. The legislation would have codified the right to abortion to protect abortion access if Roe v. Wade was overturned.

July 2022: Salazar Voted Against The Women’s Health Protection Act To Establish The Statutory Right For Patients To Receive And For Providers To Provide Abortions And To Prohibit Certain State Restrictions On Abortion. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would statutorily establish that health care providers have a right to provide and patients have a right to receive abortion services, and it would prohibit certain restrictions related to abortion services. The bill would specify that rights established by the bill may not be restricted by certain requirements or limitations related to abortion services, including prohibitions on abortion prior to fetal viability, or after fetal viability if a provider determines that continuation of a pregnancy would pose a risk to a patient’s life or health; requirements that patients disclose reasons for seeking an abortion or make medically unnecessary in-person appointments; requirements that providers provide medically inaccurate information or perform specific medical tests or procedures in connection with the provision of abortion services; limitations on providers’ ability to prescribe drugs based on good-faith medical judgment, provide services via telemedicine or provide immediate services when a delay would pose a risk to a patient’s health; and requirements for facilities and personnel that would not apply to facilities providing medically comparable procedures. It would also prohibit requirements or limitations that are similar to those established by the bill or that impede access to abortion services and expressly or implicitly single out abortion services, providers or facilities. It would specify factors that courts may consider to determine whether a requirement or limitation impedes access to abortion services, including whether it interferes with providers’ ability to provide services; poses a risk to patients’ health; is likely to delay or deter patients in accessing services or necessitate in-person visits that would not otherwise be required; is likely to result in a decreased availability of services in a state or region; is likely to result in increased costs of providing or obtaining services; or imposes penalties that are not imposed on other health care providers for comparable conduct. It would require a party defending a requirement or limitation to establish that it significantly advances the safety of abortion services or patient health and that such goals cannot be advanced by a less restrictive alternative measure. It would authorize the Justice Department, health care providers and private individuals and entities to bring a civil action in U.S. district court for injunctive relief against any state or government official charged with implementing or enforcing a requirement or limitation challenged as a violation of rights established by the bill. It would authorize district courts to award appropriate equitable relief, including temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief, and to award costs of litigation to a prevailing plaintiff. It would require courts to ‘liberally construe’ provisions of the bill to effectuate its purposes. The bill is substantively identical to HR 3755, which the House passed in September 2021, but adds findings related to the June 2022 Supreme Court decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization.” The bill passed by a vote of 219-210. [H.R. 8296, Vote #Vote #360, 7/15/22; CQ, 7/15/22]

  “The House on Friday passed legislation that would protect access to reproductive health care, including the ability to travel across state lines for an abortion, as part of Democrats’ efforts to minimize the consequences of the Supreme Court overturning Roe v. Wade last month. One bill, the Women’s Health Protection Act, would enshrine the protections of Roe v. Wade into law. The House already passed the bill last year, but it did not advance in a Senate vote in May. The House passed the bill, 219-210, prompting applause from Democrats in the chamber.” [Washington Post, 7/15/22]

- The Women’s Health Protection Act Prevented States From Prohibiting Abortions Before Fetal Viability Or After Fetal Viability When The Patient’s Life Or Health Is At Risk. “The bill would prevent state governments from limiting a health care provider’s ability to prescribe certain drugs, offer abortion services via telemedicine, or immediately provide abortion services when the provider determines a delay risks the patient’s health, according to CRS. It also prevents states from requiring patients to make medically unnecessary in-person visits before receiving abortion services or forcing women to disclose their reasons for obtaining abortions and related services. WHPA would ban states from prohibiting abortion services before or after fetal viability when a provider determines the pregnancy risks the patient’s life or health.” [ABC News, 3/7/22]

September 2021: Salazar Voted Against The Women’s Health Protection Act. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would statutorily establish that health care providers have a right to provide and patients have a right to receive abortion services, and it would prohibit certain restrictions related to abortion services. The bill would specify that rights established by the bill may not be restricted by certain requirements or limitations related to abortion services, including prohibitions on abortion prior to fetal viability, or after fetal viability if a provider determines that continuation of a pregnancy would pose a risk to a patient's life or health; requirements that patients disclose reasons for seeking an abortion or make medically unnecessary in-person appointments; requirements that providers provide medically inaccurate information or perform specific medical tests or procedures in connection with the provision of abortion services; limitations on providers' ability to prescribe drugs based on good-faith medical judgment, provide services via telemedicine or provide immediate services when a delay would pose a risk to a patient's health; and requirements for facilities and personnel that would not apply to facilities providing medically comparable procedures. It would also prohibit requirements or limitations that are similar to those established by the bill or that impede access to abortion services and expressly or implicitly single out abortion services, providers or facilities. It would specify factors that courts may consider to determine whether a requirement or limitation impedes access to abortion services, including whether it interferes with providers' ability to provide services; poses a risk to patients' health; is likely to delay or deter patients in accessing services or necessitate in-person visits that would not otherwise be required; is likely to result in a decreased availability of services in a state or region; is likely to result in increased costs of providing or obtaining services; or imposes penalties that are not imposed on other health care providers for comparable conduct. It would require a party defending a requirement or limitation to establish that it significantly advances the safety of abortion services or patient health and that such goals cannot be advanced by a less restrictive alternative measure. It would authorize the Justice Department, health care providers and private individuals and entities to bring a civil action in U.S. district court for injunctive relief against any state or government official charged with implementing or enforcing a requirement or limitation challenged as a violation of rights established by the bill. It would authorize district courts to award appropriate equitable relief, including temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief, and to award costs of litigation to a prevailing plaintiff. It would require courts to "liberally construe" provisions of the bill to effectuate its purposes." The bill passed by a vote of 218-211. [HR 3655, Vote #295, 9/24/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

- Passage Of The WHPA Was In Response To A Restrictive Texas Abortion Law. “Passage of the Women's Health Protection Act is a response to a Texas law that essentially bans abortion after six weeks, before most people realize they are pregnant. The U.S. Supreme Court refused to block the law from taking effect, although the decision leaves the door open for future challenges.” [NPR, 9/24/21]

- Pelosi: “This Ban Necessitates Codifying Roe V. Wade.” “In a statement, Pelosi said the Texas statute is ‘the most extreme, dangerous abortion ban in half a century, and its purpose is to destroy Roe v. Wade, and even refuses to make exceptions for cases of rape and incest. This ban necessitates codifying Roe v. Wade.”” [NPR, 9/24/21]

Interstate Travel for Abortion

July 2022: Salazar voted against the Ensuring Access to Abortion Act, which would protect a patient’s ability to access legal abortion services in another state.

Salazar Voted Against The Ensuring Access To Abortion Act To Prohibit Individuals From Interfering With A Patient’s Ability To Cross State Lines To Obtain An Abortion In A State Where It Is Legal. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would prohibit individuals from interfering with patients’ ability to access to abortion services in another state where the services are legal. Specifically, it would prohibit any person acting under color of state law from preventing, restricting or retaliating against health care providers’ ability to provide abortion services that are legal in the provider’s state to patients who do not reside in that state; a person’s ability to assist in providing such services; or a person’s ability to travel or assist another person traveling across state lines to obtain an abortion. It would also prohibit individuals from preventing, restricting or retaliating against the interstate movement of any drug approved by the Food and Drug Administration for the termination of a pregnancy. It would allow the U.S. attorney general or a harmed individual to bring a civil action in U.S. district court for declaratory and injunctive relief against an individual who violates the prohibitions.” The bill passed by a vote of 223-205. [H.R. 8297, Vote #362, 7/15/22; CQ, 7/15/22]

- The Ensuring Access To Abortion Act Protected People Who Assist Others In Receiving Out Of State Abortions And Shielded Transportation Of Abortion Drugs Between States. “The legislation protects women who travel to another state to receive an abortion if their home state prohibits the medical procedure. And in states where abortion is lawful, the bill seeks to make it illegal for facilities to limit access to the medical procedure for individuals who arrived from out of state. Additionally, the measure includes a provision to protect people who assist others in receiving an abortion in a state where they do not reside. It also shields the state-to-state transportation of abortion drugs that have received approval from the Food and Drug Administration.” [The Hill, 7/15/22]
Susan B. Anthony Rating

Salazar had an A+ rating from Susan B. Anthony List, an extreme anti-abortion group that wanted to “end abortion” and pledged after Roe v. Wade was overturned to restrict access to abortion “in every state” and on a national level. Salazar was also endorsed by them.

Salazar Held An A+ Rating With The Susan B. Anthony List.

[Susan B. Anthony List, accessed 8/2/22]

National Review: Susan B. Anthony List Was One Of The “Nation’s Foremost Pro-Life Advocacy And Lobbying Organizations” That Was Meant To Counter Emily’s List And Highlight Pro-Life Women Candidates. “In 1992, a group of pro-life women founded Susan B. Anthony List, intended to be a counterbalance to EMILY’s List, which endorses and fundraises for pro-abortion female politicians. Named after one of the most famous pro-life feminists, SBA List aimed to recruit and support pro-life women in politics. Thirty years on, the mission and work of SBA List has grown far beyond what its leaders set out to do in those early days. Today, the group is one of the nation’s foremost pro-life advocacy and lobbying organizations, swinging elections and shaping policy. Its influence within the pro-life movement and the Republican Party is indisputable. Just last month, New York magazine’s ‘The Cut’ profiled SBA president and co-founder Marjorie Dannenfelser, calling her “the woman who killed Roe.” [National Review, 6/1/22]

Axios: The President Of Susan B. Anthony List Said That In Response To Roe V. Wade Being Overturned, Her Organization Would Work To Restrict Abortion “In Every State And In Every Legislature, Including The Congress.” “The president of Susan B. Anthony Pro-Life America told Axios on Friday that in the wake of the Supreme Court’s decision overturning Roe v. Wade, her group will work to restrict abortion ‘in every state and in every legislature, including the Congress.” [Axios, 6/24/22]

Axios: The President Of Susan B. Anthony List Said “Everyone Erupted With Joy” At Her Organization After Roe V. Wade Was Overturned. The president of Susan B. Anthony Pro-Life
America told Axios on Friday that in the wake of the Supreme Court's decision overturning Roe v. Wade, her group will work to restrict abortion "in every state and in every legislature, including the Congress.' What they're saying: 'It's the culmination of almost 50 years of work,' Marjorie Dannenfelser said. ‘Everyone erupted with joy’ at her office upon learning of the Dobbs v. Jackson decision, paving the way for states to prohibit women from terminating pregnancies at any stage for any reason, and criminalizing acts by providers or others who seek to help those women. Dannenfelser called the ruling 'a restoration of what authentic feminism is." [Axios, 6/24/22]

November 2021: Susan B. Anthony List Tweeted “There Is No Exception To The Unalienable Right To Life.” “There is no exception to the unalienable right to life. ‘There is no asterisk that says if you are an unborn human life you are denied this unalienable right to life.’-@JohnCornyn.”

2020: Salazar Endorsed By Pro-Life Susan B. Anthony List. “SBA List’s support not only serves as a signal to pro-life voters but also comes with an army of activists and a sizable financial boost. The group has announced its intention to spend $41 million in the 2020 election cycle, up from $28 million in 2018. Its 1,100 members are planning to visit 4 million voters nationwide before the November elections, which is up from 800 members reaching 1.4 million voters in 2016. The House candidates SBA List is supporting are Jessica Taylor in Alabama's 2nd Congressional District, Michelle Steel in California's 48th, Irina Vilariño in Florida's 26th, Maria Salazar in Florida's 27th, Yvette Herrell in New Mexico's 2nd, Claudia Tenney in New York's 22nd, Beth Van Duyne in Texas' 24th, and Esther Joy King in Illinois' 17th Congressional District.” [The Washington Times, 1/3/2020]

Hyde Amendment

Salazar voted to make the Hyde Amendment, which banned federal money from being used to pay for abortions and health plans that covered abortions, permanent.

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The No Taxpayer Funding For Abortion And Abortion Insurance Full Disclosure Act Of 2021. In June 2021, Salazar Voted Against: “Agreeing to the Morelle, D-N.Y., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Burgess said, “If we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider H.R. 18, the No Taxpayer Funding for Abortion and Abortion Insurance Full Disclosure Act of 2021.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to, 218-209. [H Res 486, Vote #175, 6/23/21; CQ, 6/23/21; Congressional Record, 6/23/21]

- The No Taxpayer Funding For Abortion And Abortion Insurance Full Disclosure Act Of 2021 Would Have Made The Hyde Amendment Permanent. “H.R. 18 — the No Taxpayer Funding for Abortion and Abortion Insurance Full Disclosure Act of 2021 — would make the long-standing Hyde Amendment permanent and keep in place similar provisions to ensure no federal dollars are used to pay for abortion and health plans that include abortion.” [Catholic News Service, 2/10/21]
- The Hyde Amendment Ensured That No Federal Dollars Were Used To Pay For Abortion And Health Plans That Include Abortion. “H.R. 18 — the No Taxpayer Funding for Abortion and Abortion Insurance Full Disclosure Act of 2021 — would make the long-standing Hyde Amendment permanent and keep in place similar provisions to ensure no federal dollars are used to pay for abortion and health plans that include abortion.” [Catholic News Service, 2/10/21]

Religion & Abortion

Salazar: “If somebody chooses to have an abortion [...] she will have to then respond to the Almighty.”

Salazar: “If Somebody Chooses To Have An Abortion [...] She Will Have To Then Respond To The Almighty.” “[SALAZAR:] But I also understand that this the law of the land and if somebody chooses to have an abortion, it’s between her and God. And she will have to then respond to the Almighty.” [Miami Herald Editorial Board, 14:03-14:13, 9/26/18]

Abortion Exceptions

Salazar opposed abortion except in cases of rape or incest and to protect the health of the mother. She also said that she did not believe abortion was morally wrong, but it was a result of desperation.

Salazar Opposed Abortion Except In Cases Of Rape Or Incest And To Protect The Health Of The Mother. “As your Congresswoman, I will protect the life of the unborn and also the life and health of the mother. I oppose tax-payer funding for late-term abortions. I understand that, in some cases, the termination of a pregnancy—ectopic pregnancy, rape, and incest, may dangerously affect the health of the mother as determined by her physician. My votes will consistently protect life, and I will work to ensure that abortions become the exception, not the rule. We must oppose the culture of death. I do understand that, sometimes, difficult and painful decisions will have to be made which might lead to the termination of a pregnancy.” [Salazar Campaign Website, Issues, Archived 10/5/18]

Salazar Said She Did Not Believe Abortion Was Morally Wrong, But It Was A Result Of Desperation. “[REPORTER:] Do you believe it's morally wrong to have an abortion? [SALAZAR:] I don't think it's morally wrong. I think it's out of desperation. That's why I'm saying that society needs to offer more choices or more options to those women that do not want the pregnancy.” [Miami Herald Editorial Board, 14:15-14:36, 9/26/18]

2018: Associated Press: Salazar “Emphasized Conservative Positions On Issues Such As … Opposing Abortion In Most Cases.” “The 56-year-old Salazar emerged from a crowded field to win the GOP primary. She has worked in Span-ish-language broadcast news since 1984 and interviewed Cuban leader Fidel Castro in the mid-1990s, one of the few reporters to score a one-on-one interview. She has styled herself as an expert on Latin American affairs and the U.S. Hispanic community and has emphasized conservative positions on issues such as creating jobs, improving education, reforming health care and immigration, and opposing abortion in most cases.” [Associated Press, 8/29/18]

Alternatives to Abortion
Salazar joined with Republicans to present alternative to abortion legislation.

2022: Salazar Signed Onto A Bill Calling For A Tax Credit For Pregnant Women. "Rep. Jason Smith, R-Mo., has introduced the Child Tax Credit for Pregnant Moms Act (H.R. 6505) "to amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 to provide a child tax credit for pregnant moms with respect to their unborn children." The bill was introduced on Jan. 25 and has 28 co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include…Maria Elvira Salazar… [Targeted News Service, 1/27/22]

Birth Control

Salazar voted with Democrats to protect birth control after Dobbs.

2022: Salazar Voted With Democrats For A Bill To Defend Access To Birth Control. “The eight GOP yes votes were Reps. Liz Cheney, Adam Kinzinger, Brian Fitzpatrick, Anthony Gonzalez, Nancy Mace, Fred Upton and Maria Elvira Salazar. [...]The bill would codify contraceptive rights in federal law, letting individuals get and use birth control while protecting healthcare providers who supply contraceptives. The House bill includes authorization for the U.S. Attorney General, health care providers and other individuals to sue states in civil proceedings if states violate contraceptive rights protected in the bill.” [UPI, 7/21/22]

- Salazar Voted Against Considering The Respect For Marriage Act, A Six-Bill Appropriations Minibus Package, And The Right To Contraception Act. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1232) that would provide for one hour of general debate on each bill, provide for automatic adoption of a manager’s amendment to HR 8373 and make 190 amendments in order to HR 8294. The rule would provide for automatic adoption of the Pallone, D-N.J., manager's amendment to HR 8373 that would, among other provisions, specify that the bill's definition of "contraceptive" includes biological products and is limited to products legally marketed under existing Food and Drug Administration regulations; clarify the bill’s definition of "health care provider" to state that providers must be authorized by the state to provide health care services; specify that the bill may not be construed to sanction sterilization procedures without a patient's informed consent; and make technical changes. The rule would also provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to a resolution (H Res 1230) that would modify Standing House rules for the 117th Congress to allow a rule to be called up for floor consideration when the text has been made available to members prior to the convening of the legislative day; allow motions to suspend the rules to be considered on any day of the week; and allow for proxy voting in the Committee of the Whole House, thus allowing delegates and the resident commissioner of Puerto Rico to vote by proxy on amendments. Finally, the rule would authorize, through the legislative day of Thursday, July 21, 2022, non-debatable motions by the majority leader or a designee to suspend the rules and consider, en bloc, measures considered under suspension of the rules on Monday, July 18, 2022.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 219-200. Afghanistan

Withdrawal

In 2022, Salazar placed blame on Biden and the State Department for the withdrawal of troops in Afghanistan.

2022: Salazar Signed Onto A Letter Saying The State Department Had A Substantial Role In The Afghanistan Withdrawal And Called For Additional Transparency. “Yet, even though the State Department had a large part of the responsibility for the noncombatant evacuation operation that ultimately resulted in the death of 13 U.S. servicemembers and the abandonment of more than 700 American citizens and tens of thousands of Afghan allies in the Taliban-controlled country, our committee has to date only had one open, full committee hearing with an official from the Biden administration. Holding a closed briefing where the question-and-answer portion is classified at the highest level – even though the vast majority of the information sought should not be classified – is not the transparency the American people deserve.” [Impact News Service, 6/20/22]

2022: Salazar Joined Other Republicans Six Months After The Withdrawal In Slamming Biden. “Washington, D.C. - House Foreign Affairs Committee Vice Ranking Member Ann Wagner (R-MO) and the Republican Members of the Committee have released the following joint statement commemorating six months since the fall of Kabul, Afghanistan. Wagner was joined by Reps. Michael McCaul (R-TX), Chris Smith (R-NJ), Steve Chabot (R-OH), Joe Wilson (R-SC), Scott Perry (R-PA), Darrell Issa (R-CA), Adam Kinzinger (R-IL), Lee Zeldin (R-NY), Brian Mast (R-FL), Brian Fitzpatrick (R-PA), Ken Buck (R-CO), Tim Burchett (R-TN), Mark Green (R-TN), Andy Barr (R-KY), Greg Steube (R-FL), Dan Meuser (R-PA), Claudia Tenney (R-NY), August Pfluger (R-TX), Nicole Malliotakis (R-NY), Peter Meijer (R-MI), Ronny Jackson (R-TX), Young Kim (R-CA), Maria Salazar (R-FL). The city fell to the Taliban six months ago today, on August 15, 2021. “During the Afghanistan evacuation and in the six months since, hundreds of stories have come to light, highlighting how President Biden's willful blindness to the situation on the ground, coupled with his administration's refusal to plan for the impending fallout, resulted in what can only be described as a systemic failure of the U.S. government. The horrific scenes of people hanging from planes and women desperately passing their children over the wall of the Kabul airport permanently tarnished America's reputation around the world and angered our allies, with some of them publicly chastising us. All the while, America's weakness on the world stage has emboldened our adversaries.” [Congressional Documents and Publications, 2/5/22]

2022: Salazar Said No Biden Official Had Been Held Accountable. "Yet, six months later, not a single Biden administration official has been held accountable for their failures. Unsurprisingly, the administration circled the wagons in an attempt to protect many high-ranking officials who most certainly bear significant responsibility for the deadly and chaotic withdrawal. The administration has refused to provide our committee with any documents or transcribed interviews that we have requested. Even more regrettfully, congressional Democrats appear to be complicit in the Biden administration's coverup. With the exception of Secretary Blinken testifying before our committee in September of last year, our committee has not held a single, public hearing that is focused on President Biden's withdrawal. Democrats did not support our requests for a single transcribed interview with State Department staff and they have not subpoenaed a single document that would shed more light into this tragedy.” [Congressional Documents and Publications, 2/5/22]

American Rescue Plan

ARP Vote

February 2021: Salazar voted against the American Rescue Plan which provided $8.8 billion in funding for Florida including over half a billion dollars for Miami-Dade County.

Salazar Voted Against Passage Of The American Rescue Plan Act. In February 2021, Salazar voted against: "Passage of the fiscal 2021 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, comprising a coronavirus relief package that would provide roughly $1.9 trillion in funding to further address the health and economic effects of COVID-19, including approximately $350 billion in direct aid to state and local governments; $47.8 billion for testing and contact tracing; $168 billion to assist educational institutions; and $50 billion to assist small businesses. It would extend and increase federal unemployment compensation benefits for 24 weeks and increase the weekly amount to $400; provide tax rebates of $1,400 for individuals with incomes of $75,000 or less; extend or expand a number of employer and individual tax credits, including credits to subsidize health insurance premiums; and gradually increase the federal minimum wage to $15 per hour. Among other provisions, the bill would provide $195.3 billion for direct assistance to states and $130.2 billion for local governments; $128.6 billion through fiscal 2023 for an Education Department elementary and secondary school emergency relief fund and $39.6 billion for grants to higher education institutions, including to provide emergency financial aid; and continue the 15% increase in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits through September 2021. It would provide $47.8 billion for COVID-19 testing and contact tracing; $7.5 billion for vaccine administration and distribution; and $6.1 billion for vaccine and therapeutic development, manufacturing and procurement. It would require Medicaid and the Children’s Health Insurance Program to fully cover the cost of COVID-19 vaccines. It would expand eligibility in 2021 and 2022 for federal tax subsidies toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums, including to fully cover premium costs for individuals earning up to 150% of the federal poverty level and cap premiums at 8.5% of household income. It would provide $50 billion for small business assistance, including $25 billion for restaurants. It would provide $30.5 billion for transit, $18 billion for airline and aviation manufacturing industry payroll support; and $4 billion for Agriculture Department pandemic-related assistance. It would incrementally increase the federal minimum wage annually to reach $15 per hour in 2025, including for tipped workers, teens and workers with disabilities. It would create a program to provide financial assistance to multiemployer pension plans.” The bill passed by a vote of 219-212. [HR 1319, Vote #Vote #49, 2/27/21; CQ, 2/27/21]

He was talking about 7 million jobs. I'm not sure how any of these numbers add up or where the 7 million jobs are coming from as a result of more money thrown at this economy. How are you feeling about this $1.9 trillion package? [SALAZAR:] I really don't feel very well because I think we have a trillion dollars in the bank that we haven't spent and now they're asking for $1.9 trillion more. That's going to bankrupt our future generation.” [Fox Business, 2/17/21]

The American Rescue Plan Sent $1,400 Economic Impact Payments To Individuals Making Less Than $75,000 And Couples Making $160,000. “President Biden signed the $1.9 trillion coronavirus relief package on Thursday. The colossal bill, known as the American Rescue Plan, allocates money for vaccines, schools, small businesses and anti-poverty programs such as an expanded child tax credit that will mean new monthly payments to many parents [...] The bill allocates funds for a third economic impact payment to qualifying Americans. Individuals earning up to $75,000 and couples earning up to $150,000 will receive the full direct payments of $1,400 per person. Individuals will also receive an additional $1,400 payment for each dependent claimed on their tax returns. Senate Democrats agreed to lower the income cutoff at which payments phase out from $100,000 to $80,000 for individuals, and from $200,000 to $160,000 for couples filing jointly, following demands from moderate Democrats.” [NPR, 3/9/21]
The American Rescue Plan Temporarily Expanded The Child Tax Credit. “President Biden signed the $1.9 trillion coronavirus relief package on Thursday. The colossal bill, known as the American Rescue Plan, allocates money for vaccines, schools, small businesses and anti-poverty programs such as an expanded child tax credit that will mean new monthly payments to many parents […] The legislation will temporarily expand the child tax credit, increasing the amount to $3,000 for children ages 6 to 17 and $3,600 for children under age 6. The amount is gradually reduced for couples earning over $150,000 and individuals earning over $75,000 per year. Families eligible for the full credit will get payments of up to $300 per child per month from July through the end of the year.” [NPR, 3/9/21]

Police Funding

Salazar opposed defunding the police and claimed she would “always fight to defend our police.”

Salazar: “We’re Seeing Those New Yorkers That Are Coming To Florida Because [...] They Do Not Want To Defund The Police, Because They Want Law And Order.” “[SALAZAR:] Oh, absolutely, we’re seeing it. And we’re seeing those New Yorkers that are coming to Florida because they do not want to pay more taxes, because they do not want to defund the police, because they want law and order, because they want the America that we know. We understand, Maria, that the system is not perfect. We understand that we need to make some changes. But we also understand that we do not need a revolution. That word is very traumatic. We’ve got to fix the system that works very well. It's not perfect, but it has worked very well for 300 years.” [Fox Business, 8/27/20]

Salazar’s Campaign Sent A Fundraising Message Claiming Salazar Would “Always Fight To Defend Our Police.” “Salazar raised $538,843 in the latest fundraising quarter, which covered the months of April, May and June, while Shalala was close behind at $530,932. Shalala maintains a cash-on-hand advantage in the race, with $1.8 million on hand to Salazar’s $1.2 million. ‘The energy and momentum are on our side as our community thirsts for change,’” Salazar said in a text message. ‘I will always fight to defend our police, help people get back to work, and keep socialism out of this country so we can enjoy the freedoms many of our families fought so hard to obtain.’” [Miami Herald, 7/16/20]

The City of Miami planned to cut 100 public safety jobs and 66 police officers as a result of budget shortfalls from COVID-19.

Miami Planned To Cut More Than 100 Public Safety Jobs Including 66 Sworn Police Officers As A Result Of Budget Shortfalls From Covid. “The force of COVID-19's impact on the local economy reverberated through the city of Miami’s $1 billion budget that will cut more than 100 public safety jobs [...] Officials said they could have minimized lost jobs if the city’s two largest labor unions representing police officers and firefighters had agreed to freeze their wages. City Manager Art Noriega and Mayor Francis Suarez said they appealed to Miami’s Fraternal Order of Police and the Association of Fire Fighters, though they couldn’t cut a deal that would avoid layoffs. Without an agreement for a large wage freeze, administrators instead approved cutting more than a dozen firefighters and 66 sworn police officers.” [Miami Herald, 9/25/20]

American Rescue Plan funding allowed Miami to avoid police layoffs and Florida governor Ron DeSantis to grant $1,000 bonus checks to first responders.

Miami Mayor Francis Suarez Said $137 Million From The American Rescue Plan Would Ensure No First Responders Were Laid Off. “Suarez, a Republican, praised President Biden for not only signing the American Rescue Plan into law, but also for including in it what many mayors around the country had been asking for. The mayor said the City of Miami will be receiving about $140 million from the plan, money that will be used to help individuals and small businesses regain their footing, as well as make sure that civil servants and first responders aren't laid off.” [NBC Miami, 3/11/21]

Florida First Responders Received $1,000 Bonus Checks Due To Funding From The American Rescue Plan. “Furious, if not frustrated, Florida congressional Democrats blasted Gov. Ron DeSantis for ‘brazenly’ seeking credit for financial relief, such as $1,000 bonuses for first responders [...] Overall, Frankel and other Democrats on the call said without the stimulus funds Florida received, DeSantis and the GOP-controlled Florida Legislature would not have been able to afford the $101 billion-plus budget they agreed to this month [...] However, DeSantis again galled Democrats on Thursday morning in West Palm Beach when he told a crowd of supporters at the Club 45 USA gathering that ‘while other places are trying to defund the police, we’re funding the police and then some’ in reference to $1,000 checks. DeSantis skipped over the fact that the money to fund that program is coming from the American Rescue Plan, which DeSantis did not support, and which every congressional Republican in Florida voted against.” [Palm Beach Post, 5/6/21]

2020 was the worst year for homicides in Miami-Dade since 1997, with homicides in the first half of 2021 matching the same period for 2020.

2020: Miami-Dade Had 272 Homicides – Up By 31 Over 2019. “The young girl’s violent death was part of a sharp increase in murders in Miami-Dade County in 2020, a year upended by the coronavirus pandemic that saw kids home from school, parents losing jobs and social-justice protests heightening tensions between the community and police. Officials recorded 272 homicides through Dec. 24 across Miami-Dade County, up 31 cases from all of 2019, records show. The year isn’t even over and it’s a recent high — up from 232 in all of 2017, and 252 in 2015.” [Miami Herald, 12/27/20]

Police layoffs would have created greater workloads for detectives at the same time Miami-Dade had a dismal 17 percent clearance rate on reported crimes.

Planned Police Layoffs Would Have Increased Detectives’ Workloads And Cut Into Investigation Hours. “Without an agreement for a large wage freeze, administrators instead approved cutting more than a dozen firefighters and 66 sworn police officers. Between filled and unfilled jobs being eliminated in multiple departments, about 175 positions have been cut from the city’s 4,000-person workforce. According to a budget memo, the cuts will increase detectives’ workloads and curtail their time to investigate cases. ‘These reductions will also negatively impact response to victims, lost hours on investigations (increasing the time taken to bring offenders into custody), and other community relations efforts,’ reads the memo.” [Miami Herald, 9/25/20]

2019: 83 Percent Of Crimes Reported In Miami-Dade Went Unsolved. “Overall, Miami-Dade's clearance rate — the percentage of reported crimes that are resolved by police either by arrest or other means — was an abysmal 17 percent during the first six months of 2019. In other words, a full 83 percent of crimes in the area went unsolved. Across Florida, only Martin, Glades, and Gilchrist Counties were worse, with crime clearance rates of 16.4, 16.5, and 13.3 percent. The statewide rate was 25.8 percent.” [Miami New Times, 12/20/19]

Education Funding

Salazar said she wanted children to have access to the “greatest education system possible,” but by voting against the American Rescue Plan she voted against $1.1 billion in federal funds provided to Miami-Dade schools.

Salazar’s Campaign Platform Stated That “All Children Must Have Access To The Greatest Education System Possible.”
Miami-Dade County public schools received $1.1 billion in funding from the American Rescue Plan.

Miami-Dade School District Were To Receive $1.1 Billion For K-12 As A Result of The American Rescue Plan. “The final bill includes major direct fiscal benefits for the District, including new equity measures targeting districts like Miami-Dade with the highest shares of economically disadvantaged students. Moreover, the State of Florida is slated to receive approximately $7.4 billion for K-12, with Miami-Dade estimated to receive $1.1 billion. The bill will also directly impact local students and families through individual relief measures, including child tax credits that are projected to reduce child poverty substantially.” [Superintendent Alberto Carvalho Memo, 3/11/21]

20 Percent Of State And Local Elementary And Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSER) Funds Were Set Aside To Address Learning Loss Through Programs Like Summer School And Extended School Years. “K-12 allocations follow the initial House bill, with a new set-aside for homeless children: $128.6 billion for K-12 will be made under the same terms as the Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSER) fund of the Education Stabilization Fund, with 90 percent distributed to local districts. Funds may be expended over several years. A reserve for learning loss applies to 20 percent of local funds and half of the state’s funds. These funds will be subject to equitable services sharing with private schools, based on the total number of low-income students served. Purposes include ‘implementation of evidence-based interventions, such as summer learning, extended day, or extended school year programs, and ensure such interventions respond to students’ academic, social, and emotional needs and address the disproportionate impact of the coronavirus.’” [Superintendent Alberto Carvalho Memo, 3/11/21]

Miami-Dade Superintendent Carvalho: The American Rescue Plan Was “The Most Massive Investment In The History Of Education In This Country, Which, For Miami-Dade Exceeds About A Billion Dollars.” “MR. CARVALHO. Well sir, when we hire a teacher we hope to hire a teacher for a lifetime because of their commitment. The funds the way they've been earmarked to us, the first level ESSER I, we've spent 70 percent of those dollars. We just received the second allocation under the previous administration, And we now know that the most massive investment in the history of education in this country, which, for Miami-Dade exceeds about a billion dollars, has been announced. And we're going to absolutely be cautious, careful in monitoring those expenditures and strategic, to live up to your challenge to me, which is, these dollars will make a difference in terms of accelerating every single student to their full potential." [House Education And Labor Subcommittee On Early Childhood Education, 3/25/21]

The American Rescue Plan Allowed Miami-Dade To Spend $50 Million To Offer Summer School To Up To 65,000 Students. "Millions of children this summer will participate in what's expected to be the largest summer-school program in history, powered by more than $1.2 billion in targeted federal post-pandemic assistance from the American Rescue Plan [...] In Florida, the sprawling Miami-Dade County School District's summer schools hope to serve about 65,000 of the district's 334,000 students who were identified as needing the most extra help, said Superintendent Alberto Carvalho. He said the district's $50 million effort is particularly seeking to reach students with disabilities, English learners and students in poverty. The district traditionally has offered summer school to fewer than 10,000 students, and only 6,000-7,000 actually participate, many of them older students needing credits to graduate. When this year's school year ended, about half of Miami-Dade's 350,000-plus students were still learning remotely." [USA Today, 6/9/21]

2021: Miami planned to use school emergency relief funds to provide mental health services to students.

MDCPS Was Exploring Using ESSER Funds To Hire Additional Mental Health Professionals To Address Psychological Trauma Of Returning Students And Staff Resulting From The Pandemic. “The Miami-Dade County school district will likely hire additional mental health professionals to deal with an expectantly large — and possibly unprecedented — number of returning students and staff who suffered psychological trauma over the course of the COVID-19 pandemic. [...] The proposal, which was unanimously approved by the board, comes as hospitals, clinics and private practices in South Florida report a surge in behavioral health issues among adolescents brought on by the pandemic, as well as a shortage of mental health professionals to meet those needs. [...] The proposal calls for the superintendent to look into using the district’s Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief Funds to hire more certified and licensed mental health clinicians to provide services to both students and staff.” [Miami Herald, 6/23/21; Board Member Initiative H-8, 6/23/21]

MDCPS School Board Asked Superintendent Carvalho To Report On Plans For Hiring Mental Health Professionals By July 9. “The proposal, which was unanimously approved by the board, comes as hospitals, clinics and private practices in South Florida report a surge in behavioral health issues among adolescents brought on by the pandemic, as well as a shortage of mental health professionals to meet those needs. [...] The proposal calls for the superintendent to look into using the district’s Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief Funds to hire more certified and licensed mental health clinicians to provide services to both students and staff. The board tasked Superintendent Alberto Carvalho to report back by July 9 on the proposal’s feasibility.” [Miami Herald, 6/23/21; Board Member Initiative H-8, 6/23/21]

Healthcare

Salazar claimed to support access to affordable healthcare but opposed the American Rescue Plan, which helped make health insurance more affordable during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Salazar’s Campaign Platform Stated That “Americans Need To Be Able To Access Affordable Healthcare.”

The American Rescue Plan extended the Affordable Care Act health insurance subsidies’ eligibility to people “at every income level.”

The American Rescue Plan Provided Increased Affordable Care Act Marketplace Premium Subsidies For People “At Every Income Level” Up To And Above 4 Times The Poverty Level. “Under ARP, ACA marketplace premium subsidies are substantially enhanced for people at every income level and, for the first time, offered to those with income above 4 times the federal poverty level (FPL). [...] Premium subsidies will also increase for people at higher income levels among those currently eligible for help with incomes up to 400% of the poverty level. Premium tax credits will increase for people at every income level. (Figure 1) People with income of 200% FPL had been required to contribute $1,664
The American Rescue Plan Provided Silver Health Insurance Plans Under The Affordable Care Act “For Zero Premium With Vastly Reduced Deductibles” To People Up To 1.5 Times The Poverty Level. “Under ARP, ACA marketplace premium subsidies are substantially enhanced for people at every income level and, for the first time, offered to those with income above 4 times the federal poverty level (FPL). People up to 150% FPL can now get silver plans for zero premium with vastly reduced deductibles. Previously, marketplace premium subsidies were partial; no matter how poor, people had to contribute something toward the cost of the benchmark silver plan (i.e., the second lowest cost silver plan in their area). Those with income at 100% FPL had to contribute 2.07% of household income ($264 per year in 2021) toward a benchmark plan; at 150% FPL that amount increased to 4.14% of household income ($792 per year). Now under ARP, the benchmark marketplace plan will be fully subsidized for people earning up to 150% FPL. Cost sharing subsidies were already most generous at this income level (the average silver plan deductible for people at 150% FPL is $177 this year). As a result, low income people now can qualify for premium-free silver plans with modest deductibles for covered health benefits.” [Kaiser Family Foundation, 3/17/21]

The American Rescue Plan Provided “Enhanced Marketplace Subsidies For People Who Receive Or Are Approved To Receive Unemployment Insurance (UI) Benefits.” “The ARP provides for enhanced marketplace subsidies for people who receive or are approved to receive unemployment insurance (UI) benefits during any week in 2021. The ARP also extends the current federal supplement ($300 per week) to state UI benefits through September 6, 2021. The federal UI supplement is not taken into account in determining eligibility for Medicaid or CHIP. When UI recipients apply for marketplace subsidies, special rules will be in effect during 2021.” [Kaiser Family Foundation, 3/17/21]

The American Rescue Plan Created 6 Months Of COBRA Subsidies To Cover 100% Of The Monthly Cost Of COBRA. “The ARP provides for temporary COBRA premium subsidies for up to 6 months during 2021. Subsidies will cover 100% of the monthly cost of COBRA while people are eligible. The law requires the former employer to pay the COBRA premium for subsidy-eligible individuals; the federal government will then reimburse the former employer for this cost. The COBRA premium subsidies can be paid for coverage months no earlier than April 1, 2021 and no later than September 30, 2021. The subsidy can end earlier than September 30 in some circumstances. It ends when COBRA coverage is exhausted; so for example, someone who first became eligible for COBRA due to a job layoff on March 1, 2020 could continue in that plan for 18 months, or through August 2021. That person could claim the COBRA premium subsidy starting in April 2021, but the subsidy would stop when COBRA exhausts at the end of August. People also lose eligibility for the COBRA premium subsidy once they become eligible for other job-based coverage. If this happens, people must notify their COBRA plan administrator or risk owing a penalty.” [Kaiser Family Foundation, 3/17/21]
• ARP COBRA Subsidies Only Applied To People Who Lost Health Insurance Coverage Due To Employment Termination Or Reduction In Hours Worked, Not People Who Voluntarily Quit. “The subsidy is for people whose COBRA qualifying event involves termination of employment or reduction in hours worked. People are not eligible for the COBRA subsidy if they quit voluntarily. Nor are they eligible for subsidies if COBRA resulted from other qualifying events, including death of or divorce from the covered employee, the covered employee becoming entitled to Medicare, or loss of dependent child status.” [Kaiser Family Foundation, 3/17/21]

February 2021: The Department Of Labor Issued An Emergency Rule To Extend COBRA Election Deadlines From 60 Days To 1 Year Or 60 Days After The End Of The COVID-19 National Emergency. “The Joint Notice and Notice 2020-01 (collectively “Notices”) provide relief for certain actions related to employee benefit plans required or permitted under Title I of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (“ERISA”) and the Internal Revenue Code (“Code”). […] Individuals and plans with timeframes that are subject to the relief under the Notices will have the applicable periods under the Notices disregarded until the earlier of (a) 1 year from the date they were first eligible for relief,(2) or (b) 60 days after the announced end of the National Emergency (the end of the Outbreak Period). On the applicable date, the timeframes for individuals and plans with periods that were previously disregarded under the Notices will resume. In no case will a disregarded period exceed 1 year.” [U.S. Department of Labor, 2/26/21]

False Claims

Salazar falsely claimed people receiving $1,400 stimulus checks from ARP will pay “thousands and thousands more in taxes.”

[VIDEO] March 2021: Salazar: “Those Who Are Happy About A $1,400 Stimulus Will Later Pay Thousands And Thousands More In Taxes.” In a video posted to her Facebook, Salazar claimed in Spanish “those who are very happy because they will receive $1,400 per person, or for couples earning less than $150K receiving $2,800 - I want to tell you that this is a fallacy, because it will later cost you thousands and thousands of dollars in taxes, I don't know if it could be $24K or $14K, but it's a bad deal.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 03/08/21, 00:00/3:59]

• Spanish version: “Para aquellos que están muy contentos porque van a recibir $1,400 por persona, y si es una pareja que gana menos de $150K, van a recibir el doble de esto, osea $2,800, les quiero decir que esto es una falacia, porque después le va a costar en taxes miles y miles más, no se si van a ser $24K o $14K, pero el negocio es malo.”

[VIDEO] June 2022: Salazar: “Democrats Threw Away $1.9T At The Beginning Of My Term.” In a video interview with Alex Otaola, Salazar attacked the American Rescue Plan, stating in Spanish “At the beginning of my term, Democrats threw away $1.9T alleging they would help the COVID situation, but what they did was help millions and millions of lazy people stay at home.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, 06/16/22, 7:33/23:30]
• Spanish version: “Es el $1.9T que tiraron en la economía los Demócratas al principio de mi término... supuestamente iban a ayudar a COVID... no, lo que hicieron fue [ayudar] a millones y millones de vagos a quedarse en la casa.”

Salazar took credit for the passage of legislation she proposed to extend repayment of COVID relief loans, despite ultimately voting against the bill included in the American Rescue Plan, which prompted backlash.

2021: Salazar Introduced A Bill To Extend Repayment Of COVID Relief Loans. “Today Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) and Congresswoman Sharice Davids (KS-03) introduced the COVID Economic Injury Disaster Loan Relief Act (H.R. 1533) alongside Rep. Mario Diaz-Balart (FL-25), Rep. Angie Craig (MN-02), and Rep. Dan Meuser (PA-09). This bipartisan bill extends the time to repay Economic Injury Disaster Loan (EIDL) loans, taken in response to COVID-19, for an extra year since the COVID-19 pandemic is still ongoing.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 3/03/21]

2021: Salazar Received Backlash For Celebrating The Passage Of Her Bill When She Voted Against It. "Democratic Representative Ted Lieu of California pointed to this discrepancy in a Sunday tweet responding to Republican Representative María Elvira Salazar of Florida. "So proud to announce that the Biden Administration has just implemented my bipartisan COVID relief bill as part of U.S. Small Business Administration policy," Salazar tweeted on Friday. Lieu since responded to Salazar's, saying: "You voted against it. You voted NO on your own legislation. But thanks for highlighting some of the great small business provisions in the American Rescue Plan, which every Republican member of Congress opposed." [Newsweek, 3/14/21]

2021: Fact Checkers Said Criticism Against Salazar Was “Inaccurate.” “Salazar could be accurately criticized for celebrating this one element of Covid relief after having rejected a broad array of other relief policies in the American Rescue Plan. And critics could accurately note that the American Rescue Plan she opposed includes billions in additional funding for small business loans and grants. But much of the criticism of Salazar's tweet was plain inaccurate. Critics with six-figure or seven-figure Twitter followings -- including California Democratic Rep. Ted Lieu; Fred Wellman, executive director of the Lincoln Project, the conservative group that campaigned against President Donald Trump; songwriter and activist Holly Figueroa O'Reilly; Markos Moulitsas, founder of the Daily Kos progressive political website; and journalist Soledad O'Brien -- wrongly alleged that Salazar was praising a bill she voted against.” [CNN Wire, 3/15/21]

Salazar cosponsored legislation to investigate Antifa’s role in riots in U.S. cities in 2020.

June 2021: Salazar Co-Sponsored Legislation To “Establish The National Commission On Domestic Terrorist Attacks On The U.S. By Antifa.” “Rep. Don Bacon, R-Neb., has introduced legislation (H.R. 4117) to ‘establish the National Commission on Domestic Terrorist Attacks on the U.S. by Antifa.’ The bill was introduced on June 24 and has six co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include Reps. Tony Gonzales, R-Texas, David Joyce, R-Ohio, Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla., Van Taylor, R-Texas, Rodney Davis, R-Ill., and Nancy Mace, R-S.C. The legislation was referred to the House Judiciary Committee.” [Rep. Don Bacon, Press Release, 6/28/21]

- The Legislation Was To Investigate Antifa’s Role In Riots In US Cities In 2020. “U.S. Rep. Nancy Mace is backing legislation aimed at investigating the role of Antifa during riots in numerous American cities last year, but said she still doesn’t believe Congress should probe the Jan. 6 Capitol Hill riot. Mace, R-Charleston, cosponsored the effort last week alongside six other Republican members of Congress. [...] Other sponsors of the bill include GOP Reps. Don Bacon, Neb.; Rodney Davis, Ill.; Tony Gonzales, Texas; David Joyce, Ohio; Maria Elvira Salazar, Fla.; and Van Taylor, Texas.” [Post & Courier, 6/29/21]

Baby Formula

Shortage

Salazar demanded “answers” from the Biden administration on the baby formula shortage and even called for the use of the Defense Production Act to increase access to formula. But then Salazar voted against authorizing $28 million in emergency funding to the FDA to address the shortage.

May 2022: Salazar Said, “We Demand Answers” From The Biden Administration For The Baby Formula Shortage. “We’ve been in a so-called ‘temporary’ supply chain crisis for months now, but desperate parents having to ration baby formula is a new low for this Administration. We demand answers.” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 5/12/22]

2022: Salazar Called For The Use Of The Defense Production Act To Increase Access To Baby Formula. "The United States government must use every tool available, including invoking the Defense Production Act, to quickly ramp up supply of baby formula so mothers can feed their children," stated Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar's (FL-27). "We must continue working on a bipartisan basis to encourage the Administration to get this crisis under control." [Congressional Documents and Publications, 5/18/2022]

- 2022: Salazar Was One Of 20 Bipartisan Members To Call For The Use Of The Act To Increase Access To The Formula. Today, May 18, 2022, U.S. Representative Josh Gottheimer (NJ-5) led twenty total Members of Congress in new bipartisan legislation urging the President to invoke the Defense Production Act to increase the production of baby formula, and the legislation will also ensure distribution to all regions of the country through federally qualified health centers. [Congressional Documents and Publications, 5/18/2022]

May 2022: Salazar Voted Against Authorizing $28 Million To The Food And Drug Administration In Emergency Funding To Address The Baby Formula Shortage. In May 2022 Salazar voted against:

“Passage of the bill that would provide $28 million in emergency appropriations for the Food and Drug Administration to address the current shortage and prevent future shortages of FDA-regulated infant formula and certain medical foods, including to prevent fraudulent products from entering the U.S. market. It would require the FDA to report to Congress weekly on obligations of funding provided by the bill.” The bill passed by a vote of 231-192. [H.R. 7790, Vote #220, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

- Food And Drug Administration Funding Provided For Increased Staff To Inspect Baby Formula And The Prevention Of Future Baby Formula Shortages. “The House voted 231-192 on Wednesday to pass an emergency spending bill aimed at addressing the baby formula shortage. [...] The bill gives the Food and Drug Administration $28 million to increase its staff to help inspect baby formula before it arrives on grocery store shelves. It will also look ‘to prevent future shortages, including such steps as may be necessary to prevent fraudulent products from entering the United States market.’” [Axios, 3/18/22]

- May 2022: More Than 40 Percent Of Baby Formulas Were Out Of Stock In Stores Across The U.S. “Datasembly’s real-time hyper-local data analysis shows that baby formula stock was relatively stable for the first half of 2021, with out-of-stock (OOS) fluctuation between 2-8%. The OOS detail shows that in April 2022 baby formula shortages hit 30% and jumped to 40% at the end of month. For the first week of May the nationwide OOS situation for baby formula continues to climb. The nation-wide OOS percentage is now at 43% for the week ending May 8th.” [Datasembly, 5/10/22]

- May 2022: 26 States Had Baby Formula Out-Of-Stock Rates At 40-50%. “The states seeing the worst shortages include Texas, Tennessee, Missouri, Iowa, North Dakota and South Dakota — all with out-of-stock rates of about 50 percent. A total of 26 states have out of stock rates of 40 to 50 percent. Among metro areas, San Antonio’s out-of-stock rate has climbed to 57 percent, with Memphis and Nashville at 52 percent and Houston and Des Moines at 50 percent.” [NBC News, 5/9/22]

- Center For Disease Control And Prevention: Non-Hispanic Black Infants, Infants Eligible For WIC, And Infants Born To Mothers Aged 20-29 Were Less Likely To Breastfeed. “Breastfeeding Disparities Exist. Fewer non-Hispanic Black infants (75.5%) are ever breastfed compared with Asian infants (92.4%), non-Hispanic White infants (85.3%) and Hispanic infants (85.0%). Infants eligible for and receiving the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) are less likely to ever be breastfed (76.9%) than infants eligible, but not receiving WIC (83.3%), and infants ineligible for WIC (91.6%). Younger mothers aged 20 to 29 years are less likely to ever breastfeed (81.2%) than mothers aged 30 years or older (85.9%).” [CDC.gov, Accessed 5/19/22]

“Parasites Of Society”

Salazar said “handouts” turn people into “parasites of society” and that the top one percent of earners pay 99 percent of the taxes in the U.S., which is false. Ironically, she has more recently said that if someone needs social help that “you have to give it to them” “temporarily.”

Salazar Said That “Handouts” Turn Poorer Citizens Into “Parasites Of Society.” “Shortly after an on-air guest made the false claim that the top one percent of earners pay 99 percent of the taxes in the U.S., Fox & Friends co-host Steve Doocy issued a correction and informed the show’s viewers that the richest Americans don’t pay nearly that much. While railing against socialism and the Democratic Party on Thursday morning, former Republican congressional candidate Maria Elvira Salazar sounded the alarm on ‘handouts,’ claiming that redistribution turns poorer citizens into ‘parasites of society.’” [Daily Beast, 2/7/19]

[VIDEO] February 2019: Salazar: “The More You Give Handouts, The More You Make Them Parasites Of Society.” “[SALAZAR:] The more you give handouts, the more you make them parasites of society then the less they do and the less they come out of that state, which is really bad for the human soul.” [Daily Beast, 2/7/19]

Salazar, “If You need Social Help, You Have To Give It To Them” “Temporarily.” Salazar said, “I am not opposed to people in need receiving money. On the contrary, if they need social help, you have to give it to them. I repeat, Democrats do not have a monopoly on compassion. What I oppose is waste, sending a distorted message to citizens that it is more economically feasible to stay on the couch than go to work. The aid has to be for those who need it, temporarily.” [Diario Las Americas, 12/04/21]

• Spanish Version: “No me opongo a que las personas necesitadas reciban dinero. Todo lo contrario, si necesitan una ayuda social, hay que dársela. Repito, los demócratas no tienen el monopolio de la compasión. A lo que me opongo es al despilfarro, a que se envíe un mensaje distorsionado al ciudadano de que es más factible económicamente quedarse en el sofá que ir a trabajar. Las ayudas tienen que ser para quien las necesite, de forma temporal.”

Top 1 Percent

Salazar was corrected on air after saying the top 1 percent of people pay 99 percent of taxes.

Salazar Was Corrected On Air After Falsely Claiming That 1 Percent Of American Paid 99 Percent Of Taxes. “Shortly after an on-air guest made the false claim that the top one percent of earners pay 99 percent of the taxes in the U.S., Fox & Friends co-host Steve Doocy issued a correction and informed the show’s viewers that the richest Americans don’t pay nearly that much. While railing against socialism and the Democratic Party on Thursday morning, former Republican congressional candidate Maria Elvira Salazar sounded the alarm on ‘handouts,’ claiming that redistribution turns poorer citizens into ‘parasites of society.’ [...] She then tossed out this outright falsehood: ‘Remember that one percent of the country, this country, pays 99 percent of the taxes. The one percent, the most—the richest people, pay 99 percent of the taxes.’ [...] Referencing recent research from the non-profit Tax Foundation, the Fox News host explained that the top one percent pay something closer to 45 percent of the taxes. Per their most recent public data, in fact, the organization found that the top one percent paid 39 percent of federal income taxes.” [Daily Beast, 2/7/19]

Cuts To Medicare And Social Security

Salazar claimed she did not support any cuts to Medicare or Social Security.

Salazar Said She Would Not Support Any Cuts To Medicare or Social Security. “[REPORTER:] As it relates to the federal budget, two of the big issues the federal government faces, Social Security and Medicare. Where do you stand on those are there? Are there holes in Medicare that need to be fixed? How do you paid for that? [SALAZAR:] Entitlements is a big problem. There was Paul Ryan, that was his project, that by 2026, or 2032, we may not have enough money in order to pay for all the entitlement programs that we have a commitment with. We need to look at the expenses. But I believe that we cannot touch Medicare, or Social Security. Those people worked for that money. Those people deserve to have those services [...] But we got to find other areas, but not Medicare or Social Security. It's just not fair.” [Miami Herald Editorial Board, 31:00-32:22, 9/26/18]

...but Salazar was endorsed by a group who wanted to privatize Social Security and Medicare.

2018: Maria Elvira Salazar Was Endorsed By Freedom Works. “But Miami broadcast journalist Maria Elvira Salazar nabbed an endorsement on Friday from FreedomWorks, a conservative advocacy group that promotes small government and frequently clashes with GOP leaders in Washington.” [Miami Herald, 5/11/18]

2012: Freedom Works Supported Privatizing Social Security. “The only way to stop the political raids and manipulations is for private ownership. The fatal flaw with funding and honoring government obligations is the worker does not own his or her account. With ownership, workers will protect their property and every other worker’s property. This is the only means to hold politicians fiscally and morally responsible.” [Freedom Works, 10/11/12]

FreedomWorks Was “Really About” Privatizing Social Security And Medicare. Theda Skocpol, Harvard University Professor: “And then, it’s also got a series of top-down groups that have sort of opportunistically jumped on and goaded on and leveraged this grassroots phenomenon. Those are long-standing groups like Americans for Prosperity and FreedomWorks, the new Heritage Action operation that former Senator Jim DeMint Leads. And those groups are really about pushing low taxes, removal of regulation, blocking of environmental regulation, privatization of Social Security and Medicare.” [MSNBC, 10/23/13]

Cuts To Medicaid
Salazar claimed she did not support making cuts to Medicaid.

Salazar Said She Did Not Support Cutting Medicaid Funding But Wanted “Better Medicaid.” “We don’t want to cut funding,’ Salazar added. ‘We want to have a better Medicaid and help everybody that needs it. And we want to keep the [coverage for] pre-existing conditions and we want to give a better healthcare coverage to people at a lower price.” [Miami Herald, 11/2/18]

Biden

Weak

In Spanish, Salazar has repeatedly called Biden weak and mentally incompetent.

[VIDEO] March 2022: Salazar Said Biden’s Problem Was His “Advanced Age, His Incapacity Physically And Mentally.” [VIDEO] Salazar said, “Biden is someone who I think has good intentions. The problem is his advanced age, his incapacity physically and mentally in some occasions. [YouTube, Cubanos por el Mundo – Live, 3/27/22 (5:40)]

- Spanish Version: Biden es “débil mental y físicamente. Las personas que tiene alrededo son neomarxistas. [...] Los neomarxistas han secuestrado al Partido Demócrata.”

Salazar Called The Biden Administration “Weak, Weak, Weak” And Said The Mexican Government And Drug Traffickers Are Aware. “For her part, Republican deputy María Elvira Salazar, a Cuban-American, affirmed that the weakness of the Biden government was demonstrated by the absence of López Obrador and other Latin American leaders. ‘For the first time in 100 years, the Mexican president dares to confront the president of the United States in this way, by not attending a Summit of the Americas on United States territory. So that shows that they know it's weak, weak, weak.’ According to Salazar, who proposed ‘closing’ the border, this weakness is also known by ‘coyotes’ and drug traffickers.” [Zacatecas en Imagen, June 2022] Translation

- Spanish Version: “Por su parte la diputada republicana María Elvira Salazar, cubano-estadounidense, afirmó que la debilidad del gobierno de Biden se demostró con la ausencia de López Obrador y otros mandatarios latinoamericanos. ‘Por primera vez en 100 años, el presidente mexicano se atreve a enfrentar así al presidente de los Estados Unidos, al no asistir a una Cumbre de las Américas en territorio de los Estados Unidos. Entonces, eso demuestra que saben que es débil, débil, débil.’ Según Salazar, que propuso ‘cerrar’ la frontera, esa debilidad es conocida también por ‘coyotes’ y traficantes de drogas.”
The Big Lie

Opposed Impeachment

January 2021: Salazar voted against impeaching Trump for inciting the January 6th insurrection.

Salazar Voted Against Impeaching President Trump For Incitement Of Insurrection. In January 2021, Salazar voted against “Adoption of the article of impeachment that would impeach President Donald Trump for incitement of insurrection by ‘inciting violence against the government of the United States.’ Specifically, it would state that Trump ‘repeatedly issued false statements’ asserting that the results of the 2020 presidential election were the product of widespread fraud and should not be accepted or certified. It would state that Trump made statements at a rally on Jan. 6, 2020, that ‘encouraged -- and foreseeably resulted in -- lawless action’ at the Capitol building during the certification of electoral college votes, during which protesters entered the Capitol, attacked law enforcement personnel, ‘menaced’ members of Congress and the vice president, and engaged in other ‘violent, deadly, destructive, and seditious acts.’ It would state that Trump’s conduct on Jan. 6 followed prior efforts ‘to subvert and obstruct’ the certification of 2020 presidential election results, including during a Jan. 2 phone call during which he urged Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger to ‘find’ enough votes to overturn the state’s presidential election results and ‘threatened Secretary Raffensperger if he failed to do so.’ It would state President Trump’s ‘endangered the security of the United States and its institutions of government’ and that he ‘threatened the integrity of the democratic system, interfered with the peaceful transition of power, and imperiled a coordinate branch of government.’ Pursuant to the rule (H Res 41), upon adoption of the article of impeachment, the House agreed to the resolution (H Res 40) that would appoint and authorize the following impeachment trial managers to conduct the impeachment trial against President Donald Trump in the Senate: Reps. Raskin, D-Md., DeGette, D-Colo., Cicilline, D-R.I., Castro, D-Texas, Swalwell, D-Calif., Lieu, D-Calif., Plaskett, D-V.I., Neguse, D-Colo., and Dean, D-Pa.” The article of impeachment was adopted, 232-197. [H. Res. 24, Vote #Vote #17, 1/13/21; CQ, 1/13/21]

Salazar Voted Against The Resolution Calling On Vice President Pence ToInvoke The 25th Amendment And Remove President Trump From Office. In January 2021, Salazar voted against “Agreeing to the resolution that would state that the House of Representatives calls on Vice President Mike Pence to use his powers under section 4 of the 25th Amendment to convene and mobilize members of the president’s cabinet to declare that President Donald Trump is unable to successfully discharge the duties and powers of his office, and to transmit notice to Congress that Pence will immediately assume the powers and duties of the office as acting president. The resolution would state among its findings that Trump ‘widely advertised and broadly encouraged’ participation in the march on the U.S. Capitol on Wednesday, Jan. 6, which turned into a violent insurrectionary mob that resulted in 5 deaths following the storming of the Capitol building; did not appeal to his followers to exit the Capitol during the insurrection; refused to accept the results of the 2020 presidential election as legitimate; and made at least three attempts to intervene in the vote counting and certification process in the state of Georgia and to ‘coerce’ its state officials to declare him the winner of the state’s electoral votes.” The resolution passed, 223-205. [H. Res. 21, Vote #Vote #14, 1/12/21; CQ, 1/12/21]
Opposed Select Committee To Investigate The January 6th Insurrection

June 2021: Salazar voted against establishing the Select Committee to investigate the January 6th attack on the United States Capitol.

Salazar Voted Against The Establishment Of The Select Committee To Investigate The January 6 Attack On The US Capitol. In June 2021, Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution that would establish a special committee in the House of Representatives to investigate facts and causes related to the Jan. 6, 2021, ‘domestic terrorist attack’ on the U.S. Capitol; examine and evaluate evidence developed by relevant federal, state and local governmental agencies; and build upon the investigations of other entities. It would require the committee to investigate facts and circumstances of the attack related to intelligence and law enforcement agency activities and factors contributing to the attack, including online platforms and foreign influence operations; identify and analyze the causes of and lessons learned from the attack with regard to law enforcement operations and security protocol at the Capitol; and submit to Congress reports including findings and conclusions of its investigations, legislative recommendations, and recommendations for corrective measures. The resolution would authorize the speaker of the House to appoint 13 members to the committee, including five members after consultation with the minority leader. Among other provisions, it would authorize the committee chair to issue subpoenas, authorize such sums as may be necessary for committee expenses, and specify that the committee would terminate 30 days after filing its final report to Congress.” The bill passed 222 to 190. [H. Res. 503, Vote #197, 6/30/21; CQ, 6/30/21]

- The Select Committee Was Established After Senate Republicans Blocked A Vote On Creating A Bipartisan Outside Commission To Investigate The January 6th Insurrection. “In a largely party-line vote, the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives approved legislation on Wednesday to create a select committee to launch a new inquiry into the Jan. 6 attack on the U.S. Capitol. With a larger share of Republicans voting against the plan, it marks the latest turn in a partisan fight to investigate the riot [...] Last month, Senate Republicans blocked a move to vote on an outside commission, leaving Democratic leaders with plans to move forward with a House select committee instead. But some Republicans who supported the independent commission voted against the select committee.” [NPR, 6/30/21]

Salazar supported the initial commission concept but says it is now “in the hands of Democrats” and a “partisan show.”

2022: Salazar Said She Supported The Initial Jan 6th Commission Makeup But The Current Formation Is “In The Hands Of Democrats.” “She [Salazar] said that while she supported the initial proposal for a bipartisan independent commission -- which she did not support in its final form when it passed in June in a largely party-line vote -- she said she believed the commission was "in the hands of the Democrats," but that she does not "want to cover anyone, Republicans or Democrats." [Miami Herald, 5/23/22]

2021: Salazar Voted For The Initial Commission. “Only two Florida Republicans were among the 35 House Republicans who voted in favor of the commission: freshmen Miami U.S. Reps. Maria Elvira Salazar and Carlos Gimenez, for which we commend them. However, we continue to hold out hope for Rubio, once considered the savior of the Republican Party.” [Florida Times Union, 5/27/21]

2022: Salazar Said The Committee Is A “Partisan Show.” "However, the current special committee is nothing more than a partisan show that I have consistently opposed since its creation. That includes the recent one-sided requests for testimony motivated purely by politics." [Miami Herald, 5/23/22]

2022: Salazar Appears To Believe GOP Members Of Congress Who Have Been Subpoenaed Should Testify. “U.S. Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar appeared on Sunday to call on fellow Republicans who've been subpoenaed by Congress' Jan. 6 investigative body to testify on what they know about what happened during the riot. During a recorded interview with NBC 6's Jackie Nespral that aired on Sunday, Salazar responded to a question about the subpoenas to five GOP House members, including Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy, saying that "no one is above the law." [Miami Herald, 5/23/22]

Opposed Capitol Security Improvements

May 2021: Salazar voted against $1.9 billion intended to improve Capitol security in response to the January 6th attack and prevent future attacks on the Capitol.

Salazar Voted Against A Bill Funding Emergency And Security Activities In Response To Jan. 6 Attack On U.S. Capitol And Security Upgrades For Future Prevention Of Similar Incidents. In May 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would provide approximately $1.9 billion in emergency supplemental fiscal 2021 appropriations to legislative branch and other federal entities for security activities in response to the Jan. 6, 2021, attack on the U.S. Capitol, including approximately $753 million to reimburse costs associated with responding to the attack and approximately $990 million for legislative and judicial branch security upgrades. Within the total, it would also provide approximately $170 million for legislative branch costs associated with the COVID-19 public health emergency. For expenses related to the Jan. 6 attack and to prevent similar incidents, it would provide $520.9 million for the National Guard and funding for several law enforcement agencies, including the FBI and National Park Service. It would provide $66.8 million to the District of Columbia for public safety expenses related to terrorist threats and federal presence in the district. It would provide $79.3 million for the Capitol Police, including specified funding for employee hazard pay and retention bonuses, the employee wellness program, agreements with state and local law enforcement agencies, protective details for members of Congress, and physical protection barriers.” The bill passed 213 to 212. [H R 3237, Vote #156, 5/20/21; CQ, 5/20/21]

Salazar Voted Against $1.9 Billion To Improve Capitol Security And Respond To The January 6th Attack. “Although the House passed House Bill H.R. 3237 with a final vote of 213 in favor and 212 against, Florida Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar (R) voted against providing additional funding to improve Capitol Security. On the heels of Congress voting to create a 9/11-style commission that would further investigate the storming of the Capitol on January 6th, Congress has also voted to provide $1.9 billion to improve Capitol security & to respond to the attack on January 6th. [...] In introducing the bill, Connecticut Rep. Rosa DeLauro (D), the Chair of the House Appropriations Committee, commented that ‘the January 6th insurrection caused tragic loss of life and many injuries while leaving behind widespread physical damage to the Capitol Complex and emotional trauma for Members, Congressional employees, and the Capitol Police.” [Floridian, 5/21/21]

Opposed Contempt Of Congress Charges For Scavino And Navarro

Salazar voted against holding Trump’s associates accountable for their role in the January 6th insurrection and their refusal to cooperate with the Committee investigating the attack.

Salazar Voted Against Holding Former Trump Advisors Peter Navarro And Daniel Scavino In Contempt Of Congress For Refusal To Comply With Subpoenas From The January 6th Select Committee. In April 2022 Salazar voted against: “Agreement to the resolution that would find two advisers to former President Donald Trump -- Peter K. Navarro, former White House director of trade and manufacturing policy, and Daniel Scavino, Jr., former White House deputy chief of staff -- in contempt of Congress for refusing to comply with subpoenas issued by the Select Committee to Investigate the January 6th Attack on the United States Capitol. It would direct the speaker of the House to ‘take all appropriate action to enforce the subpoenas’ and certify the committee report (H Rept 117-284) accompanying the contempt resolution to the U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia for judicial action.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-203. [H. Res. 1037, Vote #Vote #118, 4/6/22; CQ, 4/6/22]

- Republican Reps. Cheney And Kinzinger Were The Only Votes To Break The Party-Line On Holding Navarro And Scavino In Contempt. “The mostly party-line vote of 220 to 203 referred contempt charges to the Justice Department, calling for prosecutions of Mr. Navarro, a former top White House adviser, and Mr. Scavino Jr., a former deputy chief of staff. [...] Only two Republicans, Representatives Liz Cheney of Wyoming and Adam Kinzinger of Illinois, both members of the investigative committee, voted for the charges. The rest of their party refused to support the move.” [New York Times, 4/6/22]

Salazar Voted Against Referring Former Trump Chief Of Staff Mark Meadows To The Justice Department In Contempt Of Congress. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution, that would find Mark Meadows, former White House chief of staff to President Donald Trump, in contempt of Congress. It would provide for up to one hour of debate on the resolution.” The motion passed by a vote of 222-208. [H. Res. 851, Vote #Vote #447, 12/14/21; CQ, 12/14/21]
• Mark Meadows Provided Thousands Of Documents To The January 6th Committee But Claimed Executive Privilege And Refused To Appear Before The Panel. “Sweeping claims of executive privilege by Meadows and Trump to shield their activities on and before Jan. 6 from congressional scrutiny have been challenged in the court and by constitutional experts. Last week, Meadows backed away from cooperating with the panel just days after saying he would. He argued that the panel was pressuring him to discuss issues that the former president said are protected by executive privilege. However, Meadows had already produced thousands of documents for the panel, including text messages and emails related to the events of the day.” [Washington Post, 12/15/21]

• January 6th Committee Chairman Bennie Thompson: The Report Referring Meadows For Criminal Contempt Was “Clear And Compelling.” “The select committee's report referring Mr. Meadows for criminal contempt charges is clear and compelling,’ Committee Chairman Bennie Thompson, a Democrat from Mississippi, said on Tuesday. ‘As White House chief of staff, Mr. Meadows played a role in or was witness to key events leading up to and including the January 6th assault on the United States Capitol.’ […] Republican Rep. Liz Cheney of Wyoming, the vice chair of the select committee, said Tuesday that Meadows had received numerous text messages urging Trump to take action to stop the riot that he has produced without any privilege claim.” [CNN, 12/14/21]

Salazar Voted Against Finding Steve Bannon In Contempt Of Congress For Not Complying With A Subpoena From The Committee Investigating The January 6th Insurrection. In October 2021 Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution that would find Stephen Bannon, adviser to former President Donald Trump, in contempt of Congress for refusal to comply with a subpoena issued by the Select Committee to Investigate the January 6th Attack on the United States Capitol. It would direct the speaker of the House to ‘take all appropriate action to enforce the subpoena’ and certify the committee report (H Rept 117-152) accompanying the contempt resolution to the U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia for judicial action.” The bill passed by a vote of 229-202. Opposed Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act

May 2022: Salazar voted against the Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act which established offices focused on investigating and prosecuting domestic terrorism.

Salazar Voted Against The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would authorize the establishment of three new offices focused on domestic terrorism; a Homeland Security Department office to monitor and analyze domestic terrorism activity, a Justice Department office to investigate and prosecute domestic terrorism incidents, and a domestic terrorism section within the FBI counterterrorism division to investigate domestic terrorism activity. It would also require the FBI and the Justice, Defense and Homeland Security departments to establish an interagency task force to analyze and combat white supremacist and neo-Nazi ‘infiltration’ of law enforcement agencies and the uniformed services. It would require the FBI and Justice and Homeland Security departments to submit a biannual joint report to Congress including an assessment of the domestic terrorism threat posed by white supremacists and neo-Nazis. In preparing the reports, it would require the new offices to review each federal hate crime charge and conviction in the preceding six months to determine whether it also constitutes a domestic terrorism incident. It would require the first report to include an analysis of incidents or attempted incidents of domestic terrorism that have occurred in the United States since April 19, 1995, and require subsequent reports to analyze incidents in the preceding six months. Among other provisions, it would require various actions to investigate and coordinate the federal response to domestic terrorism incidents that may also be hate crimes; require the FBI and Justice and Homeland Security departments to make training available to law enforcement agencies related to countering and prosecuting domestic terrorism; and require reports on the implementation of such training to include the number of federal incidents involving a false report of a domestic terrorism or hate crime incident. It would authorize such sums as necessary to carry out the bill’s provisions.” The bill passed by a vote of 222-203. [H.R. 350, Vote #221, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

- The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act Created Homeland Security, Department Of Justice, And FBI Offices To Focus On Domestic Terrorism. “The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act is what Congress can do this week to try to prevent future Buffalo shootings — to prevent future California shootings, future El Paso shootings, future Charleston shootings, future Pittsburgh shootings, future Wisconsin shootings,’ Schneider said. […] Schneider’s bill, which the House passed by voice vote in 2020, would create domestic terrorism offices within the Justice Department, the Department of Homeland Security and the FBI to facilitate better coordination and help the agencies identify risks and homegrown threats. It also would require biannual reporting about the state of domestic terrorism threats.” [NBC News, 5/16/22]

- The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act Specifically Called For Assessments Of Threats Related To White Supremacists And Neo-Nazis. “The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act would set up offices specifically focused on domestic terrorism at the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Justice and the FBI. […] It also calls for assessments of the threat posed specifically by White supremacists and neo-Nazis.” [CNN, 5/18/22]

Promoted Conspiracy Theories

Salazar promoted conspiracy theories about the 2020 election and January 6th. In April 2022, Salazar asked a journalist - “Are you working to uncover the full truth about what everyone knew before Jan 6th?”

April 2022: Salazar refused to discuss Rep. Kevin McCarthy’s lies about January 6th and said that the press’s insistence on pursuing the story was because the press had been “infiltrated” by “Neo-Marxists.”

Salazar Refused To Discuss Rep. Mccarthy’s Lies About January 6th, And Said That The Press’s Insistence On Pursuing That Story Is Because They Have Been “Infiltrated” By “Neo-Marxists.” Salazar said “we have a problem here in this country with the news media, because the news media is now, not doing our job. You know why? Because maybe we have been infiltrated by an ideology that I don’t agree with. Now I am a member of the GOP, but I m still an American. And shame on the media. You know why? Because we’re concentrating and we’re trying to look for headlines, not on what is not important. What’s important is that there is a major threat in this country by what I call the socialists or the neo-Marxists.” [Facebook, Donald Trump Jr, 4/29/22]

Salazar Said The Press Should Ask What Speaker Pelosi Knew Before January 6th. “Don’t you feel responsible, that what you guys are covering is not what the American people need to hear? Why don’t we ask Madame Speaker, what did she know? [Reporter says “we asked.”] No one is asking, no you’re not asking Madame Speaker what she knew. What she knew before that event.” [Facebook, Donald Trump Jr, 4/29/22]
Salazar Excused McCarthy Lying To The Press And The American People About What He Said On January 6th, Saying That “People Change Their Minds, Things Happen.” “[Reporter: We asked leader McCarthy what he said on January 6th, and they lied to us. And then there’s audio…] Salazar: You know this “they lied”- people change their minds, things happen.” [Facebook, Donald Trump Jr, 4/29/22]

Salazar Said She “Knows The Art Of Editing… You Know, I Was One Of You, So I Know Exactly Where You're Gonna Go Now, How You’re Gonna Edit It, How You’re Gonna Cut It.” “I know the art of editing… You know, I was one of you, so I know exactly where you’re gonna go now, how you’re gonna edit it, how you’re gonna cut it.” [Facebook, Donald Trump Jr, 4/29/22]

In 2022, when Salazar was asked about January 6th by the media, Salazar instead criticized the media and said the media is “not doing their job” when “there’s a major threat in this country” by what she calls the “socialists or the neo-Marxists: that’s the real threat.”

2022: When Salazar Was Asked About January 6th By The Media, Salazar Instead Criticized The Media And Said The Media Is “Not Doing Their Job” When “There's A Major Threat In This Country” By What She Calls The “Socialists Or The Neo-Marxists: That's The Real Threat.” “On Wednesday, while leaving a meeting with Republican Party congressmen, U.S. Rep. María Elvira Salazar (R-FL) was asked by a group of journalists about the January 6 riots and took the opportunity to give a lesson in journalism to the American mainstream media. Salazar, who worked as a journalist for 35 years, pointed out that American media “are not doing their job,” and are not focusing on “what is not important,” while being infiltrated by “socialists and neo-Marxists” who pose a real threat to the United States. “We have a problem in this country with the news media,” Salazar said. “They’re trying to look for headlines on what is not important. What is important is that there’s a major threat in this country by what I call the socialists or the neo-Marxists: that’s the real threat.” [El American, 4/29/22]

• 2022: Salazar Claimed “Neo-Marxists” Are “Penetrating Media And Academia.” “Listen, I am more concerned, not about the past, but about the future. Don’t you see that there is an influence called the neo-Marxists penetrating media and academia? Don’t you guys see it?! And you know what that means? Oh, ask the Venezuelans, ask the Cubans (…) we do know what happens when the neo-Marxists and the socialist forces infiltrate a society.” Finally, the Cuban-American congresswoman said that the mainstream media, their editors and “the people who are running the show” should feel “shame” for not focusing on what really threatens the future of the country.” [El American, 4/29/22]

Salazar said people need to move forward from January 6th.

2022: Salazar suggested people need to “move forward” from Jan 6th and focus on “what is happening right now” but the media won’t allow that to happen: “You cannot be storming any buildings, much less the Capitol, but then why don’t we move forward? And why don’t we start thinking ‘what’s happening right now’? But no, the media doesn’t want to do that because it’s not convenient, it doesn’t produce headlines,” Salazar continued.” [El American, 4/29/22]
Salazar said getting to the bottom of Jan 6 begins by seeing what Pelosi knew.

2022: Salazar Said She Wants To Know Who Knew What About January 6th And It Begins By Asking Nancy Pelosi What She Knew About Jan 6. “The reporter again interrupted her to state that they are “just trying to figure out what happened on January 6th,” to which Salazar replied that it was necessary to question both sides, Republicans and Democrats, and that began by asking Nancy Pelosi what she knew about it. “We need to know what she [Pelosi] knew 24 hours, 48 hours, 72 hours before,” the representative insisted. “I have no idea because I don’t have a crystal ball, but I do believe that we have oversight, and we have mechanisms in place to find out what anyone knew. Leadership from the Dems, leadership from the republicans. That’s our system, otherwise, we’re banana republic.” [El American, 4/29/22]

Amid the release by the NY Times of tapes between Kevin McCarthy and other members of the GOP about how January 6th could impact Trump, Salazar suggested the tapes were edited and blamed the media for not “doing [their] job.”

2022: Amid The Release By The NY Times Of Tapes Between Kevin McCarthy And Other Members Of The GOP About How Jan 6th Could Impact Trump, Salazar Suggested The Tapes Were Edited And Blamed The Media For Not “Doing Our Job.” “In a further attempt to turn the course of the conversation, the reporter questioned Salazar about the leaked audios of GOP leader Kevin McCarthy, in which several Republican representatives discussed the consequences that the January 6 riots would have on Donald Trump’s presidency. “And what was your response as an American [to the McCarthy audios]?” the reporter asked, to which the Republican replied that the audio was edited and she doesn’t know the full context. “What I’m saying to you is that it’s not a matter of trying to find out what he said, it’s the whole story,” Salazar insisted. “Don’t you guys see it, what you guys are doing? History will judge the news organizations a hundred years from now and they’ll say we were not doing our job.” [El American, 4/29/22]

January 2021: Prior to election certification, Salazar said “what’s happening is outrageous” and predicted “evidence will be revealed” on January 6th.

January 5th, 2021: Salazar On Election Certification: “Tomorrow Is When The Evidence Will Be Revealed […] We Will Listen To The Evidence.” “The day before the riot, Salazar gave an interview to YouTube host Alexander Otaola, a Miami-based Cuban-American influencer, telling him, ‘Tomorrow is a very important day because tomorrow is when the evidence will be revealed.’ ‘We will listen to the evidence,’ Salazar said. ‘I've been studying this topic because I think what's happening is outrageous.’” [Miami Herald, 1/11/21]

Salazar On Election Certification: “I've Been Studying This Topic Because I Think What's Happening Is Outrageous.” “The day before the riot, Salazar gave an interview to YouTube host Alexander Otaola, a Miami-based Cuban-American influencer, telling him, ‘Tomorrow is a very important day because tomorrow is when the evidence will be revealed.’ ‘We will listen to the evidence,’ Salazar said. ‘I've been studying this topic because I think what's happening is outrageous.’” [Miami Herald, 1/11/21]
Salazar was featured in a report on disinformation on Miami Spanish language radio for saying the Pennsylvania election results were “impossible.”

Salazar Was Featured In A Report About Spanish Language Radio In Miami Spreading Disinformation On The January 6th Attack And Election Denial. “Thousands of dead people and noncitizens voted in the 2020 presidential election. There were more votes cast than registered voters. Black Lives Matter and Antifa infiltrated the deadly storming of the U.S. Capitol. Those are just some of the conspiracy theories compiled in a new media monitoring report published Wednesday, revealing the extent to which misinformation pervaded the airwaves of Miami Spanish-language talk radio in the immediate lead-up to, and aftermath of, the Jan. 6 insurrection. Scrutinizing a week’s worth of early to mid-January pre-recorded programming, the report, titled ‘Disinformation in Miami After the Capitol Insurrection,’ shows how a group of radio hosts across two popular local AM stations, Radio Mambi and Actualidad Radio, mischaracterized the events of Jan. 6 and continued amplifying baseless claims of voter fraud, sometimes with the tacit endorsement of high-ranking guests, including U.S. Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar of Miami-Dade.” [Miami Herald, 6/2/21]

January 11: Salazar Cited A “Repeatedly Debunked Conspiracy Theory” About Pennsylvania's Election Results On Ninoska Perez’ Radio Show. “The media monitoring study, which contains links to the audio clips it makes reference to, chronicles how claims of voter fraud were also routinely entertained on Radio Mambi. On occasion, the misinformation came from high-ranking officials. On Jan. 11, while appearing as a guest on Ninoska Pérez’s daily show, Salazar amplified a false claim about the integrity of the vote in one of the election’s most closely contested states: Pennsylvania. ‘How is it possible that in Pennsylvania there are 200,000 more votes on Election Day than there were [voters] in the electoral rolls? That’s not possible,’ she said. Salazar seemed to be citing a repeatedly debunked conspiracy theory based on incomplete data (which Trump himself also shared on Twitter).” [Miami Herald, 6/2/21]

- Salazar: “How Is It Possible That In Pennsylvania There Are 200,000 More Votes On Election Day Than There Were On The Electoral Rolls, That Is Impossible!” “The Pennsylvania case. Lourdes D' Kendall and Ninoska Perez repeat the GOP claims about Pennsylvania's changes in election laws being unconstitutional, despite several stories saying the contrary, stating those claims are wrong, not true and groundless: USA Today, The Morning Call, NPR, Tampa Bay Times and NBC News, among others [...] Maria Elvira Salazar on Ninoska Perez’ show: ‘How is it possible that in Pennsylvania there are 200,000 more votes on election day than there were on the electoral rolls, that is impossible!’” [No Mas Disinfo, 6/2/21]

Following The 2020 Election Salazar Said There Were Reports Of Irregular Voting And That “Only Courts Can Decide On That Evidence [...] We All Trust American Courts.” “Newly elected U.S. Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar: Salazar didn't respond to the Miami Herald's request for comment. On Facebook, five days after the election, she wrote this: ‘We're waiting to hear what happened in Pennsylvania and other states where there are reports ... of irregular voting. Only lawyers can find such evidence and only courts can decide on that evidence. We all trust American courts. Let's look forward to the next few days. We are trusting God to protect this country from all evil.’” [Miami Herald, 11/20/20]
Salazar Was Interviewed The Day Before The Capitol Riot By A YouTuber Who Later Downplayed The Capitol Attack And Said No Police Officers Were Hurt. “The day before the riot, Salazar gave an interview to YouTube host Alexander Otaola, a Miami-based Cuban-American influencer […] Salazar ended the interview, saying, ‘I would love to keep talking all day but my chest is hurting.’ Otaola later downplayed the deadly riot and said inaccurately that no police were hurt, part of a continued effort by some figures in Miami’s Spanish-language media to promote Trump and his false statements regarding the 2020 election.” [Miami Herald, 1/11/21]

Days after the 2020 election was called, Salazar appeared on Fox News and peddled conspiracy theory-style election rhetoric, saying, “we better do something in order to preserve the sanctity of the electoral process” or “we’re doomed.”

November 2020: Just Days After The 2020 Election Was Called, Salazar Appeared On Fox News And Peddled Conspiracy Theory-Style Election Rhetoric. [Salazar]: “So we better do something in order to preserve the sanctity of that electoral process, otherwise the rest of the world, we’re doomed.” [Fox Business News Interview With MARIA BARTIROMO, 11/19/2020]

In November 2020, Salazar refused to respond when asked if they were aware of any Venezuelan efforts to change votes in the 2020 election.

November 2020: Salazar Refused To Respond When Asked If They Were Aware Of Any Venezuelan Efforts To Change Votes In The 2020 Election. “Miami’s three Republicans who will serve in Congress next year, Diaz-Balart, former Miami-Dade Mayor Carlos Gimenez and ex-TV journalist Maria Elvira Salazar, did not respond when asked if they are aware of any Venezuelan efforts to change votes in the 2020 election and if they agree with the Trump legal team's baseless claims. All three have made statements following the election indicating support for Trump's continued legal challenges of President-elect Joe Biden's win.” [Miami Herald, 11/20/20]

Salazar said anyone called to testify about January 6th should “go and tell the truth.”

Salazar Said Anyone Called To Testify About January 6th Should “Go And Tell The Truth.” The Miami Herald Editorial Board wrote, “Miami Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar told a television interviewer over the weekend that anyone called to testify before a congressional investigative panel into what happened Jan. 6 must come forward and tell the truth. Bravo for her! But then Salazar screwed up what he said. Given the GOP's inability — or, let's face it, unwillingness — when it comes to investigating the facts about the attack on Capitol Hill, Salazar initially sounded positively reasonable, even politically worthy. She made the comments in a taped interview with NBC 6's Jackie Nespral that aired Sunday. In it, the first-term Miami Republican responded to a question about the Jan. 6 riots and the five federal GOP representatives facing subpoenas to testify by saying ‘no one is above the law, and everyone who need to be called and questioned should go and tell the truth,’ the Miami Herald reported.” [Miami Herald/El Nuevo Herald, Editorial Board, 5/24/22] Translation

- Spanish Version: “La congresita de Miami María Elvira Salazar dijo el fin de semana a un entrevistador de televisión que cualquiera que sea llamado a declarar ante el panel de investigación del Congreso por lo ocurrido el 6 de enero debe presentarse y decir la verdad. ¡Bravo por ella! Pero luego Salazar arruinó lo que dijo. Dada la incapacidad del Partido Republicano -o, seamos realistas, la falta de voluntad- cuando se trata de investigar los hechos sobre el ataque al Capitolio, Salazar inicialmente sonó positivamente razonable, incluso sonó digna de una política. Hizo los comentarios en una entrevista grabada con Jackie Nespral de NBC 6 que se emitió el domingo. En ella, la republicana de Miami en su primer mandato respondió a una pregunta sobre los disturbios del 6 de enero y los cinco representantes federales del Partido Republicano que enfrentan citaciones para testificar diciendo que ‘nadie está por encima de la ley, y todos los que necesitan ser llamados e interrogados deben ir y decir la verdad,’ según informó el Miami Herald.”

State Election Operations

Instead of working on protecting voter rights, Salazar cosponsored legislation that would require election officials to report the total number of ballots in their possession within one hour of polls closing.

June 2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation That Would Require Election Officials To Report The Total Number Of Ballots In Their Possession Within One Hour Of Polls Closing. The bill was introduced by Byron Donalds and co-sponsored by 9 other Republicans, including Matt Gaetz and Pete Sessions. The bill would require local election officials to report the total number of ballots in their possession within one hour of polls closing. [H.R. 4044, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/25/22]

Salazar Denounced Violence

Salazar On January 6: “I'm Deeply Troubled By What Is Happening In Washington [...] There Is Absolutely No Place For Violence And Rioting In The U.S. Capitol.” “Though she was elected to the U.S. House for Miami’s 27th District in November -- beating incumbent Democratic Rep. Donna Shalala -- she missed the swearing-in for new members on Jan. 3. Her absence since then means she also missed the vote in Congress Wednesday, after Trump-supporting rioters attacked the Capitol, on whether to challenge President-elect Joe Biden's victory. Salazar issued a tweet condemning the violence on Wednesday, which caused five deaths, but did not say what her position was on Republican efforts to overturn the presidential election results. ‘While I am in Miami recovering from COVID-19, I'm deeply troubled by what is happening in Washington,’ Salazar tweeted. ‘I am praying for the safety of my colleagues & our law enforcement. There is absolutely no place for violence and rioting in the U.S. Capitol!’” [Miami Herald, 1/11/21] 2018: Salazar was criticized after the far-right group the Proud Boys attended a protest of her general election opponent.

Miami-Dade GOP Chair Nelson Diaz Apologized After Proud Boys Attended A Planned Protest Of A Donna Shalala Campaign Event. “While Republican lawmakers took turns denouncing the actions of conservative protesters who heckled House Minority Leader Nancy Pelosi outside a campaign event in Coral Gables, the chairman of the Republican Party of Miami-Dade County apologized on Saturday for his ‘unbecoming’ behavior during Wednesday's rally and denounced the extremists in attendance.

Nelson Diaz, who helped organize the protest, was one of a few dozen conservatives who gathered outside Democratic Congressional candidate Donna Shalala's campaign headquarters [...] Diaz, who is Cuban-American, was videotaped during the protest repeatedly banging on a locked door used moments earlier by Pelosi to enter Shalala's campaign offices. He stood by as a member of the so-called Proud Boys, a national organization characterized as a ‘hate group’ by the Southern Poverty Law Center, heckled and hurled expletives at Pelosi as she walked inside. ‘You don't belong here you fking communist,’ the Proud Boy, Enrique Tarrio, is heard yelling. ‘Open up, it's the Proud Boys in here.’” [Mimi Herald, 10/20/18]

Shalala: “If Salazar As A Candidate Is Willing To Unleash Hate Groups At Peaceful Campaign Events That She Disagrees With, What Will She Do If She Is A Member Of Congress?” “Lee's expected appearance was publicly announced during a debate on Tuesday between Shalala and her Republican foe Maria Elvira Salazar, a Cuban-American former broadcast journalist. Shalala is running in a district that is home to some 280,000 Cuban voters. On Saturday, she blamed Salazar for the protesters' ferocity. ‘If Salazar as a candidate is willing to unleash hate groups at peaceful campaign events that she disagrees with, what will she do if she is a Member of Congress?’ Shalala posted in a tweet. ‘This is the choice that voters of #FL27 will make: these thuggish attacks, or the politics of unity and problem-solving that our campaign represents.’” [Mimi Herald, 10/20/18]

Certification

In January 2021, Salazar missed the certification vote because she had COVID-19. Salazar never said how she would have voted had she been at the Capitol.

2021: Due To Contracting COVID, Salazar Missed A Vote In Congress On Whether To Certify The 2020 Election Results. Representatives Maria Elvira Salazar's (FL-27) and Abigail Spanberger's (VA-07) mental health and substance abuse bill (H.R. 7234) passed the House Energy and Commerce Health Subcommittee through unanimous consent as a part of the Restoring Hope for Mental Health and Well-Being Act (H.R. 7666). The Summer Barrow Prevention, Treatment, and Recovery Act (H.R. 7234), named for a 2020 overdose victim, would reauthorize more than $900 million in funding through the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Administration (SAMHSA) to support our nation's fight against the substance use disorder epidemic. According to the CDC, it claimed a record-setting number of lives from October 2020-2021. [Miami Herald, 1/11/2021]

- 2021: Salazar Did Not Say How She Would Have Voted Had She Been At The Capitol. She hasn't said how she would have voted on challenges to Arizona and Pennsylvania's electoral votes. Miami Republican Reps. Carlos Gimenez and Mario Diaz-Balart voted to challenge Arizona and Pennsylvania's Electoral College results. [Miami Herald, 1/11/2021]

In 2001, Salazar said there was “no fraud” in the 2000 election, but instead there were voters who “made mistakes” and if the “wrong votes were counted Gore might have won.”

2001: Salazar Said There Was “No Fraud” In The 2000 Election, But Instead There Were Voters Who “Made Mistakes” And If The “Wrong Votes Were Counted Gore Might Have Won.” “Do you think there was fraud in the presidential elections?” Salazar said, “Fraud no, what happened is that many people made a mistake when voting but, well, the American system does not contemplate doing anything with people who make mistakes like that. If all those wrong votes had been counted, Al Gore might have won.” [El Nuevo Herald, 1/12/01] Translation

- Spanish Version: “Cree que hubo fraude en las elecciones presidenciales?” Salazar dijo, “Fraude no, lo que paso es que mucha gente se equivoco al votar pero, bueno, el sistema americano no contempla hacer nada con la gente que se equivoca asi. Si todos esos votos mal hechos se hubieran contado posiblemente hubiera ganado Al Gore.”

Blockchain

Sponsored Legislation

Salazar introduced legislation to direct the Small Business Administration to study how it might use blockchain technology to make loans to qualified small businesses.

February 2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Direct The Small Business Administration To Study How It Might Use Blockchain Technology To Make Loans To Qualified Small Businesses. In February 2022, Salazar sponsored H.R. 6597, the Blockchain Solutions for Small Businesses Act. The bill would require “the Small Business Administration to study the current and potential uses of blockchain technology (i.e., the technology that supports digital currencies such as Bitcoin) in making loans to qualified small businesses.” The bill is cosponsored by 18 Republicans and 3 Democrats. The bill was referred to the Committee on Small Business, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6597, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 2/03/22]

- The Blockchain Solutions For Small Businesses Act Is Cosponsored By Rep. Ro Khanna And Supported By Major Blockchain Advocacy Organizations. “Today, Representative Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL-27) was joined by Representatives Ro Khanna (D-CA-17) and Young Kim (R-CA-39) to introduce the bipartisan Blockchain Solutions for Small Businesses Act, a bill to improve the Small Business Administration's (SBA) operational efficiency using blockchain technology. At the time of its introduction, Rep. Salazar's bill is the most widely cosponsored legislation supporting blockchain technologies ever introduced in the U.S. Congress... Utilizing blockchain technology would help the SBA: increase access to capital; improve agency efficiency by using secure automation; decrease fraud; and improve agency transparency... The Blockchain Solutions for Small Businesses Act has also received support from multiple organizations..."
SBA Letter

Salazar showed support for blockchain by signing on to a letter to the SBA asking for the feasibility of using blockchain to carry out SBA programs.

2022: Salazar Signed A Letter To The SBA Asking The Agency To Analyze The Feasibility Of Using Blockchain To Carry Out SBA Programs. Representatives Jason Crow (D-CO-06) and María Elvira Salazar (R-FL-27), members of the House Small Business Committee, today pressed to modernize the Small Business Administration (SBA) by looking into using blockchain. In a bipartisan letter to Comptroller General Gene Dodaro, the Members request that the Government Accountability Office conduct a study to analyze the current and potential uses of blockchain technology to carry out the programs and services offered by SBA, including small business lending. Censorship

In January 2021, Salazar said, “censorship is infiltrating the U.S.”

[VIDEO] January 2021: Salazar: “Censorship Is Infiltrating The US.” In a video posted to her Facebook account 15 days after the J6 riots, Salazar claimed in Spanish “I’m highly worried about the censorship infiltrating this country, censorship that I haven't lived through before, where we have the first amendment that gives you the freedom to say what you believe independent of whether we agree or not, and we’ve seen President Trump’s Twitter account be shut down, the New York Post’s account shut down for reporting a story on Hunter Biden.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 01/26/21, 00:20/2:09]

- Spanish version: “Estoy altamente preocupada porque en este país se esta colando la censura, censura la cual yo nunca viví, este país tiene la primera enmienda en la constitución, la cual le permite a usted decir lo que considere independiente de que si yo estoy de acuerdo o no, hemos visto que la cuenta de Twitter del Presidenta se la cerraron, vimos que el New York Post que es uno de los periódicos en Nueva York le cerraron la cuenta en una de las plataformas de las redes sociales porque había reportado una historia noticia sobre Hunter Biden.”

China

Legislation & Advocacy

Salazar has cosponsored multiple bills to hold China accountable. She also signed a letter about China’s growing influence in Latin America.

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Deliver A Report To Congress On Chinese Ports In The Western Hampshire. Earlier today, Congressman Pat Fallon (TX-04) and Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar (FL-27) introduced legislation requiring a report on the capability of Chinese ports in the Western Hemisphere. This bill will require the Director of National Intelligence, in conjunction with the Secretary of State and Secretary of Defense, to deliver a report to appropriate Congressional committees within 180 days of the enactment of this bill. The report must include: 1. An identification of any port located in the Western Hemisphere under control of the Government of the People's Republic of China; and 2. An assessment of the military capability of these ports and any implications this could have for the United States. [State News Service, 2/01/22]

- 2022: Salazar Said, “The United States Will Be Safer Because We Are Working To Ensure That China Cannot Put Naval Bases Near American Shores.” China has started infiltrating ports across Latin America through predatory lending schemes that harm countries and put key national infrastructure at risk. In Peru, China has already begun building at the Port at Chancay, against significant opposition from Peruvian citizens," said Congresswoman Salazar. "China's blatant disregard of environmental concerns and human rights, along with their goal of international military and financial control, means that the U.S. must investigate the real reasons behind their race to own the world's supply chains. The United States will be safer because we are working to ensure that China cannot put naval bases near American shores." [State News Service, 2/01/22]

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Impose Duties On Chinese Merchandise. Rep. Louie Gohmert, R-Texas, has introduced legislation (H.R. 6128) to "direct the President to impose duties on merchandise from the People's Republic of China to compensate holders of U.S. intellectual property rights for losses resulting from violations of such intellectual property rights in China." The bill was introduced on Dec. 2 and was co-sponsored by Reps. Daniel Crenshaw, R-Texas, Rick Crawford, R-Ark., and Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla. It was referred to the House Ways and Means Committee. [Targeted News Service, 12/04/21]

2021: Salazar Signed A Letter To The US Trade Rep Regarding Influence Of China In Latin America And Caribbean Trade And Economic Development. “While the U.S. continues to maintain being the primary trading partner with Central American and Caribbean neighbors, heightened Chinese economic engagement with those neighbors concerns several Congressional members. Over a dozen representatives sent a letter to U.S. Trade Representative Katherine Tai asking for immediate attention to the growing influence of the Chinese Community Party in both Latin America and the Caribbean trade and economic development. China has now surpassed the United States and is the largest non-continental trading partner for 54% of South America. This is a substantial increase from 20 years ago when China had few trade agreements in the region and little economic footprint.” [Southwest Farm Press, 10/13/21]

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Hold The Chinese Government Officials Accountable For Persecution Of Christians. Rep. Vicky Hartzler, R-Mo., has introduced legislation (H.R. 4821) to "hold accountable senior officials of the Government of the People's Republic of China who are responsible for, complicit in, or have directly persecuted Christians in China." The bill was introduced on July 29 and has 35 co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include Reps. Jeff Duncan, R-S.C., Mike Gallagher, R-Wis., Doug Lamborn, R-Colo., Robert B. Aderholt, R-Ala., Robert Latta, R-Ohio, Gus Bilirakis, R-Fla., Randy Weber, R-Texas, Maria Elvira Salazar... [7/31/21]
Confederate Statutes

US Capitol Grounds

Salazar sided with the far-right and white supremacists by voting against the removal of Confederate statutes from the US Capitol grounds.

2021: Salazar voted against removing confederate statues from the US Capitol. “Miami Republican U.S. Rep. María Elvira Salazar was the only South Florida representative to vote "no" on a bill that would remove statues of Confederates and historical figures who defended slavery from the U.S. Capitol.” [Miami Herald, 6/30/2021]

Colombia

Gustavo Petro

Salazar warned Colombians about Petro, tying him to Bernie Sanders and corruption. After Petro won the election, Salazar called Petro a “thief, terrorist, and a marxist.”

June 2022: Salazar Called Colombian President Petro A “Thief, Terrorist, And A Marxist, An Apologist For Castro And Chavez.” “And from the United States, several darts also arrived for Petro. The Cuban-American congresswoman from the Republican Party, María Elvira Salazar, said she was ‘very dismayed’ by the electoral result in Colombia and maintained that Petro ‘is a thief, a terrorist and a Marxist, an apologist for Castro and Chávez.’ The governor of Florida called him a "former Marxist narco-terrorist.’” [Proceso MX, 6/21/22]

November 2021: Salazar: “He Is A Thief, A Socialist, A Marxis, A Terrorist.” “‘He is a thief, a socialist, a Marxist, a terrorist and he is leading the polls for the Presidency of Colombia. Do you share my opinion?’ said the American, of Cuban origin, during an audience with Brian Nichols, the undersecretary for the Western Hemisphere.” [Infobae, 11/17/21] Translation

- Spanish Version: “‘Es un ladrón, un socialista, un marxista, un terrorista y está liderando las encuestas a la Presidencia de Colombia. ¿Comparte mi opinión?,’ afirmó la estadounidense, de origen cubano, durante una audiencia con Brian Nichols, el subsecretario para el Hemisferio Occidental.”
Salazar: “I Have The Opinion To Tell Colombians To Be Careful Because What [Petro] Is Promising Is A Lie.” “In the television newscast Noticias Caracol they consulted with Salazar about his controversial opinion about Petro and the possible criticism that it could bring about. ‘They can say what they want, I have the opinion to tell Colombians to be careful because what they are promising is a lie, it is a farce,’ she replied.” [Infobae, 11/17/21] Translation

- Spanish Version: “En el informativo de televisión Noticias Caracol consultaron con Salazar sobre su controversial opinión sobre Petro y las posibles críticas que le podrían acarrear. ‘Pueden decir lo que ellos quieran, yo tengo la opinión de decirle a los colombianos que tengan cuidado porque lo que les están prometiendo es mentira, es una farsa’, respondió.’

Salazar: “Petro Is A Socialist [...] And No Socialism Is Good.” “Meanwhile, in El American, an anti-leftist Internet news portal for the Hispanic community in the United States, the congresswoman reiterated her opinion about the leader of Human Colombia. ‘Gustavo Petro is a socialist and nothing that has to do with socialism is good. Neither democratic, nor pragmatic, nor sympathetic socialism. No socialism is good,’ they highlighted in that news portal what the congresswoman said in another event which took place outside the Capitol in Washington D.C. where more US congressmen met to pronounce on the situation in Cuba.” [Infobae, 11/17/21] Translation

- Spanish Version: “Entre tanto en El American, un portal de noticias de internet anti-izquierdista y para la comunidad hispana en Estados Unidos, la congresista reiteró su opinión sobre el líder de la Colombia Humana. ‘Gustavo Petro es socialista y nada que tenga que ver con socialismo es bueno. Ni el socialismo democrático, ni el pragmático, ni el simpático. Ningún socialismo es bueno,’ destacaron en ese portal de noticias de lo que dijo la congresista en otro evento que se llevó a cabo en las afueras del Capitolio en Washington D.C. en donde se reunieron más congresistas estadounidenses para pronunciarse sobre la situación en Cuba.”

2022: Salazar Publicly Warned Against Petro Becoming President, Saying He Has Links With Terrorists And Close Ties With Bernie Sanders. “In a new barrage of criticism against the presidential candidate of the Historical Pact, Gustavo Petro Urrego, the representative to the U.S. House of Representatives, María Elvira Salazar, once again launched vehement questionings and predicted for Colombia a supposed gloomy scenario if the current senator of Colombia Humana comes to power. Through a video published in her official Twitter account, the Cuban-born journalist also accused the Colombian politician of having "links with terrorists in Latin America" and accused him of having had past close ties with Bernie Sanders, one of the figures of the gringo left. Salazar, who has become known in Colombia for her closeness with Colombians living in Florida, and who has repeatedly lashed out against Gustavo Petro, asked in her publication "what could someone with such friends offer?" and immediately gave the answer: "Misery, destruction and, in the end, exile," she said.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 3/22/22]

- 2022: Salazar Said Petro Will Bring “More Corruption.” “Other South Florida leaders had expressed their concerns about Petro even before the election. Last week, Republican U.S. Rep. María Elvira Salazar of Miami warned that his victory would be very dangerous for Colombia. "Colombians, be very careful, because Petro will bring more corruption. His promises are precious in theory, but in practice they translate to misery for the people," she said on her Twitter account. “[Miami Herald, 6/20/22]

- 2022: It Was Reported That Salazar Had Pushed Biden To Intervene In The Columbian Election If Necessary To Stop Petro. “A US congresswoman, Representative Maria Elvira Salazar (R-Florida), has called for Biden to intervene if necessary to prevent Petro from becoming president. Gustavo Petro is a thief, a Marxist and a terrorist, she said on Friday. And he wants to be the next president of Colombia, to lead Colombians into misery, hunger and exile. Be very careful, Colombia. Today’s decisions determine tomorrow.” [Economic News, 5/30/22]

[VIDEO] July 2022: Salazar: “A Warning To The Hundreds Of Thousands Of Colombians In The 27th District - The New Commissioner Of Peace Named By President-Elect [Gustavo] Petro, Danilo Rueda, Is A Great Friend Of Fidel Castro.” In July 2022, Salazar shared a video to Twitter warning Colombian-Americans that Colombian President-elect Gustavo’s “new appointed Commissioner of Peace Danilo Rueda is a great admirer, praiser, and friend of Fidel Castro, showing it in these tweets that show what honor he felt when Fidel had given him this book.” [Twitter, Maria Elvira Salazar, 07/29/22, 0:07/1:30]

- Spanish version: “El distrito 27, donde tenemos cientos de miles de Colombianos, por eso esta advertencia, yo no sé si usted sabe que el nuevo comisionado de la paz nombrado por el presidente-electo Petro se llama Danilo Rueda, y Danilo Rueda es un gran admirador, adulador, queridisimo amigo de Fidel Castro, y allí lo demostró el honor que él sentía por ese libro que Fidel le había regalado.”

Petro and a Colombian Senator both claimed Salazar was interfering in a foreign election, and the Senator claimed Salazar was carrying out a “smear campaign” against Petro. They both pointed out that she was “strongly supported” by Uribe, who “illegally intervened.”

Petro: “Uribe Illegally Intervened In The US To Elect [Maria Elvira Salazar] And Now She Intervenes In The Free Decision Of Colombian Citizens.” Petro responded with: “Uribe illegally intervened in the US to elect this congresswoman and now she intervenes in the free decision of Colombian citizens. I am a senator of the Republic of Colombia, thanks to the vote of eight million citizens. Respect!” [Twitter, @petrogustavo, 11/17/21] Translation

2022: A Colombian Senator Claimed Salazar Was Carrying Out A “Smear Campaign” Against Petro And That She Previously “Strongly Supported” Uribe. “Iván Cepeda, senator from Colombia, denounces fraud campaign […] The politician drew attention with a publication on social networks, where he denounced that the North American congresswoman María Elvira Salazar would be carrying out a smear campaign against the leftist candidate Gustavo Petro. In addition, remember that said official strongly supported Álvaro Uribe.” [La Republica, 5/29/22] Translation • Spanish Version: “Iván Cepeda, senador de Colombia, denuncia campaña de fraude [...] El político llamó la atención con una publicación en redes sociales, donde denunciaba que la congresista norteamericana María Elvira Salazar estaría haciendo una campaña de desprestigio contra el candidato de izquierda Gustavo Petro. Además, recuerda que dicha funcionaria apoyó firmemente a Álvaro Uribe.”

Legislation

Salazar introduced legislation to ban from entry into the United States any current or former members of the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia (FARC). She also introduced a resolution affirming US support of Colombia.

December 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Ban From Entry Into The United States Any Current Or Former Members Of The Revolutionary Armed Forces Of Colombia (FARC). In December 2021, Salazar sponsored the No Foreign Adversaries Residing in our Communities Act (the No FARC Act). The bill would “bars any alien who is a present or former member of the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia (also known as FARC) from being admitted into the United States or receiving a visa.” The bill is cosponsored by 14 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on the Judiciary, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6237, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/09/21]

• Salazar Said That The Biden Administration’s Decision To Remove FARC From The List Of Foreign Terrorist Organizations Was An Affront To Colombians. “The No FARC Act denies visas to current and former members of the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia (FARC). This bill comes a direct response to President Biden’s reckless and unilateral decision to remove the FARC from the State Department’s list of Foreign Terrorist Organizations. The Biden Administration made the decision without properly consulting Congress, the Colombian Government, or the Colombian-American community in the United States.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/09/21]

2021: Salazar Introduced Resolution Reaffirming US Support Of Colombia. “Representatives Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27), Mario Diaz-Balart (FL-25), Carlos A. Gimenez (FL-26), and Michael Waltz (FL-6) introduced a resolution reaffirming the United States’ commitment to Colombia, America’s strongest ally in Latin America. This resolution condemns any efforts to undermine democracy and encourages the international community to join the United States in standing with Colombia. The resolution also calls for U.S. support for Colombia in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, including providing excess vaccine doses to help revitalize Colombia’s economy.” [Targeted News Services, 6/23/21]

COVID Diagnosis

Salazar missed her swearing-in due to contracting COVID.
2020: Salazar Got COVID-19 Prior To Being Sworn Into Congress, Which Forced Her To Miss The Swearing-In Ceremony And Resulted In Her Getting Sworn In Days Later. "Republican Rep.-elect Maria Elvira Salazar has COVID-19, is self-isolating, and will miss the congressional swearing-in ceremonies in Washington D.C. on Sunday. Her office revealed Thursday that she was admitted to Doctors Hospital in Miami on Dec. 23 with heart arrhythmia and was diagnosed with COVID-19. She received treatment and was released the next day. She has been self-isolating at home and will do so for at least 14 days while she recovers, based on guidance from her doctors and medical professionals, her office said. 'I am incredibly thankful to the tireless front-line medical workers in our community, who help so many people combatting the COVID-19 pandemic. I am in quarantine at home and getting better each day,' she said in a news release. 'I look forward to hitting the ground running for my community, once it is medically permissible.' On Sunday, the 117th Congress will convene and members will be sworn in. Leadership votes will also be taken.” [Florida Politics, 12/31/2020]

Schools

In March 2021, during the COVID-19 pandemic, Salazar cosponsored legislation to reopen schools. In May 2022, Salazar also cosponsored legislation to overturn vaccine and mask requirements in some federal education programs.

March 2021: Salazar Co-Sponsored H.R. 682, The Reopen Schools Act. The bill would withhold emergency education funding from any local education agencies that do not provide in-person instruction to at least 50% of their students. The bill was introduced by Ashley Hinson and co-sponsored by 86 other Republicans, including Madison Cawthorne, Ronny Jackson, Liz Cheney, Steve Scalise, Lauren Boebert, Louie Gohmert, and Dan Crenshaw. [H.R. 682, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/25/22]

May 2022: Salazar Co-Sponsored H.J.Res. 81, Providing For Congressional Disapproval Under Chapter 8 Of Title 5, United States Code, Of The Rule Submitted By The Department Of Health And Human Services Relating To "Vaccine And Mask Requirements To Mitigate The Spread Of COVID-19 In Head Start Programs". The resolution would overturn vaccine and mask requirements in certain federal education programs. The bill was introduced by David P Joyce and co-sponsored by 27 other Republicans, including Mo Brooks, Paul Gosar, Louie Gohmert, Marjorie Taylor Greene, Lauren Boebert, Andy Biggs, Matt Gaetz, and Madison Cawthorne. [H.J.Res. 81, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/25/22]

Small Business

In June 2021, Salazar introduced legislation to direct the Small Business Administration to increase the loan limits for the disaster loan program.

June 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Direct The Small Business Administration (SBA) To Increase The Loan Limits For The Disaster Loan Program. In June 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 4215, the Rebuilding Communities After Disasters Act. The bill would “require the Small Business Administration (SBA) to increase the loan limits for the disaster loan program and to communicate certain information about the program following disasters.” The bill is cosponsored by 30 Republicans and 9 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Small Business, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 4215, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 7/02/21]

- The Bill Would Double The Maximum Loan Amounts For SBA Physical Damage Disaster Loans To Bring Limits More In Line With Current Home Prices. “The Rebuilding Communities After Disasters Act ensures homeowners have adequate resources to recover from natural disasters. Specifically, it increases the maximum loan amount for SBA physical damage disaster loans from $200,000 to $400,000 for home repair, and from $40,000 to $75,000 to replace household and personal belongings, bringing the loans limits in line with today’s home prices to help homeowners fully recover from unavoidable disasters. The limits on these loans have not been increased since 1994 - over 25 years - when the average home price in the United States was $106,000. The bill would also require the SBA to market these loans to homeowners in a declared disaster area through all media platforms and to provide a yearly report to Congress on the progress of the loan program.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 7/02/21]

In March 2021, Salazar introduced legislation to extend the time to repay economic injury disaster loans.

March 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Extend The Time To Repay Economic Injury Disaster Loans. In March 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 1533, the COVID Economic Injury Disaster Loan Relief Act. The bill would “extend the deferment of a borrower’s payments on an economic injury disaster loan taken in response to COVID-19 (i.e., coronavirus disease 2019) from one year to two years from the date on which the loan is made.” The bill is cosponsored by 9 Democrats and 4 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Small Business, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 1533, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 3/03/21]

- This Legislation Did Not Pass, But Its Intent Has Been Implemented. In September 2021, The Deferment Period Was Extended To Two Years. “As of September 8, 2021, new COVID EIDL policy changes took effect as follows: ...Extend the deferment period to 24 months from origination for all loans (existing loans with a less than 24-month deferment will be adjusted)” [Small Business Administration, COVID-19 Economic Injury Disaster Loan, About COVID-19 EIDL, accessed 8/08/22]

In 2022, Salazar signed onto a letter to the IRS to urge faster delivery of the Employee Retention Tax Credit (ERTC) designed for small businesses to respond to COVID.

2022: Salazar Signed Onto A Letter To The IRS To Urge Faster Delivery Of The Employee Retention Tax Credit (ERTC) Designed For Small Businesses To Respond To COVID. “Today, Congressman Andy Levin (D-Michigan) and Congresswoman Carol Miller (R-West Virginia), led a bipartisan group of 66 of their colleagues in a letter to the Commissioner of the Internal Revenue Service, Charles P. Rettig, highlighting the urgent need to deliver Employee Retention Tax Credit (ERTC) payments to Americans across the country. Despite the tax credit being designed to provide relief to businesses facing COVID-19 related revenue reductions, many small business owners nationwide are reporting wait times of eight to ten months to receive payments.” [Congressional Documents and Publications, 4/7/22]
In 2021, Salazar introduced legislation to allow craft breweries to have access to increased PPP loan eligibility due to pandemic business losses.

2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Allow Craft Breweries To Have Access To Increased PPP Loan Eligibility Due To Pandemic Business Losses. “Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar (FL-27) introduced the bipartisan Fairness for Craft Beverage Producers Act alongside Congresswoman Jennifer Wexton (VA-10). Congresswoman Salazar was recently selected to serve as the Ranking Member of the Small Business Subcommittee on Contracting and Infrastructure. [...] These craft beverage producers were inadvertently excluded from increased maximum PPP loan amount eligibility, which is designed to aid the hardest-hit small businesses like restaurants and bars. The bill makes a similar correction to fix an oversight which excluded these businesses from receiving extended debt relief on other loans from the Small Business Administration (SBA).” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 2/11/2021]

Cruise Ships

In April 2021, Salazar introduced legislation to end the COVID-19 closure of cruise ships.

April 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To End The COVID-19 Closures Of Cruise Ships. In April 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 2554, the Careful Resumption Under Improved Safety Enhancements Act (CRUISE Act). The bill would “establish a working group comprised of specified federal departments and industry stakeholders to develop recommendations for resuming cruise ship operations.” The bill is cosponsored by 14 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Energy and Commerce Subcommittee on Health, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 2554, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 4/16/21]

- The Bill Would Revoke The CDC’s Current No Sail Order On Cruises And Require The CDC To Provide COVID-19 Mitigation Guidance For Cruise Lines To Resume Safe Domestic Operations. “Today Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar (FL-27), the Dean of the U.S. House of Representatives, Congressman Don Young (AK-AL), and a number of their House colleagues, introduced the Careful Resumption Under Improved Safety Enhancements (CRUISE) Act, which would revoke the CDC’s current No Sail Order on cruises and require the CDC to provide COVID-19 mitigation guidance for cruise lines to resume safe domestic operations… It has been almost 400 days since a passenger stepped foot on a cruise ship from U.S. soil. Ships have been anchored at port for over a year. The suspension in U.S. cruise departures has resulted in the loss of $5.64 billion to the State of Florida’s economy, the loss of 91,450 jobs, and the loss of $4.44 billion in wages. The ripple effects of these devastating losses are being felt across the nation.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 4/16/21]

Airplane Mask Mandate

In 2022, Salazar pushed for an end to mask and testing mandates for travel. Once the mask mandate was lifted, Salazar said that she was “free at last.”

- 2022: Salazar Signed Onto A Letter Asking Biden For An End To Testing Requirements To Fly Into America. “Rep. Jack Bergman and 13 of his colleagues sent a letter to President Joe Biden requesting the elimination of pre-departure COVID-19 testing mandates for passengers traveling to the United States. The federal government currently requires proof of a negative COVID-19 test one day before flying to our country. As the impact of COVID-19 dwindles, this mandate no longer serves our public health needs and creates an undue burden on all travelers - whether they are Americans returning home, family and friends who wish to visit the United States, or tourists. Additionally, the pre-departure testing mandate harms U.S. tourism and discourages travel for Americans desiring to fly on U.S. airlines overseas. With other countries, including the United Kingdom, already making science-based decisions to drop similar mandates, our leaders should remove this complication for travel and return to normalcy.” [Targeted News Service, 3/19/22]

Salazar Tweeted That She Was “Free At Last” When The Mandate To Wear Masks On Airplanes Was Lifted In April 2022. “On my way back to Washington for the first time since the mask mandate was revoked. Free at last 🛬✈️🇺🇸 De regreso a Washington por primera vez desde que se revocó el mandato de máscaras. Libre al fin 🛬✈️🇺🇸.”

2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Direct The Dept. Of Commerce To Establish A Travel And Tourism Recovery Strategy For Pandemics And Other Disasters. “Congressman Neal Dunn (FL-02), Congressman Darren Soto (FL-09), and Congresswoman Maria Salazar (FL-27) recently introduced the Travel and Tourism Act (H.R. 7820). This bill would require the Secretary of Commerce to identify the resources, regulatory changes, and private sector engagement needed to achieve annual tourism goals. [...] The Travel and Tourism Act requires the Secretary of Commerce to establish a travel and tourism recovery strategy for pandemics and other disasters. In addition, this bill would authorize the creation of an advisory board under the Department of Commerce composed of leaders in the travel and tourism industry.” [State News Service, 5/26/22]

Vaccines

In May 2021, Salazar introduced legislation to distribute excess COVID-19 vaccines to Western Hemisphere allies as a diplomatic move.

May 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Distribute Excess COVID-19 Vaccines To Western Hemisphere Allies As A Diplomatic Move. In May 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 3236, the American Medical Investment Generating Overseas Security Act (AMIGOS Act). The bill would “prohibit the President from taking action to support the waiver of certain intellectual property obligations” related to COVID-19 vaccines, and “establish prioritization for allocating excess COVID-19 vaccines to other countries” and “require that such vaccines be marked as assistance from the American people or the United States.” The bill is cosponsored by 6 Republicans. The bill was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs and the Committee on Ways and Means, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 3236, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/14/21]

• The Bill Would Use Covid-19 Vaccines As A Diplomatic Tool To Promote American Interests In The Western Hemisphere And Counteract Moves By Russia And China. “The United States is leading the world’s COVID-19 response - we developed the most effective vaccines and have made the largest contributions to global health organizations like COVAX and GAVI to deliver vaccines directly to vulnerable communities. However, the United States has no strategic surplus vaccine diplomacy strategy. "Rather than crushing free market innovation, the U.S. should be proposing bold surplus vaccine donation plans, increase awareness of current U.S. efforts, and ramp up vaccine manufacturing," said Congresswoman Salazar. "Our most vulnerable allies and neighbors, especially in Latin America and the Caribbean are counting on us to get this right and slow viral spread and COVID-19 mutations. I’ve introduced the AMIGOS Act to develop a strategy for effective U.S. vaccine diplomacy and counter Communist China’s and Putin’s Russia’s growing influence in our hemisphere." This strategy only takes effect once every eligible American has had the chance to receive the vaccine. Specifically, the AMIGOS Act implements a strategy to prioritize surplus vaccine distribution to our neighbors in the Western Hemisphere as well as key U.S. allies and partners across the globe, requiring USA branding so that an American flag is emblazoned on every surplus vaccine we provide to other countries. It also prevents the Administration from signing over American Intellectual Property (IP) through the World Trade Organization without Congressional approval.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/14/21]
2021: Early In The COVID-19 Vaccine Rollout, Salazar Joined Many In The Florida Delegation In Asking The Federal Government For An Increased Vaccine Supply Due To The Influx Of Snowbirds. “Members of Florida's congressional delegation asked the federal government Thursday for more COVID-19 vaccines to account for the thousands of seasonal residents who move to the state during the winter months, saying that the influx of ‘snowbirds’ is straining the initial allotment. Seventeen of the state's 27 House members, along with Republican Sen. Marco Rubio, sent a letter to Health and Human Services Secretary Alex Azar and Operation Warp Speed COO Gen. Gustave Perna asking to increase Florida's vaccine allocation from the federal government. The letter was signed by 16 Republicans and two Democrats: Broward County Rep. Ted Deutch and Central Florida Rep. Stephanie Murphy. Miami Republican Reps. Carlos Gimenez, Maria Elvira Salazar and Mario Diaz-Balart also signed the letter.” [Miami Herald, 1/14/21]

- 2021: The Request By The Florida Delegation Was Denied. “The Department of Health and Human Services declined to change the allocation of COVID-19 vaccines to account for the thousands of seasonal residents who move to Florida during the winter months after a majority of the state's members of Congress asked it to do so in January.” [Miami Herald, 3/01/21]

2022: Salazar Signed A letter Asking For Additional US Funding For Global COVID Vaccination Efforts. “Today, Congressman Raja Krishnamoorthi (IL-08) led a bipartisan letter in support of increased global vaccination funding to key leaders of the House Appropriations Committee with Reps. Tom Malinowski (NJ-07), Jason Crow (CO-06), María Elvira Salazar (FL-27), Peter Meijer (MI-03), Brian Fitzpatrick (PA-01), Brad R. Wenstrup (OH-02), Ami Bera, M.D (CA-07), Dina Titus (NV-01), and Jim Himes (CT-04). The letter, addressed to the Chairs and Ranking Members of the House Committee on Appropriations and the House Appropriations Subcommittee on State, Foreign Operations, and Related Programs, called for robust additional funding for U.S global vaccination programs through the FY22 appropriations process in order to end the pandemic, restore American global moral leadership, strengthen bilateral relationships across the world, and counter the influence of the People ’ s Republic of China.” [Impact News Service, 3/8/22]

Spike In Cases

July 2020: Salazar said COVID cases spiked in South Florida because people went to beaches and bars, did not social distance, and did not wear masks.

July 2020: Salazar Said Covid Cases Spiked In South Florida Because People Went To Beaches And Bars, Did Not Social Distance, And Did Not Wear Masks. “[SALAZAR:] Well, we are very concerned because, you know, our young people thought that this was over and what happened is that they went out and went to the beaches, and went to the bars and they -- they didn't keep social distancing. [BARTIROMO:] Yes. [SALAZAR:] They didn't put any masks. And then we spiked up. [BARTIROMO:] Yes. [SALAZAR:] And now we are in a situation where it's costing us economically speaking. And -- and we understand.” [Fox Business, 7/9/20]
Biden Policy

Salazar appears to have flip-flopped on U.S. Cuba policy once she became a Member of Congress. In 2022, Salazar said, “the Biden Administration reopening US-Cuba relations gives oxygen to the Castro regime.” However, in 2016, Salazar described Obama’s visit to Cuba as “historic,” “noble,” and showed that the Cuban people “are not alone.”

[VIDEO] May 2022: Salazar: “The Biden Administration Reopening US-Cuba Relations Gives Oxygen To The Castro Regime.” In a Spanish-language Facebook video shared by Telemundo 51’s Alexis Boentes, Salazar said “The Biden Administration has reopened relations with Cuba, giving oxygen to the Castro regime.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 05/17/22, 0:10/3:35]

- 2018: Salazar’s Primary Opponents Criticized Her For Calling Obama’s Policy Change Toward Cuba “Noble.” “During her acceptance speech, Salazar denounced the ‘misleading’ attacks on her waged by all eight of her opponents, who claimed she ingratiated herself to former Cuban leader Fidel Castro during a rare interview she conducted with him in 1995. During the interview, snippets of which were used in an attack ad by a self-described ‘political hitman,’ Salazar refers to the strong-man dictator as ‘comandante’ and ‘un revolucionario por excelencia.’ Her demeanor was criticized by some candidates in the primary as ‘flirtatious’ and inappropriate, especially for a politician looking to represent nearly 300,000 Cubans who live in the district and replace the first Cuban-American politician to serve in Congress. She was also criticized for calling former President Barack Obama’s policy change toward Cuba as ‘noble.’” [Miami Herald, 8/28/18]

Salazar has been critical of Biden’s policy towards Cuba, including claiming he was providing concessions to Cuba.

2022: Salazar Spoke Out Against Biden Lifting Trump’s Restrictions On Flights To Cuba. “The U.S. government on Wednesday revoked restrictions on flights into Cuba imposed by the administration of former President Donald Trump. The order was issued by the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT) and ends the ban on U.S. flights to Cuban airports outside Havana. Since the end of 2019, regular passenger flights from the United States could only be made to the country’s capital, although some airlines were authorized to carry humanitarian cargo to airports in other Cuban provinces. The suspension of flights by U.S. companies involved nine Cuban airports, among them those of Matanzas, Cienfuegos, Cayo Coco, Cayo Largo, Camagüey, Manzanillo and Santiago de Cuba. The measures imposed by the Trump administration also included a ban on charter flights to any Cuban airport except Havana and a limit on charter flights to the capital [...] Representatives Mario Díaz-Balart, Michael McCaul, Mark Green, Maria Elvira Salazar and Carlos Gimenez also spoke out against the Biden administration’s policy.” [CE Latin America Migration English, 6/01/22]

2021: Salazar Blasted Biden For Extending Visas To The Cuban Baseball Team, But Not Children With Cancer Waiting For Humanitarian Visas. “Cuban-American Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar called it inconceivable that the administration of President Joe Biden would grant visas to Cuban baseball players who played in the pre-Olympics in Florida, while children with cancer wait for a humanitarian visa [...] "How is it possible that the Biden Administration has given visas to the Castro dictatorship's ball team while I have cases in my district of children with cancer waiting for their humanitarian visas? It's inconceivable!" said Salazar on his social media and attached a video of an intervention. "Yes, for baseball players, but no, for children with cancer," the congresswoman said, questioning who makes, in the current administration, those decisions that affect the heart of her Florida district." [CE Latin America Migration English, 6/24/21]

2022: Salazar Slammed Biden, With Other Republicans In A Joint Statement, For Providing “Concessions” To Cuban Leadership. “During Cuba’s historic anti-regime protests last year, President Biden said '[t]he United States stands with the brave Cubans who have taken to the streets to oppose 62 years of repression under a communist regime. ' Yet today, while hundreds of activists remain unlawfully imprisoned, the White House is resurrecting President Obama’s failed policy of unilateral concessions to the Castro/Díaz-Canel criminal dictatorship. Rather than supporting their pleas for freedom by expanding democracy programming, broadcasting, global diplomacy, and sanctions against their oppressors, the Biden White House is rewarding the Western Hemisphere’s longest ruling communist dictatorship with high level talks, easing sanctions, increased travel, and access to U.S financial institutions. Appeasing Cuba’s murderous regime does not comply with the statutory requirements in U.S law and undercuts America’s support for Cuba’s democratic opposition.” [Impact News Service, 5/23/22]

2022: Salazar Was Highly Critical Of The Biden Administration, Including Blinken, Ahead Of A Planned Discussion Between The US And Cuba For Not Including The Exile Community. “Cuban-born Republican Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar criticized U.S. Secretary of State Antony Blinken on Wednesday for not including the Cuban exile community in his talks with the Havana government and said that he had broken his promise to do so. In a letter sent to Blinken, the Republican demands that the exile community be included in the next meeting that the Administration of Democrat President Joe Biden will hold with a Cuban delegation headed by the Vice Minister of Foreign Affairs, Carlos Fernandez de Cossio. Representatives of the United States and Cuba will meet this Thursday in Washington to discuss migration issues, in the first high-level dialogue between the two countries since Biden’s arrival at the White House." [CE Noticias Financieras English, 4/20/22]

- 2022: Salazar Said SOS Blinken Had Given Her “His Word” That Te Exile Community Would Be Included In Any Talks And Requested To Attend The Meeting. "Secretary Blinken gave me his word when he testified before Congress last year" and he has broken it by not consulting with the Cuban-American exile community, Congresswoman Salazar said in a statement. To alleviate this situation, the congresswoman asked the State Department to allow her to attend this "ill-advised meeting" with the government of the island in order to represent her constituents in Miami-Dade County, where a large Cuban community lives. In the letter, Salazar assured that not only was the exile community not consulted, but that the federal Congress did not have news of these conversations until a few days ago. [CE Noticias Financieras English, 4/20/22]

- 2022: Salazar Asked The Biden Administration To Reconsider The Planned Talks. “Florida Republican Congressmen María Elvira Salazar, Mario Díaz-Balart and Carlos Giménez asked the Biden Administration to reconsider the round of immigration negotiations with the Cuban regime, scheduled to begin this Thursday in Washington. "We write to express our grave concern regarding the plans announced by the Biden Administration to organize migration talks in Washington, DC with the totalitarian and terrorist state in Cuba," the representatives said in a letter sent to Secretary of State Antony Blinken.” [CE Latin America Migration English, 4/21/22]

- 2022: Salazar Wrote "Instead Of Negotiating, We Believe That You Should Not Go Forward With The Ill-Conceived Plan To Negotiate With Operatives Of The Cuban Dictatorship." "Instead of negotiating, we believe that you should not go forward with the ill-conceived plan to negotiate with operatives of the Cuban dictatorship. At a minimum, we suggest that you mention the regime's numerous human rights abuses related to migration, including the right to leave and return to one's country. We also believe he should emphasize the Migration Agreements' guarantee that Cuban citizens who are forcibly repatriated are monitored upon return to Cuba to ensure that they do not face reprisals for trying to escape communist tyranny." [CE Latin America Migration English, 4/21/22]

Salazar joined other Florida Republicans in urging Biden to make Cuba a top priority.

- 2021: Salazar Joined Rubio In Demanding For Biden To Make Cuba A “Diplomatic Priority.” “...a group of Republican legislators, led by Cuban-Americans Marco Rubio, Maria Elvira Salazar and Mario Diaz-Balart, demanded Tuesday that Biden make Cuba "a diplomatic priority", given the repression by the Executive of Miguel Diaz-Canel of the movement of "intellectuals, young people and artists who want political freedom". Cuba experienced intense days of protests in July that attracted the attention of the international community.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 11/17/21]

2021: Salazar Signed A Letter To Urge Biden Early In His Term To Implement A Cuba Policy That Holds The Country’s Leaders Accountable For Human Rights Abuses. "This morning, Rep. Mark Green, Ranking Member of the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on the Western Hemisphere, and Subcommittee members Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) and Rep. August Pfluger (TX-11) sent a letter to President Biden calling on him to implement a Cuba policy that holds the regime accountable for its human rights abuses and support for authoritarian regimes in the region. In their letter, the lawmakers express grave concern about the threat Cuba's communist dictatorship poses to the national security of the United States and the stability of the Western Hemisphere. The letter urges President Biden to take the steps necessary to restrict the flow of U.S. dollars to the Cuban military, maintain designations that hold the regime accountable for its support for global terrorism, and continue support for democracy on the island." [Targeted News Service, 2/27/21]

Salazar allegedly requested to meet with Biden about Cuba, including claiming that she sometimes made the request three times a day.

2021: Salazar joined a group of GOP members and requested a meeting with Biden to discuss Cuba and support the Cuban people. “Today, Senator Rick Scott joined House Republican Leader Kevin McCarthy, Senator Marco Rubio, Representatives Mario Diaz-Balart, Carlos Gimenez, Maria Elvira Salazar and other members of Congress in a letter to the President Biden requesting a meeting as soon as possible to discuss how the White House and Congress can work together to end the oppressive Cuban regime and support the Cuban people’s fight for freedom and democracy.” [Impact News Service, 7/27/21]

- 2021: Salazar Claimed She Called The White House Three Times A Day To Meet About Cuba.
  SALAZAR: “Well, I have the same message. And as I was telling you, we are very frustrated. We are very upset, because we have called respectfully. And we have told the Biden administration, this has nothing to do with political parties. HANNITY: Can you not meet with Joe Biden? Will he not with you? SALAZAR: He will not meet with us. RUBIO: We’ve asked for meetings. It hasn't happened so far. SALAZAR: Yeah. I am asking the White House three times – HANNITY: That’s despicable. SALAZAR: Three times a day, Sean.” [Fox News Network FOX HANNITY, 7/21/2021]

2021: Salazar Called On Biden To Lead A Military Intervention To Protect Cubans, But Added, “We Cannot Trust Biden's Stance On Cuba.” “Also Republican and Cuban-American congresswoman María Elvira Salazar addressed President Biden to tell him that Cubans ‘don't need study groups.’ ‘We need action now,’ stressed Salazar, who, like other legislators and Cuban exile leaders in Miami, has insistently asked Biden that the United States lead a military intervention to protect Cubans from the repression unleashed by the island's authorities and help them to recover freedom and democracy for the island. ‘We cannot trust Biden's stance on Cuba to support freedom fighters. He has shown in the past that he supports a relaxation of pressure on the communist regime by allowing remittances and lifting the embargo,’ she said.” [CE Noticias Financieras Spanish, 7/20/21] Translation
• Spanish Version: “La también congresista republicana y cubano-estadounidense María Elvira Salazar se dirigió al presidente Biden para decirle que los cubanos ‘no necesitan grupos de estudio.’ ‘Necesitamos acción ya,’ subrayó Salazar, quien al igual que otros legisladores y dirigentes del exilio cubano en Miami ha pedido insistentemente a Biden que EEUU encabece una intervención militar para proteger a los cubanos de la represión desatada por las autoridades de la isla y ayudarles a recuperar la libertad y la democracia para la isla. ‘No podemos confiar en que la postura de Biden sobre Cuba sea de apoyo a los luchadores por la libertad. Ha demostrado en el pasado que apoya una relajación de la presión sobre el régimen comunista, al permitir las remesas y levantar el embargo,’ dijo.”

Afro-Cubans

Salazar said that AOC and the squad should defend Afro-Cubans the same way they are trying to defend African American rights, saying the “double standard” is “sickening.”

“So when you were talking about Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, my colleague on the floor on the other side of the aisle, what I'm saying to them and to the Squad is that the same way that you're trying to defend the rights of the African-Americans in this country, why don't you defend the rights of the Afro-Cubans in Cuba? It's the same race. The double standard is impossible. It's sickening. This is the time for everyone...” [Fox News with Niel Cavuto, 7/16/21]

Émigrés

2021: Salazar introduced a bill to make it easier for Cuban émigrés to have family join them in the U.S.

Salazar Introduced The Cuban Family Reunification Modernization Act To Allow Eligible Citizens And Permanent Residents To Apply To Have Family Join Them In The U.S. “South Florida Republicans announced Monday they’re introducing a bill in Congress that would jump-start a federal program that helps reunite Cuban families by resuming consular services on the island from Guantánamo Bay amid a growing backlog of applications. U.S. Reps. María Elvira Salazar, Carlos Gimenez, Mario Díaz-Balart and Stephanie Murphy, a Central Florida Democrat, are co-sponsoring the Cuban Family Reunification Modernization Act of 2021, which would restart processing claims under the Cuban Family Reunification Parole Program, known as CFRP. The humanitarian program allows eligible citizens and permanent residents in the U.S. to apply for their relatives on the island to join them in the U.S. while they wait for their immigration visas to be issued.” [Miami Herald, 4/19/21]

Migration

Salazar has supported multiple efforts for Cuban migrants, including requesting the renewal of Cuban consular services, calling for the release of Cubans detained by ICE, and reactivating the family reunification program.
2022: Salazar Requested The Renewal Of Cuban Consular Services And Requested That Priority Be Given To Advocates Of Human Rights And Those With Medical Needs. “U.S. Congressmen of Cuban origin Mario Diaz-Balart, Maria Elvira Salazar and Carlos Gimenez raised with U.S. President Joe Biden, a Democrat, the need to reestablish regular consular services in Cuba. In a letter dated February 3, the three Florida Republican representatives also requested that priority consular access be given to Cuban advocates of democratic change and human rights, as well as those with urgent humanitarian or medical needs. "It was particularly insulting to many in our districts when agents of the regime and their favorites, such as professional baseball players, were able to access consular services on the island, while the vast majority of the most deserving Cubans were forced to travel to a third country at considerable expense," the letter reads. Salazar, Diaz-Balart and Gimenez suggested that applicants be carefully vetted to ensure that no human rights abusers can enter the United States. They also asked Biden to resume as soon as possible the processing of applications for the Cuban Family Reunification Permit Program (CFRP), which was put on hold in 2018 following health problems suffered by diplomats and staff of the U.S. mission in Havana. They recalled that to remedy the situation they introduced the bipartisan Cuban Family Reunification Modernization for Cubans Act in Congress in 2021, which authorizes the State Department in coordination with the Department of Homeland Security and the Department of Defense to resume processing CFRP applications. The lawmakers also urged the president to carefully consider how security and other non-U.S. personnel are selected at the U.S. mission in Cuba.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 2/04/22]

During The COVID-19 Pandemic, Salazar Called For The Biden Administration To Release Cubans Detained By ICE And Grant Them Permanent Residence Because They “Fled A Repressive Dictatorship.” “The population in ICE centers could decrease even more if President Joe Biden heeds the petition presented by Republican representatives Mario Díaz-Balart, María Elvira Salazar and Carlos Giménez. The legislators ask the Democratic administration to release the hundreds of Cubans detained by the agency and also grant them permanent residence. ‘They are Cubans who have fled a repressive dictatorship with one of the worst human rights records in our hemisphere,’ says a letter sent to Secretary of National Security Alejandro Mayorkas.” [CE Latin America Migration Spanish 3/17/21]

2021: Salazar Added Her Name To A Letter To The National Security Secretary Asking For Cubans Detained By ICE Be Released. “Giménez sent a letter to Mayorkas for release and permanent residence for hundreds of Cuban migrants detained at immigration and customs control (ICE) centers. "They are Cubans who have fled a repressive dictatorship with one of the worst human rights records in our hemisphere," says the letter also signed by Congressmen Mario Díaz-Balart and María Elvira Salazar.” [CE Latin America Migration English, 3/16/21]
2021: Salazar Authored Legislation To Reactivate The Family Reunification Program And Remove Cubans From Limbo In The Program And Host Interviews At Guantanamo. “Guantanamo Naval Base could host interviews for the Family Reunification Program (CFRP). This is how it has been included in a bill that will be presented to the House of Representatives on Tuesday by Republican congressmen Mario Díaz-Balart and María Elvira Salazar. At a press conference on Monday, Díaz-Balart said the initiative would help reactivate the Family Reunification Program and remove its Cuban beneficiaries from the limbo they find themselves in after the partial closure of the U.S. Embassy on the island.” [CE Latin America Migration English, 4/19/21]

Salazar claimed Cuba was using immigration to create “chaos” at the U.S. southern border.

2021: Salazar Said That Cuba Was Using Immigration To Create “Chaos” At The US Southern Border By Nicaragua Providing Low-Cost Visas. “On the Radio Mambí program, Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar pointed out that Daniel Ortega wants to create chaos on the U.S. border "This is a new initiative that shows that Daniel, very intelligently, is telling Cuba, 'we are going to create chaos on the border, and I am going to give you the step to do it,'" [CE Latin America Migration English, 11/24/21]

• 2021: Sen Rubio Backed Up Salazar’s Claims About Cuban Migration Through Central America. “Senator Marco Rubio described as a "hostile act" the Cuban regime's strategy of using mass migration as a "weapon" against the U.S. government, such a maneuver is apparently being encouraged by the dictatorship of Daniel Ortega in Nicaragua that approved the visa-free for all Cubans. "This summer I expressed my concern and warned that the Cuban regime would use mass migration as a weapon following the historic July 11 protests. The Ortega-Murillo regime is helping the Cuban dictatorship by eliminating visa requirements to instigate mass migration to our southern border. The Biden administration must respond quickly and take this for what it is: a hostile act,"Rubio told Univision.” [CE Latin America Migration English, 11/24/21]

State Sponsor Of Terrorism

In January 2021, Salazar introduced a bill to prevent Cuba from being removed from the list of state sponsors of terrorism until certain conditions were met.

January 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Prohibit The Removal Of Cuba From The List Of State Sponsors Of Terrorism. In January 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 287, the Fighting Oppression until the Reign of Castro Ends Act (FORCE Act). The bill would “prohibits removing Cuba from the list of state sponsors of terrorism until the President makes the determination that a transition government in Cuba is in power.” The bill is cosponsored by 21 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 287, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 1/13/21]

• The Bill Would Prohibit The United States From Removing Cuba From The List Of State Sponsors Of Terror Until The Country Frees All Political Prisoners And Transitions Away From The Castro Regime. “The State Department recently redesignated the Castro regime in Cuba as a State Sponsor of Terrorism for granting safe harbor to terrorist fugitives and engaging in international terrorism. To ensure compliance and stop Cuba from sponsoring terrorism, this bill prevents the brutal Castro dictatorship from being removed from the State Sponsor of Terrorism List until they meet the requirements of Section 205 of the LIBERTAD Act (P.L. 104-114). Section 205 of the LIBERTAD Act requires Cuba to comply with the following conditions: Release all its political prisoners and allow for investigations of Cuban prisons by appropriate international human rights organizations; Transition away from the Castro regime to a system that guarantees the rights of the Cuban people to express themselves freely; Commit to holding free and fair elections. These are the very same requirements that must be met to lift the embargo and accompanying sanctions towards the regime. In other words, this bill forces the regime to comply with existing U.S. law.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 1/13/21]

• Salazar’s First Bill As A Member Of Congress Was To Prevent The Biden Administration From Removing Cuba From The List Of Countries That Promote And Finance Terrorism. “The newly elected congresswoman María Elvira Salazar, who occupies the 27th district seat in Miami, began her term with a bill co-sponsored by other Cuban-Americans that aims to prevent a new thaw between the Democratic administration and the Cuban regime. ‘Very proud of my first bill,’ Salazar said on social media, where she is followed by tens of thousands of people. The proposal seeks to prevent the Democratic administration from removing Cuba from the list of countries that promote and finance terrorism, from which it had been excluded by then President Barack Obama in 2015.” [El Nuevo Herald, 1/14/21] Translation

La propuesta busca impedir que la administración demócrata retire a Cuba de la lista de países que promueven y financian el terrorismo, de donde había sido excluida por el entonces presidente Barack Obama en 2015.”

Trump Policy

2018: Salazar praised Trump’s Cuba policy but urged him to “do more.”

Salazar Praised Trump’s Cuba Policy But Said He Should Do More To “Fulfill What He’s Promised.” “During her videotaped interview with the Miami Herald’s Editorial Board, in which members of the newsroom like me participated, I asked Republican congressional candidate Maria Elvira Salazar about her position on President Donald Trump’s Cuba policy. Salazar said she liked that Trump ‘has changed the rules of the game’ and now when people like Madonna want to go to Cuba to celebrate their birthdays, they have to stay in a Cuban home instead of a hotel owned by the Cuban military and buy cigars not from government stores but from the people. Trump should ‘do even more,’ she said, ‘and fulfill what he’s promised.’” [Miami Herald, Fabiola Santiago Column, 10/17/18]

Cuba Broadcasting
Salazar blasted proposed cuts to the Office of Cuba Broadcasting.

2022: Salazar Blasted Proposed Cuts To The Office Of Cuba Broadcasting. “Representatives Mario Diaz-Balart (FL-25), Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27), and Carlos A. Gimenez (FL-26) issued the following statement regarding announced plans by the U.S. Agency for Global Media's (USAGM) and the United States Office of Personnel Management (OPM) to further cut funding for the Office of Cuba Broadcasting. "We are outraged that the Biden Administration is working to impose further cuts to the Office of Cuba Broadcasting at a time when the Cuban people are struggling for freedom, and political prisoners languish in prison. In fact, while the Biden Administration and Democratic Majority continue pressing for unprecedented and irresponsible increases in government spending nearly across-the-board, they are also recommending draconian layoffs and cuts for an already diminished broadcasting agency that supports the Cuban people in their right to independent, outside information. "These egregiously misplaced priorities are appalling. The Biden Administration and Democratic Majority should be finding more ways and greater resources to support the Cuban people in their democratic aspirations, rather than seeking ways to crush an effective and pro-freedom agency tasked with providing reliable information to the Cuban people. The Biden Administration and Democratic Majority are so blinded by their far-left, progressive ideology that they cannot bring themselves to support the basic rights of the Cuban people. Instead, they repeatedly choose to align themselves with the Cuban people's Communist oppressors." [State News Services, 1/05/22]

Internet Issue

Salazar supported efforts to try and have internet provided to Cubans.

July 2021: Salazar Called For The Biden Administration To Provide Internet To Cuba. “Florida Congressman Mario Diaz Balart joins protesters near the White House in Washington DC, on July 26, 2021. As the crowd spontaneously chanted ‘intervention,’ none of the speakers onstage, which included Republican Representatives María Elvira Salazar, Carlos Giménez, Dan Crenshaw, Nicole Malliotakis, Michael McCaul, Michael Waltz, and Victoria Spartz, explicitly called for the US military involve. Instead, the group put forth a unified message urging Biden to do everything in his power to provide Internet to Cuba and speak out louder against the regime in Havana. ‘We are respectfully sending a message to President Biden, please stand with the Cubans, we need your leadership, we need your guidance, we need the White House,’ Salazar said. ‘The White House can do two things, bring the international community together and turn on Wi-Fi.’ No Democratic elected officials showed up for Monday's protest.” [El Nuevo Herald, 7/26/21] Translation

- Spanish Version: “Congresista de Florida Mario Díaz Balart se une a los manifestantes cerca de la Casa Blanca en Washington DC, el 26 de julio de 2021 Mientras la multitud coreaba espontáneamente ‘intervención,’ ninguno de los oradores en el escenario, que incluía a los representantes republicanos María Elvira Salazar, Carlos Giménez, Dan Crenshaw, Nicole Malliotakis, Michael McCaul, Michael Waltz y Victoria Spartz, pidió explícitamente al ejército estadounidense involucrarse. En cambio, el grupo presentó un mensaje unificado de instar a Biden a hacer todo lo que esté en su poder para proporcionar Internet a Cuba y hablar con más fuerza contra el régimen de La Habana. ‘Estamos enviando respetuosamente un mensaje al presidente Biden, por favor esté con los cubanos, necesitamos su liderazgo, necesitamos su guía, necesitamos la Casa Blanca,' dijo Salazar. ‘La Casa Blanca puede hacer dos cosas, unir a la comunidad internacional y encender el wifi.' Ningún funcionario electo demócrata se presentó a la protesta del lunes.'

2022: Salazar Asked Elon Musk To Provide Satellite Internet To Cuba As He Did For Ukraine. “U.S. Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar, of Cuban origin, asked businessman Elon Musk to do the same for Cuba as he has done to provide internet access to Ukraine through his Starlink network during the Russian invasion. Recently Musk, CEO of SpaceX, announced the shipment of 50 Starlink terminals to Ukraine, to help the country counteract the internet access difficulties created by Russia's interference during the invasion. "I thank Mr. Elon Musk and I would love for him to do the same for Cuba," Salazar said in an interview with Fox News Digital, which published it on its website.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 3/07/22]

2021: Salazar Spoke In Favor Of A Successful House Resolution Expressing US Support Of Cuban Citizens And Calling For The Biden Admin To Provide Internet Access To Citizens Amid Protests. “Yesterday, Representative Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL) delivered remarks on the floor of the chamber urging her colleagues to support the Cuban people ahead of their November 15th protests. Her remarks came before a vote on House Resolution 760, "Expressing solidarity with Cuban citizens demonstrating peacefully for fundamental freedoms, condemning the Cuban regime's acts of repression, and calling for the release of arbitrarily detained Cuban citizens." The Resolution passed the House by a vote of 382-40. [...] Additionally, this resolution urges the Biden Administration to provide internet access to the Cuban people. On July 11th, the Cuban people broke out in mass protests against the regime.” [Targeted News Service, 11/05/2021]

2021: Salazar Pushed For Legislation To Have The US Implement A Wireless Communications Strategy To Ensure Internet And Wireless Access In Areas Of The World Where There Are Blackouts, Disasters Or Authoritarian Governments, Including Providing Wireless Services To People In Cuba Who May Protest Their Authoritarian Government. “Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27), Michael Waltz (FL-06), Claudia Tenney (NY-22), and a dozen Republican lawmakers introduced the American Freedom and Internet Access Act (HR 5123). This bill implements "Operation Starfall" - a strategic plan to provide access to wireless communications abroad and ensure we are ready when blackouts occur, disaster strikes, or when rogue regimes shut down internet access. This is critical to protecting the safety and wellbeing of American citizens at home and abroad [...] The Biden Administration refused to help the people of Cuba when they needed it the most, so Congress must act to ensure we have a clear strategy to deploy in a time of crisis" said Rep. Salazar. "We cannot stand by when tyrants shut off the lights and when American security is at risk. With Operation Starfall, we can improve homeland security and be ready to restore internet, freedom, and prosperity to those in need." [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 8/31/2021]

• 2021: In Advance Of The Cuban Presidential Election, Salazar Warned Biden About The Cuban Government Potentially Cutting Off Internet Access During The Election. “Today, Representative Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL) sent a letter to President Biden warning him of the Cuban regime's planned violence during the November 15th protests, and asked the Administration to be prepared for the regime to cut internet from the island. The letter expresses the frustration of the Cuban-American community for the Administration's delay in providing the Cuban people with internet after the regime shut it off on July 12th following historic anti-government protests on the island.” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 11/10/2021]

- 2021: Salazar ‘Begged’ The Biden Administration To Restore Internet On The Island In The Summer Of The 2021 Protests. [SALAZAR] “Cuba is closer to Miami than Orlando is to Miami. And I was conducting a press conference yesterday with Governor DeSantis, the governor of the state of Florida demanding, asking, begging the Biden administration, the president, to do one thing right now -- just the most urgent thing to do is to restore Internet on the island. Why is that? Because the moments those Cubans know that there's Internet, that there's a balloon where they can be beaming the videos where they’re being beaten and tortured and killed on the streets, the Cubans will go back to the streets and finally will say to the world that they want freedom. It's not that they want vaccine. It's not that they want to lift the embargo. They’re not saying they want food. They want Libertad, means liberty. Sixty-two years, the most cruel revolution that the Americans have ever seen. It's time for that - for the United States to help us end it.” [Fox Business News with Maria Bartiromo, 7/16/2021]

- 2021: Salazar Called Biden “Weak” In Responding To The Cuban Crisis During The Summer Of The 2021 Protests. [BARTIROMO]: “We'll get to that in a moment. How do you view Biden’s work on this? [SALAZAR]: Very weak, very weak, because this is an audience of one. The Cubans are talking the Cubans on the street are talking to an audience of one, the president of the United States -- has nothing to do with political parties, Democrats, Republicans. Hey, I'm a Republican, and I am more than willing to join the Democrats to liberate the Cubans, because it has nothing to do that's has to do with political parties. It has to do with being American. We're American defending the Cubans.” [Fox Business News with Maria Bartiromo, 7/16/2021]

2021: Salazar Said Internet Access Opening Up At The US Embassy In Havana Would Expose What The Cuban Government Is Doing To Its People. [SALAZAR]: “And we want to see what they're doing. That's why I'm saying we need Internet, because the moment we have Internet, we will see what the repressive apparatus is doing against the Cubans. They're being killed. They're being -- their heads are being cracked open. They're being put in jail. They're being shot at. But no one is seeing it. And we, the United States, we have the capability in the United States Embassy, in the heart of Havana, just to open up the Internet, so then they can get close to the embassy and upload whatever thing they want to.” [Fox News with Niel Cavuto, 7/16/21]

2021: Salazar Joined DeSantis And Others In Calling For The US To Deploy “High-Altitude Stratospheric Balloons” To Create Internet Access For Cubans. “Florida Republican leaders are urging the Biden administration to greenlight efforts to help provide consistent internet access to Cubans amid unprecedented protests against the communist regime. On Thursday afternoon, Florida Gov. Ron DeSantis, U.S. Reps. Maria Elvira Salazar and Carlos Gimenez, and Federal Communications Commission Commissioner Brendan Carr, called on the president to approve the deployment of "high-altitude stratospheric balloons" to create aerial wireless networks that Cubans can connect to.” [Tampa Bay Times, 7/15/21]

Sanctions
Salazar has been supportive of sanctions on foreign persons who do business with Cuba.

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Impose Sanctions On Foreign Persons Who Do Certain Transactions With Cuba. Rep. Byron Donalds, R-Fla., has introduced the Denying Earnings to the Military Oligarchy in Cuba and Restricting Activities of the Cuban Intelligence Apparatus Act (H.R. 5557) to "impose sanctions with respect to foreign persons that engage in certain transactions relating to Cuba and to impose sanctions with respect to human rights abuse and corruption in Cuba." The bill was introduced on Oct. 12 and has six co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include Reps. Mario Diaz-Balart, R-Fla., Carlos A. Gimenez, R-Fla., Alex X. Mooney, R-W.Va., Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla., Brian Babin, R-Texas, and Nicole Malliotakis, R-N.Y. [Targeted News Service, 10/16/21]

- 2021: Salazar: “This Critical Legislation Ensures That Any Foreign Company Choosing To Do Business With The Castro Regime Will Be Blocked From American Money And Markets.” Representative Maria Elvira Salazar said, "I represent Florida's 27th district - home to the largest Cuban exile community in the United States. As the daughter of Cuban exiles myself, I am committed to fighting against the murderous regime that forced so many of us to flee. This critical legislation ensures that any foreign company choosing to do business with the Castro regime will be blocked from American money and markets. We will not stand idly by as foreign businesses supply oxygen to a brutal dictatorship for their own financial gain. The United States must not and will not do business with dictators or their cronies." [Congressional Documents and Publications, 10/12/21]

Cuban Presidential Election

Salazar called the Cuban presidential elections “phony.”

2021: Salazar Called The 2021 Presidential Election In Cuba A “Phony, Pathetic” Election. "Today, the brutal Castro regime pretends to fool the international community with the appearance of change on the island of Cuba -- but it's nothing more than a complete and total farce." said Congresswoman Salazar. "This is a phony, pathetic transfer of power to the very same murderous and corrupt monsters who have destroyed the island for the past 62 years. Titles may change but the oppression remains and increases every day as more and more Cubans on the island speak out and risk their lives for freedom, democracy, and Human Rights." [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 4/16/21]

Republican Cuban Policy Committee

In July 2021, Salazar was named by Rep. McCarthy to a special Cuban policy committee.

July 2021: Salazar Was Named By McCarthy To A Special Cuban Policy Committee. “House Republican Leader Kevin McCarthy announced the launch of the Leader's Advisory Team on Cuba. The group will advise House Republicans on the ongoing freedom protests and government atrocities in Cuba, develop policies to ensure the United States stands in solidarity with the Cuban freedom movement, and educate the American people on the tyranny of the communist regime in Havana. [...] The following individuals will serve on the team: * Rep. Mario Diaz-Balart (FL-25) * Rep. Carlos Gimenez (FL-26) * Rep. Maria Salazar (FL-27)...” [Targeted News Service, 7/16/21]

2021 Protests

Salazar was very vocal and active surrounding the 2021 Cuban protests.

2022: Salazar Joined Other GOP Lawmakers To Sponsor A Resolution In Honor Of The One-Year Anniversary Of The Cuban Protests. “On July 11, 2021, thousands of Cubans took to the streets in a historic and organic protest against decades of oppression, censorship, and human rights violations at the hands of the communist regime. U.S. Senators Marco Rubio (R-FL) and Rick Scott (R-FL) introduced a resolution marking one year since the 11J pro-democracy demonstrations in Cuba and condemning the Castro/Diaz-Canel regime’s horrific attempts to silence Cubans as they demand freedom on the island. [...] Senators Ted Cruz (R-TX) and Mike Braun (R-IN) are also cosponsors. A companion resolution was introduced by U.S. Representatives Mario Diaz-Balart (R-FL), Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL), Carlos Gimenez (R-FL), Rick Crawford (R-AR), and Michael McCaul (R-TX) in the U.S. House of Representatives.” [Congressional Documents and Publications, 8/01/22]

2022: Salazar Helped Introduce A Resolution To Demand The Release Of Jose Freer And July 2021 Cuban Protesters. “Yesterday, Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) joined Representative Mario Diaz-Balart (FL-25) and Senator Rick Scott (R-FL) in commending Jose Daniel Ferrer and the brave anti-regime Cuban activists by introducing resolutions in their respective chambers. Both resolutions, H.Res 867 and S.Res 489, demand the immediate release of Jose Daniel Ferrer and the numerous other July 11th protestors.” [Targeted News Service, 1/14/22]

- 2022: Salazar Said “No Cuban Should Be Imprisoned For Peacefully Protesting.” "As a defender of human rights and democracy in Cuba, Jose Daniel Ferrer stood up to the regime directly for years, suffering torture and imprisonment on multiple occasions. But Ferrer has never given up on his principles, and together with his organization -- the UNPACU -- he has led the fight for freedom in Cuba," said Congresswoman Salazar. "Neither Jose Daniel nor any Cuban should be imprisoned and tortured for peacefully protesting for their God-given rights. The United States will always stand with the brave men and women who stand up against the regime!" [Targeted News Service, 1/14/22]

2021: U.S. Secretary Of Homeland Security Alejandro Mayorkas Visited Miami To Meet With The Cuban Community Regarding How The US Can Assist With The Cuban Crisis. Salazar Was Not Invited To The Meeting. “U.S. Secretary of Homeland Security Alejandro Mayorkas met in Miami with members of the Cuban-American and Haitian-American communities, two of the most prominent communities in the City of the Sun, to hear firsthand what they expect the United States to do in the midst of the crisis facing both countries. [...] Cuban-American congressmen Mario Diaz Balart and Maria Elvira Salazar, who represent the areas with the highest concentration of Cuban-Americans in the area, were not invited to the meeting.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 8/20/21]

of the Cuban exile community at Lafayette Square to show their support for the people of Cuba as they mark another anniversary of the sadistic communist revolution.” [Targeted News Service, 7/27/22]

2021: Salazar Signed A Letter To World Leaders Urging Them To Stand With The People Of Cuba. “Congressman Mario Diaz-Balart joined Senator Rick Scott, House Republican Leader Kevin McCarthy, and members of the United States House of Representatives and the United States Senate in a letter to leaders of the member nations of the Organization of American States and the European Union, as well as to other democratic nations and Secretary of State Antony Blinken, urging them to stand up and support the Cuban people in their fight for freedom. The letter, signed by 143 members of Congress including Senator Marco Rubio, Senate Minority Whip John Thune, House Minority Whip Steve Scalise, Representative Carlos Gimenez, and Representative Maria Elvira Salazar, highlights four actions the democratically-elected leaders of the world's free countries must take in support of the Cuban people and their democratic aspirations. These actions include denouncing the illegitimate regime and holding it accountable for its horrific human rights abuses through an International Criminal Tribunal; ending all financial support to the regime; coordinating democratic assistance for the brave Cuban freedom advocates; and restoring telecommunications and internet access on the island.” [Congressional Documents and Publications, 7/21/21]

2021: Salazar Signed A Letter By Rubio To The Executive Secretary Of The Inter-American Commission On Human Rights Askig For An Investiation Into Cuban Human Rights. “U.S. Senator Marco Rubio (R-FL) led a bipartisan and bicameral letter to the Executive Secretary of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights, Tania Reneaum Panszi, urging her “to direct the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights to initiate an immediate investigation into the regime’s violations of the human rights of the Cuban people.” Since the historic and organic protests in Cuba, Senator Rubio has been steadfast in condemning the Diaz-Canel Castro regime's assault on the Cuban people. The Diaz-Canel Castro regime has since detained and disappeared hundreds, if not thousands, of Cubans for participating in these peaceful protests. Rubio has written two letters to President Joe Biden, outlining the steps his administration should take in support of the courageous freedom fighters in Cuba. In their letter, the legislators highlighted that "the only way to break down the culture of impunity within the regime is to investigate and publicize its crimes against the people of Cuba". [Targeted News Service, 7/20/21]

2021: Salazar Signed Onto A Resolution Amid The 2021 Cuban Protests Calling For International Solidarity With The Cuban People. “Today, Congressman Mario Diaz-Balart introduced a resolution calling for international solidarity with the Cuban people in their demands for freedom and condemning the brutal oppression of the Communist dictatorship in Cuba. [...] The original cosponsors include: ...Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27)...” [Office of Congressman Diaz-Balart, 7/13/21]

Mexico

In 2022, Salazar said, “Mexico is violating the USCMA by participating in the modern enslavement of more than 600 Cuban doctors.”

[VIDEO] July 2022: Salazar: “Mexico Is Violating The USCMA By Participating In The Modern Enslavement Of More Than 600 Cuban Doctors.” In July 2022, Salazar shared a video to Twitter in which she accused Mexico and President AMLO of the following in Spanish: “The body to which I belong, Congress, gave the OK to this treaty [USCMA], and I will ensure that the USDOL and the USDOC understand that Mexico is violating it by participating in modern slavery.” [Twitter, Maria Elvira Salazar, 07/28/22, 1:05/1:54]

- Spanish version: “El cuerpo al que yo pertenezco, el Congreso federal norteamericano, fue el que le dio el OK a este tratado, Yo me voy a encargar que el Departamento de Labor y el que el Departamento de Comercio de los Estados Unidos entienda que México está violando porque esta creando y participando en esclavitud moderna de mas de 600 medicos Cubanos.”

Salazar criticized the administration of Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador for welcoming the presidents of Venezuela and Cuba to Mexico City.

2021: Salazar Criticized The Administration Of Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador For Welcoming The Presidents Of Venezuela And Cuba To Mexico City. “U.S. Republican congressmen criticized the government of Andrés Manuel López Obrador for welcoming the presidents of Venezuela and Cuba to Mexico City, holding them responsible for human rights violations. In the framework of the summit of the Community of Latin American and Caribbean States (Celac), the federal government welcomed Nicolas Maduro of Venezuela and Miguel Diaz-Canel of Cuba in recent days. Meanwhile, Florida Republican Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar rebuked Lopez Obrador for inviting Diaz-Canel, who in addition to participating in the summit, also served as a speaker at the Independence Day ceremony on Sept. 16. "Poor our Mexican brothers, poor my Mexican brothers who have a president of such little stature, not only intellectually, but also morally, to invite and give all this reverence to a guy who the only thing he does is keep the people (Cuban) escavado," he said through a video.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 9/20/21]

Juanes Concert In Cuba

In 2009, Salazar said “lots of exiles were crying inside” because of the Juanes’ concert in Cuba.

2009: Salazar On Juanes Cuba Concert: “Lots Of Exiles Are Crying Inside. I Think [The Concert] Got Us Closer -- The Cubans In Miami And The Cubans On The Island.” “Cuban-American support of Juanes’ Cuba concert has almost doubled in the aftermath of the Sept. 20 event, according to a poll released Wednesday at the Americas Conference by Sergio Bendixen and Associates. [...] Talk-show host Maria Elvira Salazar, who made the concert a regular subject on her popular Mega TV show, Maria Elvira Live, said the poll confirmed a shift she had seen in reactions during the concert, and in e-mails she has received since. Remarks by performers Olga Taño, Miguel Bose and Juanes about freedom and unifying Cubans had a powerful effect, Salazar said. ‘This was different than we had expected,’ Salazar said Wednesday. ‘Lots of exiles are crying inside. I think [the concert] got us closer -- the Cubans in Miami and the Cubans on the island.’” [Miami Herald, 10/1/09]

Otaola

Salazar has repeatedly praised Otaola and considered him a “friend.”
November 2020: Salazar: “Otaola Supports The Cause Of Freedom” And That “Otaola Is Our Friend And We Are With Him.” “María Elvira Salazar, the former journalist who recently won the federal race for District 27 in Florida, said in a Facebook post around 3 p.m. that he spoke with the mayor of Miami, Francis Suárez, and that they would release Otaola. ‘Otaola supports the cause of freedom!’ the Republican wrote. ‘It has been a bad time that is about to end. Otaola is our friend and we are with him!’” [El Nuevo Herald, 11/28/20]

- Spanish Version: “María Elvira Salazar, la ex periodista que recientemente ganó la contienda federal por el Distrito 27 en Florida, dijo en una publicación de Facebook alrededor de las 3 p.m. que habló con el alcalde de Miami, Francis Suárez, y que liberarían a Otaola. ‘Otaola apoya la causa de la libertad!’ escribió la republicana. ‘Ha sido un mal momento que está a punto de terminar. Otaola es nuestro amigo y estamos con él!’”

2021: Salazar Said Otaola Was “The One” Who Is “Changing The Newly Arrived Cubans From Democrats To Republicans.” “These campaigns knew what they were doing. Nearly every recent Cuban immigrant I talked with in Miami had heard of Otaola. One woman told me she watched his show every day—nearly 15 hours a week. Like Otaola, she’d come here in 2003 and voted for Clinton. Otaola turned her into a Trump supporter. ‘Oh my god, he's the one changing the newly arrived Cubans from Democrats to Republicans,’ Maria Elvira Salazar, who would go on to defeat Democratic Rep. Donna Shalala in November, told me outside her Little Havana campaign office. ‘He is the one.’” [Mother Jones, January 2021]

Target

In 2021, Salazar claimed her office was a target and could be attacked by Castro’s regime.

2021: Salazar Claimed Her Office Was A Target And Could Be Attacked By Castro’s Regime. “Miami Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar urged the government to provide more information about the attacks and said she was concerned about the staff of her office in Miami and the community, who she said could be targeted. ‘Castro’s murderous regime is cynical and evil. My Miami office is a target and could be attacked because we have exposed these tyrants and their minions. I am deeply concerned for the safety of my team and the safety of our Cuban exile community,’ said the legislator. ‘Americans are at risk of being attacked and Congress is being deprived of this information. Americans need to stay safe and we need this information ASAP!’ she added.” [El Nuevo Herald, 5/13/21] Translation

- Spanish Version: “La congresista de Miami, María Elvira Salazar, urgió al gobierno a brindar más información sobre los ataques y dijo sentirse preocupada por el personal de su oficina en Miami y la comunidad, que según ella podrían ser blanco de ataques. ‘El régimen asesino de Castro es cínico y malvado. Mi oficina de Miami es un objetivo y podría ser atacada porque hemos denunciado a estos tiranos y sus secuaces. Estoy profundamente preocupada por la seguridad de mi equipo y la seguridad de nuestra comunidad de exiliados cubanos,’ dijo la legisladora. ‘Los estadounidenses están en riesgo de ser atacados y el Congreso está siendo privado de esta información. Los estadounidenses deben mantenerse seguros y necesitamos esta información lo antes posible!,’ añadió.”
Daylight Savings Time

Congressional Record

Salazar cosponsored legislation to make daylight savings time permanent.

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Make Daylight Savings Time Permanent. “Sen. Marco Rubio filed the Sunshine Protection Act in March that would make daylight saving time permanent across the country. States and U.S. territories that don't currently observe DST, such as Hawaii and parts of Arizona, could stay in standard time. Rubio's bill has 14 co-sponsors from both parties, including Florida's other senator, Rick Scott. The U.S. House version has 29 co-sponsors, including U.S. Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar of Miami.” [TimesDaily, 11/12/21]

Disinformation

Disinformation Governance Board

Salazar cosponsored legislation to terminate DHS' disinformation governance board.

May 2022: Salazar Co-Sponsored H.R. 7641, To Terminate The Disinformation Governance Board Of The Department Of Homeland Security And To Prohibit The Use Of Federal Funds To Establish Any Other Similar Board. The bill was introduced by Lauren Boebert and co-sponsored by 75 other Republicans, including Thomas Massie, Steve Scalise, Jim Banks, Madison Cawthorne, Matt Gaetz, Paul Gosar, Elise Stefanik, Louie Gohmert, and Jim Jordan. [H.R. 7641, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/25/22]

• May 2022: Salazar Called For Terminating The DHS’ Disinformation Governance Board, Saying, “The Federal Government Should Never Be Allowed To Determine What Is And Is Not True.” “Today, Rep. Lauren Boebert led 61 of her colleagues in introducing the Protecting Free Speech Act to terminate the Department of Homeland Security's Disinformation Governance Board, also known as the "Ministry of Truth", and prohibit any federal funds from being used to establish or carry out the activities of any other entity that is substantially similar. [...] U.S. Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) stated, 'I represent Miami, home to one of the largest exile communities in the country. Many of my constituents Cubans, Nicaraguans, Venezuelans, etc. fled abusive governments that censor and silence the speech of those who dare to speak their mind. This move by the Biden Administration is straight out of the tyrant's playbook. Let me be clear: the federal government should never be allowed to determine what is and is not true.’” [Targeted News Service, 5/03/22]

[VIDEO] May 2022: Salazar: “The Biden Administration Has Created A Ministry Of Truth.” In a video posted to her Twitter account, Salazar accused the Biden Administration of creating a Ministry of Truth, stating in Spanish “Truly, the people in the Biden Administration are crazy, they have created a Ministry of Truth where the federal government will determine whether what the media or people online and social media say is correct or incorrect, like the Ideological Department of the Cuban Communist Party.”
Spanish Version: “Es que verdaderamente la gente en la administración del Presidente Biden está loca, han creado un ministerio de la verdad donde el gobierno federal, el gobierno federal, va a determinar si lo que los medios o la gente en el internet y las redes sociales dicen es correcto o incorrecto, como el Departamento Ideológico del Partido Comunista en Cuba.”

Domestic Violence

Violence Against Women Act

March 2021: Salazar did not vote on reauthorizing the Violence Against Women Act for five years, which would expand protections for survivors of domestic abuse and stalking.

Salazar Did Not Vote On Reauthorizing The Violence Against Women Act For Five Years. In March 2021, Salazar did not vote on: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize programs enacted under the Violence Against Women Act through fiscal 2026. It would also expand a number of these programs and other programs and policies aimed at addressing and assisting victims of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual violence, stalking and sex trafficking.” The bill passed 244 to 172. [HR 1620, Vote #86, 3/17/21; CQ, 3/17/21]

The original Violence Against Women Act helped decrease the rate of intimate partner violence and improved care for sexual assault victims.

In The 15 Years After VAWA Passed, The Rate Of Serious Intimate Partner Violence Nationally Declined 72 Percent. “Between 1994 and 2011, the rate of serious intimate partner violence against women declined 72 percent, from 5.9 to 1.6 victimizations per 1,000 women. The annual rate of rape and sexual assault perpetrated against girls and women older than age 11 declined nearly 60 percent from 1995 to 2010. While these declines are likely the product of multiple causes, evidence tells us that declines in rape and sexual assault are linked to VAWA. A study examining rape and aggravated assault data from over 10,000 jurisdictions over a seven-year period found that VAWA funding, specifically those funds most likely to support local law enforcement, was associated with reductions in these violent crimes, even after controlling for general decreasing crime rates and other justice-related funding.” [Urban Institute, 2/9/17]

VAWA Funding Prevented Sexual Assault Victims From Having To Pay For Their Forensic Exams. “If a person seeks medical attention within four days of an assault, they may also undergo a sexual assault medical forensic exam (SAMFE). This exam collects and preserves important evidence—like DNA—that could identify a suspect and provide invaluable corroborating evidence to support the victim’s account of the crime. Before VAWA, victims could be billed by the health care provider that conducted their exam. No victim of any other crime is expected to pay for the collection and preservation of evidence. VAWA has supported programs in every state to end this practice. Our research shows that these programs have nearly reversed the billing of victims for collecting forensic evidence from their own bodies.” [Urban Institute, 2/9/17]
VAWA Funding Helped Train Sexual Assault Nurse Examiners, Who Improve Both Quality Of Health Care For Survivors And The Chance Of A Successful Conviction. “Sexual assault nurse examiners (SANEs) are specially trained medical personnel who conduct the SAMFE, providing care and treatment for victims of sexual assault and rigorously collecting evidence for use during investigation and prosecution. VAWA resources support many state and local SANE programs. Exams conducted by SANEs are associated with increases in successful prosecution, even when compared with exams conducted by traditional emergency room personnel. The SANE training equips providers with the skills to create a more thorough record of all medical forensic evidence and to preserve crucial, fragile DNA evidence. Studies show that SANE programs improve the quality of health care delivered to survivors, the quality of forensic evidence, and the chances of obtaining a conviction. Eliminating VAWA would almost certainly reduce the number of SANEs available to treat sexual assault survivors, limiting important victim services and the availability of quality evidence to convict those who commit these crimes.” [Urban Institute, 2/9/17]

Education

Classroom Teaching

After Salazar praised DeSantis for signing legislation in Florida to teach students about the “evils of communism,” Salazar introduced federal legislation to produce anti-communist education programs for high school students, and cosponsored legislation introduced by Rep. Cawthorn to educate the public on “traditional American history.” The Cawthorn legislation prohibited grant funds to be used to teach the 1619 Project or Critical Race Theory. Salazar also signed a letter that called “curricula like critical race theory” “harmful.”

July 2021: Salazar Praised Legislation Signed By DeSantis To Teach Students The Evils Of Communism. “Back in July of last year, Florida Governor Ron DeSantis signed HB 5, SB 1108 and HB 233, which is designed to teach in schools about the evils of communism and totalitarian ideologies. It also pushes for civics instruction and education in public schools, from kindergarten through higher education. Florida Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar celebrated Governor Ron DeSantis' decision and assured that the evils of communism cannot be whitewashed in schools. Salazar affirmed that half of American teenagers believe that communism and socialism are good and most of them cannot differentiate between the Communist Manifesto and the Declaration of Independence.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 5/10/22]

December 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Produce Anti-Communist Education Programs For High School Students. In December 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 6123, the Crucial Communism Teaching Act. The bill would “direct the Victims of Communism Memorial Foundation to develop a civic education curriculum and oral history resources for high school students to promote understanding of certain political ideologies (e.g., communism and totalitarianism) that conflict with principles of U.S. democracy.” The bill is cosponsored by 68 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Education and Labor, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6123, Co-
The Act Is Inspired By The Never Again Education Act, Which Created An Analogous Program To Educate American Students About The Holocaust Through The U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. “The CCT Act would make educational materials available through the Victims of Communism Memorial Foundation to help educate high school students about the dangers of communism and totalitarianism, and how they are contrary to the founding principles of freedom and democracy in the United States. The CCT Act framework is inspired by the Never Again Education Act, passed by the 116th Congress, which created an analogous program to educate American students about the Holocaust through the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. The bill also continues similar efforts by Florida Governor Ron DeSantis to educate American students on the failed experiment of communism throughout history.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/02/21]

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation Introduced By Rep. Madison Cawthorn To Reform The Higher Education Act And Educate The Public On “Traditional American History.” U.S. Representative Madison Cawthorn, joined by U.S. Representatives Tracey Mann, Burgess Owens and Maria Salazar introduced the Informed Electorate Act yesterday, a bill to amend the Higher Education Act by reforming the American History for Freedom program. This program is meant to educate the public on the civic and electoral process. These centers strengthen academic programs, but are also designed to inform and defend western civilization, civics, and traditional American history to the American public. [Madison Crathorn Office, 6/17/21]

2021: Salazar Said In The Press Release About The Bill We Must Continue Sharing The Story Of America. Representative Maria Elvira Salazar stated: "The founding principles of our nation built an enduring democracy that has provided a safe haven for those fleeing persecution and violence from around the world, including my own family exiled from Cuba. We must continue sharing the story of America so that future generations can continue taking advantage of all the opportunities afforded by our truly exceptional nation.” [Madison Crathorn Office, 6/17/21]

The Legislation Prohibited Grant Funds To Be Used To Teach The 1619 Project Or Critical Race Theory. “Rep. Madison Cawthorn, R-N.C., has introduced legislation (H.R. 3928) to amend the Higher Education Act of 1965 ‘to reform the American History for Freedom program.’ The bill was introduced on June 16 and was co-sponsored by Reps. Tracey Mann, R-Kan., Burgess Owens, R-Utah, and Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla. It was referred to the House Education and Labor Committee.” The bill allows eligible institutions of higher education to use grant funds to establish academic centers or programs that promote the importance of civic engagement and the First Amendment to the Constitution. The bill prohibits the use of grant funds to promote, endorse, teach, or distribute material related to (1) the 1619 Project, which is an initiative that addresses the beginning of slavery in the United States; or (2) critical race theory. [Rep. Madison Cawthorn, Press Release, 6/18/21; H.R. 3928, Summary, accessed 8/21/22]

2021: Salazar Said “If We Are Teaching In American Schools The Atrocity Supposedly Of The American Agenda, How Bad We Behaved As A Country During Slavery...Then We Also Have To Teach Our High School Kids What The -- The Beauties Of The System.” “SALAZAR: ...if we are teaching in American schools the atrocity supposedly of the American agenda, how bad we behaved as a country during slavery, to the Japanese during World War II, to the Native Americans. Then we also have to teach our high school kids what the -- the beauties of the system. We have to teach our kids what happened in the soviet gulags, what happened in the China of Mao, what happened in the Cuba of Castro.” [Fox Business Mornings with Maria Bartiromo, 12/09/21]

2021: Salazar Signed A Letter To AG Garland About Alleged Federal Agents Being Used To “Intimidate And Silence Parents.” “Today, Senators Rick Scott and Marco Rubio, joined by Representatives, and fellow members of the Florida Delegation, Kat Cammack, Michael Waltz, Carlos Gimenez, Bill Posey, Neal Dunn, Brian Mast, María Elvira Salazar, Gus Bilirakis and John Rutherford sent a letter to Attorney General Merrick Garland. In the letter, Senator Scott and his colleagues condemn the Department of Justice ’s (DOJ) recent directive to deploy federal law enforcement resources in a thinly veiled effort to intimidate and silence parents. Across the nation, parents have rightfully exercised their constitutionally protected free speech to protect their children from harmful curricula like critical race theory being implemented by radical school board members and school administrators. In the letter, the members call for the DOJ to immediately explain its clear misuse and weaponization of federal agents and resources to intervene in matters best handled by local law enforcement.” [Impact News Service, 10/16/21]

Education Freedom Scholarships

Salazar is attacking public schools. In 2022, Salazar cosponsored legislation that attacked public schools by providing a 100-percent income tax credit for individuals and businesses that contribute to scholarship funds for private K-12 schools.

January 2022: Salazar Co-Sponsored H.R. 889, The Education Freedom Scholarships And Opportunity Act. The bill would provide a tax-credit for individual donations to scholarship-granting organizations. The bill was introduced by Burgess Owens and co-sponsored by 50 other Republicans, including Matt Gaetz, Jim Jordan, Ronny Jackson, and Dan Crenshaw. [H.R. 3835, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/25/22]
• The Bill Would Institute A 100% Tax Credit For Donations To Scholastic Scholarship Organizations. In Effect, This Credit Would Allow Taxpayers To Direct Federal Funds To The Private Or Religious Schools They Prefer. “Even if taxpayers are not contributing to their own child’s K-12 schooling, the bill would create an extraordinarily generous subsidy for individuals or businesses that donate to private schools, including religious schools. In effect, this credit allows taxpayers to direct federal funds to the private or religious schools they prefer. The bill would even allow credits for home schooling, as long as the funds were funneled through an authorized “scholarship-granting organization.” Imagine, you could claim a 100-percent tax credit to pay yourself to home school your child.” [Tax Policy Center, 2/11/20]

• The Bill Was First Proposed By Trump And Was “Dreamed Up” By Betsy DeVos. “I often see tax proposals that are well-intentioned but poorly designed. I sometimes see ideas that are well designed but wrong-headed. Then, there is President Trump’s plan to provide a 100-percent federal income tax credit for individuals and businesses that contribute to scholarship funds for private K-12 schools. It hits the daily double: It is bad policy paired with horrific design. Sort of the tax policy version of cheap red wine mixed with Dr. Pepper. Yet the idea is one of the few new tax initiatives in the budget Trump proposed yesterday. It seems to have first been dreamed up by Education Secretary Betsy DeVos and then turned into legislation by Sen. Ted Cruz (R-TX).” [Tax Policy Center, 2/11/20]

• Trump Explicitly Promoted The Tax Credit As An Attack On Public Schools. “In his State of the Union address Trump explicitly promoted the credits as an attack on public schools. “No parent,” he said, “should be forced to send their child to a failing government school.” And Trump is doubling down on that view by proposing major cuts in federal assistance to K-12 education, including a nearly offsetting $4.7 billion reduction in funding for schooling for disadvantaged children and cuts in federal support for publicly funded charter schools.” [Tax Policy Center, 2/11/20]

• The Tax Policy Center Described The Proposal As “Bad Policy Paired With Horrific Design.” “I often see tax proposals that are well-intentioned but poorly designed. I sometimes see ideas that are well designed but wrong-headed. Then, there is President Trump’s plan to provide a 100-percent federal income tax credit for individuals and businesses that contribute to scholarship funds for private K-12 schools. School Safety

Salazar cosponsored legislation to create best practices for school resource officers.

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Create Best Practices For School Resource Officers. “Rep. Clay Higgins, R-La., has introduced legislation (H.R. 7886) to "direct the Attorney General and the Secretary of Education to develop and implement best practices for occupation-specific education for school resource officers." The bill was introduced on May 27 and was co-sponsored by Reps. Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla., Dan Newhouse, R-Wash., Mike Kelly, R-Pa., and Carlos A. Gimenez, R-Fla. It was jointly referred to the House Education and Labor and Judiciary committees." [Targeted News Service, 5/30/2022]

STEM

Salazar has stressed the importance of STEM, especially for Latino students.

2022: Salazar Stressed The Importance Of STEM. “Republican Maria Elvira Salazar stressed that "investment in education and workforce development is critical, and having more Latinos pursuing STEM degrees will help our economy grow." [CE Noticias Financieras English, 5/18/22]

2022: Salazar Introduced A Resolution To Stress The Importance Of Increasing The Number Of Latino Students In STEM Fields. “Senate Resolution 640, which expresses "support for increasing the number of Latino students and young professionals entering careers in science, technology, engineering, and mathematics fields." The bipartisan resolution was sponsored by Senator Alex Padilla (D-CA) and co-sponsored by Senator John Cornyn (R-TX). The House of Representatives has a companion Resolution (H.Res. 1105) pending its consideration that was introduced by Representatives Tony Cárdenas (D-CA) and María Elvira Salazar (R-FL).” [PRWeb Newswire, 5/19/22]

Energy & Environment

Campaign Promises

Salazar claimed she would protect the environment in Congress.

Salazar Acknowledged Climate Change Was Real And Said We Must Combat The Problem. “Climate change is real, and the evidence is right here in Miami. Miami’s pristine coastline must be protected. The water level is rising at an alarming rate and coastal areas like Miami Beach may become uninhabitable in a matter of decades, not centuries, unless we work to combat the problem. As studies have shown, Miami will need some major feats of engineering, way beyond the resources available at the state and local levels.” [Mariaelvirasalazar.com, “Issues,” 5/29/21]

Salazar Ran An Ad Vowing To Protect The Environment If Elected To Congress. “Maria Elvira Salazar, the Republican candidate in Florida’s 27th Congressional District, is out with a new ad touting her ‘vow’ to fight for environmental protection in Congress. Salazar has attempted to cast herself as a moderate on the environment. She recently told the Miami Herald she would be open to a carbon tax proposal put forward by U.S. Rep. Carlos Curbelo of Florida’s 26th Congressional District. His efforts were swiftly rejected by his own party. The Republican’s new 30-second ad echoes those comments, as she competes against Democratic nominee Donna Shalala. […] 'To say that God has been abundant with what He has given Florida is an understatement,' Salazar begins. ‘We have been blessed with an environment that truly provides us with a lot, and we must protect it. I vow for that in Congress. Let’s make sure we have better jobs. Our kids: safer schools. For me, their protection is paramount.'” [Florida Politics, 10/12/18]
Former EPA Head Carol Browner: “While Salazar Claims To Care About The Environment, She Has Aligned Herself With The Koch Brothers And Polluter Interests.” “The choice is clear. While Salazar claims to care about the environment, she has aligned herself with the Koch Brothers and polluter interests. Meanwhile, Shalala has been on the front lines working to protect our children and has demonstrated through her work, leadership, and campaign that she will fight tirelessly to protect our air, water, and our health. Let’s all make sure that Miami-Dade sends someone to Congress who will truly fight for better public health and environmental protections for Florida and for the country: vote Donna Shalala.” [Miami Herald, Carol Browner Op-Ed, 10/26/18]

Supported Opening Alaska National Wildlife Refuge To Drilling

... but Salazar supported the Republican tax law that opened the Alaska National Wildlife Refuge to drilling.

2018: Salazar Said She Supported The Republican Tax Plan. “I will always support any legislative measure that puts more money in the pockets of the middle class. The Republican Tax Cut law was the right thing to do for our economy and our struggling middle class. I also believe, that tax cuts, combined with fewer regulations, have led to the explosive growth of our economy. As your elected representative, I will work with my colleagues to ensure that the tax cut law becomes permanent for everyone, not just corporations.” [MariaElvira.com, accessed 9/3/18]

The Republican Tax Law Opened A 1.5 Million Acres Section Of The Arctic National Wildlife Refuge To Drilling. “The Republican-controlled U.S. House of Representatives gave final approval on Wednesday to the biggest overhaul of the U.S. tax code in 30 years, sending a sweeping $1.5 trillion bill to President Donald Trump for his signature. In sealing Trump’s first major legislative victory, Republicans steamrolled opposition from Democrats to pass a bill that slashes taxes for corporations and the wealthy while giving mixed, temporary tax relief to middle-class Americans […] The tax bill included a measure to open a 1.5-million-acre coastal section of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge to drilling. The measure, written by Alaska Sen. Lisa Murkowski, requires the federal government to hold two lease sales within seven years in a 1.5-million-acre section of the coastal plain. The first lease sale must be held within four years, and could lead to drilling and oil production.” [Anchorage Daily News, 12/20/17]

Offshore Drilling

Salazar opposed offshore drilling off the coast of Florida.

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation That Would "Extend The Moratorium On Drilling Off The Coasts Of The States Of Florida, Georgia, And South Carolina." “Rep. Michael Waltz, R-Fla., has introduced legislation (H.R. 4696) to amend the Gulf of Mexico Energy Security Act of 2006 "to extend the moratorium on drilling off the coasts of the States of Florida, Georgia, and South Carolina." The bill was introduced on July 26 and has 16 co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include…Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla…” [Targeted News Service, 7/28/21]

Contributions From Oil And Gas Industry
Salazar has been funded and supported by pro-oil drilling groups who are pushing Congress to allow them to drill offshore, including in the Florida Straits, putting our coastline and water supply at risk. Salazar accepted $6,500 from Chevron and Exxon Mobil PACs, both of which are members of the American Chemistry Council. The American Chemistry Council has lobbied against banning offshore drilling, including in the Florida Straits. Salazar has also been supported by FreedomWorks for America via $76,000 in outside spending support. FreedomWorks has opposed offshore drilling, including in the Atlantic, and called for markets to decide where to drill.

• The American Chemistry Council Is “An Industry Group Representing The World’s Largest Chemical Makers And Fossil Fuel Companies.” “Confronting a climate crisis that threatens the fossil fuel industry, oil companies are racing to make more plastic. But they face two problems: Many markets are already awash with plastic, and few countries are willing to be dumping grounds for the world’s plastic waste... According to documents reviewed by The New York Times, an industry group representing the world’s largest chemical makers and fossil fuel companies is lobbying to influence United States trade negotiations with Kenya, one of Africa’s biggest economies, to reverse its strict limits on plastics — including a tough plastic-bag ban. It is also pressing for Kenya to continue importing foreign plastic garbage, a practice it has pledged to limit... The Chemistry Council includes the petrochemical operations of Exxon Mobil, Chevron and Shell, as well as major chemical companies including Dow.” [New York Times, 8/30/20]

• 2015: The American Chemistry Council Was “Critical Of A Ban On Exploration And Production Within 50 Miles Of Shore.” The American Chemistry Council said, “Today’s plan concentrates nearly all oil and gas production in the Gulf of Mexico. It takes potential resources in the South Atlantic off the table by banning any exploration and production within 50 miles of shore. It does not authorize a lease sale in the Atlantic near Canadian waters, even though our neighbor to the north is developing its own oil and gas resources there.” [Akron Beacon Journal, 1/28/15]

• 2022: The American Chemistry Council Lobbied On The American Shores Protection Act, Which Would “Extend A Moratorium On Oil And Gas Drilling In The South Atlantic Planning Area And The Straits Of Florida Planning Area.” The American Shores Protection Act (S. 2468) “extends a moratorium on oil and gas drilling in the Gulf of Mexico through June 30, 2032, and expands the moratorium to include the South Atlantic Planning Area and the Straits of Florida Planning Area.” The American Chemistry Council [Congress.gov, S. 2468, accessed 8/24/22; Opensecrets, Lobbying on S. 2468, accessed 8/24/22]

- 2018: FreedomWorks Called For Trump To Overturn Obama-Era Bans On Drilling In The Atlantic, Saying “Markets” Should “Decide Where And Whether To Develop America’s Domestic Resources.” “Last Tuesday, President Obama announced a sweeping, completely unprecedented power grab. He claims that he has unilaterally withdrawn from future mineral leasing most of the Arctic seabed and large portions of the Atlantic seabed. The president and his radical environmentalist allies assert, without any evidence, that this withdrawal is permanent and cannot be overturned by a future president. This arrogance and disregard for our constitutional system is yet another example of why the president’s legacy was rejected by voters in the general election last month... President Trump should call Obama’s bluff. On day one he should reverse this ban and leave the markets to decide where and whether to develop America’s domestic resources.” [FreedomWorks, 12/28/16]

- FreedomWorks Worked Closely With The American Petroleum Institute To Oppose CO2 Cap And Trade. “FreedomWorks receives funding from the tobacco conglomerate Philip Morris, as well as from Richard Scaife, another business tycoon, who for years helped fund dirt-digging investigations into Bill Clinton. Local branches of Americans for Prosperity have also received tobacco money; the group has opposed smoke-free workplace laws and cigarette taxes. In the environmental area, too, there has been an affinity between the groups and the corporate interests that back them. ExxonMobil was a sponsor of Citizens for Sound Economy, and both FreedomWorks and Americans for Prosperity have campaigned vigorously against Obama’s plans to reduce CO2 emissions through a cap and trade scheme, working closely with the American Petroleum Institute.” [The Guardian, 9/18/09]

Salazar Has Not Cosponsored A Bill To Prohibit Offshore Drilling In The Straits Of Florida. As of June 2021, Salazar has not cosponsored H.R. 3116 “To amend the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act to permanently prohibit the conduct of offshore drilling on the outer Continental Shelf in the Mid-Atlantic, South Atlantic, North Atlantic, and Straits of Florida planning areas.” [H.R.3116, accessed 6/9/21]

Carbon Tax

Salazar supported a carbon tax proposed by Carlos Curbelo.

[VIDEO] September 2018: Asked If She Would Vote For Curbelo’s Carbon Tax, Salazar Said “Sure.” “[REPORTER:] Carlos Curbelo has a carbon tax bill filed. Would you vote for that? [SALAZAR:] Sure, I'll talk to him. I haven't spoken with him about that. Listen, whatever makes sense. I want to step into the center and whatever makes sense for the community for the whole country, is what we need to do. [Miami Herald Editorial Board, 36:12-36:28, 9/26/18]

Salazar Said She Would Vote For A Carbon Tax Proposed By Carlos Curbelo. “Salazar, who spoke to the editorial board minutes after Shalala, said she would be open to supporting universal background checks on guns and providing a path to citizenship for undocumented immigrants in the country at least 15 years. She also said she’d vote for the carbon tax proposal by Miami Rep. Carlos Curbelo, which would provide $700 billion for infrastructure by taxing coal and natural gas emissions, if it had any chance of becoming law in a Republican-controlled Congress.” [Miami Herald, 9/26/18]
Curbelo’s Carbon Tax Proposal Would Raise $700 Billion For Infrastructure By Taxing Coal And Natural Gas Emissions. “Carlos Curbelo’s latest effort to shift the climate change debate within the Republican Party has a long way to go. As the Miami Republican prepares to officially unveil a sweeping carbon tax bill on Monday that would provide $700 billion for infrastructure by taxing coal and natural gas emissions, House Republicans overwhelmingly voted for a resolution on Thursday expressing that a potential tax on carbon emissions would be detrimental to the U.S. economy. Only six of 236 Republicans voted against the resolution, including Curbelo and retiring Miami Rep. Ileana Ros-Lehtinen.” [Miami Herald, 7/19/18]

- Curbelo’s Carbon Tax Proposal Would Repeal The Gas Tax. “Curbelo’s massive bill would repeal the federal gas tax and instead tax fossil fuels at the source. In exchange, the bill would enact a moratorium on certain environmental regulations if lower carbon emissions are met. ‘Next week, you’ll see major legislation authored by a Republican and cosponsored by other Republicans to kind of show a good solution that... takes into account the cost of carbon emissions,’ Curbelo said. ‘We wanted to make it as fair as possible and that’s why we repeal the gas tax. This is not about punishing consumers or punishing producers, it’s about making sure that we can hand off a clean, healthy planet to future generations while being sensitive to economic realities.’” [Miami Herald, 7/19/18]

- 70 Percent Of Revenue Raised From Curbelo’s Carbon Tax Would Go To The Highway Trust Fund. “Curbelo’s plan would send 70 percent of the money raised by the carbon tax to the Highway Trust Fund, with 10 percent going to grants for low-income households and five percent going to flood-mitigation projects, which would all benefit his South Florida constituents caught in daily traffic and worried about sea level rise, and potentially get members from both parties to support the plan.” [Miami Herald, 7/19/18]

- Curbelo’s Carbon Tax Proposal Would Place A Moratorium On Environmental Regulations If Emissions Targets Were Met. “Curbelo’s massive bill would repeal the federal gas tax and instead tax fossil fuels at the source. In exchange, the bill would enact a moratorium on certain environmental regulations if lower carbon emissions are met. ‘Next week, you’ll see major legislation authored by a Republican and cosponsored by other Republicans to kind of show a good solution that... takes into account the cost of carbon emissions,’ Curbelo said. ‘We wanted to make it as fair as possible and that’s why we repeal the gas tax. This is not about punishing consumers or punishing producers, it’s about making sure that we can hand off a clean, healthy planet to future generations while being sensitive to economic realities.’” [Miami Herald, 7/19/18]

- Curbelo’s Bill Would Levy Taxes On Goods From Countries That Do Not Have Carbon Emissions Standards. “The carbon emission goals in Curbelo’s bill are also more stringent than the goals imposed by the Paris Agreement, which Trump pulled out of last year, and would levy taxes on non-U.S. goods from countries that don’t have carbon emission standards, components that Curbelo said should get environmentalists on board. The bill also creates a National Climate Commission that would offer recommendations to Congress for reducing carbon emissions.” [Miami Herald, 7/19/18]
Curbelo’s carbon tax would have caused consumers to pay nearly $500 more in yearly fuel costs by 2030.

Curbelo’s Carbon Tax Would have Raised Per Capita Energy Expenditure By $275 In 2020 And By $186-$278 By 2030. “The proposal from Florida congressman Carlos Curbelo would tax carbon dioxide emissions starting at $24 per ton of CO2 equivalent in 2020, and would repeal the federal excise taxes on gasoline and diesel fuels. Revenues from the carbon tax would help fund the U.S. transportation system and provide dividends to low-income families, among other uses. A group that included Columbia’s Center on Global Energy Policy has analyzed how these policy changes would affect the U.S. economy, energy system and emissions, as well as low-income households. Here are some of their key findings: [...] Per capita energy expenditures will increase by about $275 in 2020 and by $186-$278 in 2030, in all years remaining more than $1,000 lower than the recent historical peak in 2008.” [Columbia Climate School, 7/24/18]

Curbelo’s Carbon Tax Would Have Increased Electricity Prices By 8 Percent In 2020 And 5-10 Percent By 2030. “The proposal from Florida congressman Carlos Curbelo would tax carbon dioxide emissions starting at $24 per ton of CO2 equivalent in 2020, and would repeal the federal excise taxes on gasoline and diesel fuels. Revenues from the carbon tax would help fund the U.S. transportation system and provide dividends to low-income families, among other uses. A group that included Columbia’s Center on Global Energy Policy has analyzed how these policy changes would affect the U.S. economy, energy system and emissions, as well as low-income households. Here are some of their key findings: [...] National average electricity prices are 8 percent higher in 2020 and 5-10 percent higher in 2030.” [Columbia Climate School, 7/24/18]

Scalise said Curbelo’s carbon tax would kill jobs and “raise costs on everything we buy.”

Steve Scalise: “Liberal Washington Special Interests” Were Pushing “A Job-Killing Carbon Tax, Which Would Raise Costs On Everything We Buy From Electricity And Gasoline To Food And Everyday Household Products.” “Curbelo is the co-founder of the Climate Solutions Caucus, a group of Republicans and Democrats concerned about the impacts of climate change. The group has 43 Republican members, though only four of them voted against the anti-carbon tax resolution and one Democrat in the caucus, Florida Rep. Stephanie Murphy, voted in favor of the resolution. ‘Working with President Trump, this Congress is leading America toward energy dominance and strong economic growth, yet some liberal Washington special interests continue to pursue a radical agenda that includes imposing a job-killing carbon tax, which would raise costs on everything we buy from electricity and gasoline to food and everyday household products,’ said Republican Whip Steve Scalise, who introduced Thursday’s resolution and could run for speaker if Republicans maintain control of Congress after the election.” [Miami Herald, 7/19/18]

2018: Only 6 Out Of 236 Republicans Voted Against A Resolution That Stated A Carbon Tax Would Be Detrimental To The U.S. Economy. “Carlos Curbelo’s latest effort to shift the climate change debate within the Republican Party has a long way to go. As the Miami Republican prepares to officially unveil a sweeping carbon tax bill on Monday that would provide $700 billion for infrastructure by taxing coal and natural gas emissions, House Republicans overwhelmingly voted for a resolution on Thursday expressing that a potential tax on carbon emissions would be detrimental to the U.S. economy. Only six of 236 Republicans voted against the resolution, including Curbelo and retiring Miami Rep. Ileana Ros-Lehtinen. Curbelo argued that the resolution’s language was correct in that a carbon tax on its own would hurt the economy, but that a carbon tax paired with other ideas would help it.” [Miami Herald, 7/19/18]

Biden

Salazar has been critical of Biden’s energy policies, calling his policies an “assault” on energy and his actions “band-aids.” Salazar called for Biden to restore the Keystone XL Pipeline and end freezes on new oil and gas leases. Salazar wrote that clean energy policies without expanding our domestic capacity will empower China and Maduro.

2022: Salazar Joined An Op-Ed Calling For Biden To Restore The Keystone XL Pipeline And Slammed Biden’s “Assault” On Energy. “On his first day in office, President Biden declared war on American energy by signing an executive order to cancel the Keystone XL pipeline and ban all new oil and gas development on federal lands. Coupled with more burdensome regulations on building pipelines and other infrastructure, Americans have seen record-high gasoline prices, higher Co2 emissions than the previous four years combined and increased dependence on China and other adversaries, all under Biden’s watch. The American people are hurting because of this administration's assault on American energy.” [Miami Herald, 7/23/22]

- 2022: Salazar Called Biden’s Current Actions “Band-Aids.” “While Biden and his team try to place Band-Aids on the problem, the time has long past for this administration to take the only action capable of lowering fuel prices for American families and ending reliance on China -- unleash American energy production right here at home.” [Miami Herald, 7/23/22]

- 2022: Salazar Wrote That Advancing Clean Energy Policies Without Increasing Domestic Mining Capacity Will Empower China And Maduro. “Advancing clean energy policies to increase our demand for critical minerals, including rare earth elements, without significantly expanding our domestic capacity to mine and refine them, will result in a United States increasingly dependent on China and other adversaries. We cannot empower tyrannical dictatorships like the Chinese Communist Party, Nicolás Maduro, and others by relying on them for our energy needs, especially when the United States is fully capable of indisputably leading the world in clean energy production.” [Miami Herald, 7/23/22]

- 2022: Salazar Called On The Biden Administration To End Freezes On New Oil And Gas Leases, Among Other Things. “The Biden administration must abandon its failed energy policies and immediately reverse course. It must end the federal freeze on new oil and gas leases; fast-track pending LNG export permits; expedite approval of all pipeline and energy development; and stop the regulatory assault on U.S. energy development and financing.” [Miami Herald, 7/23/22]

Everglades
In May 2022, Salazar introduced legislation to repair a damaged Stiltsville structure in Biscayne Bay National Park.

“authorize repairs to a damaged Stiltsville structure in Biscayne Bay National Park. Specifically, the bill requires the Secretary of the Interior to allow repairs on the house damaged by a fire in 2021.” The bill is cosponsored by 3 Republicans and 1 Democrat. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Natural Resources, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 7833, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/20/22]

- Stiltsville Is A “Historical Landmark” And “Tourist Destination” That Was Damaged By A Fire In January 2021. “Stiltsville's unique history dates back to the 1930s when ‘Crawfish’ Eddie Walker built a house on stilts in Biscayne Bay. Its history as an outlaw's paradise during the prohibition era led to its protection as a historical landmark in 2003 when the Stiltsville Trust was established. Today, Stiltsville's six remaining houses remain a major tourist destination and a very important landmark to the history of Miami. In January 2021, a fire damaged one of the remaining six houses. The Stiltsville Trust, in cooperative agreement with the U.S. Department of Interior (DOI), would like to repair the structure. However, DOI bureaucrats in Washington have refused to enter arbitration for consideration of repairs. Stiltsville's designation within a U.S. National Park requires Congress to get involved to break the gridlock. If repairs are authorized, they would be executed through private funds via the Stiltsville Trust, at no cost to American taxpayers.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/20/22]

Strategic Federal Oil Reserve

In April 2022, when gas prices were rising, Salazar said, “Biden should not use the strategic federal oil reserve to bring energy prices down.”

[VIDEO] April 2022: Salazar: “Biden Should Not Use The Strategic Federal Oil Reserves To Bring Energy Prices Down.” In a video on her Instagram, Salazar stated in Spanish that the Biden Administration was getting desperate over the rising costs of energy, and that they had permitted the release of 1M oil barrels per day from the strategic federal oil reserve, to which she was opposed. [Instagram, Maria Elvira Salazar, 04/03/22, 0:05/2:05]

- Spanish Version: La administración del Presidente Biden, que están desesperados con el alza de los precios del petróleo, está permitiendo sacar un millón de barriles de petróleo diarios... eso no se hace.

LNG

Salazar wants faster approval for LNG exports.

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Expedite The Approval Of Liquified Natural Gas Exports. “Congressman Clay Higgins (R-LA), Congresswoman Kat Cammack (R-FL), and 25 Republican colleagues recently introduced H.R. 7115, the Small Scale LNG Access Act, which would expedite the approval of U.S. natural gas exports up to and including 51.75 billion cubic feet per year. The bill highlights the importance of U.S. liquified natural gas (LNG) to America's energy independence and national security. With current geopolitical concerns, investing in LNG at any scale will provide long-term benefits, support American jobs, foster American energy independence, and ensure the U.S. leads the way as a leading producer of cleaner energy. Original co-sponsors at the time of introduction include Reps. Garret Graves (R-LA), Mike Johnson (R-LA), Carlos Gimenez (R-FL), Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL)..." [Targeted News Service, 3/20/22]

Fracking

Salazar criticized the Biden Administration for stopping the “drilling or fracking on government land.”

[VIDEO] March 2022: Salazar Criticized The Biden Administration For Stopping The “Drilling Or Fracking On Government Land.” Salazar said, “They know very well that when [Biden] got into his administration, he canceled the pipeline that was coming from Canada that was [...] [going to bring] 800,000 barrels of oil a day. He cancelled the possibility that they continue to drill or frack on government land.” [YouTube, Cubanos por el Mundo – Live, 3/27/22 (7:20)]

- Spanish Version: “Saben muy bien que cuando [Biden] llego a la administración el canceló el pipeline que venía de Canadá que [...] 800,000 barriles diarios de petróleo. Canceló la posibilidad de que sigan en las tierras del gobierno siguen drilling o fracking.”

Carbon Capture

2021: Signed Cosponsored Carbon Capture Legislation. “U.S. Representatives Tim Burchett (TN-02) and Terri Sewell (AL-07) introduced the Carbon Capture Improvement Act of 2021. U.S. Representatives Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27), David McKinley (WV-01), Clay Higgins (LA-03), Andrew Garbarino (NY-02) and Brian Mast (FL-18) are original cosponsors of this bipartisan legislation. "Overbearing environmental regulations harm America's energy supply," Rep. Burchett said. "A better approach is a tax-free incentive that encourages businesses to invest in carbon capture technologies. Market-based solutions will help limit carbon emissions without damaging a company's ability to meet the needs of its customers." [Targeted News Service, 7/14/21]

Blue Economy

Salazar Introduced legislation to create ocean innovation clusters to strengthen the coastal communities and blue economies across the country.

2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Create Ocean Innovation Clusters To Strengthen The Coastal Communities And Blue Economies Across The Country. “U.S. Representatives Chellie Pingree (D-Maine) and Maria Elvira Salazar (R-Fla.) introduced legislation to strengthen coastal communities and the blue economy of Maine and the U.S. through technological research and development, job training, and cross-sector partnerships. The bipartisan Ocean Regional Opportunity and Innovation (Ocean ROI) Act of 2022, which was introduced in the Senate by Senators Lisa Murkowski (R-Alaska) and Maria Cantwell (D-Wash.), would direct the Secretary of Commerce to establish "Ocean Innovation Clusters" and provide grants for their establishment, operation, and administration.” [Targeted News Service, 6/08/22]
US Navy Vessels

In September 2021, Salazar introduced legislation to promote the use of decommissioned US Navy vessels as artificial reef starters.

September 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Promote The Use Of Decommissioned US Navy Vessels As Artificial Reef Starters. In September 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 5306, the Re-using Equipment for Environmental Fortification Act (REEF Act). The bill would "require the Department of the Navy to notify Congress of the pending retirement of vessels that are viable candidates for artificial reefing (intentionally sinking a vessel to promote marine life). Specifically, the Navy must provide such notice not later than 90 days before the viable candidate’s retirement from the Naval Vessel Register.” The bill is cosponsored by 16 Republicans and 6 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Armed Services, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 5306, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 9/22/21]

- The Act Incentivizes Retired Navy Ships To Be Repurposed Into Artificial Reefs, Boosting Marine Environments And Creating Recreational And Economic Opportunities In The Process. “A strong bipartisan group of their colleagues introduced the Reusing Equipment for Environmental Fortification (REEF) Act. The REEF Act incentivizes retired Navy ships to be repurposed into artificial reefs, boosting marine environments and creating recreational and economic opportunities in the process... A number of notable fishing and boating associations, including the American Sportfishing Association and the International Game Fish Association, penned a letter of support for the REEF Act as well.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 9/22/21]

Natural Disasters

After the Surfside disaster, Salazar introduced legislation to increase loan limit amounts for homeowners impacted by natural disasters.

2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Increase Loan Limit Amounts For Homeowners Impacted By Natural Disasters. “This week, Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL), Congresswoman Elaine Luria (D-VA), Congressman Dan Crenshaw (R-TX), Congressman Joe Neguse (D-CO), and Congressman Garret Graves (R-LA) introduced H.R. 4215, the bipartisan Rebuilding Communities After Disasters Act with 35 original co-sponsors... [...] The Rebuilding Communities After Disasters Act ensures homeowners have adequate resources to recover from natural disasters. Specifically, it increases the maximum loan amount for SBA physical damage disaster loans from $200,000 to $400,000 for home repair, and from $40,000 to $75,000 to replace household and personal belongings, bringing the loans limits in line with today's home prices to help homeowners fully recover from unavoidable disasters. The limits on these loans have not been increased since 1994 - over 25 years - when the average home price in the United States was $106,000. The bill would also require the SBA to market these loans to homeowners in a declared disaster area through all media platforms and to provide a yearly report to Congress on the progress of the loan program.” [Targeted News Service, 7/03/21]
• 2021: The Bill Was Introduced Alongside The SBA Disaster Declaration For Surfside. “This bill comes alongside the Small Business Administration's Declaration of Disaster for Surfside victims, which offers these loans to those impacted by the Surfside condo collapse in Miami-Dade County.” [Targeted News Service, 7/03/21]

• 2021: Salazar Said, “We Must Do Everything Possible So That Our Coastal Communities Have Access To The All Resources Provided By The SBA.” "We are in the midst of hurricane season, and in South Florida, we know all too well how these storms can absolutely devastate our homes," said Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar. "We must do everything possible so that our coastal communities have access to all the resources provided by the SBA to safely rebuild their homes in the event of a disaster. The Disaster Assistance Loans must be modernized to reflect the rising costs of homes across our communities." [Targeted News Service, 7/03/21]

• 2021: After Surfside, Salazar Participated In An Area Elected Official Meeting And Said Officials At All Levels Of Government Must “Work Together.” "As our South Florida community continues to recover from the Surfside tragedy, it is critical that our officials at all levels of government work together to protect our residents," said Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27). "Together, we can create smart policies and provide proactive solutions to keep our community strong, safe, and resilient." [Targeted News Service, 8/05/21]

Paris Climate Agreement

Salazar supported Biden’s decision to re-enter the Paris Climate Agreement.

2021: Salazar Supported Biden’s Decision To Re-Enter The Paris Climate Agreement. “In Miami, Republicans like former Reps. Carlos Curbelo and Ileana Ros-Lehtinen were known for speaking out on climate change. But in 2021 only Republican Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar says she supports Biden's decision to re-enter the Paris Climate Agreement. Miami Republican Rep. Mario Diaz-Balart is opposed. And Rep. Carlos Gimenez once supported a Miami-Dade County resolution endorsing the Paris Climate Agreement, when he was the county's mayor, but said during his campaign for Congress that 'we should reenter something that doesn't put us at a disadvantage.’” [Miami Herald, 1/22/21]

Ethics And Government Reform

Forgoing Salary & Employment Center
During the 2020 campaign trail, Salazar repeatedly promised to donate her congressional salary. She even promised to use it to run an employment center in her district office. When describing the center while running for office, Salazar said “my African Americans” would be the first to benefit. However, the House Ethics Committee advised Salazar against redirecting her salary to fund her congressional office. As a result, Salazar was not able to hire additional staff for a prosperity center, but said her district office would conduct additional casework related to employment. This raises the question if Salazar kept her promise and has been donating her salary.

Salazar Was Forgoing Her $174,000 Congressional Salary. “Despite forgoing her $174,000 congressional salary for the last nine months in a so-far unsuccessful attempt to establish an employment center, U.S. Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar’s finances improved dramatically since entering Congress in January.” [Miami Herald, 9/10/21]

Salazar Promised She Would Create An Employment Center Out Of Her Congressional Office. “Though she did not agree to an interview with the Miami Herald for this story, she told DeFede that she's focusing on ‘jobs and the economy’ in her campaign. 'I'm going to create out of my congressional office, if I'm elected to Congress, an employment center,’ Salazar said to DeFede.” [Miami Herald, 10/3/20]

Salazar Said She Would Fund The Employment Office By Directing Her Salary To Her District Office Funds. “Salazar said she would add her own congressional salary to the funds lawmakers receive to run their district offices and establish an employment center in her office. It's an interesting idea that was marred only by a tone-deaf Salazar telling the Board that she wanted 'my African Americans' to be the first in her district to benefit from this service.” [Miami Herald, 10/31/20]

• Salazar Repeatedly Promised To Donate Her Salary Throughout Her Campaign. “Salazar first vowed to give back her salary as part of an attack ad, as she challenged incumbent Democratic Rep. Donna Shalala last year in Florida's 27th Congressional District. In the ad, which ran on TV, she said: ‘Politicians shouldn't enrich themselves like Donna Shalala. That's why Maria Elvira Salazar will donate her entire salary.’ She also repeated the salary donation pledge in interviews throughout the campaign.” [Miami Herald, 1/30/21]

• Salazar Promised To Donate Her Salary Despite Reporting A $20,000 Income And Up To $5 Million In Debt On Her 2020 Personal Financial Disclosure. “Salazar first vowed to give back her salary as part of an attack ad [...] It's not unusual for wealthy politicians to donate their salaries. Former President Donald Trump donated his presidential salary four times a year to different federal agencies though he still earned profits from his real estate business. And Florida Republican Sen. Rick Scott donates his salary to various charities -- in April, for example, it went to medical researchers at the University of South Florida. But Trump and Scott are multi-millionaires and Salazar isn't -- though she might not be far from it. Her 2020 federal financial disclosure listed $20,000 in income for TV work, along with a net worth of at least $600,000. Salazar owes between $1 million and $5 million on a residential mortgage, according to her financial disclosure. Federal disclosures require lawmakers to report assets and liabilities in ranges, so a precise accounting of their net worth is impossible.” [Miami Herald, 1/30/21]
Salazar Said She Wanted To Hire Three Staff Members For Her Prosperity Center And Suggested Paying Rent For People Looking For Jobs. “Salazar said her staff's conversations with the House Committee on Ethics have not yet given her clarity on how and whether she can use her salary to supplement her office funds and expand her staff. [...] Salazar said Friday that the prosperity center -- which she expects to open Feb. 3 within her main district office in Miami at 3961 NW Seventh St. -- will be staffed by three people. ‘I don’t want to break the rules so I will wait for them,’ Salazar said of the ethics and administration committees. ‘I would like to hire more people or I would like to pay people's rent if they have a need while they're finding a job...but I have to do it within the restraints of the United States Congress.” [Miami Herald, 1/30/21]

Salazar Said House Ethics Committee Could Not Give Her Clear Guidance On Donating Her Salary To Fund A “Prosperity Center” In Her Congressional Office. “Miami Republican Rep. María Elvira Salazar ran ads during her campaign last year declaring that she would donate her entire $174,000 salary to fund a ‘prosperity center’ to help her constituents pay their rent and find jobs. But on Friday, when Salazar was expected to get her first paycheck as a member of Congress, she said she has had trouble receiving clear guidance from committees that oversee how members of Congress run their offices on whether and how she can proceed with her plans. [...] Salazar said her staff's conversations with the House Committee on Ethics have not yet given her clarity on how and whether she can use her salary to supplement her office funds and expand her staff. Late Friday, she provided emails to the Miami Herald with redacted addresses that she said were between her staff and the House Committee on Administration, showing that her office asked for guidance as early as Dec. 4.” [Miami Herald, 1/30/21]

Salazar Approached The House Ethics Committee With Different Ideas On How To Direct Her Salary Into Her Congressional Office But Was Advised They All Would Violate Rules. “Salazar said she wanted to use the money to directly pay for additional staff, which wasn't allowed. Then, she inquired about donating her salary to her own congressional budget, which wasn't allowed, either. Finally, she asked if her salary could fund bonuses for staff who take on additional case work for the prosperity center, which again violated the rules. ‘I can't hire more than 18 people plus four part-timers,’ Salazar said, adding that the House Ethics Committee knows her well because she's called them so many times. ‘I'm not going to go against any of the rules.”’ [Miami Herald, 2/26/21]

Salazar’s Office Shared Emails From House Ethics Recommending Against Using Personal Funds To Pay Personnel. “Salazar said her staff's conversations with the House Committee on Ethics have not yet given her clarity on how and whether she can use her salary to supplement her office funds and expand her staff. Late Friday, she provided emails to the Miami Herald with redacted addresses that she said were between her staff and the House Committee on Administration, showing that her office asked for guidance as early as Dec. 4. One email, on Dec. 7, recommends that members of Congress avoid using their personal funds to pay for personnel. Salazar said Friday that the prosperity center -- which she expects to open Feb. 3 within her main district office in Miami at 3961 NW Seventh St. -- will be staffed by three people.” [Miami Herald, 1/30/21]

Salazar Said She Would Find Another Way To Donate Her Salary After The House Ethics Committee Advised Against Using It To Run A Job Center Out Of Her Congressional Office. “Salazar said she will find another way to donate her salary toward job services for the people of Florida's 27th Congressional District after House ethics managers shot down her proposal to use her paycheck to hire staff to run a job center out of her office. ‘If I wanted to make money, believe me I would have stayed in the private sector making a lot more than I’m making now,’ she said. ‘Because I’m not making anything.’” [Miami Herald, 2/3/21]

Salazar Said Her Congressional Pay Would Sit In A Bank Account Until She Could Figure Out What To Do With It. ‘The Miami Republican told voters and media outlets of a plan ‘unlike any other congressional office’ to fund a ‘prosperity center’ with her $174,000 salary, using her paycheck to pay for additional staff who would provide job training resources and steer federal contracts to small businesses interested in providing services to the government. But two months into the job, Salazar says she can’t fully honor her campaign promise due to congressional ethics rules. On Friday, Salazar is expected to receive her second paycheck as a member of Congress, a sum of about $7,700 after taxes. For now, the money will sit in a bank account until Salazar decides what to do with it. ‘The government doesn't let me do what I promised I was going to do,’ Salazar said in an interview. ‘I have to work on a plan. I have not worked on that plan yet.’” [Miami Herald, 2/26/21]

Salazar Said Despite Not Being Able To Hire Additional Staff And Open An Employment Center, She Incorporated The Duties Into The Traditional Casework Of Her District Office. “But Salazar said that while she can't boost her congressional office with her salary, the prosperity center idea has been incorporated into the job responsibilities of her staffers. Her 18 employees are equally split between Miami and Washington, she said. Salazar's congressional office has opened 405 traditional constituent cases since she assumed office in January, according to her district director, Daniel Leyte-Vidal. […] Even though Salazar can't use her salary to fund a prosperity center, which is simply an extra set of job responsibilities within her existing office, she said her staff has added additional casework related to employment.” [Miami Herald, 2/26/21]

Term Limits

Salazar supported term limits, but said she would “die doing this” after being elected.

[VIDEO] 2020: Salazar Promised To Fight For Term Limits. “[SALAZAR:] I’m Maria Elvira Salazar and I approve this message because I’ll fight for term limits and get rid of the corrupt politicians in both parties. - Salazar Said She Supports Term Limits. “Salazar said former lawmakers should never become lobbyists. ‘I would denounce that forever. If you are part of the government, you should never be a lobbyist, period,’ Salazar said, adding that she also favors term limits. ‘If you choose to [serve in Congress], it’s a very big sacrifice.’” [Miami Herald, 2/4/20]

[VIDEO] Salazar Said She Would “Die Doing This” If The Voters Allowed Her. “This is one of the, probably the toughest job I’ve done, running for Congress […] But it’s the most gratifying because you’re doing it for the common good. You’re doing it for what you believe in. Now I would say that I am at that point where I will never give up. And hopefully the voters want me to, I will die doing this.” [YouTube, ForbesWomen, 0:22-1:05, 6/2/21]
Lobbying Ban

Salazar supported a ban on lobbying after leaving office.

Salazar: “If You Are Part Of The Government, You Should Never Be A Lobbyist, Period.” “Salazar said former lawmakers should never become lobbyists. ‘I would denounce that forever. If you are part of the government, you should never be a lobbyist, period,’ Salazar said, adding that she also favors term limits. ‘If you choose to [serve in Congress], it’s a very big sacrifice.’” [Miami Herald, 2/4/20]

Joseph Woodrow

Salazar joined bipartisan efforts to rename a Florida courthouse after the first Black Florida Supreme Court justice.

2022: Salazar Supported Efforts To Name A Tallahassee Courthouse After Joseph Woodrow On Two Separate Occasions. “Efforts to name the federal courthouse in Tallahassee after Judge Joseph Woodrow Hatchett, Florida's first Black Florida Supreme Court Justice, were derailed last month when House Republicans, including U.S. Rep. Neal Dunn, R-Panama City, whose district includes Tallahassee, objected because of a Hatchett ruling on school prayer. Tallahassee's other Congressman, Democrat Al Lawson, got the proposal back on track Wednesday, when he reintroduced and debated the measure on the House floor. Dunn flipped his vote to a yes and the measure by Florida GOP Senators Marco Rubio and Rick Scott cleared the House on a 230-191 tally, with nine other Republicans joining Democrats to honor Hatchett. [...] Like Dunn, U.S. Rep. Bill Posey, R-Brevard, and U.S. Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Miami, voted with Democrats. The two had also voted yes in April.” [The News Herald, 5/21/22]

2020 Campaign

In 2020, Tim Padgett, an editor for the Miami NPR affiliate WLRN, slammed Salazar as practicing “McCarthyism” and said Salazar was filled with “shameless double standards” that it would have “even made a two-faced politico like Fidel Castro blush.”

2020: Salazar Was Slammed By A Guest Columnist, Tim Padgett, In The South Florida Sun-Sentinel For Practicing Mccarthyism During The 2020 Campaign. “This year’s election not only confirmed malicious McCarthyism is alive and smearing in South Florida, it showcased Salazar as one of its most enthusiastic practitioners.” [South Florida Sun-Sentinel, 11/09/20]

2020: In The Editorial, Salazar Was Blasted For The “Hypocrisy” Of Her Election And Her Campaign To “Darken Civic Discourse” In South Florida. “So it's not Salazar's election that bothers me. It's how she got elected. The sheer hypocrisy of it, of course, but also the way it's contributed to the unhinged orgy of ¡tú eres comunista! hysteria that defined this election cycle in South Florida, and which promises..."
2020: Tim Padgett Wrote That Salazar's Campaign Was Filled With Such "Shameless Double Standards" It Would Have "Made Even A Two-Faced Politico Like Fidel Castro Blush." “What's just as civically harmful as the reckless bile is the shameless double standards, which Salazar paraded in ways that would have made even a two-faced politico like Fidel Castro blush. She had the unmitigated brass to call Shalala and Democrats socialistas because of policies like Obamacare; then she turned around and told voters Obamacare was OK because she knew damn well how popular it is with South Floridians - especially with the Cubans and other Latinos in her district to whom she was most loudly preaching the ¡Demócratas-son-socialistas! Propaganda.” [South Florida Sun-Sentinel, 11/09/20]

Food

Citrus/Fruit Production

Salazar supported the domestic production of orange juice, promoted grapefruit production, warned about the greening of Florida citrus trees, and supported the Florida fruit industry.

2022: Salazar Signed A letter To Reconsider A Ban On The Usage Of Thiram, An Important Fungicide Used In The Cultivation Of Strawberries. “Representatives Scott Franklin (FL-15) and Darren Soto (FL-09) today sent a letter to the Environmental Protection Agency urging reconsideration of a ban on the usage of Thiram, an important fungicide used in the cultivation of strawberries. A ban of Thiram would be devastating to the strawberry production, according to industry experts. In December, EPA proposed a ban on the usage of Thiram due to potential harm posed to agricultural workers. It found that Thiram's skin absorption factor was 15 percent, a level deemed too high to be considered safe. Eastman Chemical, the company which produces Thiram, conducted a follow up study which concluded the absorption factor is only 1.2 percent, well within the EPA’s acceptable range for safe use. In response, the members have asked EPA to re-examine the data and make a determination once all information has been considered. The letter’s cosigners include Reps. Kat Cammack (FL-03), Al Lawson (FL-05), Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27)...” [State News Services, 5/20/22]

2022: Salazar Signed A Letter To The EPA To Approve Vismax To Prevent The Greening Of Citrus Trees That Hurts The Florida Citrus Industry. “Congresswoman Kat Cammack (R-FL-03) and Congressman Al Lawson (D-FL-05) led a bipartisan letter with members of the Florida congressional delegation to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) requesting an expeditious approval of Vismax, a biochemical pesticide used for citrus greening. Citrus greening, a disease that impairs trees' ability to take in nourishment, has negatively impacted nearly every farm in Florida and can drastically reduce the productivity of a tree within just two years. Today, citrus greening has caused Florida's citrus industry to shrink by more than two-thirds and has caused over $8 billion in economic losses, with thousands of jobs lost. The letter asks the EPA to rapidly approve the use of Vismax in preventing citrus greening, so the industry may access this product before the start of the 2022 growing season this October. [...] The letter earned the support of Florida Citrus Mutual. Original signees of the letter include Reps. Cammack and Lawson, Reps. Bill Posey, Carlos Gimenez, Debbie Wasserman Schultz, Gus Bilirakis, Frederica Wilson, John Rutherford, Maria Elvira Salazar, Mario Diaz-Balart, Michael Waltz, and Scott Franklin.” [Targeted News Service, 5/18/22]

2021: Salazar Signed A letter To Tom Vilsak To Reverse The Suspended Rules On Juice Standards For Important Grapefruits. “Florida Congressman Daniel Webster, R-Clermont, joined U.S. Senators Marco Rubio (R-FL), Ted Cruz (R-TX), and Rick Scott (R-FL) and members of the Florida and Texas Congressional Delegations to urge the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Tom Vilsack to reverse the Department’s unjustified decision to administratively suspend juice content standards for imported grapefruits, and to request information regarding the circumstances of the suspension, which was made without a proper rulemaking process, and for which Congress was not notified. Following the suspension of grapefruit juice content standards, Texas A&M University found in November 2021, that more than 85 percent of grapefruits imported from Mexico in September and October would have “failed quality standards and been rejected,” if not for the suspension of juice content standards by Secretary Vilsack.” [Targeted News Service, 12/11/21]

2021: Salazar Signed A Letter To The Acting US Trade Rep Expressing Concern Over EU Tariffs On Grapefruit. “Last week, members of the Florida congressional delegation, led by Reps. Darren Soto (FL-09) and Bill Posey (FL-08) , wrote a letter to Acting U.S. Trade Representative, Maria Pagan, expressing concerns over retaliatory tariffs placed by the European Union (EU) on U.S. agricultural products, particularly Florida grapefruits. "These tariffs have had a devastating impact on citrus, particularly Florida grapefruit, worsening the already difficult market conditions resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic," wrote the members . "Because fresh citrus and citrus juices are subject to the retaliatory tariff, fresh Florida grapefruit is among the most adversely impacted." In the past, forty percent of Florida's fresh grapefruit production was intended for EU markets. With the addition of a twenty-five percent retaliatory tariff on top of the existing 1.5 percent tariff, grapefruit exports from Florida have shrunk significantly. As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, Florida growers have already been struggling to maintain their livelihoods. If immediate action is not taken and the United States loses the fresh grapefruit market in the EU, they could face even harsher consequences.” [State News Service, 2/10/21]

2021: Joined with other Florida lawmakers to write a letter to Biden to protect Florida’s seasonal fruit and veggie growers. “U.S Senator Marco Rubio (R-FL) led members of the Florida congressional delegation in a letter to President Joe Biden urging the administration to protect Florida’s seasonal fruit and vegetable growers from unfair trade competition. Florida’s agricultural industry plays an indispensable role in American food security. [...] Joining Rubio were Senator Rick Scott (R-FL) and Representatives Brian Mast (R-FL), Stephanie Murphy (D-FL), Vern Buchanan (R-FL), Mario Diaz-Balart

Bipartisan Gun Bill

Salazar voted for the bipartisan gun bill after the Uvalde massacre.

2022: Salazar Voted For The Bipartisan Gun Bill Signed Into Law By President Biden In The Summer Of 2022 After The Uvalde Massacre. “The House of Representatives passed the Bipartisan Safer Communities Act on Friday, sending the most significant new gun restrictions since the 1990s to President Joe Biden's desk. The bill passed by a 234-193 margin, with 14 House Republicans voting in favor. It comes after 15 Senate Republicans broke ranks and voted for the bill late Thursday night. The bipartisan measure, negotiated by Democratic and Republican senators with Senate Minority Leader Mitch McConnell's blessing, includes multimillion dollar investments in mental health services and school security, as well as a new federal ban on gun trafficking. The gun safety bill would also offer new funding to support states and tribes that seek to enact "red flag" laws — which allow authorities to confiscate guns from individuals deemed a threat to themselves or others — closing the so-called "boyfriend loophole," and subjecting gun purchasers under the age of 21 to new background check requirements. [...] Here are the 14 House Republicans who voted for the bill: ... Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar of Florida” [Business Insider, 6/24/22]

Opposed Red Flag Laws

June 2022: Salazar voted against red flag laws that prohibited the purchase and possession of firearms by people who pose an imminent danger.

Salazar Voted Against A Family Or Household Member Or Law Enforcement Initiated Red Flag Law Authorizing Judges To Prohibit The Purchase And Possession Of Firearms By People Who Pose An Imminent Danger. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would allow a family or household member of an individual, or a law enforcement officer, to petition a federal district court to issue an extreme risk protection order to prohibit an individual from purchasing or possessing a firearm or ammunition, if the court finds that such purchase or possession poses a risk of imminent personal injury to the individual or others. It would require courts to grant or deny a petition for a temporary order, valid for 14 days, on its date of submission. It would require courts to hold a hearing on a petition for a long-term order, valid for a renewable period of 180 days, within 72 hours of issuing a temporary order or 14 days after submission of the petition. In evaluating a petition, it would require courts to consider recent threats or acts of violence by the respondent, recent acts of cruelty to animals and evidence of ongoing substance abuse. It would also allow courts to consider a respondent’s reckless use or display of a firearm or history of violence or attempted violence. It would establish procedures for the surrender and removal of firearms pursuant to an extreme risk protection order and prohibit the possession of firearms by individuals subject to an order under federal firearm law. It would also specify that there would be no costs for filing a petition and establish a penalty of up to $5,000 or five years imprisonment for making false or frivolous petitions. The bill would also require the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services within the Justice Department to establish a grant program to assist state, tribal and local governments in implementing legislation allowing individuals to petition state or tribal courts to issue extreme risk protection orders, including to enhance the capacity and training of law enforcement agencies and courts to carry out the legislation.” The bill passed by a vote of 224-202. - U.S. Secret Service: In 41 School Violence Incidents Between 2008-2017, “All Attackers Exhibited Concerning Behaviors” “Often Observed By Peers, School Staff, Family Members, Or Others.” “To aid in these efforts, the U.S. Secret Service National Threat Assessment Center (NTAC) studied 41 incidents of targeted school violence that occurred at K-12 schools in the United States from 2008 to 2017. [...] The analysis suggests that many of these tragedies could have been prevented [...] All attackers exhibited concerning behaviors. Most elicited concern from others, and most communicated their intent to attack. The initial indicators of a student who was in distress or exhibiting concerning behavior were often observed by peers, school staff, family members, or others in their immediate community systems. The behaviors that elicited concern ranged from a constellation of lower-level concerns to objectively concerning or prohibited behaviors. Most of the attackers communicated a prior threat to their target or communicated their intentions to carry out an attack. In many of these cases, someone observed a threatening communication or behavior but did not act, either out of fear, not believing the attacker, misjudging the immediacy or location, or believing they had dissuaded the attacker. These findings continue to highlight the importance of encouraging students, school personnel, and family members to report troubling or concerning behaviors, in order to ensure that those in positions of authority can intervene. These same community members need to be trained on identifying risk factors for student violence and students in crisis.” [United States Secret Service National Threat Assessment Center, Report, 11/7/19]

- Journal of Contemporary Criminal Justice: A Study Of 15 Of The Worst Mass Shootings Showed Most “Were Indeed Preventable” And “The Deadliest Mass Shooters Exhibited More Warning Signs” Compared To Other Active Shooters. “This study examined the 15 deadliest public mass shootings in the United States from March 1998 to February 2018 to assess (a) leakage of violent thoughts/intent, (b) leakage of specific interest in mass killing, (c) concerning behaviors reported to law enforcement, (d) concerning interest in homicide reported to law enforcement, and (e) firearms acquisition. We then compared our findings on the deadliest public mass shooters with the Federal Bureau of Investigation’s (FBI) findings on active shooters in general. Overall, the results suggest that most incidents were indeed preventable based on information known about offenders in advance, and that the deadliest mass shooters exhibited more warning signs and were more often reported to law enforcement than other active shooters. Future prevention efforts should aim to educate, encourage, and pressure the public to report warning signs to law enforcement, educate and train law enforcement so that they can more effectively investigate potential threats, and limit firearms access for people who have admitted having homicidal or suicidal thoughts or being interested in committing a mass shooting. These relatively straightforward steps could significantly reduce the prevalence of future attacks.” [Journal of Contemporary Criminal Justice, Research Article, 4/2/19]

[...] On average, each active shooter displayed 4 to 5 concerning behaviors over time that were observable to others around the shooter. The most frequently occurring concerning behaviors were related to the active shooter’s mental health, problematic interpersonal interactions, and leakage of violent intent.” [U.S. Department of Justice, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Report, 6/20/18]

Opposed Raising The Minimum Age

June 2022: Salazar voted against The Protecting Our Kids Act that would have raised the age to buy a semiautomatic weapon.

Salazar Voted Against The Protecting Our Kids Act To Increase Gun Safety. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would contain several provisions related to limiting gun access. Specifically, it would increase from 18 to 21 years the age at which an individual can legally purchase a semiautomatic weapon; prohibit ‘straw purchases,’ or the acquisition of firearms for sale to another individual other than in the case of gifts between family members or purchases for lawful use in a business; and prohibit individuals from selling or transferring a firearm or ammunition if they have reason to believe the recipient intends to use them in violation of federal law or sell or dispose of them in another state in violation of that state's law. It would prohibit the import, sale, manufacture, transfer or possession of large capacity ammunition feeding devices, other than for certain law enforcement or testing purposes; prohibit the manufacture, sale or transfer of ‘ghost guns,’ or firearms that lack a serial number issued by a licensed manufacturer, and make such weapons and the assembly of such weapons subject to federal firearm regulations; and authorize the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives to regulate bump stocks, which are devices intended to increase the rate of fire of a semiautomatic weapon in the same manner as a machine gun. It would prohibit the storage of a firearm in a private residence where a minor is likely to access it without permission or where a resident of the household is ineligible to possess a firearm, unless the weapon is secured with a gun storage or safety device, in a reasonably secure location or on the person of the owner. It would authorize $10 million annually through fiscal 2033 for Justice Department grants for state and tribal programs to distribute safe firearm storage devices to the public, and it would require the department to publish best practices for safe firearm storage and gun manufacturers to include such information on weapon packaging.
Among other provisions, it would authorize the use of federal law enforcement grants for state and tribal buy-back programs for large capacity ammunition feeding devices; require the FBI to submit to Congress a report regarding the operation of its public access tip line; and require the Justice Department to submit to Congress an annual report including the demographic data of individuals who were determined to be ineligible to purchase a firearm based on a background check performed by the National Instant Criminal Background Check System during the previous year.” The bill passed by a vote of 223-204. [H.R. 7910, Vote #Vote #245, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

This sharp increase was driven by a dramatic rise in gun-related homicides: ° While nonfirearm homicides increased less than 10 percent from 2019 to 2020, gun homicides rose by 35 percent, the largest annual increase ever recorded. ° In 2020, 8 out of every 10 homicides were perpetrated with a gun, the highest proportion in recent years. • Unfortunately, the rise in gun homicides continued through 2021: Preliminary data suggest an additional 7 percent increase in gun homicides from 2020 to 2021.” [Center for American Progress, Fact Sheet, 6/3/22]

Around the same time, Salazar did vote with Democrats to increase the age of semi-automatic rifles from 18 to 21.

However, in the past, Salazar has questioned the effectiveness of raising the age for gun purchases.

2018: Salazar in 2018 questioned the effectiveness of raising the age. “She [Salazar] has also questioned the effectiveness of raising the age limit to purchase assault rifles and other firearms, while sounding the horn against violent video games. ‘Guns don’t shoot themselves,’ she said in a recent interview. ‘If you increase the age from 18 to 21, even if they raise it to 25, to 39, if [Parkland shooter] Nikolas Cruz wanted to... he would buy it on the black market.’” [Miami Herald, 10/05/18]

Opposed Active Shooter Alert Act

July 2022: Salazar voted against the Active Shooter Alert Act that was supported by multiple law enforcement groups in order to better respond to active threats.

Salazar Voted Against The Active Shooter Alert Act To Establish The Active Shooter Alert Communications Network To Inform Communities During Emergencies. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would require the Justice Department to appoint a national coordinator for a new Active Shooter Alert Communications Network. It would require the coordinator to work with state and local government agencies to establish procedures for response to and public alerts regarding active shooter threats; coordinate with the Federal Emergency Management Agency and Federal Communications Commission regarding the use of the Integrated Public Alert and Warning System for active shooter alerts; establish and regularly update best practices for the issuance of alerts through the network; and report to Congress biennially on the status and effectiveness of each state and local alert procedure that has been implemented. It would authorize $2 million in fiscal 2023 for the Justice Department to carry out the bill’s provisions. It would also require the Government Accountability Office to report to Congress, within two years of enactment, on state and local responses to active shooters, including the timing and effectiveness of public alerts.” The bill passed by a vote of 260-169. [H.R. 6538, Vote #Vote #307, 7/13/22; CQ, 7/13/22]

- The Active Shooter Alert Communications Network Utilized Alerts Similar To AMBER Alerts.
  “The House approved legislation on Wednesday to create an active shooter alert network. Driving the news: The bill would create the Active Shooter Alert Communications Network to issue AMBER-style alerts to make people aware of active shooter situations in their area.” [Axios, 7/13/22]

- The Fraternal Order Of Police Supported The Active Shooter Alert Act To “Improve The Ways Officers And Agencies Communicate With The Public About Active Threats.” “I am writing on behalf of the members of the Fraternal Order of Police to advise you of our support for H.R.
6538, the 'Active Shooter Alert Act.' Responding to an active shooter event is chaotic and can be fraught with peril, especially when the incident is not confined to one location. Law enforcement officers must prioritize preserving lives and ending the threat. Simultaneously, they need a way to notify the public about the incident, whether that is to avoid a certain area, shelter in place, or announce when the area is once again safe. The bill you have introduced is designed to improve the ways officers and agencies communicate with the public about active threats. [...] We believe as you do—having a network for informing the public during these critical incidents will save lives. On behalf of the more than 364,000 members of the Fraternal Order of Police, I thank you for your efforts on this legislation and look forward to working with you to get it passed. If I can provide any additional assistance about this issue, please do not hesitate to contact me or Executive Director Jim Pasco in our Washington, D.C. office.” [Fraternal Order of Police, Letter, 1/28/22]

- The National Sheriffs’ Association Supported The Active Shooter Alert Act. “The US House passed bipartisan legislation on Wednesday night that would help state and local governments set up a warning system for active shooter situations, and enhance law enforcement’s communication with the public in such emergencies. It would be similar in operation to the Amber Alert system that’s deployed whenever a child is abducted. [...] The bill was endorsed by numerous law enforcement organizations, including the Fraternal Order of Police and National Sheriffs’ Association.” [Bloomberg, 7/13/22]

- The National Education Association Supported The Active Shooter Alert Act To “Reduce Harm During A Shooting.” “On behalf of the 3 million members of the National Education Association, who educate and support 50 million students in 14,000 communities across America, we urge you to vote YES on the Active Shooter Alert Act of 2022 (H.R. 6538). Votes on this legislation may be included in the NEA Report Card for the 117th Congress. [...] The Active Shooter Alert Act is a pragmatic response to our epidemic of gun violence. The legislation would create a national system for sending AMBER-style alerts during an active-shooter emergency. This would be crucial in disseminating accurate information quickly, warning people in the vicinity who are vulnerable. [...] The members of NEA know that our nation’s students will not truly be safe until we address the root of our crisis: There are far too many guns on our streets, from small towns to major cities. We support the Active Shooter Alert Act because it attempts to reduce harm during a shooting, and we continue to ask members of Congress to work toward passing the commonsense gun reforms, such as raising the minimum age for purchasing semiautomatic weapons from 18 to 21 and requiring universal background checks, that Americans are demanding. We ask that you vote YES on the Active Shooter Alert Act.” [National Education Association, Letter, 7/13/22]

Opposed Assault Weapons Ban

July 2022: Salazar voted against an assault weapons ban despite previously voicing support for banning assault weapons.

July 2022: Salazar Voted Against The Assault Weapons Ban. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would prohibit the import, sale, manufacture, transfer and possession of semiautomatic assault weapons and large capacity ammunition feeding devices. It would specify that the prohibition does not apply to weapons otherwise lawfully possessed on the date of enactment, most manually operated firearms, permanently inoperable firearms, antique firearms and certain possession by federal, state, local or campus law enforcement officials. It would require serial numbers for any such weapons and devices manufactured after the bill's enactment to include the date of manufacture clearly engraved or cast by the manufacturer. It would prohibit any existing owner of semiautomatic assault weapons who is not a licensed importer, manufacturer or dealer, from transferring such weapons directly to another unlicensed individual or storing them where they would be accessible to an individual prohibited from possessing a firearm. It would extend existing law providing for the seizure and forfeiture of firearms and ammunition that are used or intended to be used in a crime to include large capacity ammunition feeding devices. It would allow law enforcement grants under the Byrne JAG program to be used for state and tribal buy-back programs for weapons and devices banned by the bill. It would require the Office of the Attorney General to establish and maintain a public record of the make and model of any semiautomatic assault weapons used in relation to a crime, including the circumstances of the crime and the outcome of any relevant criminal proceedings.” The bill passed by a vote of 217-213. [H.R. 1808, Vote #410, 7/29/22; CQ, 7/29/22]

2018: Salazar supported an assault weapons ban and universal background checks.

Salazar Supported Banning Assault Weapons And Closing The Gun Show Loophole. “Salazar would also ban assault weapons and close the loophole. She supports universal background checks and early intervention measures to prevent young, troubled people from picking up a weapon.” [Miami Herald, Editorial, 10/21/18]

Salazar Said She Supported Universal Background Checks And Was Open To An Assault Weapon Ban. “Though Parkland is in overwhelmingly Democratic Broward County, congressional candidates in nearby Palm Beach and Miami-Dade Counties have changed their tune on guns in the last year. Miami Republican Rep. Carlos Curbelo, running for reelection in a Democratic-leaning district, called on Congress to ban devices that allow semi-automatic rifles to function like automatic rifles after the Las Vegas shooting in October 2017. Treasure Coast Republican Rep. Brian Mast cited his military experience when calling for an assault weapons ban after Parkland. Miami congressional candidate Maria Elvira Salazar, a Republican, said this week that she supports background checks on guns and is open to an assault-weapons ban.” [Miami Herald, 10/2/18]

Salazar Voted To Expand Background Checks For Gun Sales. “Two years ago, Miami Republican Rep. Mario Diaz-Balart was one of eight Republicans to vote in favor of expanding background checks on every gun sale. On Thursday, Diaz-Balart switched his vote, voting against the same legislation he once supported. But Miami’s two other House Republicans, Reps. Carlos Gimenez and Maria Elvira Salazar, voted yes. Diaz-Balart's 'no' vote didn't stop the House of Representatives from passing the Bipartisan Background Checks Act and sending it to the U.S. Senate. The bill was approved by a 227 to 203 vote, with eight Republicans joining 219 Democrats to vote for the bill. One Democrat, Rep. Jared Golden from Maine, joined 202 Republicans to vote against the bill.” [Miami Herald, 3/11/21]

Salazar Was Open To Supporting Universal Background Checks. “Salazar, who spoke to the editorial board minutes after Shalala, said she would be open to supporting universal background checks on guns and providing a path to citizenship for undocumented immigrants in the country at least 15 years. She also said she’d vote for the carbon tax proposal by Miami Rep. Carlos Curbelo, which would provide $700 billion for infrastructure by taxing coal and natural gas emissions, if it had any chance of becoming law in a Republican-controlled Congress.” [Miami Herald, 9/26/18]

Background Checks

In 2021, Salazar called for background checks.

March 2021: Salazar: “I Think Everyone Who Buys A Firearm Should Go Through A Background Check.” “Salazar said she voted for the bill ‘because I think everyone who buys a firearm should go through a background check.’ ‘This security measure establishes an additional layer that will protect our community from violent criminals who take advantage of our laws to illegally acquire weapons,’ she said in a statement.” [El Nuevo Herald, 3/12/21]

- Spanish Version: “Salazar dijo que votó a favor del proyecto de ley ‘porque creo que todos los que compran un arma de fuego deben pasar por una verificación de antecedentes.’ ‘Esta medida de seguridad establece una capa adicional que protegerá a nuestra comunidad de los criminales violentos que se aprovechan de nuestras leyes para hacerse ilegalmente con armas,’ declaró mediante un comunicado.”

Salazar has called the 2nd Amendment “sacred.”

[VIDEO] June 2022: Salazar: “The Second Amendment Is Sacred.” In a video interview with Alex Otaola, Salazar defended her position on the Bipartisan Safer Communities Act by stating in Spanish “The second amendment is sacred, there is no one who can strip us of it, it is in the constitution. I am the first one to believe that all citizens should have the right to bear arms... remember when Fidel said no firearms to enslave people.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, 06/16/22, 2:35/23:30]

- Spanish version: “La segunda enmienda es sagrada, no hay quien la pueda quitar, esta metida en la constitución, y además yo soy la primera que considero que nosotros todos los ciudadanos tenemos que tener el derecho a tener armas, porque hay que acordarse que cuando Fidel dijo ‘armas para que?’ ‘armas para que?’ para poder esclavizarte.”

2018: Salazar: “I Am A Firm Believer In The 2nd Amendment.” “I am a firm believer in the 2nd Amendment. Although we must continue to protect this fundamental Constitutional right, we must find ways to keep guns out of the hands of those who should never have them – namely children, criminals, and the mentally ill. As Congresswoman, I will strongly support solutions that concentrate on gun safety, including improving school resource officer training, universal background checks, and effectively closing loopholes that allow criminals to have access to firearms, while preserving the integrity of all our rights as Americans.” [MariaElvira.com, accessed 9/3/18]

School Shootings
Salazar voted to use ARP funds for school safety enhancements.

2022: Salazar Signed Onto The Securing Our Students Act To Use Unused ARP Funds For School Safety Enhancements. Rep. Chris Stewart (R-UT) co-sponsored Rep. Burgess Owens's (R-UT) Securing Our Students Act. This legislation would redirect unused American Rescue Plan funding to help identify and implement evidence-based school safety measures. Of the $122 billion appropriated to America's K-12 schools in last year's $1.9 trillion American Rescue Plan, 93% remains unspent. [...] The bill is co-sponsored by Maria Salazar (FL-27). [State News Services, 6/15/22]

Salazar called the Uvalde shooting “heartbreaking.”

2022: Salazar Called The Uvalde Shooting “Heartbreaking.” On social networks, Florida Republican Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar described the shooting as "heartbreaking": "Let's keep the Uvalde community in our prayers after facing such a horrible and senseless act of violence". [CE Noticias Financieras English, 5/24/22]

Concealed Carry

Salazar supports concealed carry.

2022: Salazar Supports Concealed Carry. “Supported bipartisan gun safety legislation in 2021 to require federal authorities to alert state and local law enforcement within 24 hours when an ineligible individual lies on a background check and tries to purchase a firearm. Has voted for some background check bills but against others and supported conceal carry legislation.” [Palm Beach Post Online, 6/14/22]

School “Trauma Centers”

Salazar wanted to fund “trauma centers” in high school to identify and intervene with potential shooters.

Salazar Wanted To Address School Shootings By Putting Counselors In High Schools To Identify Potential School Shooters And Intervene Before They Act. “On gun control, while she says she is open to banning assault weapons and regulating all private sales, she is more steadfast in her support of early intervention programs that she says could catch potential school shooters before they even walk into a pawn shop or gun store. Her plan is to create a system of counselor-staffed ‘trauma centers’ inside the nation’s high schools — she wants to start small, with a pilot program in her district — that would exist to sniff out school shooters or other troubled youths with violent thoughts. ‘If we would have had an early intervention center in Parkland, where trauma therapists would have been there just to spot people like him, with all his problems, chances are, they would have been able to neutralize him,’ she told the Miami Herald.” [Miami Herald, 10/15/18]

NRA
Salazar said she would refuse NRA contributions.

Salazar Said She Would Refuse NRA Contributions. “Salazar said she would not accept money from the National Rifle Association, but that she would support the organization’s funding of early intervention centers.” [Miami Herald, 10/15/18]

Giffords PAC

Salazar Received $1,000 From Giffords PAC.

June 2022: Salazar Received $1,000 From Giffords PAC. “None of the four senators who announced the bipartisan legislation are up for reelection until at least 2024, but Giffords PAC has contributed over $148,000 to Democratic candidates so far this cycle and $6,000 to four Republicans who voted ‘yes’ on the House's proposed gun control bill, the Protect Our Kids Act - $2,000 to Reps. Brian Fitzpatrick (R-Pa.) and Chris Smith (R-N.J.) and $1,000 to Reps. Maria Salazar (R-Fla.) and Fred Upton (R-Mich.). The gun violence prevention PAC also donated $1,000 to Rep. Carlos Gimenez (R-Fla.), who voted against the House bill but previously voted with Salazar to expand background checks, and to Future First Leadership PAC, which is affiliated with Rep. Adam Kinzinger (R-Ill.), another Republican who voted for the House bill. Giffords PAC has not yet spent any money on television ads, mailers or other outside spending expenditures during the 2022 midterms.” [OpenSecrets Blog, 6/23/2022]

Haiti

HELP Program

In December 2021, Salazar introduced legislation to extend beneficial trade provisions from the Haitian Economic Lift Program (HELP) for an additional 10 years.

December 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Extend Beneficial Trade Provisions From The Haitian Economic Lift Program (HELP) For An Additional 10 Years. In December 2021, Salazar sponsored the Haiti Economic Lift Program Extension Act of 2021 (the HELP Act of 2021). The bill would “extend through FY2035 the special duty-free rules for Haiti. It also extends through December 19, 2035, the duty-free treatment provided for apparel articles assembled in Haiti and imported from Haiti or the Dominican Republic.” The bill is cosponsored by 7 Republicans and 5 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Ways and Means, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6136, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/03/21]

- The Haitian Economic Lift Program Removes Barriers To The Import Of Manufactured Apparel From Haiti. “The HELP Extension Act extends several beneficial U.S.-Haiti trade provisions from the Haiti Economic Lift Program (HELP) for an additional 10 years, providing a critical source of formal employment for Haiti through the textile industry... The HELP Extension Act will allow the Haitian people to improve their livelihoods and rebuild their country by ensuring the 60,000+ Haitians in the textile industry continue to enjoy the benefits of unfettered trade with the United States.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/03/21]
In 2018, while Salazar was first running for Congress, she said Obamacare “was no good” and “we need to find another way.” She even called Democrats “socialistas” because of policies like Obamacare.

[VIDEO] 2018: Salazar: “We Need To Find Another Way” Because Obamacare “Was No Good.” A Florida anchor asked Salazar, “Obamcare. Would you like to see Obamacare replaced? Salazar said, “What we had before was no good. Obamcare. What we have now is no good either. We need to find another way.” [YouTube, CBS Miami, 9/11/18 (3:15)]

Tim Padget Op-Ed: Salazar Called Democrats “Socialistas Because Of Policies Like Obamacare; Then She Turned Around And Told Voters Obamacare Was OK.” “What's just as civically harmful as the reckless bile is the shameless double standards, which Salazar paraded in ways that would have made even a two-faced politico like Fidel Castro blush. She had the unmitigated brass to call Shalala and Democrats socialistas because of policies like Obamacare; then she turned around and told voters Obamacare was OK because she knew damn well how popular it is with South Floridians - especially with the Cubans and other Latinos in her district to whom she was most loudly preaching the ¡Demócratas-son-socialistas! propaganda.” [South Florida Sun-Sentinel, Tim Padgett Op-Ed, 11/9/20]

2018: Salazar Said She Supported Overturning Obamacare But Wants To Keep Coverage For People With Preexisting Conditions. “Salazar, who is running to replace outgoing U.S. Rep. Ileana Ros-Lehtinen in Florida's 27th Congressional district, said she wants to repeal the Affordable Care Act but maintain the federal law's protections for patients with pre-existing conditions.” [Miami Herald, 11/2/18]

2018: Salazar: “we need to … repeal crushing Obama-era taxes and needless regulations, while ensuring that the neediest among us have access to affordable, quality healthcare.”

2018: Salazar: “We Need To … Repeal Crushing Obama-Era Taxes And Needless Regulations, While Ensuring That The Neediest Among Us Have Access To Affordable, Quality Healthcare.” “With Obamacare premiums expected to rise by at least 17% in Florida, many families in our communities are gravely concerned on how they will be able to afford health insurance now and in the future. The current system is simply not working. I am determined to protect South Florida families from mounting costs by reforming our broken healthcare system with cost-effective and patient-centered solutions. Specifically, we need to go after the $95 billion in annual waste, fraud and abuse; give individuals and businesses the right to purchase health insurance across state lines; and repeal crushing Obama-era taxes and needless regulations, while ensuring that the neediest among us have access to affordable, quality healthcare.” [MariaElvira.com, accessed 9/3/18]

However, in 2020, Salazar said, “If you like your Obamacare, you can keep it,” and “Obamacare needs to stay the way it is unless we can provide a better plan.”

2020: Salazar On Healthcare: “If You Like Your Obamacare, You Can Keep It.” “But with Shalala favored to win the seat again, Salazar has started changing her messaging. In a recent TV interview with CBS4 Miami, she said, ‘if you like your Obamacare, you can keep it,’ despite years of efforts by Republicans to repeal the law. She followed that with an assertion that Shalala's "corruption" is the most important issue in the race -- though she provided no evidence backing up the allegation.” [Miami Herald, 10/3/20]

• 2020: Salazar: “I Think If You Like Obamacare, You Can Keep It.” “Salazar offered even less detail than Giménez about her health care plan, arguing only that more market-based competition in health care is good for consumers. ‘The law of the country is that if you have insurance called Obamacare, they can't take it away from you,' Salazar said. ‘I think if you like your Obamacare, you can keep it.'” [El Nuevo Herald, 10/14/20] Translation

• 2020: Salazar Said, “Those Who Like Their Obamacare Should Keep Their Insurance” And “I Would Not Vote To Remove Obamacare.” “Salazar said that ‘those who like their Obamacare should keep this one,’ but he wants there to be options to buy cheaper insurance, which stems from competition. ‘I would not vote to remove Obamacare,’ he said.” [El Nuevo Herald, 10/21/20] Translation

2020: Salazar: “Obamacare Needs To Stay The Way It Us Unless We Can Provide A Better Plan, A Cheaper Plan For More People.” “On healthcare in 2018, Salazar said she supported what she called ‘the forces of capitalism to invade and to penetrate the healthcare industry.’ In 2020, her healthcare position appears to align more with Democrats who want to maintain and expand Obamacare. ‘If like your Obamacare, you can keep your Obamacare,' Salazar said to CBS Miami. ‘There is no way that we can repeal Obamacare if we do not offer something better or equal. Obamacare needs to stay the way it us unless we can provide a better plan, a cheaper plan for more people.’” [Miami Herald, 10/3/20]

- 2018: Salazar Supported Repealing The ACA If A Viable Alternative Was Presented. “On healthcare, Salazar said that she would only support repealing the Affordable Care Act if a viable alternative were also presented and that she did not support removing pre-existing conditions from coverage options. She said the best way to reduce premiums was to ‘allow the forces of the free market to invade’ the healthcare industry. ‘We have a mess in the healthcare industry,’ she said. ‘I believe competition is the mother of good quality.’” [Miami Herald, 9/26/18]

She also would not say if she supported a lawsuit to invalidate Obamacare.

2020: Salazar Would Not Say If She Supported A Lawsuit To Invalidate Obamacare. “Salazar would not say whether she agrees with the Obamacare lawsuit, saying she hasn't seen the litigation that began in 2018 when 20 states sued the federal government. Maine and Wisconsin dropped out of the lawsuit after the 2018 elections when their Republican candidates for governor lost. 'I am going to be a member of Congress. I'm not the presidency and I'm not in the courts,' Salazar said. 'I have no comment right now because I haven't seen the lawsuit. Once I'm in Congress and I see all the sides, then I can answer that question intelligently.'” [Miami Herald, 10/14/20]

Pre-Existing Conditions

Salazar said she supported protections for pre-existing conditions.

Salazar Did Not Support Removing Pre-Existing Condition Protections. “On healthcare, Salazar said that she would only support repealing the Affordable Care Act if a viable alternative were also presented and that she did not support removing pre-existing conditions from coverage options. Negotiating Prescription Drug Prices
Salazar supported allowing the government to negotiate prescription drug prices, but voted against allowing the government to do so.

2021: Salazar Supported Allowing The Government To Negotiate Lower Prescription Drug Prices. “Americans need to be able to access affordable healthcare. [...] The government can and should renegotiate drug prices to lower the high cost of medications.” [Mariaelvirasalazar.com, “Issues,” accessed 5/29/21]

2020: Salazar Said She Supported The Government Negotiating Drug Prices. “This is one of the essential issues of the current election campaign. Salazar believes that Americans should be able to access affordable health care. ‘There must be protections for people with pre-existing conditions, we must take care of our seniors and protect Medicare, and young adults must be allowed to stay on their parents’ plan until age 26.’ In addition, she believes that ‘to reduce costs, they need more competition, which includes allowing individuals and families to buy health insurance across state lines. a los demócratas, pero expresó su apoyo por permitir que el seguro de salud se vendiera fuera de los límites estatales, una idea que Shalala dijo que era una tontería.”

Free Market Solution

Salazar said the “free market” needs to “invade” the health care industry to reduce premiums.

Salazar Said The Best Way To Reduce Premiums Was To Allow More Free Market Competition. “On healthcare, Salazar said that she would only support repealing the Affordable Care Act if a viable alternative were also presented and that she did not support removing pre-existing conditions from coverage options. She said the best way to reduce premiums was to ‘allow the forces of the free market to invade’ the healthcare industry. ‘We have a mess in the healthcare industry,’ she said. ‘I believe competition is the mother of good quality.’” [Miami Herald, 9/26/18]

- Fabiola Santiago Column: Salazar Said She Supported “Free Markets” For Health Care, But Would Not Repeal The ACA Without A Replacement Plan. “It’s hard to gauge where Salazar really stands on issues because one minute she sounds as Trumpian as they come, then not: Let the “free markets” deliver healthcare, she says. Then she says that you have to have something to replace Obamacare — a big issue in her district, where enrollment is one of the highest in the nation — before you repeal it.” [Miami Herald, Fabiola Santiago Column, 10/17/18]

2018: Salazar Said Obamacare Must Be Reformed And The Free Market Can Solve It. “Speaking about the United States health system, Shalala stressed that Obamacare has managed to provide help to an important segment of the population that has not had access to medicine, but emphasized that it must be improved and the problems it still presents must be overcome. Salazar, for his part, said that the laws must be reformed to allow for more competition within the sector. ‘The government is not the one that solves, the one that solves are the forces of the free market.’” [El Nuevo Herald, 10/13/18]

Alpha-1 Antitrypsin (AAT) Deficiency

In March 2022, Salazar introduced legislation to provide Medicare coverage of treatment for Alpha-1 Antitrypsin (AAT) deficiency.

March 2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Provide Medicare Coverage Of Treatment For Alpha-1 Antitrypsin (AAT) Deficiency. In March 2022, Salazar sponsored H.R. 7346, the John W. Walsh Alpha-1 Home Infusion Act of 2022. The bill would “provides for Medicare coverage of treatment for alpha-1 antitrypsin (AAT) deficiency (a protein deficiency that raises the risk of lung and other diseases). Specifically, the bill provides for coverage of at-home augmentation therapy for beneficiaries with emphysema as a result of severe hereditary AAT deficiency. Treatment must be provided through qualified home infusion therapy suppliers; beneficiaries must be under the care of a physician, nurse practitioner, or physician assistant.” The bill is cosponsored by 5 Democrats. The bill was referred to the Committee on Energy and Commerce Subcommittee on Health, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 7346, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; . Rep. - The John W. Walsh Alpha-1 Home Infusion Act Which Would Allow Medicare Beneficiaries Struggling With The Hereditary Alpha-1 Antitrypsin Deficiency Condition, Or Alpha-1 Patients, To Receive Essential Augmentation Infusions At Home. “Today, Congresswomen María Elvira Salazar (FL-27) and Chellie Pingree (ME-1) introduced the John W. Walsh Alpha-1 Home Infusion Act which would allow Medicare beneficiaries struggling with the hereditary alpha-1 antitrypsin deficiency condition, or alpha-1 patients, to receive essential augmentation infusions at home. Alpha-1 patients struggle with a hereditary condition that, without treatment by FDA approved augmentation therapies, may result in serious lung disease in adults and/or liver disease in infants, children, and adults. Therapy slows but not reverses the progression of the lung destruction associated with this disorder. [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 4/28/22]

2018 Campaign Lawsuit

Salazar filed a lawsuit in 2018 claiming the Center for Voter Information was lying about Salazar’s position. The organization claimed Salazar wanting to end preexisting conditions and strip money away from Medicaid.

2018: Salazar Filed A Lawsuit During Her 2018 Campaign Against Center For Voter Information For What Salazar Described As A “Lie” About Her Healthcare Plan. “With four days to go before the midterm election, Republican Congressional candidate Maria Elvira Salazar has lodged a complaint with the Internal Revenue Service accusing the left-leaning Center for Voter Information of mailing out fliers that "lie" about her healthcare stance.” [Miami Herald, 11/02/18]

2018: The Mailer That Salazar Called A “Lie” Said Salazar Wanted To End Coverage For Preexisting Conditions. “In a political mailer sent to a voter in District 27, the Washington, D.C.-based nonprofit states that Salazar does not "support requiring health insurance companies to cover individuals with pre-existing conditions" and that her opponent, Democrat Donna Shalala, does. The mailer cites Salazar's campaign website, which includes no mention of the Republican’s stance on maintaining coverage for pre-existing conditions” [Miami Herald, 11/02/18]

2018: Salazar Also Stated The Mailer Said She Wanted To Strip Money Away From Medicaid, Which Salazar Said Was Untrue And Called That Move “Inhumane.” “Salazar, who held a press conference at her attorney's office in Miami on Friday, said the flier's claim that she supports stripping money from Medicaid was also false. "We need to reform and do better with Medicaid, but never to abolish Medicaid," Salazar said. "I mean, that would be inhumane." [Miami Herald, 11/02/18]
Housing

Frontline Workers

Salazar cosponsored legislation to support teachers, cops, firefighters and paramedics to gain access to affordable housing.

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Support Teachers, Cops, Firefighters And Paramedics To Gain Access To Affordable Housing. “U.S. Reps. Maria Elvira Salazar and Carlos Gimenez understand the boundless value that first responders and teachers provide to South Florida and appreciate the sacrifices they make, especially in the face of COVID-19. That's why both are cosponsors of the Homes for Every Local Protector, Educator and Responder (HELPER) Act. This common-sense legislation is supported by more than three dozen Republican and Democratic lawmakers from every corner of the country, including six House members from Florida. This legislation is desperately needed.” [Miami Herald, 1/28/22]

- 2022: With Home Prices Far Exceeding The Rate Of Wage Growth Among First Responders, The Act Provides These Heroes With A Viable Path To Homeownership. “According to the latest Case-Shiller index, year-over-year home prices recently surged by almost 20%, with the median price at an all-time high. However, police, firefighters, paramedics and teachers in Florida have seen average annual wage growth of just 2%-3%, leaving this largely forgotten class of first-time buyers boxed out of the housing market. It's time for those who have continued to serve during the pandemic, to enjoy access to the American Dream of affordable homeownership. The HELPER Act would help make that idea a reality, creating a viable path for frontline workers to build wealth for themselves and a better future for their families.” [Miami Herald, 1/28/22]

Immigration And Border Security

Assimilation

2017: Salazar said that conservatives should not be worried about immigrants “threatening the American cultural identity” because the second generation of immigrants assimilate.

Salazar: “There Is Great Concern Among Conservatives That This Constant Resupply Of Foreigners Has Weakened The Forces Of Assimilation ...The United States Still Has The Power To Perform The Miracle Of Transubstantiation: Transforming The Identity Of An Immigrant Into That Of An American By The Second Generation.” “Today, there is great concern among conservatives that this constant resupply of foreigners has weakened the forces of assimilation, threatening the American cultural identity at its core. I would only say to them: Have more faith in American Exceptionalism. The United States still has the power to perform the miracle of transubstantiation: transforming the identity of an immigrant into that of an American by the second generation. I am the best proof of that, along with millions of Chinese, Hungarians, and Mexicans.” [Newsmax, Elvira Salazar, 3/31/17]
“Bad Hombres”

2017: Salazar retweeted Trump and used his phrase “bad hombres.”

2017: Salazar Retweeted Trump And Used His Phrase “Bad Hombres.”” On July 29, 2017, Salazar retweeted Trump and wrote on Twitter: “Yes @POTUS, kick out #ms13 & all the #badhombres! But let’s also focus on solving poverty & unemployment in our own backyard. Big Challenge!” [Maria Elvira Salazar Twitter, 7/29/17]

Biden Administration

Salazar was critical of Biden’s border approach, even saying that Biden is a “de facto” partner of cartels.

2022: Salazar Signed Onto A Resolution To Force The Biden Admin To Produce All Documents Regarding Their Border Policies. “U.S Representative Peter Meijer (R-MI), Ranking Member of the House Committee on Homeland Security Subcommittee on Oversight, Management, and Accountability, today led a large group of his Republican colleagues, including Committee Ranking Member John Katko (R-NY) and Vice Ranking Member Michael Guest (R-MS), in introducing a Resolution of Inquiry (ROI) that would require the Biden Administration to transmit to the House of Representatives copies of all documents in their possession regarding U.S border policies. [...] The ROI is cosponsored by: ...Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL)...” [Impact News Service, 2/16/22]

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Limit VP Harris’ Travel Until Certain “Activities” Are Taken On The Border. “Rep. Ashley Hinson, R-Iowa, has introduced legislation (H.R. 3403) to "limit travel by the Vice President until after certain activities are undertaken with respect to the southwest border." The bill was introduced on May 20 and has 15 co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include...Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla...” [Targeted News Service, 5/24/21]

• The Bill Would Limit Harris’ Travel Until She Traveled To The Southern Border. The bill would limit international travel by the Vice President until she personally travels to the southern border. The bill was introduced by Ashley Hinson and co-sponsored by 19 other Republicans, including Madison Cawthorne, Paul Gosar, Lauren Boebert, Ronny Jackson, and Elise Stefanik. [H.R. 3403 , cosponsors, accessed 8/25/22]

2021: Salazar Said Biden Is A “De Facto” Partner Of Cartels. Republican congressmen Maria Elvira Salazar and Mario Díaz-Balart said monday that the federal government's "irresponsible policy" on the Mexican border makes President Joseph Biden a "de facto partner" of drug, arms and people trafficking cartels. Bipartisanship

In 2020, Salazar claimed she wanted to work with Democrats to provide a pathway to legal status.

2020: Salazar Hoped To Work With The Democratic Party To Provide Residency For Undocumented Immigrants. “INGRAHAM: Congresswoman-elect, do you foresee yourself being able to work on any issues with Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez or Ilhan Omar or Congresswoman Tlaib or Pressley on any issues to improve the country?

MARIA ELVIRA SALAZAR, (R-FL) CONGRESSWOMAN-ELECT: Absolutely, we are going to work on immigration, because the Democratic Party for 30 years has said they have our best interests at heart. And now is the time to prove it. And the GOP, as I was telling leadership, we want to be part of the family. There are 7.7 million people who have lived here that do not have papers, that have been here for more than 15 years, that have American children, that have paid taxes and do not have a criminal record. Those people we need to give them some type of legality. Why? Because I know that they broke the law, but the system allowed them to be here for a long time. So now we should give them some type of legality, and that needs to be discussed in Congress. And we need our friends on the other side of the aisle to join us, so we can include and welcome those Hispanics to be part of a family. No more in the shadows.

INGRAHAM: That's going to be an interesting conversation, one that I have been involved with for many, many years. SALAZAR: Correct. INGRAHAM: And we've got to definitely make sure the law-abiding, legal immigrants are not jumped ahead of in the line to become U.S. citizens. That would be catastrophic for the rule of law and for, I think, just overall faith in the system. But Hispanic-Americans are huge drivers of this economy, and they need to be -- they need to be properly recognized for it. And I am so excited about this new Congress. I'm thrilled about it.

SALAZAR: I just want to say, it's legality. I'm not talking about citizenship. I'm talking about something quicker. INGRAHAM: The Squad is not going to go for that, Congresswoman-elect. Not going to happen with them, no. SALAZAR: Then they do not have the best interests, our best interests at heart, and they need to prove it.” [Fox News Network INGRAHAM ANGLE, 11/12/20]

Birthright Citizenship

Salazar said birthright citizenship should be reviewed and “not just anyone” should be granted birthright citizenship.

November 2018: Salazar Said Birthright Citizenship Should Be “Reviewed” After Trump Proposed Changing The Law By Executive Order. “And so it was outside a voting precinct in West Miami-Dade County on Wednesday that Maria Elvira Salazar, the Republican candidate for a hotly contested congressional seat in Miami-Dade County, gave her thoughts on the president’s proposal to change birthright citizenship with an executive order. The former broadcast journalist, running for Florida’s 27th congressional district seat, said the birthright citizenship of the 14th Amendment should be reviewed, calling it a ‘complicated’ issue.” [Miami Herald, 11/01/18]

November 2018: Salazar On Birthright Citizenship: “People Born In This Country Have To Become American Citizens, But We Have To See Which Ones, And Who They Are And Under What Rules -- Not Just Anyone.” “It is also true that this is a country of laws and a country where you have to respect the Constitution and if the Constitution says that people born in this country have to become American citizens, but we have to see which ones, and who they are and under what rules -- not just anyone,’ she said. She added: ‘The first clause of the 14th Amendment needs to be reviewed, but I think the president is saying what I think my community shares, the fact that we do not want abuses,’ Salazar said. ‘The Constitution says very clearly that those that are born here are citizens, but we need to see to what extent.’” [Miami Herald, 11/01/18]
Salazar originally criticized Trump's proposal before she “changed her tune.”

Salazar Criticized Trump’s Birthright Citizenship Proposal On Twitter Before Saying The Next Day She Agreed It Should be Reviewed. “And so it was outside a voting precinct in West Miami-Dade County on Wednesday that Maria Elvira Salazar […] said the birthright citizenship of the 14th Amendment should be reviewed, calling it a ‘complicated’ issue […] On Tuesday, when the news of Trump's comments on the proposal to the news outlet Axios emerged, Salazar struck a more combative tone with the president over his proposal. ‘@realDonaldTrump, our Constitution is sacred!’ she tweeted. ‘Birthright Citizenship is protected and you cannot change that by executive order. Focus efforts on immigration reform that secures our borders and is true to our legacy of being a nation of immigrants.’” [Miami Herald, 11/01/18]

  “Salazar was in that camp as well, tweeting Tuesday, '@realDonaldTrump, our Constitution is sacred! Birthright Citizenship is protected and you cannot change that by executive order. Focus efforts on immigration reform that secures our borders and is true to our legacy of being a nation of immigrants. '@realDonaldTrump, our Constitution is sacred! Birthright Citizenship is protected and you cannot change that by executive order. Focus efforts on immigration reform that secures our borders and is true to our legacy of being a nation of immigrants.' [...] But the next day, she changed her tune. Speaking with the media after voting with U.S. Sen. Marco Rubio and Republican gubernatorial running-mate Jeanette Nunez, Salazar seemed at least open to the idea. 'It is also true that this is a country of laws and a country where you have to respect the Constitution and if the Constitution says that people born in this country have to become American citizens, but we have to see which ones, and who they are and under what rules - not just anyone,' Salazar said in comments flagged by the Miami Herald.” [Florida Politics, 11/1/18]

Border Wall

Salazar supported Trump's border wall, but also wanted to add towers, more officers, and high tech solutions.

[VIDEO] 2022: Salazar: “I Have An Immigration Reform Law Where You Seal The Border […] If I Catch You Coming Back, Once You Were Deported, You're Going To Jail For A Long Time.” “I have presented and I've said it to you, a law, an immigration reform law where you seal the border, seal the border, if I catch you coming back, once you were deported, you're going to go to jail for a long time. Very strong border security measures [...] my bill, a brown girl from the hood, presented by the GOP, pay attention to it, seal the border, and then take care of those who are here, who are contributing to the American economy. It's simple.” [Fox Business News Maria Bartiromo with Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 6/09/22 (4:51)]

- [VIDEO] Salazar Says Her Plan Has The Technology To Seal The Border With “Towers” And “Drones.” “So, it depends on us, the United States government, our administration to say no more and seal that border. You know why, because we do have that technology. How do I know we have the technology because it's in my law? You put a lot of towers, a lot of drones, a lot of people, you put everything you need to, we have the technology to seal the border, and let in June 2022: Salazar Said We Have The Technology To Seal The Border With “A Lot Towers, A Lot Of Drones, A Lot Of People.” Salazar said, “How do I know we have the technology because it's in my law? You put a lot of towers, a lot of drones, a lot of people, you put everything you need to, we have the technology to seal the border, and let in whomever we deem necessary for the benefit of the economy of this country. But, there is no leadership.” [Fox News, Mornings with Maria, 6/09/22]

Salazar Said The Wall Was Only One Aspect Of Border Security And More Officers, Towers, And Technological Solutions Were Needed. “[Kudlow:] What about the wall? Will you support the -- if you had a chance, if you had a different administration, would you support completion of the wall? [SALAZAR:] Listen, when you concentrate on the wall, according to the Border Patrol, you're only talking about one aspect. You need the automatic machines, and you need the towers, and you need more Border Patrol. I'm talking about a comprehensive group of different measures, including physical barriers. That's what you need. And then, that way, you open -- you have very big doors in that structure to allow those people that the business community need.” [Fox Business, 3/18/21]

Salazar Said She Supported Finishing The Border Wall And Adding “The Latest Of Technology To Complement That Structure.” “[KUDLOW:] But, Elvira, I'm kind of listening. In my old age, I don't hear as well as I used to. I just didn't hear you say you're -- as part of this comprehensive security, I didn't hear you say you favored completion of the wall. Did I miss that? Did I miss that? [SALAZAR:] Because what I'm saying to you, because I'm -- yes, because, when I was at the border, I spoke with the chief of the Border Patrol and asked the same question that you're asking me. And she said that is just one to have components. We need the latest of technology to complement that structure that you're talking about.” [Fox Business, 3/18/21]

Salazar On Border Security: “Let’s Do Something Whether It’s A Wall Or Still Slats, Right, That’s The New Word, Or Drones Or Satellites Or More Border Patrol.” “[SALAZAR:] --enough is enough. Let’s do something whether it’s a wall or still slats, right, that's the new word, or drones or satellites or more Border Patrol. And - and that is fine because, I repeat, we do not want to come in illegally. We want to come in legally and do the jobs that the marketplace requires, which is that's why I'm saying.” [Fox News, 1/2/19]

Salazar Supported Building Trump’s Border Wall. “While she supports legal status for immigrants who have been in the country for a period of around 15 years, Salazar is a fierce critic of so-called sanctuary cities, and she has supported Trump’s plan to build a wall across the southern border of the U.S., though she proposed to create a virtual barrier by forcing employers to vet their workers using the program known as E-Verify.” [Miami Herald, 10/15/18]

Asked If She Would Vote To Build Trump’s Border Wall, Salazar Said She Supported “Any Type Of Tower, Any Type Of Technology, Any Type Of Guards For Border Security.” “[ANCHOR:] If you were elected to Congress would you vote to build the president’s border wall? [SALAZAR:] I would definitely vote in order to secure the border. [ANCHOR:] But does that mean the wall that the president wants? [SALAZAR:] That means any type of tower, any type of technology, any type of guards for border security that will secure the border because we do not want El Chapo or his friends smuggling drugs.” [MSNBC, 9/9/18]

June 2022: Salazar: “We Do Not Want Open Borders [...] We Want Legal Migration.” Salazar said, “Of course not, of course not. And, what’s happening at the border is something that it’s - we were desperate just like you are. We, the Hispanics in the United States, 23 percent of the population, I’ve always said it, we do not want open borders. We need to stop this, fentanyl, child sex traffickers, the coyotes. We don’t want these people coming in. We want legal migration. But, the administration doesn’t know what to do with it. And, unfortunately, what I think they believe is that everyone who is coming in through the border is going to be a vote for the Democratic Party. And, that’s not going to happen, because as you see in the latest polls, the Hispanics are coming to the GOP because we’re not socialists, because we want to live the America - but, that doesn't mean is that the we have, let's go back to the border, which is the topic that you’re asking me about, we don't have a plan. This country, the administration doesn't have a plan to stop what's happening at the border, not only the people but the fentanyl as well. So, this is in the Executive—” [Fox News, Mornings with Maria, 6/09/22] 2018: Salazar said that respect for migrants as “human beings” is a “core value” of our nation.

Caravan

Salazar Tweeted That “These Migrants [In A Caravan] Are Human Beings... To Forget This Is Contrary To The Core Values Of [Our Nation].” “Neither #Mexico nor the #US can tolerate mob violence, but it is also a fact that these migrants are human beings...to forget this is contrary to the core values of both nations. Via @ajplus #MigrantCaravan #BorderSecurity #immigrationreform #trump #immigrants #usa #politics” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 11/20/18]

Census Question

Salazar defended the Census asking people if they were undocumented.

Salazar Said There Was “Nothing Wrong With” The Census Asking People If They Were Undocumented. “[CARLSON:] So, since we don't know if those numbers are real or not because we have no idea how many people are here illegally, why wouldn’t we have a nationwide effort to figure out what at least the number is, why like not ask that on the census? Why not dispatch some kind of federal record-keeping force, how to figure out like how many people are living here illegally? Why is that wrong to know that? [SALAZAR:] Who says that it’s wrong? [CARLSON:] Democrats do. [SALAZAR:] There's nothing wrong with that.” [Fox News, 1/2/19]

Critical of Trump and Republicans

Salazar has been critical of Trump and her own party, saying “the reality of immigration is not” as Republicans see it and that Republicans have never promised anything on immigration. Salazar also said that she did not like “what Trump has done on immigration.”
[VIDEO] February 2018: Salazar: “I Will Help The Republican Party Understand That The Reality Of Immigration Is Not As They See It.” During a televised interview on Al Punto - Florida, Salazar responded in Spanish that her top priority would be to “help factions of the Republican Party understand that immigration is not as they present it and not as they see it... if you know what I mean,” promising a softer tone on GOP immigration policy. DACA

Salazar supported legal status for Dreamers and their parents.

2020: Salazar Supported Legal Status For Dreamers And Their Parents. "In the recent electoral debate, he said that he not only supports Dreamers, but also their parents and immigrants who are already in the country, who work and pay taxes, so that they have legal status, a point that he has defended knowing that it does not coincide with the position of the majority of the republicans. 'I've always been conservative, but that doesn't mean I'm not compassionate,' she told el Nuevo Herald in 2018. 'One is human, we're in this country to raise our children. That's why all immigrants decided to come.'" [El Nuevo Herald, 11/03/20]

- Spanish Version: “En el reciente debate electoral dijo que no solo apoya a los Dreamers, sino a sus padres y a los inmigrantes que ya están en el país, que trabajan y pagan impuestos, para que tengan un estatus legal, un punto que ha defendido a sabiendas de que no coincide con la postura de la mayoría de los republicanos. 'Siempre he sido conservadora, pero eso no significa que no soy compasiva,' dijo a el Nuevo Herald en el 2018. 'Uno es humano, estamos en este país para criar a nuestros hijos. Por eso todos los inmigrantes decidieron venir.'"

In 2021, Salazar voted for a bill to provide a pathway to citizenship for 2 million Dreamers.

Salazar Voted For A Bill To Provide A Pathway To Citizenship For 2 Million Dreamers But Called The Bill “Imperfect” And Said It Would Likely Not Pass The Senate. “With the GOP seizing on the growing migration crisis at the southern border, even the two measures to offer legal protections for farm workers and the group known as Dreamers have become intensely partisan [...] Nine Republicans joined Democrats to pass the Dream and Promise Act, which would provide a path to citizenship for an estimated 2 million undocumented immigrants who were brought to the U.S. as children [...] Salazar voted for the Dreamers legislation on Thursday, even though she described it as an 'imperfect bill' and noted it was unlikely to pass the Senate. But Salazar also said she wanted to show Democrats that she stands ready and willing to work with them. 'I want to send the right message to the Democrats that I'm willing to work with them,' she told reporters after the vote. 'Let's see if now they're going to work with us.'" [Politico, 3/18/21]

- March 2021: Salazar Voted To Give 2.5 Million Undocumented Immigrants The “Opportunity To Apply For Citizenship.” “The House of Representatives passed two bills Thursday that collectively provide a path to citizenship for 3.5 million undocumented immigrants, proposals that offer a piecemeal approach to fixing the nation's immigration system at a time when undocumented arrivals in the border are increasing. The American Dream and Promise Act contemplates granting 2.5 million undocumented immigrants the opportunity to apply for citizenship, most of them the so-called dreamers, people who came to the United States as children with their parents. The legislation passed on a 228-197 vote in the Democrat-controlled House. Nine Republicans voted in favor of the legislation, including the three Miami Republicans in the House: Representatives María Elvira Salazar, Mario Díaz-Balart and Carlos Giménez. 'It's not the perfect bill,' Salazar said. 'I want to send the right message to the Democrats that I'm willing to work with them. Let's see if they're going to work with us now.'” [El Nuevo Herald, 3/19/21] Translation

  - Spanish Version: “La Cámara de Representantes aprobó el jueves dos proyectos de ley que colectivamente proporcionan un camino a la ciudadanía para 3.5 millones de inmigrantes indocumentados, propuestas que ofrecen un enfoque fragmentado para arreglar el sistema inmigratorio de la nación en un momento en que la llegada de indocumentados a la frontera están aumentando. La Ley American Dream and Promise contempla otorgar a 2.5 millones de indocumentados la oportunidad de solicitar la ciudadanía, la mayoría de ellos los llamados dreamers, personas que llegaron de niños a Estados Unidos con sus padres. La legislación fue aprobada en una votación de 228 a 197 en la Cámara, controlada por los demócratas. Nueve republicanos votaron a favor de la legislación, incluidos los tres republicanos de Miami en la Cámara: los representantes María Elvira Salazar, Mario Díaz-Balart y Carlos Giménez. ‘No es la factura perfecta,’ dijo Salazar. ‘Quiero enviar el mensaje correcto a los demócratas de que estoy dispuesto a trabajar con ellos. Vamos a ver si ahora van a trabajar con nosotros.'”

In 2017, Salazar advocated for the GOP to keep and support DACA. She said opposing DACA would be a "war on Hispanics" and Republicans need to "wake up and smell the votes."

Salazar Said If Republicans Didn’t Support DACA It Would Be A “Political Catastrophe” And The GOP Would Be “Blind” If They “Declared War On Hispanics.” Salazar wrote, “It has been reported that Texas and ten other states want deferred action for childhood arrivals (DACA) eliminated. For that reason, DHS Director Kelly warned that the political protection President Trump had promised to these close to 800,000 undocumented kids may come to an end. If this administration allows this to happen, it will be a political catastrophe of biblical proportions for the Republican Party in the very near the future. How can the GOP be so blind? Most of these so-called "dreamers" are between 16 and 30 years old and did not break any immigration laws — as they were too young to do so. Their massive deportation, because the feds know where they live, will send the message that the Republicans have declared war on Hispanics. The GOP does not seem to realize that it’s going after a group that can labeled the ‘ideal immigrant.’” [Newsmax, 7/17/17]

Salazar Said Getting Rid Of DACA Protection Would Be A “Punch In The Gut,” But Admitted That It Would “Please” The Base. Salazar wrote, “To get rid of the DACA protection could give the GOP political short-term benefits; and no doubt it will please the base, who see the ‘Dreamers’ as future Democratic voters. What they are not factoring in is that this punch in the gut could imperil the conservative movement reborn with Trump.” [Newsmax, 7/17/17]

Salazar Said Republicans Need To “Wake Up And Smell The Votes” Of Hispanics. Salazar wrote, “The more the conservative view of Hispanics as a demographic threat becomes official party dogma, the greater the chances Hispanic-Americans will become just that. Republicans: Wake up and smell the votes.” [Newsmax, 7/17/17]

Salazar said Dreamers are “Americans” who “contribute to our economy” and “pay taxes.”

Salazar Said Dreamers Are “Americans, They Go To Schools, They Contribute To Our Economy, They Pay Taxes And They Serve In The Armed Forces.” “Representative María Elvira Salazar pointed out that ‘the ‘dreamers’ are Americans, they go to schools, they contribute to our economy, they pay taxes and they serve in the armed forces.’ ‘Since I came to Congress I have fought for immigration reform and to give the ‘dreamers’ a solution,’ she added. ‘That’s why in February I introduced a bill that not only addresses immigration reform but also includes legislation for dreamers.’” [ABC PY, 6/15/22]

Deportations

Salazar said we should not deport “good hombres” and the “relentless pursuit of illegals” causes “more crime and lawlessness.”
April 2017: Salazar Said The Trump Administration Should Not Deport “Good Hombres.” Salazar wrote, “At this hour, what is sorely needed is a compromise between the federal government and the sanctuary cities’ local officials. Both sides need to listen to each other and see the validity of their respective points of view. Deport expeditiously any illegal immigrant with a serious criminal record. The Hispanic community does not want them here either. But be careful, while going after the ‘bad hombres,’ not to cast the net so wide and indiscriminately that ‘good hombres’ are picked up as well. I repeat, a petty theft charge is not comparable to a murder charge, but they both send people to the county jail.” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed, 4/12/17]

April 2017: Salazar Claimed “Relentless Pursuit Of Illegals” Causes “More Crime And Lawlessness.” Salazar wrote, “During Obama’s presidency, the locals refused to turn over aliens who did not commit violent crimes; under Trump they are vowing to do the same. Driving with a fake driver’s license is not the same as manslaughter, but they both are winding up in jail. The mayors fear that the president’s relentless pursuit of illegals, and his attempt to make law enforcement immigration agents, will make them reluctant to cooperate with the police and report crimes. That translates into more crime and lawlessness.” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed, 4/12/17]

Salazar supported requiring E-Verify and accused business owners of “luring” undocumented people into the U.S.

2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Mandate E-Verify. “Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla., has introduced legislation (H.R. 6637) to "amend the Immigration and Nationality Act to make mandatory and permanent requirements relating to use of an electronic employment eligibility verification system." [Targeted News Service, 2/10/2022]

Salazar Supported Requiring Employers To Vet Potential Employees Through E-Verify. “While she supports legal status for immigrants who have been in the country for a period of around 15 years, Salazar is a fierce critic of so-called sanctuary cities, and she has supported Trump’s plan to build a wall across the southern border of the U.S., though she proposed to create a virtual barrier by forcing employers to vet their workers using the program known as E-Verify.” [Miami Herald, 10/15/18]

Salazar: Undocumented Immigrants “Are Coming In Because The Business Owners Of America Are Luring Them In.” “[SALAZAR:] We have to understand that the illegals are not -- No one wants to be illegal. They are coming in because the business owners of America are luring them in and everybody is responsible. [Fox News, 1/4/19]

Family Separation

Salazar opposed Trump's zero tolerance policy on immigration.

Salazar Opposed Trump’s Zero-Tolerance Immigration Policy That Resulted In Family Separations. “She has spoken out against his ‘zero-tolerance’ immigration policy that resulted in more than 2,000 immigrant kids being split up from their parents by the U.S. government at the southern border. ‘I do not like what [Trump] has done with immigration,’ she said. ‘There are some aspects of the immigration policy established by the White House that need to be rectified and changed now.”’ [Miami Herald, 10/15/18]

Salazar Said That The United States Had The Capacity To Reunite All Families Separated At The Border. “But how many children are there too young to remember their own name, much less a phone number? We have to put all technical and financial resources to reunite the 2000 plus kids separated from their families. Now!! No more crying. ...2/3” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 6/24/18]

Federal Government

Salazar said immigration is the “responsibility of the federal government,” not the states.

April 2017: Salazar Said “Immigration Is The Responsibility Of The Federal Government.” Salazar wrote, “Next, the mayors are confident the law is on their side: The constitution says the federal government can’t make a local cop into an immigration agent. Immigration is the responsibility of the federal government.” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed, 4/12/17]

Human Trafficking

Salazar was concerned about human trafficking at the southern border. She called the U.S. government the “number one enabler of sex traffickers” because Border Patrol was not DNA testing every adult who crossed the border with a minor.

Salazar Said The U.S. Government Was The “Number One Enabler Of Sex Traffickers” Because Border Patrol Was Not DNA Testing Every Adult That Crossed The Border With A Child. “[SALAZAR:] And let me just tell you one more thing, which is something that probably most people do not know. Child sex trafficking, those are very heavy big words -- child sex trafficking -- we're talking about seven, eight, 13-year-old, the United States government has become the number one enabler of the child sex traffickers. Why do I say that? Because since the Border Patrol is so overwhelmed, Maria, they cannot run these adults by DNA -- by the FBI database, and they cannot do DNA tests. So, when the adult shows up with a child, you do not know if it's the father or the trafficker. Could you imagine? So we've -- and then I don't see anyone doing anything, number one.” [Fox Business, 5/3/21]

Salazar Said Coyotes And Traffickers Were “Gaming The Asylum System.” [SALAZAR:] And then reform immigration, reform asylum, because, you know, they are gaming the asylum system as well, the coyotes and the traffickers.” [Fox Business, 3/18/21]

ICE

Salazar signed onto a resolution supporting ICE.

2021: Salazar Signed Onto A Resolution Supporting ICE. “Congresswoman Lisa McClain (R-MI), House Republican Whip Steve Scalise (R-LA) and 62 of their colleagues introduced a resolution to show their support for the Department of Homeland Security (DHS), U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) and Customs and Border Protection (CBP). The Representatives introduced this resolution after several Democrats called to defund DHS earlier this month.” [Targeted News Service, 7/14/2021]

Migrants Fleeing Dangerous Situations

Salazar said we can’t paint every undocumented immigrant with the “same brush,” calling for the Trump administration to “care” about migrants fleeing dangerous situations in their home countries and let their cases be “heard.”

May 2017: Salazar Wanted The United States To Support Migrants That Are Fleeing Dangerous Situations In Their Home Countries. Salazar wrote, “What are we going to do with the 15-year-old ganged-raped girl from El Salvador knocking at our border? When Attorney General Jeff Sessions triumphantly proclaimed that the immigration policy known as ‘catch and release’ was history it pays to consider its implications. What are we going to do with Lola? She is fleeing for her life; her monstrous rapists took away her innocence, now we may take away her last chance on life. Mind you, catch and release was an abomination! For decades, those seeking asylum or another form of immigration status were released by border patrol — to await their day in court.” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed 5/02/17]

Salazar Said, “We Have To Care” About Migrants Entering The United States Who Have Been Raped Or Abused In Their Country. Salazar wrote, “One of the unintended and tragic consequences of the ‘new status quo’ is the fate of ‘Lola,’ when she shows up at the U.S. border. How will she be treated? Will there be a disposition from our immigration system to hear that five monsters raped her repeatedly in her Salvadorian town; or care, that after endless days walking to get to Texas — ‘the promised land’ — the coyotes hired by her mother raped her again as “bonus pay.” Will my immigration guys care? We are the best country in the world. Yes, we have to care.” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed 5/02/17]

Salazar Said We Can’t Paint Every Undocumented Immigrant With The “Same Brush.” Salazar wrote, “I understand we can't give shelter to every girl who has been brutally marked for life, but I believe Lola is our problem too, whether we like or not, because she lives in our back yard only three ‘doors’ down the road. The justified anger and frustration of millions of Americans over our failed immigration policies will lead many to say, ‘Sorry, not my problem.’ The temptation will then be to turn her away after a rushed and superficial, pro forma — cover-your-butt — review of her case. But we can’t erase the distinction between one illegal alien and Lola. We can’t dump everyone seeking asylum into the same bin with the label: ‘Expedite Removal.’ We can’t paint everyone with the same brush.” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed 5/02/17]

Salazar Called For Migrants Traveling To The United States Deserve To Have Their Cases Heard. Salazar wrote, “That's all what Lola needs: to have her case heard, and heard well. To send her back home to the same conditions she was fleeing from... is to condemn her to being consumed alive... literally, in a living hell. The United States of America is still the moral compass of the world... the city upon a hill. A nation whose greatness is not measured by the might of its guns, but by the way it treats the most vulnerable. If we send Lola back, we will have lost our soul, and our presumption of being exceptional among the nations will be an empty boast.” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed 5/02/17]

Sanctuary Cities

In 2016, Salazar said, “sanctuary cities are the best shelters, because at least they can’t be deported that easily.”

February 2016: Salazar: “Sanctuary Cities Are the Best Shelters, Because At Least They Can’t Be Deported That Easily.” “MARIA ELVIRA SALAZAR, ANCHOR, MEGA NOTICIERO: Another tragedy. The brothers who don’t have a legal immigrant status in this country. Sanctuary cities are the best shelters, because at least they can't be deported that easily. But now there's a bill that wants to remove that protection from sanctuary cities.” [Newsbusters, Newstex Blogs, 2/18/16]

In 2017, Salazar said sanctuary cities are “havens for criminals” and makes “Hispanics look like a bunch of imbeciles.”

[VIDEO] June 2017: Salazar: “Sanctuary Cities Are Making Hispanics Look Like A Bunch Of Imbeciles!” On June 2, 2017, Salazar posted on Twitter: “#SanctuaryCities are making #Hispanics look like a bunch of imbeciles! My conversation w/ @TeamCavuto @FoxBusiness | #Immigration.” [Maria Elvira Salazar, 6/2/17]

May 2017: Salazar Tweeted That “Anti-Sanctuary City Laws Won’t Take Us Anywhere.” “‘Anti-sanctuary city laws won’t take us anywhere. If we want real & long-lasting success, we need an #Immigration Reform!” [Twitter, @MaElvriaSalazar, 5/12/17]

June 2017: Salazar Said Sanctuary Cities Are “Havens For Criminals.” Salazar wrote, “Nancy Pelosi’s hysterics over the Texas anti-sanctuary city law obscure some important questions that people on both sides of the debate need to ask themselves. The truth is that sanctuary cities have become havens for criminals; and the states and the federal government have made mistakes in their rush to correct a decades-old problem that eludes one-sided solutions. In the name of standing up to policies such as those of Texas (and before that, Arizona), Pelosi casts Texas as the villain and sanctuary cities as the good guys. That was opportunist and manipulative.” [Newsmax, Op-Ed, 6/06/17]

June 2017: Salazar Said We Should Let “Non-Violent Illegal Immigrants” Be Allowed To “Carry On With Their Lives Until Their Status Is Resolved.” After Salazar wrote, “Going after 1.5 million illegal immigrants all at once, even if the law says we can, is simply impractical. Why not go after the 'bad hombres' first, as the president himself suggested? By honoring detainers for this class of illegal immigrant the cities will do everyone a big favor. The non-violent illegal immigrants would be allowed to carry on with their lives until their status is resolved through comprehensive immigration reform — the only thing on which Pelosi and I might agree. Lesson to be learned? We cannot and should not protect all illegal immigrants; but we should not criminalize and go after all of them.” [Newsmax, Op-Ed, 6/06/17]
A few months later, Salazar praised California’s sanctuary law and said it was “not as bad as it sounds.”

October 2017: Salazar Said California’s Sanctuary Law Was “Not As Bad As It Sounds.” Salazar wrote, “The new sanctuary California state law (Senate Bill 54) is not as bad as it sounds. [...] But the good news is that in its scaled-down, final version — courtesy of Republican legislators and sheriffs who pushed for amendments — Bill 54 makes possible the removal of dangerous criminals from our cities for good. It allows federal immigration authorities to keep working with state corrections officials and to continue entering county jails to question immigrants. The legislation also permits police and sheriffs to share information and transfer people to immigration authorities if they have been convicted of serious crimes.” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed, 10/06/17]

- October 2017: Newsmax Headline: “Is the New California Sanctuary Law as Bad as It Sounds?” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed, 10/06/17]

- Salazar Praised A Law That Provided “Sanctuary” For Undocumented Immigrants. Salazar wrote, “There is indeed in this law ‘sanctuary’ for the non-violent, non-criminal illegal alien, without question. But I have argued that the final status of the law-abiding, non-violent illegal immigrant should be decided through comprehensive immigration reform, not executive order.” Salazar added, “Far from a defeat for the administration’s immigration policies, this law paradoxically can serve as a template that will usher in a new era of cooperation between cities, states, and federal immigration authorities. In touting this law as a model that should be adopted nation-wide, it is ironic that California just may have laid the foundation for the demise of the sanctuary city movement.” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed, 10/06/17]

- The Bill Made California A “Sanctuary State” By Extending “Sanctuary City” Protections To Undocumented Immigrants Living In California. “The Golden State is about to become a ‘sanctuary state.’ California Gov. Jerry Brown has signed a bill that places sharp limits on how state and local law enforcement agencies can cooperate with federal immigration authorities, placing California squarely and provocatively in conflict with President Trump and his calls to deport millions of undocumented immigrants. ‘These are uncertain times for undocumented Californians and their families,’ the governor said in a signing statement that laid out what the measure will – and will not – do. ‘This bill strikes a balance that will protect public safety while bringing a measure of comfort to those families who are now living in fear every day.’ The bill, SB 54 by California Senate President pro tem Kevin de León (D-Los Angeles), takes effect on January 1st, 2018. In broad terms, it extends local ‘sanctuary city’ protections for immigrants living in California without legal documentation.” [NPR, 10/05/17]

Salazar Praised The “Obama-Era System Of Shared Databases” That Provides Information To ICE And Immediate Communication Between, FBI, DHS, And Local Jails.” Salazar wrote, “In practice the close cooperation and communication between law enforcement and Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) enshrined in Bill 54 accomplishes the same goal. Already the Obama-era system of shared databases provides a wealth of information to ICE that makes possible immediate communication between FBI, DHS, and local jails.” [Newsmax, Salazar Op-Ed, 10/06/17]
Title 42

Salazar opposed lifting Title 42.

[VIDEO] April 2022: Salazar: “Lifting Title 42 Tells The Smugglers, Drug Dealers, And Everyone Else That The Border Is Open For Good Business.” In a video posted to her Twitter, Salazar opposed the termination of Title 42 by stating in Spanish “If they get rid of Title 42, the only message it sends to the coyotes [smugglers], the drug smugglers, child traffickers, others, is that the border is open for good business.” [Twitter, Maria Elvira Salazar, 04/09/22, 0:14/1:08]

- Spanish version: “Si quitan el Título 42, el único mensaje que está enviando a los coyotes, a los narcotraficantes, a los que trafican con niños, que la frontera está abierta para buen negocio.”

2022: Salazar Opposed Ending Title 42. 'By ending Title 42, President Biden welcomes an influx of migrants to the U.S. that our system is not prepared to handle,' Salazar told Just the News. 'He has no plan to solve the issue at our southern border, and it's hitting my community — the Hispanic-American community — the hardest.' [Just News, 4/10/22]

- 2022: Salazar Signed Onto Legislation Preventing The Lifting Of Title 42 Without A Plan To Address Border “Surge.” “Yesterday, Congressman Chris Pappas (NH-01), joined Reps. Jared Golden (ME-02), Tony Gonzales (TX-23), Tom O'Halleran (AZ-01), August Pfluger (TX-07), Stephanie Murphy (FL-07), Brian Fitzpatrick (PA-02), Don Bacon (NE-02), Greg Stanton (AZ-09), and Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) to introduce the Public Health and Border Security Act of 2022. Senators James Lankford (R-OK) and Kyrsten Sinema (D-AZ) introduced similar bipartisan legislation in the Senate. The bipartisan bill would prevent President Biden from lifting existing Title 42 immigration restrictions without a plan in place from the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to address the expected surge of migrants at the Southern border. [...] Title 42 is a provision of the Public Health Service Act of 1944. In March 2020, the Trump Administration invoked Title 42 to prevent the spread of COVID-19, preventing migrants presenting themselves at the border for asylum from remaining in the country while their cases were processed. The Biden Administration had largely continued the Trump Administration’s policy, but announced that it will begin rolling back the policy next month.” [Congressional Documents and Publications, 4/08/22]

TPS

In 2022, Salazar signed a letter supporting TPS for migrants from Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, and Nicaragua.

2022: Salazar Signed A Letter Asking For TPS For Migrants From Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, And Nicaragua. “Today, Reps. Joaquin Castro (TX-20) and Adriano Espaillat (NY-13) led a bipartisan letter to President Biden, Secretary of Homeland Security Alejandro Mayorkas, and Secretary of State Antony Blinken urging the administration to expand Temporary Protected Status protections for migrants from Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, and Nicaragua. Despite the ongoing humanitarian crises in Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, and Nicaragua, citizens of these nations who flee to the United States without legal status face an uphill battle to remain in the country. If detained, they can face deportation back to countries beset by food insecurity, political conflict, and economic instability — challenges that have been exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic and twin hurricanes that hit the region in November 2020. An estimated 1.5 million migrants in the United States would benefit from extending TPS to Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, and Nicaragua. [...] Additional co-signers on the letter include... Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27)...

Undocumented Immigrants

In 2021, Salazar proposed a 10 year path to legal status for undocumented immigrants and expanded work visas.

[VIDEO] March 2021: Salazar: “Let’s Give Dignity To Those 11 Million People That Includes The Ags, And Include The DACA And Their Parents, And Everyone Else Who Has Not Committed A Crime.” In March 2021, Salazar said, “Let’s give dignity to those 11 million people that includes the ags, and include the DACA and their parents, and everyone else who has not committed a crime, who has been here for at least 5 years, who has paid taxes, and who is working and helping our economy.” [YouTube, ABC News, 3/17/21 (3:30)]

2021: Salazar Introduce an Immigration Proposal That Would Protect Dreamers, Offer A 10 Year Path To Legal Status For Undocumented Immigrants, And Expand Agricultural Visas. “House Republicans unveiled a competing immigration proposal this week, sponsored by freshman Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar (R-Fla.), that pairs border security with other immigration changes. Those include protecting Dreamers, offering a 10-year path to achieving a renewable legal status for undocumented immigrants who have a clean criminal record and are employed, and expanding visas for agricultural workers.” [Politico, 3/18/21]

In 2022, Salazar introduced legislation to overhaul the immigration system by heightening border security, renewable legal status for undocumented immigrants, and establishing an “American worker fund” financed by “restitution” from immigrants to promote employment of American citizens.

February 2022: Salazar Introduce Legislation To Overhaul The Immigration System By Heightening Border Security, Renewable Legal Status For Undocumented Immigrants, And Establishing An “American Worker Fund” Financed By “Restitution” From Immigrants To Promote Employment Of American Citizens. In February 2022, Salazar sponsored H.R. 6637, the DIGNIDAD (Dignity) Act. The bill would be a “complete immigration reform bill consisting of 3 core principles: stopping illegal immigration, providing a dignified solution for immigrants living in America, and strengthening the American workforce and economy... The Dignity Act is the only realistic solution proposed in Congress that fully secures the border, reestablishes law and order in our immigration system, enacts a 10-year Dignity Program providing renewable legal status, and offers an additional optional redemption path to permanent legalization. This reasonable and compassionate approach will finally fix an immigration system that has been broken for decades. The Dignity Act was written in consultation with American businesses leaders, agriculture and farming industries, the faith-based community, immigration reform... groups, and border security experts.” The bill is cosponsored by 7 Republicans. The bill was referred to the Committees on Transportation and Infrastructure; Homeland Security; the Judiciary; Ways and Means; Agriculture; Natural Resources; the Budget; Education and Labor; Foreign Affairs; Oversight and Reform; Intelligence (Permanent Select); Armed Services; and Financial Services, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6637, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 2/08/22]

- The Dignity Act Is A Complete Immigration Reform Bill Consisting Of 3 Core Principles: Stopping Illegal Immigration, Providing A Dignified Solution For Immigrants Living In America, And Strengthening The American Workforce And Economy. “Today, Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) and group of her Republican House colleagues introduced the long-awaited Dignity Act, a complete immigration reform bill consisting of 3 core principles: stopping illegal immigration, providing a dignified solution for immigrants living in America, and strengthening the American workforce and economy. Original cosponsors are Representatives Dan Newhouse (WA-04), John Curtis (UT-03), Pete Sessions (TX-17), Jenniffer Gonzalez-Colon (PR), Tom Reed (NY-23), and Peter Meijer (MI-03)... Authorizes funding to fully secure America’s border at no cost to American taxpayers... Creates immediate legal status and streamlined path for Dreamers. Dignity Program (10 Years): Through the 10-year Dignity Program, undocumented immigrants will be provided a chance to work, earn legal status, pay restitution, and get right with the law... Creates an American Worker Fund, using restitution payments from the Dignity and Redemption programs, at no-cost to taxpayers. This provides grants to American citizens for workforce education initiatives, apprenticeship programs, and Career and Technical Education to give opportunities for Americans to enter new careers.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 2/08/22]

- Participants Of The Program Would Have To Be In The US For Five Years To Be Eligible, But Also Pass A Background Check, Pay Back Taxes, Start Paying Income Tax And Pay $10,000 In Restitution Fees. “The legislation would set up a new ‘Dignity Program,’ which would allow undocumented immigrants who have been in U.S. for five years to remain in the country and work legally if they satisfied the program’s requirements. Participants in the Dignity Program would have to pass a criminal background check, pay back taxes, start paying income taxes on new wages and pay $10,000 in restitution over 10 years to the federal government for entering the country illegally.” [Miami Herald, 2/08/22]

  - Salazar: “A Thousand Dollars A Year To Live In The Promised Land, It’s More Than Accepted.” “ ‘A thousand dollars a year to live in the promised land, it’s more than accepted,’ Salazar said. The restitution money would go into a new American Worker Fund, which would pay for workforce training for U.S. citizens.” [Miami Herald, 2/08/22]

- Participants Of The Program Would Not Be Eligible For Federal Subsidies And Would Be Required To Purchase Health Insurance. “Participants in the program would be required to purchase health insurance but would be ineligible for federal subsidies, according to Salazar’s office. The bill would also impose a 2% income tax levy on the program’s participants. It would pay for increased border security by increasing the number of Border Patrol agents, upgrading their technology and constructing physical barriers.” [Miami Herald, 2/08/22]
• Participants Would Have To Also Pay A 2% Income Tax Levy To Pay For Increased Border Security, Including The Construction Of “Physical Barriers.” “Participants in the program would be required to purchase health insurance but would be ineligible for federal subsidies, according to Salazar’s office. The bill would also impose a 2% income tax levy on the program’s participants. It would pay for increased border security by increasing the number of Border Patrol agents, upgrading their technology and constructing physical barriers.” [Miami Herald, 2/08/22]

  “'The undocumented labor force is going to be paying for border security,' Salazar said.” [Miami Herald, 2/08/22]

• The Participants Would Be “Legal Residents Rather Than Citizens.” “Participants would be allowed to travel back and forth between the U.S. and their country of origin. They would be legal residents rather than citizens. ‘The Dignity Proposal considers that the majority of the undocumented population may not be looking for a citizenship-or-nothing deal, but would likely be content with the opportunity to live in the U.S. legally, work and pay taxes, have protection from deportation (for non-felons), and be able to travel to their country of origin and be with family for the holidays,’ states a summary of the legislation from Salazar’s office.” [Miami Herald, 2/08/22]

• After 10 Years In The Program, Participants Would Have The Option To Continue The Program Or Join A Five-Year “Redemption Program” That Provides A Path To Citizenship After Paying $2,500 Every 20 Months. “At the end of 10 years, participants in the Dignity Program would have the option of continuing work in the country as legal residents under a renewable visa or they could enter a five-year ‘Redemption Program,’ which would provide a pathway to citizenship for participants who make payments of $2,500 every 20 months to the American Worker Fund and who study English and U.S. civics. Completion of the Redemption Program would put participants in line to become citizens, but they would be in the back of the line for their country of origin.” [Miami Herald, 2/08/22]

• Dreamers Would Have “Multiple” Options For “Full Permanent Residency,” Including “Three Years Of Military Service And Earning A Higher Education Degree.” “Participants in the already existing Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program, who entered the U.S. as children and who are commonly referred to as ‘Dreamers,’ would have multiple tracks for full legal permanent residency under Salazar’s bill, including three years of military service and earning a higher education degree.” [Miami Herald, 2/08/22]

• March 2021: Salazar: We Don’t Want Any More False Promises … We Want Those 11 Million Undocumented People Here To Be Treated With Dignity.” “‘As Hispanics, we don't want any more false promises, false hopes,’ he added. ‘We want those 11 million undocumented people here to be treated with dignity. But this won't happen if we don't stop the madness at the border with real and permanent solutions, not executive orders.’” [El Nuevo Herald, 3/19/21] Translation
Spanish Version: “‘Como hispanos, no queremos más falsas promesas, falsas esperanzas,’ agregó, ‘Queremos que esos 11 millones de indocumentados que están aquí sean tratados con dignidad. Pero esto no sucederá si no detenemos la locura en la frontera con soluciones reales y permanentes, no con órdenes ejecutivas.’”

- 2022: Salazar Filed The “Dignity Act”, The GOP Plan To Address The Immigration Issue. Salazar First Attempted To Present The Plan As A “Dignified” Way To Address The Issue.

  “This week, Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) and a group of her Republican House colleagues introduced the long-awaited Dignity Act, a complete immigration reform bill consisting of 3 core principles: stopping illegal immigration, providing a dignified solution for immigrants living in America, and strengthening the American workforce and economy.” [Office of Maria Salazar, 2/11/22]

- February 2022: Salazar Introduced Immigration Reform Legislation That Created A Potential Path To Citizenship After 15 Years And Thousands Of Dollars. “Miami Republican Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar introduced legislation Tuesday that would set up a new legal residency program for millions of undocumented immigrants and create a potential path to citizenship for those who complete a pair of programs over 15 years. Salazar’s 483-page bill, titled ‘The Dignity Act,’ would set up numerous changes to the immigration system, including measures to increase border security, an expedited process for asylum seekers and a new program to provide a path to legal residency for undocumented immigrants already in the country.” [Miami Herald, 2/08/22]

- Salazar: “You Can Come Out Of The Shadows And Live A Dignified Life.” “The first-term GOP representative has been floating the legislation since last year, but Tuesday marked its official introduction. She said the bill was intended to simultaneously halt new illegal immigration and to provide dignity to undocumented people who are already residing in the U.S. ‘You can come out of the shadows and live a dignified life,’ Salazar said in a phone call with reporters Tuesday morning.” [Miami Herald, 2/08/22]

Salazar Called For Granting Legal Status To Undocumented Immigrants Who Have Been In The Country For 5 Years. “Listen, we have got to do something with 11 million people who have been here for more than five years, have American children, have helped the economy, have not committed a crime, and who have been here for, what, decades. What are you going to do with those people? Deport them? The previous administration tried it. And, you know, it's impossible. So, why don't we just get -- sit down and do the art of the possible, which is politics? Let's give them legality. Let's give them something called dignity. I'm not talking about making them gringos. I'm not talking about giving them paths to citizenship, because you know something, Larry? They don't want that.” [Fox Business, 3/18/21]

Salazar Said She Supported Immigration Reform To Get Visas To For People Coming To The U.S. For Work. “[SALAZAR:] The undocumented people do not want to be undocumented. That's why we need to reform our immigration system and we need to give visas to those that are coming to pick jalapeno peppers in southern California or to clean toilets in Orlando or Manhattan, because that is what my people are doing. So they need some type of legality so they can stay here, they can pay taxes, they can contribute to the economy, and they can continue working like they are right now without a criminal record.” [MSNBC, 9/9/18]

2022: Conservatives Like Tucker Carlson Criticized Salazar’s Immigration Proposal And Called It Amnesty. [CARLSON]: “You just called last month for the amnesty for tens of millions of people who came into this country illegally. SALAZAR: Oh, no. CARLSON: Oh, but you did because I read the legislation today. SALAZAR: No, I did not. CARLSON: Actually about 20 minutes ago, I read it.” [Fox News with Tucker Carlson, 3/16/22]

- 2022: Tucker Carlson Blasted Salazar’s Immigration Policy Suggesting The American People Were Angry That The US Was Sending Military Forces To Defend The Ukrainian Border, But Not The US Border. [Carlson] “Let me just ask you a question, can you see why Americans who support the Ukrainians' right to secure their own borders, I mean, I certainly do. Most people do, all Americans do. Can you see the frustration that they might feel listening to you, a lawmaker say: Yes, there's a process. But when that happens in a foreign country, we have to send billions of the U.S. military, your sons, but we can't kind of do that here. Because why? I mean, can you sort of understand the frustration a little bit?” […] “Why not treat our own border with the same seriousness? That's it. That's it -- but you're not. You're not treating our border crisis with any level of the same seriousness as you're treating Ukraine.” [Fox News with Tucker Carlson, 3/16/22]

March 2022: Salazar Said Her Immigration Reform Proposal Did Not Provide Amnesty To Undocumented Immigrants. “CARLSON: You just called last month for the amnesty for tens of millions of people who came into this country illegally. SALAZAR: Oh, no. CARLSON: Oh, but you did because I read the […] SALAZAR: The Dignity Act, which I presented last month is an Immigration Reform Law, probably the first one that the G.O.P. has presented in a long time. CARLSON: Right. SALAZAR: has one of the strongest border security measures in the history of the United States Congress. CARLSON: All right, got it. But it also provides amnesty for tens of millions of people. SALAZAR: With very strong border security -- wait a minute. No. Amnesty what we have now, Tucker. Amnesty is when you have more than 13 million illegals -- […] CARLSON: People who came over our border without permission are not being punished, they are instead being rewarded. And so you -- SALAZAR: No, they are not -- let me answer to that. […] I want to be rigorous. I am talking about those people who have lived here for than five years that have not committed a crime, that have American children and who are contributing to our economy, I want to give them something called dignity and then redemption. CARLSON: All right, got it. SALAZAR: I'm not talking about path to citizenship, I'm not talking about amnesty. CARLSON: Okay, well of course, you are. SALAZAR: I'm talking about -- no, no, but let me -- no, I'm not. And I don't want you to misrepresent what we did and we worked for one whole year so we can solve just because this bill doesn't.” [Fox News, Tucker Carlson, 3/16/22]

Salazar Supported A Pathway To Citizenship For Undocumented Immigrants Who Were In The Country For At Least 15 Years. “Salazar, who spoke to the editorial board minutes after Shalala, said she would be open to supporting universal background checks on guns and providing a path to citizenship for undocumented immigrants in the country at least 15 years. She also said she'd vote for the carbon tax proposal by Miami Rep. Carlos Curbelo, which would provide $700 billion for Infrastructure by taxing coal and natural gas emissions, if it had any chance of becoming law in a Republican-controlled Congress.” [Miami Herald, 9/26/18]

Salazar defended the use of the term “illegals” and said undocumented people did not want citizenship.

Salazar Said “Illegals” Wanted Legal Status But Not Citizenship. “[SALAZAR:] And reality is that Hispanics do not want to be illegals. Hispanics don't care if we have a wall or not. We can have a wall, which is what we have the shutdown right now with very big gates because illegals do not want to be illegals. Who wants to have that stigma? Who wants to raise your kids in darkness? What illegals want is to have a piece of paper, not citizenship, legality. Legality that would allow them to buy homes, pay taxes, raise their kids, be able to go back home, and then come back if they’re needed. And that is what I think that—” [Fox News, 1/2/19]

Salazar Defended Calling Undocumented People “Illegals.” “[CARLSON:] Why do you think the debate almost immediately moves to what language we’re allowed to use and away from the core question about what the border should look like? [...] [SALAZAR:] I live in Miami, Florida. There are, I would say, half a million illegals. I know them very well. I can call them undocumented. I can call them illegal. They are people. Most of them are wonderful people. Not every illegal is a criminal. But those who are criminals have nothing to do among this. They should be kicked out immediately. And that's my fear that sometimes the cleaning ladies, the good hombres, not the bad hombres, and the gang members like this guy, Gustavo Perez Arriaga, they're all bundled together, and that is where the problem comes.” [Fox News, 1/2/19]

Fabiola Santiago Column: Salazar Said She Was Not Sure That Dreamers, Their Parents, Or TPS Holders Should Have A Pathway To Citizenship, But Agreed They Should Have Legal Status. “It’s hard to gauge where Salazar really stands on issues because one minute she sounds as Trumpian as they come, then not: [...] She doesn’t want to call it ‘a wall’ but she supports Trump’s efforts to shut the door. She also isn’t ‘sure’ Dreamers, their parents, and TPS holders should get a pathway to citizenship but she agrees that they should get some kind of legal status. This is her most horrid view, as this would create a cast system of second-class citizens.” [Miami Herald, Fabiola Santiago Column, 10/17/18]

In 2017, Salazar said she did not support a path to citizenship for undocumented immigrants.

June 2017: Salazar Said She Is For Legal Status For Undocumented Immigrants, But Not A Path To Citizenship. Salazar wrote “Let me preempt the objection that comprehensive immigration reform is ‘amnesty,’ or ‘path to citizenship.’ I am for legal status for hard-working illegal immigrants, but not for path to citizenship.” [Newsmax, Op-Ed, 6/06/17]

In 2018, Salazar said undocumented immigrants under 14 years old should be sent back to their home countries, even those who fled violence.

October 2018: Salazar Said Undocumented Immigrants Under 14 Years Old Should Be Sent Back To Their Home Countries, Even Those Who Fled Violence. “Salazar said that if elected, she would be willing to play that role within the Republican party, but even so, she does not believe that all undocumented immigrants should be found a way to stay. Those in the United States under 14 should be sent back to their home countries, including those who fled violence in Central America and families with children who were separated from their children, he said. The candidate said that the solution here would be to convene a kind of emergency Summit to deal with the economic and social problems in countries like Honduras and Guatemala that have led thousands to abandon their homes." [El Nuevo Herald, 10/04/18] Translation

- Spanish Version: “Salazar dijo que de ser electa, estaría dispuesta a jugar ese papel dentro del partido republicano, pero aún así no cree que a todos los indocumentados se les debe buscar una manera de quedarse. Aquellos que tienen menos de 14 años en Estados Unidos deberían ser enviados a sus países de origen, incluyendo aquellos que huyeron de la violencia de América Central y las familias con niños que fueron separados de sus hijos, opinó. La candidata dijo que la solución aquí sería convocar una especie de Cumbre de emergencia para tratar los problemas económicos y sociales en países como Honduras y Guatemala que han llevado a miles a abandonar sus hogares.”

Visas

Salazar has introduced or added her name to numerous pieces of legislation aimed at reforming the visa process.

2022: Salazar Signed Letter Demanding State Department Address J-1 Visa Processing Delays. “Congressman John Curtis (UT-03) and Representatives Chris Pappas (NH-01), Blake Moore (UT-01), and Annie Kuster (NH-02) led a bipartisan call demanding the Department of State take action to address J-1 Visa processing delays ahead of the summer. These visas sponsor students from around the world to participate in exchange programs and support tourist economies. Participation in the program declined due to the pandemic and now suffers from severe processing delays...Maria Elvira Salazar, Member of Congress” [Targeted News Service, 5/27/22]

2022: Salazar Signed On To Legislation To Allow H-4 Visa Holders To Automatically Be Granted Authorization To Work. “Today, Congresswomen Carolyn Bourdeaux (GA-07) and Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) introduced the bipartisan H-4 Work Authorization Act to address the national labor shortage affecting American businesses while helping immigrant families thrive together. The bill would allow H-4 visa holders to be automatically granted their work authorization without needing to submit a "Form I-765, Employment Authorization Document (EAD)," which can take years to be approved. [...] "I am proud to co-lead the bipartisan H-4 Work Authorization Act," said Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar. "This policy will help Miami and the United States maximize our entrepreneurial spirit and continue leading in job creation, innovation, research and development, and economic growth by meeting critical labor market needs." [Office of Congresswoman Bourdeaux, 4/7/22]

2021: Salazar Supported Two Bills To Give Pathway To Undocumented Migrants In 2021. One Provided A Pathway To Dreamers And The Other To Ag Workers. “In March, the House passed two bills with bipartisan support that would give these immigrants a chance at a brighter future. The American Dream and Promise Act and the Farm Workforce Modernization Act (FWMA) both offer solutions that will allow undocumented immigrants a chance to continue living and working in our country. The American Dream and Promise Act focuses on Dreamers and would give them and others with temporary legal status an earned pathway to legal status, while the FWMA would be used to give a pathway to citizenship for undocumented agriculture workers, who make up the majority of Florida's farmworkers. It was encouraging to see several lawmakers cross party lines to vote for these bills, including Florida Republican representatives Mario Diaz-Balart, Carlos Gimenez and Maria Elvira Salazar. These bills now need to move forward in the Senate, and they need the same bipartisan support to be put into action.” [South Florida Sun-Sentinel, 8/2/21]

2021: Salazar Signed Onto Legislation By Rand Paul To Create A Nonimmigrant Category Allowing U.S Citizens And Permanent Residents To Petition For Their Family Members For Temporary Visits.

“Today, U.S Senators Rand Paul (R-KY) and Richard Blumenthal (D-CT) introduced the Temporary Family Visitation Act that would establish a new B-3 nonimmigrant category allowing U.S citizens and permanent residents to petition for their family members for temporary visits. The bill was also introduced in the House by U.S Representatives Scott Peters (D-CA-52), María Elvira Salazar (R-FL-27), Stephanie Bice (R-OK-05), and Jim Himes (D-CT-04). Under the current system, family members of U.S citizens and permanent residents may only apply to visit their relatives through B2 visas. The current immigration law lacks a direct path for families to temporarily reunite for family purposes such as weddings, birthdays, graduations, funerals, and holidays. If enacted, the Temporary Family Visitation Act would establish a separate nonimmigrant classification under B visa category for family members of U.S citizens and permanent residents who are residents of countries not included in the Visa Waiver Program for a duration of 90 days.” [Impact News Service, 5/18/21]

“I Haven’t Done Anything To Help The Average American”

2022: Salazar said “I haven't done anything to help the average American” after being in Congress for 18 months because Democrats had not proposed any policies to “take care of your pocket or of your economy.”

[VIDEO] August 2022: Salazar Said “I Haven’t Done Anything To Help The Average American” After Being In Congress For 18 Months. “HOST: Maria, it is just so frustrating isn’t it when politics trumps the well being of I don’t know us? SALAZAR: Of course, I agree with you. I’m here in Congress right now outside the floor we have a lot of votes today and I thank you very much for the opportunity. I’ve been here for eighteen months and I haven’t done anything to help the average American.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, Brian Mudd Interview, 8/2/22]

[VIDEO] August 2022: Salazar Claimed Nancy Pelosi And Democrats In Congress “Have Not Brought One Bill” That Would Deal With Inflation Or Lower Consumer Costs. “It doesn’t matter the political party; Democrat, Republican, Independent. Right now if you got the super market one out of four Americans can not buy everything they need because they don’t have the money. One out of two can not fill the gas tank because it’s too much money per gallon, so that is miserable. Four years ago we were in a much better position. The reason why I came to Congress was to help not only the Americans but District 27. We haven’t done it. Why? Because Nancy Pelosi is in charge of the House of Representatives and they have not brought one bill that will lower, forget about inflation, affordability.
You can not afford what you need. Gas, eggs, buying uniforms for your children, finding people to work in your shop. And what have we done? Well the Democrats want to spend more money and tax corporations.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, Brian Mudd Interview, 8/2/22]

[VIDEO] July 2022: Salazar Said “For 19 Months, I Haven’t Seen Any Laws That Take Care Of Your Pocket Or Of Your Economy.” “For 19 months, this Congress has been in the hands of the Democrats, specifically Madam Speaker Nancy Pelosi. And for 19 months, I haven’t seen any laws that take care of your pocket or of your economy. And right now, we are in a major disaster of affordability. I am sure you feel it in your daily lives. For instance, one out of four people that go to the supermarket cannot buy everything they need. They need to leave things on the shelves because they just do not have enough money to buy everything. And one out of two people that go to the gas pump cannot fill their tank because they just do not have the money to do that. That is unacceptable in the United States. It is unacceptable that the Democrats, during the last 19 months, have been trying to do two things: spend more, and tax you more. That is what they have been trying to do. And you know what is the most ironic thing of it all, is that all this disaster could have been avoided because this has been made by the Biden Administration with bad economic policies, That’s reality, 19 months where they haven’t done anything.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 7/30/22]

Inflation Reduction Act

Salazar voted against the Inflation Reduction Act, despite it lowering cost for prescription drugs.

Salazar Voted Against Passing The Inflation Reduction Act Through Reconciliation. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Yarmuth, D-Ky., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill comprising a package of climate, tax and health care provisions. Among drug pricing provisions, the bill would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" with drug manufacturers for certain Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition; cap cost-sharing for insulin products covered under Medicare at $35 a month; and require single-source drug manufacturers to provide rebates to HHS for the price of drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which price increases outpace inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap the annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000. It would extend through 2025 tax subsidies toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums for individuals under a certain income level. The bill would provide for approximately $270 billion in new or expanded tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including production credits for electricity produced by renewable and nuclear facilities; investment tax credits for certain renewable energy equipment and facilities; and credits for advanced energy manufacturing projects, including in areas where a coal mine or power plant has closed. To incentivize emission reduction and clean fuel production, it would create or extend tax credits for carbon oxide sequestration facilities; biodiesel, renewable diesel and alternative fuels; and clean hydrogen facilities. For most of its corporate tax credits, it would add prevailing wage and apprenticeship requirements and establish bonus credits for using domestic materials in facility construction. It would also expand individual tax credits for residential energy efficiency improvements and renewable energy expenses; increase credits for new energy efficient homes; and create credits for the purchase of used electric vehicles by individuals under a certain income level. It would reinstate the Superfund tax on crude oil at a rate of 16.4 cents per barrel. Among other tax provisions, the bill would establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with a book income of at least $1 million annually and institute a 1 percent excise tax on corporate stock buybacks. It would authorize $79.3 billion for IRS operations, including enforcement activities and systems modernization. The bill would provide funding for various activities to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, promote energy-efficient technologies and mitigate the impacts of climate change, including $27 billion for grants to state, local and nonprofit entities for greenhouse gas emission reduction activities; $9.7 billion for zero-emission or carbon capture rural electric systems; $5 billion for loan guarantees to replace or reduce emissions of energy infrastructure; $3 billion for zero-emission vehicles for the Postal Service; and $1.6 billion for methane emissions reduction and mitigation. It would provide $9 billion for residential energy efficiency improvement rebates; $3 billion for new EPA environmental and climate justice block grants for community-led activities to address pollution, emission reduction, climate resiliency and public engagement; and $3 billion for Federal Highway Administration grants for projects that address surface transportation facilities that disconnect or negatively impact communities. It would provide $4 billion for drought mitigation in Western states; $2.15 billion for hazardous fuel reduction and restoration projects; and $1 billion to improve energy and water efficiency or climate resilience of affordable housing. It would require the Interior Department to accept bids for certain canceled oil and gas leases on the outer continental shelf. It would authorize wind lease sales adjacent to U.S. territories but prohibit new wind or solar development rights on federal lands for 10 years unless the department completes certain oil or gas lease sales.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-207. [H.R. 5376, Vote #420, 8/12/22; CQ, 8/12/22]

- The Inflation Reduction Act Capped Out-Of-Pocket Costs At $2,000 For People Who Participated In Medicare Part D, “The Prescription Drug Plan For Seniors.” “Medicare is poised to renegotiate the prices of some of its most expensive drugs through a historic expansion of its power, which could reduce costs for many seniors as well as federal spending on its prescription drug plan. The changes are tucked inside a massive spending-and-tax bill in Congress that includes $433 billion in investments in health-care and clean energy. House Democrats passed the Inflation Reduction Act on Friday in a 220 to 207 vote along party lines, ending a tortured legislative process that took more than a year. The bill empowers the Health and Human Services Secretary to negotiate prices for certain drugs covered under two different parts of Medicare and punish pharmaceutical companies that don’t play by the rules. The legislation also caps out-of-pocket costs at $2,000 starting in 2025 for people who participate in Medicare Part D, the prescription drug plan for seniors.” [CNBC, 8/12/22]

- AARP CEO Jo Ann Jenkins On The Inflation Reduction Act: “Millions Of Older Adults Are Now ‘One Step Closer To Real Relief From Out-Of-Control Prescription Drug Prices.’” “Medicare is poised to renegotiate the prices of some of its most expensive drugs through a historic expansion of its power, which could reduce costs for many seniors as well as federal spending on its prescription drug plan. House Democrats passed the Inflation Reduction Act on Friday in a 220 to 207 vote along party lines, ending a tortured legislative process that took more than a year. [...] The American Association of Retired Persons, which represents 38 million people, described the legislation as a historic victory for older adults. AARP CEO Jo Ann Jenkins said the group has fought for nearly two decades to allow Medicare to negotiate drug prices. Millions of older adults are now “one step closer to real relief from out-of-control prescription drug prices,” Jenkins said earlier this week.” [CNBC, 8/12/22]
• NBC: The Inflation Reduction Act “Is Set To Lower The Cost Of Prescription Drugs.” “The Inflation Reduction Act, signed into law by President Joe Biden, is set to lower the cost of prescription drugs — including cancer medications, blood thinners and insulin — for millions of Americans, experts say. Exorbitant drug prices in the United States are a key reason many people in the U.S. are forced to skip or delay filling their needed prescriptions. A Kaiser Family Foundation poll published last month found that nearly 1 in 2 adults report difficulty affording their health care expenses, including their prescribed medications.” [NBC, 8/16/22]

• The Inflation Reduction Act Extended Subsidies Through 2025 For 13 Million People Who Buy Individual Coverage Through The ACA. “The law immediately extends subsidies through 2025 for the roughly 13 million people who buy individual coverage through the ACA. The subsidies were set to expire this year.” [NBC, 8/16/22]

Salazar said the Inflation Reduction Act “will do nothing to reduce inflation,” despite 126 leading economists saying otherwise.

126 Economists Agreed The Inflation Reduction Act Would Put “Downward Pressure On Inflation” And “Set The Stage For Strong, Stable, And Broadly-Shared Long-Term Economic Growth.” “We write to strongly urge you and your colleagues in Congress to swiftly pass the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022. This historic legislation makes crucial investments in energy, health care, and in shoring up the nation’s tax system. These investments will fight inflation and lower costs for American families while setting the stage for strong, stable, and broadly-shared long-term economic growth. [...] This proposal addresses some of the country’s biggest challenges at a significant scale. And because it is deficit-reducing, it does so while putting downward pressure on inflation. We strongly recommend Congress act decisively to build a stronger economy by passing the Inflation Reduction Act as soon as possible.” [126 Economists, Letter to Congressional Leadership, 8/2/22]

Opposed Bills To Help Consumers

Salazar Voted Against The CHIPS Semiconductor Package.

Salazar Voted Against The CHIPS Semiconductor Package. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: "Johnson, D-Texas, motion to concur in the Senate amendment that would provide $54.2 billion in supplemental appropriations for semiconductor research and manufacturing and 5G network deployment and authorize federal investment in a wide range of scientific research and development programs over five years. It would also provide $19.4 million for fiscal 2023 for the U.S. Marshals Service and Supreme Court to address threats against the Supreme Court. The bill would provide $52.7 billion in supplemental appropriations over five years to incentivize research, development and workforce development related to the production of semiconductors, including $50 billion through fiscal 2026 for an existing Commerce Department semiconductor incentive initiative to support semiconductor manufacturing, research and development; $2 billion for national defense and intelligence activities; $500 million for international communications technology and semiconductor supply chain security; and $200 million for semiconductor workforce development. It would also authorize a 25 percent investment tax credit for spending on semiconductor manufacturing facilities. It would also provide $1.5 billion over two years to support 5G wireless network supply chain development and deployment. Among provisions related to science and technology research and development, it would require the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy to review quadrennially U.S. capabilities and develop a national science and technology strategy to improve national competitiveness. It would identify "key technology focus" areas as federal research and development priorities, including artificial intelligence, automation and advanced manufacturing, quantum computing, biotechnology and advanced energy. It would authorize $81 billion through fiscal 2027 for National Science Foundation activities, including $16.3 billion for a new NSF Directorate for Technology, Innovation and Partnerships to encourage research, development and workforce development to support use-inspired and translational research, accelerate the development and use of federally funded research, and accelerate development in key technology focus areas. It would require the NSF to support research in a range of new areas, including climate change and the impacts of technology on social and behavioral science. It would authorize more than $67 billion through fiscal 2027 for Energy Department science activities, including for laboratory upgrades and research and development related to renewable and alternative energy, quantum technologies, energy technology commercialization and microelectronics manufacturing. It would authorize $11 billion through fiscal 2027 for Commerce Department economic development activities, primarily for regional technology innovation hubs designated by the Economic Development Administration. It would authorize $9.7 billion through fiscal 2027 for the National Institute of Standards and Technology and expand NIST programs and activities in information security, cybersecurity and key technology focus areas. It would establish an interagency initiative to advance research and development in engineering biology and biomanufacturing. It would authorize new and existing NASA programs and activities, including to formally authorize a program to support human exploration of the moon and Mars and require NASA to prioritize development of nuclear propulsion and low-enriched uranium technologies. It would authorize a new NSF office to coordinate federal efforts and policies related to research security and integrity and require federal research agencies to adopt policies to prohibit personnel from participating in malign foreign talent recruitment programs. It would authorize a variety of programs to expand workforce development, education and participation of underrepresented groups in the fields of science, technology, engineering and mathematics.” The bill passed by a vote of 243-187. [H.R. 4346, Vote #404, 7/28/22; CQ, 7/28/22]

- The CHIPS Bill Would Lower The Costs Of Everyday Goods And Create High Paying Manufacturing Jobs. “The House on Thursday voted to pass the $280 billion Chips and Science Act, a bill that would subsidize domestic semiconductor manufacturing and invest billions in science and technology innovation, in a bid to strengthen the United States’ competitiveness and self-reliance in what is seen as a keystone industry for economic and national security. [...] Today, the House passed a bill that will make cars cheaper, appliances cheaper, and computers cheaper,” Biden said in a statement. “It will lower the costs of everyday goods. And, it will create high-paying manufacturing jobs across the country and strengthen U.S. leadership in the industries of the future at the same time.” [Washington Post, 7/28/22]

- The CHIPS Bill Provided $54 Billion In Grants For Semiconductor Manufacturing And Research. “The CHIPS bill, short for Creating Helpful Incentives to Produce Semiconductors for America Act, would provide $54 billion in grants for semiconductor manufacturing and research, tens of billions to support regional technology hubs and a tax credit covering 25% of investments in semiconductor manufacturing through 2026.” [NPR, 7/27/22]

Salazar voted against the Lower Food and Fuel Costs Act.

Salazar Voted Against The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act To Make Fertilizer More Affordable And Boost Meatpacking Competition. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would provide $700 million in supplemental fiscal 2023 appropriations and authorize or require various Agriculture Department activities to reduce food production costs; support biofuel infrastructure upgrades to reduce fuel costs; expand livestock and poultry processing capacities; and address supply chain resilience in the food and agriculture sectors. Within supplemental appropriations, it would provide $500 million for additional payments to producers under the Environmental Quality Incentives Program to implement crop nutrient management practices or precision agriculture practices, which use new technologies to increase crop yields or decrease needed inputs such as land, fertilizer and herbicides. It would also modify existing USDA conservation programs to provide additional support, including loans and loan guarantees, for farmers and ranchers to adopt precision agriculture practices and acquire related technology. Within supplemental appropriations, it would provide $200 million for grants to transportation fueling and distribution facilities, fuel terminal operations and heating oil distribution facilities to install or upgrade fuel infrastructure to ensure the environmentally safe availability of fuel containing ethanol blends at levels greater than 10 percent or biodiesel blends at levels greater than five percent, or to build and retrofit existing systems to blend biodiesel and carry ethanol and biodiesel. It would also authorize the EPA to extend a waiver to allow the sale of gasoline blended with more than 10 percent ethanol. The bill would also authorize $120 million annually through fiscal 2025 for USDA loans, loan guarantees and grants for public and private entities to expand and diversify livestock or poultry processing capabilities and promote local and interstate sales by meeting relevant regulatory standards. It would establish a USDA special investigator’s office to investigate and prosecute violations of competition and trade practices by packers and live poultry dealers and consult with the Homeland Security Department on security issues in the food and agriculture sector. To address supply chain issues, it would authorize $100 million for grants, loans and other assistance to address fertilizer shortages, including by reducing dependence on foreign sources and supporting efficient and sustainable fertilizer use; direct the USDA to establish at least six Supply Chain Regional Resource Centers to provide grants and assistance to small- and medium-sized agricultural producers and businesses to address supply chain challenges; and require the USDA to establish a temporary food system supply chain resilience and crisis response task force.” The bill passed by a vote of 221-204. [H.R. 7606, Vote #277, 6/16/22; CQ, 6/16/22]

- The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act Created A Task Force To Prevent Bottlenecks In Agriculture And Food Supply Chains And Lower Food Costs. “In action June 16, the U.S. House of Representatives passed by a vote of 221-204 H.R. 7606, the Lower Food and Fuel Costs Act, which lead Democrat authors say will help address supply chain risks, lower the cost of food and gas prices, strengthen the food supply chain and ensure robust competition in the meat and poultry sector. […] The package also includes the Strengthening the Agriculture and Food Supply Chain Act which would create a task force dedicated to shoring up the agriculture and food supply chains in order to prevent bottlenecks and lower food costs.” [Farm Progress, 6/16/22]

- The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act Contained A Number Of Separate Agriculture Provisions Aimed At Addressing Food Costs And Supply Chain Issues. “The House of Representatives on Thursday passed an omnibus appropriations bill aimed at addressing spiraling fuel costs by further expanding the availability of higher-ethanol fuel blends. The Lower Food and Fuel Costs Act contains a number of separate agriculture provisions aimed at addressing food costs and supply chain issues.” [The Hill, 6/16/22]

- The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act Lifted Summer Restrictions On E15 Gas, Which Was Cheaper Than Regular E10 Gas. “The Lower Food and Fuel Costs Act contains a number of separate agriculture provisions aimed at addressing food costs and supply chain issues. On the energy side, it would remove summertime restrictions on the sale of a 15 percent ethanol blend, a policy similar to provisions included in an executive order signed by President Biden earlier this month. [...] The Renewable Fuels Association, the primary lobbying group for biofuels, hailed the passage in a statement Thursday. ‘E15 typically sells for 10 to 40 cents per gallon less than regular E10 gasoline today, meaning consumers are saving several dollars each time they fill up their vehicle’s tank with E15 instead of E10,’ RFA President and CEO Geoff Cooper said in a statement.” [The Hill, 6/16/22]

- Renewable Fuels Association: Households Could Save Over $300 A Year By Switching To E15 Gas. “The Renewable Fuels Association welcomed passage of the bill. ‘By expanding the availability of cleaner, more-affordable ethanol blends, this legislation will help deliver immediate economic relief to American families who are feeling unprecedented pain at the pump,’ said Geoff Cooper, president and CEO of the RFA. ‘E15 typically sells for 10 to 40 cents per gallon less than regular E10 gasoline today, meaning consumers are saving several dollars each time they fill up their vehicle’s tank with E15 instead of E10. That means the typical household can save more than $300 on fuel expenses over the course of a year simply by choosing lower-carbon E15. RFA thanks Speaker Pelosi, Majority Leader Hoyer, and renewable fuel supporters from both parties for pushing this legislation over the goal line and delivering a win to hard-pressed American families dealing with inflationary pressures.’” [Biodiesel Magazine, 6/16/22]

May 2022: Salazar voted against the Consumer Fuel Price Gouging Prevention Act that would crack down on price gouging by oil companies.

Salazar Voted Against The Consumer Fuel Price Gouging Prevention Act To Bar Excessive Or Exploitative Fuel Prices. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would prohibit the sale of consumer fuel at excessive costs during a presidentially declared energy emergency. Specifically, the bill would allow the president to issue an energy emergency proclamation for any U.S. area for a renewable period of up to 30 days. During an energy emergency period, it would prohibit the sale of consumer fuel at a price that is ‘unconscionably excessive’ and indicates that the seller is ‘exploiting’ the circumstances of the emergency to unreasonably increase prices. It would direct the Federal Trade Commission to enforce such violations under existing law related to unfair or deceptive practices. It would establish an affirmative defense for civil and administrative action brought to enforce the violation that an increase in price ‘reasonably reflects’ additional costs or risks taken to produce, distribute, obtain or sell fuel. It would specify aggravating and mitigating factors in determining violations including whether the price grossly exceeds the average price of fuel offered in the 30 days before the emergency proclamation or during a benchmark period established by the FTC; whether the price grossly exceeds the average price offered during the emergency period by other sellers in the same area; and whether the quantity of fuel produced, distributed or sold increased in an area during the emergency period, accounting for usual seasonal variation. Among other provisions related to enforcement, it would require the FTC to prioritize enforcement against companies with sales over $500 million annually; allow state attorneys general to enforce the prohibition through civil action and allow the FTC to intervene in such cases; and establish the Consumer Relief Trust Fund for funds collected from penalties, to be used to provide energy assistance to low-income households. It would also increase from $1 million to $2 million the maximum penalty under existing law and expand FTC enforcement authority for market manipulation and sharing false information with respect to transportation fuel pricing. It would require the Energy Department's Energy Information Administration to conduct surveys of energy companies to collect information on U.S. crude oil and transportation fuel markets and share survey results and related analyses with the public and the FTC. It would require the FTC to investigate and create a strategy to address price manipulation and price gouging practices for gasoline during national or international emergencies.” The bill passed by a vote of 217-207. [H.R. 7688, Vote #232, 5/19/22; CQ, 5/19/22]

- The Price Gouging Prevention Bill “Prohibit[ed] Price Increases During National Emergencies” And Authorized The Federal Trade Commission “To Issue Penalties For Price Gouging.” “The measure, which is unlikely to garner the Republican support needed to become law, would prohibit price increases during national energy emergencies declared by the president. […] The bill, called the Consumer Fuel Price Gouging Prevention Act, would also give the Federal Trade Commission the power to issue penalties for price gouging, according to a summary of the legislation. It would prioritize penalizing larger companies, while protecting independently owned gas stations.” [Bloomberg, 5/12/22]

- March 2022: 87% Of Voters Supported “A Crackdown On Price Gouging By Oil Companies, Including 63% Who Strongly Favor It.” “Of all the actions the President and Congress might take to address the problem of rising gasoline prices and long-term energy costs, the one voters support most strongly and most broadly is cracking down on price gouging and excessive price increases by oil companies. Eighty-seven percent (87%) of voters favor a crackdown on price gouging by oil companies, including 63% who strongly favor it. One reason voters are so emphatic about cracking down on price gouging is that they believe oil company CEOs are “profiteering” off of the war between Russia and Ukraine and are using the war as an opportunity to raise gas prices just to increase their profits. […] 49% say the prices at the pump are a reflection of oil companies wanting to increase their profits as much as possible.” [Hart Research Associates, 3/15/22]

March 2022: Salazar voted against the Affordable Insulin Now Act that capped the price of insulin at $35.

Salazar Voted Against Capping The Price Of Insulin At $35. In March 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require private health insurance and Medicare to cover certain insulin products and limit cost-sharing requirements for such products for plans beginning in 2023. Specifically, it would require private insurance plans to cover at least one of each dosage form of each type of insulin, such as short-acting, long-acting and premixed insulin; prohibit the plans from applying a deductible for the insulin products; and cap cost-sharing for the insulin products at the lesser of $35 or 25 percent of the plan’s negotiated price for the product per 30-day supply. For Medicare plans, it would similarly prohibit the application of a deductible for covered insulin products and cap copayments at $35 per 30-day supply. The bill would also increase funding available for the Medicare Improvement Fund from $5 million to approximately $9 billion. As an offset, it would delay for an additional year, through Jan. 1, 2027, implementation of a November 2020 rule ending a safe harbor provision that protects pharmacy benefit managers from federal anti-kickback laws for prescription drug rebates provided to health insurers under Medicare Part D.” Passed by a vote of 232-193. [H.R. 6833, Vote #102, 3/31/22, CQ, 3/31/22]
• The Affordable Insulin Now Act Capped The Price Of Insulin At $35 Or 25% Of An Insurance Plan’s Negotiated Price, Whichever Was Lower. “The House of Representatives voted Thursday to approve legislation that would limit cost-sharing for insulin under private health insurance and Medicare. The vote was 232-193, with 12 Republican members joining their Democratic colleagues to pass the measure. The Affordable Insulin Now Act would cap insulin prices at either $35 a month or 25% of an insurance plan's negotiated price — whichever is lower. The legislation aims to take effect in 2023 but its fate in the Senate remains unclear.” [NPR, 3/31/22]

• Insulin Prices Doubled Between 2012 And 2016. “Advocates of the legislation point to data from the Health Care Cost Institute, an independent nonprofit that studies health care prices, which shows prices for insulin doubled between 2012 and 2016. ‘No one should have to choose between taking their medication as prescribed and putting food on the table or a roof over their head,’ said Rep. Dan Kildee, one of three Democratic lawmakers who sponsored the legislation.” [NPR, 3/31/22]

February 2022: Salazar voted against the America COMPETES Act, which would decrease inflation and increase the U.S.’s global economic competitiveness by bolstering supply chains and investing in domestic manufacturing.

Salazar Voted Against The America COMPETES Act, Aimed At Increasing The U.S.’s Global Competitiveness. In February 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, comprising a package of provisions related to scientific research and development and international competitiveness, including provisions to authorize more than $135 billion over five years for federal investment in scientific research and development programs; provide more than $52 billion in supplemental appropriations for the U.S. semiconductor industry; and require various actions related to U.S. technological competitiveness and foreign policy, particularly with regard to countering Chinese influence. Among provisions related to science and technology research and development, it would authorize $78 billion through fiscal 2026 for National Science Foundation activities, including $13.3 billion for a new NSF Directorate for Science and Engineering Solutions to support use-inspired research and development that addresses societal challenges such as climate change, global competitiveness in critical technologies, cybersecurity, national security, social and economic inequality, and education and workforce development in science and technology. It would authorize $50.2 billion through fiscal 2026 for Energy Department science activities, including research and development related to climate issues, alternative energy sources and quantum technologies. It would authorize $8 billion through fiscal 2026 for the National Institute of Standards and Technology and expand NIST functions to include information security and cybersecurity research and development activities. Among supply chain provisions, it would provide $52.7 billion through fiscal 2026 in supplemental appropriations to fund a program to incentivize research, development and workforce development related to the production of semiconductors, established by the fiscal 2021 defense authorization law. It would establish a Commerce Department office to lead federal efforts to strengthen supply chains and domestic manufacturing in critical industries, and it would authorize $45 billion through fiscal 2027 for grants and loans under the office. It would appropriate $1.5 billion through fiscal 2031 to support 5G wireless network development. Among foreign policy provisions, it would require the president and State Department to develop diplomatic engagement strategies to address global economic and security development, particularly with regard to countering Chinese influence and economic coercion. It would authorize more than $2 billion in bilateral and regional foreign assistance and $1.25 billion for diplomatic engagement in the Indo-Pacific region for fiscal 2022, as well as over $1 billion through fiscal 2026 for foreign military financing and security programs in the region. It would include various provisions related to global action on climate change, including to establish an interagency task force to monitor climate change in relation to national security risks and authorize $8 billion through fiscal 2023 for contributions to the U.N. Green Climate Fund. It would extend a wide range of duty reductions and suspensions; update certain trade policies to include standards related to environmental, labor, human rights and intellectual property protections; and establish a U.S. Trade Representative committee to review and potentially block overseas investments in foreign adversary nations that could impact U.S. critical capabilities. Among workforce and economic development provisions, the bill would reauthorize and expand the Labor Department national apprenticeship system; authorize several new or expanded NSF programs related to expanding science, technology, engineering and mathematics education, workforce development and participation of underrepresented groups in STEM; create a new class of nonimmigrant ‘W’ visas for entrepreneurs associated with U.S. start-up companies; and reauthorize and expand the Trade Adjustment Assistance program to support individuals and communities that have been adversely impacted by international trade.” The bill passed by a vote of 222-210. [H.R. 4521, Vote #31, 2/4/22; CQ, 2/4/22]

• The America COMPETES Act Authorized $45 Billion To Bolster The Supply Chain And Increase U.S. Manufacturing Of “Critical” Goods. “The House bill would provide $45 billion over six years in grants and loans to improve the nation’s supply chains and to boost American manufacturing of goods deemed critical for national security and the US economy -- like products for public health, communications technology and food -- according to a summary of the bill provided by House Democrats. Similar to the Senate bill, it would create a new initiative within the Department of Commerce to help promote the resiliency of the nation’s supply chains. The House bill would establish an office that would monitor supply chains, identify vulnerabilities and designate which products are critical. The agency would also be tasked with building up stockpiles to prevent shortages of goods in the event of a future supply chain shock.” [CNN, 2/4/22]

• The America COMPETES Act Invested $3 Billion In Solar Manufacturing To Reduce The U.S.’s Reliance On China. “The House legislation would set aside billions of dollars to bolster research and manufacturing. [...] It would set aside another $3 billion for the nation’s solar manufacturing supply chain, aiming to reduce the country’s reliance on China for parts.” [CNN, 2/4/22]

• The America COMPETES Act Invested $52 Billion In Domestic Manufacturing And Research Of Semiconductors To Decrease The U.S.’s Technological Dependence On Asia. “The House voted Friday to pass the America COMPETES Act, a bill that aims to increase U.S. competitiveness with China and to address the country’s shortage of semiconductors by strengthening the country’s supply chain. [...] The bill includes $52 billion to support domestic manufacturing and research of semiconductors, the chips that are used in electronic devices and have faced shortages throughout the pandemic, contributing to delays and increased costs. The incentives for semiconductor production come as the U.S. has increasingly relied on imports for computer chips. Twelve percent of the world's chips are made in the U.S., down from 37% in the 1990s, according to industry officials. About 80% are made in Asia.” [USA Today, 2/4/22]

- The America COMPETES Act Funded An Aid Program For Workers Impacted By Increased Imports And Invested In STEM Education Programs. “The measure, known as the America COMPETES Act, passed 222-210 in a near-party-line vote. [...] The legislation would also fund a government program to aid workers who lost jobs or saw their pay cut as a result of increased imports, as well as boost funds for the National Science Foundation and STEM education programs.” [New York Post, 2/4/22]

- The American COMPETES Act Provided “More Than $1 Billion Toward Increasing Diversity” In Science And Technology To Increase STEM Employment. “Congress is aiming to reshape America’s workforce through new legislation that would direct more than $1 billion toward increasing diversity of the scientists, researchers and technologists who drive the innovation economy. The measure includes $900 million for grants and partnerships with historically Black colleges and universities, $164 million to study barriers for people of color in the field and $17.5 million to combat sexual harassment. They’re part of a expansive package of bills known as the America Competes Act, which lawmakers hope will ensure the United States continues to lead the global economy. [...] A report from the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine estimated the United States will need 1 million more people employed in those sectors over the next decade than it is currently on track to produce. The group said the country will not reach that goal without substantially increasing diversity in the labor force.” [CNBC, 2/4/22]

- The America COMPETES Act Included Provisions To Hold China Accountable For Human Rights Violations. “The legislation includes provisions to strengthen US relations with Taiwan, new sanctions for officials in Xinjiang accused of ‘systematic rape, coercive abortion, forced sterilisation, or involuntary contraceptive implantation policies and practices’ and an authorisation for millions of dollars in funding to counter Chinese government censorship and disinformation. [...] Advocacy groups supporting human rights in Xinjiang and Hong Kong applauded the bill. The Washington-based Hong Kong Democracy Council said it was ‘elated’, and the non-profit Uyghur Human Rights Project said it was ‘encouraged that Congress continues to put rhetoric into action’. ‘We are particularly encouraged by provisions meant to provide safe haven for Uyghurs fleeing atrocities, and to tighten scrutiny on Chinese companies complicit in these abuses,’ said Uyghur Human Rights Project executive director Omer Kanat.” [South China Morning Post, 2/4/22]

- The America COMPETES Act Included Provisions To “Offset China’s Market-Distorting Trade Practices.” “The U.S. House of Representatives on Friday narrowly passed a multibillion-dollar bill aimed at increasing American competitiveness with China and boosting U.S. semiconductor manufacturing, despite Republican opposition. [...] It includes changes to U.S. trade rules intended to offset China's market-distorting trade practices, including by strengthening anti-dumping rules.” [Reuters, 2/4/22]
• The American COMPETES Act Authorized $10 Billion To Help Developing Countries Address Climate Change. “The bill also authorizes $8.8 billion this year for Energy Department research and development programs, with that amount increasing each year through fiscal 2026. And it authorizes as much as $8 billion to help developing countries address climate change over the next two years and another $2 billion annually to help developing countries deploy clean energy technologies, expand zero-emission vehicles, promote sustainable land use, and adapt to the effects of climate change.” [Bloomberg, 2/4/22]

National Association Of Manufacturers: The America COMPETES Act Would “Help Address Inflation And Alleviate Supply Chain Challenges We’re Facing Today.” “The introduction of the America COMPETES Act, which includes many components of the overwhelmingly bipartisan U.S. Innovation and Competition Act, is a major step forward, and lawmakers can feel confident that supporting this bill means supporting the future of manufacturing in America. Not only would its provisions help address inflation and alleviate supply chain challenges we’re facing today, but the bill provides significant investment in U.S. semiconductor manufacturing, which would also help us avert future crises. This bill also includes funding for a Supply Chain Resilience and Crisis Response Office at the Department of Commerce. I’ve discussed the programs that this office would oversee with Secretary Raimondo, and manufacturers strongly back these initiatives, which would include game-changing grants, loans and loan guarantees.” [National Association of Manufacturers, Press Release, 1/26/22]

Campaign Promises

During her 2018 campaign, Salazar pledged to “work hard” at “investing and improving our infrastructure,” including roads and public transportation.

Salazar Supported Investing In Roads, Public Transportation, And Traffic Flow To Support Business And Tourism In South Florida. “I will also work hard to attract investments to South Florida, including strengthening the industries that drive our dynamic economy – particularly tourism, business, and international trade – by investing and improving our infrastructure—roads, public transportation, and traffic flow.” [Salazar Campaign Website, Issues, archived 10/5/18]

Salazar said Miami deserved a “first-rate public transportation system” like Boston and Chicago.

Salazar Said Miami Deserved A “First-Rate Public Transportation System” Like Boston And Chicago. Salazar tweeted, “It is shameful and intolerable that our commute to work takes almost an hour and a half – every single day! If Boston and Chicago can have a first-rate public transportation system, why can’t Miami? We can and must do better! #Vote37 #MariaElviraSalazar #TeamMariaElvira #FL27” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 8/14/18]

2018: Salazar: “Politics as usual, poor planning, and coordination has cost South Florida millions in federal dollars that are badly needed to solve the ...transportation crisis”
2018: Salazar: “Politics As Usual, Poor Planning, And Coordination Has Cost South Florida Millions In Federal Dollars That Are Badly Needed To Solve The Traffic And Transportation Crisis.” “This lack of coordination and cooperation between local, state, and federal authorities has – for decades – made it impossible to develop a coherent and practical plan to expand and improve our highways, roads, and public transportation systems (Metrorail in particular). Politics as usual, poor planning, and coordination has cost South Florida millions in federal dollars that are badly needed to solve the traffic and transportation crisis that affects all of us. It is shameful and intolerable that your commute to work will take almost an hour and half each way – every day! And all because we have failed to present a united front in Washington that could make a strong case for why South Florida badly needs and deserves federal transportation dollars.” [MariaElvira.com, accessed 9/3/18]

Infrastructure Bill

November 2021: Salazar voted against the Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill that provided billions in new infrastructure funding, including for roads and public transportation.

Salazar Voted Against The Infrastructure Investment And Jobs Act, Providing $550 Billion In New Infrastructure Spending. In November 2021 Salazar voted against: “DeFazio, D-Ore., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill that would provide approximately $550 billion in new infrastructure spending, including for surface transportation, broadband, water and energy infrastructure. In supplemental appropriations and increased contract authority, the bill would provide $110 billion for roads, bridges and major surface transportation projects, including $47.3 billion for highway infrastructure and $40 billion for bridge construction and repair; $66 billion for rail, including $58 billion for Amtrak; and $39 billion for transit, including $5.3 billion for zero- and low-emission transit buses and $2 billion for accessibility improvements. It would provide $25 billion for airports and approximately $17 billion for ports and waterways, including $3.4 billion to modernize land ports of entry and $2.25 billion for water port upgrades, including resilience and electrification projects. It would provide approximately $11 billion for various transportation safety and research programs. It would provide $7.5 billion for electric vehicle charging infrastructure and $5 billion for zero- and low-emission school bus programs. It would establish requirements for many new and existing surface transportation programs to consider the environmental and equity impacts of funded activities and authorize a range of transportation programs related to emissions reduction and climate change resilience. It would provide $1 billion for activities to reconnect neighborhoods by removing or remediating the effects of transportation infrastructure construction in disadvantaged and underserved communities. The bill would provide approximately $65 billion for broadband, including $42.5 billion for grants to states to increase access in unserved areas and $14.2 billion to extend a program initially authorized in response to the coronavirus pandemic that provides stipends to help low-income families pay for internet services. It would provide approximately $62 billion for the Energy Department, including $21.5 billion for clean energy demonstration projects, $16.3 billion for energy efficiency and renewable energy programs, $8 billion for power grid resilience and other electricity projects, and $7.5 billion for fossil energy and carbon management. It would authorize or expand several programs to incentivize clean energy manufacturing, development and adoption. It would provide approximately $55 billion for water infrastructure and safety, including $30.7 billion for the Drinking Water State Revolving Fund, including $15 billion to replace lead service lines and $4 billion to address per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances and other emerging contaminants; and $12.7 billion for the Clean Water State Revolving Fund. Across various departments, the bill would provide funding for climate change response and environmental remediation, including: $11.3 billion for abandoned mine land and water reclamation projects, approximately $5.75 billion for wildfire management, $3.5 billion for the EPA hazardous substance superfund and $3.5 billion for FEMA flood mitigation. It would also provide more than $1.7 billion for cybersecurity resilience programs. The bill would include a number of provisions intended to offset spending, including by rescinding certain unobligated COVID-19 relief funding and establishing tax reporting requirements for cryptocurrency and other digital assets.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 228-206. [H.R. 3684, Vote #Vote #369, 11/5/21; CQ, 11/5/21]

- White House Projected The $1 Trillion Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Add About 2 Million Jobs Per Year For A Decade. “The $1 trillion infrastructure plan that now goes to President Joe Biden to sign into law has money for roads, bridges, ports, rail transit, safe water, the power grid, broadband internet and more […] The new law promises to reach almost every corner of the country. It’s a historic investment that the president has compared to the building of the transcontinental railroad and Interstate Highway System. The White House is projecting that the investments will add, on average, about 2 million jobs per year over the coming decade.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

- CNN: Experts Agreed The Infrastructure Spending Was “Sorely Needed To Ensure Safe Travel” And “Efficient Transport Of Goods And Produce.” “Congress passed a $1.2 trillion infrastructure package Friday, approving a signature part of President Joe Biden's economic agenda. It will deliver $550 billion of new federal investments in America's infrastructure over five years, touching everything from bridges and roads to the nation’s broadband, water and energy systems. Experts say the money is sorely needed to ensure safe travel, as well as the efficient transport of goods and produce across the country. The nation's infrastructure system earned a C- score from the American Society of Civil Engineers earlier this year.” [CNN, 11/5/21]

- Washington Post: Infrastructure Spending Included $16 Billion For ‘Major Projects That Are Too Large Or Complex For Traditional Funding Programs.’ “The $1.2 trillion infrastructure bill adopted late Friday creates a multibillion-dollar fund to spur the type of complicated, ambitious projects that have been stymied by decades of tentative investment and inattention from Washington. Modern-day equivalents of megaprojects like the Hoover Dam can benefit broad swaths of the United States, but infrastructure experts say they have often stagnated. […] Among the projects that could see a boost: the Gateway rail project, a vast plan to expand capacity for train traffic between New York and New Jersey; and a long-delayed effort to replace the outmoded Brent Spence Bridge connecting Kentucky and Ohio, which is one of the nation’s worst bottlenecks. […] The infrastructure bill includes about $16 billion for 'major projects that are too large or complex for traditional funding programs,' but that have big economic benefits, according to the White House.” [Washington Post, 11/6/21]

- Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Provide $110 Billion For Repairs To Highways, Bridges, And Roads. “The bill would provide $110 billion to repair the nation’s aging highways, bridges and roads. According to the White House, 173,000 total miles or nearly 280,000 kilometers of America’s highways and major roads and 45,000 bridges are in poor condition. And the almost $40 billion for bridges is the single largest dedicated bridge investment since the construction of the national highway system, according to the Biden administration.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

• Axios: The Infrastructure Bill Included $65 Billion For “Building High-Speed Internet Networks, Helping Low-Income Families Pay For Service And Digital Equity Programs.” “The infrastructure bill heading to President Biden’s desk includes $65 billion to improve high-speed internet access and affordability. [...] By the numbers: The funding is aimed towards building high-speed internet networks, helping low-income families pay for service and digital equity programs. $42.45 billion in grants to states for broadband projects, which can range from network deployment to data collection to help determine areas that lack service. $14.2 billion to provide a $30-a-month voucher to low-income Americans to pay for internet service. It will replace the current $50-a-month Emergency Broadband Benefit program, offering less money monthly, but increasing the number of those eligible. $2.75 billion for digital inclusion and equity projects, such as improving digital literacy or online skills for seniors. $2 billion each for a rural broadband construction program called ReConnect, run by USDA, and to the Tribal Broadband Connectivity Program run by the Commerce Department’s National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA). $1 billion to build so-called 'middle mile' infrastructure to connect local providers to larger internet access points. $600 million for private activity bonds to finance broadband deployment projects in rural areas.” [Axios, 11/8/21]

• The Infrastructure Bill Included $1.75 Billion To Increase The Accessibility Of Transit Systems. “A $1.75 billion fund in the infrastructure package will aim to guarantee that transit stations are accessible, decades after campaigns by disability rights activists to demand lifts on buses helped to spur passage of the Americans With Disabilities Act. Almost a fifth of transit stations were not fully accessible in 2019, according to the most recent Federal Transit Administration data. [...] The bill also includes language about Amtrak, requiring that a person with disabilities be appointed to the railroad’s board and mandating spending on accessibility, which Duckworth said helped show that accessibility was a national issue and not only an urban concern. About 25 million people in the United States report having a disability that limits their transportation options, and the Labor Department attributes lower rates of employment among people with disabilities, in part, to those obstacles. People with disabilities are almost twice as likely as others to use public transit to get around, according to the Transportation Department.” [Washington Post, 11/6/21]

• Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $44 Billion On Water And Wastewater Infrastructure, Including $15 Billion To Replace Lead Pipes And $10 Billion To Address PFAS Water Contamination. “The legislation would spend $55 billion on water and wastewater infrastructure. It has $15 billion to replace lead pipes and $10 billion to address water contamination from polyfluoroalkyl substances — chemicals that were used in the production of Teflon and have also been used in firefighting foam, water-repellent clothing and many other items.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

have become more frequent in recent years, the bill would spend $65 billion to improve the reliability and resiliency of the power grid. It would also boost carbon capture technologies and more environmentally friendly electricity sources like clean hydrogen.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

- Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $7.5 Billion In Electrical Vehicle Charging Stations And $5 Billion In Electric And Hybrid School Buses. “The bill would spend $7.5 billion for electric vehicle charging stations, which the administration says are critical to accelerating the use of electric vehicles to curb climate change. It would also provide $5 billion for the purchase of electric school buses and hybrids, reducing reliance on school buses that run on diesel fuel.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

- Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $66 Billion In Amtrak, The Largest Federal Investment In The Service Since Its Founding. “To reduce Amtrak’s maintenance backlog, which has worsened since Superstorm Sandy nine years ago, the bill would provide $66 billion to improve the rail service’s Northeast Corridor (457 miles, 735 km), as well as other routes. It’s less than the $80 billion Biden — who famously rode Amtrak from Delaware to Washington during his time in the Senate — originally asked for, but it would be the largest federal investment in passenger rail service since Amtrak was founded 50 years ago.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

- Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $25 Billion In Airport Improvements. “The bill would spend $25 billion to improve runways, gates and taxiways at airports and to improve terminals. It would also improve aging air traffic control towers.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

- Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Be Funded Through Unspent Pandemic Relief, Unused Federal Unemployment Insurance, And An “Array Of Smaller Pots Of Money.” “The five-year spending package would be paid for by tapping $210 billion in unspent COVID-19 relief aid and $53 billion in unemployment insurance aid some states have halted, along with an array of smaller pots of money, like petroleum reserve sales and spectrum auctions for 5G services.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

Florida received billions in funding to improve highways, public transit, drinking water infrastructure, and airports through the Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill.

Headline: “Billions Of Dollars Coming To Florida Once Biden’s Infrastructure Bill Becomes Law.” [Miami Herald, 11/9/21]

The Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill Provided $13.1 Billion To Rebuild And Modernize Florida’s Highways. “In Florida, the White House estimates that $13.1 billion would be spent to rebuild and modernize Florida's highways with an additional $245 million for bridge replacement and repairs. The White House cited data from the American Society of Civil Engineers that said 3,584 miles of highway and 408 bridges in Florida are in poor condition.” [Miami Herald, 11/9/21]

The Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill Provided $2.6 Billion To Improve Public Transit In Florida. “The White House also said Florida expects to receive $2.6 billion over five years to improve public transit.
And the state would get $198 million over five years to expand an electric vehicle charging network, with an opportunity to apply for $2.5 billion more in grants to further expand EV charging stations.” [Miami Herald, 11/9/21]

The Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill Provided $1.6 Billion To Improve Florida’s Drinking Water Infrastructure. “The state will receive $1.6 billion over five years to improve drinking water infrastructure, $26 million to protect against wildfires, $29 million to protect against cyberattacks and $1.2 billion for airports.” [Miami Herald, 11/9/21]

The Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill Provided $1.2 Billion To Improve Florida’s Airports. “The state will receive $1.6 billion over five years to improve drinking water infrastructure, $26 million to protect against wildfires, $29 million to protect against cyberattacks and $1.2 billion for airports.” [Miami Herald, 11/9/21]

The Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill Provided $100 Million To Expand Broadband Internet Coverage Across Florida. “Florida would get $100 million to expand broadband internet coverage across the state, which the White House says would give internet access to more than 700,000 Floridians who currently do not have it. An additional 6.5 million Floridians, or anyone with an income at or below 200% of the federal poverty line (about $25,500 for an individual in 2021), would be eligible for a $30 a month internet subsidy under the bill.” [Miami Herald, 11/9/21]

Salazar said she voted against the legislation because it was a “tradeoff between infrastructure and socialism” and said parts of the bill were “very questionable.”

2021: Salazar Voted Against The Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill Because She Said It Was A “Tradeoff Between Infrastructure And Socialism.” “SALAZAR: And, indeed, they are going to transform the United States. And that founding spirit that created the United States is going to be shot. And that is the reason why I voted against this bill, because there has been a tradeoff between infrastructure and socialism. And I cannot allow that.” [CNN with CHRISTIANE AMANPOUR, 11/08/21]

2021: Salazar Said Only Part Of The Bill Is Traditional Infrastructure, The Rest Is “Very Questionable.” “SALAZAR: Number two, even more importantly, that bill, half of the bill, or 25 percent, I should say, is going to be paid by the debt, is not covered. Number three, half of the bill is only going -- only half of the bill is going to what you and I know as traditional infrastructure. The rest is very questionable.” [CNN with CHRISTIANE AMANPOUR, 11/08/21]

Local Projects

Salazar claimed she secure millions of dollars for infrastructure projects in her district.

2022: Salazar Claimed She Submitted A $1.4 Million Infrastructure Request To The House Transportation Committee And A Request For Expansion Of The University Of Miami Campus. “Since coming to Congress, Rep. Salazar has worked on several projects directly benefitting the City of Coral Gables. In 2021, she submitted a $1.4 million infrastructure project request to the House Committee on Transportation and Infrastructure for the city to purchase new trolleys. This year, she submitted a $900,000 Community Funding Project Request for the University of Miami's expansion of its aquaculture campus” [Office of Maria Salazar, 6/1/2022]

2022: Salazar Secured Over $7 Million In Funding For Mt. Sinai Medical Hospital. “$7.65 million to Mt. Sinai Medical Hospital. As the sole hospital provider during disasters for vulnerable populations without options, Mount Sinai fulfills an essential emergency healthcare function for the city, state, and federal governments. Mount Sinai Medical Center has developed a Resiliency Master Plan that will protect campus facilities and mitigate damage from storm surge, seawater intrusion, windstorm damage, and flooding. The requested funds for this project would go towards resiliency improvements that the center needs to continue to safely serve its 10,000,000+ annual visitors and protect the lives of patients, hospital staff, and local residents in times of severe weather emergencies.” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 3/18/2022]

2022: Salazar Secured Half A Million For FIU. “$500,000 to FIU's Startup Tech and Food Business Hub. StartUP FIU is a university-wide initiative that fosters innovation and entrepreneurship for its students, faculty, alumni, and for the greater community of Miami. This project proposes to partner with community and local governmental organizations in Florida's 27th District to develop a Startup FIU Technology and Food Business Hub that would create over 500 jobs. The proposed grant would be used to help students partner directly with companies to enhance their skills in digital marketing, social media, website development, e-commerce, design thinking, sales, finance, entrepreneurship, and data analytics.” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 3/18/2022]

2022: Salazar Secured $3 Million For Miami Water Projects. “$3 million to West Miami’s Potable Water Main Improvements Project. The City of West Miami’s existing potable water system is comprised largely of 4"-8" cast-iron mains constructed over 50 years ago and is unsuitable to serve the existing population of the City. The outdated system suffers from leakage, intermittent failures, and ruptures causing disruptions in service, damage to infrastructure, and potential contamination. This project will help the City replace its aged and outdated water infrastructure.” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 3/18/2022]

2022: Salazar Secured Over $1 Million For The Frost Museum. “$1.15 million for Frost Museum’s National Center for Education and Conservation of Florida's Coral Reefs. This project will create a new community-focused coral nursery and education center at the Frost Museum of Science, which would allow for research, education, and conservation work to save Florida's coral reefs. The proposed center would provide unique opportunities for continuous education, research and dissemination, and active field conservation of Florida's coral reefs, while connecting people to marine science, STEM-based education, biodiversity, and restoration.” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 3/18/2022]

2022: Salzar Secured Over 600k For A Stormwater Project. “$606,000 for Pinecrest's Stormwater Management Project. The Stormwater Management Project focuses on much-needed infrastructure improvements to reduce flooding and more effectively manage stormwater. The proposed project is located in an area that has suffered repetitive flooding over the years, and this project would dramatically reduce the risk of floods in the future.” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 3/18/2022]
2022: Salazar Secured 500k For Key Biscayne K-8 Schools. “$500,000 to Key Biscayne’s K-8 Center Elementary School Stormwater Improvements. This project will provide a safer, more quality educational environment for school-aged children at Key Biscayne’s K-8 Elementary and Middle School by reducing the excessive flooding experienced in and around the school. In addition to addressing flooding at the school, this would also help reduce the high amount of pollutants discharged into Biscayne Bay.” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 3/18/2022]

2022: Salazar Secured Over $1 Million For A Local Water Pump. “$1.6 million to West Grove Biscayne Bay Water Pump. This pump will support the conversion of parcels served by septic systems to the sanitary sewer system to reduce the risk of nutrients being transported to the groundwater aquifer (Biscayne Aquifer), canals, and ultimately Biscayne Bay. This will help prevent sewage backups into homes and potential exposure of residents to floodwaters that may be contaminated with sewage. It is expected to provide a safe and reliable sewer service that will perform better in a coastal community subject to the impacts of rising groundwater” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 3/18/2022]

Internet

Access

In August 2021, Salazar introduced legislation directing the US Air Force to deploy technology capable of delivering wireless internet anywhere on the planet from the stratosphere or higher.

August 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation Directing The US Air Force To Deploy Technology Capable Of Delivering Wireless Internet Anywhere On The Planet From The Stratosphere Or Higher. In August 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 5123, the American Freedom and Internet Access Act of 2021. The bill would the US Air Force to “develop and begin implementation of “Operation Starfall”, a strategic plan to deploy stratospheric balloons, aerostats, or satellite technology capable of rapidly delivering wireless internet anywhere on the planet from the stratosphere or higher.” The bill is cosponsored by 16 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Armed Services, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 5123, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 8/31/21]

target geographic territory. At home, Operation Starfall would be deployable across the United States in the wake of floods, hurricanes, or wildfire devastation when local communications infrastructure is disabled.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 8/31/21]

[VIDEO] July 2022: Salazar: “Biden Is Negotiating With The Number One Enemy.” In July 2022, Salazar shared a video to Twitter in which she said the following in Spanish: “While President Biden is visiting Israel, he is also negotiating with Iran, which is the 'number one' enemy of Israel and the Middle East because they are the greatest sponsor of terrorism globally... He wants to appease them by giving them $140B.” [Twitter, Maria Elvira Salazar, 07/13/22, 0:05/1:09]

[VIDEO] March 2016: Salazar: “The Political Ideology Of ISIS Is Based On The Quran.” In a televised segment during her journalistic career, Salazar equated ISIS to all Islam, and hosted a preacher to teach the ways of Christianity, stating in Spanish that ISIS based its political ideologies on the Quran, the sacred book of Muslims, and the teachings of the Prophet Muhamad, then introduced guest Father Alberto, “to remind us that in this time, Christian teachings are the only things that matter.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 12/30/14, 0:22/13:40]

Israel And Anti-Semitism

Anti-Semitism

Salazar repeatedly called Ilhan Omar, Rashia Tlaib, and the “far-left” anti-Semitic for their positions on Israel and Palestine.

November 2021: Salazar Tweeted About Anti-Semitism “From The Far Left Wing Of Congress.” “Antisemitism is rising across the world, from the far left wing of Congress to the violence of Hamas. Yesterday's terrorist attack in Jerusalem isn't political activism; it's not human rights; it's a continuation of violence against the Jewish people by emboldened extremists.” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 11/22/21]

September 2021: Salazar Called Rashia Tlaib Anti-Semitic For Describing Israel As An Apartheid-State. “Rashida Tlaib’s anti-semitic comments against Israel are blatant and dangerous lies. This is false propaganda coming from a congresswoman on the floor of the House of Representatives. The majority stands with Israel. Those that don’t are a small minority and need to be weeded out” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 9/23/21]

June 2021: Salazar Called For Pelosi To Remove Ilhan Omar From Her Committee Assignments Because Of Omar’s “Antisemitic Hatred,” And Called Omar “A Spokesperson For Hamas And The Taliban.”

Speaker Pelosi must remove Ilhan Omar from the House Foreign Affairs Committee  https://secure.winred.com/salazar/omar-pelosi-antisemitism-petition” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 6/18/21]

After tweeting in English that the media was guilty of dealing in “anti-Semitic canards,” Salazar tweeted in Spanish her own quintessential anti-Semitic canard about George Soros, claiming he was in the “shadow” of wanting to “silence conservative voices.” The Anti-Defamation League considers conspiracy theories about George Soros and the media to be “well-known anti-Semitic tropes.”

May 2021: Salazar Tweeted About The Media Using “Anti-Semitic Canards” To Discuss Rockets Fired Into Israel From Palestine. “I am deeply disturbed by media outlets hurling anti-Semitic canards and peddling anti-Semitic hate during these times of crisis. #Israel is under assault by Hamas terrorists who are targeting innocents & the #US must stand with the Israeli people!” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 5/11/21]

Salazar Tweeted That “Investors In The Shadow Of George Soros” Want To “Silence Conservative Voices In The Hispanic Media.” Salazar tweeted, “Radio Mambí has always opened its microphones to the truth. Now this freedom is threatened by investors in the shadow of George Soros. The radical left wants to silence conservative voices in the Hispanic media and they started with Radio Mambí. How worrying!” [Twitter, Maria Elvira Salazar, 6/07/22]

• Spanish version: “Radio Mambí siempre ha abierto sus micrófonos a la verdad. Ahora esta libertad está amenazada por inversionistas bajo la sombra de George Soros. La izquierda radical quiere silenciar las voces conservadoras en los medios hispanos y comenzaron con Radio Mambí. ¡Qué preocupante!

[VIDEO] June 2022: Salazar: “Let’s Talk About Radio Mambi’s Sale To A Soros Group.” In a Spanish video on her Instagram, Salazar stated “Let’s talk about the sale of Radio Mambi to the [George] Soros group, because it is extremely dangerous and questionable.” [Instagram, Maria Elvira Salazar, 06/12/22, 0:02/1:29]

• Spanish Version: “Quiero volver a comentarles sobre la venta de Radio Mambí a el grupo de Soros, lo cuál es muy peligroso y muy sospechoso.”

The Anti-Defamation League Considers Conspiracy Theories About George Soros And The Media To Be “Well-Worn Antisemitic Tropes.” “But it’s been equally troubling to see claims of Soros-driven conspiracies move into the mainstream. Even if unintentional, politicians and pundits repeating these unsubstantiated conspiracies essentially validate the same hateful myths propagated by antisemites. A person who promotes a Soros conspiracy theory may not intend to promulgate antisemitism. But Soros’ Jewish identity is so well-known that in many cases it is hard not to infer that meaning. This is especially true when Soros-related conspiracy theories include other well-worn antisemitic tropes such as control of the media or banks; references to undermining societies or destabilizing countries; or language that hearkens back to the medieval blood libels and the characterization of Jews as evil, demonic, or agents of the antichrist.” [Anti-Defamation League, 10/11/18]

2022: Salazar Joined Many Florida GOP Elected Officials In An Orchestrated Attack About The Sale Of Radio Mambi To What Salazar Calls “Left-Wing Investors.” “For years, an increasingly radical left has sought to silence conservative Hispanic voices in South Florida. Regrettably, the purchase of Radio Mambi by left-wing investors seems to be part of a long-term plan. Radio Mambi became a legendary home for anti-communist voices in South Florida because it was one of the few places where those who value freedom of thought could speak their minds and argue against socialist tyranny in our hemisphere. We are concerned that this purchase of Radio Mambi is a thinly veiled attempt to stifle voices inconvenient to progressive liberals. If true, it will be yet another attempt by the left to erode first amendment rights and a free marketplace of ideas[…] If this is an attempt by the left to sell Hispanics on their woke ideology and culture wars, then we predict this venture is doomed to fail the way Air America did. Hispanics are much smarter than that.” [Office of Congresswoman Marisa Salazar, 6/7/2022]

Salazar has also outrageously tied socialism to anti-Semitism. She claimed all socialists are “anti-Jew” and even once said, “When you say socialism, you are talking about anti-Semitism in the same phrase.”

[VIDEO] 2021: Salazar: “Everyone That Is A Socialist Or A Communist Is Anti-Jew.” “Domenech then interviewed Rep. Maria Salazar (R-FL), who proceeded to make the strange claim that upswing in anti-Semitic incidents is happening because of socialism and communism. She continued, We have an immense problem in this country with this democratic socialism that some people within the Democratic Party are peddling to our youth. There is funding that goes to finance--to prioritize financing. The Development Finance Corporation has uses and stimulates private lending, but there is also additional forms of financing. SALAZAR: How much is that? Don’t you think that a piece of the four billion should be going to incentivize the American companies to come to Central America and absorb that labor force? Equality Act

February 2021: Salazar voted against the Equality Act which prohibited discrimination based on sex, sexual orientation and gender identity.

Salazar Voted Against Passage Of The Equality Act, Which Would Prohibit Discrimination Or Segregation Based On Sex, Sexual Orientation And Gender Identity. In February 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would prohibit discrimination or segregation based on sex, sexual orientation and gender identity under 1964 Civil Rights Act protections, including in public facilities, public education, federal assistance programs, employment, jury service and areas of public accommodation. It would expand the definition of 'public accommodations' to include transportation services and any establishment providing a good, service or program -- including retailers, health care facilities and legal services. The bill would define ‘gender identity’ as ‘gender-related identity, appearance, mannerisms or other gender-related characteristics of an individual,’ regardless of designated sex at birth. It would also allow the Justice Department to intervene in equal protection cases regarding sexual orientation and gender identity.” The bill passed 224-206. [HR 5, Vote #Vote #39, 2/25/21; CQ, 2/25/21]

Opposed Build Back Better

Salazar voted against the Build Back Better Act, which would lower the cost of prescription drugs and expand Medicare to include dental, vision, and hearing benefits.

November 2021: Salazar Voted Against The Build Back Better Act. In November 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program's debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-213. [HR 5376, Vote #Vote #385, 11/19/21; CQ, 11/19/21]

- Roosevelt Institute: Build Back Better Act Would Invest In Child Care, Creating Jobs And Allowing Parents To Get Back To Work. “Convenient, affordable childcare is a major obstacle for working parents, illuminated even more so by school and daycare closures during the COVID-19 pandemic, which has disproportionately impacted women’s labor force participation. Increasing the capacity of industries in order to curb inflation of specific prices requires increasing the supply of labor. The Build Back Better Act invests in existing and new childcare facilities in underserved areas and provides subsidies to make childcare more affordable for qualifying households. Together, these investments would increase the supply of childcare, create new jobs, and allow parents to get back to work. [Roosevelt Institute, Fact Sheet, 9/28/21]

- Center For American Progress: Build Back Better Act Would Invest In Clean Electricity And Energy Efficiency, Reducing Energy Costs By $500 Per Year For The Average Household. “Build Back Better helps break the United States’ dependence on fossil fuels—an industry that’s particularly vulnerable to extreme weather, which has and will continue to be exacerbated by climate change—consumer energy costs will be reduced. Specifically, proposed investments in clean electricity and energy efficiency will make energy costs more affordable, saving the average household approximately $500 a year in reduced energy costs. This much-needed investment in clean energy would come at a time when energy prices have pushed up inflation for consecutive months.” [Center for American Progress, 11/16/21]

- The Build Back Better Deal Lowered Drug Prices For Seniors By Reducing Co-Pays And Establishing A $2,000 Out-Of-Pocket Limit in Medicare Part D. “Pelosi celebrated the drug-pricing agreement: ‘For a generation, House Democrats have been fighting to deliver real drug price negotiations that will lower costs. With today’s agreement on strong lower drug price provisions for the Build Back Better Act, Democrats have a path forward to make good on this transformational agenda for our seniors.’ She said the deal will lower drug prices for seniors, reduce their out-of-pocket co-pays and establish a $2,000 out-of-pocket limit for seniors’ expenses in Medicare Part D. The bill would also halt price hikes above inflation, which would affect all Americans, she said.” [NBC News, 11/2/21]

Salazar called the legislation “communism” and added, “nothing is free.”

Salazar Called Democrats’ Build Back Better Reconciliation Bill “Communism” And Said, “Nothing Is Free.” Said Nothing Is “‘It is not conciliation, it is communism that the budget plan hides,’ he considers. The Democrats’ claim that the money from the ambitious social spending plan will be paid by the rich ‘is the story of the Good Pipe,’ said the Republican congresswoman. ‘Nothing is free. First you have to produce something, then distribute its fruits. Who’s going to pay for it? Who is going to produce it so that it can be distributed to the needy classes?’” she wondered.” [Diario Las Americas, 12/04/21]

- Spanish Version: “‘No es conciliación, es comunismo lo que oculta el plan presupuestario,’ considera. La afirmación de los demócratas de que el dinero del ambicioso plan de gasto social lo pagarán los ricos ‘es el cuento de la Buena Pipa,’ sostuvo la congresista republicana. ‘No hay nada gratis. Primero hay que producir algo, para después distribuir sus frutos. ¿Quién lo va a pagar? ¿Quién lo va a producir para poderlo distribuir a las clases necesitadas?,’ se preguntó.”

Salazar Claimed The Reconciliation Bill “Discourages The Average American” From Working Because She Claims It’s Better To Stay At Home And Receive Government Assistance Than Work. Salazar said “The number of social programs included in the law discourages the average American. People are calculating that it is better to stay at home and receive the help that the government sends instead of going to work. We are already seeing the result. Right now, there are ten million jobs available and there are 8 million people unemployed. We see how it affects the distribution chain in the ports of California, where there are ships loaded with containers that cannot find stevedores to unload them, nor truck drivers to move the merchandise. That's why this Thanksgiving was the most expensive in history." [Diario Las Americas, 12/04/21]

- Spanish Version: “Salazar considera que, de aprobarse el paquete legislativo, se le estaría enviando el mensaje erróneo al público. “La cantidad de programas sociales que incluye la ley desmotiva al estadounidense promedio. La gente está calculando que es mejor quedarse en casa y recibir la ayuda que envía el gobierno en lugar de ir a trabajar. El resultado ya lo estamos viendo. Ahora mismo, hay diez millones de empleos disponibles y hay 8 millones de personas desempleadas. Vemos cómo repercute en la cadena de distribución en los puertos de California, donde hay barcos cargados de contenedores que no encuentran estibadores para descargarlos, ni camioneros para trasladar las mercancías. Es por eso por lo que este Día de Acción de Gracias fue el más caro de la historia.”

The Build Back Better Act included several provisions that would lower prescription drug costs for people with Medicare and private insurance, including by allowing the government to negotiate prices.

The Build Back Better Act’s Drug Pricing Provisions Would Reduce The Federal Deficit By $297 Billion. “On November 19, 2021, the House of Representatives passed H.R. 5376, the Build Back Better Act (BBBA), which includes a broad package of health, social, and environmental proposals supported by President Biden. The BBBA includes several provisions that would lower prescription drug costs for people with Medicare and private insurance and reduce drug spending by the federal government and private payers. These proposals have taken shape amidst strong bipartisan, public support for the government to address high and rising drug prices. CBO estimates that the drug pricing provisions in the BBBA would reduce the federal deficit by $297 billion over 10 years (2022-2031).” [Kaiser Family Foundation, 11/23/21]

The Build Back Better Act Would Allow the Federal Government to Negotiate Prices for Some High-Cost Drugs Covered Under Medicare Part B And Part D. “The BBBA would amend the non-interference clause by adding an exception that would allow the federal government to negotiate prices with drug companies for a small number of high-cost drugs covered under Medicare Part D (starting in 2025) and Part B (starting in 2027). The negotiation process would apply to no more than 10 (in 2025), 15 (in 2026 and 2027), and 20 (in 2028 and later years) single-source brand-name drugs or biologics that lack generic or biosimilar competitors. These drugs would be selected from among the 50 drugs with the highest total Medicare Part D spending and the 50 drugs with the highest total Medicare Part B spending. The negotiation process would also apply to all insulin products.” [Kaiser Family Foundation, 11/23/21]

The Build Back Better Act Would Require Inflation Rebates To Limit Annual Increases In Drug Prices In Medicare And Private Insurance. “The BBBA would require drug manufacturers to pay a rebate to the federal government if their prices for single-source drugs and biologicals covered under Medicare Part B and nearly all covered drugs under Part D increase faster than the rate of inflation (CPI-U). Under these provisions, price changes would be measured based on the average sales price (for Part B drugs) or the average manufacturer price (for Part D drugs). If price increases are higher than inflation, manufacturers would be required to pay the difference in the form of a rebate to Medicare.” [Kaiser Family Foundation, 11/23/21]
The Build Back Better Act Would Cap Out-of-Pocket Spending for Medicare Part D Enrollees and Other Part D Benefit Design Changes. “The BBBA amends the design of the Part D benefit by adding a hard cap on out-of-pocket spending set at $2,000 in 2024, increasing each year based on the rate of increase in per capita Part D costs (Figure 2). It also lowers beneficiaries’ share of total drug costs below the spending cap from 25% to 23%. The provision lowers Medicare’s share of total costs above the spending cap (“reinsurance”) from 80% to 20% for brand-name drugs and to 40% for generic drugs; increases plans’ share of costs from 15% to 60% for both brands and generics; and adds a 20% manufacturer price discount on brand-name drugs. The BBBA also requires manufacturers to provide a 10% discount on brand-name drugs in the initial coverage phase (below the annual out-of-pocket spending cap), instead of a 70% price discount in the coverage gap phase under the current benefit design.” [Kaiser Family Foundation, 11/23/21]

The Build Back Better Act Would Limit Cost Sharing for Insulin for People with Medicare and Private Insurance. “The BBBA would require insurers, including Medicare Part D plans and private group or individual health plans, to charge patient cost-sharing of no more than $35 per month for insulin products. Private group or individual plans would not be required to cover all insulin products, just one of each dosage form (vial, pen) and insulin type (rapid-acting, short-acting, intermediate-acting, and long-acting), for no more than $35.” [Kaiser Family Foundation, 11/23/21]

The Build Back Better Act would expand Medicare to include dental, vision, and hearing benefits.

Democrats’ 2021 Reconciliation Bill Proposed Adding Dental, Vision And Hearing Benefits To Medicare. “The blueprint recommends adding dental, vision and hearing benefits to Medicare, as well as lowering the eligibility age -- both longstanding goals of Budget Committee Chairman Bernie Sanders, an independent from Vermont who caucuses with the Democrats.” [CNN, 8/9/21]

Nearly 24 Million People Would Receive Dental Coverage As Part Of Medicaid Expansion. “Nearly half of Medicare beneficiaries, or 24 million people, did not have dental coverage, as of 2019, according to a recent Kaiser Family Foundation report.” [CNN, 8/9/21]

The Proposed Medicare Expansion Would Also Lower The Eligibility Age To 60. “Medicare, which is relied on by most Americans once they reach the eligibility age of 65, would provide coverage for dental, vision and hearing under the budget resolution. In addition, the age when people can sign up would be lowered, most likely to age 60 as President Joe Biden has said he supports.” [CNBC, 8/25/21]

Privatizing Social Security and Medicare

Salazar claimed she did not support any cuts to Medicare or Social Security, but voted against preventing sequestration cuts to Medicare and was endorsed by a group who wanted to privatize Social Security and Medicare.

[VIDEO] September 2018: Salazar: “I Believe That We Cannot Touch Medicare Or Social Security.” “[REPORTER:] As it relates to the federal budget, two of the big issues the federal government faces, Social Security and Medicare. Where do you stand on those are there? Are there holes in Medicare that need to be fixed? How do you paid for that? [SALAZAR:] Entitlements is a big problem. There was Paul Ryan, that was his project, that by 2026, or 2032, we may not have enough money in order to pay for all the entitlement programs that we have a commitment with. We need to look at the expenses. But I believe that we cannot touch Medicare, or Social Security. Those people worked for that money. Those people deserve to have those services [...] But we got to find other areas, but not Medicare or Social Security. It's just not fair.” [Miami Herald Editorial Board, 31:00-32:22, 9/26/18]

Salazar Voted Against Preventing Sequestration Cuts To Medicare And Providing The Senate With Procedures To Increase The Debt Limit. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would extend from Dec. 31, 2021, to March 31, 2022, a temporary suspension of the 2 percent annual sequester of Medicare payments, and provide for payment reductions of 1 percent for the period of April 1 through June 30, 2022. As an offset, it would increase sequestration percentages above 2 percent in fiscal 2030. It would also require budget year debit for 2022 to be rolled over to the 2033 scorecards under statutory pay-as-you-go requirements, thus delaying spending cuts to Medicare and other mandatory programs subject to sequestration that would otherwise be triggered in January. It would delay a number of other Medicare payment reductions and policies, including to extend a temporary increase in payment amounts for physicians to provide a 3 percent increase for services furnished in 2022; delay for one year a provision that would phase in payment reductions for clinical diagnostic laboratory tests, prohibiting any reductions for 2021 and 2022 and prohibiting reductions greater than 15 percent for 2023 through 2025; and delay through 2022 the implementation of the Medicare radiation oncology model. It would decrease from $165 million to $101 million funding that may be expended from the Medicare Improvement Fund for fiscal 2021. Finally, the bill would establish procedures to expedite Senate consideration of a joint resolution to increase the debt limit by a specific dollar amount. Specifically, it would provide for a non-debatable motion to proceed to the joint resolution and, if the motion is agreed to, up to 10 hours of debate on the measure with no amendments or other motions in order, immediately followed by a vote on passage. Such procedures would be valid for consideration of one joint resolution by Jan. 16, 2022.” Passed by a vote of 222-212. [S 610, Vote #Vote #404, 12/07/21; CQ, 12/07/21]

2012: Freedom Works Supported Privatizing Social Security. “The only way to stop the political raids and manipulations is for private ownership. The fatal flaw with funding and honoring government obligations is the worker does not own his or her account. With ownership, workers will protect their property and every other worker's property. This is the only means to hold politicians fiscally and morally responsible.” [Freedom Works, “Social Security: Structurally Violates Freedom,” 10/11/12]

MSNBC: FreedomWorks Was “Really About” Privatizing Social Security And Medicare. Theda Skocpol, Harvard University Professor: “And then, it’s also got a series of top-down groups that have sort of opportunistically jumped on and goaded on and leveraged this grassroots phenomenon. Those are long-standing groups like Americans for Prosperity and FreedomWorks, the new Heritage Action operation that former Senator Jim DeMint Leads. And those groups are really about pushing low taxes, removal of regulation, blocking of environmental regulation, privatization of Social Security and Medicare.” [MSNBC, 10/23/13]

Scott’s Plan For Social Security

Scott’s plan would raise income taxes on half of Americans, including millions of retirees and the middle-class, and sunset Medicare and Social Security.

Sen. Scott’s Plan: “All Americans Should Pay Some Income Tax To Have Skin In The Game, Even If A Small Amount. Currently Over Half Of Americans Pay No Income Tax.” “All Americans should pay some income tax to have skin in the game, even if a small amount. Currently over half of Americans pay no income tax.” [U.S. Senator Rick Scott 11 Point Plan To Rescue America, Accessed 4/5/22]

A Study By The Tax Policy Center Found That The Majority Of Scott’s Tax Increase Would Fall On Households With Incomes Under $100,000. “The NRSC chairman is proposing a 10-year tax increase of more than $1 trillion on, in his own words, “more than half of Americans,” to make sure every household pays taxes. The bean counters at the Urban-Brookings Tax Policy Center and the Institute on Taxation and Economic Policy ran the numbers on what ITEP called the “only possible interpretation of Sen. Scott’s proposal” (making sure every household pays at least $1 in federal income tax) and found that the Republican plan would raise taxes by $100 billion a year, or more than $1 trillion over the standard 10-year budgeting time frame. Almost all of it would be shouldered by households with income of $100,000 or less.” [Washington Post, Dana Milbank Column, 3/11/22]

Tax Policy Center: Under Scott’s Plan, “More than 80 Percent Of The Tax Increase Would Be Paid By Households Making About $54,000 Or Less, And 97 Percent Would Be Paid By Those Making Less Than About $100,000.” “The Tax Policy Center estimates that achieving Scott’s goal could increase federal income taxes by more than $100 billion in 2022 alone. More than 80 percent of the tax increase would be paid by households making about $54,000 or less, and 97 percent would be paid by those making less than about $100,000.” [Tax Policy Center, 2/24/22]

ITEP: Under Scott’s Plan, 95 Percent Of The Tax Increase Would Fall On Middle-Class And Poor Americans.

Under Scott’s Plan, Over 100 Million Americans, Including Retirees, Could Face A Tax Hike. “But it does advocate for raising taxes on, in the Tax Foundation’s estimate, as many as 75 million people who paid no such taxes after deductions and credits in 2020. In June 2021, Salazar introduced legislation to determine the extent to which Nicaragua is in compliance with the Dominican Republic-Central America-United States Free Trade Agreement.

June 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Determine The Extent To Which Nicaragua Is In Compliance With The Dominican Republic-Central America-United States Free Trade Agreement. In June 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 3964, the Nicaragua Free Trade Review Act of 2021. The bill would “require the U.S. Trade Representative to submit a report on the manner and extent to which Nicaragua is in compliance with the Dominican Republic-Central America-United States Free Trade Agreement.” The bill is cosponsored by 16 Republicans and 5 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Ways and Means Subcommittee on Trade, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 3964, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 6/17/21]

- The Dominican Republic-Central America Fta (Cafta-Dr) Is A Free Trade Agreement Between The United States And Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, As Well As The Dominican Republic. Collectively, The Countries That Comprise This Agreement Are The United States' 18th Largest Trading Partner. “On November 7, 2021, Nicaragua is scheduled to have its presidential election. Yet, Daniel Ortega has embarked on a violent crackdown on democracy and jailed the opposition candidates running for President. Ortega is dismantling Nicaragua’s democratic institutions, actively undermining US interests, and violating the rights of the Nicaragua people. Reviewing Nicaragua’s compliance with the CAFTA-DR Free Trade Agreement is not only necessary, but urgent... First signed by President Bush in 2005, the Dominican Republic-Central America FTA (CAFTA-DR) is a free trade agreement between the United States and Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, as well as the Dominican Republic. Collectively, the countries that comprise this agreement are the United States' 18th largest trading partner.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 6/17/21]

RENACER Act

Salazar introduced legislation that became law that would establish certain sanctions against people and agencies accused of corruption in Nicaragua.

2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Establish The Implementation And Extension Of Economic Sanctions Against People And Agencies Accused Of Corruption In Nicaragua. “Salazar and Congressman Albio Sires were in charge of presenting the Renacer Law initiative before the United States Congress on April 30. Salazar said she is working to get support from more Democrats for this law and she is sure that President Joe Biden will also support it. The Renacer initiative establishes the implementation and extension of economic sanctions to the family circle of Ortega and Murillo, officials of the Police, the Nicaraguan Army, the Supreme Electoral Council, members and officials of the FSLN - including their families-, allied persons or financial entities, and persons accused of corruption in Nicaragua. It also includes expanding the restrictions and controls on loans from multilateral institutions to the country.” [La Prensa, 5/06/21] Translation

- Spanish Version: “Salazar y el congresista Albio Sires fueron los encargados de presentar la iniciativa de Ley Renacer ante el Congreso de Estados Unidos el pasado 30 de abril. Salazar dijo que está trabajando para tener apoyo de más demócratas para esta ley y está segura que el presidente Joe Biden también la va a apoyar. La iniciativa Renacer establece la implementación y extensión de sanciones económicas al círculo familiar de Ortega y Murillo, funcionarios de la Policía, Ejército de Nicaragua, Consejo Supremo Electoral, miembros y funcionarios del FSLN - incluyendo sus familias-, personas o entidades financieras aliadas, y personas señaladas de corrupción en Nicaragua. Además comprende ampliar las restricciones y fiscalizaciones a préstamos de instituciones multilaterales hacia el país.”

• The Law Was Amended To Include Language Proposed By Salazar To Open A Review Of Nicaragua’s Participation In CAFTA. “The Renacer Act was also amended to include language from Salazar, a former journalist who once worked in Nicaragua and interviewed Ortega, that calls on the Biden administration to open a formal review to determine whether Nicaragua should continue to participate in the Central America Free Trade Agreement, requires increased U.S. intelligence reporting on Russian activities in Nicaragua and a review of Russian arms sales to Nicaragua. Russia, an Ortega ally, criticized the United States for refusing to recognize the election result.” [Miami Herald, 11/10/21]

Salazar said the Act sent a “pretty weak” message, but still praised its passage.

2021: Salazar Said The RENACER Act Is Going To Be Sending A “Pretty Weak” Message. “So, we pass the RENACER Act. Thank God that President Biden is saying that he is going to sign it. And what is that going to be sending, Christiane? It’s going to be sending the message to Ortega late and pretty weak message but nonetheless, it’s there, that you cannot go to Paris or to Italy or to Miami and enjoy the fruits of what you stole from the national treasury.” [CNNI with CHRISTIANE AMANPOUR, 11/08/2021]

2021: Salazar Joined With House Colleagues To Celebrate The Passage Of The RENACER Act. “Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman Bob Menendez (D-N.J.), SFRC Subcommittee on the Western Hemisphere Ranking Member Marco Rubio (R- Fla.), Chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on the Western Hemisphere Albio Sires (D-NJ-08), and Representative Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL-27), were joined today by a group of seven of their colleagues in applauding the House of Representatives’ final passage of their Reinforcing Nicaragua’s Adherence to Conditions for Electoral Reform (RENAOER) Act, legislation to dramatically increase the United States’ response to the continued use of repressive tactics by Daniel Ortega and his government to intimidate, inhibit, or arrest every aspiring opposition candidate ahead of Nicaragua's scheduled elections on November 7th.” [State News Service, 11/03/21]

Elections

In 2021, Salazar criticized President Ortega and said he was “jailing political opponents,” including Arturo Cruz, an opposition presidential candidate and Salazar’s ex-husband.

Salazar: “Under Daniel Ortega, Nicaragua Has Become A Land Of Oppression” And “Ortega’s Thugs are Jailing Political Opponents.” “‘Under Daniel Ortega, Nicaragua has become a land of oppression,’ said Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar, who heads the petition for the state of Florida. ‘Ortega’s thugs are jailing political opponents and violently silencing dissenting voices. I introduced the Nicaragua Free Trade Review Act because trade with the United States is a privilege, not a right. We must show the Ortega regime that it cannot continue to repress the Nicaraguan people while reaping the economic benefits of free trade with the United States. The United States should not be in the business of trading with dictators,’ Salazar said.” [Infobae, 6/19/21] Translation
• Spanish Version: “Bajo Daniel Ortega, Nicaragua se ha convertido en una tierra de opresión,” afirmó la congresista María Elvira Salazar, quien encabeza la petición por el estado de Florida. “Los matones de Ortega están encarcelando a los opositores políticos y silenciando violentamente las voces disidentes. Presenté la Ley Revisión del Libre Comercio de Nicaragua porque el comercio con Estados Unidos es un privilegio, no un derecho. Debemos demostrarle al régimen de Ortega que no puede seguir reprimiendo al pueblo nicaragüense mientras cosecha los beneficios económicos del libre comercio con los Estados Unidos. Estados Unidos no debería estar en el negocio de comerciar con dictadores,’ sentenció Salazar.”

Salazar Said Oretga Jailed Her Ex-Husband, Arturo Cruz. “In a speech ahead of the Renacer Act's passage, Salazar said on the House floor that Ortega jailed her ex-husband, Arturo Cruz Jr., a former Sandinista who became an Ortega critic. Cruz was one of the opposition candidates hoping to run in the November election. ‘Ortega has banned political parties. He has killed hundreds of Nicaraguans and jailed hundreds more,’ Salazar said. ‘Now we are on the eve of one of his most brazen moves in nearly 35 years of terrorizing this country -- a sham election where all seven presidential candidates were arrested in broad daylight -- one of them being my ex-husband, Arturo Cruz. This is the most flagrant example of a stolen election we have ever seen, and the world to needs know that.’” [Miami Herald, 11/10/21]

June 2021: Salazar Came Out Strongly Against The Detention Of Arturo Cruz In Nicaragua . “We strongly condemn the Ortega regimes illegal arrest of yet another opposition presidential candidate and call for his immediate release. With todays arrest of Arturo Cruz which comes mere days after the house arrest and detainment of Cristiana Chamorro it has become clear that Ortega fears those who dare run against him in Novembers scheduled elections. With his popular support plummeting, Ortega appears willing to abuse state resources, trample the law, and violate the human rights of his fellow citizens with impunity, all in a desperate effort to maintain power. We echo the call made by governments and international organizations for the regime to immediately cease its persecution of opposition political candidates and civil society organizations. It must release the more than 120 political prisoners being held by the Ortega regime.” [State News Service, 6/6/21]

• November 2021: Salazar Called Ortega’s Detention A “Flagrant Example Of A Stolen Election.” “In a speech on the House floor before the election, U.S. Maria Elvira Salazar of South Florida said that Ortega jailed her ex-husband, Arturo Cruz Jr., an Ortega critic. Cruz was one of the opposition candidates hoping to run in the November election. ‘Ortega has banned political parties. He has killed hundreds of Nicaraguans and jailed hundreds more,’ Salazar said. ‘Now we are on the eve of one of his most brazen moves in nearly 35 years of terrorizing this country - a sham election where all seven presidential candidates were arrested in broad daylight - one of them being my ex-husband, Arturo Cruz. ‘This is the most flagrant example of a stolen election we have ever seen, and the world to needs know that.’” [Omaha World-Herald, 11/14/21]

• November 2021: Salazar Asked “Where Is The State Department” In Regards To The Jailing Of Political Opposition. “[Salazar] Seven of the presidential contenders are in a dungeon. They have been there for more than five months. How do I know? Because one of them, Arturo Cruz, was my first husband. One of the leaders of the Contra. How could you be in jail just because you're running as a presidential contender because you want democracy in your country? That's Daniel Ortega and the Sandinistas, but where is the State Department? Where's the beacon of hope which is this country, the United States? They have been begging, beseeching, calling my office saying, why don't you do something?” [CNNI with CHRISTIANE AMANPOUR, 11/08/2021]

Salazar said “we must find a solution and not allow Ortega to steal the elections in Nicaragua again.” She said she would be a “mediator so that among all the presidential candidates they choose one” to go against Ortega.

Salazar: “We Must Find A Solution And Not Allow Ortega To Steal The Elections In Nicaragua Again.” “The congresswoman stated that she is committed to making efforts to prevent Ortega from stealing the elections in Nicaragua again, but she also insisted that the opposition has to unite to strengthen international pressure. ‘The reality is that by November 7 of this year, we must find a solution and not allow the dictator Daniel Ortega to steal the elections in Nicaragua again. We in the Federal Congress, from the Foreign Relations Committee, can help a lot, we can pressure that dictatorship to open the democratic game, what happens is that the opposition has to do one thing: unite and choose a candidate who runs in the presidential contest,’ Salazar told the media.” [La Prensa, 5/06/21] Translation

- Spanish Version: “La congresista manifestó que está comprometida con hacer esfuerzos que eviten que Ortega se vuelva a robar las elecciones en Nicaragua, pero también insistió en que la oposición tiene que unirse para afianzar las presiones internacionales. ‘La realidad es que para el 7 de noviembre de este año, hay que buscar una solución y no permitir que el dictador Daniel Ortega se vuelva a robar las elecciones en Nicaragua. Nosotros en el Congreso Federal, desde el Comité de Relaciones Exteriores podemos ayudar mucho, podemos presionar a esa dictadura para que abra el juego democrático, lo que pasa es que la oposición tiene que hacer una cosa: unirse y escoger un candidato que corra en la contienda presidencial,’ dijo Salazar a los medios.”

Salazar: “I Offer To Be A Mediator So That Among All The Presidential Candidates They Choose One” To Go Against Ortega. “A group of Nicaraguans living in the United States met this Tuesday, May 4, with Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar, to influence the approval of the Law to Strengthen Nicaragua's Adherence to the Conditions for Electoral Reform (Renacer Law). In statements to the media after the meeting, Salazar offered herself as a mediator to choose a sole opposition presidential candidate, who will face Daniel Ortega in the November elections in Nicaragua. ‘I know Nicaraguans very well, I love them, I worked as a war correspondent in Nicaragua, I interviewed the Contras, I know who the leaders are, I know very well the record since the triumph of Mrs. Violeta Chamorro. That is why I very much and as a federal congressman from the city of Miami where hundreds of thousands of Nicaraguans live, I offer to be a mediator and that among all the presidential candidates they choose one, so that he is the head and is named against of the dictator,’ Salazar said.” [La Prensa, 5/06/21] Translation

- Spanish Version: “Un grupo de nicaragüenses que viven en Estados Unidos, se reunió este martes 4 de mayo con la congresista María Elvira Salazar, para incidir en la aprobación de la Ley de Reforzoamiento de la Adherencia de Nicaragua a las Condiciones para la Reforma Electoral (Ley Renacer). En declaraciones a los medios de comunicación después de la reunión, Salazar se ofreció como mediadora para elegir a un candidato presidencial único opositor, que se enfrente a Daniel Ortega en las elecciones de noviembre en Nicaragua. 'Yo conozco a los nicaragüenses muy bien, los quiero, trabajé como corresponsal de guerra en Nicaragua, entrevisté a la Contra, sé quiénes son los líderes, conozco muy bien el historial desde el triunfo de la señora Violeta Chamorro. Por eso yo con mucho y como congresista federal de la ciudad de Miami donde viven cientos de miles de nicaragüenses yo me ofrezco a ser mediador y que entre todos los precandidatos presidenciales escojan a uno, para que ese sea la cabeza y se le nombre en contra del dictador,' dijo Salazar.”

Ortega ended up winning the election, and Salazar called it “illegitimate.”

2021: Salazar Joined In A Statement Calling The 2021 Nicaraguan Elections “Illegitimate.” "The so-called 'elections' that took place in Nicaragua on Sunday are illegitimate and Daniel Ortega's victory must be widely rejected. Leading into this sham process, the regime led by Ortega and his wife and Vice President, imprisoned their political opponents, forcefully persecuted opposition parties and unlawfully jailed over 150 political prisoners. We urge the Biden Administration to rally our like-minded allies and partners and implement further targeted sanctions on regime officials and entities propping up the Ortega-Murillo family dictatorship. The United States unequivocally supports the democratic aspirations of the Nicaraguan people; their voices must be heard, and political prisoners released." [Congressional Documents and Publications, 11/8/21]

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Advance The Free, Fair And Transparent Elections In Nicaragua. "Rep. Albio Sires, D-N.J., has introduced legislation (H.R. 2946) to "advance the strategic alignment of U.S. diplomatic tools toward the realization of free, fair, and transparent elections in Nicaragua and to reaffirm the commitment of the U.S. to protect the fundamental freedoms and human rights of the people of Nicaragua." The bill was introduced on April 30 and has eight co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include Reps. Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla..." [Targeted News Service, 5/2/21]

Immigration

In 2022, Salazar called for extending TPS for Nicaraguans, but in 2021 did not commit to welcoming Nicaraguans fleeing the oppressive regime.

2022: Salazar Joined A Bipartisan Group To Call For Extending Temporary Protected Status For Nicaraguans. "A bipartisan group of Florida members of Congress called on the Biden administration Friday to "redesignate and extend" Temporary Protected Status, a humanitarian protection that shields people from deportation, to eligible Nicaraguans already residing in the United States. "We strongly urge you ... to protect tens of thousands of Nicaraguan men, women, and children who would face great risk to their safety should they return to Nicaragua at this time," a letter from the representatives to President Joe Biden and Department of Homeland Security Secretary Alejandro Mayorkas said. [...] Rep. Charlie Crist, who is running for Florida governor, spearheaded the letter...South Florida Reps. Frederica Wilson, Sheila Cherfilus-McCormick, Debbie Wasserman Schultz, and Maria Elvira Salazar, all signed the letter." [Miami Herald, 7/15/22]

2021: Salazar Was Noncommittal To Whether The US Should Welcome Nicaraguans Fleeing The Oppressive Regime, Saying “We Cannot Be Allowing The Whole World To Come.” “[AMANPOUR]
Let me ask you something I that touched on before, immigration. Because, clearly, this all has an impact. The people who can't live under that regime in Nicaragua are going to want to leave it. More than 100,000 Nicaraguans are seeking refuge. As you know, primarily right now in Costa Rica and many of them are likely to try to come to your country, to the United States. So, should the U.S. welcome these Nicaraguans who are fleeing this repressive regime? What is your view on that? [SALAZAR]: It's a very complicated topic because if you are Nicaraguan, obviously, I would pack up my kids and everything that I own and I would come up north because the gringos, the Yankees are going to treat me a lot better than my own compatriots. So, that's what's happening. But at the same time, we're in a situation where we cannot be allowing the whole world to come. So, that's why I go back to Ronald Reagan. He had it right. He would fight the Sandinistas with everything he had, diplomatically speaking. He was the guy who forced the Sandinistas to give elections in 1989, and that's why the Violeta Barrios de Chamorro was able to win. So, Reagan had it right.” [CNNI with CHRISTIANE AMANPOUR, 11/08/2021]

Biden

Salazar called Biden's approach to Nicaragua “embarrassing.”

2021: Salazar Called Biden’s State Department’s Approach To Nicaragua, And Central America, “Embarrassing. “[AMANPOUR]: “All right. OK. Let's go to Nicaragua. So, the government, this administration has called the election, which we said over the weekend, a sham pantomime election. Is the administration's response and I will give you a bit -- I'll read some in a minute, but is the response enough? What are you looking for having helped pass that legislation about election reform and the like in Nicaragua?” [SALAZAR]: “It's embarrassing. It's embarrassing what the State Department is doing in Central America. But not only Nicaragua, in Venezuela and Cuba. Every -- all over Latin America. And why do I say it's embarrassing? I have hundreds of thousands of Nicaraguans who live in District 27. I was the Central American bureau chief. While you were in the Middle East, I was covering the Reagan War between the Sandinistas and the Contras.” [CNNI with CHRISTIANE AMANPOUR, 11/8/2021]

2021: Salazar Was Highly Critical Of Biden’s Approach To Nicaragua Saying It “Burns Like Acid On Our Skin.” “Rep. Salazar on the political prisoners in Nicaragua: "I am very embarrassed. I am very upset. Because the United States is not present in this hemisphere, period. "You know, I represent Miami, the heart of the Cuban exile community and the heart of the Nicaraguan community. And when you tell me that you have - that you're working through social media to denounce the Ortega Administration, I'm only full of anger, because of the people that I represent. It burns like acid on our skin. And I just want to share that with you. "Where is the Biden Administration? "I just have three names here that I want to share with you. Maybe people do not recognize who this guy is. This is Arturo Cruz, who was Ambassador for Ortega to Washington. He is in jail. He has lost 30 pounds. This guy, Felix Maradiaga, has been tortured - psychologically tortured. And here we have Chamorro, who we do not know what's really happening with him." [Targeted News Service, 9/22/21]
Salazar cosponsored bipartisan legislation to tackle opioid abuse.

2022: Salazar Authored legislation To Fight Back Against Opioid Abuse. “Representatives Maria Elvira Salazar's (FL-27) and Abigail Spanberger's (VA-07) mental health and substance abuse bill (H.R. 7234) passed the House Energy and Commerce Health Subcommittee through unanimous consent as a part of the Restoring Hope for Mental Health and Well-Being Act (H.R. 7666). The Summer Barrow Prevention, Treatment, and Recovery Act (H.R. 7234), named for a 2020 overdose victim, would reauthorize more than $900 million in funding through the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Administration (SAMHSA) to support our nation's fight against the substance use disorder epidemic. According to the CDC, it claimed a record-setting number of lives from October 2020-2021.” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 5/12/2022]

- 2022: The Legislation Reauthorized Key Programs On Overdose Prevention, Substance Abuse Disorder And Alternatives To Opioids. “In response to these record overdose rates, the Summer Barrow Prevention, Treatment, and Recovery Act would reauthorize several substance use disorder programs -- including the Substance Use Disorder Programs of National Significance Grant Programs for both treatment and prevention. These authorizations include key programs focused on overdose prevention, first responder training, co-prescribing programs, pregnant and postpartum women substance use disorder treatment, and alternatives to opioids in emergency rooms -- and more.” [Congressional Documents and Publications, 3/29/22]

Palestine

Office of Palestinian Affairs in Jerusalem

Salazar was critical of Biden’s move to create an Office of Palestinian Affairs in Israel. She previously cosponsored legislation to prevent funding for diplomatic facilities in Jerusalem other than the U.S. embassy to the state of Israel.

2022: Salazar Was Critical Of Biden’s Move To Create An Office Of Palestinian Affairs In Israel. “Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) along with 23 Senators and 36 other House colleagues released a joint statement denouncing the Biden Administration's recent decision to create an Office of Palestinian Affairs in Jerusalem, which is an effort to circumvent Congress and formalize direct U.S. diplomatic channels with the Palestinians in Israel's capital.” [Office of Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 6/23/22]

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Prevent Funding For Diplomatic Facilities In Jerusalem Other Than The U.S. Embassy To The State Of Israel. “Rep. David Kustoff, R-Tenn., has introduced legislation (H.R. 6004) to "prohibit the use of funds for a U.S. Embassy, Consulate General, Legation, Consular Office, or any other diplomatic facility in Jerusalem other than the U.S. Embassy to the State of Israel." The bill was introduced on Nov. 17 and has 114 co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include...Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla.” [Targeted News Service, 11/19/21]

BDS Movement
Salazar cosponsored legislation to prohibit the BDS movement.

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Prohibit International Boycotts Or Boycott Requests Of Israel And Reaffirms Opposition To BDS Movements. “This week, Congressman Doug Lamborn joined Congressman Lee Zeldin, both co-chairs of the House Republican Israel Caucus, and 46 of their House Republican colleagues in introducing the Israel Anti-Boycott Act. This legislation amends the Export Administration Act of 1979 to prohibit boycotts or boycott requests imposed by international governmental organizations against Israel. This bill protects American companies from being coerced into providing information to international organizations to further boycotts against Israel and holds individuals who attempt to violate this protection accountable. Additionally, it affirms Congress' opposition to the Boycott, Divestment, and Sanctions (BDS) movement and that Congress considers the United Nations (UN) Human Rights Council’s creation of a database of companies doing business in the West Bank, East Jerusalem, and the Golan Heights in March 2016 to be an act of BDS” [Impact News Service, 3/7/22]

2021: Salazar Called For An Investigation Into The Palestinian Campaign For The Academic And Cultural Boycott Of Israel's Investments Into Terrorist Organizations. “U.S. Representatives Tim Burchett (TN-02), Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27), and Greg Steube (FL-17) are calling for an investigation into the Palestinian Campaign for the Academic and Cultural Boycott of Israel's (PACBI) financial ties to foreign terrorist organizations affiliated with the Boycott, Divestment, and Sanctions (BDS) movement. In a letter sent to the leaders of the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation's Counterterrorism Division and the U.S. Financial Crimes Enforcement Network, the members raised alarm that American donations to the pro-BDS PACBI could be funneled to the Palestinian BDS National Committee (BNC), an umbrella organization for terrorists like Hamas and Palestinian Islamic Jihad (PIJ).” [Targeted News Service, 6/11/21]

Salazar Called For The FBI To Investigate Links Between The BDS Movement And Terrorism. “Three US Republican lawmakers well-known for their ties with the country's infamous pro-Israel lobby groups have reportedly called on the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) to probe purported links between the pro-Palestinian Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions movement (BDS) and terrorism. In a letter sent to FBI's Counterterrorism Division and cosigned by Tennessee Congressman Tim Burchett, along with Florida Representatives Greg Steube and Maria Salazar, the three lawmakers claimed ‘serious concerns’ that Americans donating funds to organizations affiliated with the increasingly popular Boycott-Israel campaign could be financing "terrorist groups," the US-based Mondoweiss online news outlet reported Friday.” [Press TV, 7/03/21]

Palestinians

In 2021, Salazar said the “average Palestinian doesn’t really understand that they are being used on behalf of this terrorist organization.”

Panama Canal

Cargo Vessels

Salazar signed onto legislation to provide grants to the owners of cargo vessels being rerouted through the Panama Canal.

2021: Salazar Signed Onto Legislation To Provide Grants To Owners Of Cargo Vessels Being Rerouted Through The Panama Canal. Rep. Carlos A. Gimenez, R-Fla., has introduced legislation (H.R. 5925) to "direct the Secretary of Transportation to establish a program to provide grants to owners of cargo vessels being rerouted from the western seaboard of the U.S. through the Panama Canal." The bill was introduced on Nov. 9 and has 11 co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include Reps. Randy Weber, R-Texas, Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla., Mario Diaz-Balart, R-Fla., Brian J. Mast, R-Fla., David B. McKinley, R-W.Va., Alex X. Mooney, R-W.Va., Louie Gohmert, R-Texas, Nicole Malliotakis, R-N.Y., David Rouzer, R-N.C., Andy Harris, R-Md., and Madison Cawthorn, R-N.C. Partisanship

Self-Described Moderate

In 2018, Salazar tried to style herself as a moderate and said she would “step into the center.”

September 2018: Salazar: “I Want To Step Into The Center.” “‘I want to step into the center,’ Salazar, 56, said. ‘Whatever makes sense to the community, to the whole country, is what we need to do.’ Until Wednesday, Salazar, a political novice who is well known in Miami-Dade's Hispanic community from her TV show, has mostly kept the details of her policy positions to herself. She trounced a crowded field in the Republican primary, during which her opponents ignored issues of policy and tried to drag her down by casting her as soft on Cuba. For the most part, however, Salazar signaled that she would mostly follow in the footsteps of Ros-Lehtinen, a moderate within the GOP and mentor to Salazar.” [Miami Herald, 9/26/18]

[VIDEO] Salazar Said That The Country Needs To Elect People Like Her Who Would “Step Into The Center” And Heal The Division. “My thoughts on the #Kavanaugh confirmation hearing. Thank you @CBSMiami for the opportunity. #FL27 #TeamMariaElvira #YourTrustedVoice #MariaElviraSalazar #District27 #MiamiFL.” Salazar said, “The division we have in this country– 50% does not trust or believe in the other 50%. That’s why we need people like me to step into the center. New blood, full of stamina, full of energy, I’m in my prime, to step into the center.” [Twitter, Maria Salazar, 9/7/18]

2018: Salazar: “I’m A Commonsense Republican And I Have Common Sense Policies.” “‘It will be a seamless transition between Ileana and myself, because we believe in the same causes,’ said Salazar. ‘I’m a commonsense Republican and I have common sense policies.’” [WLRN, 8/29/18]
However, Salazar was named Assistant House GOP Whip as soon as she entered office and repeatedly showed support for Trump.

Salazar Was Named Assistant House GOP Whip. “Freshman Republican Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar has secured an assistant whip position just weeks after being sworn in as a member of Congress for the first time. House Republican Whip Steve Scalise of Louisiana named Salazar to his team, per a Tuesday release. Salazar represents Florida's 27th Congressional District in Miami-Dade County. She’ll be responsible for helping to push fellow Republicans to vote in line with the party during the 117th Congress.” [Florida Politics, 1/1/21]

Editorial: New Constituents In 2022 “Could Remember That Salazar [...] Mindlessly Parroted Trumpian Talking Points.” “And, in all likelihood, so are Diaz-Balart, Gimenez and Salazar. Not only do they have to gear up for 2022 elections, they will be running in reconfigured districts. Redistricting is one of the results of the 2020 -- and every other decennial -- U.S. Census. That means that the population of voters that propelled them to victory last year might not hold. New constituents might still be appalled that Diaz-Balart and Gimenez voted against certifying some states' Electoral College results for Joe Biden. They could remember that Salazar and Gimenez mindlessly parroted Trumpian talking points that 'my opponent is a socialist.’” [Miami Herald, Editorial, 2/7/21]

2017: Salazar Tweeted “Bravo Trump” In Reference To His Immigration Policies. “Bravo #Trump for calling for ‘real and positive #immigration reform’. Look forward to concrete details. #JointSession” [Maria Elvira Salazar Twitter, 2/28/17]

January 2021: Salazar Voted Not To Impeach Trump For His Role In The Capitol Riot. “Miami’s three Republicans in the House of Representatives voted against impeaching President Donald Trump over his role in a deadly riot at the U.S. Capitol that led to five deaths. Reps. Carlos Gimenez, Mario Diaz-Balart and Maria Elvira Salazar all voted against one article of impeachment, titled 'incitement of insurrection' and drafted by Democrats within hours of last week's riot. Every Democrat in the House, including South Florida Reps. Frederica Wilson, Debbie Wasserman Schultz, Alcee Hastings and Ted Deutch, voted in favor of impeaching Trump. [...] The article of impeachment passed the House of Representatives on a 232-197 vote, with 10 Republicans joining Democrats to send the impeachment article to the U.S. Senate. Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell said a potential trial would not begin before Trump’s term ends on Jan. 20.” [Miami Herald, 1/13/21]

In 2018, The Miami Herald described Salazar as someone who “mostly kept the details of her policy positions to herself.”

Liz Cheney

In November 2020, Salazar said it was “an absolute honor to serve” with Liz Cheney and described Cheney as someone who wasn’t “afraid to speak truth to power.” However, in 2021, Salazar failed to stand up for Cheney when she faced retaliation for speaking out against the Big Lie, and Salazar refused to say whether she voted to oust Cheney from party leadership.

November 2020: Salazar Said That It Was “Absolutely An Honor To Serve With Women Leaders Like Liz Cheney… Who Aren’t Afraid To Speak Truth To Power.” “Great speaking to the @TODAYshow on this historic Year of the Republican Woman!/us We are the future of the @GOP! It is an absolute honor to serve with women leaders like @Liz_Cheney & @NancyMace in #Congress — tireless fighters who aren't afraid to speak truth to power!” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 11/21/20]

Salazar Refused To Tell The Media Whether Or Not She Voted To Remove Cheney From Republican Party Leadership. “Three months later, Gimenez didn't publicly defend Cheney, the highest-ranking Republican woman in the U.S. House, before their GOP colleagues swiftly ousted her on Wednesday in a 15-minute meeting that culminated in a short speech from Cheney and a voice vote. Gimenez, along with Miami Republican U.S. Reps. Mario Diaz-Balart and Maria Elvira Salazar, did not respond when the Miami Herald asked their staff if they supported Cheney’s removal from her leadership post during Wednesday's vote. Salazar, who arrived at the brief meeting after Cheney spoke and just before the voice vote, did not say what her position was when asked by Herald reporter. Efforts to find and speak to Gimenez and Diaz-Balart before and after the vote were unsuccessful.” [Miami Herald, 5/12/21]

Marjorie Taylor Greene

Salazar voted to strip Marjorie Taylor Greene of her committee assignments.

Salazar Voted To Strip Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene Of Her Committee Assignments. “All three of South Florida's House Republicans voted Thursday to remove Georgia Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene -- who previously questioned whether the 2018 Parkland school shooting actually happened and filmed herself harassing Parkland survivors who pushed for gun control -- from the House committee that oversees education policy, breaking with their party and standing with a group of Parkland victims' families who urged them to vote yes. The votes by Reps. Mario Diaz-Balart, Carlos Gimenez and Maria Elvira Salazar came as a surprise at the last moment during a 30-minute vote late Thursday. They bucked House Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy, part of a group of Republicans who waited till the end to cast their 'yes' votes for a resolution authored by Broward Rep. Debbie Wasserman Schultz.” [Miami Herald, 2/4/21]

- Salazar: “I Had To Hold Marjorie Greene Accountable For Her Denial Of The Parkland Massacre, The Flight 77 Crash, And Accusing A Jewish Family Of Starting The California Wildfires.” “As I have repeatedly criticized (U.S. Rep.) Ilhan Omar for her anti-Semitic comments, I had to hold Marjorie Greene accountable for her denial of the Parkland massacre, the Flight 77 crash, and accusing a Jewish family of starting the California wildfires,’ Salazar said in a tweet.” [Tampa Bay Times, 2/4/21]

Defund the Police

Salazar co-sponsored legislation to require a local government to waive sovereign immunity to receive any grant funds from the DOJ if such local government has defunded" the police.

March 2021: Salazar Co-Sponsored Legislation To Require A Local Government To Waive Sovereign Immunity To Receive Any Grant Funds From The DOJ If Such Local Government Has Defunded" The Police. “Rep. Nicole Malliotakis, R-N.Y., has introduced legislation (H.R. 1465) to "require a local government to waive sovereign immunity to receive any grant funds from the Department of Justice if such local government has defunded a municipal police department." The bill was introduced on March 1 and was co-sponsored by Reps. Carlos A. Gimenez, R-Fla., and Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla. It was referred to the House Judiciary Committee.” [Rep. Malliotakis, Press Release, 3/03/21]

Bad Cops

Salazar said there were “bad cops.”

Salazar: “I Get It, That We Need To Do Reform. I Get It That There Are Bad Cops. We Get It.” “[SALAZAR:] Has to be siding with the far left because they have no other choice. That party, unfortunately, has been hijacked by this dogma that they're promising social justice. [BARTIROMO:] Yes. [SALAZAR:] I get it, that we need to do reform. I get it that there are bad cops. We get it. [BARTIROMO:] Yes. [SALAZAR:] But it's not through socialism. It's through free market. It's through democracy. It's by talking to people. It's by being free, not by being socialist.” [Fox Business, 7/9/20]

Funding & Training

Salazar cosponsored legislation to promote police recruitment efforts and awareness training.
2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Expand Human Trafficking Awareness For First Responders. “Rep. Kat Cammack, R-Fla., has introduced legislation (H.R. 6480) to "amend the Homeland Security Act of 2002 to expand to State, local, Tribal, territorial, and educational institution law enforcement the availability of the Federal Law Enforcement Training Centers’ human trafficking awareness training to equip frontline first responders with the knowledge to recognize and properly respond to potential human trafficking situations." The bill was introduced on Jan. 25 and has 12 co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include Reps. Michael Waltz, R-Fla., Maria Elvira Salazar,...” [Targeted News Service, 1/27/22]

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Enhance Police Recruitment Efforts Nationwide. “The Pathways to Policing Act invests in programs to help state and local law enforcement agencies struggling to maintain adequate staffing levels. While the root cause of the nationwide officer shortage is multifaceted, bolstering the pipeline of service-oriented individuals is one way to ensure agencies have the resources they need to protect our communities and keep officers safe. [...] Original cosponsors include Reps. Angie Craig (MN-02), Peter Meijer (MI-03), Don Bacon (NE-02), Jaime Herrera Beutler (WA-03), Ed Case (HI-01), María Elvira Salazar (FL-27), Josh Gottheimer (NJ-05), and David Valadao (CA-21).” [Impact News Service, 5/23/22]

Regulations

FDA

In September 2021, Salazar cosponsored legislation that made it easier to sell meat products without FDA inspections.

September 2021: Salazar Co-Sponsored H.R. 3835, The Processing Revival And Intrastate Meat Exemption Act Or The PRIME Act. The bill would permit farmers and ranchers to process their animals at slaughterhouses that have not been inspected by the USDA if the meat would only be sold intrastate. The bill was introduced by Thomas Massie and co-sponsored by 40 other Republicans and 7 Democrats, including Madison Cawthorne, Elise Stefanik, and Matt Gaetz. [H.R. 3835, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/25/22]

- The Bill Would Permit The Sale Of Meat Products Processed In Slaughterhouses That Are Not Inspected By The FDA If They Will Only Be Sold Intrastate. “Today, Representative Chellie Pingree (D-ME) and Representative Thomas Massie (R-KY) re-introduced the PRIME (Processing Revival and Intrastate Meat Exemption) Act to make it easier for small farms and ranches to serve consumers. Companion legislation has been introduced in the United States Senate by Senators Angus King (I-ME) and Rand Paul (R-KY). The PRIME Act would give individual states freedom to permit intrastate distribution of custom-slaughtered meat such as beef, pork, or lamb to consumers, restaurants, hotels, boarding houses, and grocery stores. “The pandemic exposed serious problems in our supply chain—from toilet paper to cars to the meat in our grocery stores. Coupled with the recent ransomware attack on the world’s largest meat company, it’s clear that relying solely on industrial-scale meat processing is a liability,” said Congresswoman Pingree.
“Congress must act to make it easier for local farms to compete with these big meat companies and make locally raised livestock processing more widely available. A farmer in Maine shouldn’t have to drive hours to get to a USDA-inspected processing facility when other safe options are available. I’m proud to join Congressman Massie in introducing the bipartisan PRIME Act, which will change federal regulations to help make local meat processing easier.”” [Rep. Glenn Grothman, Press Release, 6/11/21]

Government Regulatory Burdens

In June 2021, Salazar cosponsored legislation that would require government “agencies to repeal at least two rules before promulgating a major rule.”

June 2021: Salazar Co-Sponsored H.R. 4047, The Cutting Unnecessary Regulatory Burdens Act. The bill would require “agencies to repeal at least two rules before promulgating a major rule” except for rules related to agency procedures, the Armed Forces, national security, or foreign affairs. The bill was introduced by C. Scott Franklin and co-sponsored by 11 other Republicans, including Madison Cawthorne, Paul Gosar, Ronny Jackson, Andy Biggs, and Marjorie Taylor Greene. Russia

Russian Sanctions

Salazar has repeatedly supported sanctions on Russian officials and oligarchs.

2022: Salazar Joined With Bipartisan Lawmakers To Sanction Russian Officials Involved With The Detention Of Vladimir Kara-Murza. “President Joe Biden to publicly sanction “every Russian official and associate involved with the false arrest, detention, and political persecution of Vladimir Kara-Murza. The lawmakers made the plea last week in a letter that also was signed by ...Maria Elvira Salazar (R-Fla.-27)…” [Impact News Service, 5/14/22]

2022: Salazar Cosponsored The “Oligarch Asset Forfeiture Act To Freeze, Seize And Liquidate The Ill-Gotten Wealth Of Putin-Linked Oligarchs.” “Representatives Steve Cohen (TN-09), Joe Wilson (SC-02), Tom Malinowski (NJ-07) and Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) today introduced the Oligarch Asset Forfeiture Act to freeze, seize and liquidate the ill-gotten wealth of Putin-linked oligarchs. [...] Congresswoman Salazar made the following statement: "Actions have consequences. As Putin continues to inflict untold pain on the Ukrainian people, oligarchs who enable his horrific and unjust war of aggression should not be comfortable. There is no doubt in my mind that the United States government should be empowered to liquidate sanctioned assets acquired through blood and corruption for the cause of Ukraine's freedom." [States News Service, 3/15/22]

2022: Salazar Added Her Name To A Bipartisan Call To Crack Down On Isreali/Russian Oligarchs. “One jet, owned by Russian-Israeli oligarch Roman Abramovich, landed the day Russia's invasion began. The United States has yet to follow Britain and Canada in imposing sanctions on Abramovich, reportedly Israel's second-richest person who made much of his fortune through the privatization of Russia's oil companies. Several leading Democratic members of Congress - including Reps. Steve Cohen, Maria Elvira Salazar and Tom Malinowski - have urged the Biden administration to crack down on Abramovich. In a letter, they said that "U.S. sanctions against Abramovich are conspicuous by their absence." They noted that Abramovich obtained Portuguese citizenship based on a law offering naturalization to descendants of Sephardi Jews who were expelled from Spain and Portugal during the Inquisition. The lawmakers said that this move was "ostensibly to evade sanctions." [Haaretz, 3/13/22]

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Hold Vladimir Putin's Enablers Accountable For Supporting His Human Rights Abuses And Military Aggression. “Representatives Malinowski (D-NJ), John Curtis (R-UT), Bill Keating (D-MA), and Brian Fitzpatrick (R-PA) -- as Co-Chairs of the Congressional Caucus Against Foreign Corruption and Kleptocracy (CAFCAK) -- are introducing the CORRUPT Act to hold Vladimir Putin's enablers accountable for supporting his human rights abuses and military aggression. The proposal echoes an amendment introduced by Representatives Malinowski and Curtis which passed the House as part of the FY 2022 Defense Authorization Act. [...] The bill has been endorsed by the Free Russia Foundation, Transparency International, Freedom House, and Human Rights First. Original cosponsors include representatives Bill Keating (D-MA), Brian Fitzpatrick (R-PA), Steve Cohen (D-TN), Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL)...” [Congressional Documents and Publications, 2/24/22]

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Prevent Russian And Chinese Kleptocrats To Shop For Visas In The West. “This week, Congressmen Adam Kinzinger (IL-16) and Tom Malinowski (NJ-7) introduced H.R. 4142, the Golden Visa Accountability Act. This bipartisan legislation would direct the Department of State to create a database that highlights denials of investor visas on the grounds of corruption or human rights abuses. These visas, colloquially known as "golden visas," are often used by corrupt officials to launder money and live lavish lifestyles in the West. By coordinating with the European Union and the countries of the Five Eyes, the United States would be leading the way to curb efforts by Chinese and Russian kleptocrats to shop for these visas in the West [...] Reps. Kinzinger and Malinowski were joined in introducing the Golden Visa Accountable Act by their colleagues from the Caucus Against Foreign Corruption and Kleptocracy: ...Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27).” [State News Services, 6/25/21]

Declassify Documents

Salazar wanted to declassify documents that may implicate Saudi officials in the 9/11 attacks.

2021: Salazar Added Her Name To A Letter To AG Garland Asking The DOJ To Declassify Documents That Might Implicate Saudi Officials In 9/11 Attack. “Congresswoman Nicole Malliotakis (NY-11) today led Congressman Brian Mast (R-FL), Congressman Gus Bilirakis (R-FL), Congressman Thomas Massie (R-KY) and Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL), in sending a letter to Attorney General Merrick Garland calling on the Department of Justice to immediately declassify and publish FBI and CIA documents that may implicate Saudi Arabian officials in the 9/11 terrorist attacks.” [State News Services, 4/21/21]

Small Businesses

Federal Contracts

Salazar supporting assisting small businesses in accessing federal contracts.

2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Assist Small Businesses In Accessing Federal Contracts. “Last night, Congressman Joe Neguse and Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar’s bipartisan, bicameral legislation to expand partnership opportunities between small businesses and the federal government passed the House of Representatives. The Promoting Rigorous and Innovative Cost Efficiencies for Federal Procurement and Acquisitions (PRICE) Act will modernize federal contracting procedures and ensure Colorado's small businesses have an equal opportunity to participate in federal contracting.” [Targeted News Service, 2/09/22]

2021: Salazar Supported Legislation To Expand Contracting Opportunities For Small Businesses. “Amendment No. 365: The Expanding Contracting Opportunities Act raises sole source contracting thresholds from $5 million to $8 million for general contracts and from $7 million to $10 million for manufacturing contracts. This program specifically benefits veteran-owned, women-owned, and minority-owned businesses, as well as those operating in economically disadvantaged areas. These changes will level the playing field and encourage more small contractors to participate in government programs leading to a quicker rebuilding of the US economy. "Small businesses are the backbone of our economy, creating jobs and providing opportunities for success for everyone. Sadly, entrepreneurs faced many challenges during the COVID-19 pandemic and they need support to recover," said Rep. Salazar. "Increasing sole source contracting caps will level the playing field and provide expanded opportunities for our small business contractors. Since coming to Congress, I've made it my mission to secure new opportunities for small businesses to contract with the federal government and it is an honor to be able to deliver on this promise." [Targeted News Services, 9/25/21]

2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Expand Contracting Opportunities To Small Businesses In Historically Underutilized Business Zones. “U.S. Representatives Marie Newman (D-IL-03) and Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL-27) introduced the HUBZone Price Evaluation Preference Clarification Act, new bipartisan legislation designed to expand contracting opportunities to millions of small businesses located in historically underutilized business zones. The bill would amend current language to ensure more federal spending is devoted to the Small Business Administration's (SBA) HUBZone program, which could then be used to expand the number of federal and private contracting opportunities for local entrepreneurs and small businesses.” [Targeted News Service, 11/6/21]

Women-Owned Businesses
Salazar introduced legislation targeted at women-owned businesses.

2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Assist Women-Owned Businesses. “U.S. Reps. Grace Meng (D-NY) and Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL) announced today that they reintroduced bipartisan legislation in the House of Representatives to help increase support to female entrepreneurs and women-owned businesses. The Interagency Committee on Women's Business Enterprise Act would reauthorize the Interagency Committee on Women's Business Enterprise (ICWBE), a U.S. government entity charged with coordinating federal resources to help women-owned businesses grow and succeed.” [State News Services, 6/21/21]

Legislation

Salazar has made the fight against socialism and communism her top priority as a Member of Congress, often attempting to tie any policy supported by the left as “socialism.” In Congress, she has introduced or cosponsored legislation to denounce socialism and communism, gaining praise from GOP dark money groups like FreedomWorks.

December 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Produce Anti-Communist Education Programs For High School Students. In December 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 6123, the Crucial Communism Teaching Act. The bill would “direct the Victims of Communism Memorial Foundation to develop a civic education curriculum and oral history resources for high school students to promote understanding of certain political ideologies (e.g., communism and totalitarianism) that conflict with principles of U.S. democracy.” The bill is cosponsored by 68 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Education and Labor, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6123, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/02/21]

- The Act Is Inspired By The Never Again Education Act, Which Created An Analogous Program To Educate American Students About The Holocaust Through The U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. “The CCT Act would make educational materials available through the Victims of Communism Memorial Foundation to help educate high school students about the dangers of communism and totalitarianism, and how they are contrary to the founding principles of freedom and democracy in the United States. The CCT Act framework is inspired by the Never Again Education Act, passed by the 116th Congress, which created an analogous program to educate American students about the Holocaust through the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. The bill also continues similar efforts by Florida Governor Ron DeSantis to educate American students on the failed experiment of communism throughout history.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/02/21]

- The Legislation Is Not An “Educational Mandate, But Would Provide Materials And Resources On The “True Evils Of Communism.” “The federal legislation ‘is not an educational mandate,’ but rather would provide materials through the Victims of Communism Memorial Foundation for states and local educators to use to ‘teach the true evils of communism,’ according to Salazar's office. The bill also includes the development of a ‘Portraits in Patriotism’ series of personal stories from immigrants who fled communist regimes.” [The Quad City Times, 12/02/21]

- Some Critics Noted Lessons On Communism Are Already In School Curriculums And Questioned The Necessity Of The Legislation. “Critics have questioned the necessity of such legislation, noting lessons on communism and other forms of political and economic systems are already part of public-school curricula. Some worry the legislation amounts to McCarthyism.” [The Quad City Times, 12/02/21]

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Create A Special State Department Envoy To Counter Communism.
“Congressman Carlos A. Gimenez (FL-26) introduced today the Combatting Communism Act in the House of Representatives. The legislation directs the Department of State to create a Special Envoy to retool American foreign policy to counter communist and authoritarian governments around the world. Gimenez is joined by Reps. Mario Díaz-Balart of Florida, Maria Elvira Salazar of Florida, and Nicole Malliotakis of New York in introducing the bill.” [Targeted News Service, 2/4/22]

- January 2022: Salazar Cosponsored A Bill To Create A State Department Position Tasked With Combating Communism. “Three South Florida Republicans introduced a bill Tuesday to create a new State Department position that would be tasked with combating communism and authoritarianism. The proposed Special Envoy to Combat the Global Rise of Authoritarian Socialism and Communism would be inspired by a similar State Department ambassador-level position that was created in 2004 to combat global anti-Semitism. The legislation was spearheaded by Republican Rep. Carlos Giménez, a former Miami-Dade mayor who was born in Cuba and whose family immigrated to the United States in 1960 after the Cuban revolution. […] Giménez was joined by Republican lawmakers Mario Díaz-Balart and María Elvira Salazar, the two children of people who fled Cuba. They were joined by Rep. Nicole Malliotakis, the only Republican representing New York City, whose mother also fled Cuba.” [El Nuevo Herald, 1/26/22]

El propuesto Enviado Especial para Combatir el Ascenso Mundial del Socialismo Autoritario y el Comunismo se inspiraría en un cargo similar a nivel de embajador del Departamento de Estado que se creó en 2004 para combatir el antisemitismo mundial. La legislación fue liderada por el representante republicano Carlos Giménez, ex alcalde de Miami-Dade que nació en Cuba y cuya familia emigró a Estados Unidos en 1960 después de la revolución cubana. […] A Giménez se le unieron los legisladores republicanos Mario Díaz-Balart y María Elvira Salazar, los dos hijos de personas que huyeron de Cuba. A ellos se unió la representante Nicole Malliotakis, la única republicana que representa a la Ciudad de Nueva York, cuya madre también huyó de Cuba.”

July 2021: Salazar Introduced A Resolution To Denounce The Evils Of Socialism.
In July 2021, Salazar sponsored H.Res. 548, Denouncing the horrors of socialism. The resolution would “denounce socialism in all its forms, and oppose the implementation of socialist policies in the United States of America.” The resolution was cosponsored by 205 Republicans. The resolution was referred to to the House Committee on Financial Services, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.Res. 548, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 7/21/21]

- The Resolution Outlines Historical Examples Of The Great Crimes And Tragedies Of Socialism. “This resolution outlines several historical examples of the greatest crimes and tragedies of socialism, and why such a system goes against the founding principles of our great nation. It specifically highlights examples in: USSR, China, Cambodia, North Korea, Cuba, and Venezuela. Through this resolution, the House of Representatives denounces socialism in all its forms and opposes the implementation of socialist policies in the United States of America... Socialism is responsible for hundreds of millions of deaths across the globe. The United States must unequivocally denounce this cynical and cruel ideology that has harmed millions of Americans who have fled from socialist regimes.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 7/21/21]

- 2021: FreedomWorks Named Salazar’s Resolution A Bill Of The Month. “This week, FreedomWorks announced Rep. Matt Rosendale (R-Mont.) as our featured Member of the Month and H. Res. 548, introduced by Rep. Maria Salazar (R-Fla.) to denounce the horrors of socialism, as our featured Bill of the Month for August 2021.” [Freedom Works Foundation, 8/13/21]

Biden & Democrats

As a politician, Salazar has always fearmongered about socialism coming to the United States, often claiming the Democrats have been kidnapped by socialists and Marxists. She has repeatedly connected Biden and the Democrats to socialism and Marxism, including claiming Biden will take us “down the path to socialism.”

Salazar: The Biden Administration Intends To Take Us “Down The Path To Socialism.” “María Elvira Salazar explained in a video her opposition to Biden's plan. Republican congresswoman María Elvira Salazar said Thursday that the economic plan promoted by the Democratic president of the United States, Joe Biden, seeks to implement socialist policies that will lead to the debacle of the national economy. The Cuban-American, congresswoman for the 27th district of Florida, considered that the speech issued the night before by Biden from Congress, regarding the first 100 days of his administration, made clear his ‘socialist’ intentions in economic matters. The Republican did not hesitate to express her concerns about it. 'In the United States there are two paths: the free market economy or socialism. And this administration intends to take us down the path to socialism and an unsustainable government!' Salazar wrote on his social networks. She reiterated her opposition to the increase in taxes in the country, as she believes that it will bring negative repercussions for the national economy. ‘Like I always say: if big government was the real answer, then Venezuela should be Switzerland, and it's not, because while the state takes money out of your pocket in taxes, to give it to the bureaucrats and let them bureaucrats determine how that money is going to be spent, then what is coming is economic collapse,’ he said.” [CE Latin America Migration Spanish, 4/30/21] Translation

La congresista republicana María Elvira Salazar dijo este jueves que el plan económico impulsado por el presidente demócrata de Estados Unidos, Joe Biden, busca implementar políticas socialistas que llevarán a la debacle de la economía nacional. La cubanoamericana, congresista por el distrito 27 de la Florida, consideró que el discurso emitido la noche anterior por Biden desde el Congreso, a propósito de los primeros 100 días de su administración, dejó clara sus intenciones ‘socialistas’ en materia económica. La republicana no dudó en manifestar sus preocupaciones al respecto. ‘En Estados Unidos hay dos caminos: la economía de libre mercado o el socialismo. ¡Y esta administración pretende llevarnos por el camino hacia el socialismo y un gobierno insostenible!,’ escribió Salazar en sus redes sociales. Reiteró su oposición al aumento de los impuestos en el país, pues considera que traerá repercusiones negativas para la economía nacional. ‘Como yo siempre digo: si el gobierno grande fuera la verdadera respuesta, entonces Venezuela debiera ser Suiza, y no lo es, porque mientras que el Estado le quita dinero a usted de Salazar: “Biden Is Proposing Socialism.” Salazar insisted that every time governments make decisions to raise taxes, these actions bring negative consequences because ‘people want to work less to pay less taxes,’ or companies increase the costs of their products and increase layoffs. In addition, multinationals could decide to continue their business in other countries. ‘Four years ago we demonstrated with the Trump administration that lowering taxes helped, and we have already seen the economic boom of the last three years. And now? Now we don’t know. Now what Biden is proposing is socialism and we immigrants know very well that socialism when it comes to the economy doesn’t work,’ she added.

To conclude, María Elvira Salazar considered that Joe Biden’s plan could be ‘very noble’ in theory, but totally ‘deluded’ in practice.” [CE Latin America Migration Spanish, 4/30/21] Translation

- Spanish Version: “Salazar insistió en que cada vez que los gobiernos toman decisiones en cuanto a subir los impuestos, estas acciones traen consecuencias negativas porque "la gente quiere trabajar menos para pagar menos impuestos," o las empresas aumentan los costos de sus productos e incrementan los despidos, además de que las multinacionales podrían decidir continuar sus negocios en otros países. ‘Hace cuatro años demostramos con la administración de Trump que bajar los impuestos ayudó, y ya vimos la bonanza económica de los últimos tres años. ¿Y ahora? Ahora no sabemos. Ahora lo que Biden está proponiendo es socialismo y nosotros los inmigrantes sabemos muy bien que el socialismo cuando se trata de la economía no funciona,’ agregó. Para concluir, María Elvira Salazar consideró que el plan de Joe Biden pudiera ser ‘muy noble’ en teoría, pero totalmente ‘iluso’ en la práctica.”

October 2020: Salazar Said, “Socialism Is Only One Thing, Hell” And That Democrats Are Trying To Impose It In The United States. “Salazar insisted that growth was synonymous with lower taxes. The best thing to do for the economy is to follow capitalism, he said, noting that Shalala had declared herself a ‘pragmatic socialist.’ ‘Socialism is one thing, hell,’ she said, indicating that it is what the Democratic Party is trying to impose.” [El Nuevo Herald, 10/21/20] Translation

Lo mejor que se puede hacer por la economía es seguir el capitalismo, dijo, al tiempo que señalaba que Shalala se había declarado ‘socialista pragmática.’ ‘El socialismo es una sola cosa, el infierno,’ expresó, indicando que es lo que está tratando de imponer el partido demócrata.”

2022: Salazar Connected Democrats To Marxists. “March 9. Rep. Salazar tells Linea Directa co-host Rodrigo Duran via telephone that ‘inside the Democratic Party there are very Marxist people who detest the United States, who consider that there has to be a radical change in how this country has been in the last 300 [sic] years.’ She falsely claims President Biden hasn’t sent weapons to Ukraine and that he ‘thought Putin wasn’t so bad’ because ‘in the State Department and in the White House there are people who think very close to the Marxists.’ Duran changes the subject, asking 'on behalf of listeners' why she and her two Cuban-American Republican counterparts in the House haven't defended Governor Ron DeSantis more.” [Florida Bulldog, 7/10/2022]
Salazar also called Biden racist.

2021: Salazar Accused Biden Of Subliminal Racism For Comments Made About Low Vaccination Rates In Minority Communities Because Of More Limited Internet Access. “And I just wanted to point out that in that same speech, Maria, he also talking about the Hispanics. And he also talks about COVID. And he said that we, the Hispanics, or the minorities, we do not know how to use the Internet. And that is why we’re not getting vaccinated. You know something? I think that’s subliminal racism. I think he spoke his heart. And we have been able to see what he’s really feeling, what’s in his mind. And I think that’s very disturbing for people like me. Once again, the Democrats want to use us, the Hispanics, and they’re playing political football with us. Something that I think is very troubling and very, very disturbing.” [Fox Business News Interview between MARIA BARTIROMO and Congresswoman Salazar, 2/17/2021]

Salazar called for the Space Force to be permanently located at Cape Canaveral.

2022: Salazar Joined With Colleagues To Call For The Space Force To Be Permanently Located At Cape Canaveral. “U.S Senators Marco Rubio (R-FL) and Rick Scott (R-FL) and Representatives Bill
Posey (R-FL), Stephanie Murphy (D-FL), and colleagues sent a letter to U.S Air Force Secretary Frank Kendall regarding his forthcoming selection of a permanent location for the U.S Space Force’s (USSF) Space Training and Readiness Command (STARCOM). The lawmakers urged Secretary Kendall to select Patrick Space Force Base and Cape Canaveral Space Force Station [...] Joining Rubio, Scott, Posey, and Murphy were Representatives Michael Waltz (R-FL), Carlos Gimenez (R-FL), Gus Bilirakis (R-FL), Mario Diaz-Balart (R-FL), Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL)…” [Impact News Service, 4/28/22]

Statehood

Puerto Rico & DC

Salazar introduced a bill to admit Puerto Rico as the 51st state, but voted against making DC a state.

Salazar Introduced A Bill To Admit Puerto Rico As The 51st State. “Today Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) joined Congresswoman Jenniffer Gonzalez-Colon (PR-AL) in introducing the Puerto Rico Statehood Admission Act to admit Puerto Rico as the 51st state of the union. ‘I am honored to join my friend and colleague, Congresswoman Jenniffer Gonzalez-Colon, in introducing this bipartisan bill that will admit the island of Puerto Rico, my childhood home, as the 51st state of the union!’ said Congresswoman Salazar. ‘The people of Puerto Rico are patriotic, hardworking, and passionate. The majority of the American citizens of Puerto Rico voted for statehood in 2020, and I look forward to seeing the Puerto Rican star on our American flag.’” [Salazar Press Release, 3/2/21]

2021: Salazar Voted Against Making DC A State. “Conferring D.C. Statehood: By a vote of 216-208, the House on April 22 passed a bill (HR 51) that would admit to the union a fifty-first state including most of the current District of Columbia. The new state named "Washington, Douglass Commonwealth" would give the more than 700,000 D.C. residents voting representation in Congress, adding two seats to the Senate and one in the House. A two-square-mile portion of the current District containing the Capitol, White House, Supreme Court and other principal federal government buildings would not be part of the new state. [...] Voting no: Matt Gaetz, R-1, Neal Dunn, R-2, Kat Cammack, R-3, John Rutherford, R-4, Michael Waltz, R-6, Bill Posey, R-8, Daniel Webster, R-11, Gus Bilirakis, R-12, Scott Franklin, R-15, Vern Buchanan, R-16, Greg Steube, R-17, Brian Mast, R-18, Byron Donalds, R-19, Mario Diaz-Balart, R-25, Carlos Gimenez, R-26, Maria Elvira Salazar, R-27” [Sarasota Herald Tribune, 4/25/21]

Puerto Rico

Salazar supported legislation to provide parity in Medicare and Medicaid services in Puerto Rico.

August 2022: Salazar Supported Legislation To Provide Parity In Medicare and Medicaid Services In Puerto Rico. “The pressure is concentrated on Senators Rubio and Scott to support initiatives that give parity to beneficiaries of federal programs in Puerto Rico such as Medicaid and Medicare Advantage. The House bill HR 7997 is sponsored by Darren Soto and Jennifer González and supported by Nidya Velázquez, María Elvira Salazar, Charlie Crist, Stephanie Murphie, and other business sectors that seek to provide parity in the services of the Medicare Savings Program.” [La Prensa, 8/11/22] Translation

Supreme Court

Supreme Court Justices

April 2021: Salazar Co-Sponsored H.J.Res. 11, Proposing An Amendment To The Constitution Of The United States To Require That The Supreme Court Of The United States Be Composed Of Nine Justices. The bill would propose a Constitutional amendment to fix the number of Justices on the Supreme Court at nine. The bill was introduced by Dusty Johnson and co-sponsored by 179 other Republicans, including Mo Brooks, Paul Gosar, Louie Gohmert, Marjorie Taylor Greene, Lauren Boebert, Andy Biggs, Ronny Jackson, Jim Banks, Elise Stefanik, and Madison Cawthorne. Taxes

Praised 2017 Republican Tax Bill

2018: Salazar praised the 2017 Republican tax bill that overwhelmingly benefited the wealthy and large corporations “as very beneficial to the U.S. economy and job growth” and said she would work to make the tax plan permanent.

2018: Salazar Said She Supported The Republican Tax Plan. “I will always support any legislative measure that puts more money in the pockets of the middle class. The Republican Tax Cut law was the right thing to do for our economy and our struggling middle class. I also believe, that tax cuts, combined with fewer regulations, have led to the explosive growth of our economy. As your elected representative, I will work with my colleagues to ensure that the tax cut law becomes permanent for everyone, not just corporations.” [MariaElvira.com, accessed 9/3/18]

2018: Salazar Said The Trump Corporate Tax Cuts Were “Very Beneficial To The U.S. Economy And Job Growth.” “The reduction in the corporate tax rate has been very beneficial to the U.S. economy and job growth, but we must also ensure that the corporations pay their fair share of taxes by closing current loopholes that have allowed them in the past to pay less than required.” [Salazar Campaign Website, Issues, archived 10/5/18]

2021: Salazar: The Trump Administration Showed That “Lowering Taxes Helped.” Salazar insisted that every time governments make decisions to raise taxes, these actions bring negative consequences because ‘people want to work less to pay less taxes,’ or companies increase the costs of their products and increase layoffs. In addition, multinationals could decide to continue their business in other countries. ‘Four years ago we demonstrated with the Trump administration that lowering taxes helped, and we have already seen the economic boom of the last three years. And now? Now we don’t know. Now what Biden is proposing is socialism and we immigrants know very well. well that socialism when it comes to the economy doesn’t work,’ she added. To conclude, María Elvira Salazar considered that Joe Biden’s plan could be ‘very noble’ in theory, but totally ‘deluded’ in practice.” [CE Latin America Migration Spanish, 4/30/21] Translation

2018: Salazar Promised To Work To Make All The Trump Tax Cuts Permanent – Not Just The Corporate Cuts. “I will always support any legislative measure that puts more money in the pockets of all hard-working Americans. The Republican Tax Cut law was the right thing to do for our economy and our struggling middle class. I also believe, that tax cuts, combined with fewer regulations, have led to the explosive growth of our economy. As your elected representative, I will work with my colleagues to ensure that the tax cut law becomes permanent for everyone, not just corporations.” [Salazar Campaign Website, Issues, archived 10/5/18]

CBO Estimated The Tax Cuts And Jobs Act Would Increase The Debt By $1.9 Trillion Over 10 Years. “The GOP's signature tax law is projected to increase the national debt by $1.9 trillion between 2018 and 2028, according to a new report by the Congressional Budget Office (CBO). According to the report, the tax law would cost the government $2.3 trillion in revenues, but economic growth would offset that figure by about $461 billion.” [The Hill, 4/9/18]

April 2018: CBO: The Republican Tax Law “Increases The Total Projected Deficit Over The 2018–2028 Period By About $1.9 Trillion.” “What Are the Act’s Projected Budgetary Effects? To construct its baseline budget projections, CBO incorporated the effects of the tax act, taking into account economic feedback—that is, the ways in which the act is likely to affect the economy and in turn affect the budget. Doing so raised the 11-year projection of the cumulative primary deficit (that is, the deficit excluding the costs of servicing the debt) by $1.3 trillion and raised projected debt-service costs by roughly $600 billion. The act therefore increases the total projected deficit over the 2018–2028 period by about $1.9 trillion.” [CBO Budget & Economic Outlook 2018 to 2028, Appendix B: The Effects of the 2017 Tax Act on CBO’s Economic and Budget Projects, p.105, April 2018]

S&P 500 Companies Could See $1.64 Trillion in Tax Cuts. “In other words, you can thank tax cuts for nearly half the growth in big-company earnings in the first quarter. For many companies – including a favorite target of Trump’s ire, Amazon.com Inc. – the boost was even more substantial, representing all, or nearly all, the quarter’s growth. It gets better: At the rate they’re going, S&P 500 companies could save $1.64 trillion in taxes over the next decade, Steve estimates – $300 billion more than lawmakers expected. Now we’re talking real money.” [Bloomberg News, 5/25/18]

Washington Post: Final Tax Bill Included A “Significant Tax Break For The Very Wealthy” And “A Massive Tax Cut For Corporations.” “A new tax cut for the rich: The final plan lowers the top tax rate for top earners. Under current law, the highest rate is 39.6 percent for married couples earning over $470,700. The GOP bill would drop that to 37 percent and raise the threshold at which that top rate kicks in, to $500,000 for individuals and $600,000 for married couples. This amounts to a significant tax break for the very wealthy, a departure from repeated claims by Trump and his top officials that the bill would not benefit the rich. [...] A massive tax cut for corporations: Starting on Jan. 1, 2018, big businesses’ tax rate would fall from 35 percent to just 21 percent, the largest one-time rate cut in U.S. history for the nation’s largest companies.” [Washington Post, 12/15/17]

Corporate Tax Cuts In The Tax Cuts And Jobs Act Cost Roughly $1 Trillion. “It still amounts to roughly a $1 trillion tax cut for businesses over the next decade. Republicans argue this will make the economy surge in the coming years, but most independent economists and Wall Street banks predict only a modest and short-lived boost to growth.” [Washington Post, 12/15/17]

Major Corporations Received Bulk of Tax Cuts. “Widespread publicity about corporations sharing a big slice of their huge Trump tax cuts with their workers through bonuses and wage hikes is mostly hype, this Americans for Tax Fairness analysis reveals. Even though America’s biggest corporations are poised to reap hundreds of billions in tax cuts, only 18 corporations in the Fortune 100 have announced any sort of employee benefits tied to those cuts, as of today. Only 46 of the Fortune 500—just 9%—have announced any plans to share the tax-cut wealth.” [Americans For Tax Fairness, 1/29/18]

The Atlantic: “The Richer The Family, The Bigger The Cut, Both In Absolute Terms And In Proportional Income” From The GOP Tax Bill. “The GOP tax bill operates by two simple principles. First, families at every income level can expect a tax cut—but the richer the family, the bigger the cut, both in absolute terms and in proportional income. Households making between $500,000 and $1 million would get a $21,000 tax cut in 2019 and their after-tax income would rise by 4.3 percent. That proportional gain is four times larger than the average after-tax benefit for a family making $40,000. Second, as time goes by, most families’ tax benefits would shrink—with the major exception being the most affluent. Most of the plan’s individual tax cuts end after 2025. This provision is necessary (because of the procedure congressional Republicans chose for the bill) to pay for a permanent corporate tax cut whose benefits flow mostly through capital gains and dividends to shareholders. The bars below illustrate this effect: The tax cuts shrink between 2018 and 2025 before disappearing for all levels in 2027—except for the richest households, the ones with the most money invested in stocks, who will still be reaping the benefits of lower corporate taxes.” [The Atlantic, 12/19/17]

The Tax Cut Benefitted The Top 1% Of Earners And “Will Reap More Than 20% Of The Total Value Of The Tax Cut, Roughly The Same Amount As Americans In The Bottom 60% Of The Income Distribution.” “No one in the middle class is going to turn up their nose at an extra thousand bucks. But critics have been pointing out that the tax bill could have done much more for middle earners. That $900... pales in comparison to the average $51,000 tax cut that Americans in the top 1% of earners — those taking home $733,000 and up — will reap. Overall, the 1% will reap more than 20% of the total value of the tax cut, roughly the same amount as Americans in the bottom 60% of the income distribution, the Tax Policy Center found.” [Time, 12/20/17]

2018: Salazar: “We, Cuban Americans, Have Always Been Conservative. And What Do #Conservatives Want? We Want Freedom, We Want To Pay Fewer Taxes.” On April 27, 2018, Salazar posted on Twitter: “We, Cuban Americans, have always been conservative. And what do #Conservatives want? Opposed American Rescue Plan

February 2021: Salazar voted against the American Rescue Plan, which cut taxes for the middle class by expanding the child tax credit and earned income tax credit.

Salazar Voted Against Passage Of The American Rescue Plan Act. In February 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2021 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, comprising a coronavirus relief package that would provide roughly $1.9 trillion in funding to further address the health and economic effects of COVID-19, including approximately $350 billion in direct aid to state and local governments; $47.8 billion for testing and contact tracing; $168 billion to assist educational institutions; and $50 billion to assist small businesses. It would extend and increase federal unemployment compensation benefits for 24 weeks and increase the weekly amount to $400; provide tax rebates of $1,400 for individuals with incomes of $75,000 or less; extend or expand a number of employer and individual tax credits, including credits to subsidize health insurance premiums; and gradually increase the federal minimum wage to $15 per hour. Among other provisions, the bill would provide $195.3 billion for direct assistance to states and $130.2 billion for local governments; $128.6 billion through fiscal 2023 for an Education Department elementary and secondary school emergency relief fund and $39.6 billion for grants to higher education institutions, including to provide emergency financial aid; and continue the 15% increase in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits through September 2021. It would provide $47.8 billion for COVID-19 testing and contact tracing; $7.5 billion for vaccine administration and distribution; and $6.1 billion for vaccine and therapeutic development, manufacturing and procurement. It would require Medicaid and the Children’s Health Insurance Program to fully cover the cost of COVID-19 vaccines. It would expand eligibility in 2021 and 2022 for federal tax subsidies toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums, including to fully cover premium costs for individuals earning up to 150% of the federal poverty level and cap premiums at 8.5% of household income. It would provide $50 billion for small business assistance, including $25 billion for restaurants. It would provide $30.5 billion for transit, $18 billion for airline and aviation manufacturing industry payroll support; and $4 billion for Agriculture Department pandemic-related assistance. It would incrementally increase the federal minimum wage annually to reach $15 per hour in 2025, including for tipped workers, teens and workers with disabilities. It would create a program to provide financial assistance to multiemployer pension plans.” The bill passed by a vote of 219-212. [HR 1319, Vote #Vote #49, 2/27/21; CQ, 2/27/21]
The American Rescue Plan Expanded The Child Tax Credit “From $2,000 Per Child To $3,000 Per Child For Children Over The Age Of Six And From $2,000 To $3,600 For Children Under The Age Of Six.” “The American Rescue Plan increased the Child Tax Credit from $2,000 per child to $3,000 per child for children over the age of six and from $2,000 to $3,600 for children under the age of six, and raised the age limit from 16 to 17. All working families will get the full credit if they make up to $150,000 for a couple or $112,500 for a family with a single parent (also called Head of Household).” [White House, accessed 6/1/22]

The American Rescue Plan Expanded The Earned Income Tax Credit From $543 To $1,502. “Many Americans will pocket some extra money this year and next courtesy of changes the American Rescue Plan made to a handful of tax credits. […] The earned income tax credit is a refundable tax credit for lower-earning working families. Its amount depends on income and number of kids. Changes to the credit will largely go workers without kids, experts said. Their maximum benefit was tripled, to about $1,502 from $543, according to the Tax Foundation. That’s a function of raising the income level at which taxpayers can get the maximum credit and at which the maximum credit begins to phase out. (Those levels are now $9,820 and $11,610, respectively, for non-joint filers.)” [CNBC, 4/3/21]

Opposed Build Back Better

November 2021: Salazar voted against the Build Back Better Act which would cut taxes for the middle class and make corporations and the ultra-wealthy start to pay their fair share. Salazar called the plan “socialist” and claimed it would be “one of the biggest tax increases in history.”

Salazar Voted Against The Build Back Better Act. In November 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a “maximum fair price” for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program’s debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-213. [HR 5376, Vote #Vote #385, 11/19/21; CQ, 11/19/21]

Build Back Better Would Lower Taxes On Middle Class And Working Families By Extending Increases In The Child Tax Credit And The Earned Income Tax Credit. “Cut taxes for families and workers. Prior to the pandemic, 17% of children under the age of 18 in Florida lived in poverty. The Build Back Better framework will bolster financial security and spur economic growth in Florida by reducing taxes on the middle class and those striving to break into it. The framework will extend Child Tax Credit (CTC) increases of $300/month per child under 6 or $250/month per child ages 6 to 17. This will continue the largest one-year reduction in child poverty in history. And critically, the agreement includes permanent refundability for the Child Tax Credit, meaning that the neediest families will continue to receive the full Child Tax Credit over the long-run. The framework will also provide a tax cut of up to $1,500 in tax cuts for more than 1.3 million low-wage workers in Florida by extending the American Rescue Plan’s Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) expansion.” [Florida BBB State Fact Sheet, 10/1/21]

Build Back Better Would Make Sure That Wealthiest Americans And The Biggest Corporations Begin To Pay Their Fair Share In Federal Taxes, And Would Not Raise Taxes On Anyone Making Less Than $400,000 A Year. “The Build Back Better Act is fiscally responsible. It reduces the deficit over the long-term. It’s fully paid for by making sure that the wealthiest Americans and biggest corporations begin to pay their fair share in federal taxes. It keeps my commitment that no one earning less than $400,000 a year will pay a penny more in federal taxes.” [The White House, Press Release, 11/19/21]
The Build Back Better Act Would Raise $1.85 Trillion Over Ten Years To Pay For Health Care, Child Care And Address Child Poverty. “The Build Back Better (BBB) legislation before the House would raise a reported $1.85 trillion over ten years to pay for critical investments to reduce child poverty; make health care, child care, and housing more affordable; and address climate change.” [Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, 11/2/21]

The Build Back Better Act Would Raise Revenue By Increasing Taxes For The Richest Americans, Reduce Tax Advantages For Large Corporations And Improve Enforcement Of Tax Laws. “Moreover, while many of the BBB investments are temporary, the bulk of the tax provisions are permanent and so would continue raising revenue after ten years. The legislation would raise revenue in three main ways: requiring people with high incomes to pay a fairer amount of tax, reducing unwarranted tax advantages for profitable corporations (particularly large multinationals), and improving enforcement of the nation’s tax laws to close the roughly $600 billion annual gap between taxes legally owed and taxes paid — a gap disproportionately due to high-income filers’ noncompliance with the law. Together, these measures would make the tax code more equitable and adequate.” [Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, 11/2/21]

- The Build Back Better Act Would Raise $650 Billion Over Ten Years By Imposing A 5% Surtax On Multimillionaires, Closing The Net Investment Income Loophole And Limiting Excess Business Loans. “BBB imposes a new 5 percent surtax on households with adjusted gross income (AGI) above $10 million and an additional 3 percent tax (for a combined 8 percent) on those with AGI above $25 million. This would raise $230 billion over ten years, according to the Biden Administration. [...] High-income people pay a 3.8 percent Medicare tax on their wages and self-employment income. In 2010, Congress enacted a parallel 3.8 percent tax on high-income people’s net investment income. The tax, however, was designed with a large loophole: some income of high-income people who own pass-through businesses — including partnerships and S corporations — doesn’t face either 3.8 percent tax. This gives high-income professionals, such as lawyers or investment fund managers, a significant incentive to recharacterize their income, or rearrange their business operations, to avoid the tax. BBB closes this loophole, raising $250 billion over ten years. [...] BBB makes permanent a provision of the 2017 tax law that limits the amount of business losses that high-income owners of pass-through businesses can deduct from their non-business income, such as capital gains. [...] Making the provision permanent will raise $170 billion over ten years. [...] The high-income components of BBB described above represent sound policy and will raise $650 billion over ten years.” [Center on Budget and Policy Priorities, 11/2/21]

2021: Salazar Called Proposals By President Biden Before A Joint Session Of Congress “Socialist.” “Republican Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar said Thursday that the economic plan pushed by U.S. Democratic President Joe Biden seeks to implement socialist policies that will lead to the debacle of the national economy. The Cuban-American, a congresswoman for Florida's 27th arrondissement, considered biden's speech the night before from Congress, about the first 100 days of her administration, to make clear her "socialist" intentions in economic matters. The Republican did not hesitate to express her concerns about it.” [Periódico Cubano, 4/30/2021]
• The Speech Salazar Called “Socialist” Called For Universal Pre-K, And The Extension Of The Child Tax Credit Through 2025, Among Other Policies Designed To Assist American Families.

“The sprawling “American Families Plan,” laid out by senior administration officials on Tuesday night, would invest $200 billion in universal prekindergarten and more than $100 billion in free community college. It would extend the expanded child tax credit through 2025 and ensure that the benefit is more accessible to low-income families by making it permanently refundable. And it would set aside $225 billion to create the country’s first national paid family and medical leave program.” [Politico, 4/28/2021]

• 2021: Local Area Healthcare Advocates And Union Workers Criticized Salazar For Opposition To The Build Back Better Due To The Rising Cost Of Prescription Drugs And The Need To Extend The Child Tax Credit.

“Healthcare advocates and union workers met Friday morning outside of Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar's district office in Miami in response to her opposition of President Joe Biden's ‘Build Back Better’ agenda. The group spoke in support of Biden’s 'Build Back Better' agenda, particularly on the health care aspect of the plan, which seeks to lower costs of prescriptions as well as health care in general. 'It is not a partisan issue that drug costs in this country have been moving in the wrong direction, getting more prohibitively expensive without any checks being put on unscrupulous large pharmaceutical companies,' William Miller, Protect Our Care Florida state director, said in a statement[...] Those at the event also criticized U.S. Rep. Carlos Gimenez, along with Salazar, for inaction in regard to lowering prescription drug prices for Floridians and providing more pandemic relief, like extending the child tax credit” [Florida Politics.com, 9/18/2021]

• When The Child Tax Credit That Salazar Called “Socialist” Expired In 2022, Over 2,000 Florida Families Stopped Receiving The Child Tax Credit.

November 2021: Salazar Said The Build Back Better Act Was “One Of The Biggest Tax Increases In History” And It Was “False” That It Would Cost $0.

“Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar, a Miami Republican, agreed. ‘As Americans face the highest rate of inflation in 30 years, House Democrats just passed one of the biggest tax increases in history,’ she posted. 'The White House said their #BuildBackBroke agenda would cost $0, but that proved to be false. House Dems passed this bill based on a lie. Shame.’” [Florida Politics, 11/19/21]

Opposed Higher Taxes On Corporations

July 2022: Salazar criticized Democrats in Congress for wanting “to spend more money and tax corporations.”

[VIDEO] July 2022: Salazar Said Democrats In Congress “Want To Spend More Money And Tax Corporations.” “It doesn’t matter the political party; Democrat, Republican, Independent. Right now if you got the super market one out of four Americans cannot buy everything they need because they don’t have the money. One out of two cannot fill the gas tank because it’s too much money per gallon, so that is miserable. Four years ago we were in a much better position. The reason why I came to Congress was to help not only the Americans but District 27. We haven’t done it. Why? Because Nancy Pelosi is in charge of the House of Representatives and they have not brought one bill that will lower, forget about inflation, affordability. You cannot afford what you need. Gas, eggs, buying uniforms for your children, finding people to work in your shop. And what have we done? Well the Democrats want to spend more money and tax corporations.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, Brian Mudd Interview, 8/2/22]

Corporate Tax Loopholes

Salazar said she supported closing corporate tax loopholes.

Salazar Supported Closing Corporate Tax Loopholes To Make Corporations Pay Their Fair Share. “The reduction in the corporate tax rate has been very beneficial to the U.S. economy and job growth, but we must also ensure that the corporations pay their fair share of taxes by closing current loopholes that have allowed them in the past to pay less than required.” [Salazar Campaign Website, Issues, archived 10/5/18]

Salazar cosponsored legislation to create a short form tax return.

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Create A Short Form Tax Return. “Rep. Don S. Beyer, D-Va., has introduced legislation (H.R. 6057) to "create a short form tax return to simplify the return process for certain taxpayers living abroad." The bill was introduced on Nov. 19 and was co-sponsored by Reps. Dina Titus, D-Nev., Carolyn B. Maloney, D-N.Y., and Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla. It was referred to the House Ways and Means Committee.” [Targeted News Service, 11/22/21]

Stands With Trump

In August 2022, Salazar tweeted that the FBI raid of Mar-A-Lago was “extremely troubling.” In Spanish, Salazar was more extreme and promoted conspiracy theories. Salazar said, “government institutions, in this case the FBI and DOJ, are being weaponized as political threats” and “government institutions” were being used to “politically assault the opposition.” She was even more extreme on Spanish television, falsely claiming that there was “empirical evidence” of business dealings between Hunter Biden and China that should be “investigated.”

Salazar Tweeted That The FBI Raid On Mar A Lago Was “Extremely Troubling.” “It’s extremely troubling that the FBI raided the home of a former President. America cannot go down the path of countries like Cuba & Nicaragua that turn government agencies into weapons for those in power.” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 8/9/22]
August 2022: Salazar: “Government Institutions, In This Case The FBI And DOJ, Are Being Weaponized As Political Threats.” In August 2022, during a televised interview, Salazar stated in Spanish “this type of situation, in which government institutions like the FBI and DOJ, are being weaponized to threaten political opponents, this happens in Nicaragua, where [Daniel] Ortega jai[ed 7 presidential candidates.” [Twitter, Maria Elvira Salazar, 08/10/22, 0:05/0:41]

August 2022: Salazar: “They're Using Government Institutions To Politically Assault The Opposition.” In a Spanish-language video interview shared to her Twitter account, Salazar said of the FBI’s search of Trump’s home “the great evil in all of this is that they are using government instruments and institutions to politically assault the opposition.” [Twitter, Maria Elvira Salazar, 08/13/22, 0:30/1:09]

- Spanish version: “El gran satán de todo esto es que están usando los instrumentos y las instituciones del gobierno para agredir políticamente a la oposición.”

August 2022: Salazar Falsely Claimed That There Was Empirical Evidence Of Backdoor Deals Between Hunter Biden And China Has Not Been Investigated. In a televised interview segment about the FBI’s search of Trump’s home on America TeVe, Salazar stated in Spanish “How can it be that we know there’s empirical evidence against President Biden’s son, including a computer that might detail business wrongdoings with the Chinese? Why has that not been investigated?” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar via AmericaTeVe, 08/09/22, 5:08/16:46]

- Spanish version: “Como es posible que sabemos que hay evidencia empírica en contra de el hijo del Presidente Biden, donde sabemos que hay una computadora donde pueden haber manejos turbios el gobierno de China.”

January 2021: Salazar voted not to impeach Trump following the Capitol attack on January 6th.

Salazar Voted Not To Impeach Trump For His Role In The Capitol Riot. “Miami’s three Republicans in the House of Representatives voted against impeaching President Donald Trump over his role in a deadly riot at the U.S. Capitol that led to five deaths. Reps. Carlos Gimenez, Mario Diaz-Balart and Maria Elvira Salazar all voted against one article of impeachment, titled ‘incitement of insurrection’ and drafted by Democrats within hours of last week’s riot. Every Democrat in the House, including South Florida Reps. Frederica Wilson, Debbie Wasserman Schultz, Alcee Hastings and Ted Deutch, voted in favor of impeaching Trump. [...] The article of impeachment passed the House of Representatives on a 232-197 vote, with 10 Republicans joining Democrats to send the impeachment article to the U.S. Senate. Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell said a potential trial would not begin before Trump's term ends on Jan. 20.” [Miami Herald, 1/13/21]
In a blog post from September 2019, Salazar denied that Trump had conditioned military aid to Ukraine on the country launching criminal investigations of the Biden family, and claimed that “government officials” with “an axe to grind” were sabotaging the president.

Salazar Disclaimed That Her Entire Post Was Based On A Single Document And Everything Was “Subject To Revision.” “The story surrounding the potential impeachment of president Trump is an evolving story, so everything I write here is subject to revision. But from what we know right now from the transcript of the conversation between the president and the president of Ukraine, the claim that president Trump offered a quid pro quo to president Zelensky of Ukraine—requesting damaging information about former vice president Biden and his son Hunter Biden in exchange for (the release of) military aid—is entirely circumstantial not at all demanded by the text.” [MariaSalazar.com, 9/27/19]

Salazar Said The Claim That Trump Offered A Quid Pro Quo Was Not Supported By The Transcript. “The story surrounding the potential impeachment of president Trump is an evolving story, so everything I write here is subject to revision. But from what we know right now from the transcript of the conversation between the president and the president of Ukraine, the claim that president Trump offered a quid pro quo to president Zelensky of Ukraine—requesting damaging information about former vice president Biden and his son Hunter Biden in exchange for (the release of) military aid—is entirely circumstantial not at all demanded by the text.” [MariaSalazar.com, 9/27/19]

Salazar Said That There The Transcript Show “No Discernable Intent [By Trump] To Manipulate The Conversation To Advance ‘His Own Interests.’” “I have read the transcript and the NYT’s spin on the “favor” president Trump is asking of the president Zelensky. According to the NYT, the sale of the anti-tank Javelin missiles the president made contingent on investigating Joe Biden, among other things. But in fact, it was not president Trump who brought up the subject of missiles, but president Zelensky himself! As I read the transcript, there is no discernable intent to manipulate the conversation to advance “his own interests.” [MariaSalazar.com, 9/27/19]

Salazar Claimed That Zelensky Himself Denied He Had Felt Pressured By Trump To Investigate The Bidens. “But president Zelensky has recently confirmed that the president did not pressure him to investigate Biden or his son Hunter. In fact, Zelensky seems clearly stunned by the spin put on the conversation by the critics of the president.”

- After Trump Lost, Zelensky And His Administration “Opened Up To The Media About The Pressure Campaign Mounted By Trump And His Allies.” “For a year and half, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky and his aides said little about their interactions with Giuliani, not wanting to anger an emissary of the U.S. President. But now, as the Trump era ends with a historic second impeachment trial, the Ukrainians have begun to speak up about the circumstances that led to the first. They are also taking steps that could imperil Giuliani and his Ukrainian allies... Zelensky’s government has taken legal action against Giuliani’s Ukrainian associates. And they have opened up to the media about the pressure campaign mounted by Trump and his allies.” [TIME, 2/9/21]

- Zelensky And His Advisors Felt That They Were “In Grave Danger” Even Before Their Phone Call With Trump. “But from Ukraine’s perspective, the call put the Zelensky government in a perilous position. “That first phone call left me in a state of shock,” says Novikov, who participated in the call along with Andriy Yermak, then a top adviser to Zelensky and currently his chief of staff. “After we hung up the phone, without a shadow of a doubt I knew that we were in grave danger.”” [TIME, 2/9/21]

- Ukraine Would Have Launched Investigations Of Hunter Biden After Trump Froze $400 Million In Military Aid In 2019, And Only Did Not Do So Because The Whistleblower Came Forward. “Trump ordered a freeze on some $400 million in aid to Ukraine in the summer of 2019. After learning of the move, Zelensky and his aides prepared to announce the investigations that Trump and Giuliani wanted. But before they went through with it, a complaint from a whistleblower inside the White House exposed Giuliani’s pressure campaign, and Trump agreed to release the aid to Ukraine. Looking back on those events, Zelensky’s advisers still wonder what the fallout would have been if those investigations of the Biden family had been opened. “The consequences could have been catastrophic,” says Yermak, the chief of staff to Ukraine’s president. “I think we avoided domestic American politics,” he tells TIME. “At least that was our mission all along.”” [TIME, 2/9/21]

Salazar Said The Whistleblower Was Passing Along Hearsay, And That The Information Was Probably Coming From Government Officials “With An Axe To Grind Against The President.” “Furthermore, there is one major problem with the whistleblower’s statement. He claims that he has been informed of various “facts.” No Mr. Whistleblower, you were informed of allegations whose factuality has not been established! The only thing, Sir, that is factual is that you were told these things, not that these things are factual or true. For all you know, these “government officials” have an axe to grind against the president, and what they gave you was their spin of what they heard.” [MariaSalazar.com, 9/27/19]

October 2018: Salazar was attacked for being too in line with Trump.

2018: Salazar Was Attacked For Being In Line With Trump On His Tax Law That Raised Middle Class Taxes And Insurance Premiums. “Today, the DCCC announced a new Spanish-language television ad in Florida’s 27th Congressional District, showing how Maria #BravoTrump Salazar is completely in line with President Trump’s policies […] TRANSCRIPT: He likes to tweet. A lot. So does Maria Elvira Salazar- a loyal Trump follower. Salazar tweeted out ‘Bravo #Trump’. She praised Trump when he signed a law that will raise taxes on middle class families. And raised healthcare premiums. And she's endorsed by a group that wants to privatize Social Security and Medicare. ‘Bravo #Trump’? More like - Maria Elvira Salazar is hashtag With Trump not Miami.” [DCCC.org, Press Release, 10/18/18]

2018: Salazar called Trump a “special person.”

2017: Salazar repeatedly supported Trump.
2017: Salazar Retweeted Trump And Used His Phrase “Bad Hombres.” On July 29, 2017, Salazar retweeted Trump and wrote on Twitter: “Yes @POTUS, kick out #ms13 & all the #badhombres! But let’s also focus on solving poverty & unemployment in our own backyard. Big Challenge!” [Maria Elvira Salazar Twitter, 7/29/17]

2017: Salazar: “There Is No Question That It Will Be An Uphill Battle To Pin Malfeasance On President Trump.” On June 9, 2017, Salazar posted on Twitter: “There is NO question that it will be an uphill battle to pin malfeasance on president #Trump. #POTUS.” [Maria Elvira Salazar, 6/9/17]

2016: Salazar said she voted for Trump because she thought Clinton would be indicted.

Salazar Said She Voted For Trump In 2016 Because She Was Afraid Clinton Would Get Indicted. “As Ms. Salazar has tried to portray herself as a centrist who might back a ban on assault weapons and citizenship for some undocumented immigrants, Ms. Shalala has tried to tie her to Mr. Trump. Ms. Salazar said she voted for Mr. Trump in 2016 ‘because I was afraid that Hillary was going to get indicted.’” [New York Times, 10/2/18]

Pardons

Summary:

Trump Pardon

Salazar called for Trump to pardon a man convicted of conspiring to distribute marijuana.

2020: Salazar Supported Pardoning A Man Convicted Of Conspiring To Distribute Marijuana.

“President Trump granted a full pardon to Cesar Lozada. This act of clemency is supported by U.S. Representative-elect Maria Elvira Salazar and members of Mr. Lozada's community. Mr. Lozada, an immigrant from Cuba, started a small business cleaning and servicing pools in Miami-Dade County. Since then, his business, now a pool equipment company, has grown and employs dozens of people. Today's pardon addresses a mistake Mr. Lozada made in 2004 of conspiring to distribute marijuana, for which Mr. Lozada took full responsibility, served his sentence of 14 months in prison and 3 years supervised release, and paid a $10,000 fine. Mr. Lozada volunteers on weekends at a charity mission and serves food to the poor.” [States News Service, 12/23/20]

Russia

In 2017, Salazar said it had not been determined yet if there was collusion between Trump and the Russians, adding, “there is an investigation, but beyond that.”

2017: Salazar Was Praised By A Right-Wing Media Watchdog For Not Letting A Guest On Her Show Get Away With Saying That There Are Investigations Of Collusion Between Trump And The Russians. “But the truth is that not all Spanish-language television networks in the United States are the same. El Mega Noticiero, which is presented nationally from Miami through DirecTV, as well as through affiliates in various cities throughout the country, is clearly breaking with the pattern and tone of news coverage that prevails among its rivals. Critical Of Trump

Salazar criticized Trump’s rhetoric.
2019: Salazar: “Trump Has Not Picked The Right Words In Many Occasions, But He Has Picked The Right Policies.” “In Florida, Republicans are expecting another rematch with journalist Maria Elvira Salazar, who plans to face off again against Rep. Donna Shalala, a Cabinet official under President Clinton who won her House seat in November [...] ‘Trump has not picked the right words in many occasions, but he has picked the right policies,’ Ms. Salazar said.” [Washington Times, 9/5/19]

2018: Salazar Said Trump “Used Pretty Insensitive Words” When Talking About Minorities. “During an interview with the Miami Herald Editorial Board, the former broadcast journalist and political commentator opened up about her political platform, which had been unclear to the point that Donna Shalala, her Democratic opponent, could barely identify how they differ. Salazar said she wants to do ‘whatever makes sense to the community,’ even if it means ‘respectfully’ standing up to President Donald Trump, whom she called an ‘unconventional figure.’ ‘The president has used pretty insensitive words,’ Salazar said of Trump’s rhetoric on minorities. ‘I will talk to him in a nice, respectful way, because I do respect the institution of the presidency. I respect the American electoral process and the American electoral process gave this result.’” [Miami Herald, 9/26/18]

2018: A Republican Rival Released A Video Attacking Salazar For Referring To Trump As A “Monster.” “Maria Elvira Salazar is now being bashed by a former rival in the Republican primary for Florida’s 27th Congressional District. Former candidate Stephen Marks, who came in fourth in the nine-person contest, has launched a new website and PAC, called MiamiAmerica. [...] Among the claims made in those videos are that Salazar once called Trump a ‘monster,’ that she does not see abortion as immoral, and that she proposed banning semi-automatic weapons. While Salazar’s ‘monster’ comments are heavily edited in the MiamiAmerica clip, a review of her fuller remarks by Florida Politics shows that she was discussing the matchup between Jeb Bush and Trump in the Republican primary. Of that campaign, Salazar says Jeb was forced to ‘confront the monster.’ It’s not clear whether she is simply saying that as a figure of speech or actually labeling Trump a monster. A request for comment from the Salazar campaign was not returned.” [Florida Politics, 10/16/18]

Critical Of Anti-Trump Press Coverage

2018: Salazar said some journalists were “bad apples” who “just do not like” Trump.

Asked About Trump’s Attacks On The Press, Salazar Said She Defends The Press But That Some Journalists Were “Bad Apples” Who “Just Do Not Like” Trump. “[ANCHOR:] since you are, as you mentioned, a former journalist, this president has spoken about the press in this country in ways that some people have called Stalinist. He has said that we are the enemy of the people. Do you agree with that, first of all, and what would you say to the president about the press and whether or not they deserve to be defended. [SALAZAR:] Oh no, no. We have the best press in the world. I was Central American Bureau Chief for Univision so I know the difference between the Latin American press and the American press and we have a very good press corps. So I defend the press because I was one of yours up until January of this year. I believe that what happens is some journalists – there are bad apples in this industry just like any other – and some journalists, and I’m sure that you agree with this, just do not like the guy. They don’t like him in their gut. And that’s the problem – it’s not important if we like the person or not, we need to continue doing our job, being impartial, being unbiased because in that way we gain our credibility. And unfortunately sometimes that’s not happening in American mainstream media.” [MSNBC, 9/9/18]

Ukraine & Russia

No Fly Zone

At the beginning of the war in Ukraine, Salazar said that she supported a ‘no-fly zone’ over Ukraine, drawing fire from local media, including the Miami Herald who called her “ill prepared.”

Salazar Said “I Support Everything That Has To Do With Punishing Vladimir Putin And Supporting Ukrainians” When Asked If She Supported A No-Fly Zone. “Last week, a reporter on the street asked Congresswoman Maria Salazar (R., Fla.) whether she supported a no-fly zone in Ukraine. “I support everything that has to do with punishing Vladimir Putin and helping the Ukrainians,” she said. When asked whether that would “mean direct conventional warfare with Russia, she responded, “I don’t know what it would mean, but you know, freedom is not free.” The reporter pushed back: “So you don’t know what a no-fly zone would mean — you do have to shoot down Russian planes.” “Of course!” Salazar said.” [National Review, 3/17/22]

- 2022: Salazar Said She “Absolutely” Supported A No-Fly Zone. “A Republican congresswoman has been ridiculed online for supporting a no-fly zone above Ukraine even though she allegedly does not "know what it will mean". Maria Elvira Salazar, who represents Florida’s 27th congressional district, told reporters she "absolutely" supported Ukrainian president Volodymyr Zelensky 's calls for a no-fly zone when asked on Wednesday.” [The Independent, 3/10/22]

Salazar Dismissed Concerns About Nuclear Retaliation As “Hypothetical.” “In fairness, one could see how Salazar’s “of course!” in the initial video clip was meant as a response to the reporter’s query about the meaning of a no-fly zone rather than an endorsement of the U.S. military shooting down Russian planes. When pressed, however, on the potential dangers of a no-fly zone, the congresswoman repeatedly dismissed concerns about nuclear retaliation as ‘hypothetical.’” [National Review, 3/17/22]

2022: Salazar Voiced Support For A No-Fly Zone In Ukraine, But Said She Didn’t Know “What It Will Mean.” “A Republican congresswoman has been ridiculed online for supporting a no-fly zone above Ukraine even though she allegedly does not "know what it will mean". Maria Elvira Salazar, who represents Florida’s 27th congressional district, told reporters she "absolutely" supported Ukrainian president Volodymyr Zelensky 's calls for a no-fly zone when asked on Wednesday. [...] "Absolutely, I support everything that has to do with punishing Vladimir Putin and helping the Ukrainians," Ms Salazar said when asked whether or not she supported a no fly zone in Ukraine while adding, "I don’t know what it will mean but freedom is not free". [The Independent, 3/10/22]

2022: Salazar Was Pushed About Her Comment Regarding A No-Fly Zone. “When the reporter asked if she knew a no-fly zone could mean "conventional warfare with Russia," she replied, "I don’t know what it will mean but, you know, freedom is not free." He followed up, "So you don’t know what a no-fly zone would mean, if you have to shoot down Russian planes, I mean . . ." Salazar responded: "Of course." [Miami Herald, 3/17/22]

- 2022: Salazar Was Accused By Tucker Carlson Of Suggesting The United States Go To War With Russia. “[Carlson]: So since you have called for war with Russia, how do you think that war once it begins would play out? SALAZAR: I think that’s a hypothetical question. I think that we should concentrate, Tucker in what Zelenskyy asked Congress today, which is – CARLSON: I’m sorry -- I can’t -- and I am in no way trying to cut you off, but I can’t let you elide over that. You said we should shoot down Russian planes. That’s of course war. Since you’ve called for that, and you are a member of Congress – SALAZAR: Well, I didn’t say that. I think – CARLSON: Well, you said that on the tape we played.” [Fox News with Tucker Carlson, 3/16/22]

- 2022: Salazar Was Pushed By Carlson And Said We Should Keep The No-Fly Zone On The Table. “And my position is that we should not take the no-fly zone off the table...” [Fox News with Tucker Carlson, 3/16/22]

2022: The Miami Herald Blasted Salazar For Not Knowing What She Is Talking About In Terms Of Ukraine. “At another point in time, FOX News host Tucker Carlson’s dressing down of Miami U.S. Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar’s gaffe about the war in Ukraine would’ve been entertaining material for late-night comics. But in a time of international crisis, her words -- and her grasp of a serious national security issue -- matter. She needs to know what she’s talking about. And she doesn’t.” [Miami Herald, 3/17/22]

- 2022: The Herald Said Salazar Is “Ill-Prepared” To Be A Member Of The House Foreign Affairs Committee. “Nevertheless, Carlson, though disingenuous, is a skilled debater and he exposed how ill-prepared Salazar seems to be as a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.” [Miami Herald, 3/17/22]

- 2022: The Herald Said, Salazar “Couldn’t Elaborate Her Stances Beyond The Cliché.” “Salazar appears to be trying to catch a ride to reelection this fall on the "Biden is weak" bandwagon, but she couldn't elaborate her stances beyond the cliche, "We acquire peace through strength." She gave a lot of pat solutions, such as that the United States should support whatever Ukrainians think is best for their country.” [Miami Herald, 3/17/22]

American Policy

Salazar believed the United States should comply with all aid requests that Ukraine made to the United States.

Salazar Said “It’s Embarrassing That [Zelensky] Has Come To Congress To Beg” For Aid. ““My position is that we should not take a no-fly zone off the table,” she told Carlson. “But before that, that’s two — we need to do one. And one is to give Zelensky exactly what he’s asking for. No troops on the ground. Let’s give him the MiGs and S-300s, what he needs to defend his own airspace, so that he can create his own no-fly zone. And I think that’s what we should have done months ago. It’s embarrassing that this guy — this president who is under the bullets — has come to Congress to beg for us to give him something we should have done a long time ago.”” [National Review, 3/17/22]

Salazar said that the transfer for military aid “should have [been] done a long time ago.” Salazar never condemned and does not appear to have ever even commented on Donald Trump’s decision to withhold military aid unless Zelensky launched investigations of the Biden family, for which he was impeached.

Salazar Asked “Who Am I To Say What’s Correct And What’s Incorrect Coming From Zelensky?” And Said American Lawmakers “Are No One To Say Something To The Contrary.” “That remarkable turn of phrase — “it’s embarrassing” that Zelensky “has come to Congress to beg for us to give him something we should have done a long time ago” — seems to color Salazar’s view of foreign policy. “Who am I to say what’s correct and what’s incorrect coming from Zelensky?” she said of a potential declaration of NATO neutrality for Ukraine. When pressed further on that position, she reiterated: “If Zelensky comes to the United States Congress and he says that this is the best path forward, we are no one to say something to the contrary.” Tucker retorted that Salazar was “an American policy-maker.” But it didn’t seem to register. “If the Ukrainians want to go that route, they have the right to and we are no one to say anything about it because they are the ones dying on the streets and they are the ones under siege,” she maintained.” [National Review, 3/17/22]

Salazar voted for billions in aide to Ukraine.

2022: Salazar Voted For Legislation To Provide $14 Billion In Aid To Ukraine. “The Senate voted 68-31 to approve a $1.5 trillion spending plan to fund the federal government for the rest of the current fiscal year, which lasts through September. The package included roughly $14 billion in aid to Ukraine meant to provide assistance to the European nation as it resists an invasion from Russia. The legislation, which passed the House the previous evening with bipartisan support, was the result of months of negotiation between Democrats and Republicans. It will prevent any threat of a government shutdown until October. [...] The House passed the bill the previous evening by a bipartisan vote of 361-69. South Florida Republican Reps. Mario Diaz-Balart, Maria Elvira Salazar and Carlos Gimenez all joined majority Democrats in supporting the measure.” [Miami Herald, 3/11/22]
Salazar said Biden was weak on Ukraine.

2022: Salazar Blasted A Biden Speech On Ukraine As Weak. “Biden's statements on Russia were equally rebuffed by U.S. Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar, a freshman Republican from Miami, who said his announcements on Russia were too weak and said that the administration needs to block the purchase of Russian oil in the wake of the invasion of Ukraine. "We're still paying for oil. We're paying for the war, the invasion of a sovereign country," she said.” [Miami Herald, 3/2/22]

Nuclear Weapons

In March 2022, Salazar said she was concerned about Russia using nuclear weapons on the United States.

March 2022: Salazar Said She Was Concerned About Russia Using Nuclear Weapons On The United States And Biological Weapons Against Ukraine. “CARLSON: So, are we concerned at all, that he might use a nuclear weapon against the United States? Is that a concern? Is that something that you consider as you recommend these policies? SALAZAR: Of course, that we are very concerned, and we’re also concerned that he may be throwing a biological weapon against the Ukrainians within the next few hours, because he cannot take Kyiv -- or Kyiv as he thought he was going to. So of course, that we are confronting a dictator, but I think that we should put this into context. And I thank you very much that you’re giving me the opportunity. CARLSON: Of course.” [Fox News, Tucker Carlson, 3/16/22]

Sanctioned By Russia

Salazar was sanctioned by the Russian government.

Salazar Was One Of Nearly 400 Members Of Congress To Be Sanctioned By The Russian Government In The Aftermath Of Their Invasion Of Ukraine. “Last week, as the invasion of Ukraine continues, the Russian regime imposed sanctions on almost 400 members of Congress including members of the Florida delegation. The Russian sanctions included U.S. Reps. Vern Buchanan, R-Fla., Kathy Castor, D-Fla., Kat Cammack, R-Fla., Sheila Cherfilus-McCormick, D-Fla., Charlie Crist, D-Fla., Val Demings, D-Fla., Mario Diaz-Balart, R-Fla., Byron Donalds, R-Fla., Neal Dunn, R-Fla., Lois Frankel, D-Fla., Matt Gaetz, R-Fla., Carlos Gimenez, R-Fla., Al Lawson, D-Fla., Brian Mast, R-Fla., Stephanie Murphy, D-Fla., Bill Posey, R-Fla., John Rutherford, R-Fla., Maria Elvira Salazar, R-Fla., Debbie Wasserman Schultz, D-Fla., Darren Soto, D-Fla., Greg Steube, R-Fla., Michael Waltz, R-Fla., Dan Webster, R-Fla., and Frederica Wilson, D-Fla. The sanctions come in response to sanctions imposed on 300 Russian lawmakers by the federal government.” [Florida Daily, 4/18/22]

Neutrality

Salazar said she would accept neutrality if Russia/Ukraine came to an agreement.

2022: Salazar Said She Would Accept Neutrality By Ukraine Where They Would Agree Not To Join NATO If Russia Ended Its Occupation Of Ukraine. “CARLSON: So, do you believe that’s true? So President Zelenskyy said yesterday that he is considering declaring that Ukraine would not join NATO, in exchange for having Russian troops withdraw from his country? Would you describe this as President Zelenskyy speaking, would you describe that as – SALAZAR: Zelenskyy can -- who am I to say what’s correct and what is incorrect? CARLSON: Would you accept -- would you -- well, I don't know. Okay, so but – SALAZAR: I am going -- I think we should accept anything that comes from him. CARLSON: Wait a minute. Hold on, please don't dodge the question. Is that -- would that be an answer you'd be satisfied with if Zelenskyy made good on what he just suggested that we agreed to neutrality, will relinquish claims to Crimea and the Russians leave, would that be okay with you? Would you consider that an honorable exit? Or would you consider it a display of weakness? SALAZAR: If Zelenskyy comes to the United States Congress, and he says that this is the best path forward, we are no one to say something to the contrary, but I don’t think he’s going to say that, so we’re creating scenarios here that are hypothetical.” [Fox News with Tucker Carlson, 3/16/22]

Children

Salazar called for the Biden Administration to unite Ukrainian children going through the adoption process.

2022: Salazar Signed A Letter Asking The Biden Administration To Take Immediate Action To Unite Ukrainian Children Going Through The Adoption Process. “U.S. Senator Tammy Baldwin, a member of the Congressional Coalition on Adoption, joined a bipartisan, bicameral group of 73 Members of Congress in urging the Biden administration to take immediate action to unite Ukrainian children going through the adoption process with American adoptive or host families. In the letter, the bipartisan group of lawmakers specifically called on the Biden administration to identify the approximately 300 Ukrainian children waiting to join American adoptive or host families and work with the Ukrainian government to find a way forward to allow children with in-process adoptions to travel to stay with host families in the United States instead of requiring these children to remain in other locations for displaced persons in Europe or in Ukraine. In Wisconsin, stories like that of a Fitchburg family have illustrated the struggle of the process being halted due to the Russian attack. [...] The letter was also signed by Representatives Adam Smith (D-WA), Robert Aderholt (R-AL), Jim McGovern (D-MA), Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL)...” [TendersInfo, 4/1/22]

Pre-War

In 2017, Salazar said that Nikki Haley’s speech to the United Nations about the Russian annexation of Crimea was proof that Trump was not compromised by Russian interests.

Salazar Tweeted That Nikki Haley’s Speech At The United Nations “Puts To Rest Suspcion Of Trump-Russia Cabal.” “Tough @POTUS stand on Ukraine/Crimea at @UN hits Russia hard and puts to rest suspicion of Trump-Russia cabal. @NikkiHaley shines at UN” [Twitter, @MaElviraSalazar, 2/3/17]

Unions
Salazar has shown her opposition to unions by voting against the PRO Act and against a measure to allow her own staff to unionize.

Salazar Voted Against The PRO Act Expanding Authorities Of The National Labor Relations Board And Protecting Collective Bargaining Rights. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would expand enforcement authorities of the National Labor Relations Board and modify procedures by which employees may unionize and elect representation under federal labor law. The bill would authorize the NLRB to enforce any orders it issues and to impose a number of civil monetary penalties, including penalties of up to $50,000 against employers who prevent or punish organizing activities by employees. It would require the NLRB to seek temporary injunctions against employers charged with engaging in unfair labor practices and allow employees to bring civil action if the board fails to seek an injunction. It would outline a number of procedures by which employees may petition for and elect representation for collective bargaining through an election directed by the NLRB. It would require the NLRB to schedule pre-election hearings within eight days of a petition being filed; prohibit employers from certain interference or participation in such elections; and require the NLRB to certify and order the employer to engage in collective bargaining with an elected labor organization. It would outline procedures for initial collective bargaining between an employer and a union, including to provide for federal mediation services if an agreement is not reached 90 days after the bargaining begins and referral to an arbitration panel if an agreement is not reached in an additional 30 days. Among other provisions, the bill would prohibit employers from taking certain retaliatory actions against employees who participate in a strike, including permanently replacing or discriminating against such employees. It would specify that employees’ right to strike is protected regardless of the duration, scope, frequency, or intermittence of the strike. It would modify definitions of ‘employee’ and ‘supervisor,’ particularly to narrow the classification of independent contractors and supervisors, two categories of employees not eligible for collective bargaining. It would also authorize the use of collective bargaining agreements that require employees to pay fees to a labor organization as a condition of employment.” The bill passed by a vote of 225-206. [HR 842, Vote #70, 3/9/21; CQ, 3/9/21]

In 2022, Salazar voted against a measure to allow Capitol Hill House staff to unionize.

2022: Salazar Voted Against A Measure To Allow Capitol Hill House Staff To Unionize. “The House of Representatives approved a resolution that allows staff in the lower chamber to join a union and engage in collective bargaining. The vote on Tuesday was straight down party lines, with 217 Democrats voting for the measure and 202 Republicans voting against it. Three Democrats and seven Republicans did not vote. [...] Here is a list of all Republicans who voted against the resolution:...Maria Elvira Salazar of Florid.” [Newsweek, 5/11/22]

U.S Intervention

In 2018, Salazar suggested the U.S. should “topple Venezuela, but seconds later said the United States should not be “promoting coups.”
Fabiola Santiago Column: Salazar Said The U.S. Needed To “Topple Venezuela” But Then Said The U.S. Should Not Be “Promoting Coups Anywhere.” “It’s hard to gauge where Salazar really stands on issues because one minute she sounds as Trumpian as they come, then not [...] ‘We have to use the nuclear option in Venezuela,’ she said at one point, also using the words ‘topple Venezuela.’ And, at the next sound bite, she sounds like a moderate: The United States shouldn’t be ‘promoting coups anywhere.’” [Miami Herald, Fabiola Santiago Column, 10/17/18]

[VIDEO] September 2018: Salazar Suggested The United States Should “Topple Venezuela.” Salazar said, “I think that we have to use the nuclear option in Venezuela. We need to stop buying and selling oil. 2018: Salazar Said, “We Have To Use The Nuclear Option In Venezuela,” Using The Word “Overthrow,” But Later Said, The United States Should Not “Promote Coups Anywhere.” “She doesn't want to call it ‘a wall,’ but she supports Trump's efforts to close the door on immigration. She is also not ‘sure’ that Dreamers, their parents and TPS holders should achieve a path to citizenship, but agrees that they should obtain some form of legal status. This is his most horrific vision as it would create a caste system of second class citizens. ‘We have to use the nuclear option in Venezuela,’ she said at one point, also using the words ‘overthrow Venezuela.’ And, in the next sentence, she suddenly seems like a moderate candidate: the United States should not ‘promote coups anywhere.’” [El Nuevo Herald, 10/22/18] Translation Tampoco está ‘segura’ de que los Soñadores (Dreamers), sus padres y los titulares de TPS deban lograr un camino hacia la ciudadanía, pero está de acuerdo en que deben obtener algún tipo de estatus legal. Esta es su visión más horrorosa, ya que crearía un sistema de casta de ciudadanos de segunda clase. ‘Tenemos que utilizar la opción nuclear en Venezuela,’ dijo en un momento dado, y también usó las palabras ‘derrocar a Venezuela.’ Y, en la siguiente frase, parece de pronto una postulante moderada: Estados Unidos no debería ‘promover golpes en ningún lado.’”

Iran Nuclear Deal

In May 2022, Salazar was opposed to a nuclear deal with Iran because she claimed it would benefit the Maduro regime.

May 2022: Salazar Was Opposed To A Nuclear Deal With Iran Because She Claimed It Would Benefit The Maduro Regime. “An eventual nuclear agreement between the United States and Iran would directly benefit the finances of the Nicolás Maduro regime, Miami congresswoman María Elvira Salazar said on Wednesday, warning that this type of treaty would open the doors of the international oil market to the sanctioned South American country. Salazar is the main author of a bipartisan project that would force the United States government to produce a report on the benefits that the nuclear agreement would have for Venezuela. But the legislator said in an interview that it is obvious that the socialist government in Caracas would be one of the main beneficiaries.” [El Nuevo Herald, 5/04/22]

In April 2022, Salazar introduced legislation to require the White House to produce a report on any possible benefits to the Nicolas Maduro Administration that might arise from an American agreement with Iran related to their nuclear program.

April 2022: Salazar, With Rep. Stephanie Murphy (D-FL-07), Introduced Legislation To Require The White House To Produce A Report On Any Possible Benefits To The Nicolas Maduro Administration In Venezuela That Might Arise From An American Agreement With Iran Related To Their Nuclear Program. In April 2022 Salazar sponsored H.R. 7635, the Iranian Nuclear and Venezuelan Energy, Sanctions and Terrorism Investigation Government Accountability Report (INVESTIGAR) Act. The bill would “direct the President to submit to Congress a report on possible benefits accruing to the regime of Nicolás Maduro as a result of an agreement with Iran relating to the nuclear program of Iran.” The bill is cosponsored by 15 Republicans and 1 Democrat. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 7635, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/20/22]

Specifically, it requires the White House to report on possible benefits to Nicolás Maduro’s oil industry, how it might help Venezuela avoid American sanctions, and how it would boost Hezbollah and other terrorist organizations. Under the legislation, the report must be delivered to the Armed Services and Foreign Affairs Committees within 14 days of reaching a nuclear agreement with Iran. [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 4/28/22]

Temporary Protected Status

March 2021: Salazar praised the DHS decision to extend TPS to Venezuelan nationals in the U.S.

March 2021: Salazar Praised The Department Of Homeland Security For Extending Temporary Protected Status To Venezuelans Nationals In The US. “Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) issued the following statement in response to the Department of Homeland Security's decision to grant Temporary Protected Status (TPS) to Venezuelan nationals in the United States for 18 months. ‘Two months ago, I was thrilled to join Congressman Mario Diaz-Balart to support Deferred Enforced Departure (D.E.D.) for Venezuelans in America’, said Congresswoman Salazar. ‘Today, I am glad to see that our Venezuelan exile community has been granted TPS through 2022. Nicolas Maduro is a murderous thug and I will always stand up for the victims of his socialist regime!’” [Salazar Press Release, 3/8/21]

June 2022: Salazar called for the Biden Administration to extend the TPS deadline for Venezuelans.

June 2022: Salazar Called For The Biden Administration To Extend The TPS Deadline For Venezuelans. “A July 5 letter from Miami-Dade State Sen. Annette Taddeo, signed by dozens of Tallahassee lawmakers, urged President Biden and Mayorkas to move the TPS deadline to Dec. 31, 2021, more than nine months after the current one. The Democratic lawmaker also held a roundtable discussion with Florida Rep. Charlie Crist at her Miami office last week, where Venezuelans from South Florida discussed why they had left their homeland and the importance of TPS. On July 8, Congressman Darren Soto of Florida wrote a bipartisan letter to Biden and Mayorkas also requesting a December 31 arrival date. Members of Congress from South Florida, including Mario Diaz-Balart, Debbie Wasserman Schultz, Maria Elvira Salazar and Carlos A. Gimenez, also signed it. A day later, Miami-Dade County Mayor Daniella Levine Cava joined the chorus of voices supporting a new TPS redesignation date for Venezuelans to include people who arrived after the original date.” [Radio Santa Fe, 6/11/22]

Maduro

Salazar called the Maduro regime a “state sponsors of terror.”

2022: In A Letter To Biden, Salazar And Others Wrote That Maduro Is A “Regime For Autocratic Regimes And Other State Sponsors Of Terror Around The World.” “The Maduro regime is a puppet regime for autocratic regimes and other state sponsors of terror around the world, including the illegitimate, communist regime in Cuba, Hezbollah in Iran, and both Vladimir Putin in Russia and Xi Jinping in China. As a result, Maduro has allowed these anti-American forces to use Venezuela as a launchpad to permeate their tactics of violence and terrorism throughout the hemisphere.” [Office of Sen. Marco Rubio, 3/10/22]

In 2021, Salazar cosponsored legislation to prevent contracting with people who do business with Maduro.

2021: Salazar added name to legislation to prevent contracting with persons that do business with Maduro. “Rep. Michael Waltz, R-Fla., has introduced legislation (H.R. 621) to "prohibit contracting with persons that have business operations with the Maduro regime." The bill was introduced on Jan. 28 and has 11 co-sponsors. Co-sponsors include Reps. Debbie Wasserman Schultz, D-Fla., Mario Diaz-Balart, R-Fla., Stephanie N. Murphy, D-Fla., Maria Elvira Salazar”. Biden & Sanctions

Salazar said Biden’s negotiations with Maduro were a “betrayal.”

2022: Salazar Joined Others To Slam Biden For Negotiations With Maduro Calling Them A “Betrayal.” “The Republican congressmen from Florida (USA) María Elvira Salazar, Mario Díaz-Balart and Carlos Giménez criticized on Tuesday the "betrayal" of President Joe Biden to the struggle for freedom in Venezuela for his negotiations with the president of that country, Nicolás Maduro. In the opinion of the three Cuban-born politicians, the recent talks held by representatives of the White House in Caracas also represent a blow to the "national security" of the United States, since, they recalled, they want to bring "Maduro and his thugs" to justice in this country.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 3/16/22]

2022: Salazar And GOP Colleagues Accused Biden Of Engagement With Maduro In Pursuit Of Foreign Oil. “As your administration continues a misguided engagement with the illegitimate Maduro regime in Venezuela in pursuit of more foreign oil – rather than bolstering the plentiful supply of domestic production...” [Office of Sen. Marco Rubio, 3/10/22]

Salazar sent a letter to Biden asking to maintain sanctions against Venezuela and Maduro.

2022: Salazar And Others Sent A Letter To Biden Asking To Maintain Sanctions Against Venezuela And Maduro After A Meeting Between US Officials And Maduro, Saying The Meeting Is “Undermining” US Policy Toward The Nation. “Florida Republican lawmakers asked President Joe Biden and two of his Cabinet secretaries in a letter Thursday to commit to maintaining current sanctions against Venezuelan dictator Nicolás Maduro and his associates following the administration's recent outreach to Venezuela. In the letter to Biden, Secretary of State Antony Blinken and Energy Secretary Jennifer Granholm, a group of Florida lawmakers listed atrocities committed by Maduro's regime and warned against lifting sanctions as a way to bolster oil supplies following Saturday's meeting between Maduro and a U.S. delegation. "By negotiating with the Maduro dictatorship, your administration is undermining American foreign policy towards Venezuela and is neglecting the U.S. commitment to the Venezuelan exile community," the letter states." Halting Deportations

Salazar praised the Biden administration for halting the deportation of Venezuelan nationals.

January 2021: Salazar Praised The Biden Administration For Halting The Deportation of Venezuelan Nationals. “Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) issued the following statement in response to the White House’s decision to provide Deferred Enforced Departure (D.E.D.) to Venezuelan nationals in the United States. Congresswoman Salazar is a longtime champion for the cause of freedom and democracy. She looks forward to continue fighting for the Venezuelan exile community in the halls of Congress. ‘We have a fundamental obligation to provide safe-haven for those fleeing tyranny and oppression. This act of solidarity provides our Venezuelan exile community with much-needed assurance during these unprecedented times. I commend my dear friend and colleague, Congressman Mario Diaz-Balart, for his work with the administration and his unwavering commitment to the plight of the Venezuelan people.’” [Salazar Press Release, 1/25/21]

Salazar cosponsored legislation that would “prohibit an executive agency from entering into a contract for the procurement of goods or services with any person that has business operations with the Maduro regime.”

Opposed PACT Act

March 2022: Salazar voted against the PACT Act that would have expanded Veterans Affairs health care benefits to include burn pit and other toxic substance exposure.

March 2022: Salazar Voted Against The Honoring Our Pact Act To Expand Veterans Affairs Health Care Benefits To Include Burn Pit And Other Toxic Substance Exposure. In March 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, as amended, that would expand Veterans Affairs Department health care benefits for veterans with service-connected exposure to burn pits or other toxic substances, making such veterans eligible for VA hospital care, medical services and nursing home care. Specifically, it would establish a presumption of service-connected exposure for certain types of cancer and certain respiratory illnesses, including asthma diagnosed after service, for all veterans who served in certain periods and locations where burn pits or other airborne hazards were present, including those who served in Iraq, Afghanistan and Persian Gulf countries beginning in August 1990. It would require the VA to conduct outreach to inform such veterans of their eligibility. It would also require the VA to coordinate federally funded research activities related to health consequences of military toxic exposures; establish a toxic exposure advisory committee to assess cases of toxic exposure; and conduct research based on committee recommendations to make determinations for new or modified presumptions of service-connected exposure. Among other provisions, it would require the VA to publish a list of resources for toxic-exposed veterans and their caregivers and survivors; include a toxic exposure questionnaire in initial screenings conducted by VA primary care providers; provide department health care personnel with education and training to identify and treat illnesses related to toxic exposure; and establish a registry for servicemembers who may have been exposed to per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances due to the release of aqueous film-forming foam on military installations.” The bill passed by a vote of 256-174. [H.R. 3967, Vote #57, 3/3/22; CQ, 3/3/22]

- 3.5 Million U.S. Military Service Members Were Estimated To Have Been Exposed To Toxic Substances From Burn Pits. “U.S. officials estimate that more than 3.5 million service members who deployed were exposed to toxic smoke from the roughly 250 pits used in Iraq and Afghanistan.” [New York Times, 9/7/21]

- Honoring Our PACT Act Designated 23 Illnesses And Cancers As Linked To Toxic Exposures From “Burn Pits And Airborne Hazards.” “The bill would specifically designate 23 respiratory illnesses and cancers as likely linked to toxic exposures related to military burn pits and airborne hazards exposure. Currently, the Department of Veterans Affairs decides these exposure claims on a case-by-case basis, with the exception of those filed for asthma, rhinitis or sinusitis. The burden of proving one’s illness is related to a burn pit exposure falls on the veteran, leading to delays in health care.” [ABC News, 3/3/22]

- Honoring Our PACT Act Included Veterans Affairs Benefits For Radiation During The Cold War And Additional Illnesses Linked To Agent Orange Used In The Vietnam War. “The bill also provides for new benefits for veterans who faced radiation exposure during deployments throughout the Cold War, adds hypertension and monoclonal gammopathy to the list of illnesses linked to Agent Orange exposure in the Vietnam War, and requires new medical exams for all veterans with toxic exposure claims.” [Military.com, 3/3/22]

- Honoring Our Pact Act Provided Retroactive Veterans Affairs Benefits For Previously Denied Claims And To Deceased Veterans’ Survivors. “The bill would open up Department of Veterans Affairs health care to millions of Iraq and Afghanistan veterans exposed to toxic substances during their service even if they don’t have a service-connected disability. The bill also would provide new or increased disability benefits to thousands of veterans who have become ill with cancer or respiratory conditions such as bronchitis or chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, or COPD. The VA would presume that veterans developed their illness as a result of exposure to toxic substances during their service. [...] The bill also provides for retroactive benefits to veterans whose disability claims have been denied and to survivors of deceased veterans.” [AP News, 3/3/22]

June 2021: Salazar Co-Sponsored H.R. 2127, Toxic Exposure In The American Military Act Or The TEAM Act. The bill would have expanded healthcare for veterans who were exposed to toxic burn pits while deployed to a military base. The bill was introduced by Mike Bost and co-sponsored by 55 other Republicans and 8 Democrats, including Madison Cawthorne, Jim Banks, and Marjorie Taylor Greene. [H.R. 2127, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/25/22]

Opposed Automatic Healthcare Enrollment

January 2022: Salazar voted against two proposals that would have extended automatic Veterans Affairs healthcare enrollment for discharged service members.

Salazar Voted Against Automatic Veterans Affairs Healthcare Enrollment For Discharged Service Members Within 60 Days Of Eligibility. In January 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require the Veterans Affairs Department to automatically enroll eligible veterans in the department’s patient enrollment system, giving them access to VA health care services, within 60 days of receiving confirmation of their eligibility from the Defense Department. It would also require the VA to provide veterans a notification of enrollment, an electronic version of their certificate of eligibility, means to opt out of enrollment electronically and instructions to elect enrollment at a later date." The bill passed by a vote of 265-163. [H.R. 4673, Vote #Vote #14, 1/20/22; CQ, 1/20/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Extend Automatic Veteran Healthcare Enrollment To Veterans Discharged 90 Days Prior To The Bill’s Enactment. In January 2022 Salazar voted against: “Escobar D-Texas, amendment no. 3 that would extend automatic enrollment under the bill’s provisions to veterans discharged 90 days before enactment or later.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 228-198. [H.R. 4673, Vote #Vote #12, 1/20/22; CQ, 1/20/22]

Opposed Consumer Protections

September 2021: Salazar voted against strengthening consumer protections related to medical debt and credit reporting for service members.

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment That Would Strengthen Servicemember Consumer Protections Related To Medical Debt And Credit Reporting. In September 2021, Salazar voted against “Tlaib, D-Mich., amendment no. 11 that would strengthen servicemember consumer protections with regard to medical debt collections and credit reporting, including by prohibiting the collection of medical debt for two years after a first payment is due and prohibiting debt arising from medically necessary procedures from ever appearing on servicemember credit reports.” The amendment was adopted 222 to 203. [H. Res. 4350, Vote #271, 9/22/21; CQ, 9/23/21]

Sponsorships/Co-Sponsorships

Salazar has filed numerous pieces of legislation to promote veterans and their spouses since arriving in Congress as well as legislation targeted at activity duty military.

Salazar Introduced Legislation To Assist Veterans With PTSD. “Today, U.S. Reps. Lisa McClain (R-MI), Brian Fitzpatrick (R-PA) and Maria Salazar (R-FL) introduced the Veterans for Mustangs Act (VMA) that would amend the 1971 Wild and Free Roaming Horses and Burros Act to help better protect American wild horses and burros on federal lands and provide avenues for healing American veterans with PTSD and other disorders resulting from combat.” [State News Services, 4/29/22]

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Promote The Hiring Of Military Spouses. “Today, U.S. Representative Antonio Delgado (NY-19) announced that his bipartisan bill, the Military Spouse Hiring Act, has earned support from 100 House members, both Democrats and Republicans. The legislation addresses high military spouse unemployment rates by expanding the Work Opportunity Tax Credit to include the hiring of military spouses. This incentivizes employers to hire military spouses by allowing them to claim a tax credit equal to a portion of the wages paid to those spouses. Under the Panama Canal Zone Veterans Act, veterans who served in or near the Panama Canal Zone would be granted presumptive herbicide exposure status, meaning they could receive federal benefits and disability compensation from the U.S. Department of Veteran Affairs (VA). The bill would expand presumptive coverage to these veterans, similar to the coverage for those who served in Vietnam, along the Korean DMZ and on the base perimeters in Thailand.” [Congressional Documents and Publications, 8/13/21]

2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Give Veterans The “Ability To Choose Health Care Providers.” “Rep. Andy Biggs, R-Ariz., has introduced legislation (H.R. 2910) to "direct the Secretary of Veterans Affairs to carry out a pilot program to improve the ability of veterans to access medical care in medical facilities of the Department of Veterans Affairs and in the community by providing the veterans the ability to choose health care providers." October 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Create Grants To Support The Creation Of Specialized Law Enforcement Units Comprised Veterans Intended To Safety Respond To Veterans In Crises. In October 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 5788, the Supporting Every at-Risk Veteran In Critical Emergencies Act of 2021 (SERVICE Act of 2021). The bill would “authorize the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services within the Department of Justice to make grants to support the creation and operation of veterans' response teams in state, local, and tribal law enforcement agencies.” The bill is cosponsored by 34 Republicans and 14 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on the Judiciary, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 5788, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 10/28/21]

- The Act Would Create A Pilot Program To Create “Veteran Response Teams” Who Could Deescalate Emergencies Involving Veterans And Connect Them With Social Services. “The SERVICE Act creates a pilot program through the U.S. Department of Justice that would provide grants to law enforcement agencies to create local veteran response teams — teams of military veteran law enforcement officers that respond to other veterans in crisis or emergency. Once the emergency is under control, the response team can work further with the veteran to connect them with public and private partner resources to create long-term solutions and care.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 10/28/21]
2021: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Waive Fees For Veterans For Demonstrations And Special Events On Federal Land. “Today, Rep. Ron Kind (D-WI) joined Rep. Greg Steube (R-FL) in reintroducing the bipartisan Free Veterans from Fees Act, legislation which would waive application fees for special use permits for veterans' demonstrations and special events at war memorials on federal land. [...] This bill was introduced with original cosponsors, U.S. Representatives Maria Elvira Salazar (R-Fla.).” [State News Services, 2/12/21]

2022: Salazar Cosponsored Legislation To Change The Term Disability In The Foreign Service Act. “Representatives Ro Khanna (D-Calif.), a member of the House Armed Services Committee, Steve Chabot (OH-01), Dina Titus (NV-01), and Brian Fitzpatrick (PA-01) announced bipartisan legislation to amend the Foreign Service Act of 1980 to replace the outdated term "handicapping condition" with "disability" in the Foreign Service Act of 1980, which prohibits discrimination against people with disabilities serving in the Foreign Service. People with disabilities are often damaged by negative, misleading, and inadequate labels that imply a focus on inherent inabilities, rather than a focus on the person behind that disability. By amending this legislation and using the term "disability" rather than "handicapping condition," Congress will bring the terminology used in the Foreign Service Act of 1980 into conformity with the Americans with Disabilities Act and other laws. This message of inclusion signals respect for Foreign Service Officers and other State Department employees with disabilities as they serve our country, often at great sacrifice, in posts around the world. [...] The lead sponsor of this legislation is Rep. Ro Khanna (CA-17) and original cosponsors include Reps. Steve Chabot (OH-01), Dina Titus (NV-06), Brian Fitzpatrick (PA-01), Andy Levin (MI-09), Maria Salazar (FL-27), and Gerry Connolly (VA-11).” [Congressional Documents and Publications, 6/9/22]

Water

In 2021, Salazar requested $3 million in funding to improve water pipes in West Miami.

2021: Salazar Requested $3 Million In Funding To Improve Water Pipes In West Miami. “Each of the members of the South Florida House of Representatives submitted a list of 10 projects in their districts to receive federal funds through the annual appropriations process. Projects proposed by Republicans include a $6 million plan by Diaz-Balart for a new wastewater treatment plant in Everglades City, $750,000 for police body cameras in Rep. Carlos Gimenez’s Homestead, and $3 million to improve water mains in West Miami of representative María Elvira Salazar.” [El Nuevo Herald, 5/08/21]

Los proyectos propuestos por los republicanos incluyen un plan de $6 millones de Díaz-Balart para una nueva planta de tratamiento de aguas residuales en Everglades City, $750,000 para cámaras corporales policiales en Homestead del representante Carlos Giménez y $3 millones para mejorar las tuberías de agua en West Miami de la representante María Elvira Salazar.”

Women Equal Pay

Salazar voted against equal pay for equal work legislation.

Salazar Voted Against The Paycheck Fairness Act. In April 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would narrow the legal defense an employer may use in a lawsuit alleging pay discrimination on the basis of sex. Specifically, it would require employers to demonstrate that a difference in pay between employees is based on a business-related ‘bona fide factor other than sex, such as education, training, or experience’ as opposed to being based on ‘any factor other than sex.’ It would prohibit employers from retaliating against employees involved in lawsuits under fair labor standards law; prohibit employers from relying on a prospective employee's wage history for hiring or wage determinations; increase employers' liability for compensatory or punitive damages related to pay discrimination violations; and provide for automatic inclusion of all affected individuals in class action lawsuits related to pay discrimination. Among other provisions, the bill would authorize a new Labor Department grant program for public and private entities to carry out negotiation skills training programs to address pay disparities. It would establish an annual national award for an employer that made a 'substantial effort to eliminate pay disparities between men and women.' It would require the Labor Department to conduct a number of studies on sex-based pay disparities and require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to collect compensation data disaggregated by employees' sex, race and national origin. It would require the Labor Department and EEOC to provide technical assistance for small businesses to comply with the bill's provisions. It would add a definition of 'sex' with respect to federal fair labor standards law, which would include sexual orientation or gender identity.” According to CNBC, the Paycheck Fairness Act “aims to eliminate the gender pay gap and strengthen workplace protections for women.” The bill passed 217 to 210. - The Paycheck Fairness Act Aimed “To Eliminate The Gender Pay Gap And Strengthen Workplace Protections For Women.” “The Paycheck Fairness Act, which aims to eliminate the gender pay gap and strengthen workplace protections for women, passed the House of Representatives on Thursday in a 217-210 vote [...] Biden added that a full passage of the Paycheck Fairness Act by Congress would address the wage gap by ‘closing loopholes that have allowed employers to justify gender pay disparities, strengthening provisions for holding employers accountable for systemic pay discrimination, and helping level the playing field for women and people of color by making it easier for workers to challenge pay disparities as a group. Additionally, he said the Paycheck Fairness Act would make it illegal for employers to ask employees about their salary history in the hiring process and promote pay transparency by requiring more employers to report pay data to the government. Right now, at least 18 states already have laws in place that ban employers from asking about salary history.” [CNBC, 4/16/21]

Sex Trafficking

Salazar Said, “Everyone is innocent until found guilty” after Rep. Gaetz was facing a federal investigation into sex trafficking allegations.
Salazar Said, “Everyone Is Innocent Until Found Guilty” After Rep. Gaetz Was Facing a Federal Investigation Into Sex Trafficking Allegations. “Matt Gaetz is facing a federal investigation into sex trafficking allegations, turmoil inside his congressional office and a flurry of unsavory reports about his conduct toward women. But his position inside the House GOP conference is safe - at least for now. While top Republicans acknowledged the serious nature of the allegations surrounding Gaetz, just one sitting GOP lawmaker has so far publicly called on him to resign: Rep. Adam Kinzinger of Illinois. Instead, Republican leaders on Tuesday were quick to defer to the ongoing Justice Department probe, noting that the Florida Republican would automatically lose his committee assignments if he were indicted. [...] Freshman GOP Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar, also from Florida, echoed a similar sentiment: ‘That investigation needs to be concluded ... Everybody is innocent until found guilty. So let's wait.’” [Politico, 4/13/21]

Salazar supported legislation to end the statute of limitations for some victims of sexual abuse and sex trafficking.

2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation That Would End The Statute Of Limitations Under The Federal Civil Remedies Code For Victims Fo Sexual Abuse And Sex Trafficking. “Today, Representatives Guy Reschenthaler (PA-14), Deborah Ross (NC-02), Eric Swalwell (CA-15), and Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) introduced H.R 8061, the Eliminating Limits to Justice for Child Sex Abuse Victims Act, to ensure that survivors of child sex abuse and sex trafficking can seek justice under the federal civil remedy statute without being barred by statutes of limitations. This bipartisan legislation will enable survivors who are victims of more than a dozen federal child sex abuse offenses, including aggravated sexual abuse, sex trafficking, human trafficking, forced labor, and sexual exploitation and pornography, to seek civil damages in federal court regardless of how long it took to process and disclose the abuse they suffered.” [Impact News Service, 6/18/22]
POLITICAL ASPIRATIONS

TOPLINES

- In 2021, after she was sworn in, Salazar posted on Facebook that “as a little girl, I never imagined that I’d one day represent” Florida in Congress. In 2018, Salazar also told reporters she never envisioned leaving journalism to run for office. However, in 1983, the Miami Herald reported that Salazar wanted to become a politician.

Running For Office

In 2021, after she was sworn in, Salazar posted on Facebook that “as a little girl, I never imagined that I’d one day represent Florida in Congress. In 2018, Salazar also told reporters she never envisioned leaving journalism to run for office. However, in 1983, the Miami Herald reported that Salazar wanted to become a politician.

January 2021: Salazar: “As a little girl, I never thought that I’d one day represent the very same community that welcomed my parents with open arms.” “I was born in Little Havana — the daughter of political refugees. As a little girl, I never thought that I’d one day represent the very same community that welcomed my parents with open arms. This is the American dream 🇺🇸 US #FL27” [Facebook, Rep. María Elvira Salazar, 1/12/21]

August 2018: Miami Herald: “Salazar Told Reporters After The Celebration ... That She Never Envisioned Leaving The Pinnacle Of An Award-Winning Broadcast Journalism Career To Run For Office.” “Salazar told reporters after the celebration -- which included a personalized conga jingle -- that she never envisioned leaving the pinnacle of an award-winning broadcast journalism career to run for office. She said Ros-Lehtinen, Diaz-Balart and other members of the community approached her and convinced her to run. ‘They wanted to keep the seat in Republican hands and continue the legacy that Ileana has had for 30 years,’ Salazar said. ‘I really thought that I should step up to the plate and help my community.’” [Miami Herald, 8/28/18]

January 2018: Salazar: “I Am A News Reporter, Not A News Maker... Parties Have Approached Me To Consider Running For Office. My Plans Are To Continue Being A TV Journalist -- Until God And The Audience Give Me That Opportunity.” “Ros-Lehtinen is talking to any Republican who might be willing to step up. She personally met with Spanish-language TV journalist Maria Elvira Salazar at a Cuban restaurant in South Miami in an effort to drum up more competition in the primary. ‘The district is totally winnable for the right candidate,’ Ros-Lehtinen said. ‘She could be the right candi-date.’ But Salazar, like many other names bandied about in Miami Republican circles, demurred when asked if she'll run. 'I am a news reporter, not a news maker,’ Salazar said in an email. 'It's an honor that over the years both parties have approached me to consider running for office. My plans are to continue being a TV journalist -- until God and the audience give me that opportunity.’” [Miami Herald, 1/2/18]

[VIDEO] February 2018: Salazar: “One Of The Largest GOP Donors Recruited Me To Run For Congress During A Fox News Meeting.” In a televised interview on Al Punto Florida - Univision, Salazar revealed she was recruited to run for Congress by a GOP Mega donor, stating in Spanish that during a meeting at Fox News, one of the most important donors, one of the best donors that the Republican party has - labeling him as “people that none of us know,” - asked if she’d consider the possibility of running in the 27th district. CAMPAIGN FINANCE

• From 2018 to 2020, Salazar loaned her campaign $192,000, including $182,000 in 2020, which was the same year Salazar only disclosed $20,000 in income. Salazar was not married at the time, which raises the question if Salazar illegally accepted nearly $200,000 from a close partner and made the contribution under her name to in order to evade contribution limits. Salazar has said that a longtime partner who she lived with was financially supporting her family.

• Salazar is getting most of her campaign contributions from outside the district. As of August 2022, Salazar has received more than 42% of her contributions from out of state. She has also received more than 42% of her contributions from outside of the district.

• Salazar’s donors are big dollar donors. As of August 2022, Salazar has only received 22% of her contributions from small dollar donors.
  - In 2020, Salazar only received 16% of her contributions from small dollar donors.
  - In 2018, Salazar only received 3% of her contributions from small dollar donors.

• In the 2022 election, Americans for Prosperity PAC, a PAC funded and affiliated to Koch, has spent more than $257,000 in support of Salazar. Salazar was also endorsed by American for Prosperity.

• Salazar took nearly $50,000 in contributions from an attorney who represented Alex Saab, a man Salazar called “Nicolás Maduro’s leading henchman” and a “drug trafficker who is responsible for flooding American streets with cocaine.”

• In 2020, Salazar faced an FEC complaint over failing to report employer and occupation data for some contributors. In 2021, Salazar was issued a FEC warning letter for having 13 donations exceeding the contribution limit. Salazar’s attorney said the donations were “misapplied”; however, two of those donations came from the Columbian lawyer (and his wife) who represented famed international criminal Alex Saab. Salazar said she was thankful for the attorney’s support.
  - Note: The FEC Complaint was dismissed by the FEC.

In 2020, Salazar Reported $20,000 In Income From Her TV Work. “Salazar first vowed to give back her salary as part of an attack ad [...] It’s not unusual for wealthy politicians to donate their salaries. Former President Donald Trump donated his presidential salary four times a year to different federal agencies though he still earned profits from his real estate business. And Florida Republican Sen. Rick Scott donates his salary to various charities -- in April, for example, it went to medical researchers at the University of South Florida. But Trump and Scott are multi-millionaires and Salazar isn't -- though she might not be far from it. Her 2020 federal financial disclosure listed $20,000 in income for TV work, along with a net worth of at least $600,000. Salazar owes between $1 million and $5 million on a residential mortgage, according to her financial disclosure. Federal disclosures require lawmakers to report assets and liabilities in ranges, so a precise accounting of their net worth is impossible.” [Miami Herald, 1/30/21]

Members of Congress are required to list spousal assets on their yearly financial disclosures but not the assets of unmarried partners. [...] 'I want to get married, and COVID has upended everything. We have to wait a little bit longer on that front,' Salazar said, adding that her partner 'helps me' with expenses. ‘We live together, and people who live together help each other. ### FEC Complaints

In 2020, Salazar faced an FEC complaint over failing to report employer and occupation data for some contributors. In 2021, Salazar was issued a FEC warning letter for having 13 donations exceeding the contribution limit. Salazar’s attorney said the donations were “misapplied”; however, two of those donations came from a Columbian lawyer (and his wife) who represented famed international criminal Alex Saab. Salazar said she was thankful for the attorney’s support.

2020: Salazar Was The Subject Of An FEC Complaint After She Failed To Report Employers And Occupation Information For Some Donors. “In Florida's 27th Congressional District, which includes most of coastal Miami-Dade County and Miami Beach, Salazar managed to outraise Shalala in August and September, the previous quarter, and then sent out the press release saying she had ‘shattered the incumbent's efforts' on fundraising in the most recent quarter. A Shalala supporter filed a complaint with the FEC this week, saying Salazar's campaign violated federal election law by not reporting the occupation and employer information of some her donors.” [Miami Herald, 10/16/20]

- 2020: Salazar Received An FEC Complaint For Not Disclosing The Employer And Occupation For Individuals Who Contributed $200 Or More, But The Complaint Was Dismissed By The FEC. “COMPLAINANT: Juan-Carlos Planas. RESPONDENTS: Salazar for Congress and Paul Kilgore, in his official capacity as treasurer (the Committee); and Maria Elvira Salazar. SUBJECT: The complaint alleged that the Committee failed to disclose the employer and occupation for each individual who contributed $200 or more to the Committee during Salazar's 2020 campaign for Florida's 27th Congressional District, and that the Committee also may have accepted excessive contributions. DISPOSITION: The Commission exercised its prosecutorial discretion and dismissed the complaint.” [Targeted News Service, 8/14/21]

2021: Salazar Was Issued An FEC Warning Letter For Having 13 Donations Exceeding The Contribution Limit. “Separate from her personal financial situation, Salazar's campaign was recently admonished by the Federal Elections Commission for misreporting $147,700 in campaign contributions. The campaign contributions from 13 different donors exceeded the $2,900 threshold for the 2022 election cycle, according to an FEC warning letter.” [Miami Herald, 9/10/21]

The campaign contributions from 13 different donors exceeded the $2,900 threshold for the 2022 election cycle, according to an FEC warning letter. All of the donations in question were earmarked for the 2022 primary election, though Salazar and her attorney said the contributions were not properly split up by the congresswoman’s former treasurer. Individuals are permitted to donate $2,900 to a candidate's primary and general election campaigns, essentially resulting in a $5,800 limit that must be evenly split. The prior compliance accountant didn't properly classify those donations,' Torchinsky said. 'They weren't, in fact, over the limit but just misapplied.' Torchinsky and Salazar said the campaign now has a new treasurer and filed a series of amendments with the FEC to rectify the mistake. They said it's possible that the FEC could issue a fine for the campaign finance violations, but Torchinsky said the fine 'could take some time' and that the FEC will likely consider the campaign's amendments and treasurer change when they decide how big of a punishment to mete out. 'This lady, I don't want to throw her under the bus, but we don't control compliance,' Salazar said. 'That's why the FEC is saying this is wrong. It's a major mess. I'm not happy, and I'll fix it.'” [Miami Herald, 9/10/21]

2022: Two Of The Over-The-Limit Contributions Came From Abelardo De La Espreilla And His Wife. De La Espreilla Was An Attorney For Alex Sabb. “The over-the-legal-limit donations include $5,700 from Abelardo de la Espreilla, a Colombian lawyer and U.S. permanent resident who up until two years ago was the criminal defense attorney for a fellow countryman targeted in a Colombian money-laundering probe involving ill-gotten government contracts in Venezuela. The FEC also flagged $5,700 which de la Espreilla's wife, Ana Lucia Pineda, donated to Salazar for Congress's primary election. Both amounts are above the $2,900 federal cap each individual is allowed to give per election.” [Florida Bulldog, 9/02/21]

2021: Salazar Said She “Thanked” De La Espreilla For His Contributions. “She also appreciates de la Espreilla's financial support, Salazar added. Fundraisers

Kevin McCarthy
2018: Salazar held a fundraiser with Kevin McCarthy.

2018: Salazar Held A Fundraiser With Kevin McCarthy At The Riviera Country Club In Coral Gables. “McCarthy, a California congressman who wants to lead Republicans in the House of Representatives after the November election, has voiced explicit support for funding Trump’s proposed Mexico border wall and sponsored a bill called the ‘Build the Wall, Enforce the Law Act of 2018.’ He’s also raising money for Miami congressional candidate Maria Elvira Salazar, a Republican running in a majority Hispanic district Trump lost by nearly 20 percentage points. Salazar is set to host a fundraiser with McCarthy on Wednesday, according to an invitation obtained by the Miami Herald. The lunchtime gathering at the Riviera Country Club in Coral Gables lists $10,000 in fundraising for ‘host’ status and $5,000 in fundraising for ‘co-host’ status.” [Miami Herald, 10/23/18]

2018: Salazar Did Not Attend A Candidate Forum Hosted By WLRN Public Radio, The League Of Women Voters, And AARP Florida. “The conservative talking point drew out cheers and boos from a divided audience at Miami Dade College’s Kendall campus, where the Miami Herald, WLRN Public Radio, the League of Women Voters and AARP Florida invited all 15 candidates running for Ros-Lehtinen’s seat to discuss politics. All five Democrats, four of the nine Republican candidates and independent Mayra Joli attended. [...] Whether their opinions reflect the likely views of the eventual Republican nominee are unclear. Among the no-shows Tuesday were former county commissioner Bruno Barreiro and television personality Maria Elvira Salazar.” [Miami Herald, 8/7/18]

2018: Miami Herald: Salazar did not meet with the editorial board during their endorsement process and “made few public appearances as part of her primary bid.”

2018: Salazar Did Not Meet With The Miami Herald Editorial Board During Their Endorsement Process. “Two candidates in the race, Salazar and Barreiro, who are viewed as the front-runners, declined to take part in the Miami Herald’s candidate interview process. Barreiro’s campaign said that he was not seeking our endorsement; Salazar’s campaign said that her schedule was booked until Aug. 28 -- Election Day. The Editorial Board was most impressed by Rodriguez Aguilera, now a business consultant.” [Miami Herald, Editorial Board, 8/19/18]

Miami Herald Editorial Board: “Salazar’s Platform Has Been Low Key Because She Has Made Few Public Appearances As Part Of Her Primary Bid.” “Two candidates in the race, Salazar and Barreiro, who are viewed as the front-runners, declined to take part in the Miami Herald’s candidate interview process. Barreiro’s campaign said that he was not seeking our endorsement; Salazar’s campaign said that her schedule was booked until Aug. 28 -- Election Day. [...] Salazar’s platform has been low key because she has made few public appearances as part of her primary bid." [Miami Herald, Editorial Board, 8/19/18]

2022: Salazar Was Also Endorsed By American for Prosperity. Florida won't complete its congressional redistricting until next week's Special Session, but that didn't stop Americans for Prosperity's political committee from endorsing three House incumbents Monday. AFP Action offered its seal of approval to three Republicans: Rep.Kat Cammack of Gainesville, who represents Florida's 3rd Congressional District; Rep.Scott Franklin of Lakeland, the incumbent in Florida's 15th Congressional District; and Rep. Mara Elvira Salazar of Miami-Dade, who represents Florida's 27th Congressional District. [Florida Politics, 4/11/2022]

Some of Salazar’s largest donors are Mark and Eloah Fisher, and Daniel Fisher. Mark Fisher is a commodities trader and broker who has been penalized by the CFTC at least twice.

Mark And Eloah Have Contributed $8,600 Each To Salazar In The Current Cycle, And $5,600 Each In The Previous Cycle. They Have Also Contributed $10,000 Each To Salazar's Leadership PAC Freedom Force PAC. [FEC.gov, accessed 8/22/22]

A Company Run By Mark Fisher Was Fined $650,000 By The U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission In December 2012 For Not Properly Segregating Customer Accounts. “A federal court has ordered a futures brokerage run by well-known New York trader Mark Fisher to pay $650,000 for not properly segregating customer funds following a complaint filed by the country’s top commodity regulator. The U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission accused Fisher’s MBF Clearing Corp in March of holding between $30 million and $90 million of customer funds between September 2008 and March 2010 in an account at a separate financial institution that did not meet the requirements of the Commodity Exchange Act.” [Reuters, 12/3/12]
Fisher Was Also Investigated By The CFTC In The Late 1980s And Early 1990s For Engaging In “Noncompetitive Trading” That Defrauded Clients. “The Commodities Futures Trading Commission said yesterday that it had filed administrative complaints against eight brokers and traders on the New York Mercantile Exchange; the Coffee, Sugar and Cocoa Exchange, and the Commodity Exchange... The individuals are charged with various forms of "noncompetitive trading" that would defraud the brokers' clients or stage fictitious trades to cause false prices to be recorded... The accused members of the New York Mercantile Exchange were Mr. Fisher, Mr. Effron and Kenneth L. Carter.” [New York Times, 10/20/92]

Salazar has accepted $34,100 from employees of Cano Health and Rangel Medical Center, two healthcare companies for which Salazar served as a spokesperson until her election in 2020.

Salazar received the maximum amount from Sheldon Adelson and his wife.

2020: Sheldon Adelson And His Wife Gave Max Contributions To Salazar. “Casino magnate Sheldon Adelson and his wife, Miriam, are pitching in to help Republican candidate Maria Elvira Salazar as she seeks to oust incumbent Democratic Rep. Donna Shalala. Sheldon and Miriam Adelson each donated $5,600 for a total of $11,200 to the Salazar campaign according to newly-filed reports with the Federal Election Commission (FEC).” [Florida Politics, 8/05/20]

Notable Expenses

In 2020, Salazar hired a Florida political consultant who was discovered to have a subcontractor who was in prison for postage stamp forgery.

2020: Salazar hired Florida political consultant Al Lorenzo. “Lorenzo hasn’t worked for any federal candidates since 2011 until this year, when campaign finance reports showed that he began working with Gimenez in July and Republican congressional candidate Maria Elvira Salazar in March.” [Miami Herald, 10/06/20]

2020: Lorenzo was fired by the Mayor of Miami-Dade when it was discovered one of his subcontractors was in prison for postage stamp forgery. “Eight years ago, Al Lorenzo's political consulting career was upended by Miami-Dade Mayor Carlos Gimenez. Lorenzo, a veteran political consultant who earned millions from high-profile clients ranging from Barack Obama to Marco Rubio, was fired by Gimenez's mayoral campaign in 2012 after he failed to disclose that one of his subcontractors had a lengthy criminal record, including a two-year stint in prison for forging postage stamps. Lorenzo's firing also coincided with an absentee ballot investigation in Hialeah, though Lorenzo denied any connection to the probe.” [Miami Herald, 10/06/20]
“Nicolás Maduro's Leading Henchman”

October 2021: Salazar called Alex Saab “Nicolás Maduro's leading henchman” and a “drug trafficker who is responsible for flooding American streets with cocaine” following Saab's extradition to the U.S.

[Rep. Maria Elvira Salazar, Twitter, 10/21/21]

[VIDEO] October 2021: Salazar Called Saab “A Thug For The Venezuelan Regime” And A “Drug Trafficker Who Is Responsible For Flooding American Streets With Cocaine.” “For those who enable murderous dictators the United States system will find you in this life or next and this is a perfect example. Alex Saab, the plunderer of Venezuela. Justice for his crimes against humanity will be swift and without mercy. Why? Because over the weekend we learned that Saab will finally be extradited to the United States. He tried to claim diplomatic immunity but he is not a diplomat, he is not a politician, he is just another thug for the Venezuelan regime. Saab was Maduro’s leading front man and his number one money launderer. He is a drug trafficker who is responsible for flooding American streets with cocaine. He helped finance the worst crimes and the most appalling human rights abuses committed by the Maduro regime in Venezuela in the last 15 years. So it is no surprise that Maduro, the dictator, has pulled out all the stops to try to prevent his extradition to the United States but he could not. In the meantime earlier this week six American executives in Venezuela known as the Citgo six were sent back to a cruel political prison for no reason. The regime arrested these men on bogus charges in 2020 with no justification and now with no explanation Maduro has condemned these innocent American executives to rot in a Venezuelan prison. Why? Just one reason, retaliation, because Maduro doesn’t like this picture. This is a classic tactic of tyrants. If Maduro thinks he can make a prisoner exchange he needs to wake up and realize that the United States does not deal with dictators. So the Citgo six executives need to be released now unconditionally. Unfortunately right now Maduro is panicking because his top confidant will soon be facing trial in an American court of law and he will say many things that Maduro doesn’t want us to hear.”

2021: Salazar Was A Vocal Supporter Of The Extradition Of Maduro Ally Alex Saab. Salazar said Saab “is a drug trafficker who is responsible for flooding American streets with cocaine. He helped finance the worst crimes and the most appalling human rights abuses committed by the Maduro regime in Venezuela in the last 15 years.” [Office of Maria Salazar, 10/21/21]

October 2021: Salazar Said Saab’s Extradition To The United States Is “One Step Closer” And We Are Not Going To Stop Until Venezuela Achieves Its Freedom.” “US congressmen such as the Republican María Elvira Salazar, representative for South Florida, the Venezuelan ambassador in Washington, Carlos Vecchio, who responds to Juan Guaidó, whom the US considers interim president of Venezuela, opposition leaders, exiles and citizens Venezuelans living in the US have expressed their satisfaction with the extradition. Salazar pointed out that with the delivery of Saab to the US ‘we are one step closer and we are not going to stop until Venezuela achieves its freedom.’” [EFE Spanish Newswire, 10/17/21]

- Spanish Version: “Congresistas estadounidenses como la republicana María Elvira Salazar, representante por el sur de Florida, el embajador de Venezuela en Washington, Carlos Vecchio, que responde a Juan Guaidó, al que EE.UU. considera presidente interino de Venezuela, dirigentes opositores, exiliados y ciudadanos venezolanos radicados en EE.UU. han manifestado su satisfacción por la extradición. Salazar, señaló que con la entrega de Saab a EE.UU. ‘estamos un paso más cerca y no vamos a parar hasta que Venezuela alcance su libertad.’”

February 2022: Federal court documents revealed that Saab was working as a DEA informant before he was arrested.

Saab Worked As A Confidential Informant For The DEA And Turned Over Millions Of His Profits To The DEA Before Failing To Surrender In 2019. “A Colombian businessman held in Miami on charges of paying bribes to Venezuelan government officials worked as a confidential informant for the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration and turned over millions of his profits to the DEA before he failed to surrender in 2019, according to a federal court document unsealed Wednesday. Alex Saab, 49, who is close to Venezuelan President Nicolás Maduro, started communicating with DEA and FBI agents in Bogota, Colombia, about his planned cooperation in 2016. With his lawyers he continued those discussions with federal agents and prosecutors through June 2018, when he signed a “cooperating source agreement” with the DEA, the court document filed by prosecutors says.” [Miami Herald, 2/16/22]

Saab Transferred More Than $12 Million Of His Venezuelan Contract Profits To A U.S. Bank Account Controlled By The DEA. “For nearly a year, Saab reported paying bribes to Venezuelan officials to secure illicit food, housing and other contracts totaling hundreds of millions of dollars with the government. Saab communicated with DEA special agents “via telephone, text and voice messaging,” the document says, and he “engaged in proactive cooperation,” meaning he recorded conversations with co-conspirators targeted in the U.S. investigation. Saab also made four wire transfers totaling more than $12 million of his Venezuelan contract profits to a U.S. bank account controlled by the DEA as part of his cooperation with the agency, the document says.” [Miami Herald, 2/16/22]

Saab’s Cooperation Deal As A Federal Informant Ended When He Failed To Surrender To The DEA By May 2019. “But when Saab failed to surrender to the DEA by May 30, 2019, his cooperation deal as a federal informant ended. The prosecution’s document, dated Feb. 23, 2021, had been under seal at the request of prosecutors in the U.S. Attorney’s Office, who at the time were negotiating to extradite Saab from the Cape Verde Island off the west coast of Africa, where he was arrested in 2020 to face a money-laundering indictment in Miami. While detained there, Saab was challenging his federal indictment and status as a fugitive.” [Miami Herald, 2/16/22]
Saab’s Attorney Abelardo De La Espriella

Attorney Abelardo de la Escrippela and his wife Ana Aruachan Pineda contributed $48,200 to Salazar’s campaign and leadership PAC.

Salazar Received A Request For Additional Information From The FEC Noting That De La Espriella And Aruachan Pineda Made Excessive Contributions. [FEC.gov, RFAI, 6/30/21]

Individuals Were Only Permitted To Contribute $2,900 Per Election. “An individual or a political committee other than an authorized committee or qualified multi-candidate committee may not make a contribution(s) to a candidate for federal office in excess of $2,900 per election.” [FEC.gov, RFAI, 6/30/21]

Salazar's Campaign Was Forced To Return $5,800 In The Over-The-Limit Contributions Made By De La Espriella And Aruachan Pineda. “Salazar also returned several prior contributions, including over-the-limit donations the FEC flagged in July, and an excessive donation from Colombian lawyer and permanent U.S. resident Abelardo de la Espriella, whose prior ties to socialist Venezuelan President Nicolás Maduro drew accusations of hypocrisy from critics.” [Florida Politics, 10/21/21; FEC, accessed 10/28/21]

Abelardo de la Espriella represented Maduro “financier” and “front man” Alex Saab from 2013 until 2019 when Saab was sanctioned by the United States.

CNN: Saab Was Said To Be A “Financier” And “Front Man” For Maduro. “He claims he was tortured by the authorities in Cape Verde and that even worse punishments await him if he is extradited to the United States. Alex Saab, the Colombian businessman who's also said to be a 'financier' and 'front man' of embattled Venezuelan President Nicolas Maduro, told CNN in an exclusive interview from his detention site in Cape Verde that he has no doubts about what will happen to him if sent to America.” [CNN, 6/18/21]

Alex Saab Called Abelardo De La Espriella A Great Lawyer And Friend. “Alex Saab afirmó que Abelardo de La Espriella ‘es un gran abogado y amigo’ y que ‘sus credenciales profesionales son bien conocidas por todos’. Ante la pregunta de si el abogado conocía de su cercanía con el gobierno venezolano y que era tratado casi como un diplomático, Saab respondió: ‘Simplemente ejerció como mi abogado durante unos años y dejó de serlo hace un par de años. Sigue siendo mi amigo y las diferencias políticas no tienen nada que ver con el ejercicio de su profesión’.” [El Espectador, 4/4/21]

De La Espriella Represented Saab For Six Years And Defended Him Against Money Laundering Charges. “In that same statement, De la Espriella reported that, for six years, Saab had been a client of his firm and that he was his attorney in the criminal investigation being carried out against him in Colombia for alleged money laundering. El Espectador had already revealed that the Prosecutor's Office was investigating Saab for allegedly resorting to multiple maneuvers to evade tax and customs responsibilities, and giving the appearance of legality to an irregular export and import scheme, especially through its company Shatex SA, which for years was dedicated to the export of textiles and construction materials.” [El Espectador, 4/4/21] (Google Translate)

2021: Saab Said De La Espriella Stopped Representing Him “A Couple Of Years Ago” And Added The Split Had Nothing To Do With Political Differences. “Alex Saab affirmed that Abelardo de La Espriella ‘is a great lawyer and friend’ and that ‘his professional credentials are well known to all.’ When asked if the lawyer knew of his closeness to the Venezuelan government and that he was treated almost like a diplomat, Saab replied: ‘He simply practiced as my lawyer for a few years and stopped being one a couple of years ago. He is still my friend and the political differences have nothing to do with the exercise of his profession.’” [El Espectador, 4/4/21] (Google Translate)

De La Espriella Said He Was Paid By Both Saab And Alvaro Pulido. “De la Espriella acknowledged that he received fees from Saab and his partner Álvaro Pulido which were duly reported to the authorities. ‘This is how I always proceed ... I have not committed crimes,’ he added. But De la Espriella did not explain what kind of contracts he signed with Saab and Pulido.” [Univision, 6/24/20]

Pulido Was Charged With Money Laundering Along With Saab. “Alex Nain Saab Moran (Saab), 47, and Alvaro Pulido Vargas (Pulido) 55, both citizens of Colombia, were each charged in an eight-count indictment returned in the Southern District of Florida with one count of conspiracy to commit money laundering and seven counts of money laundering. The indictment also alleges and seeks forfeiture in excess of $350 million representing the amount of funds involved in the violation.” [U.S. Department of Treasury Press Release, 7/25/19]

De La Espriella Is A Harsh Maduro Critic

De la Espriella was criticized for representing Saab while Saab contracted with the Maduro government despite de la Espriella being a harsh Maduro critic.

De La Espriella Faced Criticism For Denouncing Maduro While Representing Saab. “For six years, the law firm of the criminalist Abelardo de la Espriella has represented the entrepreneur Alex Saab in Colombia. This contractual relationship has been criticized by some sectors, for while the lawyer lashes out against the government of Nicolás Maduro, his client is one of the largest contractors of the State of Venezuela.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 7/27/19]

Saab Was One Of The Largest Contractors With The Maduro Government In Venezuela. “For six years, the law firm of the criminalist Abelardo de la Espriella has represented the entrepreneur Alex Saab in Colombia. This contractual relationship has been criticized by some sectors, for while the lawyer lashes out against the government of Nicolás Maduro, his client is one of the largest contractors of the State of Venezuela.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 7/27/19]

De La Espriella Has Opposed Maduro Publicly. “De la Espriella has claimed to be an enemy of the government of Nicolás Maduro and even suggested, in an opinion column, that the Venezuelan president should die. That is why it was such a surprise when it became publicly known that he was Saab's lawyer.” [El Espectador, 4/4/21] (Google Translate) 2018: De La Espriella Called For The Assassination Of Nicolas Maduro. “The gloomy character Álvaro Uribe hinted at an assassination request against Hugo Chávez and publicly stated that ‘he lacked time for military action against Venezuela,’ and his acolyte Abelardo de la Espriella wrote on Sunday, July 9, 2017 in El Heraldo de Colombia: ‘The good Venezuelans and the entire international community must understand that the death of Nicolás Maduro is necessary to guarantee the survival of the Republic. It would not be a common murder, but a patriotic act that is protected by the Venezuelan Constitution and that is, moreover, morally irreproachable.’ That is to say, in Colombia there is open talk of assassination as a ‘remedy’ for Venezuela. What generous brothers!” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 8/11/18]

De la Espriella defended representing Saab and said his firm did not take ideology into account when deciding to take on clients.

Asked About Representing Saab, De La Espriella Said His Firm Did Not Take Ideology Into Account When Taking On Clients. “On July 25, 2019, De la Espriella issued a statement in which he clarified that his firm serves natural and legal persons, ‘without ideological distinction’ and that ‘the assessments prior to the acceptance of a case are purely technical and, therefore, in them, there is no place for subjective reasoning of a political nature.’” [El Espectador, 4/4/21] (Google Translate)

Asked If De La Espriella Knew Of Saab’s Relationship With Maduro, Saab Said De La Espriella Stopped Representing Him “A Couple Of Years Ago” And Added The Split Had Nothing To Do With Political Differences. “Alex Saab affirmed that Abelardo de La Espriella ‘is a great lawyer and friend’ and that ‘his professional credentials are well known to all.’ When asked if the lawyer knew of his closeness to the Venezuelan government and that he was treated almost like a diplomat, Saab replied: ‘He simply practiced as my lawyer for a few years and stopped being one a couple of years ago. Saab Added To Office Of Foreign Asset Control List

De la Espriella claimed he stopped representing Saab after he was added to the OFAC list in 2019.

2019: De La Espriella Said He Resigned As Saab’s Attorney After Saab Was Included On The OFAC Sanction List. “I announce that I will take this case to the last consequences and I will demonstrate how the name of Mr. Alex Saab has been unfairly trampled,’ de la Espriella said in October 2018. However, months later, in mid-2019, the lawyer said he had resigned to Saab as its client, after it was included on the OFAC list, also known as the Clinton List. However, journalist Daniel Coronell has said that De la Espriella ‘has not been able to show Alex Saab’s resignation from power.’” [El Espectador, 4/4/21] (Google Translate)

De La Espriella Has Never Provided Documentation Proving He Stopped Representing Saab. “First, Abelardo de la Espriella has been Alex Saab’s lawyer and has never publicly presented a document proving the termination of his relationship with him. What’s more, a lawyer named Jonatan Peláez Saénz, who operates out of De La Espriella’s Barranquilla office, has continued to represent Saab interests. When, a few hours ago, I called Dr. Peláez to ask him if he was still a lawyer for Saab, he replied: ‘These are personal matters and I would prefer not to answer.’ Afterwards, I asked him if he continued to dispatch from De la Espriella’s headquarters in Barranquilla. He replied: ‘This could represent problems for me. I prefer not to answer’.” [Los Danieles, Daniel Coronell Column, 4/25/21] (Google Translate)

Columnist Daniel Coronell Claimed Attorney Jonatan Peláez Sáenz Was Representing Saab And Working Out Of De La Espriella’s Law Office. “What’s more, a lawyer named Jonatan Peláez Sáenz, who operates out of De La Espriella’s Barranquilla office, has continued to represent Saab interests. He replied: ‘This could represent problems for me. I prefer not to answer’.” [Los Danieles, Daniel Coronell Column, 4/25/21] (Google Translate)

De La Espriella Said He Would Have Continued Defending Saab If Saab Were Not Added To The Sanctions List. “For 2 years, the lawyer De La Espriella defended Alex Saab, with the money from the corruption of Venezuela, this businessman from Barranquilla paid the Colombian lawyer. ‘Alex Saab, for whom I was a lawyer in Colombia, I have never denied it until almost 2 years, I had to resign because my status as a permanent resident here in the United States did not allow me, Saab being included in the OFAC list to assist him,’ adds De La Esprriella. The lawyer emphasizes that unfortunately he could not continue assisting him due to United States rules, ‘if it had not been for that, he would continue to be his lawyer.’” [PluralidadZ, 10/21/21; YouTube, Kienyke, 10/20/21] (Google Translate)

Saab Sanction For Money Laundering

Saab was sanctioned by the U.S. Treasury along with three of Maduro’s stepsons for laundering hundreds of millions of dollars in exchange for Venezuelan government contracts.

Saab Was Sanctioned For Running A Corruption Network The Treasury Said Allowed Maduro And His Regime “To Significantly Profit From Food Imports And Distribution.” “Today, the U.S. Department of the Treasury’s Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) sanctioned Colombian national Alex Nain Saab Moran (Saab), a profiteer orchestrating a vast corruption network that has enabled former President Nicolás Maduro (Maduro) and his regime to significantly profit from food imports and distribution in Venezuela. Saab has personally profited from overvalued contracts, including the Government’s food subsidy program titled the Local Committees for Supply and Production, or Los Comités Locales de Abastecimiento y Producción, commonly known as CLAP.” [U.S. Department of Treasury Press Release, 7/25/19]

Saab Laundered Hundreds Of Millions of Dollars In Corruption Proceeds And Funneled Money To Maduro’s Stepsons In Exchange For Venezuela Government Contracts. “Through a sophisticated network of shell companies, business partners, and family members, Saab laundered hundreds of millions of dollars in corruption proceeds around the world. Also targeted today are Maduro’s three stepsons, Walter, Yosser, and Yoswal, to whom Saab funneled money in exchange for access to contracts with the Government of Venezuela, including its food subsidy program.” [U.S. Department of Treasury Press Release, 7/25/19]

Alex Saab Was Being Held In Cape Verde And Faced Extradition To The U.S. On Charges Of Money Laundering. “The Barranquillero, detained in Cape Verde and who would be extradited to the United States accused of alleged money laundering and being the front man of Nicolás Maduro, spoke with El Espectador about his relationship with lawyer Abelardo de la Espriella. Almost a year after being captured in Cape Verde, the Colombian Alex Saab Morán remains in that country while the legal battle with which his lawyers intend to stop his extradition to the United States is resolved, where the justice accuses him of laundering money and being the figurehead of the president of Venezuela, Nicolás Maduro.” [El Espectador, 4/4/21] (Google Translate)

2016-2019: Saab made hundreds of millions of dollars running a corruption scheme through a program intended to provide food rations to poor Venezuelans.

Saab “Reaped Substantial Profits And Imported Only A Fraction Of The Food Needed” Under The CLAP Program Designed To Provide Food Rations To Poor Venezuelans. “The former Maduro regime created the CLAP program in 2016 for the stated purpose of providing subsidized food ration boxes to poor Venezuelans. Rather than ensure that this vulnerable population receives the food it desperately needs, the regime uses the CLAP program as a political tool to reward support and punish political criticism. By offering food through this program, the former regime is able to maintain its influence because many Venezuelan citizens do not have enough money to buy food and therefore depend on the rations CLAP provides to survive. Saab’s involvement with the CLAP program started in 2016 when he and Pulido devised a corporate structure to acquire the food from a foreign distributor, assemble it in a foreign country, and ship it to Venezuela, all at the most profitable rate for themselves. Under Maduro’s watch, Saab reaped substantial profits and imported only a fraction of the food needed for the CLAP program.” [U.S. Department of Treasury Press Release, 7/25/19]

Saab Used Shell Companies To Profit From CLAP Contracts And Used The Profits To Bribe Venezuela Government Officials To Gain More Contracts. “Alex Nain Saab Moran (Saab) is a Colombian national who, along with his business partner, Pulido, oversees a sophisticated network of front and shell companies used to acquire, assemble, and ship food to Venezuela in support of CLAP contracts, all at the most profitable rate for themselves. Saab used the profits generated from CLAP food boxes to bribe government officials to maintain his access to government contracts. Saab bribed several individuals, including Vielma Mora and Marco Torres. Saab also provided kickbacks to Maduro’s stepsons, Walter, Yosser, and Yoswal (“Los Chamos”).” [U.S. Department of Treasury Press Release, 7/25/19]
Saab Made Hundreds Of Millions Of Dollars From The CLAP Scheme Since 2016. “Several companies Saab and Pulido own or control were used in Saab and Pulido’s food corruption scheme, including Asasi Food FZE, Mulberry Proje Yatirim Anonim Sirketi (Mulberry), and the Group Grand Limited companies. Since 2016, when Saab met with Los Chamos and Maduro to discuss importing food on behalf of the Government of Venezuela, Saab and Pulido have made hundreds of millions of dollars from the profits of this corrupt scheme.” [U.S. Department of Treasury Press Release, 7/25/19]

Saab And Alvaro Pulido Vargas Were Indicted By The Department Of Justice On Money Laundering Charges And For The Forfeit Of $350 Million In Laundered Money. “Two Colombian businessmen were charged in an indictment returned today for their alleged roles in laundering the proceeds of violations of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) in connection with a scheme to pay bribes to take advantage of Venezuela’s government-controlled exchange rate. Assistant Attorney General Brian A. Benczkowski of the Justice Department’s Criminal Division, U.S. Attorney Ariana Fajardo Orshan of the Southern District of Florida and Special Agent in Charge Adolphus P. Wright of the Drug Enforcement Administration’s (DEA) Miami Field Division made the announcement. Alex Nain Saab Moran (Saab), 47, and Alvaro Pulido Vargas (Pulido) 55, both citizens of Colombia, were each charged in an eight-count indictment returned in the Southern District of Florida with one count of conspiracy to commit money laundering and seven counts of money laundering. The indictment also alleges and seeks forfeiture in excess of $350 million representing the amount of funds involved in the violation.” [Department Of Justice Press Release, 7/25/19]

2011-2015: Saab And Pulido Laundered Proceeds From A Bribery Scheme By Obtaining A Venezuela Government Housing Contract And Submitting False Import Documents For Goods That Were Never Purchased. “The indictment alleges that beginning in or around November 2011 and continuing until at least September 2015, Saab and Pulido conspired with others to launder the proceeds of an illegal bribery scheme from bank accounts located in Venezuela to and through bank accounts located in the United States. According to the indictment, Saab and Pulido obtained a contract with the Venezuelan government in November 2011 to build low-income housing units. The defendants and their co-conspirators then allegedly took advantage of Venezuela’s government-controlled exchange rate, under which U.S. dollars could be obtained at a favorable rate, by submitting false and fraudulent import documents for goods and materials that were never imported into Venezuela and bribing Venezuelan government officials to approve those documents. The indictment alleges that the unlawful activity was a bribery scheme that violated the FCPA and involved bribery offenses against Venezuela. It also alleges that meetings in furtherance of the bribe payments occurred in Miami and that Saab and Pulido wired money related to the scheme to bank accounts in the Southern District of Florida. As a result of the scheme, Saab and Pulido transferred approximately $350 million out of Venezuela, through the United States, to overseas accounts they owned or controlled, the indictment alleges.” [Department Of Justice Press Release, 7/25/19]

Saab Was Paying Bribes And Kickbacks To Venezuela Officials To Win Overvalued Contracts Since As Early As 2009. “Since as early as 2009, Saab exploited his corrupt ties to Maduro regime insiders, frequently paying bribes and kickbacks to Government of Venezuela officials, to win overvalued government contracts. Saab and his business partner, Alvaro Enrique Pulido Vargas (Pulido), created a company in 2009 to bid on a Government of Venezuela housing contract. After a year of lobbying, the Government of Venezuela awarded a housing contract to Saab and Pulido’s company to build 25,000 homes in Venezuela; the contract paid Saab and Pulido three to four times the actual cost of building each low-income home, which were intended for Venezuela's more vulnerable populations.” [U.S. Department of Treasury Press Release, 7/25/19]

De La Espriella Helps Saab Escape Extradition

2018: de la Espriella allegedly helped Saab escape extradition after being tipped off by a police officer.

2018: Saab Was Able To Avoid Arrest In Colombia After A Police Officer Tipped Off Maria Paula Escorcia, A Lawyer Who Worked For De La Esprriella’s Law Firm. “Alex Saab, the businessman who the U.S. government is seeking to have extradited from Cape Verde for his alleged role in an international money laundering scheme, might have been arrested two years ago in Colombia. But Saab and several of his relatives managed to avoid their capture after a corrupt police officer passed information on the raid to the law firm of Abelardo de la Espriella, Saab’s lawyer in Colombia, and to a legal advisor of Saab, according court documents obtained by Unvision Investiga. María Paula Escorcia, a lawyer for the De la Espriella office, stated in a judicial complaint in Colombia that the policeman informed her of the operation to capture Saab. The information was passed to her 23 days before the raid, according the dates provided by her to the investigators.” [Univision, 7/6/18]

Escorcia “Followed Instructions From Her Bosses To Work With The Police Informant.” “María Paula Escorcia, a lawyer for the De la Esprriella office, stated in a judicial complaint in Colombia that the policeman informed her of the operation to capture Saab. The information was passed to her 23 days before the raid, according the dates provided by her to the investigators. ‘Then he [the policeman] told me not to say anything on the phone since they listen to everything and that I better send the Saab family on vacation, so they don't capture them,’ said Escorcia. The 28-year-old lawyer said she followed instructions from her bosses to work with the police informant, Eddie Andrés Pinto Rúa. She was also authorized to give him an iPhone to communicate exclusively with her. Pinto Rúa was convicted of bribery for accepting the cellphone from Escorcia, according to his three-year prison sentence.” [Univision, 7/6/18]

Escorcia Said De La Esprriella Only Told Her To Report The Policeman To Authorities After The Arrest Failed. “On Sept 26, Escorcia appeared before a judicial police station in Barranquilla and denounced Pinto, saying her bosses instructed her to ‘go along with it.’ It was only amidst the scandal of the failed operation, and after his firm had already received a fair amount of confidential information from the DIJIN investigation, that De la Esprriella instructed Escorcia to report the patrolman for extortion, according to the timeline described by Escorcia.” [Univision, 7/6/18]

Timeline of Saab’s escape from arrest

9/2/2018: Escorcia Was Tipped Off That Saab Would Be Arrested. “But Saab and several of his relatives managed to avoid their capture after a corrupt police officer passed information on the raid to the law firm of Abelardo de la Espriella, Saab’s lawyer in Colombia, and to a legal advisor of Saab, according court documents obtained by Univision Investiga. The information was passed to her 23 days before the raid, according the dates provided by her to the investigators.” [Univision, 7/6/18]

9/23/2018-9/24/2018: Police Say Saab Fled On A Chartered Jet For Caracas. “De la Espriella told Univision that neither Saab nor his family learned of the arrest operation through him or his office. He explained that when the arrest warrant was issued against Saab, ‘had been out of the country for more than eight months, well before the tip was received, and could not have ‘escaped’ the country, ‘because he was simply not in Colombia’” at the time.”

9/25/2018: Police Failed To Arrest Saab Because He Was Apparently Tipped Off. “On Sept 26, 2018, when De la Espriella's law firm had already received copious information about the confidential investigation and the possible arrest of Saab and her relatives, she filed a complaint against the policeman for extortion. By then, the police raid had already failed. Agents did not find any of the main suspects they planned to arrest in Barranquilla on Sept 25, including Saab or his relatives. The failure of the operation made headlines in the Colombian media, causing frustration among Colombian officials and US federal agents who had supported the investigation, said Gen. Luis Vargas, then head of the Police Criminal Investigation Directorate (DIJIN). ‘It was devastating for all of us,’ Vargas told Univision. ‘It was a very serious investigation with the Money Laundering Unit, working closely with the DEA and the FBI,’ he added.” [Univision, 7/6/18]

9/26/2018: Escorcia Filed A Complaint Against The Policeman For Extortion. “María Paula Escorcia, a lawyer for the De la Espriella office, stated in a judicial complaint in Colombia that the policeman informed her of the operation to capture Saab. The information was passed to her 23 days before the raid, according the dates provided by her to the investigators […] The 28-year-old lawyer said she followed instructions from her bosses to work with the police informant, Eddie Andrés Pinto Rúa. She was also authorized to give him an iPhone to communicate exclusively with her. Pinto Rúa was convicted of bribery for accepting the cellphone from Escorcia, according to his three-year prison sentence. On Sept 26, 2018, when De la Espeirilla’s law firm had already received copious information about the confidential investigation and the possible arrest of Saab and her relatives, she filed a complaint against the policeman for extortion.” [Univision, 7/6/18]

9/27/2018: A Lawyer From De La Espeirilla’s Firm Met With DIJIN Director Vargas To Report That A Police Officer Tipped Off Saab And The Law Firm. “Univision asked De la Espeirilla why he had taken so long to report the policeman's criminal behavior that ended up ruining a crucial police operation. The lawyer offered two conflicting explanations: He said the reason for the delay was because Pinto ‘seemed evasive until the end.’ But he also said that ‘from the first moment’ when he was informed by the firm's lawyer about the approach of the police detective, he gave ‘precise instructions so that situation would be brought to the attention of the then director of DIJIN, General Vargas.’ To ensure this, he added, he sent a lawyer whose name he didn’t reveal, to meet with the general. De la Espriella invited Univision to verify the information with Vargas. Univision contacted the general and found that the dates cited by De la Espriella do not match. Vargas explained to Univision that in fact he met with a lawyer sent by de la Espriella but the meeting took place two days after the operation, on Sept 27. De la Espriella maintained that he had sent his lawyer ‘as soon as’ he was informed by the firm’s lawyer, which was on Sept 2.” [Univision, 7/6/18]

De La Espriella Claimed He Sent A Lawyer To Meet With Vargas As Soon As He Was Informed of The Tip, But De La Espriella Learned Of The Tip On September 2nd. “Univision asked De la Espriella why he had taken so long to report the policeman’s criminal behavior that ended up ruining a crucial police operation. The lawyer offered two conflicting explanations: He said the reason for the delay was because Pinto ‘seemed evasive until the end.’ But he also said that ‘from the first moment’ when he was informed by the firm's lawyer about the approach of the police detective, he gave ‘precise instructions so that situation would be brought to the attention of the then director of DIJIN, General Vargas.’ To ensure this, he added, he sent a lawyer whose name he didn’t reveal, to meet with the general. Other Individuals Involved In Saab’s Corruption Ring

De la Espriella had a relationship with two more individuals involved in Saab’s corruption ring.

Former University Of Miami Professor Bruce Bagley Pleased Guilty To Helping Saab Launder $3 Million. “It took seven months for the United States government to get former University of Miami professor Bruce Bagley to plead guilty to charges of money laundering from a corruption scheme in Venezuela. On June 1st Bagley admitted in federal court in New York that he had received commissions for laundering $3 million from Alex Saab, a Colombian businessman arrested in Cape Verde more than a week ago accused of an international corruption scheme in a Miami court. However, the New York case left a question hanging over the fate of the bulk of the money sent by Saab from overseas accounts between 2017 and 2019.” [Univision, 6/24/20]

De La Espriella Said He Met Bagley At The University Of Miami. “It took seven months for the United States government to get former University of Miami professor Bruce Bagley to plead guilty to charges of money laundering from a corruption scheme in Venezuela […] De la Espriella said that he met Jorge Luis Hernández, the informant of the operation, 'in the presence of two agents from a federal agency,' in Miami. 'I have no business with Mr. Hernández,' he said. He also explained that he met Bagley at the university.” [Univision, 6/24/20]

De La Espriella Used Bagley As An Expert Witness In Legal Cases, Including One Seeking To Stop The Extradition Of A Former Panamanian President. “Second, Abelardo de la Espriella has used Professor Bagley as a witness in cases of interest to him. One of them sought to prevent the extradition of former Panamanian President Ricardo Martinelli to his country, an extradition that he was ultimately unable to prevent.” [Los Danieles, Daniel Coronell Column, 4/25/21] (Google Translate)

A columnist and unnamed sources speculated that de la Espriella received a payout after U.S. authorities only seized $300,000 out of $3 million in funds laundered by Bagley.

The U.S. Government Seized $300,000 Bagley Took As Commission, But Not The Remaining $2.7 Million In Laundered Funds. “On June 1st Bagley admitted in federal court in New York that he had received commissions for laundering $3 million from Alex Saab, a Colombian businessman arrested in Cape Verde more than a week ago accused of an international corruption scheme in a Miami court. However, the New York case left a question hanging over the fate of the bulk of the money sent by Saab from overseas accounts between 2017 and 2019. The government confiscated a total of $300,000 allegedly taken by the professor as commissions for facilitating the laundering in Miami of multiple transfers from Saab. But there is no document that reflects what happened to the remaining $2.7 million. The sum doesn’t appear to have been seized by the federal government even though it came from the same source: Saab accounts in the United Arab Emirates and Switzerland.” [Univision, 6/24/20]

Two Lawyers With Expertise In Money Laundering Cases Said The Entire Amount of Laundered Money Should Have Been Seized. “Two lawyers who are experts in money laundering cases told Univision that it is common for some undercover operations to inject federal money into bank transfers and cash deliveries to simulate illegal activities. In those cases, they added, there is no confiscation at the end of the operation. In the case against Bagley, the entire funds were supposed to have been seized, the experts added, because they were the product of corrupt transactions, according to the accusation. Bagley confessed that he knew of the illegal origin of the funds at the time that he helped Saab in the laundering scheme. Bagley testified at the hearing that one person (Hernández) told him that ‘they represented the product of international bribes and embezzlement [of money] stolen from the Venezuelan people.’ […] Prosecutors in the Bagley case noted in the indictment that the money Saab sent to the United States between November 2017 and April 2019 was entirely the product of corruption, but never explained why it was not seized.” [Univision, 6/24/20]

Univision Reported Sources Speculated The Remaining Funds Could Have Been Used To Pay Lawyers To Arrange A Meeting Between Saab And The U.S. Government. “Two people familiar with Professor Bagley’s case, and who asked not to be identified, hinted the purpose of the funds: fees paid to lawyers who promised Saab to approach the United States government on his behalf before he was indicted. Saab asked Bagley to help him discreetly process the payments to prevent the Venezuelan regime of Nicolás Maduro from finding out, the sources added. If that was the case, the tactic didn’t work. Saab was accused in July 2019 of money laundering from alleged corrupt operations in Venezuela. In a memorandum from the Treasury Department, the businessman was described as an international operator for the Maduro government. Saab is awaiting a U.S. extradition request to Cape Verde where he was arrested on June 12.” [Univision, 6/24/20]

Journalist Gerardo Reyes Speculated Saab Was Sending Bagley Funds To Pay Lawyers To Broker A Meeting With U.S. Authorities Before Saab Was Charged. “Gerardo Reyes, author of the book that I recommend you read, asked James Margolin, spokesman for the New York Southern District attorney’s office, about this strange circumstance. He replied that the Prosecutor’s Office has no comment. Why did the United States justice decide to pursue only the beneficiary of 10 percent of the Saab drafts and apparently has done nothing to recover 90 percent of the funds? Whose hands did the $2,700,000 get? Gerardo Reyes writes: ‘Two people familiar with the case offered a clue: the $2.7 million that Bagley laundered came into the hands of lawyers who promised Saab a rapprochement with the United States government before he was charged. According to this hypothesis, Saab would have asked his professor friend to help him process the payments to the lawyers as discreetly as possible to prevent the Nicolás Maduro regime from finding out that he was flirting with the DEA and the FBI.’ If the extradition of Alex Saab from Cape Verde finally takes place, many things will be clear about the allies he had to operate both in Venezuela and in Colombia and the United States.” [Los Danieles, Daniel Coronell Column, 4/25/21] (Google Translate) dea la Espriella met with a co-conspirator in the Saab corruption ring on more than one occasion.

Jorge Luis Hernandez (Boliche) Was A Former Colombian Drug Trafficker Who Introduced Bagley To Alex Saab. “About a decade ago Jorge Luis Hernandez – aka ‘Boliche’ – a Colombian drug trafficker who’d fled to the U.S., asked Bagley to testify on his behalf. Bagley helped persuade a U.S. judge not to deport Hernandez back to Colombia, where Boliche feared he’d be killed. A grateful Hernandez later introduced Bagley to Alex Saab.” [WLRN, 6/22/20]

Bagley Transferred Funds To Jorge Luis Hernandez AKA “Boliche” Who Was An Informant For U.S. Law Enforcement Agencies. “All that emerges from court documents regarding the funds sent by Saab to Florida is that they were transferred to a co-conspirator, also identified by the prosecution as ‘Individual 1’. Bagley identified ‘Individual 1’ as Jorge Luis Hernández, aka 'Boliche' during the plea hearing. Hernández is an informant for U.S. counter narcotics agencies, according to Univision sources. The prosecution did not explain what happened to the money after the informant received it.” [Univision, 6/24/20]

De La Espriella Said He Met With Boliche And Two U.S. Federal Agents In Miami. “De la Espriella said that he met Jorge Luis Hernández, the informant of the operation, ‘in the presence of two agents from a federal agency,’ in Miami. I have no business with Mr. Hernández,’ he said.” [Univision, 6/24/20]

De La Espriella Was Photographed In His Law Office With Boliche. “Famed Montería jurist Abelardo de la Espriella (standing) in one of his several elegant offices, convicted drug trafficker Jorge Luis Hernández Villazón, alias “Boliche” (pink shirt and first cousin of Ñeñe Hernández). Salazar Endorsement By Uribe

In 2020, a U.S. ambassador warned Colombian politicians to stay out of U.S. elections after former Colombian President Uribe endorsed Salazar for congress, which Salazar amplified on social media. Uribe said we “need” Salazar in Congress, and Salazar called Uribe “one of the great ones of Latin America.”

October 2020: Salazar Posted An Endorsement Video With Former Colombian President Alvaro Uribe. “In the final weeks before Election Day, Colombian politicians have popped up in South Florida politics, offering messages of support on social media for Republican candidates like President Donald Trump and Miami-Dade mayoral candidate Steve Bovo. But on Monday, the U.S. ambassador in Bogotá sent a message via Twitter: Colombian politicians should stay out of U.S. elections. The tweet came after Republican congressional candidate Maria Elvira Salazar posted a video on Sunday of her on a video call accepting the endorsement of former Colombian President Álvaro Uribe. [...] Hours after Salazar’s video, U.S Ambassador to Colombia Philip S. Goldberg tweeted from the embassy’s official account. ‘The success of U.S.-COL relations over many years has been based on bipartisan support,’ Goldberg tweeted. ‘I urge all Colombian politicians to refrain from involvement in U.S. elections.’” [Miami Herald, 10/27/20]

December 2018: Former Colombian President Alvaro Uribe Pushed Back After Salazar Used Uribe’s Comments From A Video Praising Salazar’s Career In A Campaign Ad. “Former Colombian President Alvaro Uribe is pushing back against the Maria Elvira Salazar campaign over a radio ad that appeared to imply Uribe had endorsed her campaign. Uribe offered words of support for Salazar, who is now the Republican candidate in the race for Florida’s 27th Congressional District, in a video that has since been uploaded to her YouTube channel. According to a report from El Nuevo Herald, the video was recorded by Abelardo De La Espriella, a Colombian lawyer. In it, Uribe offers praise for Salazar's long career. Salazar then used portions of that video in a radio ad which aired on Radio Caracol 1260 in Miami. But according to Uribe, his comments were not meant to take sides in the race between Salazar and Democratic nominee Donna Shalala.” [Florida Politics, 12/11/18]

Salazar Used The Video For Political Purposes, Which Resulted In Uribe Saying His Message Did Not “Represent Political Support.” “Former Colombian President Álvaro Uribe Vélez clarified this Wednesday in a statement released by the campaign team of the Democratic candidate for the 27th district, Donna Shalala, that a recently published video of him with a message to the Republican María Elvira Salazar does not represent support political. Salazar's campaign had presented the video as a show of support from the former Colombian president for the Republican's candidacy, but he clarified that it is a recognition of his career. Shalala's campaign team disclosed that the former president issued the following statement from Bogotá: ‘In recent days I sent a message of recognition for her career and thanks for her solidarity, to the journalist María Elvira Salazar. The intention was to highlight my friendship and admiration for the journalist and praise her success and professional rigor.’ ‘We have been warned that the message has been used for political purposes, in the campaign that advances to the United States Congress,’ said the statement from the former president and current Colombian senator. ‘I reiterate that the messages sent by me to people in the exercise of their functions do not represent political support but rather a strengthening of fraternal relations.’ Uribe also expressed that he and his Democratic Center party reiterate their commitment to maintain ‘respectful and bipartisan' diplomatic relations with congressmen and candidates in the United States, without any preference in the electoral contest.’” [El Nuevo Herald, 10/03/18] Translation
Spanish Version: “El ex presidente colombiano Álvaro Uribe Vélez aclaró este miércoles en un comunicado divulgado por el equipo de campaña de la candidata demócrata por el distrito 27, Donna Shalala, que un video suyo publicado recientemente con un mensaje a la republicana María Elvira Salazar no representa un apoyo político. La campaña de Salazar había presentado el video como una muestra de apoyo del ex presidente colombiano a la candidatura de la republicana, pero este aclaró que se trata de un reconocimiento a su trayectoria. El equipo de campaña de Shalala divulgó que el ex mandatario emitió desde Bogotá el siguiente comunicado: ‘En días pasados envié un mensaje de reconocimiento por su trayectoria y de agradecimiento por su solidaridad, a la periodista María Elvira Salazar. La intención era resaltar mi amistad y admiración por la periodista y enaltecer su éxito y rigor profesional.’ ‘Hemos sido advertidos que el mensaje ha sido utilizado con fines políticos, en la campaña que adelanta al Congreso de los Estados Unidos,’ precisó el comunicado del ex presidente y actualmente senador colombiano. ‘Reitero que los mensajes enviados por mí a personas en ejercicio de sus funciones no representan un apoyo político sino estrechamiento de relaciones fraternas.’ Uribe expresó además que él y su partido Centro Democrático reiteran su compromiso de mantener relaciones diplomáticas ‘respetuosas y bipartidistas, con los congresistas y candidatos en los Estados Unidos, sin preferencia alguna en la contienda electoral.’”

Salazar Went On Spanish Radio And Said It Was True That Uribe Was Supporting Her Campaign Because There Was Video. “Uribe also expressed that he and his Democratic Center party reiterate their commitment to maintain ‘respectful and bipartisan’ diplomatic relations with congressmen and candidates in the United States, without any preference in the electoral contest.’ Shalala’s campaign accused Salazar of trying to ‘deceive the voters of the 27th district by using a video that the former Colombian president recorded for non-political purposes,’ and said that Salazar even distributed publicity material in various media outlets as proof that the senator Uribe supported his candidacy. ‘María Elvira Salazar could be lying or manipulating information in relation to any other matter related to her campaign, her political positions or her intentions. The voters of the 27th district of Florida deserve transparency and to be able to trust the actions of their future representatives in Washington D.C.’ Shalala’s campaign said in a statement. El Nuevo Herald tried unsuccessfully on Wednesday to contact Uribe and Salazar. Salazar said Wednesday in an interview with Miami’s Actualidad Radio 1020 station that ‘nothing is happening. They call me about rumors that the announcement or the support that President Uribe gives me for my campaign is not true. I don’t know about where does that come from because there is the video.’” [El Nuevo Herald, 10/03/18] Translation

Spanish Version: “Uribe expresó además que él y su partido Centro Democrático reiteran su compromiso de mantener relaciones diplomáticas ‘respetuosas y bipartidistas, con los congresistas y candidatos en los Estados Unidos, sin preferencia alguna en la contienda electoral.’ La campaña de Shalala acusó a Salazar de tratar de "engañar a los votantes del distrito 27 al utilizar un video que el ex presidente colombiano grabó sin fines políticos", y dijo que Salazar incluso distribuyó material publicitario en diversos medios como prueba de que el senador Uribe apoyaba su candidatura. ‘María Elvira Salazar podría estar mintiendo o manipulando información en relación a cualquier otro asunto relacionado a su campaña, sus posiciones políticas o sus intenciones. Los votantes del distrito 27 de la Florida merecen transparencia y poder confiar en las acciones de sus futuros representantes en Washington D.C.,’ indicó la campaña de Shalala en un comunicado. El Nuevo Herald trató el miércoles sin éxito de contactar a Uribe y a Salazar. Salazar dijo el miércoles en una entrevista con la emisora Actualidad Radio 1020 de Miami que ‘no está pasando nada. Me llaman sobre que se rumoraba que el anuncio o el apoyo que me da el presidente Uribe a mi campaña no es cierto. No sé de dónde viene eso porque ahí está el video.’

Uribe: “The Messages Sent By Me [...] Do Not Represent Political Support.” “In recent days, I sent a message of appreciation to the journalist, Maria Elvira Salazar, for her career and gratitude for her solidarity,’ read a letter from Uribe obtained by the Shalala campaign. ‘We have been alerted that the message has been used for political purposes in the campaign to benefit her advancement for Congress of the United States. I reiterate that the messages sent by me, to people in their official capacity, do not represent political support, but rather a tightening of fraternal relationships.’ Uribe went on to say the he and his political party ‘reiterate our commitment to maintain respectful and bipartisan diplomatic relations, with the congressman and candidates in the United States, without any preference in elections.’” [Florida Politics, 12/11/18]

Ironically, in 2007, Salazar appeared to connect Uribe to organized drug trafficking.

[VIDEO] November 2007: Salazar “If That’s Not Called Working For Organized Drug Trafficking, I Don’t Know What It’s called.” During a televised interview with Colombian author Virginia Vallejo, who admitted to having insider knowledge of President Alvaro Uribe helping major drug traffickers obtain plane and helicopter licenses, Salazar responded in Spanish “if that’s not called working for organized drug trafficking, I don’t know what it’s called.” [YouTube, 11/2007, 3:40/10:17]

- Spanish version: “Suficiente, si no es trabajar para el narcotráfico, no se como se llama.”

Trump & Pence

2020: Salazar Was Endorsed by Trump On October 28, 2020. “In the evening, the President traveled to the Trump National Doral Miami Golf Resort, where he remained overnight. He also announced on his personal Twitter feed his endorsement of Florida Republican congressional candidate Maria Elvira Salazar.” [Digest of Other White House Announcements, Daily Compilation of Presidential Documents, 11/6/2020]

October 2020: Pence Urged People To Vote For Salazar. “The vice president urged the renewal of Congress in Washington, for which he called for a vote for journalist Maria Salazar, Carlos Giménez, current mayor of Miami-Dade County, and Mario Díaz-Balart, all candidates for South Florida constituencies.” [CE Noticias Financieras English, 10/15/20]

Florida Republicans

Rep. Diaz-Balart

Rep. Ros-Lehtinen

2018: Ros-Lehtinen encouraged Salazar to run for her old Congressional seat, but did not endorse her during her primary race; Ros-Lehtinen praised Salazar after her primary victory.

January 2018: Ros-Lehtinen Met With Salazar About Her Old Seat. “Ros-Lehtinen is talking to any Republican who might be willing to step up. She personally met with Spanish-language TV journalist Maria Elvira Salazar at a Cuban restaurant in South Miami in an effort to drum up more competition in the primary. ‘The district is totally winnable for the right candidate,’ Ros-Lehtinen said. ‘She could be the right candidate.’ But Salazar, like many other names bandied about in Miami Republican circles, demurred when asked if she’ll run. ‘I am a news reporter, not a news maker,’ Salazar said in an email. ‘It’s an honor that over the years both parties have approached me to consider running for office. My plans are to continue being a TV journalist -- until God and the audience give me that opportunity.’” [Miami Herald, 1/2/18]

Ros-Lehtinen Encouraged Salazar To Run For Her Old Seat. “Ros-Lehtinen encouraged Salazar to run, though she’s said she’ll support whomever emerges from the primary.” [Miami Herald, 5/23/18]

2018: Ros-Lehtinen, Diaz-Balart, And Curbelo’s Parents Joined Salazar On Stage At Her Republican Primary Election Night Party. “‘Tomorrow we begin anew the next phase of this campaign,’ Salazar said in a victory speech. ‘I am very aware of the responsibility that it entails to be the Republican nominee for District 27, held with such distinction by this lady standing here next to me, Ileana Ros-Lehtinen.’ She was also joined by former Rep. Lincoln Diaz-Balart. Even the parents of current Rep. Carlos Curbelo (FL-26) came on stage in celebration.” [WLRN, 8/29/18]

2018: Ros-Lehtinen On Salazar: “Someone Who Understands About Limited Government, About Less Bureaucratic Regulations, About More Freedom, Help For The Oppressed People Throughout The World.” “Ros-Lehtinen is a popular figure even among Democrats in the district, and her endorsement was coveted to try to keep the seat in Republican hands. The district voted for Hillary Clinton over President Donald Trump by a wide margin in the 2016 election. ‘Let’s come together and let’s make sure that we do not flip this district,’ Ros-Lehtinen said in a speech. ‘It’s got to stay in the hands of someone who understands about limited government, about less bureaucratic regulations, about more freedom, help for the oppressed people throughout the world, whether it’s Cuba, Nicaragua, Venezuela, wherever it is. And that voice of freedom is going to be the voice of Maria Elvira Salazar.’” [WLRN, 8/29/18]

2018: Ros-Lehtinen and Rubio did not endorse any of the candidates during Salazar’s primary race.
2018: Ros-Lehtinen and Rubio Did Not Endorse Any Of The Candidates During Salazar’s Primary Race. “Salazar also has the support of former Rep. Lincoln Diaz-Balart, one of the most recognizable anti-Castro figures in Miami, though Ros-Lehtinen and Sen. Marco Rubio have stayed neutral during the primary.” [Miami Herald, 8/25/18]

Other Endorsements

2022: Salazar Was Endorsed By Maggie’s List. “Maggie's List, a PAC formed to promote conservative women to federal office, held a reception in Washington last month along with partners eager for Republicans to retake both chambers of Commerce. Scott, head of the National Republican Senatorial Committee, gave a speech at the event promoting Missouri Republican Vicky Hartzler's candidacy for Senate. Former Florida Secretary of State Sandra Mortham currently chairs Maggie's List, and the cast of prominent Washington leaders at the reception shows the growing influence of the group under her leadership. Tom Emmer, Scott's counterpart at the National Republican Congressional Committee, also attended and promoted House candidates. Congressman Mike Kelly, Christine Torreti, and Sandra Mortham are eager for Republicans to take back the House. Several other Florida personalities could be seen at the reception as well. Carole Jean Jordan, Indian River County Tax Collector and Florida chair for Maggie's List, was spotted, as was Mortham, Florida advocacy director for Excel in Ed. Amanda Makki, a Maggie's List-endorsed candidate in an open race for Florida's 13th Congressional District, also shared photos on her own social media from the evening. Jackie Toledo, a candidate in Florida's 15th Congressional District, was also endorsed and invited to attend. Of note, out of the 50 sitting members of Congress listed on an invitation as congressional partners to Maggie's list, nine represent Florida. The list includes Scott and Rubio. The organization listed endorsed Reps. Cammack and Maria Elvira Salazar, as well as supportive Reps. Mario Daz-Balart, Bilirakis, Bill Posey, John Rutherford and Dan Webster.” [Florida Politics, 5/3/2022]

2020: Salazar Was Endorsed By The US Chamber of Commerce. Today, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce announced its endorsement of Maria Elvira Salazar to represent Florida's Twenty-Seventh Congressional District. The U.S. Chamber is proud to endorse Salazar, in efforts to promote free enterprise and job-creating policies for businesses across all regions and sectors. 2018: The Miami Herald Editorial Board Said Salazar Was “Not Ready For Such A Big Job” And In 2020 They Said, “She Still Isn’t.” “Salazar, a well-known Spanish-language television personality, told the Editorial Board that she took to heart our comment two years ago that she was not ready for such a big job. Up against a powerhouse such as Shalala, she still isn’t. But we give Salazar credit for boning up on issues.” [Miami Herald, Editorial Board, 10/31/20]

APPENDIX I: NOTABLE VIDEOS

Abortion

[VIDEO] September 2018: Salazar: “It’s Settled Law. [Kavanaugh] Said It. [...] I Don’t Think He’s A Radical. I Don’t Think He’s An Extremist.” A Florida anchor asked Salazar, “Where do you stand on abortion? Salazar said, “But he said it. It’s settled law. He said it the other day. It’s settled law. And I believe that he is a person that will follow and interpret the constitution the way it needs to be. I don’t think he is a radical. I don’t think he’s an extremist.” [YouTube, CBS Miami, 9/11/18 (2:15)]

[VIDEO] September 2018: Salazar: “I Don’t Like To Take Rights From People.” Salazar said, “I don’t like to take rights away from people. I want to give them rights. [YouTube, Miami Herald, 9/26/18 (28:00)]

American Rescue Plan

[VIDEO] March 2021: Salazar: “Those Who Are Happy About A $1,400 Stimulus Will Later Pay Thousands And Thousands More In Taxes.” In a video posted to her Facebook, Salazar claimed in Spanish “those who are very happy because they will receive $1,400 per person, or for couples earning less than $150K receiving $2,800 - I want to tell you that this is a fallacy, because it will later cost you thousands and thousands of dollars in taxes, I don’t know if it could be $24K or $14K, but it’s a bad deal.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 03/08/21, 00:00/3:59]

[VIDEO] June 2022: Salazar: “Democrats Threw Away $1.9T At The Beginning Of My Term.” In a video interview with Alex Otaola, Salazar attacked the American Rescue Plan, stating in Spanish “At the beginning of my term, Democrats threw away $1.9T alleging they would help the COVID situation, but what they did was help millions and millions of lazy people stay at home.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, 06/16/22, 7:33/23:30]

Cano Health

[VIDEO] In March 2020, Salazar “Interviewed” Cano Health Founder Dr. Marlow Hernandez About Cano’s COVID-19-Related Telemedicine Service. “I had a very good conversation a few days ago with Dr. Marlow Hernandez, who is the principal doctor at Cano Health. And he asked me to use my social media platforms to inform the public that his doctors are now available to anyone who has the coronavirus symptoms to do a teleconference, via internet, with one of his doctors and determine if that needs medicine or not.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 3/23/20]
Dr. Hernandez told viewers that if they called his service they could be prescribed whichever medicine they thought they needed, and made special mention of the discredited treatment Hydroxychloroquine. [1:40] “So, what we want to do is be able to put you in touch with one of our doctors, and then be able to make it convenient for you [Cano’s 1-800 number pops up on screen] to get whatever medicine you need [turns to Salazar] whether it’s this chloroquine [Salazar nods and repeats "chloroquine"] or hydroxychloroquine ummm if you have the symptoms - consists of, again, fever, cough, shortness of breath, even now maybe some abdominal symptoms may be part of it, or of course the much more common diabetes, hypertension, CSS [sp?], COPD, all of those conditions need to be treated. So stay home, stay safe, and count on telehealth.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 3/23/20]

Salazar told viewers Cano would “keep you home with a medicine – the only medicine that we have available.” [2:15] “The most important thing, doc, that I just learned out of this crisis, is that if you can stay home and you can take care of the symptoms at home, then you don’t wind up in the hospital where you can get sicker. And that’s why I think Cano is doing this - trying to keep you home with a medicine – the only medicine that we have available.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 3/23/20]

Salazar’s video does not include a disclosure that she is a paid spokesperson for Cano, and omits the fact that she owns an equity stake in the business. The video’s description reads: "Interview with Cano Health. This past weekend I had the pleasure of interviewing Dr. Marlow Hernandez from Cano Health. He informed me that as a public service his facilities are offering free televisit screenings for the COVID-19. Not only is the service free, but you do not have to be a patient of Cano Health to receive the screening. If you qualify for medication, they are also offering free home delivery. Since it is very important for all of us to remain home and prevent spreading the virus I urge everyone in the community that if they feel sick to first use a televisit. If not with Cano Health, I urge you to take advantage of technology and schedule a virtual visit first. You can contact Cano Health at 1-800-201-6595. Thank you Dr. Hernandez for your service." [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 3/23/20]

March 2020: Salazar said if we could get chloroquine and/or hydroxychloroquine to the “most houses” it would make it “so people don’t end up in the hospital.” [...]. Dr. Hernandez said, “The idea is that the more people who receive this medicine, the more people we can save. Salazar said, “What medicine is this? The chloroquine? Hernandez said, “The medicine is chloroquine ... and the hydroxychloroquine.” [...] Salazar then said what Cano is doing is “commendable.” Salazar added, “If you can make that medicine [chloroquine, hydroxychloroquine], approved by the federal government, gets to the most houses, it makes it so people don’t end up in the hospital.” In the video, Salazar told people to use Cano’s health services and told the doctor, “God will reward you.” [YouTube, Cano Health, 3/26/20]

Carbon Tax

[VIDEO] September 2018: Asked If She Would Vote For Curbelo’s Carbon Tax, Salazar Said “Sure.” “[REPORTER:] Carlos Curbelo has a carbon tax bill filed. Would you vote for that? [SALAZAR:] Sure, I’ll talk to him. I haven’t spoken with him about that. Listen, whatever makes sense. I want to step into the center and whatever makes sense for the community for the whole country, is what we need to do. [Miami Herald Editorial Board, 36:12-36:28, 9/26/18]

Censorship

[VIDEO] January 2021: Salazar: “Censorship Is Infiltrating The US.” In a video posted to her Facebook account 15 days after the J6 riots, Salazar claimed in Spanish “I’m highly worried about the censorship infiltrating this country, censorship that I haven’t lived through before, where we have the first amendment that gives you the freedom to say what you believe independent of whether we agree or not, and we’ve seen President Trump’s Twitter account be shut down, the New York Post’s account shut down for reporting a story on Hunter Biden.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 01/26/21, 00:20/2:09]

Childhood

[VIDEO] September 2020: Salazar Was Accused Of Misrepresenting Her Background Since She Was Born In Miami And Did Not Start With $5 In Her Pocket. This Week in South Florida host Michael Putney interviewed Salazar and said, “In the ad you said my American journey started here with $5 in my pocket. [...] You were born in Miami and you didn’t really start here with $5 in your pocket. [...] So is this a misrepresentation.” [Local 10, 9/27/20 (1:20)]
September 2020: Salazar: “We Were Poor. [...] We Were Very Pretty Poor Cuban Refugees.” Salazar said, “No it’s not. We were poor. We lived in Little Havana in the apartment complex that you just showed in the commercial. And we were very pretty poor Cuban refugees and my childhood was not of abundance so that’s why I’m trying to say to the public that I want to serve the public because I know what they are feeling at this hour.” [Local 10, 9/27/20 (1:45)]

June 2022: Salazar: “A Brown Girl From The Hood.” “I have presented and I’ve said it to you, a law, an immigration reform law where you seal the border, seal the border, if I catch you coming back, once you were deported, you’re going to go to jail for a long time. Very strong border security measures [...] my bill, a brown girl from the hood, presented by the GOP, pay attention to it, seal the border, and then take care of those who are here, who are contributing to the American economy. It's simple.” [Fox Business News Maria Bartiromo with Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 6/09/22 (4:51)]

October 2020: Salazar “Mr. President, You Are One Of The Great Ones Of Latin America.” In a video posted to her Facebook account, Salazar touted former Colombian President Alvaro Uribe’s endorsement, stating in Spanish “Mr. President, you are one of the great ones of Latin America, and you are my example to keep fighting the same fights you had.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 10/25/21, 1:10/1:26]

[VIDEO] Salazar Called Uribe “One Of The Great Heroes Of Latin America” And There Are Many Countries That Would Like To Have An “Uribe.” Salazar said, “It is always a pleasure to greet you, you are one of the great heroes of Latin America and it shows now more than ever. [...] We know that in those demonstrations that were not always peaceful, there is the hand of the left, organized, that what it wants is to destroy the democratic and capitalist system. And you, President Uribe, showed that in your homeland, Colombia, you were able to maintain the system safely and with guaranteed social and civil liberties. [...] That is why it is a great pleasure for me to be able to greet you and tell you that you are not alone, that there are many in the hemisphere, in the United States, who respect you and who above all, they respect your management for what you represented, for what you did for the country. There are many Latin American countries that would like to have an Uribe. To have a person who defends democracy, freedom and, above all, the security of citizens.” [Facebook, Carlos Felipe Mejia, 11/21/21] Translation

1995: Salazar Repeatedly Called Castro “Commandante.” Salazar Said, “Usted no le molesta comandante [It doesn’t bother you commander].” Salazar said,” No le molesta usted comandante [It doesn’t bother you commander].” Salazar said, “Que es lo que le mas .... Commandante.” Salazar said, “Muchísimas gracias comandante por haber hablado con la tele hispano por primero vez [Thank you very much commander for having spoken with the Hispanic TV for the first time.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, 11/10/20]

[VIDEO] 1995: Salazar Described Castro As A “Revolutionary For Excellence.” Salazar said, “You, commander, the man who captured the social imagination in the 60s in the whole world, you who were, a revolutionary for excellence.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, 11/28/16 (35:10)]

[VIDEO] March 2016: Salazar: President Obama's Visit To Cuba Is Historic In Demonstrating To The Cuban People That They Are Not Alone.” In a Spanish-language Facebook live video on her account, Salazar stated President Obama’s Cuba visit “showed to the Cuban people that on this visit, this visit by President Obama, that they are not alone, not alone in the way they have felt in the last 56 years.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 06/20/16, 1:31/13:29]

FBI

[VIDEO] August 2022: Salazar: “Government Institutions, In This Case The FBI And DOJ, Are Being Weaponized As Political Threats.” In August 2022, during a televised interview, Salazar stated in Spanish “this type of situation, in which government institutions like the FBI and DOJ, are being weaponized to threaten political opponents, this happens in Nicaragua, where [Daniel] Ortega jailed 7 presidential candidates.” [Twitter, Maria Elvira Salazar, 08/10/22, 0:05/0:41]

[VIDEO] August 2022: Salazar: “They're Using Government Institutions To Politically Assault The Opposition.” In a Spanish-language video interview shared to her Twitter account, Salazar said of the FBI’s search of Trump’s home “the great evil in all of this is that they are using government instruments and institutions to politically assault the opposition.” [Twitter, Maria Elvira Salazar, 08/13/22, 0:30/1:09]

[VIDEO] August 2022: Salazar Falsely Claimed That There Was Empirical Evidence Of Backdoor Deals Between Hunter Biden And China Has Not Been Investigated. In a televised interview segment about the FBI’s search of Trump’s home on America TeVe, Salazar stated in Spanish “How can it be that we know there’s empirical evidence against President Biden’s son, including a computer that might detail business wrongdoings with the Chinese? Why has that not been investigated?” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar via AmericaTeVe, 08/09/22, 5:08/16:46]

Handouts

[VIDEO] February 2019: Salazar: “The More You Give Handouts, The More You Make Them Parasites Of Society.” “[SALAZAR:] The more you give handouts, the more you make them parasites of society then the less they do and the less they come out of that state, which is really bad for the human soul.” [Daily Beast, 2/7/19]

Health Care
[VIDEO] 2018: Salazar: “We Need To Find Another Way” Because Obamacare “Was No Good.” A Florida anchor asked Salazar, “Obamacare. Would you like to see Obamacare replaced? Salazar said, “What we had before was no good. Obamacare. What we have now is no good either. We need to find another way.” [YouTube, CBS Miami, 9/11/18 (3:15)]

Immigration

[VIDEO] February 2018: Salazar: “I Will Help The Republican Party Understand That The Reality Of Immigration Is Not As They See It.” During a televised interview on Al Punto - Florida, Salazar responded in Spanish that her top priority would be to “help factions of the Republican Party understand that immigration is not as they present it and not as they see it… if you know what I mean,” promising a softer tone on GOP immigration policy. [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, 02/11/18, 4:15/11:40]

[VIDEO] June 2017: Salazar: “Sanctuary Cities Are Making Hispanics Look Like A Bunch Of Imbeciles!” On June 2, 2017, Salazar posted on Twitter: “#SanctuaryCities are making #Hispanics look like a bunch of imbeciles! My conversation w/ @TeamCavuto @FoxBusiness | #Immigration.” [Maria Elvira Salazar, 6/2/17]

[VIDEO] March 2021: Salazar: Republicans Have Never Promised Anything On Immigration. In a televised interview segment on DirectoUSA, Salazar pushed back in Spanish to the interviewer stating Republicans promised to deliver on immigration by saying “Republicans have never promised anything.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar via DirectoUSA, 03/17/21, 5:47/9:09]

[VIDEO] March 2021: Salazar: “Let’s Give Dignity To Those 11 Million People That Includes The Ags, And Include The DACA And Their Parents, And Everyone Else Who Has Not Committed A Crime.” In March 2021, Salazar said, “Let’s give dignity to those 11 million people that includes the ags, and include the DACA and their parents, and everyone else who has not committed a crime, who has been here for at least 5 years, who has paid taxes, and who is working and helping our economy.” [YouTube, ABC News, 3/17/21 (3:30)]

[VIDEO] 2022: Salazar: “I Have An Immigration Reform Law Where You Seal The Border [...] If I Catch You Coming Back, Once You Were Deported, You're Going To Jail For A Long Time.” “I have presented and I’ve said it to you, a law, an immigration reform law where you seal the border, seal the border, if I catch you coming back, once you were deported, you’re going to go to jail for a long time. Salazar Says Her Plan Has The Technology To Seal The Border With “Towers” And “Drones.” “So, it depends on us, the United States government, our administration to say no more and seal that border. You know why, because we do have that technology. How do I know we have the technology because it’s in my law? You put a lot of towers, a lot of drones, a lot of people, you put everything you need to, we have the technology to seal the border, and let in whomever we deem necessary for the benefit of the economy of this country.” [Fox Business News Maria Bartiromo with Congresswoman Maria Salazar, 6/09/2022 (7:13)]

Inflation & Taxes

[VIDEO] July 2022: Salazar Said “For 19 Months, I Haven’t Seen Any Laws That Take Care Of Your Pocket Or Of Your Economy.” “For 19 months, this Congress has been in the hands of the Democrats, specifically Madam Speaker Nancy Pelosi. And for 19 months, I haven’t seen any laws that take care of your pocket or of your economy. And right now, we are in a major disaster of affordability. I am sure you feel it in your daily lives. For instance, one out of four people that go to the supermarket cannot buy everything they need. They need to leave things on the shelves because they just do not have enough money to buy everything. And one out of two people that go to the gas pump cannot fill their tank because they just do not have the money to do that. That is unacceptable in the United States. It is unacceptable that the Democrats, during the last 19 months, have been trying to do two things: spend more, and tax you more. That is what they have been trying to do. And you know what is the most ironic thing of it all, is that all this disaster could have been avoided because this has been made by the Biden Administration with bad economic policies, That’s reality, 19 months where they haven’t done anything.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 7/30/22]

[VIDEO] July 2022: Salazar Said Democrats In Congress “Want To Spend More Money And Tax Corporations.” “It doesn’t matter the political party; Democrat, Republican, Independent. Right now if you got the super market one out of four Americans cannot buy everything they need because they don’t have the money. One out of two cannot fill the gas tank because it’s too much money per gallon, so that is miserable. Four years ago we were in a much better position. The reason why I came to Congress was to help not only the Americans but District 27. We haven’t done it. Why? Because Nancy Pelosi is in charge of the House of Representatives and they have not brought one bill that will lower, forget about inflation, affordability. You cannot afford what you need. Gas, eggs, buying uniforms for your children, finding people to work in your shop. And what have we done? Well the Democrats want to spend more money and tax corporations.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, Brian Mudd Interview, 8/2/22]

[VIDEO] August 2022: Salazar Said “I Haven’t Done Anything To Help The Average American” After Being In Congress For 18 Months. “HOST: Maria, it is just so frustrating isn’t it when politics trumps the well being of I don’t know us? SALAZAR: Of course, I agree with you. I’m here in Congress right now outside the floor we have a lot of votes today and I thank you very much for the opportunity. I’ve been here for eighteen months and I haven’t done anything to help the average American.” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, Brian Mudd Interview, 8/2/22]
[VIDEO] August 2022: Salazar Claimed Nancy Pelosi And Democrats In Congress “Have Not Brought One Bill” That Would Deal With Inflation Or Lower Consumer Costs. “It doesn’t matter the political party; Democrat, Republican, Independent. Right now if you got the super market one out of four Americans can not buy everything they need because they don’t have the money. One out of two can not fill the gas tank because it’s too much money per gallon, so that is miserable. Four years ago we were in a much better position. [VIDEO] August 2022: Salazar: “Democrats Think The Everyday Man In This Country Is Stupid.” In a Spanish-language video posted to her Twitter account, Salazar attacked the Inflation Reduction Act, stating “Democrats truly think the common man is stupid with the Inflation Reduction law, which does nothing but raise inflation.” [Facebook, 08/13/22, 0:00/1:49]

[RADIO] August 2022: Salazar: “This Inflation Reduction Act Is A Lie And Does The Opposite.” In a Spanish-language interview on Radio Mambi, Salazar stated “This Inflation Reduction Act is a lie, it does the opposite, and what they’re doing is terrible, starting with the 87,000 new IRS agents. Imagine, they can’t send border patrol agents, but they can send 87,000 newly hired agents to go after people listening.” [Radio Mambi, Maria Elvira Salazar, 08/12/22, 1:33/13:12]

[VIDEO] August 2022: Salazar: “Democrats Want People To Lose The Incentive Of Going To Work And Making Their Own Money.” During a Spanish-language interview on Al Punto Florida, Salazar attacked the Inflation Reduction Act and the American Rescue Plan by stating “Democrats want people to lose the incentive of going to work and making their own money.” [Instagram, 08/08/22, 1:16/1:22]

Islam

[VIDEO] March 2016: Salazar: “The Political Ideology Of ISIS Is Based On The Quran.” In a televised segment during her journalistic career, Salazar equated ISIS to all Islam, and hosted a preacher to teach the ways of Christianity, stating in Spanish that ISIS based its political ideologies on the Quran, the sacred book of Muslims, and the teachings of the Prophet Muhamad, then introduced guest Father Alberto, “to remind us that in this time, Christian teachings are the only ones that matter.” [Facebook, Maria Elvira Salazar, 12/30/14, 0:22/13:40]

Israel & Anti-Semitism

[VIDEO] 2021: Salazar: “Everyone That Is A Socialist Or A Communist Is Anti-Jew.” “Domenech then interviewed Rep. Maria Salazar (R-FL), who proceeded to make the strange claim that upswing in anti-Semitic incidents is happening because of socialism and communism. 'Vox may not know what is,' she said, 'But I have the answer. The answer is socialism.' She continued, We have an immense problem in this country with this democratic socialism that some people within the Democratic Party are peddling to our youth. When you say 'socialism,' you're talking about anti-Semitism in the same phrase, even though it may not be mentioned. If you see Cuba, if you see Iran, if you see Venezuela, if you see North Korea, everybody that is a socialist or a communist is anti-Jew. Beauchamp, who is Jewish, tore into Domenech and Salazar as 'two non-Jews in this segment attacking my work,' and accused them of not actually reading the article. He also said 'virtually my entire family was wiped out in the Holocaust,' and added, 'I've been harassed in real life for being Jewish.'” [Mediaite, 6/04/21 (1:25)]

[VIDEO] 2021: Salazar Said “Socialism” Was The Reason For The Upswing In Anti-Semitic Incidents, Adding, “When You Say Socialism, You're Talking About Anti-Semitism In The Same Phrase.” “Domenech then interviewed Rep. Maria Salazar (R-FL), who proceeded to make the strange claim that upswing in anti-Semitic incidents is happening because of socialism and communism. 'Vox may not know what it is,' she said, 'But I have the answer. The answer is socialism.' She continued, We have an immense problem in this country with this democratic socialism that some people within the Democratic Party are peddling to our youth. When you say 'socialism,' you're talking about anti-Semitism in the same phrase, even though it may not be mentioned. If you see Cuba, if you see Iran, if you see Venezuela, if you see North Korea, everybody that is a socialist or a communist is anti-Jew. Beauchamp, who is Jewish, tore into Domenech and Salazar as 'two non-Jews in this segment attacking my work,' and accused them of not actually reading the article. [VIDEO] June 2022: Salazar: “Let's Talk About Radio Mambi's Sale To A Soros Group.” In a Spanish video on her Instagram, Salazar stated “Let's talk about the sale of Radio Mambi to the [George] Soros group, because it is extremely dangerous and questionable.” [Instagram, Maria Elvira Salazar, 06/12/22, 0:02/1:29]

Medicare & Social Security

[VIDEO] September 2018: Salazar: “I Believe That We Cannot Touch Medicare Or Social Security.” “[REPORTER:] As it relates to the federal budget, two of the big issues the federal government faces, Social Security and Medicare. Where do you stand on those are there? Are there holes in Medicare that need to be fixed? How do you paid for that? [SALAZAR:] Entitlements is a big problem. There was Paul Ryan, that was his project, that by 2026, or 2032, we may not have enough money in order to pay for all the entitlement programs that we have a commitment with. We need to look at the expenses. But I believe that we cannot touch Medicare, or Social Security. Those people worked for that money. Those people deserve to have those services [...] But we got to find other areas, but not Medicare or Social Security. It's just not fair.” [Miami Herald Editorial Board, 31:00-32:22, 9/26/18]
Oil & Gas

[VIDEO] March 2022: Salazar Criticized The Biden Administration For Stopping The “Drilling Or Fracking On Government Land.” Salazar said, “They know very well that when [Biden] got into his administration, he canceled the pipeline that was coming from Canada that was [...] [going to bring] 800,000 barrels of oil a day. He cancelled the possibility that they continue to drill or frack on government land.” [YouTube, Cubanos por el Mundo – Live, 3/27/22 (7:20)]

[VIDEO] April 2022: Salazar: “Biden Should Not Use The Strategic Federal Oil Reserves To Bring Energy Prices Down.” In a video on her Instagram, Salazar stated in Spanish that the Biden Administration was getting desperate over the rising costs of energy, and that they had permitted the release of 1M oil barrels per day from the strategic federal oil reserve, to which she was opposed. STOCK Act

[VIDEO] 2020: Salazar: ““There Is A Law In Congress That If You Are Sitting In Congress You Have To Report Every Single Transaction That You Make In The Stock Market Within 45 Days.” Salazar said, “Donna Shalala is our representative and she is corrupt. She is very corrupt.” This Week in South Florida host Michael Putney said, “How did Donna Shalala enrich herself of coronavirus.” Salazar said, “There is a law in Congress that if you are sitting in Congress you have to report every single transaction that you make in the stock market within 45 days. Donna Shalala took 17 months to report her first transaction. We are talking about more than 500 transactions that includes Chinese companies that provide help to the repressive apparatus for the Chinese government. That is among those transactions. She said that there were only 5 or 6. We are talking more than 500 worth up to $6 million.” [Local 10, 9/27/20 (2:10)]

[VIDEO] 2020: Salazar: “We Do Not Know What [Shalala] Has Made During 2020 While She Is Sitting On That Oversight Committee Because She Has Not Reported Anything, Number One.” Salazar said, “I'm going to give you what the facts are. We do not know what she has made during 2020 while she is sitting on that oversight committee because she has not reported anything, number one. Number two, she said that she was setting up a blind trust. The blind trust had not been set up by April of this year. [...] You know very well about a blind trust. You don’t trade, you don’t buy and sell while you are trying to set up a blind trust.” [Local 10, 9/27/20 (4:35)]

[VIDEO] 2020: Salazar: This Is Despicable. It's Lamentable.” Salazar said, “All these are excuses because we caught her. I think this is...this is despicable. It’s lamentable that we have Donna Shalala sitting in Congress being a day trader and profiting from her position while she has been absent and silent here in the district.” [Local 10, 9/27/20 (5:15)]

[SUPER: Maria Elvira Salazar Deliver Term Limits].” [YouTube, Maria Elvira Salazar, 9/22/20]

- Salazar Said She Supports Term Limits. “Salazar said former lawmakers should never become lobbyists. ‘I would denounce that forever. If you are part of the government, you should never be a lobbyist, period,' Salazar said, adding that she also favors term limits. ‘If you choose to [serve in Congress], it’s a very big sacrifice.’” [Miami Herald, 2/4/20]

[VIDEO] June 2021: Salazar Said She Would “Die Doing This” If The Voters Allowed Her. “This is one of the, probably the toughest job I’ve done, running for Congress [...] But it’s the most gratifying because you’re doing it for the common good. You’re doing it for what you believe in. Now I would say that I am at that point where I will never give up. And hopefully the voters want me to, I will die doing this.” [YouTube, ForbesWomen, 0:22-1:05, 6/2/21]

Trump

[VIDEO] 2017: Salazar Claimed That Trump “Violently Lashed Out Against The KKK, Neo-Nazis And White Supremacists” After Charlottesville. “In sharp contrast to Estrella's blatant anti-Trump manipulation of the horrific news from Charlottesville, and in setting up the same video from President Trump, Miami-based Mega TV anchor Elvira Salazar told her viewers on August 14 that in his condemnation of the attack the President ‘violently lashed out against the Ku Klux Klan, Neo-Nazis and white supremacists.’ Salazar said, “Today President Trump violently lashed out against the Ku Klux Klan, Neo-Nazis and white supremacists. And he condemned this weekend's terrorist attack in Charlottesville, Virginia against an anti-fascist protest that took the life of one woman, and left 19 wounded.” [Newsbusters.org, 8/16/17]

[VIDEO] 2017: Salazar After Charlottesville: “The Violence Doesn’t Just Come From The White Supremacists. [...] There Are Reports Of Tough Protests By Activists Opposed To These Groups.” In response to Charlottesville, Salazar said, “But the violence doesn't just come from the white supremacists. In the last few hours there are reports of tough protests by activists opposed to these groups.” [Newsbusters.org, 8/16/17]

[VIDEO] 2018: Salazar: “Trump Is A Special Person.” Salazar said, “The problem we have with the president is you have to see what he does, not what he says. Trump is a special person. We know that he is completely unconventional.” [YouTube, CBS Miami, 9/11/18 (4:15)]

Venezuela

[VIDEO] September 2018: Salazar Suggested The United States Should “Topple Venezuela.” Salazar said, “I think that we have to use the nuclear option in Venezuela. We need to stop buying and selling oil. Period. [...] If you topple Venezuela they will not be able to give any more oil, the hundred thousand barrels a day to Cuba.” [Facebook, Miami Herald, 9/26/18 (21:00-22:50)]

[VIDEO] September 2018: A Few Seconds Later Salazar Said The “United States Should Not Be Promoting Coups Anywhere.” Salazar said, The United State should not be promoting coups anywhere.” [Facebook, Miami Herald, 9/26/18 (23:10)]
October 2021: Salazar Called Saab “A Thug For The Venezuelan Regime” And A “Drug Trafficker Who Is Responsible For Flooding American Streets With Cocaine.” “For those who enable murderous dictators the United States system will find you in this life or next and this is a perfect example. Alex Saab, the plunderer of Venezuela. Justice for his crimes against humanity will be swift and without mercy. Why? Because over the weekend we learned that Saab will finally be extradited to the United States. He tried to claim diplomatic immunity but he is not a diplomat, he is not a politician, he is just another thug for the Venezuelan regime. Saab was Maduro's leading front man and his number one money launderer. He is a drug trafficker who is responsible for flooding American streets with cocaine. He helped finance the worst crimes and the most appalling human rights abuses committed by the Maduro regime in Venezuela in the last 15 years. So it is no surprise that Maduro, the dictator, has pulled out all the stops to try to prevent his extradition to the United States but he could not. In the meantime earlier this week six American executives in Venezuela known as the Citgo six were sent back to a cruel political prison for no reason. The regime arrested these men on bogus charges in 2020 with no justification and now with no explanation Maduro has condemned these innocent American executives to rot in a Venezuelan prison. Why? Just one reason, retaliation, because Maduro doesn’t like this picture. This is a classic tactic of tyrants. If Maduro thinks he can make a prisoner exchange he needs to wake up and realize that the United States does not deal with dictators. So the Citgo six executives need to be released now unconditionally. Unfortunately right now Maduro is panicking because his top confidant will soon be facing trial in an American court of law and he will say many things that Maduro doesn’t want us to hear.”

Xenophobic

November 2019: Salazar: “Imagine The Chinese Stealing Your Book And Publishing It Under The Author Name ‘Ching-Chang-Chong’." In a televised interview segment on MegaTV with Jaime Bayly, Salazar accused the Chinese of “stealing everything,” and asked Bayly to "imagine the Chinese stealing your book and publishing it under the author name ‘Ching-Chang-Chong’." APPENDIX III: SPONSORSHIPS

The following are all of Maria Elvira Salazar’s bill sponsorships categorized alphabetically by issue (as of August 25, 2022).

Note: Any notable sponsorships will be repeated in the Congressional Career section of the research book.

Economy and Jobs

February 2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Direct The Small Business Administration To Study How It Might Use Blockchain Technology To Make Loans To Qualified Small Businesses. In February 2022, Salazar sponsored H.R. 6597, the Blockchain Solutions for Small Businesses Act. The bill would require “the Small Business Administration to study the current and potential uses of blockchain technology (i.e., the technology that supports digital currencies such as Bitcoin) in making loans to qualified small businesses.” The bill is cosponsored by 18 Republicans and 3 Democrats. The bill was referred to the Committee on Small Business, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6597, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 2/03/22]

- The Blockchain Solutions For Small Businesses Act Is Cosponsored By Rep. Ro Khanna And Supported By Major Blockchain Advocacy Organizations. “Today, Representative Maria Elvira Salazar (R-FL-27) was joined by Representatives Ro Khanna (D-CA-17) and Young Kim (R-CA-39) to introduce the bipartisan Blockchain Solutions for Small Businesses Act, a bill to improve the Small Business Administration’s (SBA) operational efficiency using blockchain technology. At the time of its introduction, Rep. Salazar’s bill is the most widely cosponsored legislation supporting blockchain technologies ever introduced in the U.S. Congress... Utilizing blockchain technology would help the SBA: increase access to capital; improve agency efficiency by using secure automation; decrease fraud; and improve agency transparency... The Blockchain Solutions for Small Businesses Act has also received support from multiple organizations [including the Blockchain Association, The Chamber of Digital Commerce, and the Information Technology and Innovation Foundation].” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 2/03/22]

June 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Direct The Small Business Administration (SBA) To Increase The Loan Limits For The Disaster Loan Program. In June 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 4215, the Rebuilding Communities After Disasters Act. The bill would “require the Small Business Administration (SBA) to increase the loan limits for the disaster loan program and to communicate certain information about the program following disasters.” The bill is cosponsored by 30 Republicans and 9 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Small Business, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 4215, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 7/02/21]

- The Bill Would Double The Maximum Loan Amounts For SBA Physical Damage Disaster Loans To Bring Limits More In Line With Current Home Prices. “The Rebuilding Communities After Disasters Act ensures homeowners have adequate resources to recover from natural disasters. Specifically, it increases the maximum loan amount for SBA physical damage disaster loans from $200,000 to $400,000 for home repair, and from $40,000 to $75,000 to replace household and personal belongings, bringing the loans limits in line with today’s home prices to help homeowners fully recover from unavoidable disasters. The limits on these loans have not been increased since 1994 - over 25 years - when the average home price in the United States was $106,000. The bill would also require the SBA to market these loans to homeowners in a declared disaster area through all media platforms and to provide a yearly report to Congress on the progress of the loan program.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 7/02/21]

May 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Raise The Allowable Award Amount For Federal Contracts With Small Businesses. In May 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 3065, the Expanding Contracting Opportunities for Small Businesses Act of 2021. The bill would “increase the allowable award price for federal government contracts with certain small businesses, including socially and economically disadvantaged small businesses, small businesses owned and controlled by women, and small businesses owned and controlled by service-disabled veterans.” The bill is cosponsored by 8 Republicans and 7 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Veterans' Affairs Subcommittee on Oversight and Investigations, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 3065, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/07/21]

- The Act Would Raise Caps On Sole-Source Contracting For Small Businesses Through The Small Business Administration (SBA) From $5 Million To $8 Million For General Contracts And From $7 Million To $10 Million For Manufacturing Contracts. This Contracting Program Directly Benefits Veteran-Owned, Women-Owned, And Minority-Owned Businesses, As Well As Those Operating In Econonomically Disadvantaged Areas. “This is a critical measure that will help our small businesses, particularly disadvantaged contractors who have been devastated by the COVID-19 pandemic. These changes will level the playing field and encourage more small contractors to participate in government programs leading to a quicker rebuilding of the US economy... Specifically, this bill raises caps on sole-source contracting for small businesses through the Small Business Administration (SBA) from $5 million to $8 million for general contracts and from $7 million to $10 million for manufacturing contracts. This contracting program directly benefits veteran-owned, women-owned, and minority-owned businesses, as well as those operating in economically disadvantaged areas. It will also help boost U.S. small manufacturing capabilities. Prior to COVID-19, SBA’s caps for sole source contracting have been stagnant for decades.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/07/21]

April 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To End The COVID-19 Closures Of Cruise Ships. In April 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 2554, the Careful Resumption Under Improved Safety Enhancements Act (CRUISE Act). The bill would “establish a working group comprised of specified federal departments and industry stakeholders to develop recommendations for resuming cruise ship operations.” The bill is cosponsored by 14 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Energy and Commerce Subcommittee on Health, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 2554, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 4/16/21]

- The Bill Would Revoke The CDC’s Current No Sail Order On Cruises And Require The CDC To Provide COVID-19 Mitigation Guidance For Cruise Lines To Resume Safe Domestic
Operations. “Today Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar (FL-27), the Dean of the U.S. House of Representatives, Congressman Don Young (AK-AL), and a number of their House colleagues, introduced the Careful Resumption Under Improved Safety Enhancements (CRUISE) Act, which would revoke the CDC’s current No Sail Order on cruises and require the CDC to provide COVID-19 mitigation guidance for cruise lines to resume safe domestic operations... It has been almost 400 days since a passenger stepped foot on a cruise ship from U.S. soil. Ships have been anchored at port for over a year. The suspension in U.S. cruise departures has resulted in the loss of $5.64 billion to the State of Florida’s economy, the loss of 91,450 jobs, and the loss of $4.44 billion in wages. The ripple effects of these devastating losses are being felt across the nation.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 4/16/21]

March 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Extend The Time To Repay Economic Injury Disaster Loans. In March 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 1533, the COVID Economic Injury Disaster Loan Relief Act. The bill would “extend the deferment of a borrower's payments on an economic injury disaster loan taken in response to COVID-19 (i.e., coronavirus disease 2019) from one year to two years from the date on which the loan is made.” The bill is cosponsored by 9 Democrats and 4 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Small Business, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 1533, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 3/03/21]

- This Legislation Did Not Pass, But Its Intent Has Been Implemented. In September 2021, The Deferment Period Was Extended To Two Years. “As of September 8, 2021, new COVID EIDL policy changes took effect as follows: ...Extend the deferment period to 24 months from origination for all loans (existing loans with a less than 24-month deferment will be adjusted)” [Small Business Administration, COVID-19 Economic Injury Disaster Loan, About COVID-19 EIDL, accessed 8/08/22]

Education

December 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Produce Anti-Communist Education Programs For High School Students. In December 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 6123, the Crucial Communism Teaching Act. The bill would “direct the Victims of Communism Memorial Foundation to develop a civic education curriculum and oral history resources for high school students to promote understanding of certain political ideologies (e.g., communism and totalitarianism) that conflict with principles of U.S. democracy.” The bill is cosponsored by 68 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Education and Labor, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6123, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/02/21]

- The Act Is Inspired By The Never Again Education Act, Which Created An Analogous Program To Educate American Students About The Holocaust Through The U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum. “The CCT Act would make educational materials available through the Victims of Communism Memorial Foundation to help educate high school students about the dangers of communism and totalitarianism, and how they are contrary to the founding principles of freedom and democracy in the United States. The CCT Act framework is inspired by the Never Again Education Act, passed by the 116th Congress, which created an analogous program to educate American students about the Holocaust through the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum.
The bill also continues similar efforts by Florida Governor Ron DeSantis to educate American students on the failed experiment of communism throughout history.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/02/21]

Energy & Environment

September 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Promote The Use Of Decommissioned US Navy Vessels As Artificial Reef Starters. In September 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 5306, the Re-using Equipment for Environmental Fortification Act (REEF Act). The bill would “require the Department of the Navy to notify Congress of the pending retirement of vessels that are viable candidates for artificial reefing (intentionally sinking a vessel to promote marine life). Specifically, the Navy must provide such notice not later than 90 days before the viable candidate’s retirement from the Naval Vessel Register.” The bill is cosponsored by 16 Republicans and 6 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Armed Services, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 5306, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 9/22/21]

- The Act Incentivizes Retired Navy Ships To Be Repurposed Into Artificial Reefs, Boosting Marine Environments And Creating Recreational And Economic Opportunities In The Process.
  “A strong bipartisan group of their colleagues introduced the Reusing Equipment for Environmental Fortification (REEF) Act. The REEF Act incentivizes retired Navy ships to be repurposed into artificial reefs, boosting marine environments and creating recreational and economic opportunities in the process... A number of notable fishing and boating associations, including the American Sportfishing Association and the International Game Fish Association, penned a letter of support for the REEF Act as well.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 9/22/21]

Foreign Policy

April 2022: Salazar, With Rep. Stephanie Murphy (D-FL-07), Introduced Legislation To Require The White House To Produce A Report On Any Possible Benefits To The Nicolas Maduro Administration In Venezuela That Might Arise From An American Agreement With Iran Related To Their Nuclear Program. In April 2022 Salazar sponsored H.R. 7635, the Iranian Nuclear and Venezuelan Energy, Sanctions and Terrorism Investigation Government Accountability Report (INVESTIGAR) Act. The bill would “direct the President to submit to Congress a report on possible benefits accruing to the regime of Nicolás Maduro as a result of an agreement with Iran relating to the nuclear program of Iran.” The bill is cosponsored by 15 Republicans and 1 Democrat. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 7635, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/20/22]

- The INVESTIGAR Act Would Require The Biden Administration To Produce A Report Detailing How Venezuela Could Benefit From A New Iran Nuclear Deal. “The INVESTIGAR Act would require the Biden Administration to produce a report detailing how Venezuela could benefit from a new Iran Nuclear Deal. Specifically, it requires the White House to report on possible benefits to Nicolás Maduro’s oil industry, how it might help Venezuela avoid American sanctions, and how it would boost Hezbollah and other terrorist organizations. Under the
legislation, the report must be delivered to the Armed Services and Foreign Affairs Committees within 14 days of reaching a nuclear agreement with Iran. [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 4/28/22]

March 2022: Salazar Introduced A House Resolution Calling For Argentina To Prosecute Hezbollah For The Bombing Of The Embassy Of Israel In Buenos Aires In 1992. In March 2022, Salazar sponsored H.Res. 988, Calling for justice and accountability for the perpetrators of the bombing of the Embassy of Israel in Buenos Aires on March 17, 1992. The resolution “urges the government of Argentina to bring the perpetrators of the March 17, 1992, terrorist attack on the Embassy of Israel in Buenos Aires to justice (in 1999 the Supreme Court of Argentina found that the transnational terrorist organization Hezbollah was responsible for the attack). The resolution commends the Argentinian government for designating Hezbollah as a terrorist organization and urges other U.S. allies and partners in Latin America and the Caribbean to do the same. The resolution urges these allies and partners to condemn and counter regional governments in the hemisphere that aid and abet Iran and Hezbollah.” The resolution is cosponsored by 72 Republicans and 33 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. As of August 8, 2022, the Resolution has been Agreed to in the House. [H.Res 988, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 3/17/22]

- More Than 100 Members Of Congress Introduce H.Res. 988 Which Marks The 30th Anniversary Of The March 17th, 1992 Terrorist Bombing Of The Israeli Embassy In Buenos Aires, Argentina. “Representative María Elvira Salazar led more than 100 Members of Congress to introduce H.Res. 988 which marks the 30th anniversary of the March 17th, 1992 terrorist bombing of the Israeli embassy in Buenos Aires, Argentina. The horrific event injured 242 and claimed the lives of 29 innocent Israelis and Argentinians, including school-aged children. The resolution calls for justice for the victims; accountability for the perpetrators; urges the US government to continue working with allies in the Western Hemisphere to isolate governments who support Hezbollah and Iran’s anti-Semitic attacks; and also commends the Organization of American States (OAS) for appointing a commissioner to monitor and combat anti-Semitism… The resolution is supported by the American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC), the American Jewish Committee (AJC), the Republican Jewish Coalition (RJC), and the Foundation for Defense of Democracies (FDD).” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 3/17/22]

December 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Ban From Entry Into The United States Any Current Or Former Members Of The Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia (FARC). In December 2021, Salazar sponsored the No Foreign Adversaries Residing in our Communities Act (the No FARC Act). The bill would “bars any alien who is a present or former member of the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia (also known as FARC) from being admitted into the United States or receiving a visa.” The bill is cosponsored by 14 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on the Judiciary, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6237, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/09/21]

- Salazar Said That The Biden Administration’s Decision To Remove FARC From The List Of Foreign Terrorist Organizations Was An Affront To Colombians. “The No FARC Act denies visas to current and former members of the Revolutionary Armed Forces of Colombia (FARC). This bill comes a direct response to President Biden’s reckless and unilateral decision to remove the FARC from the State Department’s list of Foreign Terrorist Organizations. The Biden Administration made the decision without properly consulting Congress, the Colombian Government, or the Colombian-American community in the United States.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/09/21]

December 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Extend Beneficial Trade Provisions From The Haitian Economic Lift Program (HELP) For An Additional 10 Years. In December 2021, Salazar sponsored the Haiti Economic Lift Program Extension Act of 2021 (the HELP Act of 2021). The bill would “extend through FY2035 the special duty-free rules for Haiti. It also extends through December 19, 2035, the duty-free treatment provided for apparel articles assembled in Haiti and imported from Haiti or the Dominican Republic.” The bill is cosponsored by 7 Republicans and 5 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Ways and Means, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6136, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/03/21]

- The Haitian Economic Lift Program Removes Barriers To The Import Of Manufactured Apparel From Haiti. “The HELP Extension Act extends several beneficial U.S.-Haiti trade provisions from the Haitian Economic Lift Program (HELP) for an additional 10 years, providing a critical source of formal employment for Haiti through the textile industry... The HELP Extension Act will allow the Haitian people to improve their livelihoods and rebuild their country by ensuring the 60,000+ Haitians in the textile industry continue to enjoy the benefits of unfettered trade with the United States.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 12/03/21]

June 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Determine The Extent To Which Nicaragua Is In Compliance With The Dominican Republic-Central America-United States Free Trade Agreement. In June 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 3964, the Nicaragua Free Trade Review Act of 2021. The bill would “require the U.S. Trade Representative to submit a report on the manner and extent to which Nicaragua is in compliance with the Dominican Republic-Central America-United States Free Trade Agreement.” The bill is cosponsored by 16 Republicans and 5 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Ways and Means Subcommittee on Trade, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 3964, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 6/17/21]

- The Dominican Republic-Central America Fta (CAFTA-DR) Is A Free Trade Agreement Between The United States And Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, As Well As The Dominican Republic. Collectively, The Countries That Comprise This Agreement Are The United States' 18th Largest Trading Partner. “On November 7, 2021, Nicaragua is scheduled to have its presidential election. Yet, Daniel Ortega has embarked on a violent crackdown on democracy and jailed the opposition candidates running for President. Ortega is dismantling Nicaragua’s democratic institutions, actively undermining US interests, and violating the rights of the Nicaragua people. Reviewing Nicaragua’s compliance with the CAFTA-DR Free Trade Agreement is not only necessary, but urgent... First signed by President Bush in 2005, the Dominican Republic-Central America FTA (CAFTA-DR) is a free trade agreement between the United States and Costa Rica, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, as well as the Dominican Republic. Collectively, the countries that comprise this agreement are the United States' 18th largest trading partner.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 6/17/21]
May 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Distribute Excess COVID-19 Vaccines To Western Hemisphere Allies As A Diplomatic Move. In May 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 3236, the American Medical Investment Generating Overseas Security Act (AMIGOS Act). The bill would “prohibit the President from taking action to support the waiver of certain intellectual property obligations” related to COVID-19 vaccines, and “establish prioritization for allocating excess COVID-19 vaccines to other countries” and “require that such vaccines be marked as assistance from the American people or the United States.” The bill is cosponsored by 6 Republicans. The bill was referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs and the Committee on Ways and Means, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 3236, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/14/21]

- The Bill Would Use Covid-19 Vaccines As A Diplomatic Tool To Promote American Interests In The Western Hemisphere And Counteract Moves By Russia And China. “The United States is leading the world’s COVID-19 response - we developed the most effective vaccines and have made the largest contributions to global health organizations like COVAX and GAVI to deliver vaccines directly to vulnerable communities. However, the Unites States has no strategic surplus vaccine diplomacy strategy. "Rather than crushing free market innovation, the U.S. should be proposing bold surplus vaccine donation plans, increase awareness of current U.S. efforts, and ramp up vaccine manufacturing," said Congresswoman Salazar. "Our most vulnerable allies and neighbors, especially in Latin America and the Caribbean are counting on us to get this right and slow viral spread and COVID-19 mutations. I've introduced the AMIGOS Act to develop a strategy for effective U.S. vaccine diplomacy and counter Communist China's and Putin's Russia's growing influence in our hemisphere." This strategy only takes effect once every eligible American has had the chance to receive the vaccine. Specifically, the AMIGOS Act implements a strategy to prioritize surplus vaccine distribution to our neighbors in the Western Hemisphere as well as key U.S. allies and partners across the globe, requiring USA branding so that an American flag is emblazoned on every surplus vaccine we provide to other countries. It also prevents the Administration from signing over American Intellectual Property (IP) through the World Trade Organization without Congressional approval.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/14/21]

January 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Prohibit The Removal Of Cuba From The List Of State Sponsors Of Terrorism. In January 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 287, the Fighting Oppression until the Reign of Castro Ends Act (FORCE Act). The bill would “prohibits removing Cuba from the list of state sponsors of terrorism until the President makes the determination that a transition government in Cuba is in power.” The bill is cosponsored by 21 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Foreign Affairs, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 287, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 1/13/21]

- The Bill Would Prohibit The United States From Removing Cuba From The List Of State Sponsors Of Terror Until The Country Frees All Political Prisoners And Transitions Away From The Castro Regime. “The State Department recently redesignated the Castro regime in Cuba as a State Sponsor of Terrorism for granting safe harbor to terrorist fugitives and engaging in international terrorism. To ensure compliance and stop Cuba from sponsoring terrorism, this bill prevents the brutal Castro dictatorship from being removed from the State Sponsor of Terrorism List until they meet the requirements of Section 205 of the LIBERTAD Act (P.L. 104-114). Section 205 of the LIBERTAD Act requires Cuba to comply with the following conditions:
Release all its political prisoners and allow for investigations of Cuban prisons by appropriate international human rights organizations; Transition away from the Castro regime to a system that guarantees the rights of the Cuban people to express themselves freely; Commit to holding free and fair elections. These are the very same requirements that must be met to lift the embargo and accompanying sanctions towards the regime. In other words, this bill forces the regime to comply with existing U.S. law.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 1/13/21]

Health Care

March 2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Provide Medicare Coverage Of Treatment For Alpha-1 Antitrypsin (AAT) Deficiency. In March 2022, Salazar sponsored H.R. 7346, the John W. Walsh Alpha-1 Home Infusion Act of 2022. The bill would “provides for Medicare coverage of treatment for alpha-1 antitrypsin (AAT) deficiency (a protein deficiency that raises the risk of lung and other diseases). Specifically, the bill provides for coverage of at-home augmentation therapy for beneficiaries with emphysema as a result of severe hereditary AAT deficiency. Treatment must be provided through qualified home infusion therapy suppliers; beneficiaries must be under the care of a physician, nurse practitioner, or physician assistant.” The bill is cosponsored by 5 Democrats. The bill was referred to the Committee on Energy and Commerce Subcommittee on Health, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 7346, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 4/01/22]

- The John W. Walsh Alpha-1 Home Infusion Act Which Would Allow Medicare Beneficiaries Struggling With The Hereditary Alpha-1 Antitrypsin Deficiency Condition, Or Alpha-1 Patients, To Receive Essential Augmentation Infusions At Home. “Today, Congresswomen María Elvira Salazar (FL-27) and Chellie Pingree (ME-1) introduced the John W. Walsh Alpha-1 Home Infusion Act which would allow Medicare beneficiaries struggling with the hereditary alpha-1 antitrypsin deficiency condition, or alpha-1 patients, to receive essential augmentation infusions at home. Alpha-1 patients struggle with a hereditary condition that, without treatment by FDA approved augmentation therapies, may result in serious lung disease in adults and/or liver disease in infants, children, and adults. Therapy slows but not reverses the progression of the lung destruction associated with this disorder. [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 4/28/22]

Immigration and Border

February 2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Overhaul The Immigration System By Heightening Border Security, Renewable Legal Status For Undocumented Immigrants, And Establishing An “American Worker Fund” Financed By “Restitution” From Immigrants To Promote Employment Of American Citizens. In February 2022, Salazar sponsored H.R. 6637, the DIGNIDAD (Dignity) Act. The bill would be a “complete immigration reform bill consisting of 3 core principles: stopping illegal immigration, providing a dignified solution for immigrants living in America, and strengthening the American workforce and economy... The Dignity Act is the only realistic solution proposed in Congress that fully secures the border, reestablishes law and order in our immigration system, enacts a 10-year Dignity Program providing renewable legal status, and offers an additional optional redemption path to permanent legalization. This reasonable and compassionate approach will finally fix an immigration system that has been broken for decades. The Dignity Act was written in consultation with American businesses leaders, agriculture and farming industries, the faith-based community, immigration reform groups, and border security experts.” The bill is cosponsored by 7 Republicans. The bill was referred to the Committees on Transportation and Infrastructure; Homeland Security; the Judiciary; Ways and Means; Agriculture; Natural Resources; the Budget; Education and Labor; Foreign Affairs; Oversight and Reform; Intelligence (Permanent Select); Armed Services; and Financial Services, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 6637, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 2/08/22]

- The Dignity Act Is A Complete Immigration Reform Bill Consisting Of 3 Core Principles: Stopping Illegal Immigration, Providing A Dignified Solution For Immigrants Living In America, And Strengthening The American Workforce And Economy. “Today, Congresswoman Maria Elvira Salazar (FL-27) and group of her Republican House colleagues introduced the long-awaited Dignity Act, a complete immigration reform bill consisting of 3 core principles: stopping illegal immigration, providing a dignified solution for immigrants living in America, and strengthening the American workforce and economy. Original cosponsors are Representatives Dan Newhouse (WA-04), John Curtis (UT-03), Pete Sessions (TX-17), Jenniffer Gonzalez-Colon (PR), Tom Reed (NY-23), and Peter Meijer (MI-03)... Authorizes funding to fully secure America’s border at no cost to American taxpayers... Creates immediate legal status and streamlined path for Dreamers. Dignity Program (10 Years): Through the 10-year Dignity Program, undocumented immigrants will be provided a chance to work, earn legal status, pay restitution, and get right with the law... Creates an American Worker Fund, using restitution payments from the Dignity and Redemption programs, at no-cost to taxpayers. This provides grants to American citizens for workforce education initiatives, apprenticeship programs, and Career and Technical Education to give opportunities for Americans to enter new careers.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 2/08/22]

Natural Resources

May 2022: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Repair A Damaged Stiltsville Structure In Biscayne Bay National Park. In May 2022 Salazar sponsored H.R. 7833, the Stiltsville Restoration Act. The bill would “authorize repairs to a damaged Stiltsville structure in Biscayne Bay National Park. Specifically, the bill requires the Secretary of the Interior to allow repairs on the house damaged by a fire in 2021.” The bill is cosponsored by 3 Republicans and 1 Democrat. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Natural Resources, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 7833, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/20/22]

- Stiltsville Is A “Historical Landmark” And “Tourist Destination” That Was Damaged By A Fire In January 2021. “Stiltsville's unique history dates back to the 1930s when ‘Crawfish’ Eddie Walker built a house on stilts in Biscayne Bay. Its history as an outlaw's paradise during the prohibition era led to its protection as a historical landmark in 2003 when the Stiltsville Trust was established. Today, Stiltsville's six remaining houses remain a major tourist destination and a very important landmark to the history of Miami. In January 2021, a fire damaged one of the remaining six houses. The Stiltsville Trust, in cooperative agreement with the U.S. Department of Interior (DOI), would like to repair the structure. However, DOI bureaucrats in Washington have refused to enter arbitration for consideration of repairs. Stiltsville's designation within a U.S. National Park requires Congress to get involved to break the gridlock. If repairs are authorized, they would be executed through private funds via the Stiltsville Trust, at no cost to American taxpayers.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 5/20/22]

Socialism

July 2021: Salazar Introduced A Resolution To Denounce The Evils Of Socialism. In July 2021, Salazar sponsored H.Res. 548, Denouncing the horrors of socialism. The resolution would “denounce socialism in all its forms, and oppose the implementation of socialist policies in the United States of America.” The resolution was cosponsored by 205 Republicans. The resolution was referred to to the House Committee on Financial Services, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.Res. 548, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 7/21/21]

- The Resolution Outlines Historical Examples Of The Great Crimes And Tragedies Of Socialism. “This resolution outlines several historical examples of the greatest crimes and tragedies of socialism, and why such a system goes against the founding principles of our great nation. It specifically highlights examples in: USSR, China, Cambodia, North Korea, Cuba, and Venezuela. Through this resolution, the House of Representatives denounces socialism in all its forms and opposes the implementation of socialist policies in the United States of America... Socialism is responsible for hundreds of millions of deaths across the globe. The United States must unequivocally denounce this cynical and cruel ideology that has harmed millions of Americans who have fled from socialist regimes.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 7/21/21]

Technology

August 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation Directing The US Air Force To Deploy Technology Capable Of Delivering Wireless Internet Anywhere On The Planet From The Stratosphere Or Higher. In August 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 5123, the American Freedom and Internet Access Act of 2021. The bill would the US Air Force to “develop and begin implementation of “Operation Starfall”, a strategic plan to deploy stratospheric balloons, aerostats, or satellite technology capable of rapidly delivering wireless internet anywhere on the planet from the stratosphere or higher.” The bill is cosponsored by 16 Republicans. The bill was referred to the House Committee on Armed Services, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 5123, Cosponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 8/31/21]

- The Bill Implements “Operation Starfall” – A Strategic Plan To Provide Access To Wireless Communications Abroad And Ensure We Are Ready When Blackouts Occur, Disaster Strikes, Or When Rogue Regimes Shut Down Internet Access. “Today, Congresswoman María Elvira Salazar (FL-2 7), Michael Waltz (FL-06), Claudia Tenney (NY-22), and a dozen Republican lawmakers introduced the American Freedom and Internet Access Act (HR 5123). This bill implements “Operation Starfall” – a strategic plan to provide access to wireless communications abroad and ensure we are ready when blackouts occur, disaster strikes, or when rogue regimes shut down internet access. This is critical to protecting the safety and wellbeing of American citizens at home and abroad... Operation Starfall is a strategic plan to deploy stratospheric balloons, aerostats, or satellite technology capable of rapidly delivering wireless internet anywhere on the planet from high altitudes. With the use of emerging technologies that already exist in the private sector, it can be employed to create wireless internet networks covering a target geographic territory. At home, Operation Starfall would be deployable across the United States in the wake of floods, hurricanes, or wildfire devastation when local communications infrastructure is disabled.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 8/31/21]

Veterans & Military Family

October 2021: Salazar Introduced Legislation To Create Grants To Support The Creation Of Specialized Law Enforcement Units Comprised Veterans Intended To Safety Respond To Veterans In Crises. In October 2021, Salazar sponsored H.R. 5788, the Supporting Every at-Risk Veteran In Critical Emergencies Act of 2021 (SERVICE Act of 2021). The bill would “authorize the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services within the Department of Justice to make grants to support the creation and operation of veterans' response teams in state, local, and tribal law enforcement agencies.” The bill is cosponsored by 34 Republicans and 14 Democrats. The bill was referred to the House Committee on the Judiciary, but as of August 8, 2022, the bill has not received any action. [H.R. 5788, Co-Sponsors, accessed 8/08/22; Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 10/28/21]

- The Act Would Create A Pilot Program To Create “Veteran Response Teams” Who Could Deescalate Emergencies Involving Veterans And Connect Them With Social Services. “The SERVICE Act creates a pilot program through the U.S. Department of Justice that would provide grants to law enforcement agencies to create local veteran response teams — teams of military veteran law enforcement officers that respond to other veterans in crisis or emergency. Once the emergency is under control, the response team can work further with the veteran to connect them with public and private partner resources to create long-term solutions and care.” [Rep. Salazar, Press Release, 10/28/21]
The following are all of Maria Elvira Salazar’s bill co-sponsorships (as of August 25, 2022).

Note: Any notable co-sponsorships will be repeated in the Congressional Career section of the research book.

APPENDIX V: KEY VOTES

The following are key votes taken by Maria Elvira Salazar’s categorized alphabetically by issue (as of July 19, 2022).

Note: Any notable votes will be repeated in the Congressional Career section of the research book.

Abortion and Women’s Health

Salazar Voted Against Considering The Respect For Marriage Act, A Six-Bill Appropriations Minibus Package, And The Right To Contraception Act. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1232) that would provide for one hour of general debate on each bill, provide for automatic adoption of a manager’s amendment to HR 8373 and make 190 amendments in order to HR 8294. The rule would provide for automatic adoption of the Pallone, D-N.J., manager's amendment to HR 8373 that would, among other provisions, specify that the bill’s definition of "contraceptive" includes biological products and is limited to products legally marketed under existing Food and Drug Administration regulations; clarify the bill's definition of "health care provider" to state that providers must be authorized by the state to provide health care services; specify that the bill may not be construed to sanction sterilization procedures without a patient’s informed consent; and make technical changes. The rule would also provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to a resolution (H Res 1230) that would modify standing House rules for the 117th Congress to allow a rule to be called up for floor consideration when the text has been made available to members prior to the convening of the legislative day; allow motions to suspend the rules to be considered on any day of the week; and allow for proxy voting in the Committee of the Whole House, thus allowing delegates and the resident commissioner of Puerto Rico to vote by proxy on amendments. Finally, the rule would authorize, through the legislative day of Thursday, July 21, 2022, non-debatable motions by the majority leader or a designee to suspend the rules and consider, en bloc, measures considered under suspension of the rules on Monday, July 18, 2022.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 219-200. [H.Res. 1232, Vote #Vote #366, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of A Resolution To Affirm The Importance Of Pro-Life Crisis Pregnancy Centers And Call For The Protection Of Pro-Life Facilities, Groups, And Churches. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Scanlon, D-Pa., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Reschenthaler said, “That is why if we defeat the previous question, I will personally offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider H. Res. 1233, a resolution affirming the importance of pro-life crisis pregnancy centers, condemning the violent attacks by far-left extremist groups, and calling upon the Biden administration to use all law enforcement authorities to uphold public safety and protect the rights of pro-life facilities, groups, and churches.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the resolution. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 219-199. [H.Res. 1232, Vote #Vote #365, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22; Congressional Record, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against The Ensuring Access To Abortion Act To Prohibit Individuals From Interfering With A Patient’s Ability To Cross State Lines To Obtain An Abortion In A State Where It Is Legal. In
July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would prohibit individuals from interfering with patients’ ability to access to abortion services in another state where the services are legal. Specifically, it would prohibit any person acting under color of state law from preventing, restricting or retaliating against health care providers’ ability to provide abortion services that are legal in the provider’s state to patients who do not reside in that state; a person’s ability to assist in providing such services; or a person’s ability to travel or assist another person traveling across state lines to obtain an abortion. It would also prohibit individuals from preventing, restricting or retaliating against the interstate movement of any drug approved by the Food and Drug Administration for the termination of a pregnancy. It would allow the U.S. attorney general or a harmed individual to bring a civil action in U.S. district court for declaratory and injunctive relief against an individual who violates the prohibitions.” The bill passed by a vote of 223-205. [H.R. 8297, Vote #Vote #362, 7/15/22; CQ, 7/15/22]

- The Ensuring Access To Abortion Act Protected People Who Assist Others In Receiving Out Of State Abortions And Shielded Transportation Of Abortion Drugs Between States. “The legislation protects women who travel to another state to receive an abortion if their home state prohibits the medical procedure. And in states where abortion is lawful, the bill seeks to make it illegal for facilities to limit access to the medical procedure for individuals who arrived from out of state. Additionally, the measure includes a provision to protect people who assist others in receiving an abortion in a state where they do not reside. It also shields the state-to-state transportation of abortion drugs that have received approval from the Food and Drug Administration.” [The Hill, 7/15/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Ensuring Access To Abortion Act To Committee. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Johnson, R-La., motion to recommit the bill to the House Energy and Commerce Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 209-219. [H.R. 8297, Vote #Vote #361, 7/15/22; CQ, 7/15/22]

Salazar Voted Against The Women’s Health Protection Act To Establish The Statutory Right For Patients To Receive And For Providers To Provide Abortions And To Prohibit Certain State Restrictions On Abortion. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would statutorily establish that health care providers have a right to provide and patients have a right to receive abortion services, and it would prohibit certain restrictions related to abortion services. The bill would specify that rights established by the bill may not be restricted by certain requirements or limitations related to abortion services, including prohibitions on abortion prior to fetal viability, or after fetal viability if a provider determines that continuation of a pregnancy would pose a risk to a patient’s life or health; requirements that patients disclose reasons for seeking an abortion or make medically unnecessary in-person appointments; requirements that providers provide medically inaccurate information or perform specific medical tests or procedures in connection with the provision of abortion services; limitations on providers’ ability to prescribe drugs based on good-faith medical judgment, provide services via telemedicine or provide immediate services when a delay would pose a risk to a patient’s health; and requirements for facilities and personnel that would not apply to facilities providing medically comparable procedures. It would also prohibit requirements or limitations that are similar to those established by the bill or that impede access to abortion services and expressly or implicitly single out abortion services, providers or facilities. It would specify factors that courts may consider to determine whether a requirement or limitation impedes access to abortion services, including whether it interferes with providers’ ability to provide services; poses a risk to patients’ health; is likely to delay or deter patients in accessing services or necessitate in-person visits that would not otherwise be required; is likely to result in a decreased availability of services in a state or region; is likely to result in increased costs of providing or obtaining services; or imposes penalties that are not imposed on other health care providers for comparable conduct. It would require a party defending a requirement or limitation to establish that it significantly advances the safety of abortion services or patient health and that such goals cannot be advanced by a less restrictive alternative measure. It would authorize the Justice Department, health care providers and private individuals and entities to bring a civil action in U.S. district court for injunctive relief against any state or government official charged with implementing or enforcing a requirement or limitation challenged as a violation of rights established by the bill. It would authorize district courts to award appropriate equitable relief, including temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief, and to award costs of litigation to a prevailing plaintiff. It would require courts to ‘liberally construe’ provisions of the bill to effectuate its purposes. The bill is substantively identical to HR 3755, which the House passed in September 2021, but adds findings related to the June 2022 Supreme Court decision in Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization.” The bill passed by a vote of 219-210. [H.R. 8296, Vote #360, 7/15/22; CQ, 7/15/22]

- The Women’s Health Protection Act “Enshrine[d] The Protections Of Roe V. Wade Into Law.” “The House on Friday passed legislation that would protect access to reproductive health care, including the ability to travel across state lines for an abortion, as part of Democrats’ efforts to minimize the consequences of the Supreme Court overturning Roe v. Wade last month. One bill, the Women’s Health Protection Act, would enshrine the protections of Roe v. Wade into law. The House already passed the bill last year, but it did not advance in a Senate vote in May. The House passed the bill, 219-210, prompting applause from Democrats in the chamber.” [Washington Post, 7/15/22]

- The Women’s Health Protection Act Prevented States From Prohibiting Abortions Before Fetal Viability Or After Fetal Viability When The Patient’s Life Or Health Is At Risk. “The bill would prevent state governments from limiting a health care provider’s ability to prescribe certain drugs, offer abortion services via telemedicine, or immediately provide abortion services when the provider determines a delay risks the patient’s health, according to CRS. It also prevents states from requiring patients to make medically unnecessary in-person visits before receiving abortion services or forcing women to disclose their reasons for obtaining abortions and related services. WHPA would ban states from prohibiting abortion services before or after fetal viability when a provider determines the pregnancy risks the patient’s life or health.” [ABC News, 3/7/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Women’s Health Protection Act To Committee. In July 2022 Salazar voted for; “Fischbach, R-Minn., motion to recommit the bill to the House Energy and Commerce Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 209-218. [H.R. 8296, Vote #359, 7/15/22; CQ, 7/15/22]

“Adoption of the rule (H Res 1224) that would provide for House consideration of the Active Shooter Alert Act (HR 6538), the veterans’ toxic exposure benefits bill (S 3373), the fiscal 2023 defense authorization bill (HR 7900), the Women’s Health Protection Act (HR 8296), and the Ensuring Women’s Right to Reproductive Freedom Act (HR 8297). The rule would provide for up to one hour of general debate on each bill and floor consideration of 650 amendments to HR 7900. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Pallone, D-N.J., manager’s amendment to HR 8297 that would change the title of the bill from the ‘Ensuring Access to Abortion Act of 2022’ to the ‘Ensuring Women’s Right to Reproductive Freedom Act.’ The rule would authorize, through the legislative day of July 15, 2022, non-debatable motions by the majority leader or a designee to suspend the rules and consider, en bloc, measures that were previously considered under suspension of the rules on June 21 through July 12. Finally, it would authorize through July 19, 2022, certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 217-204. [H. Res. 1224, Vote #Vote #304, 7/13/22; CQ, 7/13/22]

Salazar Voted Against The Women’s Health Protection Act. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “ Passage of the bill that would statutorily establish that health care providers have a right to provide and patients have a right to receive abortion services, and it would prohibit certain restrictions related to abortion services. The bill would specify that rights established by the bill may not be restricted by certain requirements or limitations related to abortion services, including prohibitions on abortion prior to fetal viability, or after fetal viability if a provider determines that continuation of a pregnancy would pose a risk to a patient's life or health; requirements that patients disclose reasons for seeking an abortion or make medically unnecessary in-person appointments; requirements that providers provide medically inaccurate information or perform specific medical tests or procedures in connection with the provision of abortion services; limitations on providers' ability to prescribe drugs based on good-faith medical judgment, provide services via telemedicine or provide immediate services when a delay would pose a risk to a patient's health; and requirements for facilities and personnel that would not apply to facilities providing medically comparable procedures. It would also prohibit requirements or limitations that are similar to those established by the bill or that impede access to abortion services and expressly or implicitly single out abortion services, providers or facilities. It would specify factors that courts may consider to determine whether a requirement or limitation impedes access to abortion services, including whether it interferes with providers' ability to provide services; poses a risk to patients' health; is likely to delay or deter patients in accessing services or necessitate in-person visits that would not otherwise be required; is likely to result in a decreased availability of services in a state or region; is likely to result in increased costs of providing or obtaining services; or imposes penalties that are not imposed on other health care providers for comparable conduct. It would require a party defending a requirement or limitation to establish that it significantly advances the safety of abortion services or patient health and that such goals cannot be advanced by a less restrictive alternative measure. It would authorize the Justice Department, health care providers and private individuals and entities to bring a civil action in U.S. district court for injunctive relief against any state or government official charged with implementing or enforcing a requirement or limitation challenged as a violation of rights established by the bill. It would authorize district courts to award appropriate equitable relief, including temporary, preliminary or permanent injunctive relief, and to award costs of litigation to a prevailing plaintiff. It would require courts to "liberally construe" provisions of the bill to effectuate its purposes.” The bill passed by a vote of 218-211. [HR 3655, Vote #Vote #295, 9/24/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

- Passage Of The WHPA Was In Response To A Restrictive Texas Abortion Law. “Passage of the Women's Health Protection Act is a response to a Texas law that essentially bans abortion after six weeks, before most people realize they are pregnant. The U.S. Supreme Court refused to block the law from taking effect, although the decision leaves the door open for future challenges.” [NPR, 9/24/21]

- Pelosi: “This Ban Necessitates Codifying Roe V. Wade.” “In a statement, Pelosi said the Texas statute is ‘the most extreme, dangerous abortion ban in half a century, and its purpose is to destroy Roe v. Wade, and even refuses to make exceptions for cases of rape and incest. This ban necessitates codifying Roe v. Wade.”” [NPR, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Women's Health Protection Act. In September 2021 Salazar voted for: “Letlow, R-La., motion to recommit the bill to the House Energy and Commerce Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 210-219. [HR 3755 Vote #Vote #294, 9/24/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The No Taxpayer Funding For Abortion And Abortion Insurance Full Disclosure Act Of 2021. In June 2021, Salazar Voted Against: “Agreeing to the Morelle, D-N.Y., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Burgess said, “If we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider H.R. 18, the No Taxpayer Funding for Abortion and Abortion Insurance Full Disclosure Act of 2021.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to, 218-209. [H Res 486, Vote #Vote #175, 6/23/21; CQ, 6/23/21; Congressional Record, 6/23/21]

- The No Taxpayer Funding For Abortion And Abortion Insurance Full Disclosure Act Of 2021 Would Have Made The Hyde Amendment Permanent. “H.R. 18 — the No Taxpayer Funding for Abortion and Abortion Insurance Full Disclosure Act of 2021 — would make the long-standing Hyde Amendment permanent and keep in place similar provisions to ensure no federal dollars are used to pay for abortion and health plans that include abortion.” [Catholic News Service, 2/10/21]

Agriculture, Animal and Food Access

Salazar Voted For The Formula Act To Suspend Tariffs On Infant Formula Through The End Of 2022. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Blumenauer, D-Ore., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would suspend tariffs on infant formula from countries with which the United States has normal trade relations through Dec. 31, 2022. It would also specify that the formula would not be subject to any additional safeguard duties, import or tariff-rate quotas, or any other duties or fees that would otherwise apply upon importation.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 421-2. [H.R. 8351, Vote #Vote #363, 7/15/22; CQ, 7/15/22]

- 2022: U.S. Tariffs On Infant Formula Were Up To 17.5%. “The most-favored-nation (MFN) tariff rate for infant formula ranges from 14.9% to 17.5% depending on the content. Once a certain threshold of imports is reached, the duties on most common infant formulas increase to $1.035 per kilogram + 14.9%. In addition, once another threshold is reached, certain low-priced formulas may be subject to additional tariffs. Certain infant formulas enter duty free from some free trade agreement (FTA) partners.” [Congressional Research Service, Report, 5/23/22]

Salazar Voted Against The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act To Make Fertilizer More Affordable And Boost Meatpacking Competition. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would provide $700 million in supplemental fiscal 2023 appropriations and authorize or require various Agriculture Department activities to reduce food production costs; support biofuel infrastructure upgrades to reduce fuel costs; expand livestock and poultry processing capacities; and address supply chain resilience in the food and agriculture sectors. Within supplemental appropriations, it would provide $500 million for additional payments to producers under the Environmental Quality Incentives Program to implement crop nutrient management practices or precision agriculture practices, which use new technologies to increase crop yields or decrease needed inputs such as land, fertilizer and herbicides. It would also modify existing USDA conservation programs to provide additional support, including loans and loan guarantees, for farmers and ranchers to adopt precision agriculture practices and acquire related technology. Within supplemental appropriations, it would provide $200 million for grants to transportation fueling and distribution facilities, fuel terminal operations and heating oil distribution facilities to install or upgrade fuel infrastructure to ensure the environmentally safe availability of fuel containing ethanol blends at levels greater than 10 percent or biodiesel blends at levels greater than five percent, or to build and retrofit existing systems to blend biodiesel and carry ethanol and biodiesel. It would also authorize the EPA to extend a waiver to allow the sale of gasoline blended with more than 10 percent ethanol. The bill would also authorize $120 million annually through fiscal 2025 for USDA loans, loan guarantees and grants for public and private entities to expand and diversify livestock or poultry processing capabilities and promote local and interstate sales by meeting relevant regulatory standards. It would establish a USDA special investigator’s office to investigate and prosecute violations of competition and trade practices by packers and live poultry dealers and consult with the Homeland Security Department on security issues in the food and agriculture sector. To address supply chain issues, it would authorize $100 million for grants, loans and other assistance to address fertilizer shortages, including by reducing dependence on foreign sources and supporting efficient and sustainable fertilizer use; direct the USDA to establish at least six Supply Chain Regional Resource Centers to provide grants and assistance to small- and medium-sized agricultural producers and businesses to address supply chain challenges; and require the USDA to establish a temporary food system supply chain resilience and crisis response task force.” The bill passed by a vote of 221-204. [H.R. 7606, Vote #Vote #277, 6/16/22; CQ, 6/16/22]
• The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act Created A Task Force To Prevent Bottlenecks In Agriculture And Food Supply Chains And Lower Food Costs. “In action June 16, the U.S. House of Representatives passed by a vote of 221-204 H.R. 7606, the Lower Food and Fuel Costs Act, which lead Democrat authors say will help address supply chain risks, lower the cost of food and gas prices, strengthen the food supply chain and ensure robust competition in the meat and poultry sector. [...] The package also includes the Strengthening the Agriculture and Food Supply Chain Act which would create a task force dedicated to shoring up the agriculture and food supply chains in order to prevent bottlenecks and lower food costs.” [Farm Progress, 6/16/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act To Committee. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Cammack, R-Fla., motion to recommit the bill to the House Agriculture Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 206-218. [H.R. 7607, Vote #276, 6/16/22; CQ, 6/16/22]

Salazar Voted For Food Allergy Safety, Treatment, Education, and Research Act. In April 2021, Salazar voted for: "Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would expand the definition of "major food allergen" to specifically include sesame for any food introduced into interstate commerce on or after Jan. 1, 2023. It would also require the Health and Human Services Department, within 18 months of enactment, to submit a report to Congress including information on data collection, diagnosis, prevention and treatments related to food allergies; recommendations to improve such activities; and recommendations to develop a regulatory framework to designate other food ingredients as major food allergens.” The motion passed 415-11. [S 578, Vote #100, 4/14/21; CQ, 4/14/21]

Big Lie & January 6th Insurrection

Salazar Voted Against Holding Former Trump Advisors Peter Navarro And Daniel Scavino In Contempt Of Congress For Refusal To Comply With Subpoenas From The January 6th Select Committee. In April 2022 Salazar voted against: “Agreement to the resolution that would find two advisers to former President Donald Trump -- Peter K. Navarro, former White House director of trade and manufacturing policy, and Daniel Scavino, Jr., former White House deputy chief of staff -- in contempt of Congress for refusing to comply with subpoenas issued by the Select Committee to Investigate the January 6th Attack on the United States Capitol. It would direct the speaker of the House to ‘take all appropriate action to enforce the subpoenas’ and certify the committee report (H Rept 117-284) accompanying the contempt resolution to the U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia for judicial action.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-203. [H. Res. 1037, Vote #118, 4/6/22; CQ, 4/6/22]

• Republican Reps. Cheney And Kinzinger Were The Only Votes To Break The Party-Line On Holding Navarro And Scavino In Contempt. “The mostly party-line vote of 220 to 203 referred contempt charges to the Justice Department, calling for prosecutions of Mr. Navarro, a former top White House adviser, and Mr. Scavino Jr., a former deputy chief of staff. [...] Only two Republicans, Representatives Liz Cheney of Wyoming and Adam Kinzinger of Illinois, both members of the investigative committee, voted for the charges. The rest of their party refused to support the move.” [New York Times, 4/6/22]
Salazar Voted Against Considering Holding Peter Navarro And Daniel Scavino In Contempt Of Congress. In April 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1023) that would provide for floor consideration of the resolution (H Res 1037) accompanying the report (H Rept 117-284) that would find Peter K. Navarro and Daniel Scavino, Jr., advisers to former President Donald Trump, in contempt of Congress. It would provide for up to one hour of debate on the resolution.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 221-200. [H. Res. 1023, Vote #Vote #117, 4/6/22; CQ, 4/6/22]

Salazar Voted Against Referring Former Trump Chief Of Staff Mark Meadows To The Justice Department In Contempt Of Congress For Refusal To Comply With A Subpoena From The Select Committee Investigating The January 6th Attack On The U.S. Capitol. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution, that would find Mark Meadows, former White House chief of staff to President Donald Trump, in contempt of Congress for refusal to comply with a subpoena issued by the Select Committee to Investigate the January 6th Attack on the United States Capitol. It would direct the speaker of the House to "take all appropriate action to enforce the subpoena" and certify the committee report (H Rept 117-216) accompanying the contempt resolution to the U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia for judicial action.” The motion passed by a vote of 222-208. [H. Res. 851, Vote #Vote #447, 12/14/21; CQ, 12/14/21]

- Mark Meadows Provided Thousands Of Documents To The January 6th Committee But Claimed Executive Privilege And Refused To Appear Before The Panel. “Sweeping claims of executive privilege by Meadows and Trump to shield their activities on and before Jan. 6 from congressional scrutiny have been challenged in the court and by constitutional experts. Last week, Meadows backed away from cooperating with the panel just days after saying he would. He argued that the panel was pressuring him to discuss issues that the former president said are protected by executive privilege. However, Meadows had already produced thousands of documents for the panel, including text messages and emails related to the events of the day.” [Washington Post, 12/15/21]

- January 6th Committee Chairman Bennie Thompson: The Report Referring Meadows For Criminal Contempt Was “Clear And Compelling.” “The select committee's report referring Mr. Meadows for criminal contempt charges is clear and compelling,' Committee Chairman Bennie Thompson, a Democrat from Mississippi, said on Tuesday. ‘As White House chief of staff, Mr. Meadows played a role in or was witness to key events leading up to and including the January 6th assault on the United States Capitol.’ [...] Republican Rep. Liz Cheney of Wyoming, the vice chair of the select committee, said Tuesday that Meadows had received numerous text messages urging Trump to take action to stop the riot that he has produced without any privilege claim.” [CNN, 12/14/21]

Salazar Voted Against Finding Steve Bannon In Contempt Of Congress For Not Complying With A Subpoena From The Committee Investigating The January 6th Insurrection. In October 2021 Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution that would find Stephen Bannon, adviser to former President Donald Trump, in contempt of Congress for refusal to comply with a subpoena issued by the Select Committee to Investigate the January 6th Attack on the United States Capitol. It would direct the speaker of the House to ‘take all appropriate action to enforce the subpoena’ and certify the committee report (H Rept 117-152) accompanying the contempt resolution to the U.S. attorney for the District of Columbia for judicial action.” The bill passed by a vote of 229-202. [H.Res. 730, Vote #Vote #329, 10/21/21; CQ, 10/21/21]

Salazar Voted Against A Motion To Table A Privileged Resolution To Condemn The Refusal Of Speaker Pelosi To Seat All Five Republican Members Nominated By Minority Leader McCarthy To The Jan. 6 Select Committee. In February 2015, Salazar voted against: “Hoyer, D-Md., motion to table (kill) the privileged resolution that would condemn the refusal of Speaker Pelosi, D-Calif., to seat all five Republican members nominated by Minority Leader McCarthy, R-Calif., to the Jan. 6 select committee and urge Pelosi to appoint the following members: Reps. Banks, R-Ind., Jordan, R-Ohio., Davis, R-Ill., Armstrong, R-N.D., and Nehls, R-Texas.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 218-197. [H Res 554, Vote #Vote #219, 7/26/21; CQ, 7/26/21]

Salazar Voted Against The Establishment Of The Select Committee To Investigate The January 6 Attack On The US Capitol. In June 2021, Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution that would establish a special committee in the House of Representatives to investigate facts and causes related to the Jan. 6, 2021, ‘domestic terrorist attack’ on the U.S. Capitol; examine and evaluate evidence developed by relevant federal, state and local governmental agencies; and build upon the investigations of other entities. It would require the committee to investigate facts and circumstances of the attack related to intelligence and law enforcement agency activities and factors contributing to the attack, including online platforms and foreign influence operations; identify and analyze the causes of and lessons learned from the attack with regard to law enforcement operations and security protocol at the Capitol; and submit to Congress reports including findings and conclusions of its investigations, legislative recommendations, and recommendations for corrective measures. The resolution would authorize the speaker of the House to appoint 13 members to the committee, including five members after consultation with the minority leader. Among other provisions, it would authorize the committee chair to issue subpoenas, authorize such sums as may be necessary for committee expenses, and specify that the committee would terminate 30 days after filing its final report to Congress.” The bill passed 222 to 190. [H. Res. 503, Vote #Vote #197, 6/30/21; CQ, 6/30/21]

- The Select Committee Was Established After Senate Republicans Blocked A Vote On Creating A Bipartisan Outside Commission To Investigate The January 6th Insurrection. “In a largely party-line vote, the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives approved legislation on Wednesday to create a select committee to launch a new inquiry into the Jan. 6 attack on the U.S. Capitol. With a larger share of Republicans voting against the plan, it marks the latest turn in a partisan fight to investigate the riot […] Last month, Senate Republicans blocked a move to vote on an outside commission, leaving Democratic leaders with plans to move forward with a House select committee instead. But some Republicans who supported the independent commission voted against the select committee.” [NPR, 6/30/21]

Salazar Voted For Awarding Four Congressional Gold Medals To The US Capitol Police Who Protected The Capitol On January 6, 2021. In June 2021, Salazar voted for: “Waters, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would provide for the presentation of four congressional gold medals to the U.S. Capitol Police and those who protected the U.S. Capitol on Jan. 6, 2021. It would require the presentation of one medal each for display at the U.S. Capitol Police
Salazar Voted Against A Bill Funding Emergency And Security Activities In Response To Jan. 6 Attack On U.S. Capitol And Security Upgrades For Future Prevention Of Similar Incidents. In May 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would provide approximately $1.9 billion in emergency supplemental fiscal 2021 appropriations to legislative branch and other federal entities for security activities in response to the Jan. 6, 2021, attack on the U.S. Capitol, including approximately $753 million to reimburse costs associated with responding to the attack and approximately $990 million for legislative and judicial branch security upgrades. Within the total, it would also provide approximately $170 million for legislative branch costs associated with the COVID-19 public health emergency. For expenses related to the Jan. 6 attack and to prevent similar incidents, it would provide $520.9 million for the National Guard and funding for several law enforcement agencies, including the FBI and National Park Service. It would provide $66.8 million to the District of Columbia for public safety expenses related to terrorist threats and federal presence in the district. It would provide $79.3 million for the Capitol Police, including specified funding for employee hazard pay and retention bonuses, the employee wellness program, agreements with state and local law enforcement agencies, protective details for members of Congress, and physical protection barriers.” The bill passed 213 to 212. [H R 3237, Vote #Vote #156, 5/20/21; CQ, 5/20/21]

Salazar Voted For A Bill Establishing A Bipartisan Commission To Investigate The January 6, 2021 Attack On The U.S. Capitol. In May 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would establish a national commission to investigate facts and causes related to the Jan. 6, 2021, "domestic terrorist attack" on the U.S. Capitol; examine and evaluate evidence developed by relevant federal, state and local governmental agencies; and build upon the investigations of other entities. It would require the commission to investigate facts and circumstances of the attack related to intelligence and law enforcement agency activities and factors contributing to the attack, including online platforms and foreign influence operations; identify and analyze the causes of and lessons learned from the attack with regard to law enforcement operations and security protocol at the Capitol; and submit to the president and Congress reports containing findings and recommendations for corrective measures that are agreed to by a majority of the commission. The commission would be composed of ten members, evenly chosen by the majority and minority parties, who have national recognition and significant experience in at least two subject areas related to the attack, such as law enforcement, intelligence, law, civil rights and counterterrorism. Among other provisions, the bill would authorize the commission to issue subpoenas and hold hearings and specify that the commission would submit its final report by the end of 2021 and terminate 60 days after submitting the report.” The bill passed 252-175. [H R 3233, Vote #Vote #154, 5/19/21; CQ, 5/19/21]

Salazar Voted For Awarding Three Congressional Gold Medals To The United States Capitol Police And Those Who Protected The U.S. Capitol On January 6, 2021. In March 2021, Salazar voted for: “Waters, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would award three congressional gold medals to the U.S. Capitol Police and those who protected the U.S. Capitol on Jan. 6, 2021. It would require the presentation of one medal each to the U.S. Capitol Police and the Metropolitan Police Department of the District of Columbia for display at their headquarters, and one medal to the Smithsonian Institution for display and research, along with a plaque listing the other law enforcement agencies that participated in protecting the Capitol.” The motion passed 413-12. [H Res 1085, Vote #Vote #87, 3/17/21; CQ, 3/17/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking A Resolution Establishing A Bipartisan 9/11-Style Commission To Investigate The January 6th Attack On The U.S. Capitol. In January 2021, Salazar voted against “Agreeing to the Scanlon, D-Pa., motion to order the previous question (thus ending the debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Cole stated: “Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately bring up a resolution establishing a bipartisan national commission on the domestic terrorist attack on the United States Capitol. This commission, modeled on the 9/11 Commission, will be charged with examining and reporting upon the facts and causes relating to the attack that occurred on January 6 of 2021 and with providing appropriate findings, conclusions, and recommendations for corrective measures. I can think of no more appropriate path for Congress to follow, Mr. Speaker, than to ensure that a bipartisan commission reviews all evidence and reports back to us on this horrific event.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the resolution. The motion was agreed to, 219-206. [H. Res. 21, Vote #Vote #12, 1/12/21; CQ, 1/12/21]

- Republicans Proposed The Commission In Effort To “Deflect The Anger Directed At Trump” Amid Democratic Calls For Vice President Pence To Invoke The 25th Amendment And Remove Trump From The Presidency. “The House passed on Tuesday evening a searing resolution urging Vice President Mike Pence to invoke the 25th Amendment to expel President Donald Trump for inciting the violent mob that stormed the Capitol last week […] Republicans sought to deflect the anger directed at Trump by proposing a commission to investigate the forces and causes behind the insurrection. Rep. Tom Cole, an Oklahoma Republican, called the effort to prod Pence ‘misguided and inappropriate,’ noting that the 25th Amendment gives Congress no explicit role in suggesting a vice president to declare a president unfit.” [Dallas Morning News, 1/12/21]

Salazar Voted Against The Resolution Calling On Vice President Pence To Invoke The 25th Amendment And Remove President Trump From Office. In January 2021, Salazar voted against “Agreeing to the resolution that would state that the House of Representatives calls on Vice President Mike Pence to use his powers under section 4 of the 25th Amendment to convene and mobilize members of the president's cabinet to declare that President Donald Trump is unable to successfully discharge the duties and powers of his office, and to transmit notice to Congress that Pence will immediately assume the powers and duties of the office as acting president. The resolution would state among its findings that Trump ‘widely advertised and broadly encouraged’ participation in the march on the U.S. Capitol on Wednesday, Jan. 6, which turned into a violent insurrectionary mob that resulted in 5 deaths following the storming of the Capitol building; did not appeal to his followers to exit the Capitol during the insurrection; refused to accept the results of the 2020 presidential election as legitimate; and made at least three attempts to intervene in the vote counting and certification process in the state of Georgia and to ‘coerce’ its state officials to declare him the winner of the state's electoral votes.” The resolution passed, 223-205. [H. Res. 21, Vote #Vote #14, 1/12/21; CQ, 1/12/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking A Resolution Establishing A Bipartisan 9/11-Style Commission To Investigate The January 6th Attack On The U.S. Capitol. In January 2021, Salazar voted against a “McGovern, D-Mass., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment) on the rule (H Res 41).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Cole stated: “Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately bring up a resolution establishing a bipartisan national commission on the domestic terrorist attack on the United States Capitol. This proposed bipartisan commission will be tasked with examining and reporting upon the terror attack upon our Capitol that occurred last Wednesday. The commission will be bipartisan in nature, modeled after the 9/11 Commission, and will fully be empowered to undertake a full investigation and make recommendations to the President and to Congress. I can think of no more appropriate path for Congress to follow than by ensuring a bipartisan commission reviews all evidence and reports back to us on this horrific event.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the resolution. The motion was agreed to, 221-205. [H. Res. 41, Vote #Vote #15, 1/13/21; CQ, 1/13/21]

- Republicans Proposed The Commission As An Alternative To Impeaching Trump For His Role In The January 6th Capitol Insurrection. “House Republicans argued Wednesday that instead of impeaching President Donald Trump, Congress should create a commission to study what happened last week. Modeled after the bipartisan commission that analyzed the 9/11 terrorism attacks, the body would recommend how to prevent attacks on the Capitol in the future. ‘I can think of no more appropriate path for Congress to follow,’ said Oklahoma Rep. Tom Cole, the top Republican on the House Rules Committee.” [USA Today, 1/13/21]

Salazar Voted Against Impeaching President Trump For Incitement Of Insurrection. In January 2021, Salazar voted against “Adoption of the article of impeachment that would impeach President Donald Trump for incitement of insurrection by ‘inciting violence against the government of the United States.’ Specifically, it would state that Trump ‘repeatedly issued false statements’ asserting that the results of the 2020 presidential election were the product of widespread fraud and should not be accepted or certified. It would state that Trump made statements at a rally on Jan. 6, 2020, that ‘encouraged -- and foreseeably resulted in -- lawless action’ at the Capitol building during the certification of electoral college votes, during which protesters entered the Capitol, attacked law enforcement personnel, ‘menaced’ members of Congress and the vice president, and engaged in other ‘violent, deadly, destructive, and seditious acts.’ It would state that Trump's conduct on Jan. 6 followed prior efforts ‘to subvert and obstruct’ the certification of 2020 presidential election results, including during a Jan. 2 phone call during which he urged Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger to ‘find’ enough votes to overturn the state’s presidential election results and ‘threatened Secretary Raffensperger if he failed to do so.’ It would state President Trump’s ‘endangered the security of the United States and its institutions of government’ and that he ‘threatened the integrity of the democratic system, interfered with the peaceful transition of power, and imperiled a coordinate branch of government.’ Pursuant to the rule (H Res 41), upon adoption of the article of impeachment, the House agreed to the resolution (H Res 40) that would appoint and authorize the following impeachment trial managers to conduct the impeachment trial against President Donald Trump in the Senate: Reps. Raskin, D-Md., DeGette, D-Colo., Cicilline, D-R.I., Castro, D-Texas, Swalwell, D-Calif., Lieu, D-Calif., Plaskett, D-V.I., Neguse, D-Colo., and Dean, D-Pa.” The article of impeachment was adopted, 232-197. Salazar Voted Against En Bloc Amendments No. 6 The Appropriations Minibus Package For FY 2023. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “DeLauro, D-Conn., en bloc amendments no. 6, including 30 amendments to the bill that would, among other provisions, increase funding for Special Emphasis Programs by $20 million, intended to support more robust funding for the General Services Administration to reduce energy and water consumption and to enhance the resilience of federal facilities, with offsets; increase and decrease funding for the Federal Trade Commission by $5 million, intended to encourage the FTC to continue using its existing authority to protect consumers' right to repair and hold accountable companies who engage in anti-competitive conduct limiting repairs by consumers; reallocate $1 million to the Bureau of Ocean Energy Management, intended for the Office of Renewable Energy Programs to support wind energy development; and increase and decrease funding by $1 million for the Veterans Benefits Administration, intended to provide support to law school clinical programs that assist veterans.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 224-204. [H.R. 8294, Vote #Vote #372, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against En Bloc Amendments No. 5 The Appropriations Minibus Package For FY 2023. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “DeLauro, D-Conn., en bloc amendments no. 5, including 36 amendments to the bill that would, among other provisions, decrease funding for the Community Development Block Grant by $300 million; strike $100,000 in funding for electric vehicle procurement; and reduce funding for EPA environmental programs and management by $294.9 million, intended to reduce funding for environmental justice implementation and training grants.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 197-230. [H.R. 8294, Vote #Vote #371, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against En Bloc Amendments No. 4 The Appropriations Minibus Package For FY 2023. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “DeLauro, D-Conn., en bloc amendments no. 4, including two amendments to the bill that would prohibit the use of funds made available in the Transportation and Housing and Urban Development departments and related agencies division of the bill to implement, administer or enforce Davis-Bacon prevailing wage requirements.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 165-264. [H.R. 8294, Vote #Vote #370, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against En Bloc Amendments No. 3 The Appropriations Minibus Package For FY 2023. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “DeLauro, D-Conn., en bloc amendments no. 3, including 46 amendments to the bill that would, among other provisions, increase funding for the Nutrition Assistance Program in Puerto Rico by $1 billion; increase and decrease by $1 million funding for Federal Aviation Administration operations, intended to express that there be a moratorium on the further shrinkage of airline seat sizes and passenger space until the FAA publishes a final rule for minimum seat size standards; increase and decrease funding by $1 million for Rebuilding American Infrastructure with Sustainability and Equity (RAISE) grants, intended to emphasize the prioritization of grant funding toward green infrastructure projects that will decarbonize and electrify the U.S. ground transportation sector; and increase and decrease Agriculture Research Service funding by $1.5 million intended to increase funding for alternative protein research.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 225-201. [H.R. 8294, Vote #Vote #369, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against En Bloc Amendments No. 2 The Appropriations Minibus Package For FY 2023. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “DeLauro, D-Conn., en bloc amendments no. 2, including 31 amendments to the bill that would, among other provisions, reallocate $3 million for the national school lunch program for the purpose of supporting equipment grants to help schools serve healthier meals; reallocate $5 million intended to combat the illicit importation of opioids, including fentanyl, through international mail facilities and land ports-of-entry; and reallocate $2 million to the Natural Resources Conservation Service for conservation operations and technical assistance for farmers." The amendment was adopted by a vote of 336-90. [H.R. 8294, Vote #Vote #368, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted For En Bloc Amendments No. 1 To The Appropriations Minibus Package For FY 2023. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: "DeLauro, D-Conn., en bloc amendments no. 1, including 13 amendments to the bill that would reduce overall funding levels authorized throughout the bill." The amendment was rejected by a vote of 199-229. [H.R. 8294, Vote #Vote #367, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering The Respect For Marriage Act, A Six-Bill Appropriations Minibus Package, And The Right To Contraception Act. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1232) that would would provide for one hour of general debate on each bill, provide for automatic adoption of a manager's amendment to HR 8373 and make 190 amendments in order to HR 8294. The rule would provide for automatic adoption of the Pallone, D-N.J., manager's amendment to HR 8373 that would, among other provisions, specify that the bill's definition of "contraceptive" includes biological products and is limited to products legally marketed under existing Food and Drug Administration regulations; clarify the bill's definition of "health care provider" to state that providers must be authorized by the state to provide health care services; specify that the bill may not be construed to sanction sterilization procedures without a patient's informed consent; and make technical changes. The rule would also provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to a resolution (H Res 1230) that would modify standing House rules for the 117th Congress to allow a rule to be called up for floor consideration when the text has been made available to members prior to the convening of the legislative day; allow motions to suspend the rules to be considered on any day of the week; and allow for proxy voting in the Committee of the Whole House, thus allowing delegates and the resident commissioner of Puerto Rico to vote by proxy on amendments. Finally, the rule would authorize, through the legislative day of Thursday, July 21, 2022, non-debatable motions by the majority leader or a designee to suspend the rules and consider, en bloc, measures considered under suspension of the rules on Monday, July 18, 2022.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 219-200. [H.Res. 1232, Vote #Vote #366, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against Authorizing $28 Million To The Food And Drug Administration In Emergency Funding To Address The Baby Formula Shortage. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would provide $28 million in emergency appropriations for the Food and Drug Administration to address the current shortage and prevent future shortages of FDA-regulated infant formula and certain medical foods, including to prevent fraudulent products from entering the U.S. market. It would require the FDA to report to Congress weekly on obligations of funding provided by the bill.” The bill passed by a vote of 231-192. [H.R. 7790, Vote #Vote #220, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

- Food And Drug Administration Funding Provided For Increased Staff To Inspect Baby Formula And The Prevention Of Future Baby Formula Shortages. “The House voted 231-192 on Wednesday to pass an emergency spending bill aimed at addressing the baby formula shortage. [...] The bill gives the Food and Drug Administration $28 million to increase its staff to help inspect baby formula before it arrives on grocery store shelves. • It will also look ‘to prevent future shortages, including such steps as may be necessary to prevent fraudulent products from entering the United States market.” [Axios, 3/18/22]

- May 2022: More Than 40 Percent Of Baby Formulas Were Out Of Stock In Stores Across The U.S. “Datasembly’s real-time hyper-local data analysis shows that baby formula stock was relatively stable for the first half of 2021, with out-of-stock (OOS) fluctuation between 2-8%. The OOS detail shows that in April 2022 baby formula shortages hit 30% and jumped to 40% at the end of month. For the first week of May the nationwide OOS situation for baby formula continues to climb. The nation-wide OOS percentage is now at 43% for the week ending May 8th.” [Datasembly, 5/10/22]

- May 2022: 26 States Had Baby Formula Out-Of-Stock Rates At 40-50%. “The states seeing the worst shortages include Texas, Tennessee, Missouri, Iowa, North Dakota and South Dakota — all with out-of-stock rates of about 50 percent. A total of 26 states have out of stock rates of 40 to 50 percent. Among metro areas, San Antonio’s out-of-stock rate has climbed to 57 percent, with Memphis and Nashville at 52 percent and Houston and Des Moines at 50 percent.” [NBC News, 5/9/22]

- Center For Disease Control And Prevention: Non-Hispanic Black Infants, Infants Eligible For WIC, And Infants Born To Mothers Aged 20-29 Were Less Likely To Breastfeed.

  “Breastfeeding Disparities Exist. • Fewer non-Hispanic Black infants (75.5%) are ever breastfed compared with Asian infants (92.4%), non-Hispanic White infants (85.3%) and Hispanic infants (85.0%). • Infants eligible for and receiving the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) are less likely to ever be breastfed (76.9%) than infants eligible, but not receiving WIC (83.3%), and infants ineligible for WIC (91.6%). • Younger mothers aged 20 to 29 years are less likely to ever breastfeed (81.2%) than mothers aged 30 years or older (85.9%).” [CDC.gov, Accessed 5/19/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Emergency Funding For The Baby Formula Shortage To Committee. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Hinson, R-Iowa, motion to recommit the Infant Formula Supplemental Appropriations Act to the House Appropriations Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 202-218. [H.R. 7790, Vote #Vote #219, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

Salazar Voted For The Targeting Resources To Communities In Need Act To Provide Persistent Poverty Communities With A More Equitable Share Of Federal Investments. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would require the Office of Management and Budget, within one year of enactment, to implement guidance to increase the share of federal investments targeted to areas of high and persistent poverty. It would specify that the guidance must include a minimum goal that such investments be in an amount greater than such areas would otherwise receive based on their portion of the U.S. population. It would also require the Census Bureau to publish a list of all areas of persistent poverty and update it annually; require OMB to submit an annual report to Congress on the programs under which federal funds were increased under the bill’s provisions and the economic impact on the areas served; require the Government Accountability Office, within two years of enactment, to report to Congress on the effectiveness of the bill’s provisions; and authorize $5 million in fiscal 2023 for salaries and expenses to carry out the bill’s provisions.” The bill passed by a vote of 258-165. Salazar Voted For Part 2 Of The 2022 Omnibus Package, Primarily Related To Domestic Spending And Assistance To Ukraine. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill with a further House amendment, under a divided question. The second portion would include mostly non-defense portions of the bill, including the remaining nine fiscal 2022 appropriations bills; funding for assistance to Ukraine; and a number of miscellaneous policy provisions. For annual appropriations, the bill would provide $1.5 trillion in discretionary spending for fiscal 2022. In this section, it would provide approximately $25.1 billion for the Agriculture Department and related agencies; $55 billion for the Energy Department and federal water projects; $25.5 billion for the Treasury Department, federal judiciary and a number of executive agencies; $38 billion for the Interior Department, Environmental Protection Agency and related agencies; $213.6 billion for the Labor, Health and Human Services and Education departments, and related agencies; $5.93 billion for legislative branch entities; $127.6 billion for the Veterans Affairs Department, military construction and related agencies; $56.1 billion for the State Department, foreign operations and related agencies; and $81 billion for the Transportation and Housing and Urban Development departments and related agencies. It would provide $108.3 billion for HHS, including $45 billion for the National Institutes of Health, $6.5 billion for the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration and $8.5 billion for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention; $76.4 billion for the Education Department, including $24.6 billion for federal student aid programs; $9.8 billion for the Labor Department Employment and Training...
Administration; and $1.8 billion for worker protection agencies. It would provide $140.4 billion in mandatory spending for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program; $97.5 billion for VA medical care, including $13.2 billion for mental health care; $20.7 billion for the National Nuclear Security Administration; $14.9 billion for military construction, including over $600 million intended to support facilities in Europe and NATO infrastructure projects; and $8.3 billion for the Army Corps of Engineers. It would provide a total of $102.9 billion for the Transportation Department -- including funding from transportation trust funds -- containing $57.5 billion for Federal Highway Administration formula programs and $16.3 billion for the Federal Transit Administration. It would provide approximately $13.6 billion to assist Ukraine against Russian aggression. In this section, it would provide $4 billion for the State Department and $2.8 billion for the U.S. Agency for International Development. Within total funding, it would provide approximately $1.4 billion for migration assistance to Ukrainian refugees; $1.1 billion for foreign assistance programs for Ukraine and neighboring countries, including to address economic needs and government continuity; and $650 million for the State Department Foreign Military Financing program. It would provide $100 million for Agriculture Department foreign agricultural assistance to Ukraine and $25 million for the U.S. Agency for Global Media to support media capacity and address disinformation in Ukraine. It also would authorize $3 billion in presidential drawdown authority to provide emergency foreign military assistance in fiscal 2022. It would expand and reauthorize through fiscal 2027 programs enacted under the Violence Against Women Act, including authorizing $222 million annually for Justice Department STOP grants to support state and local law enforcement response and victim services related to violent crimes against women and $100 million for Health and Human Services Department rape prevention and education grants. It would bolster cyber incident reporting requirements and require the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency to establish an interagency ransomware task force. It would incorporate the provisions of several other bills.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 260-171. [H.R. 2471, Vote #66, 3/9/22; CQ, 3/9/22]

- The 2022 Omnibus Bill Included Increases To Congressional Offices, Staff, And Capitol Police. “The bill calls for an increase in funding for congressional offices by 21%, to $774.4 million, so they can recruit and retain a diverse workforce. It would be the largest boost in the Members Representational Allowance appropriation since its authorization in 1996. The package would also provide $18.2 million to pay interns. It would provide $602.5 million for the Capitol Police, an increase of $87 million. This will allow for the hiring of up to 2,112 sworn officers and 450 civilian members of the Capitol Police.” [CNN, 3/9/22]

- The 2022 Omnibus Bill Invested $12.6 Billion In The IRS For Improved Customer Service, Increased Enforcement, And Technological Modernization. “The spending bill would provide $12.6 billion for the Internal Revenue Service, an increase of $675 million, the largest since 2001. The funding boost is intended to help the IRS improve its customer service, increase enforcement, modernize its technology and improve its web applications. It also would provide special funding transfer authority and direct hire authority to help the agency deal with a massive backlog of returns and correspondence.” [CNN, 3/9/22]

- The 2022 Omnibus Bill Renewed The Violence Against Women Act, Which Expired In 2018. “The bill renews the Violence Against Women Act, which expired in 2018, by increasing funding for its prevention and prosecution programs, as well as efforts to reduce the backlog of unprocessed rape kits, according to a fact sheet.” [CNN, 3/9/22]
• The 2022 Omnibus Bill Provided $26.9 Billion In Funding For Child Nutrition Programs, A $1.77 Billion Increase From 2021. “The bill would provide $26.9 billion in funding for child nutrition programs, an increase of $1.77 billion above what was approved for fiscal year 2021.” [CNN, 3/9/22]

• The 2022 Omnibus Bill Increased The Maximum Pell Grant By $400, The Largest Increase In More Than A Decade. “The maximum Pell Grant would increase by $400, to $6,895 a year. Pell Grants are generally awarded to undergraduate students with exceptional financial needs, and the amounts are based on their costs to attend school, family sizes and incomes. The increase would be the largest to the maximum Pell Grant in more than a decade, according to a summary of the bill.” [CNN, 3/9/22]

Salazar Voted For Part 1 Of The 2022 Omnibus Package, Primarily Related To Defense Spending. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill with a further House amendment, under a divided question. The first portion of the bill would include the Defense, Homeland Security and Commerce-Justice-Science fiscal 2022 appropriations bills; funding for defense assistance to Ukraine; the fiscal 2022 intelligence authorization; and provisions related to normalizing relations between Israel and its neighbors. For annual appropriations, the bill would provide $1.5 trillion in discretionary spending for fiscal 2022. In this section, it would provide approximately $728.5 billion for the Defense Department; $81.1 billion for the Homeland Security Department; and $75.8 billion for the Commerce and Justice departments and science and related agencies. Within total Defense funding, it would provide a 2.7 percent military pay increase; $600 million for security cooperation with Ukraine and Eastern European allies; $144.9 billion for military procurement; $37.4 billion for Defense health programs; $1.5 billion for environmental restoration activities; and over $1 billion for Israel's Iron Dome missile defense system. It would provide $23.9 billion for the Federal Emergency Management Agency, mostly for disaster response and recovery activities; $14.8 billion for Customs and Border Protection; $11.5 billion for the Coast Guard; $8.3 billion for Immigration and Customs Enforcement; $2.6 billion for the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency; and $409.5 million for Citizenship and Immigration Services. It would provide $9.9 billion for the Commerce Department, including $570 million for the International Trade Administration and $373.5 million for the Economic Development Administration; $35.2 billion for the Justice Department, including $10.8 billion for the FBI and $3.9 billion for state and local law enforcement grants; $24 billion for NASA; and $8.8 billion for the National Science Foundation. The bill would provide approximately $13.6 billion to assist Ukraine against Russian aggression. In this section, it would provide $6.5 billion for the Defense Department, including $3.5 billion to replenish U.S. defense articles provided to Ukraine and $3 billion for personnel, operations, procurement and other expenses related to responding to the situation in Ukraine. Among other provisions, it would provide $59.4 million for the Justice Department, intended for investigating and responding to cyber threats and Russian sanctions violations, including $43.6 million for the FBI. Among other provisions, it would also authorize a classified amount of funding for fiscal 2022 for intelligence-related activities by 17 federal intelligence agencies, including foreign intelligence activities of the FBI and the Defense, State and Homeland Security departments; reauthorize and expand the National Counterproliferation Center to include jurisdiction over intelligence activities related to biosecurity, redesignating it as the National Counterproliferation and Biosecurity Center; and require the State Department to develop a strategy and regularly report to Congress on its efforts to strengthen normalization agreements and promote normalization of relations between Israel and its neighboring states." The motion was agreed to by a vote of 361-69. [H.R. 2471, Vote #Vote #65, 3/9/22; CQ, 3/9/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering The 2022 Omnibus Package, The 2022 4-Day Continuing Resolution, Suspending Energy Imports From Russia, And $15.6 Billion In Coronavirus Relief. In March 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 973) that would that would provide for House floor consideration of the legislative vehicle (HR 2471) for the fiscal 2022 omnibus appropriations package, the fiscal 2022 four-day continuing resolution extension (H J Res 75), the Suspending Energy Imports from Russia Act (HR 6968) and the $15.6 billion coronavirus relief bill (HR 7007). The rule would provide for up to one hour of general debate on each measure. For consideration of HR 2471, the rule would specifically provide for a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill, with a further House amendment, debatable for up to one hour, and provide for a division of the question on passage of the bill. Under the divided question, one vote would be on divisions B, C, F, X, Z and titles two and three of division N, consisting of defense-related provisions including three of the 12 fiscal 2022 annual appropriations bills. The other vote would be on the remainder of the bill. It would also provide for automatic adoption of the DeLauro, D-Conn., manager's amendment to HR 2471 that would strike a section providing coronavirus relief funding from the bill; modify a section related to expulsion of federal credit union members, including to specify that they may only be expelled for cause with a two-thirds vote and extend from 15 to 60 days the time an expelled member has to request a hearing; and make technical corrections to account for the provisions of the continuing resolution extension (H J Res 75).” The rule was adopted by a vote of 218-204. [H. Res. 973, Vote #Vote #64, 3/9/22; CQ, 3/9/22]

Salazar Voted For A Continuing Resolution Funding The Government Through March 11th, 2022. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would provide funding for federal government operations and services through Mar. 11, 2022, at fiscal 2021 levels. It would extend for the duration of the continuing resolution a number of expiring programs and authorities extended by prior continuing resolutions (PL 117-43 and PL 117-70), including the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program and the National Flood Insurance Program; the Health and Human Services Department's authority to appoint personnel to National Disaster Medical System positions to respond to public health emergencies; increased trafficking and sexual abuse fines; a waiver making supportive living facility residents eligible for Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits; the emergency classification of fentanyl-related substances as schedule I controlled substances; and the increased federal medical assistance percentage for U.S. territories, offset by a reduction of $2 million for the Medicare Improvement Fund. Among other provisions, it would provide $350 million for Defense Department activities to address water contamination issues near the Red Hill Bulk Fuel Storage Facility in Oahu, Hawaii, and increase from $200 million to $300 million annual funding the president may direct for immediate foreign military assistance to respond to an unforeseen emergency.” Passed by a vote of 272-162. [HR 6617, Vote #Vote #39, 2/8/22; CQ, 2/8/22]

Salazar Voted Against Raising The Debt Limit By $2.5 Trillion To Fund The Government Through 2022. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the resolution that would increase the statutory limit on federal debt by $2.5 trillion.” The bill passed by a vote of 221-209. • HEADLINE: “House Passes Debt Ceiling Increase, Sending It To Biden To Avoid Default Hours Before Deadline.” [CNBC, 12/15/21]

• Congress Passed A Debt Limit Increase Early The Day The Debt Limit Would Have Been Reached. “Congress early Wednesday voted to raise the nation's debt limit by $2.5 trillion, officially staving off default and the economic peril that would come if the U.S. were unable to pay its bills. [...] Lawmakers managed to get the measure passed just in time to avoid an economic scare. Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen told lawmakers she estimated the United States would reach its debt ceiling by Wednesday. If lawmakers didn't address the debt limit by then, the U.S. would have defaulted on its debts for the first time, which could lead to a global recession, Treasury Department officials and experts said.” [USA Today, 12/15/21]

• Salazar Voted Against Considering Raising The Debt Limit By $2.5 Trillion. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 852) that would provide for House floor consideration of the resolution to increase the debt limit (S J Res 33). The rule would provide for up to one hour of debate on the bill.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 220-212. [H. Res. 852, Vote #Vote #446, 12/14/21; CQ, 12/14/21]

• Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of Replacing Democrats’ FY 2022 Spending Plan With Deficit Reduction Legislation. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Morelle, D-N.Y., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Burgess said, “Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, Republicans will amend the rule to immediately consider an amendment to the Democrats' fiscal year 2022 budget resolution to replace the socialist $5 trillion tax-and-spend reconciliation instructions with new instructions for authorizing committees to produce legislation to reduce the deficit to combat runaway inflation currently fueling the highest price spike in 40 years and to get Americans back to work.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220-212. [H. Res. 852, Vote #Vote #445, 12/14/21; CQ, 12/14/21; Congressional Record, 12/14/21]

Salazar Voted Against Short-Term Continued Government Funding Through February 18, 2022. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the the fiscal 2022 further continuing resolution that would provide funding for federal government operations and services through Feb. 18, 2022, at fiscal 2021 levels and provide $7 billion in emergency funding for Afghan evacuee assistance, as well as $1.6 billion for the Health and Human Services Department to provide shelter and services to unaccompanied minors who have crossed the U.S. border. Within funding to support Afghan evacuees, it would provide $4.3 billion for Defense Department assistance to refugees on U.S. military installations; $1.3 billion for Health and Human Services Department resettlement and support services for Afghan arrivals and refugees; and $1.3 billion for the State Department, including $1.2 billion for resettlement and support services for Afghans in the United States and $80.3 million for related diplomatic activities and additional evacuations. It would require the Office of Management and Budget to submit a report on the strategy and transition plan for concluding Afghan resettlement initiatives. It would extend for the duration of the continuing resolution a number of expiring programs and authorities previously extended by a prior continuing resolution (PL 117-43 / HR 4350), including the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program and the National Flood Insurance Program; HHS authority to appoint personnel to National Disaster Medical System positions to respond to public health emergencies; the emergency classification of fentanyl-related substances as schedule I controlled substances; and the increased federal medical assistance percentage for U.S. territories, offset by a reduction of $13 million for the Medicare Improvement Fund. Among other provisions, it would extend through Dec. 31, 2021, a waiver making supportive living facility residents eligible for Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits and increase from $100 million to $200 million annual funding the president may direct for immediate foreign military assistance to respond to an unforeseen emergency.” The bill passed by a vote of 221-212. [H. R. 6119, Vote #399, 12/2/21; CQ, 12/2/21]

Salazar Voted Against Considering Short-Term Continued Government Funding Through February 18, 2022. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule ((H Res 829) that would provide for House floor consideration of the fiscal 2022 further continuing resolution (HR 6119). The rule would provide for up to one hour of debate on the bill. The rule would allow proceedings on motions offered on Nov. 30 or Dec. 1, 2021, to suspend the rules and consider certain measures to be postponed through Dec. 10. It also would authorize through Jan. 21, 2022, certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions. Finally, the rule would provide for the House to convene the second session of the 117th Congress on Jan. 10, 2022, by authorizing the speaker to dispense with organizational and legislative business on any legislative day of the second session prior to that date.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 219-208. [H. Res. 829, Vote #396, 12/2/21; CQ, 12/2/21]

Salazar Voted Against The Build Back Better Act. In November 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2022 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, that would provide approximately $2 trillion in investments and tax cuts to address climate change and child care, health care, education, housing and other social policies intended to support families. It would establish a child care and early learning entitlement program, providing approximately $100 billion for the program through fiscal 2024. It would provide $18 billion through fiscal 2024 for a free universal preschool program. It would extend through 2022 the expanded child tax credit provided by prior coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2) and provide $5 billion to administer the credit. It would establish a paid family and medical leave benefit for up to four weeks per year, beginning in 2024. It would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a “maximum fair price” for insulin and select Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition. It would require manufacturers to provide rebates for single-source drugs under Medicare Parts B and D for which prices increase faster than inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000 beginning in 2024. It would establish or extend expanded eligibility for certain tax credits toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums through 2025. It would establish or expand a number of tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including to expand credits for renewable energy production and facilities, carbon capture facilities, use of alternative fuels and energy efficiency improvements at residential properties; and to establish individual credits for the purchase of electric vehicles. It would raise royalty rates and fees for oil and gas drilling leases and cancel or ban certain offshore leases. It would provide $29 billion to support the deployment of low- and zero-emission technologies, more than $20 billion for federal climate resiliency and environmental conservation activities and $9 billion for federal procurement of electric vehicles and related infrastructure. It would provide $65 billion for public housing improvements, $24 billion for rental assistance housing vouchers and $15 billion for down payment assistance and loan programs for first-generation homebuyers. It would provide $9.8 billion for local transit projects to support mobility and affordable housing access disadvantaged communities and $9 billion for lead remediation and water line replacement projects. It would forgive all debt owed by the National Flood Insurance Program’s debt, for a total of $20.5 billion. It would provide such sums as necessary for the USDA to forgive farm loan debt for economically distressed farmers and ranchers. It would provide $6.6 billion to the Small Business Administration and Minority Business Development Agency to help underrepresented individuals with business development. It would provide $20 billion for Labor and Education department workforce development programs and $1.9 billion for Labor Department worker protection agencies. It would allow individuals who entered the United States prior to Jan. 1, 2011, to receive a grant of parole allowing them to remain temporarily in the country for a period of five years, but no later than Sept. 30, 2021. It would temporarily increase from $10,000 to $80,000 the annual cap on the deduction for state and local taxes for tax years 2021 through 2030. To offset costs, it would establish or modify various taxes on corporations and high-income individuals, including to establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with an annual income exceeding $1 billion; a one percent tax on stock buybacks by public companies; and an additional five percent tax on individual income over $10 million and further three percent tax on income over $25 million. It would provide $78.9 billion to improve IRS operations and tax enforcement.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-213. [HR 5376, Vote #Vote #385, 11/19/21; CQ, 11/19/21]

- Roosevelt Institute: Build Back Better Act Would Invest In Child Care, Creating Jobs And Allowing Parents To Get Back To Work. “Convenient, affordable childcare is a major obstacle for working parents, illuminated even more so by school and daycare closures during the COVID-19 pandemic, which has disproportionately impacted women’s labor force participation. Increasing the capacity of industries in order to curb inflation of specific prices requires increasing the supply of labor. The Build Back Better Act invests in existing and new childcare facilities in underserved areas and provides subsidies to make childcare more affordable for qualifying households. Together, these investments would increase the supply of childcare, create new jobs, and allow parents to get back to work. [Roosevelt Institute, Fact Sheet, 9/28/21] reconciliation bill (HR 5376) containing a package of social safety net and climate policy provisions.” The question was agreed to by a vote of 215-212. [H. Res. 774, Vote #Vote #368, 11/5/21; CQ, 11/5/21]

- Center For American Progress: Build Back Better Act Would Invest In Clean Electricity And Energy Efficiency, Reducing Energy Costs By $500 Per Year For The Average Household. "Build Back Better helps break the United States’ dependence on fossil fuels—an industry that’s particularly vulnerable to extreme weather, which has and will continue to be exacerbated by climate change—consumer energy costs will be reduced. Specifically, proposed investments in clean electricity and energy efficiency will make energy costs more affordable, saving the average household approximately $500 a year in reduced energy costs. This much-needed investment in clean energy would come at a time when energy prices have pushed up inflation for consecutive months.” [Center for American Progress, 11/16/21]

Salazar Voted For Extending Funding For Federal Highways And Other Surface Transportation Through October 31, 2021. In October 2021 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would extend through Oct. 31, 2021, funding and authorities for federal surface transportation programs, including highway, public transit, rail and safety and research programs that expire after Sept. 30. For the extension period, it would authorize appropriations for programs funded by the highway and mass transit accounts of the Highway Trust Fund in amounts proportional to amounts authorized for such programs in fiscal 2021. It would extend expenditure authority for the fund through Nov. 1, 2021. It would require federal employees furloughed as a result of the trust fund expenditure lapse to be paid for the period of the lapse, and it would require employees required to work during the lapse to be paid at their standard rate of pay. It would increase funding levels during the extension period for nationally significant freight and highway projects grants and in-vehicle alcohol detection device research. It would also extend for approximately one month expiring authorities for Sport Fish Restoration and Boating and Leaking Underground Storage Tank trust fund expenditures and funding for the Appalachian Regional Commission and sport fishing activities. Upon enactment of the bipartisan infrastructure package (HR 3684), it would rescind any duplicate contract authority provided by the bill.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 365-51. - Short-Term Government Funding Extension Included $28.6 Billion For Natural Disaster Relief. “It would provide $28.6 billion in supplemental appropriations for natural disaster relief, including $10 billion for the Agriculture Department to cover agricultural losses; $5.7 billion for Army Corps of Engineers flood and storm damage response; $5 billion for disaster-related community development block grants; $2.6 billion to reimburse states and territories for damage to roads and bridges; $1.36 billion for the Forest Service and $636 million for the Interior Department, including for wildfire response; $1.2 billion for Small Business Administration disaster loans; $895 million for Navy and Air Force facility repairs; $345 million for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, including $200 million for fishery disaster response; and $22 million for the National Institute of Standards and Technology to investigate building collapses.” [CQ, 9/30/21]

- Short-Term Government Funding Extension Included $6.3 Billion For Afghan Refugees. “It would provide $6.3 billion in supplemental appropriations to support Afghan evacuees, including $2.2 billion for Defense Department assistance to Afghans under the special immigrant visa program and on U.S. military installations; $1.7 billion for Health and Human Services Department resettlement and support services for Afghan arrivals and refugees; and $1.8 billion for the State Department, including $277 million for evacuation and related services, $1.1 billion for resettlement and support services for Afghans in the United States, and $415 million for migration and refugee assistance. The bill would also provide additional appropriations or higher spending rates for certain programs, including $2.5 billion for Health and Human Services Department refugee assistance to support services for unaccompanied minors who have crossed the U.S. border; $250 million for U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services for application processing and refugee program support; increased amounts for cash-value vouchers under the supplemental nutrition program for women, infants and children (WIC); and increased spending for White House COVID-19 activities and the national suicide hotline.” [CQ, 9/30/21]

- Short-Term Government Funding Extension Allowed Expiring Programs And Authorities To Continue. “It would extend for the duration of the continuing resolution a number of expiring programs and authorities, including the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program and the National Flood Insurance Program; the increased federal medical assistance percentage for U.S. territories, offset by a reduction of $96 million for the Medicare Improvement Fund; and HHS authority to appoint personnel to National Disaster Medical System positions to respond to public health emergencies. It also would extend through Jan. 28, 2022, the emergency classification of fentanyl-related substances as schedule I controlled substances and extend through June 30, 2022, Agriculture Department authority to provide child nutrition waivers as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic.” [CQ, 9/30/21]

- Government Funding Through December 3, 2021 Was Agreed To By Senate Republicans After Removal Of The Provision To Raise The Debt Ceiling. “Lawmakers reached a deal on the spending legislation after Democrats agreed to strip out a provision that would have raised the federal government’s ability to continue borrowing funds through the end of 2022. Senate Republicans blocked an initial funding package on Monday over its inclusion, refusing to give the majority party any of the votes needed to move ahead on a bill to avert a first-ever federal default in the coming weeks. The legislation keeps the government fully funded through Dec. 3, giving lawmakers additional time to reach consensus over the dozen annual bills that dictate federal spending.” [New York Times, 9/30/21]

- Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen Warned The United States Could Default On Its Debt If The Debt Ceiling Is Not Raised By October 18, 2021. “Treasury Secretary Janet Yellen warned lawmakers that the federal government will likely run out of cash and extraordinary measures by October 18 unless Congress raises the debt ceiling. The new estimate from Yellen raises the risk that the United States could default on its debt in a matter of weeks if Washington fails to act. A default would likely be catastrophic, tanking markets and the economy, and delaying payments to millions of Americans. ‘It is uncertain whether we could continue to meet all the nation’s commitments after that date,’ Yellen wrote in a letter, adding the projection is based on estimated tax payments.” [CNN, 9/28/21]

Salazar Voted Against The Extension Of The Debt Ceiling Through December 16, 2022. In September 2021 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended by a House substitute, that would suspend the statutory limit on federal debt through Dec. 16, 2022.” The bill passed by a vote of 219-212. [S. 1301, Vote #Vote #310, 9/29/21; CQ, 9/29/21]
Salazar Voted Against Raising The Debt Limit, Providing Funding For Afghan Refugee Resettlement, And $28.6 Billion For Natural Disaster Relief. In September 2021 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would provide funding for federal government operations and services through Dec. 3, 2021, at fiscal 2021 levels; provide emergency funding for natural disaster relief and Afghan evacuee assistance; and suspend the statutory limit on federal debt through Dec. 16, 2022. - Moody’s Analytics: If Congress Failed To Raise The Debt Limit, The U.S. Economy Would Lose 6 Million Jobs And $15 Trillion In Household Wealth And The Unemployment Rate Would Surge To 9 Percent. “The United States could plunge into an immediate recession if Congress fails to raise the debt ceiling and the country defaults on its payment obligations this fall, according to one analysis released Tuesday. Mark Zandi, chief economist at Moody’s Analytics, found that a prolonged impasse over the debt ceiling would cost the U.S. economy up to 6 million jobs, wipe out as much as $15 trillion in household wealth, and send the unemployment rate surging to roughly 9 percent from around 5 percent.” [Washington Post, 9/21/21]
Moody's Analytics: “This Economic Scenario Is Cataclysmic. ... The Downturn Would Be Comparable To That Suffered During The Financial Crisis” Of 2008. “This economic scenario is cataclysmic. ... The downturn would be comparable to that suffered during the financial crisis’ of 2008, said the report, written by Zandi and Bernard Yaros, assistant director and economist at Moody’s Analytics.” [Washington Post, 9/21/21]

Washington Post: Failing To Raise The Debt Limit Threatened $20 Billion In Social Security Payments For Seniors. “If Congress fails to increase the debt limit, Treasury would be unable to pay debts as they come due. Treasury Secretary Janet L. Yellen said earlier this week that such a default would be unprecedented in U.S. history. Moody’s ‘best estimate’ is that this date is Oct. 20, although Treasury has not given a more precise day. At that point, Treasury officials would face excruciating choices, such as whether to fail to pay $20 billion owed to seniors on Social Security, or to fail to pay bondholders of U.S. debt — a decision that could undermine faith in U.S. credit and permanently drive federal borrowing costs higher.” [Washington Post, 9/21/21]

Washington Post: Failing To Raise The Debt Limit Would Raise Consumer Costs And Interest Rates And Lead To A Long-Term Decline In The U.S. Dollar. “Failure to raise the debt limit would have catastrophic impacts on global financial markets. Interest rates would spike as investors demand a higher rate of return for the risk of taking on U.S. debt given uncertainty about repayment. An increase in interest rates would ripple through the economy, raising costs not only for taxpayers but also for consumers and other borrowers. The value of the U.S. dollar would also decline long term as investors questioned the security of purchasing U.S. treasuries. The cost of auto and home loans would rise.” [Washington Post, 9/21/21]

Salazar Voted Against Making Appropriations For The Department Of Labor, Health And Human Services, And Education, And Related Agencies Through September 30th, 2022. In July 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would provide roughly $602.9 billion in scored discretionary funding for seven of the twelve fiscal 2022 appropriations bills, including $239.6 billion for the Labor, Health and Human Services and Education departments and related agencies; $26.6 billion for the Agriculture Department and related agencies; $53.2 billion for the Energy Department and federal water projects; $29.1 billion for the Treasury Department, federal judiciary and executive agencies; $45.9 billion for the Interior Department, Environmental Protection Agency, and related agencies; $124.5 billion for the Veterans Affairs Department, military construction, and related agencies; and $84.1 billion for the Transportation and Housing and Urban Development departments and related agencies. Among other provisions, the bill would provide $119.8 billion for HHS, including $10.6 billion for the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention; $102.8 billion for the Education Department, including $36.8 billion for Title I and other grants to schools serving low-income students; and $14.7 billion for the Labor Department, including $11.6 billion for employment and training programs and approximately $2 billion for worker protection agencies. The bill would provide nearly $140 billion for domestic food programs, including $105.8 billion in mandatory spending for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program; $4.7 billion for rural development and infrastructure programs, including programs to support broadband access and provide housing loans and guarantees; and $38.5 billion for agriculture, farm production and conservation programs. It would provide $45.1 billion for the Energy Department, including $20.2 billion for nuclear security activities and $3.8 billion for energy efficiency and renewable energy activities. It would provide $15.4 billion for the Treasury Department, including $13.6 for the Internal Revenue Service, $330 million for community development financial institutions and $190.5 million for the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network; $500 million for Election Assistance Commission election security grants to improve the administration of federal elections; and $300 million for General Services Administration procurement of zero-emission and electric vehicles and charging infrastructure. It would provide $11.3 billion for the Environmental Protection Agency, including $3.2 billion for state revolving funds for drinking water and wastewater infrastructure grants; $15.6 billion for the Interior Department; and $5.7 billion for wildfire management. It would provide $268.6 billion in mandatory and discretionary funding for the VA, including $97.6 billion for the Veterans Health Administration, with increases for mental health and opioid abuse prevention programs; and $10.9 billion for military construction activities. It would provide $105.7 billion in mandatory and discretionary funding for the Transportation Department, including $2.7 billion for Amtrak and $248 million for payments to air carriers providing essential air service; and $56.5 for HUD, including $39.4 billion for public and Indian housing programs. Across various titles, the bill would provide over $1.9 billion for cybersecurity activities.” The bill passed, 219-208. [HR 4502, Vote #247, 7/29/21; CQ, 7/29/21]

Salazar Voted Against Providing for Consideration Of A Seven Bill Appropriations Package For Fiscal Year 2022. In July 2021, voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 555) that would provide for House floor consideration of the seven-bill Labor-HHS-Education, Agriculture, Energy-Water, Financial Services, Interior-Environment, Military Construction-VA, Transportation-HUD minibus appropriations package (HR 4502). The rule would provide for up to one hour of general debate and floor consideration of 229 amendments to HR 4502. It would provide for automatic adoption of a DeLauro, D-Conn., manager’s amendment that would require the Agriculture Department to prohibit the purchase of agricultural land in the U.S. by companies owned in part or in full by China, Russia, Iran or North Korea; provide $5 million, to remain available until expended, for the Railroad Rehabilitation and Improvement Financing Program to fund financing agreements executed in 2010 and require the Transportation Department to repay credit risk premiums with interest for direct loans executed in 2010, within 60 days of enactment for loans under which all obligations are met, or within 60 days after loan obligations are satisfied for loans with outstanding obligations; and rescind $5 million from unobligated, non-emergency funding from the Maritime Security Program. It would authorize through Sept. 22 certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions. Finally, the rule would authorize, through the legislative day of July 30, 2021, non-debatable motions by the majority leader or a designee to suspend the rules and consider, en bloc, measures that were previously considered under suspension of the rules on July 26 or 27. It would also allow proceedings on such measures to be postponed through Sept. 22.” The resolution was passed 218 to 207. [HR 555, Vote #223, 7/27/21; CQ, 7/27/21]

Salazar Voted For Authorizing $77.9 Billion Through Fiscal Year 2026 For Existing And New National Science Foundation Activities. In June 2021, Salazar Voted For: “Johnson, D-Texas, motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would authorize $77.9 billion through fiscal 2026 for existing and new National Science Foundation activities and require a number of NSF actions related to research integrity and STEM workforce development. It would establish a new NSF Directorate for Science and Engineering Solutions to support research and development that addresses societal challenges such as climate change; global competitiveness in critical technologies; cybersecurity; national security; social and economic inequality; and education and workforce development in science, technology, engineering and math. Among other provisions, it would require the NSF to award grants to higher education institutions or nonprofit organizations to establish national and regional clearinghouses to coordinate STEM research; develop resources to connect new scientific discoveries to practical uses; align STEM education and workforce needs and conduct research on graduate education programs; and improve participation of historically underrepresented groups in STEM. It would require the NSF to maintain an office to coordinate research security and policy across the agency; facilitate public access to NSF-supported projects, including data, software and code; require any grant applicants to submit an ethics statement that specifies any foreseeable or quantifiable risks to society as a result of the proposed research; and appoint a chief diversity officer to establish diversity goals for the agency and advise on issues of diversity in STEM fields. It would authorize $38 million for a pilot program to award grants to help research institutions secure federally funded research data.” The motion passed, 345-67. [HR 2225, Vote #186, 6/28/21; CQ, 6/28/21]

Salazar Voted Against Establishing The Congressional Budget For The United States Government For Fiscal Year 2021 And The Appropriate Budgetary Levels For Fiscal Years 2022 Through 2030. In February 2021, Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the concurrent resolution, as amended, that would set annual budgetary levels for federal revenues, new budget authority, outlays, deficits and public debt for fiscal years 2021 through 2030, including to outline annual levels of new budget authority and outlays for each of the 20 major budget function categories. The concurrent resolution would direct 12 House committees to make recommendations within their respective jurisdictions for budget reconciliation legislation that combined could increase the deficit by up to $1.9 trillion through fiscal 2030, intended to be used as a vehicle for further COVID-19 relief. It would require the committees to report their recommendations to the House Budget Committee by Feb. 16, 2021, and specify amounts by which each committee's recommendations could increase the total deficit, including $940.72 billion for the Ways and Means Committee, $357.08 billion for the Education and Labor Committee, $350.7 billion for the Oversight and Reform Committee and $188.5 billion for the Energy and Commerce Committee. The concurrent resolution would include two reserve funds for the House Budget Committee to revise committee allocations and other budgetary levels for budget reconciliation legislation within the deficit limits established by the concurrent resolution, and for any other legislation that would not increase the deficit for a five-year time period through fiscal 2025 or a ten-year time period through fiscal 2030. Among other provisions, it would authorize the House and Senate Appropriations committees to receive a separate discretionary budget allocation for administrative expenses related to the Social Security Administration and the United States Postal Service, and it would continue for fiscal 2021 certain existing limitations on advance appropriations.” The resolution passed 218 to 212. [H Con Res 11, Vote #21, 2/3/21; CQ, 2/3/21]

Consumer Protection and Regulation

Salazar Voted Against The Consumer Protection And Recovery Act, Authorizing The Federal Trade Commission To Take Legal Action Against Any Person, Partnership Or Corporation That Violated Consumer Protection Law In The Preceding 10 Years. In July 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would authorize certain legal action by the Federal Trade Commission for legal violations under its jurisdiction and redress for such violations. Specifically, it would authorize the agency to take legal action in federal court against a person, partnership or corporation that has violated consumer protection law in the preceding 10 years. It would allow the FTC to seek in such cases restitution for losses, contract rescission or reform, money refund or property return, and disgorgement, or legally mandated repayment, of unjust enrichment that a person, partnership or corporation obtained from such a violation.” The bill passed 221 to 205. [HR 2668, Vote #Vote #214, 7/20/21; CQ, 7/20/21]

Salazar Voted Against Congressional Disapproval Of The Trump Administration's Third-Party Lending Rule. In June 2021, Salazar Voted Against: “Passage of the joint resolution that would provide for congressional disapproval of an October 2020 Office of the Comptroller of the Currency rule stating that national banks are considered the ‘true lender’ of a loan if, at the date of the loan's origination, the bank funds the loan or is named as lender in the loan agreement, including in the case of loans issued in partnerships between banks and third parties, such as online financial firms. The rule went into effect on Dec. 29, 2020, and effectively allows nonbank lenders to offer loans not subject to higher state interest rate caps by originating loans in partnership with a national bank in another state. Under the provisions of the joint resolution, the October 2020 rule would have no force or effect.” The resolution passed, 218-208. [SJ Res 15, Vote #Vote #181, 6/24/21; CQ, 6/24/21]

• Opponents Of The Rule Argued That It Left Consumers Vulnerable To Predatory “Rent-A-Bank” Schemes. “But Democrats — along with a coalition of consumer protection and faith groups — have fiercely opposed the rule, claiming it leaves customers vulnerable to predatory ‘rent-a-bank’ schemes. ‘States are taking measures to protect their constituents their consumers against these end-runs around their laws designed to prohibit these predatory practices. But last October, in the middle of the pandemic, when many working families were plunged into economic uncertainty and turmoil, the Trump administration gave these rent-a-bank schemes a free pass to exploit these loopholes,’ said Sen. Chris Van Hollen (D-Md.), sponsor of the resolution to repeal the rule.” [The Hill, 5/11/21]

• “Rent-A-Bank” Schemes Were When “A Lender Temporarily Partners With A Bank To Evade Interest Rate Caps And Then Severs The Partnership After Taking Ownership Of The Loan.” “The OCC clamped down during the 2000s on rent-a-bank schemes, in which a lender temporarily partners with a bank to evade interest rate caps and then severs the partnership after taking ownership of the loan. Critics of the true lender rule say it will allow such schemes to flourish, particularly as nonbank online lenders make up a larger portion of the financial system.” [The Hill, 5/11/21]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment Requiring The SEC To Study Disclosure Frameworks Related To Climate Or Environmental, Social And Governance Metrics Before Requiring Public Companies To Make Such Disclosures. In June 2021, Salazar voted for: “Hill, R-Ark., amendment no. 4 that would replace the text of the bill with a requirement that the Securities and Exchange Commission conduct a study of all disclosure frameworks related to the climate or environmental, social and governance metrics that any publicly traded company could use when making disclosures to investors voluntarily or by law. It would require the SEC to report to Congress on the study’s findings and any inconsistencies between such disclosure frameworks, before it could require any new ESG or climate disclosures.” The amendment was rejected 204 to 225. [H R 1187, Vote #Vote #166, 6/16/21; CQ, 6/16/21]

Salazar Voted Against A Bill That Established New Disclosure Standards For Publicly Traded Companies Related To Their Environmental, Social, And Governance Metrics. In June 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would establish new disclosure requirements for publicly traded companies related to environmental, social, and governance (ESG) metrics; climate-related risks; political expenditures; executive pay; and tax information regarding overseas subsidiaries. It would direct the Securities and Exchange Commission to require publicly traded companies to disclose and define their ESG metrics as part of any filing that requires audited financial statements; require companies to disclose in any proxy or consent solicitation material for annual shareholder meetings a clear description of the link between ESG metrics and the company's long-term business strategy and processes used to determine the impact of such metrics on the business strategy; and require the SEC to establish a sustainable finance advisory committee to identify investment challenges and opportunities associated with sustainable finance and recommend policies to facilitate sustainable investments. It would require publicly traded companies to include in annual reports to the SEC information related to risks posed to the company by climate change, including a description of actions taken to identify and mitigate such risks and an evaluation of potential financial impacts of risk-management strategies." The bill passed by vote of 215 to 214. [H R 1187, Vote #Vote #169, 6/16/21; CQ, 6/16/21]

Salazar Voted For Establishing A Grant Program To Assist States And Tribal Organizations In Preventing Carbon Monoxide Poisoning. In April 2021, Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require the Consumer Product Safety Commission to establish a grant program to assist states and tribal organizations with carbon monoxide poisoning prevention activities, including for public education activities and to purchase and install alarms in public housing and facilities that serve children and the elderly.” The motion was agreed to 362-49. [H R 1460, Vote #Vote #105, 4/15/21; CQ, 4/15/21]

Salazar Voted For Establishing A Senior Scams Prevention Advisory Group And Creating An Office At The Bureau Of Consumer Protection To Monitor The Market For Fraud Targeting Seniors. In April 2021, Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would establish a senior scams prevention advisory group to create model educational materials and make recommendations for retail, financial services and wire-transfer company employees to identify and prevent scams affecting seniors. It would also require the Federal Trade Commission to establish a senior fraud advisory office within the Bureau of Consumer Protection to monitor the market for fraud targeting seniors, disseminate related information to seniors and their caregivers, and process complaints of fraud.” The motion was agreed to 396-13. [H R 1215, Vote #Vote #104, 4/15/21; CQ, 4/15/21]

COVID-19 & Pandemic Relief

Salazar Did Not Vote On Blocking Consideration Of The PAUSE Act Of 2021 To Prevent President Biden From Lifting Title 42. In April 2022 Salazar did not vote on: “Raskin, D-Md., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Reschenthaler said, “[T]he Democrats and the left still want to do away with title 42 and lift it. That is why, Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, I will personally offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider H.R. 471, the PAUSE Act of to 2021.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 218-204. [H. Res. 1065, Vote #Vote #139, 4/28/22; CQ, 4/28/22; Congressional Record, 4/28/22]
• Title 42 Was A Public Health Order Aimed To Stop The Spread Of COVID-19 That Allowed The Expulsion Of Migrants. “In the early days of the coronavirus pandemic, the CDC issued a public health order on March 20, 2020, that officials said aimed to stop the spread of Covid-19. The order allowed authorities to swiftly expel migrants at US land borders, and it's been extended multiple times. The policy is widely known as Title 42, for the portion of US code that allowed the CDC director to issue it. On April 1 of this year, the CDC announced plans to terminate the order, stating that it's no longer necessary given current public health conditions and the increased availability of vaccines and treatments for Covid-19. The policy is scheduled to end on May 23.” [CNN, 4/27/22]

Salazar Voted Against The Restaurant Revitalization Fund Replenishment Act To Provide $55 Billion In COVID-19 Aid For Restaurants And Small Businesses. In April 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would provide $55 billion for Small Business Administration financial assistance to restaurants and small businesses that lost revenue due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Specifically, it would increase from $28.6 billion to $70.6 billion funding provided for the Restaurant Revitalization Fund established by previous coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2). It would provide $13 billion for a new Hard Hit Industries Award Program to provide financial assistance payments to small businesses that experienced at least a 40 percent revenue loss due to the pandemic. It would specify that funds for the new program would be awarded in amounts equal to such losses, up to $1 million, and may be used for business expenses including payroll costs, certain payments to contractors, rent, mortgages, maintenance costs, pandemic-related health measures and paid sick leave. Among other provisions, it would require the SBA to prioritize applicants that have experienced revenue losses of at least 80 percent, followed by those with revenue losses of at least 60 percent. As an offset, the bill would provide for the recapture of unobligated funds provided by previous coronavirus relief laws and administered by the SBA, including funds rescinded or otherwise returned from the Paycheck Protection Program and Economic Injury Disaster Loan program. It would also extend, through at least March 11, 2023, the time period within which expenses may be covered under the SBA grant program for operators of live-performance venues closed due to the pandemic.” The bill passed by a vote of 223-203. [H.R. 3807, Vote #123, 4/7/22; CQ, 4/7/22]

• The COVID-19 Aid Package Included $42 Billion For Restaurants And $13 Billion For Small Businesses. “The COVID-19 aid package signed into law by President Biden last year included $28.6 billion for the Restaurant Revitalization Fund, which provided funding for more than 100,000 restaurants. But the program received more than 278,000 applications requesting a total of more than $72.2 billion. [...] Aside from the new $42 billion infusion for the Restaurant Revitalization Fund, the legislation would also provide $13 billion for a new Hard Hit Industries Award Program for small businesses that weren’t eligible for other pandemic aid programs. In order to qualify, businesses with up to 200 employees would have to show that they’ve experienced at least a 40 percent loss in revenue in 2020 and 2021 compared to 2019.” [The Hill, 4/7/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Restaurant Revitalization Fund Replenishment Act. In April 2022 Salazar voted for: “Van Duyne, R-Texas, motion to recommit the bill to the House Small Business Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 205-219. [H.R. 3807, Vote #122, 4/7/22; CQ, 4/7/22]
Salazar Voted Against Considering An Amendment To The American Rescue Plan To Increase COVID-19 Aid For Restaurants And Small Businesses. In April 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1033) that would provide for floor consideration of the Relief for Restaurants and other Hard Hit Small Businesses Act (HR 3807). It would provide for up to one hour of debate on the bill. It would also provide for automatic adoption of a Velazquez, D-N.Y., manager’s amendment to the bill that would make technical corrections and make minor changes to a program that would be established by the bill to provide assistance to small businesses that have lost significant revenue due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Among other provisions, it would make businesses with a wage violation at the time of application ineligible; extend from 60 to 120 days the date by which the Small Business Administration must begin accepting program applications; clarify the definition of small businesses with respect to the program to include those that are owned by tribal governments, Native Hawaiian Organizations and Alaska Native Corporations; and strike a section that would allow the Treasury Department to share data with the SBA to help confirm applicant identity and eligibility.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 218-206. [H. Res. 1033, Vote #120, 4/6/22; CQ, 4/6/22]

Salazar Voted For Requiring Grant Applicants For Public Works And Economic Adjustment Assistance Grants To Include Plans To Increase Access To Affordable Care Services. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Williams, D-Ga., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require a grant applicant for Commerce Department public works assistance or economic adjustment assistance, to include in its application a comprehensive economic development strategy to directly or indirectly increase the accessibility of affordable, quality care-based services, including child care, early childhood education, disability and long-term care, and elder care. It would require the department to issue guidance within one year of enactment on how to implement the bill’s provisions. It would also require the department's inspector general, within 180 days of enactment, to submit a report to Congress on the activities and outcomes of economic adjustment assistance funding provided by the March 2020 coronavirus relief law (HR 748 / PL 116-136).” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 304-122. [H.R. 5547, Vote #94, 3/30/22; CQ, 3/30/22]

Salazar Voted For Requiring The Library Of Congress To Establish A “COVID-19 American History Project.” In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Scanlon, D-Pa., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress to establish a "COVID-19 American History Project" to collect video and audio recordings, written materials and photographs related to the personal testimonies of individuals affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. It would authorize $250,000 for the project for fiscal 2022 and such sums as necessary for any fiscal year beginning in the three-year period following the expiration of the COVID-19 public health emergency, and it would authorize the library to accept private donations to fund the project.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 376-47. [H.R. 4738, Vote #89, 3/29/22; CQ, 3/29/22]

Salazar Voted For $400 Million For Activities And Grants To Improve Immunization Information Systems. In November 2021 Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would authorize $400 million for the Health and Human Services Department to conduct activities and award grants to expand and improve immunization information systems administered by state and local governments and used by health care providers and public health departments, including for grants to improve the quality and security of immunization-related data collection; train health care providers in settings where immunizations are provided; support the standardization of immunization information systems and their interoperability with health information technology; and support rapid identification of immunization coverage gaps. It would require the department to designate data and technology standards for grant recipients; submit to Congress a plan to carry out activities required by the bill; and submit to Congress a report describing barriers to implementing interoperable immunization information systems and assessing immunization coverage gaps in medically underserved areas.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 294-130. [H.R. 550, Vote #388, 11/30/21; CQ, 11/30/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The COVID-19 Origin Act. In July 2021, Salazar voted against: “Ross, D-N.C., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment)” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Burgess said, “Mr. BURGESS. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume. Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider S. 1867, the COVID-19 Origin Act, introduced by Senator Hawley. It has been 55 days since the Senate passed this critical bill without a single dissenting vote. Declassifying intelligence surrounding the origin of COVID-19 is imperative and key to the House Republican plan to hold China accountable for the pandemic.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 216-207. [H Res 535, Vote #210, 7/20/21; CQ, 7/20/21; Congressional Record, 7/20/21]

Salazar Voted For The Global Health Security Act. In June 2021, Salazar voted for a bill that “directs the President to create the Global Health Security Agenda Interagency Review Council to implement the Global Health Security Agenda, an initiative launched by nearly 30 nations to address global infectious disease threats. The council’s responsibilities include (1) providing policy recommendations on agenda-related goals, objectives, and implementation; (2) helping federal agencies with implementation; and (3) reviewing the progress and challenges in achieving U.S. commitments, including assistance to help other countries meet agenda targets. The bill also directs the federal agencies involved with the agenda to prioritize its implementation and to take certain steps to achieve that goal. The President shall also appoint a U.S. Coordinator for Global Health Security to coordinate and report on the interagency process for responding to global health security emergencies.” The bill passed 307 to 112. [HR 391, Vote #188, 6/28/21; CQ, 6/28/21]

Salazar Voted For Extending COVID-19 Bankruptcy Relief For Small Businesses. In March 2021, Salazar voted for: “Nadler, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would extend through March 27, 2022, certain bankruptcy relief provisions for small businesses established by the fiscal 2021 omnibus appropriations and coronavirus relief package (HR 133 / PL 116-260), including to extend protections that exclude pandemic relief payments from monthly income with respect to bankruptcy proceedings and extend a provision raising to $7.5 million the maximum debt a business may have to be eligible for Subchapter V bankruptcy proceedings allowing a small business to restructure to pay down its debt.” The motion passed 399-14. [H Res 1651, Vote #88, 3/17/21; CQ, 3/17/21]

Salazar Voted For Extending The Authorization For The Small Business Administration’s PPP Loan Program Through June 2021. In March 2021, Salazar voted for: “Velazquez, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would extend the authorization for the Small Business Administration's Paycheck Protection Program from March 31 to June 30, 2021. It would prohibit the SBA from accepting new PPP loan applications after May 31, 2021.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 415-3. [HR 1799, Vote #80, 3/16/21; CQ, 3/16/21]

Salazar Voted Against Concurring In The Senate Amendment To The American Rescue Plan Act. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Yarmuth, D-Ky., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill comprising a $1.9 trillion coronavirus relief package to further address the health and economic effects of COVID-19, including approximately $362 billion in direct aid to state and local governments; $47.8 billion for testing and contact tracing; $168 billion to assist educational institutions; and $53.6 billion to assist small businesses. It would extend federal unemployment compensation benefits through Sept. 6, 2021; provide tax rebates of $1,400 for individuals with incomes of $75,000 or less; and extend or expand a number of employer and individual tax credits, including credits to subsidize health insurance premiums. The bill would provide direct assistance of $195.3 billion for states and $130.2 billion for local governments, as well as $10 billion for grants to states to support capital projects, such as broadband access. It would provide $122.8 billion for an Education Department elementary and secondary school emergency relief fund; $39.6 billion for grants to higher education institutions; $3 billion for education programs for individuals with disabilities and $2.75 billion for non-public schools. It would provide $39 billion for child care block grants to states. It would provide $27.8 billion for emergency rental assistance and housing vouchers, $10 billion for homeownership assistance and $5 billion for assistance to individuals experiencing homelessness. It would continue the 15% increase in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits through September 2021. It would provide over $92 billion for the Health and Human Services Department, including $47.8 billion for COVID-19 testing and contact tracing; $7.5 billion for vaccine administration and distribution; $6.1 billion for vaccine and therapeutic development, manufacturing and procurement; $7.6 billion to expand the public health workforce; $7.6 billion for community health centers; $6.1 billion for Native American health programs; and $3 billion for substance abuse and mental health block grant programs. It would provide $50 billion for the Federal Emergency Management Agency disaster relief fund; $14.5 billion for veterans’ health care services; $10 billion for emergency medical supply production under the Defense Production Act; $8.7 billion for COVID-19 health response efforts overseas; and $200 million for Labor Department worker protection activities, including at least half for the Occupational Safety and Health Administration. It would extend federal unemployment compensation benefits of $300 per week through Sep. 6, 2021. It would provide an additional tax rebate of $1,400 for individuals with incomes of $75,000 or less, increased by $1,400 for each dependent. It would expand eligibility and increase the maximum earned income tax credit for childless adults and increase the child tax credit to $3,000 per child. It would expand and extend through September 2021 paid sick and family leave tax credits for employers. It would require Medicaid and the Children’s Health Insurance Program to fully cover the cost of COVID-19 vaccines. It would provide for full federal subsidies of individual COBRA premiums and require the VA to waive health treatment copayments through September 2021. It would expand eligibility in 2021 and 2022 for federal tax subsidies toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums, including to fully cover premium costs for individuals earning up to 150% of the federal poverty level and cap premiums at 8.5% of household income. It would provide for temporary increases in federal medical assistance percentages for certain services and eliminate the Medicaid drug rebate cap beginning in 2023. It would provide $50 billion for small business assistance, including $28.6 billion for restaurants and $7.25 billion for the Paycheck Protection Program. It would provide $4 billion for Agriculture Department pandemic-related assistance.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220-211. [HR 1319, Vote #Vote #72, 3/10/21; CQ, 3/10/21]

Salazar Voted Against Passage Of The American Rescue Plan Act. In February 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the fiscal 2021 budget reconciliation bill, as amended, comprising a coronavirus relief package that would provide roughly $1.9 trillion in funding to further address the health and economic effects of COVID-19, including approximately $350 billion in direct aid to state and local governments; $47.8 billion for testing and contact tracing; $168 billion to assist educational institutions; and $50 billion to assist small businesses. It would extend and increase federal unemployment compensation benefits for 24 weeks and increase the weekly amount to $400; provide tax rebates of $1,400 for individuals with incomes of $75,000 or less; extend or expand a number of employer and individual tax credits, including credits to subsidize health insurance premiums; and gradually increase the federal minimum wage to $15 per hour. Among other provisions, the bill would provide $195.3 billion for direct assistance to states and $130.2 billion for local governments; $128.6 billion through fiscal 2023 for an Education Department elementary and secondary school emergency relief fund and $39.6 billion for grants to higher education institutions, including to provide emergency financial aid; and continue the 15% increase in Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits through September 2021. It would provide $47.8 billion for COVID-19 testing and contact tracing; $7.5 billion for vaccine administration and distribution; and $6.1 billion for vaccine and therapeutic development, manufacturing and procurement. It would require Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program to fully cover the cost of COVID-19 vaccines. It would expand eligibility in 2021 and 2022 for federal tax subsidies toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums, including to fully cover premium costs for individuals earning up to 150% of the federal poverty level and cap premiums at 8.5% of household income. It would provide $50 billion for small business assistance, including $25 billion for restaurants. It would provide $30.5 billion for transit, $18 billion for airline and aviation manufacturing industry payroll support; and $4 billion for Agriculture Department pandemic-related assistance. It would incrementally increase the federal minimum wage annually to reach $15 per hour in 2025, including for tipped workers, teens and workers with disabilities. It would create a program to provide financial assistance to multiemployer pension plans.” The bill passed by a vote of 219-212. [HR 1319, Vote #Vote #49, 2/27/21; CQ, 2/27/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of HR 1371, The Crush The Virus Act. In February 2021, Salazar voted against: “McGovern, D-Mass., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment) on the rule (H Res 166) that would provide for House floor consideration of the fiscal 2021 budget reconciliation bill (HR 1319).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Burgess said, “Madam Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, Republicans will amend the rule to strike the consideration of the Pelosi payoff bill, and instead, consider H.R.1371, the Crush the Virus Act, introduced by Representative Tom Reed, which is attached, and will provide over $160 billion to expand the administration of vaccines and provide direct relief for the coronavirus.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The Motion was agreed to by a vote of 217-205. [H Res 166, Vote #Vote #46, 2/26/21; CQ, 2/26/21; Congressional Record, 2/26/21]

Crime, Policing and Public Safety

Salazar Voted Against The Active Shooter Alert Act To Establish The Active Shooter Alert Communications Network To Inform Communities During Emergencies. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would require the Justice Department to appoint a national coordinator for a new Active Shooter Alert Communications Network. It would require the coordinator to work with state and local government agencies to establish procedures for response to and public alerts regarding active shooter threats; coordinate with the Federal Emergency Management Agency and Federal Communications Commission regarding the use of the Integrated Public Alert and Warning System for active shooter alerts; establish and regularly update best practices for the issuance of alerts through the network; and report to Congress biennially on the status and effectiveness of each state and local alert procedure that has been implemented. It would authorize $2 million in fiscal 2023 for the Justice Department to carry out the bill’s provisions. It would also require the Government Accountability Office to report to Congress, within two years of enactment, on state and local responses to active shooters, including the timing and effectiveness of public alerts.” The bill passed by a vote of 260-169. [H.R. 6538, Vote #Vote #307, 7/13/22; CQ, 7/13/22]

- The Active Shooter Alert Communications Network Utilized Alerts Similar To AMBER Alerts. “The House approved legislation on Wednesday to create an active shooter alert network. Driving the news: The bill would create the Active Shooter Alert Communications Network to issue AMBER-style alerts to make people aware of active shooter situations in their area.” [Axios, 7/13/22]
• The Fraternal Order Of Police Supported The Active Shooter Alert Act To “Improve The Ways Officers And Agencies Communicate With The Public About Active Threats.” “I am writing on behalf of the members of the Fraternal Order of Police to advise you of our support for H.R. 6538, the ‘Active Shooter Alert Act.’ Responding to an active shooter event is chaotic and can be fraught with peril, especially when the incident is not confined to one location. Law enforcement officers must prioritize preserving lives and ending the threat. Simultaneously, they need a way to notify the public about the incident, whether that is to avoid a certain area, shelter in place, or announce when the area is once again safe. The bill you have introduced is designed to improve the ways officers and agencies communicate with the public about active threats. [...] We believe as you do—having a network for informing the public during these critical incidents will save lives. On behalf of the more than 364,000 members of the Fraternal Order of Police, I thank you for your efforts on this legislation and look forward to working with you to get it passed. If I can provide any additional assistance about this issue, please do not hesitate to contact me or Executive Director Jim Pasco in our Washington, D.C. office.” [Fraternal Order of Police, Letter, 1/28/22]

• The National Sheriffs’ Association Supported The Active Shooter Alert Act. “The US House passed bipartisan legislation on Wednesday night that would help state and local governments set up a warning system for active shooter situations, and enhance law enforcement’s communication with the public in such emergencies. It would be similar in operation to the Amber Alert system that’s deployed whenever a child is abducted. [...] The bill was endorsed by numerous law enforcement organizations, including the Fraternal Order of Police and National Sheriffs’ Association.” [Bloomberg, 7/13/22]

• The National Education Association Supported The Active Shooter Alert Act To “Reduce Harm During A Shooting.” “On behalf of the 3 million members of the National Education Association, who educate and support 50 million students in 14,000 communities across America, we urge you to vote YES on the Active Shooter Alert Act of 2022 (H.R. 6538). Votes on this legislation may be included in the NEA Report Card for the 117th Congress. [...] The Active Shooter Alert Act is a pragmatic response to our epidemic of gun violence. The legislation would create a national system for sending AMBER-style alerts during an active-shooter emergency. This would be crucial in disseminating accurate information quickly, warning people in the vicinity who are vulnerable. [...] The members of NEA know that our nation’s students will not truly be safe until we address the root of our crisis: There are far too many guns on our streets, from small towns to major cities. We support the Active Shooter Alert Act because it attempts to reduce harm during a shooting, and we continue to ask members of Congress to work toward passing the commonsense gun reforms, such as raising the minimum age for purchasing semiautomatic weapons from 18 to 21 and requiring universal background checks, that Americans are demanding. We ask that you vote YES on the Active Shooter Alert Act.” [National Education Association, Letter, 7/13/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering The Active Shooter Alert Act, A Bill To Expand Veterans' Toxic Exposure Health Care Benefits, The National Defense Authorization Act For FY 2023, The Women's Health Protection Act, And The Ensuring Access To Abortion Act. In July 2022 Salazar voted against:
“Adoption of the rule (H Res 1224) that would provide for House consideration of the Active Shooter Alert Act (HR 6538), the veterans’ toxic exposure benefits bill (S 3373), the fiscal 2023 defense authorization bill (HR 7900), the Women’s Health Protection Act (HR 8296), and the Ensuring Women’s Right to Reproductive Freedom Act (HR 8297). The rule would provide for up to one hour of general debate on each bill and floor consideration of 650 amendments to HR 7900. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Pallone, D-N.J., manager’s amendment to HR 8297 that would change the title of the bill from the ‘Ensuring Access to Abortion Act of 2022’ to the ‘Ensuring Women’s Right to Reproductive Freedom Act.’ The rule would authorize, through the legislative day of July 15, 2022, non-debatable motions by the majority leader or a designee to suspend the rules and consider, en bloc, measures that were previously considered under suspension of the rules on June 21 through July 12. Finally, it would authorize through July 19, 2022, certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 217-204. [H. Res. 1224, Vote #304, 7/13/22; CQ, 7/13/22]

Salazar Voted For Expanding Eligibility For Federal First Responder Retirement Benefits To Disabled Federal First Responders Who Transition To Other Civil Service. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Maloney, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would authorize federal first responders who become disabled due to a work-related illness or injury and transition to another civil service position to remain in the accelerated retirement system to receive federal retirement benefits in the manner prescribed for first responders. The bill’s provisions would specifically apply to federal law enforcement officers, U.S. Customs and Border Protection officers, firefighters, air traffic controllers, nuclear materials couriers, certain Central Intelligence Agency employees and State Department diplomatic security special agents.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 417-0. [H.R. 521, Vote #301, 7/12/22; CQ, 7/12/22]

Salazar Voted For The Bipartisan Gun Violence Package. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Nadler, D-N.Y., motion to concur in the Senate amendments to the House amendment to the bipartisan gun violence package that would provide over $4.6 billion in emergency funding through fiscal 2026 to address gun violence and mental health, and tighten restrictions on firearm purchases. Within total appropriations, the bill would provide $2.1 billion for Education Department support for school-based mental health services and student engagement activities and $990 million for Health and Human Service Department mental health programs, including $50 million for grants to states to implement or expand school-based health programs under Medicaid and the Children’s Health Insurance Program. It would require the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services to provide guidance to states on increasing access to telehealth care, including mental health services, under Medicare and CHIP. It would expand a Medicaid community behavioral health clinic demonstration program, allowing up to 10 new states to opt into the program every two years. It would reauthorize the Pediatric Mental Health Care Access grant program for five years and authorize teleconsults for emergency departments and schools under the program. It would require the Homeland Security Department, in consultation with the Education, Justice and Health and Human Services departments, to establish and publish online a federal clearinghouse for evidence-based practices and recommendations to improve school safety. It would prohibit the use of certain existing Education Department school grants to provide or train staff in the use of dangerous weapons. Within total appropriations, the bill would provide $1.6 billion for Justice Department activities to support school security, community violence intervention, community-oriented policing and background check system improvements, including $750 million for new grants under the Byrne JAG program to implement state crisis intervention programs, including mental health, drug and veterans courts, as well as extreme risk protection order or 'red flag' programs, provided they include certain due process protections. It would expand background check requirements by requiring the National Instant Criminal Background Check System to check juvenile criminal and mental health adjudication records for gun purchasers under 21 years of age and apply the existing criteria for disqualification based on crimes committed as a juvenile or adjudication of mental illness at 16 years or older. It would narrow the definition of a federally licensed firearm dealer to require registration by all individuals who sell firearms to predominately earn a profit to register. It would close the ‘boyfriend loophole’ by applying restrictions on gun ownership for individuals convicted of domestic violence to include violence against a current or former dating partner. It would prohibit firearm trafficking and ‘straw purchases,’ or the knowing acquisition of firearms on behalf of another individual who is prohibited from owning a firearm or intends to use the firearm to commit a felony. As an offset, the bill would extend for one year, until Jan. 1, 2027, a moratorium delaying implementation of a rule eliminating anti-kickback statute safe harbor protection for prescription drug rebates. It would increase funding available for the Medicare Improvement Fund from $5 million to $7.5 billion.” The motion was agreed to, (thus cleared for the president), by a vote of 234-193. [S. 2938, Vote #Vote #299, 6/24/22; CQ, 6/24/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering Several Bills Including Senate Amendments On School Meals, The Bipartisan School Safety Package, And Calling For The Release Of Brittney Griner From Russia. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1204) that would provide for House floor consideration of the Senate amendment to the House amendment to the school meal waiver bill (S 2089) and the Senate amendments to the House amendment to the bipartisan gun violence package (S 2938). The rule would provide for 10 minutes of debate on S 2089 and one hour of debate on S 2938. The rule would provide for automatic passage, upon adoption of the rule, of a bill (HR 4346) that would add COVID-19 vaccines to a list of vaccines subject to a tax of 75 cents per dose, from which proceeds fund compensation for vaccine-related injury or death through the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program. The rule would provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to a resolution (H Res 1132) that would state that the House of Representatives calls on the Russian government to immediately release Brittney Griner, a WNBA player and U.S. citizen detained in February 2022.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 217-203. [H. Res. 1204, Vote #Vote #298, 6/24/22; CQ, 6/24/22]

Salazar Voted Against Requiring The Justice Department To Appoint A National Coordinator For A New Active Shooter Alert Communication Network. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Cicilline, D-R.I., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Justice Department to appoint a national coordinator for a new Active Shooter Alert Communications Network. It would require the coordinator to work with state and local government agencies to establish procedures for response to and public alerts regarding active shooter threats; coordinate with the Federal Emergency Management Agency and Federal Communications Commission regarding the use of the Integrated Public Alert and Warning System for active shooter alerts; establish and regularly update best practices for the issuance of alerts through the network; and report to Congress biennially on the status and effectiveness of each state and local alert procedure that has been implemented. It would authorize $2 million in fiscal 2023 for the Justice Department to carry out the bill's provisions. It would also require the Government Accountability Office to report to Congress, within two years of enactment, on state and local responses to active shooters, including the timing and effectiveness of public alerts.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 259-162. [H.R. 6538, Vote #Vote #289, 6/22/22; CQ, 6/22/22]

Salazar Voted For Expanding Supreme Court Police Protection To Immediate Family Members Of The Justices And Officers Of The Court, As Necessary. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Lieu, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would allow the Supreme Court Police to protect the immediate family members of Supreme Court justices or any officers of the court if the court's marshal deems such protection necessary.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 396-27. [S. 4160, Vote #Vote #261, 6/14/22; CQ, 6/14/22]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Prosecutors Need To Prosecute Act. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “McGovern, D-Mass., motion to order the previous question.” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Fischbach said, “Madam Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider the Prosecutors Need to Prosecute Act, legislation authored by Representatives MALLIOTAKIS and TIFFANY that ensures accountability for those charged with keeping our streets, our schools, and our communities safe.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 217-205. [H. Res. 1153, Vote #Vote #235, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22; Congressional Record, 6/8/22]

- Republican Leader McCarthy Described The Prosecutors Need To Prosecute Act As To “Hold Liberal Prosecutors Accountable.” “Today we introduced the ‘Prosecutors Need to Prosecute Act,’ offered by Representatives Malliotakis (NY-11) and Tiffany (WI-07). This bill would hold liberal prosecutors accountable to their federal taxpayer constituents when their office accepts federal taxpayer money by making the prosecution process more transparent by requiring prosecutors to report: • When they fail to prosecute serious crimes; • Plead down serious crimes to lesser offenses; and • Inform citizens on the amount of reoffenders committing crimes in their communities.” [KevinMcCarthy.House.gov, Press Release, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted For A Two Year Raise For The Maximum Liabilities Individuals And Businesses May Owe And Still Qualify For Bankruptcy. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Neguse, D-Colo., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would temporarily raise the maximum liabilities an individual may owe and still qualify for Chapter 13 bankruptcy to $2,750,000, a change from the current maximum of $1.4 million for secured debts and $419,275 for unsecured debts. The provision would sunset two years after the bill's enactment. The bill would temporarily raise from $3 million to $7.5 million the maximum aggregate liabilities a business may have to apply for Subchapter V bankruptcy procedures, which are aimed at streamlining Chapter 11 procedures and costs for small businesses. The increased liability threshold would apply to pending bankruptcy cases initiated since March 27, 2020, and sunset two years after enactment. It would also make technical corrections to provisions regarding bankruptcy administration.” The motion was agreed to, (thus cleared for the president), by a vote of 392-21. [S. 3823, Vote #Vote #234, 6/7/22; CQ, 6/7/22]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Communities Deserve Cops Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Morelle, D-N.Y., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Reschenthaler said, “if we defeat this previous question, I will personally offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider the Communities Deserve Cops Act.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. - The Communities Desire Cops Act Provided Law Enforcement Officer Hiring And Retention Bonuses Up To $5,000 Under Existing COPS Grants. REP. RUTHERFORD: “Madam Speaker, I rise to oppose the previous question so that we can immediately consider H.R. 7809, the Communities Desire Cops Act. My bill will make retention and hiring bonuses allowable for COPS grants. [...] My legislation makes a very small but necessary change to how COPS grants are utilized. In addition to using COPS funding to hire, train, and equip officers, agencies will be able to use Federal dollars to offer financial bonuses up to $5,000 to keep officers on the force and to attract and hire new officers.” [Congressional Record, 5/18/22]

Salazar Voted For Modification Of Marijuana Research Requirements To Allow Scientists To Access Cannabis From Legal Cannabis States. In April 2022 Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would modify marijuana research requirements and require federal actions to ensure the supply of marijuana for research purposes. Among other provisions, it would relax marijuana research registration requirements, including to require the Justice Department to register a research applicant that is already authorized to dispense or research other controlled substances; is compliant with state law; and, in the case of clinical research, has had research protocols authorized by the Health and Human Services Department -- unless approval of the application would be ‘inconsistent with the public interest.’ It would establish a process for the Justice Department to register applicants to manufacture and distribute marijuana intended for exclusive use by registered researchers. It would require HHS to continue producing marijuana through the National Institute on Drug Abuse Drug Supply Program until there is a sufficient supply for qualified researchers and to implement, along with the Justice Department, a specialized process for manufacturers and distributors to supply researchers with marijuana products.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 343-75. [H.R. 5657, Vote #Vote #108, 4/4/22; CQ, 4/4/22]

Salazar Voted Against The Marijuana Opportunity Reinvestment and Expungement (MORE) Act. In April 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would decriminalize the use and possession of marijuana at the federal level. It would remove marijuana from the federal controlled substances list, eliminate federal criminal penalties for cannabis offenses and provide for the expungement of all previous arrests and convictions for nonviolent federal cannabis offenses. It would create a federal excise tax on cannabis products manufactured in or imported into the United States, set at 5 percent for two years and gradually increasing to 8 percent. It would also create an annual "occupational tax" of $1,000 for each cannabis production or export warehouse facility. It would establish a Treasury Department trust fund from tax proceeds, from which 40 percent of funding would be available for Small Business Administration loan and licensing programs for the cannabis industry, focused on socially and economically disadvantaged business owners and individuals adversely impacted by the war on drugs, and 60 percent of funding would be available for programs of a new Cannabis Justice Office within the Justice Department, which would administer a community reinvestment grant program for nonprofits to administer services for individuals adversely impacted by the war on drugs, including job training, reentry services, literacy programs, legal aid and substance use... disorder services. Among other provisions, it would establish federal bonding, permitting and operational requirements for cannabis businesses. It would prohibit SBA programs from declining services to a business solely because it is a cannabis-related business and prohibit the denial of any federal public benefits to an individual on the basis of cannabis use or possession. It would require the Bureau of Labor Statistics to compile and publish demographic data on cannabis industry business owners and employees. It would require the Government Accountability Office to conduct a study on the societal impacts of recreational cannabis legalization by states. It would strike references of "marihuana" and "marijuana" in existing law and replace them with "cannabis." The bill passed by a vote of 220-204. [H.R. 3617, Vote #107, 4/1/22; CQ, 4/1/22]

- The MORE Act Would Remove Marijuana From The Federal Government List Of Controlled Substances, Impose An 8% Tax On Cannabis Products, And Expunge Some Cannabis Convictions. “The Democrats’ bill would remove marijuana from the federal government’s list of controlled substances, impose an 8 percent tax on cannabis products, allow some convictions on cannabis charges to be expunged and press for sentencing reviews at the federal and state levels. It would also make Small Business Administration loans and services available to cannabis businesses while setting standards for them.” [New York Times, 4/1/22]

- 47 States And The District Of Columbia Have Already Relaxed Marijuana Laws In Some Way. “With 47 states and the District of Columbia having relaxed marijuana laws in some way, the federal government is far behind. Thirty-seven states have legalized cannabis for medical use, and 15 have granted adults legal access for purely recreational purposes.” [New York Times, 4/1/22]

- The MORE Act Would Allow The Veterans Administration To Recommend Medical Marijuana For Veterans Living With Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. The bill, sponsored by Democratic Rep. Jerry Nadler of New York, will prevent federal agencies from denying federal workers security clearances for cannabis use, and will allow the Veterans' Administration to recommend medical marijuana to veterans living with posttraumatic stress disorder, plus gains revenue by authorizing a sales tax on marijuana sales. [CNN, 4/1/22]

- The MORE Act Would Expunge The Record Of People Convicted Of Non-Violent Cannabis Offenses. “The bill also expunges the record of people convicted of non-violent cannabis offenses, which House Majority Leader Steny Hoyer said, ‘can haunt people of color and impact the trajectory of their lives and career indefinitely.’” [CNN, 4/1/22]

It would also require the department to establish a category within the National Incident-Based Reporting System to collect reports for such crimes and include questions relating to cybercrime victimization in its annual National Crime Victimization Survey. It would require the Government Accountability Office to report to Congress on cybercrime reporting mechanisms.” The motion was agreed to, (thus cleared for the president), by a vote of 377-48. [S. 2629, Vote #Vote #87, 3/29/22; CQ 3/29/22]
Salazar Voted For Prohibiting The Consideration Of Acquitted Conduct In Federal Courts. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Jackson Lee, D-Texas, motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would prohibit federal courts from considering ‘acquitted conduct’ when sentencing an individual, except to mitigate a sentence. It would define acquitted conduct as an act for which an individual was criminally charged and found not guilty, the charge was dismissed, or any other favorable disposition to the individual was made.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 405-12. [H.R. 1621, Vote #Vote #83, 3/28/22; CQ, 3/28/22]

Salazar Voted For Condemning Violence And Threats Of Violence Against Historically Black Colleges And Universities. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Scott, D-Va., motion to suspend the rules and agree to the concurrent resolution, as amended, that would state that the House of Representatives condemns violence and threats of violence against historically Black colleges and universities, including the bomb threats made against several HBCUs in January and February 2022. It would also reaffirm the federal government's commitment to combat violence against HBCU students, faculty and staff.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 418-0. [H. Con. Res. 70, Vote #Vote #61, 3/8/22; CQ, 3/8/22]

Salazar Voted For Criminalization Of Lynching As A Hate Crime Under Federal Law. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Nadler, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would criminalize lynching under federal hate crime law. Specifically, the bill would subject any individual who conspires with another person to violate existing federal hate crime law to a maximum prison term of 30 years, a criminal fine, or both, if the crime results in death or serious bodily injury to the victim, or if it includes attempted killing, kidnapping, attempted kidnapping, aggravated sexual abuse or attempted aggravated sexual abuse. The provision would apply to hate crimes defined in existing law, including those based on an individual's actual or perceived race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, disability or national origin.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 422-3. [H.R. 55, Vote #Vote #47, 2/28/22; CQ, 2/28/22]

Salazar Voted For The Ending Forced Arbitration Of Sexual Assault and Sexual Harassment Act. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would make predispute arbitration agreements, which are common in workplace and consumer contracts, invalid and unenforceable at the election of an individual alleging sexual assault or harassment, thus allowing the allegations to be heard in court. It would apply the same requirements to class action suits alleging such conduct. It would specify that the applicability of the bill's provisions to a dispute would be determined by the court, not an arbitrator.” Passed by a vote of 335-97. [HR 4445, Vote #Vote #33, 2/7/22; CQ, 2/7/22]

In May 2021, Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the resolution that would state that the House of Representatives condemns the ‘heinous and inexcusable acts of gun violence’ that killed eight people in Georgia on March 16, 2021, and any racism or sexism in the choice of the shooter to target Asian-owned businesses and kill seven women, six of whom were of Asian descent. It would also state that the House honors the memory of the victims, recognizes the ‘long and difficult’ healing process for affected communities, and reaffirms the commitment of the U.S. government to combat hate, bigotry, and violence against Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders and to prevent similar acts in the future.” The resolution was passed 245 to 180. [H Res 275, Vote #Vote #149, 5/19/21; CQ, 5/19/21]

Salazar Voted For Requiring The DOJ To Designate An Employee Solely Responsible For Facilitating The Expedited Review Of Hate Crimes During And Up To One Year After The End Of The COVID-19 Public Health Emergency. In May 2021, Salazar voted for: “Nadler, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require the Justice Department to designate an employee solely responsible for facilitating the expedited review of hate crimes during and up to one year after the end of the COVID-19 public health emergency. It would require the DOJ to issue guidance for state and local law enforcement agencies on how to establish online hate crime and incident reporting; collect data disaggregated by protected characteristics; and expand public education campaigns to raise awareness and reach victims of hate crimes. It would authorize new Justice Department grants to support activities by state and local law enforcement related to hate crime reporting, prevention, and response, including to implement the National Incident-Based Reporting system and to update policies and systems, train personnel, and engage in community outreach to address hate crimes. It would require state and local governments receiving funds to report certain information to the DOJ regarding hate crimes committed and related law enforcement activities. It would also require the DOJ to make grants to states to create state-run hate crime reporting hotlines that would direct individuals to local support services and law enforcement, if appropriate. Finally, it would allow courts to require that an individual convicted in relation to a hate crime and placed on supervised release undertake educational classes or community service related to the community harmed by the offense.” The motion was agreed to 364 to 62. [S 937, Vote #Vote #145, 5/18/21; CQ, 5/18/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Back The Blue Act, Which Would Make Killing, Attempting To Kill, Or Assaulting A Law Enforcement Officer A Federal Crime. In May 2021, Salazar voted against: “Perlmutter, D-Colo., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Bacon said, “I rise to urge defeat of the previous question so that we can immediately consider my bill to ensure that those who risk their lives to protect all of us are afforded greater protections as well. I introduced the Back the Blue Act of 2021 with Senator Cornyn in the Senate and my two original cosponsors in the House, Representatives Stivers and Johnson, during Police Week because this bill is needed now more than ever. [...] The Back the Blue Act creates a new Federal crime for killing, attempting to kill, or conspiring to kill a Federal judge, Federal law enforcement officer or a federally funded public safety officer. The offender would be subject to the death penalty and a mandatory minimum sentence of 30 years if death was agreed to by a vote of 217 to 209. [H Res 409, Vote #Vote #151, 5/19/21; CQ, 5/19/21; Congressional Record, 5/19/21] results. The offender would otherwise face a minimum sentence of 10 years. The bill creates a new Federal crime for assaulting a federally funded law enforcement officer with escalating penalties, including mandatory minimums based on the extent of any injury and the use of a dangerous weapon. However, no prosecution can be commenced absent certification by the Attorney General that prosecution is appropriate.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 212-206. [HR 2547, Vote #135, 5/12/21; CQ, 5/12/21; Congressional Record, 5/12/21]

Salazar Voted For Extending Funding For Child Abuse Prevention Programs Through 2027. In March 2021, Salazar voted for: “Scott, D-Va., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would extend through fiscal 2027 the programs and authorities under the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act. For fiscal 2022, it would authorize $270 million for Health and Human Services Department grants to states for development and operations of certain child protective service programs and $270 million for HHS grants for community-based programs to prevent child abuse and neglect. It would authorize such sums as may be necessary through fiscal 2027 for both grant programs and make a number of modifications to grant program requirements and administration. It would also authorize $40 million for fiscal 2022 and such sums as may be necessary through fiscal 2027 for HHS activities to support adoption and foster care programs.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 345-73. [HR 485, Vote #81, 3/16/21; CQ, 3/16/21]
Salazar Voted Against The George Floyd Justice In Policing Act, Overhauling Policing Laws. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would establish reporting and oversight requirements related to policing data and restrict the use of certain policing practices by federal law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies receiving certain federal policing grants. It would restrict a number of policing practices by federal law enforcement agencies and state and local agencies that receive federal funding, including to prohibit the use of "no-knock warrants" to execute searches in drug cases; the use of deadly force, including chokeholds, except as a "last resort" to prevent imminent injury to an officer or another person; and the use of deadly or "less lethal" force before exhausting reasonable alternatives, including deescalation tactics. It would prohibit racial profiling by law enforcement, authorize lawsuits regarding violations of the prohibition, and require agencies to implement racial profiling training and oversight procedures. It would eliminate "qualified immunity" protections for law enforcement officers by prohibiting legal defenses based on an officer acting "in good faith" or the purported absence of "clearly established" law. It would require federal law enforcement officers to use body cameras and dashboard cameras and require state and local agencies to use certain grant funding to purchase body cameras and develop protocols for their use. It would make it a crime for an officer to engage in a sexual act with an individual under custody. It would require the Justice Department to establish a national police misconduct registry, and it would establish a number of reporting requirements for law enforcement agencies, including on use of force, racial profiling, officer misconduct records and routine policing practices -- with data disaggregated by demographics of officers and civilians involved. Among other provisions, it would require the Justice Department to analyze and recommend updates to law enforcement agency accreditation standards. It would authorize $750 million annually through fiscal 2024 for grants to support independent investigations into police use of deadly force, including to create civilian review boards. It would authorize subpoenas by the Justice Department or state attorneys general for evidence related to potential violations of constitutional rights by law enforcement and authorize grants to states to support such investigations. It would authorize grant funding for activities related to community-based policing practices and non-police public safety initiatives. It would limit the transfer of military equipment from the Defense Department to state and local law enforcement agencies.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220 - 212. [HR 1280, Vote #Vote #60, 3/3/21; CQ, 3/3/21]

• The Bill Banned Chokeholds, Ended Qualified Immunity For Law Enforcement, Banned No-Knock Warrants In Federal Drug Cases, Mandated Data Collection On Police Encounters, And Created A Nationwide Police Misconduct Registry. “The [George Floyd Justice in Policing Act] would ban chokeholds and end qualified immunity for law enforcement — the legal protection for police officers that limits victims' ability to sue for misconduct. It would ban no-knock warrants in federal drug cases, mandate data collection on police encounters and create a nationwide police misconduct registry to help hold problematic officers accountable. The bill would also prohibit racial and religious profiling and redirect funding to community-based policing programs.” [NPR, 4/21/21]

Salazar Voted For Passage Of Protections For Privileged Legal Communications In Prisons. In February 2021, Salazar voted for: “Jackson Lee, D-Texas, motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require the Bureau of Prisons to create a program or system to exempt privileged electronic communications between a federally incarcerated individual and their attorney or legal representative from monitoring and state that attorney-client privilege applies to such communications. It would allow the department to retain an incarcerated individual’s electronic communications until their release, accessible only under a warrant approved by a U.S. attorney to ensure that privileged communications are not accessible. It would authorize courts to suppress evidence obtained or derived from such privileged communications.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 414-11. [HR 546, Vote #Vote #36, 2/24/21; CQ, 2/24/21]

Defense and National Security

Salazar Voted For The National Defense Authorization Act For FY 2023. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would authorize $839.3 billion in national defense spending, including $808.4 billion for the Defense Department and $30.5 billion for national security programs within the Energy Department. The bill would authorize approximately $160.2 billion for weapons and other procurement and $138.6 billion for military research and development. Within these totals, it would authorize $32.7 billion for shipbuilding; funding for the procurement of 64 new F-35 series tactical force aircraft; $3.6 billion for the new Ground Based Strategic Deterrent missile system; and approximately $21 billion for missile defense programs, including $543 million for a hypersonic missile defense system, $398 million for Guam missile defense systems and $180 million for Israeli missile defense systems. Within Energy Department funding, it would authorize $22.1 billion for the National Nuclear Security Administration, primarily for the maintenance of a nuclear weapons stockpile. It would authorize $37.1 billion for the Defense Health Program and $16.5 billion for military construction. It would authorize more than $6 billion for the Pacific Deterrence Initiative and $4 billion for the European Deterrence Initiative, primarily intended to counter aggression by China and Russia, respectively. For international assistance and cooperation, it would authorize $1 billion in security assistance to Ukraine; $544 million for the U.S. Africa Command; $542 million for forces in Syria and Iraq combating the Islamic State; $342 million for a cooperative threat reduction program assisting former Soviet Union countries; $300 million for cooperative research and development programs with Israel; and $225 million for the Baltic Security Initiative. It would express U.S. support for membership for Finland and Sweden in NATO. The bill would authorize a 4.6 percent military pay increase. It would move military sexual harassment prosecutions outside the chain of command, similar to the treatment of sexual assault cases. It would authorize $1.9 billion for the Defense Department environmental restoration fund and require the department to undertake various environmental cleanup activities. It would establish a commission and Defense Department center to study and address civilian harm resulting from or incidental to the use of force by U.S. armed forces. It would include various provisions to support cybersecurity and artificial intelligence initiatives at the Defense Department. Among foreign policy provisions, it would extend the Afghan special immigrant visa program by one year, extending the application deadline through 2024; repeal the 1991 and 2002 authorizations for the use of military force against Iraq; and authorize the use of proceeds from assets forfeited by entities associated with Russian President Vladimir Putin to help rebuild Ukraine. It would require the department to make plans to increase the energy resiliency of each main operating base in the U.S. European Command zone, with a goal of eliminating the use of Russian energy within five years. Among non-Defense policy provisions, it would eliminate the federal sentencing disparity between drug offenses involving crack cocaine and powder cocaine; allow state-legal cannabis businesses to access the banking system; and require the EPA to develop water quality criteria and effluent limitation standards for all measurable PFAS, or per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, within two years and four years of enactment, respectively.” The bill passed by a vote of 329-101. Salazar Voted Against An Amendment Prohibiting The Denial Or Revocation Of A Security Clearance Based On Past Or Present Marijuana Use. In April 2022 Salazar voted against: “Raskin, D-Md., amendment no. 3 to that would prohibit the denial or revocation of a security clearance based on past or present marijuana use. It would require each federal agency, within one year of enactment, to review and reassess each decision made on or after May 1, 1971, to deny or rescind an individual's security clearance based on past or present marijuana use.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 209-214. [H.R. 3617, Vote #Vote #105, 4/1/22; CQ, 4/1/22]

Salazar Voted For Reauthorizing The U.S. Coast Guard And Federal Maritime Commission Through Fiscal Year 2023. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “DeFazio, D-Ore., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize the U.S. Coast Guard and Federal Maritime Commission through fiscal 2023, authorizing approximately $26.7 billion for the Coast Guard and $68.5 million for the FMC for fiscal years 2022 and 2023. Within Coast Guard funding over the two years, it would authorize $19.5 billion for operations and maintenance, including environmental compliance and restoration; $6.8 billion for infrastructure projects; $29 billion for research and development; and $431 million for contributions to the Defense Department health care fund for Medicare-eligible retirees. Among other provisions, it would update various requirements and shipping service standards for ocean common carriers and marine terminal operators and require the FMC to initiate related rulemakings, provisions intended to address the effects of supply chain shortages on shipping services. It would expand requirements related to preventing and responding to sexual assault and sexual harrassment on non-passerger commercial vessels and authorize the Coast Guard to deny or revoke a license, certificate of registry or merchant mariner's document for an individual who has been convicted of sexual harassment or assault. It would require the Coast Guard to conduct a pilot project to enhance cutter readiness and reduce lost patrol days by deploying commercially developed condition-based maintenance standards. It would require the Coast Guard to develop and implement recommendations to improve the representation of women and racial and ethnic minorities in the Coast Guard.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 378-46. [H.R. 6865, Vote #Vote #85, 3/29/22; CQ, 3/29/22]

Salazar Voted For The 2022 National Defense Authorization Act. In December 2021 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would authorize $768.1 billion in national defense spending, including $740 billion for the Defense Department and $28.2 billion for national security programs within the Energy Department. The bill would authorize approximately $146.9 billion for weapons and other procurement; $27.3 billion for shipbuilding; and funding to support the procurement of 85 F-35 series tactical force aircraft. It would authorize $310 million for a hypersonic defense system and $75 million for the development of a new homeland defense radar in Hawaii. Within Energy Department funding, it would authorize $20.3 billion for the National Nuclear Security Administration, primarily for the maintenance of a nuclear weapons stockpile. It would authorize $35.5 billion for the Defense Health Program. It would authorize $13.3 billion for military construction. It would authorize a 2.7 percent military pay increase and increase parental leave for service members to 12 weeks. It would make numerous reforms to the Uniform Code of Military Justice to address sexual assault and harrassment and require independent military prosecutors, not unit commanders, to decide whether prosecution is warranted for most felonies within the military justice system, including sexual assault. It would authorize $7.1 billion for the Pacific Deterrence Initiative and $4 billion for the European Deterrence Initiative, primarily intended to counter aggression by China and Russia, respectively. It would establish a commission to examine the war in Afghanistan and 2021 withdrawal and require the department to submit a security assessment and a number of reports related to Afghanistan. For international assistance and cooperation, it would authorize $300 million for cooperative programs with Israel; $345 million for a cooperative threat reduction program assisting former Soviet Union countries; and $300 million in security assistance to Ukraine. Among other provisions, the bill would over $1.2 billion to support defense-wide cybersecurity efforts and over $285 million for artificial intelligence-related initiatives; authorize the establishment of a national network for microelectronics research and development to support domestic microelectronics manufacturing capability and an Arctic Security Initiative; and extend prohibitions on the use of Defense Department funds to close or transfer detainees from the U.S. naval station in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba." Passed by a vote of 363-70. [S 1605, Vote #Vote #405, 12/07/21; CQ, 12/07/21]

Salazar Voted For The National Defense Authorization Act Of 2022. In September 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would authorize $768.1 billion in national defense spending, including $739.8 billion for the Defense Department and $28.2 billion for national security programs within the Energy Department. The bill would authorize approximately $147.1 billion for weapons and other procurement, $11.7 billion for F-35 series tactical force aircraft procurement and maintenance and $28.4 billion for shipbuilding. It would authorize $310 million for a hypersonic defense system and $75 million for the development of a new homeland defense radar in Hawaii. Within Energy Department funding, it would authorize $20.3 billion for the National Nuclear Security Administration, primarily for the maintenance of a nuclear weapons stockpile. It would authorize $36.8 billion for the Defense Health Program, including $10 million for a global emerging infectious surveillance program. It would authorize $13.4 billion for military construction. It would authorize a 2.7 percent military pay increase; remove military commanders from decisions related to the prosecution of sexual assault and other special victim crimes; establish a Countering Extremism Office within the Defense Department tasked with countering extremism in the armed forces; and establish a $15 minimum wage for certain department contractors. It would give the mayor of the District of Columbia authority over its National Guard and establish a Space National Guard. It would authorize the president's requests of $5.1 billion for the Pacific Deterrence Initiative and $3.7 billion for the European Deterrence Initiative, primarily intended to counter aggression by China and Russia, respectively. It would codify the position of assistant secretary of Defense for Indo-Pacific Security Affairs. It would establish a commission to examine the war in Afghanistan and 2021 withdrawal; authorize $500 million for Defense Department relocation assistance for Afghan evacuees; and require the department to submit a security assessment and a number of reports related to Afghanistan. For international assistance and cooperation, the bill would authorize $470 million for cooperative programs with Israel; $345 million for a cooperative threat reduction program assisting former Soviet Union countries; $325 million for the Afghan security forces; and $300 million in security assistance to Ukraine. Among other provisions, the bill would authorize over $1 billion in cybersecurity investments and over $1 billion for artificial intelligence-related initiatives, and require the Homeland Security Department to establish an information collaboration environment to share intelligence and data on cybersecurity risks and threats. It would authorize $9 million for applied research on neuroprotection from brain injury; eliminate restrictions on transferring detainees from Guantanamo Bay; and prohibit federal banking regulators from penalizing financial service institutions for serving state-legal marijuana-related businesses.” The bill passed by a vote of 316–113. [HR 4350, Vote #293, 9/23/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Prohibit The Export Of Certain Weapons Without Notifying Congress. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Torres, D-Calif., amendment no. 435 that would prohibit the export of certain weapons to foreign countries unless the Commerce Department notifies the chair and ranking members of the congressional foreign issues committees before granting the export license.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 215 to 213. [HR 4350, Vote #292, 9/23/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Reduce And Transfer Defense Funding. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Jacobs, D-Calif., for Lee, D-Calif., amendment no. 41 that would reduce amounts authorized for defense spending in fiscal 2022 by $23.96 billion and require the Defense Department to transfer, from amounts made available for fiscal 2022, no less than $1.6 billion to the general fund of the Treasury.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 142 to 286. [HR 4350, Vote #285, 9/23/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Reduce Overall Defense Authorization Funding By 10%. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Ocasio-Cortez, D-N.Y., for Pocan, D-Wis., amendment no. 40 that would reduce the overall funding authorization level by 10 percent, other than funding for military personnel, the Defense Department federal civilian workforce, and defense health program accounts.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 86 to 332. [HR 4350, Vote #284, 9/23/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Prohibit Funding For Ground Based Strategic Deterrent Program. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Garamendi, D-Calif., amendment no. 38 that would prohibit funding for the Ground Based Strategic Deterrent program and W87-1.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 118 to 299. [HR 4350, Vote #282, 9/23/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted For Supplemental Appropriations For Capitol Security And Afghan Refugees. In July 2021, Salazar voted for: “DeLauro, D-Conn., motion to suspend the rules and concur in the Senate amendment to the bill that would provide approximately $2.1 billion in emergency supplemental fiscal 2021 appropriations, including $1 billion to legislative branch and other federal entities for security activities in response to the Jan. 6, 2021, attack on the U.S. Capitol as well as the COVID-19 public health emergency and $1.1 billion for Afghan humanitarian support and refugee assistance. For expenses related to the Jan. 6 attack and to prevent similar incidents, it would provide $520.9 million for the National Guard. It would provide $70.7 million for the Capitol Police including specified funding for employee hazard pay and retention bonuses, the employee wellness program, agreements with state and local law enforcement agencies, protective details for members of Congress, and physical protection barriers. It would provide $35.4 million for mutual aid and related training reimbursements between Capitol Police and local law enforcement partners. It would provide $300 million for the Architect of the Capitol to upgrade windows and doors on the Capitol complex, enhance physical security structures and install security cameras in House and Senate office buildings. It would provide approximately $42 million for legislative branch costs associated with the COVID-19 public health emergency, including $21.9 million for the Architect of the Capitol; $11.7 for the House of Representatives; $7.8 million for the Senate sergeant-at-arms and $800,000 for the Capitol Police. It would provide approximately $1.1 billion for Afghan humanitarian support and refugee assistance, including $500 million for Defense Department overseas aid; $600 million for State Department emergency refugee transportation, housing and basic services; and $25 million for Health and Human Services Department financial, medical and social services. It would increase from 26,500 to 34,500 the number of available special immigrant visas for Afghan nationals employed by the U.S. government and modify program eligibility requirements, including to decrease the required length of service to one year. It would include provisions of a House-passed bill (HR 3385) that would authorize the State and Homeland Security departments to jointly waive, for up to one year, a medical examination requirement for immigrants under the program.”

The motion was passed 416 to 11. [HR 3237, Vote #250, 7/29/21; CQ, 7/29/21]

Salazar Voted For Providing For An Exception To A Limitation Against Appointment Of Gen. Lloyd J. Austin III As Secretary Of Defense. In January 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would waive a statutory requirement related to date of retirement from military service for the first individual nominated by the president and confirmed by the Senate as Defense secretary on or after Jan. 20, 2021. Specifically, it would make eligible such an individual who retired from active duty in the armed forces within seven years of their appointment, but not within four years. It would thus allow for the confirmation of President Joe Biden’s Defense secretary nominee, retired Army Gen. Lloyd J. Austin III.”

The bill passed 326 to 78. [H Res 335, Vote #18, 1/21/21; CQ, 1/21/21]

- Gen Lloyd J. Austin III Needed The Waiver Because He Retired From Active Duty In The Armed Forces Less Than Seven Years Before His Appointment As Secretary Of Defense. “The House of Representatives and Senate approved a waiver Thursday for retired Army Gen. Lloyd Austin to serve as President Biden’s defense secretary. Both votes were overwhelming and bipartisan. Normally the House has no role in confirming Cabinet secretaries. But Austin retired from the military four years ago, short of the seven years required by law to take the civilian job without a waiver from both houses of Congress.” [NPR, 1/21/21]

Economy and Jobs

Salazar Voted Against Passing The Inflation Reduction Act Through Reconciliation. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Yarmuth, D-Ky., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill comprising a package of climate, tax and health care provisions. Among drug pricing provisions, the bill would require the Health and Human Services Department to negotiate a "maximum fair price" with drug manufacturers for certain Medicare-eligible, brand-name drugs that do not have generic competition; cap cost-sharing for insulin products covered under Medicare at $35 a month; and require single-source drug manufacturers to provide rebates to HHS for the price of drugs under Medicare Parts
B and D for which price increases outpace inflation. For Medicare Part D, it would cap the annual out-of-pocket limit at $2,000. It would extend through 2025 tax subsidies toward Affordable Care Act marketplace insurance premiums for individuals under a certain income level. The bill would provide for approximately $270 billion in new or expanded tax credits to incentivize actions by businesses and individuals to mitigate climate change, including production credits for electricity produced by renewable and nuclear facilities; investment tax credits for certain renewable energy equipment and facilities; and credits for advanced energy manufacturing projects, including in areas where a coal mine or power plant has closed. To incentivize emission reduction and clean fuel production, it would create or extend tax credits for carbon oxide sequestration facilities; biodiesel, renewable diesel and alternative fuels; and clean hydrogen facilities. For most of its corporate tax credits, it would add prevailing wage and apprenticeship requirements and establish bonus credits for using domestic materials in facility construction. It would also expand individual tax credits for residential energy efficiency improvements and renewable energy expenses; increase credits for new energy efficient homes; and create credits for the purchase of used electric vehicles by individuals under a certain income level. It would reinstate the Superfund tax on crude oil at a rate of 16.4 cents per barrel. Among other tax provisions, the bill would establish a 15 percent alternative minimum tax for corporations with a book income of at least $1 million annually and institute a 1 percent excise tax on corporate stock buybacks. It would authorize $79.3 billion for IRS operations, including enforcement activities and systems modernization. The bill would provide funding for various activities to reduce greenhouse gas emissions, promote energy-efficient technologies and mitigate the impacts of climate change, including $27 billion for grants to state, local and nonprofit entities for greenhouse gas emission reduction activities; $9.7 billion for zero-emission or carbon capture rural electric systems; $5 billion for loan guarantees to replace or reduce emissions of energy infrastructure; $3 billion for zero-emission vehicles for the Postal Service; and $1.6 billion for methane emissions reduction and mitigation. It would provide $9 billion for residential energy efficiency improvement rebates; $3 billion for new EPA environmental and climate justice block grants for community-led activities to address pollution, emission reduction, climate resiliency and public engagement; and $3 billion for Federal Highway Administration grants for projects that address surface transportation facilities that disconnect or negatively impact communities. It would provide $4 billion for drought mitigation in Western states; $2.15 billion for hazardous fuel reduction and restoration projects; and $1 billion to improve energy and water efficiency or climate resilience of affordable housing. It would require the Interior Department to accept bids for certain canceled oil and gas leases on the outer continental shelf. It would authorize wind lease sales adjacent to U.S. territories but prohibit new wind or solar development rights on federal lands for 10 years unless the department completes certain oil or gas lease sales.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-207. [H.R. 5376, Vote #420, 8/12/22; CQ, 8/12/22]

- The Inflation Reduction Act Caped Out-Of-Pocket Costs At $2,000 For People Who Participated In Medicare Part D, “The Prescription Drug Plan For Seniors.” “Medicare is poised to renegotiate the prices of some of its most expensive drugs through a historic expansion of its power, which could reduce costs for many seniors as well as federal spending on its prescription drug plan. The changes are tucked inside a massive spending-and-tax bill in Congress that includes $433 billion in investments in health-care and clean energy. House Democrats passed the Inflation Reduction Act on Friday in a 220 to 207 vote along party lines, ending a tortured legislative process that took more than a year. The bill empowers the Health and Human Services Secretary to negotiate prices for certain drugs covered under two different parts of Medicare and punish pharmaceutical companies that don’t play by the rules. The legislation also caps out-of-pocket costs at $2,000 starting in 2025 for people who participate in Medicare Part D, the prescription drug plan for seniors.” [CNBC, 8/12/22]

- AARP CEO Jo Ann Jenkins On The Inflation Reduction Act: “Millions Of Older Adults Are Now ‘One Step Closer To Real Relief From Out-Of-Control Prescription Drug Prices.”’ “Medicare is poised to renegotiate the prices of some of its most expensive drugs through a historic expansion of its power, which could reduce costs for many seniors as well as federal spending on its prescription drug plan. The changes are tucked inside a massive spending-and-tax bill in Congress that includes $433 billion in investments in health-care and clean energy. House Democrats passed the Inflation Reduction Act on Friday in a 220 to 207 vote along party lines, ending a tortured legislative process that took more than a year. […] The American Association of Retired Persons, which represents 38 million people, described the legislation as a historic victory for older adults. AARP CEO Jo Ann Jenkins said the group has fought for nearly two decades to allow Medicare to negotiate drug prices. Millions of older adults are now “one step closer to real relief from out-of-control prescription drug prices,” Jenkins said earlier this week.” [CNBC, 8/12/22]

- NBC: The Inflation Reduction Act “Is Set To Lower The Cost Of Prescription Drugs.” “The Inflation Reduction Act, signed into law by President Joe Biden, is set to lower the cost of prescription drugs — including cancer medications, blood thinners and insulin — for millions of Americans, experts say. Exorbitant drug prices in the United States are a key reason many people in the U.S. are forced to skip or delay filling their needed prescriptions. A Kaiser Family Foundation poll published last month found that nearly 1 in 2 adults report difficulty affording their health care expenses, including their prescribed medications.” [NBC, 8/16/22]

- The Inflation Reduction Act Extended Subsidies Through 2025 For 13 Million People Who Buy Individual Coverage Through The ACA. “The law immediately extends subsidies through 2025 for the roughly 13 million people who buy individual coverage through the ACA. The subsidies were set to expire this year.” [NBC, 8/16/22]

Salazar Voted Against The Workforce Innovation And Opportunity Act To Invest $74 Billion In Workforce Development Through 2028. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would The House passed, by roll call vote, 220-196, the bill (HR 7309), as amended, that would authorize more than $74 billion through fiscal 2028 to reauthorize workforce development programs under the 2014 Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act at significantly higher funding levels, expand program activities and eligibility, and codify or establish several other Labor Department programs. Within total funding for formula grants to state workforce development systems, it would authorize $19.2 billion for dislocated-worker employment and training; $12 billion for adult workforce development; $7.9 billion for youth workforce development; and $7.1 billion for a new summer and year-round youth employment program to provide employment opportunities, work-readiness training, mentoring services and career counseling for youth. It would require at least 75 percent of funding authorized for local adult employment and training activities to be used to provide services to public assistance recipients and other low-income individuals, individuals who have foundational skill needs and individuals with other barriers to employment. It would add various program requirements to emphasize education and training related to digital literacy and financial literacy. It would authorize $11.9 billion for the Job Corps program, which provides academic and employment support for disadvantaged youth; $7.7 billion for a new sector-based career training program to help states develop or expand industry or sector partnerships to expand workforce development and employment opportunities for high-skill, high-wage or in-demand industry sectors and occupations; and $5.3 billion for adult education and family literacy programs. It would authorize $2.25 billion for a reentry employment opportunity program, $772 million for a community college training grant program and $165 million for workforce data quality initiative grants, all of which would be codified by the bill. It would authorize such sums as necessary through fiscal 2028 for state activities to provide vocational services to individuals with disabilities. As amended, it would authorize an additional $40 million annually through fiscal 2027 for national training programs for dislocated workers, including individuals who are likely to become dislocated workers as a result of automation. It would require the Labor and Education departments to issue final regulations to implement the bill’s provisions within 24 months of enactment.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-196. • The Workforce Innovation And Opportunity Act Doubled The Number Of People Who Would Receive Trainings Through 2023 And Allowed For Training A Million Workers Per Year By 2028. REP. SCOTT: “The Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act of 2022 addresses this chronic underinvestment so that we can finally meet the needs of workers and businesses, fill job openings with qualified workers, reduce supply chain shortage, and lower costs for families. By investing approximately $80 billion over six years, this legislation would more than double the number of people receiving training services in Fiscal Year 2023, and allow us to train one million workers per year by 2028. The legislation modernizes WIOA to help expand work opportunities for disconnected youth. It makes critical reforms to improve Job Corps. It expands sector-based training so that we can train for entire sectors, such as electric cars, trucking, and nursing. It strengthens community colleges’ capacity to help workers succeed in in-demand industries. And it helps justice-involved individuals reenter the labor force and obtain sustainable career paths.” [House Committee on Education and Labor, Press Release, 5/17/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Workforce Innovation And Opportunity Act To Committee. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Rutherford, R-Fla., motion to recommit the bill to the House Education and Labor Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 193-223. [H.R. 7309, Vote #Vote #192, 5/17/22; CQ, 5/17/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Replace Language In The Workforce Innovation And Opportunity Act With Funding Reduction To Programs Under The 2014 Workforce Law. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Miller-Meeks, R-Iowa, amendment no. 28 that would replace the bill’s provisions with language to reduce the funding authorization programs under the 2014 workforce law. It would reauthorize funding for the programs through fiscal 2028, including approximately $1.1 billion annually for youth workforce investment activities; $900 million annually for adult employment and training activities; approximately $1.5 billion annually for dislocated worker employment and training activities; approximately $704 million annually for adult literacy programs; and funding for Job Corps at the fiscal 2020 funding level. Among other provisions, it would double the maximum amount governors can reserve for statewide workforce investment activities from funding for worker training programs to 30 percent and require such activities to include the development of assessments to award credentials or determine individual employment plans. It would allow one-stop centers for workforce development to make their services accessible in-person and virtually; create employer-directed skills accounts for those not employed by a specific employer to provide on-the-job training to individuals, followed by full employment with the employer sponsor; establish new standards of conduct for Job Corps Centers; and require directors of Job Corps campuses to report on violence and criminal activity on their campus.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 174-241. [H.R. 7309, Vote #Vote #191, 5/17/22; CQ, 5/17/22]

Salazar Voted For Republican En Bloc Amendments To The Workforce Innovation And Opportunity Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Scott, D-Va., en bloc amendments no. 3 that would strike language to require apprenticeship programs to be registered under the National Apprenticeship Act in order to be eligible for funding; require grants and contracts for adult education activities to be distributed in a timely manner and require unified state plans submitted to the Labor Department to include a plan for such activities; and prohibit the use of any funds made available through the bill to provide direct payment or reimbursement for any health care services.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 194-219. [H.R. 7309, Vote #Vote #190, 5/17/22; CQ, 5/17/22]

Salazar Voted Against Democratic En Bloc Amendments To The Workforce Innovation And Opportunity Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Scott, D-Va., en bloc amendments no. 2 that would, among other provisions, authorize such sums as may be necessary annually through fiscal 2028 for the Labor Department to award competitive four-year grants to local boards for summer or year-round programs for youth in communities disproportionately affected by gun violence to connect them to in-demand industry sectors or occupations; require state workforce development boards to include a youth representatives; authorize $40 million annually for fiscal years 2023 through 2027 for national dislocated worker grants, including individuals who are likely to become dislocated workers as a result of automation; require state plans to describe how their strategies will ensure public access to data on the recognized postsecondary credentials earned by program participants; and require the Labor Department, in carrying out the bill’s provisions, to encourage and prioritize applications from minority-serving institutions for assistance to provide job skills training and educational services.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 222-196. [H.R. 7309, Vote #Vote #189, 5/17/22; CQ, 5/17/22]

Salazar Voted For Bipartisan En Bloc Amendments To The Workforce Innovation And Opportunity Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Scott, D-Va., en bloc amendments no. 1 that would, among other provisions, require the Government Accountability Office to report to Congress, within 180 days of the bill’s enactment, on challenges that unemployed and low-income Native Americans, Alaska Natives and Native Hawaiians face in the labor market and to provide recommendations for improving their access to federal employment and training services; add language to include veterans among those local areas are required to prioritize when allocating funds for local employment and training activities; add language focused on youth workforce readiness programs, including to require local needs assessments related to youth workforce investment activities to include a description of how activities offered in the area provide workforce readiness opportunities, support services, adult mentoring, financial literacy, activities to develop soft skills or career exposure activities; allow the Labor Department, in coordination with the Education Department, to conduct a study on the current and anticipated availability of STEM jobs and public secondary school courses as well as how to expand access to the STEM and computer science fields; and require the Labor Department to support assistance and training for programs, employers and staff that mentor youth.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 313-107. [H.R. 7309, Vote #Vote #188, 5/17/22; CQ, 5/17/22]
Salazar Voted Against Considering The Workforce Innovation And Opportunity Act, The Targeting Resources To Communities In Need Act, Designation Of A California Post Office, And Health Professional Trainings For Nutrition-Related Disease. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1119) that would provide for House floor consideration for the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (HR 7309); the Targeting Resources to Communities in Need Act (HR 6531); a bill (S 2938) designating the Joseph Hatchett Courthouse in Florida and Lynn Woolsey Post Office in California; and a resolution (H Res 1118) supporting health professional training related to nutrition-related disease. The rule would provide for one hour of debate on each bill; automatic adoption of managers’ amendments to HR 7309 and HR 6531; and automatic agreement to H Res 1118. It would make in order floor consideration of 39 amendments to HR 7309. The rule would provide for automatic adoption of a Robert C. Scott, D-Va., manager’s amendment to HR 7309 that would, among other provisions, extend from 18 to 24 months the deadline by which the Labor and Education departments must issue final regulations to implement the bill’s provisions; extend from one to four years the availability period for grant funding to support workforce investment activities for migrant and seasonal farmworkers; specify that the Labor Department must reserve a portion of Job Corps funding for campus construction and acquisition, instead of specifically reserving $107.8 million annually for such purposes; require the Labor Department to use at least 25 percent and no more than 40 percent of reentry employment grant program funding for reentry projects by national or regional intermediary entities; require the Labor Department, to the extent practicable, to provide basic health services to Job Corps enrollees; and require employment services authorized under the 1933 Wagner-Peyser employment law to be performed by public employees under a merit system. The rule would provide for automatic adoption of a Carolyn B. Maloney, D-N.Y., manager’s amendment to HR 6531 that would define a ‘high-poverty census tract’ as a census tract with a poverty rate of at least 20 percent in the most recent decennial census in the case of areas where poverty rate data is not collected by the American Community Survey. The rule would provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to a resolution (H Res 1118) that would express the sense of Congress that the United States should urge medical schools and other health professional training programs to incorporate nutrition education that demonstrates the connection between nutrition and disease and training related to nutrition interventions and referrals; support research on nutrition education and the dissemination of related curricular resources for health professional training programs; and raise awareness of the role of nutrition in health and the responsibility of health professionals to provide patient education and counseling about nutrition.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 220-199. [H. Res. 1119, Vote #Vote #187, 5/17/22; CQ, 5/17/22]

Salazar Voted For The Community Services Block Grant Modernization Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize the Health and Human Services Department's Community Services Block Grant program through fiscal 2032 and make a number of modifications to the program, which supports activities by local agencies and organizations to address poverty at a community level. It would modify or expand various requirements related to state plans for the use and oversight of program funds, including to require that state plans be primarily based on community action plans developed by local agencies receiving program subgrants, as well as the operations of and program reporting requirements for such agencies. It would expand requirements and procedures for program audits, including to require the department to audit at least 20 percent of states annually and specify procedures for state response to proposed corrective action in the case of non-compliance and for the direct provision of funding to subgrantees if state funding is reduced or eliminated. Among other program modifications, the bill would establish an eligibility threshold for program participation at 200 percent of the federal poverty level, as opposed to the existing guideline of 185 percent; remove existing language allowing states to drug test program participants and requiring states to consider religious organizations for grants on the same basis as other organizations; explicitly prohibit discrimination based on race, color, national origin or sex in funded programs; and allow the use of funding for material improvements to improve building accessibility. The bill would authorize $1 billion annually for the program through fiscal 2027 and such sums as necessary thereafter through fiscal 2032. It would require the department to reserve one percent of program funding for a new Community Action Innovations Program for projects to replicate, expand and test innovative and evidence-based practices to reduce poverty; two percent of funding for training and technical assistance to grantees; 0.5 percent of funding for grants to U.S. territories; and up to $5 million annually through fiscal 2025 to develop and maintain an electronic data system for program reports. It would also authorize such sums as necessary through fiscal 2032 for discretionary community development programs previously funded under the CSBG program, as well as a new discretionary program to expand broadband access and digital literacy.” The bill passed by a vote of 246-169. [H.R. 5129, Vote #Vote #182, 5/13/22; CQ, 5/13/22]

Salazar Voted Against En Bloc Amendment No. 2 For The Community Services Block Grant Modernization Act. In May 2022, Salazar voted against: “Bonamici, D-Ore., en bloc amendments no. 2 that would prohibit the use of funds under the bill to provide direct payment or reimbursement for any health care services, remove language increasing the eligibility threshold for program participation to 200 percent of the federal poverty level. It would also remove language allowing a state or tribal grantee to establish procedures to allow participants to remain eligible, regardless of their income eligibility, if they are progressing toward the program's goals. It would add language allowing states to raise the eligibility threshold to 125 percent of the poverty level when it serves the objectives of the program, prohibit voter registration activities under a program, project or service funded under the bill's provisions. It also would prohibit the use of funds under the bill for lobbying, except in the case that a representative from a funded entity is requested to testify by a legislative body.” The amendment bloc was rejected by a vote of 198-219. [HR 5129, Vote #Vote #179, 5/13/22; CQ, 5/13/22]

Salazar Voted Against En Bloc Amendment No. 1 For The Community Services Block Grant Modernization Act. In May 2022, Salazar voted against: “Bonamici, D-Ore., en bloc amendments no. 1 that would, among other provisions, specify that recipients of subgrants under the bill's provisions could use funding for activities that develop and maintain partnerships with higher education institutions, including historically Black colleges and universities, tribal colleges and universities and minority-serving institutions; specify that recipients of subgrants under the bill's provisions could use grant funding for activities that address behavioral health needs; allow states to grant excess funds under the bill's provisions to support entities in responding to food insecurity by providing nutritious foods and supporting practices that promote healthy living; and require the Health and Human Services Department to include an analysis of best practices in poverty reduction in disseminating results of a grant program established by the bill to support innovation and the use of evidence-based practices in reducing poverty conditions.” The amendment bloc was adopted by a vote of 219-201. [HR 5129, Vote #Vote #178, 5/13/22; CQ, 5/13/22]
Salazar Voted For Requiring The Implementation Of Guidance To Increase The Share Of Federal Investments Targeted To Areas Of High And Persistent Poverty. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Connolly, D-Va., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Office of Management and Budget, within one year of enactment, to implement guidance to increase the share of federal investments targeted to areas of high and persistent poverty. It would specify that the guidance must include a minimum goal that such investments be in an amount greater than such areas would otherwise receive based on their portion of the U.S. population. It would also require the Census Bureau to publish a list of all areas of persistent poverty and update it annually; require OMB to submit an annual report to Congress on the programs under which federal funds were increased under the bill's provisions and the economic impact on the areas served; require the Government Accountability Office, within two years of enactment, to report to Congress on the effectiveness of the bill's provisions; and authorize $5 million in fiscal 2023 for salaries and expenses to carry out the bill's provisions.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 262-156. [H.R. 6531, Vote #163, 5/11/22; CQ, 5/11/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering Several Bills Including Senate Amendments On School Meals, The Bipartisan School Safety Package, And Calling For The Release Of Brittney Griner From Russia. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1204) that would provide for House floor consideration of the Senate amendment to the House amendment to the school meal waiver bill (S 2089) and the Senate amendments to the House amendment to the bipartisan gun violence package (S 2938). The rule would provide for 10 minutes of debate on S 2089 and one hour of debate on S 2938. The rule would provide for automatic passage, upon adoption of the rule, of a bill (HR 4346) that would add COVID-19 vaccines to a list of vaccines subject to a tax of 75 cents per dose, from which proceeds fund compensation for vaccine-related injury or death through the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program. The rule would provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to a resolution (H Res 1132) that would state that the House of Representatives calls on the Russian government to immediately release Brittney Griner, a WNBA player and U.S. citizen detained in February 2022.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 217-203. [H. Res. 1204, Vote #298, 6/24/22; CQ, 6/24/22]

Salazar Voted Against The LGBTQI+ Data Inclusion Act. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require federal agencies that conduct demographic and population surveys to include in their surveys, within three years of enactment, voluntary questions on sexual orientation, gender identity and variations in sex characteristics. It would require the agencies, within 360 days of enactment, to establish data standards to require a review of existing data sets to determine which do not include this information, identify appropriate methods to include questions to collect the information, and implement a process to routinely assess needed changes in survey methods. It would allow for waivers of the information collection requirement if confidentiality standards cannot be met or if adding the information would impact the utility or accuracy of the survey.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-201. [H.R. 4176, Vote #Vote #296, 6/23/22; CQ, 6/23/22]

- The LGBTQI+ Data Inclusion Act Standardized The Inclusion Of Questions Related To Sexual Orientation, Gender Identity And Variations In Sex Characteristics On Government Survey Collection Data. “The Human Rights Campaign (HRC) — the nation’s largest lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer (LGBTQ+) civil rights organization — praised the passage in the U.S. House of Representatives today of the LGBTQI+ Data Inclusion Act. This legislation, which will now go to the Senate, would direct the 107 federal agencies engaged in survey data collection to standardize the inclusion of questions related to sexual orientation, gender identity and variations in sex characteristics.” [Human Rights Campaign, 6/23/22]

Salazar Voted For Recommitting The LGBTQI+ Data Inclusion Act To The House Oversight And Reform Committee. In June 2022, Salazar voted for: “Biggs, R-Ariz., motion to recommit the bill to the House Oversight and Reform Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 202-218. [H.R. 4176, Vote #Vote #295, 6/23/22; CQ, 6/23/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To The LGBTQI+ Data Inclusion Act Allowing Knowledgeable Proxies To Provide Information About A Deceased Individual In Surveys. In June 2022, Salazar voted against: “Carolyn B. Maloney, D-N.Y., for Sean Maloney, D-N.Y., amendment no. 2 to the bill that would amend the bill’s definition of ‘covered survey’ to include surveys in which a knowledgeable proxy provides information about a deceased individual.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 213-201. [H.R. 4176, Vote #Vote #294, 6/23/22; CQ, 6/23/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To The LGBTQI+ Data Inclusion Act Requiring The Government Accountability Office To Report To Congress On The Bill's Implementation. In June 2022, Salazar voted against: “Jackson Lee, D-Texas, amendment no. 1 to the bill that would require the Government Accountability Office, within two years of enactment, to report to Congress on the bill's implementation, including how it affected agency services to individuals based on gender identity, sexual orientation and variations in sex characteristics.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 216-200. [H.R. 4176, Vote #Vote #293, 6/23/22; CQ, 6/23/22]

Salazar Voted For Requiring The Department Of Education And The Department Of Health And Human Services To Develop And Disseminate Materials To Assist Higher Education Institutions To Combat Alcohol And Substance Abuse. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Scott, D-Va., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Education Department and Health and Human Services departments, within 180 days of enactment, to enter into an interagency agreement to develop and disseminate criteria and best practices for institutions of higher education to implement evidence-based programs to prevent and provide support for alcohol and substance misuse, and to promote coordination and collaboration between institutions of higher education and state agencies administering substance abuse prevention and treatment block grants. It would authorize $15 million annually through fiscal 2028 for alcohol and drug misuse prevention grants to institutions of higher education and expand eligible uses of grant funds, including to support recovery and peer-to-peer support services and counseling; integrated primary care, substance use disorder and mental health services; re-entry assistance for students on academic probation due to a substance use disorder; and student and faculty education on recognizing substance use disorders and de-escalating crisis situations involving individuals with a substance use disorder.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 371-49. [H.R. 6493, Vote #Vote #292, 6/23/22; CQ, 6/23/22]

Salazar Voted For Requiring The Department Of Education To Encourage Higher Education Institutions To Implement Comprehensive Mental Health And Suicide Prevention Plans. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Scott, D-Va., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Education Department, in coordination with the Health and Human Services Department, to encourage higher education institutions to develop and implement comprehensive campus mental health and suicide prevention plans that align with approaches recommended by the Suicide Prevention Resource Center and other established programs and take into consideration existing federal and state efforts.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 405-16. [H.R. 5407, Vote #Vote #291, 6/23/22; CQ, 6/23/22]

Salazar Voted For Extending The National School Lunch Program Waiver Authority Through The 2022-2023 School Year. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Scott, D-Va., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would extend waiver authority for school district summer meal programs through September 2022; provide new waiver authority for the 2022-2023 school year; and extend 'meal pattern' waiver authority to exempt certain school districts from food nutrition requirements through June 2023. For the 2022-2023 school year, it would increase federal reimbursement rates, providing an additional 40 cents for school lunches and 15 cents for school breakfasts, and it would expand eligibility for free school lunches to all students from families with incomes at or below 185 percent of the federal poverty line. It would also increase federal reimbursement rates to provide an additional 10 cents for meals provided under the Child and Adult Care Food Program for day care centers. It would provide such sums as necessary for the costs of waivers and increased reimbursements and require the USDA to provide technical assistance to states and school food authorities to assist with transitioning school meal program operations after waivers expire. As an offset, it would permanently rescind $3.9 billion in unobligated COVID-19 relief funding.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 376-42. [S. 2089, Vote #Vote #290, 6/23/22; CQ, 6/23/22]

- The School Lunch Waivers Allowed The Agriculture Department To Waive Various Requirements That Govern School Lunches And Increased Reimbursement Rates For School Food Programs. “The waivers were originally created as a part of pandemic relief at the start of 2020. They allow the Agriculture Department to waive various requirements that govern how schools can serve meals and who can get them. The waivers also increased the reimbursement rates for school food programs.” [NPR, 6/21/22]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Unmask Our Kids Act, Which Would Block Federal Funds From Schools That Engage In Remote Learning And Maintain Student Mask Mandates. In February 2022, Salazar voted against: “Raskin, D-Md., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Fischbach said, “That is why if we defeat the previous question, I will personally offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider H.R. 6619, the Unmask Our Kids Act. This legislation would block education agencies from receiving Federal funding unless schools are open for in-person learning and school mask mandates allow parents to opt out on behalf of their children.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. Motion agreed to by a vote of 221-205. [H. Res. 912, Vote #Vote #35, 2/8/22; CQ, 2/8/22; Congressional Record, 2/8/22]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of A Bill That Would Require Schools To Resume In-Person Instruction In Order To Receive Certain Federal Funds. In January 2022, Salazar voted against: “Perlmutter D-Colo. motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Reschenthaler said, “Madam Speaker, that is why if we defeat the previous question, I will personally offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider H.R. 682, the Reopen Schools Act.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. Motion agreed to by a vote of 219-203. [H Res. 860, Vote #Vote #2, 1/11/22; CQ, 1/11/22; Congressional Record, 1/11/22]

In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the Torres, D-Calif., motion to order the previous question (thus limiting debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Cole said, “If we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment on the rule to immediately bring up H.R. 6056, the Parents Bill of Rights Act.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 218-209. [H. Res. 829, Vote #Vote #395, 12/2/21; CQ, 12/2/21; Congressional Record, 12/2/21]

Salazar Voted For The Expansion Of Eligibility And Revision Of Verification Requirements For A Higher Education Teacher Assistance Grant Program. In September 2021 Salazar voted for: “Scott, D-Va., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would expand eligibility and modify service verification requirements for the Education Department's Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education grant program, which provides grants to undergraduate and graduate students who agree to teach for four years following graduation as full-time teachers in a high-need field serving low-income students. Among other provisions, it would allow grant recipients to serve in high-need geographic areas, in addition to high-need subject areas. It would permit recipients whose grants have been converted into loans due to failure to meet program requirements to request that they be reverted to grants, with an extended service obligation window, under certain conditions. It would extend the service obligation window up to three years for grant recipients whose service was impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic.” The motion passed by a vote of 406-16. [S. 848, Vote #Vote #302, 9/28/21; CQ, 9/28/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Direct The Holder Of A Private Education Loan To Discharge Loan In The Event Of Borrowers Death Or Disability. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Dean, D-Pa., amendment no. 5 that would direct the holder of a private education loan to discharge the loan in the event of the borrower's death or total and permanent disability.” The amendment was adopted 219 to 204. [HR 4350, Vote #Vote #269, 9/22/21; CQ, 9/23/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of A Bill Aimed At Curtailing The Teaching Of Critical Race Theory In Schools. In July 2021, voted against: “McGovern, D-Mass., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment). According to the Congressional Record,
Rep. Cole said, “if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to bring up H.R. 4698 for immediate consideration. This bill addresses the growing problem in American schools of educators pushing their own ideology onto students by forcing them to use the pedagogy of critical race theory.” A vote for the motion was a block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to 217 to 201. [HR 555, Vote #Vote #222, 7/27/21; CQ, 7/27/21; Congressional Record, 7/27/21]

Election Law, Voting Rights and Campaign Finance

Salazar Voted Against The Freedom To Vote: John R. Lewis Act. In January 2022 Salazar voted against: “Butterfield, D-N.C., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill (HR 5746) with a further House amendment containing an election integrity and voting rights package. Among other provisions related to voter access and election security, the bill would require states to allow online and same-day registration, automatically register eligible voters, allow early voting at least 15 days before election day, carry out a program to track and confirm receipt of all absentee ballots, require voting via paper ballots, and accept certain alternate forms of voter identification. It would establish uniform criteria for states' congressional redistricting plans to prevent partisan gerrymandering and protect political participation of minority groups. It would prohibit any attempt to prevent an individual from registering to vote, prohibit certain practices related to voter intimidation and harassment of election workers, and prohibit states from restricting the provision of food and nonalcoholic beverages at polling locations. It would make Election Day a federal holiday and include provisions to improve voter access for individuals with disabilities. Among other provisions related to campaign finance, the bill would modify or establish public financing mechanisms for presidential and congressional election campaigns that would match 600% of each contribution of up to $200 for candidates whose campaigns do not accept contributions of more than $1,000 per individual donor and do not use more than $50,000 of the candidate's personal funds. It would create a public financing voucher pilot program in three states, under which each eligible voter could donate $25 in public funding credit to House candidates. It would expand disclosure requirements for large campaign contributions, require candidates and political committees to report foreign contacts to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and prohibit the creation of corporations to conceal foreign election contributions. Among other provisions to strengthen anti-discrimination enforcement authorities in relation to voting practices, the bill would effectively restore preclearance requirements under the Voting Rights Act for any changes to voting practices in states and localities with a history of voting rights violations in the previous 25 years. It would establish formulas to identify such jurisdictions, which would be required to submit proposed changes to the Justice Department for preclearance before implementation. It would require states and localities to review election practices to identify any practices that could impact the ability to vote based on race, color or language minority group and subject any such practices to federal preclearance. It would expand Justice Department authority to assign federal election observers to ensure compliance with federal voting rights protections. It would require states and localities to provide public notice regarding any changes to voting procedures made within 180 days of a federal election, and regarding updated demographic data following any electoral district boundary changes.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220-203. [HR 5746, Vote #Vote #9, 1/13/22; CQ, 1/13/22]

- The Bill Was A Combination Of The Freedom To Vote Act, A Slimmed Down Version Of The For The People Act, And The John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act. “The Senate on Wednesday voted against the Freedom to Vote Act and The John Lewis Voting Rights...
Advancement Act, striking the fatal blow into Senate Democrats' effort to pass major voting rights legislation. On January 13, the House passed the two bills, now combined into one, titled 'Freedom to Vote: John R. Lewis Act.' Democrats used an unrelated NASA bill as a legislative vehicle to fast-track consideration of the measure in the Senate. If the bills had passed, they would have massed reshaped the landscape of voting and election administration in the United States. The Freedom to Vote Act would standardize voting election laws across the country and would significantly expand voting access, including reversing the effects of dozens of new state-level voting restrictions passed this year. The John Lewis bill would restore key provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965 that have been struck down or weakened by the Supreme Court, and change the way federal courts handle election cases.” [Business Insider, 1/20/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering The Freedom To Vote: John R. Lewis Act. In January 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 868) that would provide for floor consideration of the House amendment to the Senate amendment to the legislative vehicle (HR 5746) for voting rights legislation. It would provide for up to one hour of debate on a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill, with a further House amendment.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 220-202. [H. Res. 868, Vote #Vote #8, 1/12/22; CQ, 1/12/22]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of A Resolution Recognizing That Allowing Illegal Immigrants The Right To Vote Devalues The Franchise And Diminishes The Voting Power Of United States Citizens. In January 2022, Salazar voted against: “McGovern D-Mass. motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Fischbach said, “Madam Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, Republicans will offer an amendment to the rule allowing for the immediate consideration of H. Res. 866.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. Motion agreed to by a vote of 220-201. [H. Res. 868, Vote #Vote #7, 1/12/22; CQ, 1/12/22; Congressional Record, 1/12/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment Granting The Government Accountability Office Access To Information In The Possession Of The Intelligence Community. In December 2021, Salazar voted against: “Ocasio-Cortez, D-N.Y, amendment no. 25 that would require the national intelligence director to ensure that Government Accountability Office personnel are provided with access to all information in the possession of the intelligence community that the GAO determines is necessary to conduct an analysis, evaluation or investigation of a program or activity of an element of the intelligence community that is requested by Congress. It would require the GAO to establish procedures to protect the confidentiality of such information.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 196-233. [HR 5314, Vote #Vote #438, 12/09/21; CQ, 12/09/21]

Salazar Voted For En Bloc Amendment No. 2, Striking Most Of The Protecting Our Democracy Act’s Provisions, And Requiring The President To Notify Congress And Provide Rationale Before Removing An Inspector General. In December 2021, Salazar voted for: “Carolyn B. Maloney, D-N.Y., en bloc amendments no. 2 that would strike a section to specify that time during a president’s or vice president’s tenure would not be included in the statute of limitations for any federal criminal offense committed by that person; and would strike the most of the bill’s provisions, except two sections related to protecting the independence of inspectors general. It also would modify the inspectors general language to require the president to notify Congress and provide a detailed rationale prior to removing.
Salazar Voted Against En Bloc Amendment No. 1, Including 31 Amendments Protecting Election Officials, Increasing Accountability In The Executive Branch, Combating Digital Misinformation, And Protecting Whistleblowers. In December 2021, Salazar voted against: “Carolyn B. Maloney, D-N.Y., en bloc amendments no. 1 that would include 31 amendments to the bill that would, among other provisions, establish protections for personally identifiable information of election officials who they have received threats related to their service; prohibit the president, vice president and cabinet members from contracting with the federal government; direct the Federal Election Commission to issue guidance for political committees on cybersecurity risks; establish an inspector general for the Office of Management and Budget; establish disclosure requirements for internet and digital political advertising; prohibit the use of deepfakes, or materially deceptive audio or visual media, of a federal election candidate; impose various limitations on national emergency powers; extend whistleblower protections to fellows or interns at federal agencies; and codify an executive order requiring all executive branch personnel to sign an ethics pledge.” The amendment bloc was adopted by a vote of 218-211. [HR 5314, Vote #436, 12/09/21; CQ, 12/09/21]

Salazar Voted Against The John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act. In August 2021 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would include a number of provisions to strengthen anti-discrimination enforcement authorities in relation to voting practices. The bill would effectively restore preclearance requirements under the Voting Rights Act for any changes to voting practices in states and localities with a history of voting rights violations within the previous 25 years. It would establish formulas to identify such jurisdictions, which would be required to submit proposed changes to the Justice Department for review and approval before they may be implemented. It would establish an "administrative bailout" provision allowing jurisdictions to apply for exemptions to preclearance requirements if they meet eligibility standards related to not implementing discriminatory practices in the previous 10 years. It would also require states and localities to review any newly enacted or adopted election practices to identify whether they include certain practices that could impact the ability to vote based on race, color or language minority group, such as changes to impose stricter voter identification requirements; changes to jurisdictional boundaries or voting locations in jurisdictions with large minority populations; and changes that prohibit the provision of food or drinks to individuals waiting to vote. It would require jurisdictions that adopt such practices to submit them for federal preclearance. It would codify or expand various requirements for court evaluation of "vote denial" and "vote dilution" discrimination claims and other voting rights violations, including to provide for violations in the case of voting practices that have the purpose or will have the effect of denying or abridging the right to vote on account of race or color, including rules that have not yet been implemented. It would expand certain voting rights enforcement authorities, including to allow courts to grant injunctions or require judicial preclearance for changes to voting practices in response to any federal voting rights law prohibiting racial or language discrimination. Among other provisions, it would expand Justice Department authority to assign federal election observers to ensure compliance with federal voting rights protections, including bilingual election requirements. It would require states and localities to provide public notice of any changes to voting procedures made within 180 days of a federal election and to provide public notice of updated demographic data within ten days of any change to electoral district boundaries. It would require the department to make grants to small jurisdictions with a population of 10,000 or less to help them comply with public notice requirements related to voting practices.” The motion was agreed to 219-212. [H Res 4, Vote #Vote #260, 8/24/21; CQ, 8/24/21]

• Roll Call: “The Chief Aim” Of The John Lewis VRAA Was To Restore DOJ’s “Ability To Preclear [...] Election Law Changes In Jurisdictions That Have A History Of Discriminatory Voting Practices.” “The chief aim of the bill is to bring back and update the Justice Department’s ability to preclear, or give the OK to, election law changes in jurisdictions that have a history of discriminatory voting practices against minority voters. Congress is responding to the Supreme Court’s 2013 Shelby County v. Holder decision, which invalidated the mechanism the Justice Department had previously used, which was a provision of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.” [Roll Call, 8/31/21]

• Roll Call: The Bill Would Subject Voter ID And Voter Purge Laws To Preclearance In A Wider Range Of Jurisdictions. “The bill would also subject certain proposed laws to preclearance, even potentially in jurisdictions that would not otherwise fall under the 25-year lookback criteria. The bill’s Section 6 would set out several practices, including changes to voter identification needed to vote and maintenance of voter rolls, that could be subject to preclearance. ‘All those that have been shown to be discriminatory would need to be precleared,’ Spaulding said.” [Roll Call, 8/31/21]

Salazar Voted Against Considering 3 Resolutions, The 2022 Budget Resolution, The John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act, And The Bipartisan Infrastructure Package. In August 2021 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 601) that would provide for House floor consideration of the fiscal 2022 budget resolution (S Con Res 14), the John R. Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act (HR 4) and the bipartisan infrastructure package (HR 3684). The rule would provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to the fiscal 2022 budget resolution (S Con Res 14). It would provide for up to one hour of general debate each on HR 4 and on a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to HR 3684. It would require the House to consider the motion to concur in the Senate amendment to HR 3684 on Sept. 27, 2021, if the motion is not offered prior to that date. It would also provide for automatic adoption of a Nadler, D-N.Y., manager's amendment to HR 4 that would, among other provisions, clarify and expand considerations related to court evaluation of voting rights violations, including to require that courts consider whether a voting practice was designed to and does advance a "valid and substantiated" state interest. The manager's amendment would specify that a provision related to violations in the case of voting practices that have not yet been implemented would apply to practices enacted on or after Jan. 1, 2021, and it would add an "administrative bailout" provision allowing political subdivisions to apply for exemptions to the bill’s preclearance requirements for changes to voting practices if they meet certain eligibility standards related to not implementing discriminatory practices in the previous 10 years.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 220-212. [H Res 601, Vote #Vote #258, 8/24/21; CQ, 8/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against The For the People Act, Expanding Access To Voting And Overhauling Campaign Finance And Ethics Laws. In March 2021, Salazar voted against The For The People Act. NPR described the bill: “The [For The People Act] seeks ‘to expand Americans' access to the ballot box, reduce the influence of big money in politics, strengthen ethics rules for public servants, and implement other anti-corruption measures for the purpose of fortifying our democracy, and for other purposes.’ The bill's language calls for a complete overhaul of the current system, which varies widely by state and which critics say promotes unfair barriers to voting. Included in the act is mandatory automatic voter registration, restoring voting rights to people with completed felony sentences and a reversal of state voter ID laws that would allow citizens to make a sworn statement affirming their identity if they were unable to produce an ID. [...] in politics by requiring organizations to disclose large donors, and it creates a matching system for small donations.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220 - 210. Salazar Voted Against Lowering The Voter Age To 16. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Pressley, D-Mass., amendment no. 37 that would lower the minimum voting age to 16 years, beginning with elections held in 2022, by prohibiting states from refusing to permit an individual to register to vote or vote in a federal election on the basis of age, if the individual will be at least 16 years old on the election date.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 125 - 302. [HR 1, Vote #Vote #57, 3/3/21; CQ, 3/3/21]

Salazar Voted Against Requiring Disclaimers On Online Material Distributed On Behalf Of A Foreign Entity And Requiring Polling Locations To Operate For Four Hours Outside Of Business Hours. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Lofgren, D-Calif., en bloc amendments no. 4 that would, among other provisions, require conspicuous disclaimers when any informational material on an online platform is distributed on behalf of a foreign entity; require online platforms to generate a public record of political advertisements; require states to run polling locations that are open for at least four hours outside of the period between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.; and require the Government Accountability Office's to assess the extent to which the small-contribution public financing program established by the bill increases opportunities for candidates of diverse racial, gender and socioeconomic backgrounds.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 223 - 208. [HR 1, Vote #Vote #58, 3/3/21; CQ, 3/3/21]

Salazar Voted Against Requiring Early Voting Locations On College Campuses And Reserving Voter Registration Grants For HBCUs. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Lofgren, D-Calif., en bloc amendments no. 1 that would, among other provisions, require states to ensure that polling places that allow early voting be located on campuses of higher education institutions; require the Education Department to ensure that 25 percent of funds for certain student voter registration grants to higher education institutions be reserved for historically Black colleges and universities and other minority-serving institutions; require states to ensure that in counties with at least 20,000 registered voters at least one drop box is open to accept ballots for 24 hours a day; and require the Election Assistance Commission to conduct a study on the 2020 elections and compile a list of recommendations to help states transition to or improve their current vote-by-mail system.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 218 – 210. [HR 1, Vote #Vote #52, 3/2/21; CQ, 3/2/21]

Salazar Voted Against Granting Voting Rights To Individuals Serving Felony Sentences. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Bush, D-Mo., amendment no. 14 [that would] strike language that would allow the denial of voting rights to individuals serving felony sentences in correctional institutions at the time of an election.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 97 – 328. [HR 1, Vote #Vote #53, 3/2/21; CQ, 3/2/21]

of a national strategy to protect against cyber attacks, influence operations, disinformation campaigns and other activities that could undermine the security and integrity of U.S. democratic institutions, and that would establish a commission to counter efforts to undermine democratic institutions within the United States." The motion was rejected by a vote of 207 – 218. [HR 1, Vote #Vote #54, 3/2/21; CQ, 3/2/21]

Salazar Voted Against Adapting Elections Materials To Local Language Preferences And Blocking Changes To USPS That Would Restrict Delivery Of Voting Materials. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Lofgren, D-Calif., en bloc amendments no. 3 that would, among other provisions, bar the U.S. Postal Service from carrying out any new operational change within 120 days before a federal election that would restrict the delivery of voting materials; direct the Election Assistance Commission to appoint a senior cyber policy advisor to be the primary policy advisor to the commission on cybersecurity matters for federal elections; require election officials to take the linguistic preferences of voters in the jurisdiction into account when posting required notices at polling locations; prohibit taxpayer funds from being deposited into a public campaign fund created by the bill; apply a number of laws related to voter registration and protections to U.S. territories; and permit the placement of statues honoring citizens of each U.S. territory in Statuary Hall.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 221 - 207. ### Energy & Environment

Salazar Voted For Reauthorization Of The National Park Foundation At $15 Million Annually Through FY 2030. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Huffman, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would reauthorize the National Park Foundation for seven years and triple the annual authorization amount, authorizing $15 million annually through fiscal 2030.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 397-22. [H.R. 7693, Vote #Vote #378, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted For Prohibiting The U.S. Fish And Wildlife Service From Providing Financial Assistance Or Support To A Foreign Security Force With A Gross Human Rights Violation. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Huffman, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would prohibit the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service from providing financial assistance or support to any unit of a foreign security force if the agency or the State Department has credible information that the unit has committed a gross human rights violation, unless the recipient is taking steps to address and prevent future violations. It would require a number of administrative procedures to prevent funding for entities disqualified for funding, including to require the service to establish and periodically update procedures to identify human rights violators; incorporate into the terms of agreement for conservation grants that the recipient will not commit, fund or support human rights violations; and perform regular audits of funding recipients. It would require recipients to refer all credible information of human rights violations in connection with the financial award to the service.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 379-43. [H.R. 7025, Vote #Vote #377, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted For A Study Of A Segment Of The Kissimmee River In Central Florida For Potential Inclusion In The National Wild And Scenic Rivers System. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Huffman, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would designate a restored segment of the Kissimmee River in central Florida for study for potential inclusion in the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System. It would specify that the designation would not interfere with the current management of the area and could not be used to justify more restrictive management until Congress acts on the study recommendations." The motion was agreed to by a vote of 377-45. [H.R. 4404, Vote #Vote #376, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

Salazar Voted For A Group Of Bills To Establish National Heritage Areas And Long-Distance Bike Trails And To Authorize The St. Louis Missouri Gateway Arch To Be Lit In Support Of Ukraine. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: "DeLauro, D-Conn., motion to suspend the rules and pass five bills, en bloc." "A bill to establish in the States of North Carolina and South Carolina the Southern Campaign of the Revolution National Heritage Corridor, and for other purposes." "A bill to establish the Southern Maryland National Heritage Area, and for other purposes." "A bill to establish the Alabama Black Belt National Heritage Area, and for other purposes." "A bill to require the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture to develop long-distance bike trails on Federal land, and for other purposes." "A bill to authorize the Gateway Arch in St. Louis, Missouri, to be illuminated by blue and yellow lights in support of Ukraine." The motion was agreed to by a vote of 365-57. Salazar Voted Against The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act To Increase Biofuel Adoption And Investment And Expand Fuel Choices For Consumers. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: "Passage of the bill, as amended, that would provide $700 million in supplemental fiscal 2023 appropriations and authorize or require various Agriculture Department activities to reduce food production costs; support biofuel infrastructure upgrades to reduce fuel costs; expand livestock and poultry processing capacities; and address supply chain resilience in the food and agriculture sectors. Within supplemental appropriations, it would provide $500 million for additional payments to producers under the Environmental Quality Incentives Program to implement crop nutrient management practices or precision agriculture practices, which use new technologies to increase crop yields or decrease needed inputs such as land, fertilizer and herbicides. It would also modify existing USDA conservation programs to provide additional support, including loans and loan guarantees, for farmers and ranchers to adopt precision agriculture practices and acquire related technology. Within supplemental appropriations, it would provide $200 million for grants to transportation fueling and distribution facilities, fuel terminal operations and heating oil distribution facilities to install or upgrade fuel infrastructure to ensure the environmentally safe availability of fuel containing ethanol blends at levels greater than 10 percent or biodiesel blends at levels greater than five percent, or to build and retrofit existing systems to blend biodiesel and carry ethanol and biodiesel. It would also authorize the EPA to extend a waiver to allow the sale of gasoline blended with more than 10 percent ethanol. The bill would also authorize $120 million annually through fiscal 2025 for USDA loans, loan guarantees and grants for public and private entities to expand and diversify livestock or poultry processing capabilities and promote local and interstate sales by meeting relevant regulatory standards. It would establish a USDA special investigator?s office to investigate and prosecute violations of competition and trade practices by packers and live poultry dealers and consult with the Homeland Security Department on security issues in the food and agriculture sector. To address supply chain issues, it would authorize $100 million for grants, loans and other assistance to address fertilizer shortages, including by reducing dependence on foreign sources and supporting efficient and sustainable fertilizer use; direct the USDA to establish at least six Supply Chain Regional Resource Centers to provide grants and assistance to small- and medium-sized agricultural producers and businesses to address supply chain challenges; and require the USDA to establish a temporary food system supply chain resilience and crisis response task force.” The bill passed by a vote of 221-204, [H.R. 7606, Vote #Vote #277, 6/16/22; CQ, 6/16/22]

- The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act Lifted Summer Restrictions On E15 Gas, Which Was Cheaper Than Regular E10 Gas. “The Lower Food and Fuel Costs Act contains a number of separate agriculture provisions aimed at addressing food costs and supply chain issues. On the energy side, it would remove summertime restrictions on the sale of a 15 percent ethanol blend, a policy similar to provisions included in an executive order signed by President Biden earlier this month. [...] The Renewable Fuels Association, the primary lobbying group for biofuels, hailed the passage in a statement Thursday. ‘E15 typically sells for 10 to 40 cents per gallon less than regular E10 gasoline today, meaning consumers are saving several dollars each time they fill up their vehicle’s tank with E15 instead of E10,’ RFA President and CEO Geoff Cooper said in a statement.” [The Hill, 6/16/22]

- Renewable Fuels Association: Households Could Save Over $300 A Year By Switching To E15 Gas. “The Renewable Fuels Association welcomed passage of the bill. ‘By expanding the availability of cleaner, more-affordable ethanol blends, this legislation will help deliver immediate economic relief to American families who are feeling unprecedented pain at the pump,’ said Geoff Cooper, president and CEO of the RFA. ‘E15 typically sells for 10 to 40 cents per gallon less than regular E10 gasoline today, meaning consumers are saving several dollars each time they fill up their vehicle’s tank with E15 instead of E10. That means the typical household can save more than $300 on fuel expenses over the course of a year simply by choosing lower-carbon E15. RFA thanks Speaker Pelosi, Majority Leader Hoyer, and renewable fuel supporters from both parties for pushing this legislation over the goal line and delivering a win to hard-pressed American families dealing with inflationary pressures.’” [Biodiesel Magazine, 6/16/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act To Committee. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Cammack, R-Fla., motion to recommit the bill to the House Agriculture Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 206-218. [H.R. 7607, Vote #Vote #276, 6/16/22; CQ, 6/16/22]

Salazar Voted For The Recovering America’s Wildlife Act To Direct $3.2 Billion Through FY 2025 Then $1.3 Billion Annually To Support Wildlife Conservation And Restoration And Endangered Species Protection. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would establish two permanent mandatory spending programs and one four-year mandatory spending program to support wildlife conservation and restoration and endangered species protection. It would direct the Treasury Department to transfer a total of $3.2 billion through fiscal 2025, and $1.3 billion annually thereafter, for state wildlife and habitat conservation and restoration activities. It would allocate 90 percent of such funding for activities to implement and enhance state wildlife conservation strategies; endangered and threatened species recovery; wildlife conservation education and wildlife-associated recreation projects, especially in historically underserved communities; managing invasive species, diseases and other risks to species of greatest conservation need; and law enforcement related to species and habitat protection. It would allocate 10 percent of such funding for grants to state and regional fish and wildlife departments to support innovative techniques, tools and partnerships to advance endangered species and habitat recovery. The bill would direct the department to transfer $97.5 million annually beginning in fiscal 2023 to support tribal conservation activities, with at least 15 percent of funds reserved for threatened and endangered species recovery activities. Finally, it would direct the department to transfer a total of $750 million through fiscal 2026 for endangered species recovery and habitat conservation activities, including for grants to states and tribes to implement the backlog of activities identified in existing recovery plans, and for U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service activities to address interagency consultation responsibilities; work with nonfederal entities; and the permitting of voluntary conservation agreements.” The bill passed by a vote of 231-190. [H.R. 2773, Vote #Vote #267, 6/14/22; CQ, 6/14/22]

- State Fish And Wildlife Agencies Identified “Over 12,000 Species In Greatest Conservation Need.” “State Wildlife Action Plans serve as the blueprints for conserving our nation's fish and wildlife and preventing endangered species. In 2005, each state, territory and the District Columbia submitted their plan for approval to the US Fish and Wildlife Service as a condition for receiving funding through the State and Tribal Wildlife Grants program. The plans were recently updated with the latest science and information to guide conservation of over 12,000 species in greatest conservation need. Each plan addressed 8 required elements laid out by the US Congress. The plans were developed in collaboration with leading scientists, conservationists, private landowners and other citizens. Although progress is being made, many species of fish and wildlife continue to decline because funding is inadequate.” [Association of Fish and Wildlife Agencies, Accessed 6/15/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Recovering America’s Wildlife Act To Committee. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Fulcher, R-Idaho, motion to recommit the bill to the House Natural Resources Committee.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 202-220. [H.R. 2773, Vote #Vote #266, 6/14/22; CQ, 6/14/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Expand Wildlife Conservation And Restoration Grant Eligibility To Non-Profit Organizations. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Butterfield, D-N.C., for Kirkpatrick, D-Ariz., amendment no. 5 that would make nonprofit organizations eligible to receive wildlife conservation and restoration grants focused on innovative techniques and activities.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 216-206. [H.R. 2773, Vote #Vote #265, 6/14/22; CQ, 6/14/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Expand Funding Eligibility For Fish And Wildlife Endangered Species Conservation Activities To Include Efforts To Control And Prevent Invasive Species And Disease. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Kildee, D-Mich., amendment no.4 to that would specify that funds made available by the bill for U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service endangered species conservation activities with nonfederal entities may be used to control and prevent invasive species, disease and other risks to such species.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 231-189. [H.R. 2773, Vote #Vote #264, 6/14/22; CQ, 6/14/22]

Salazar Voted For En Bloc Amendments #2 To Establish A 1.85% Administrative Cost Limit For The Endangered Species Recovery And Conservation Grant Funds And Reserve 0.5% For Oversight Costs. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Dingell, D-Mich., en bloc amendments no. 2 that would prohibit the use of more than 1.85 percent of the endangered species recovery and conservation grant funds made available by the bill for administrative costs; and reserve one half of 1 percent of the amount made available by the bill for an endangered species recovery and habitat conservation legacy fund for the Interior Department inspector general for oversight and accountability activities with respect to expenditure of funds." The amendment was adopted by a vote of 412-8. [H.R. 2773, Vote #263, 6/14/22; CQ, 6/14/22]

Salazar Voted For En Bloc Amendments #1 To The Recovering America's Wildlife Act. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: "Dingell, D-Mich., en bloc amendments no. 1 that would specify that wildlife conservation and restoration grant funds made available by the bill may be used to expand the use of innovative technologies or strategies that accelerate, expand or replicate effective and measurable recovery efforts for species of greatest conservation need, threatened or endangered species, and their habitats; require the Interior Department to submit to Congress a report providing information on the dollar amount of grants and contracts under the bill, as well as the percentage of total awards and grants made to historically Black colleges and universities, Hispanic-serving educational institutions, tribally-controlled colleges and universities, minority-serving educational institutions, women- or minority-owned businesses, and community organizations that serve minority communities; specify that wildlife conservation and restoration grant funds made available by the bill may be used for infrastructure projects related to the protection and conservation of a species of greatest conservation need and its habitat; and specify that wildlife conservation and restoration grant funds made available by the bill may be used to conserve and restore a native pollinator species that is a species of greatest conservation need." The amendment was adopted by a vote of 276-147. [H.R. 2773, Vote #262, 6/14/22; CQ, 6/14/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering The Recovering America's Wildlife Act, The Financial Services Racial Equity, Inclusion, And Economic Justice Act, And The Lower Food And Fuel Costs Act. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: "Adoption of the rule (H Res 1170) for the Recovering America's Wildlife Act (HR 2773), the Financial Services Racial Equity, Inclusion, and Economic Justice Act (HR 2543) and the Lower Food and Fuel Costs Act (HR 7606). The rule would provide for up to one hour of debate on each bill; automatic adoption of manager's amendments to each bill; and floor consideration of eight amendments to HR 2773, 27 amendments to HR 2543 and two amendments to HR 7606. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Grijalva, D-Ariz., manager's amendment to HR 2773 that would make technical changes and strike provisions that would provide for any unappropriated amounts from fines and other revenues resulting from natural resource or environmental-related violations or enforcement actions by a federal agency to be made available for transfer to the tribal wildlife conservation and restoration fund established by the bill. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Waters, D-Calif., manager's amendment to HR 2543 that would make technical and clarifying changes to the bill. Among other provisions, it would require the Federal Housing Finance Agency and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau to publish translated versions of all mortgage documents in the language most commonly spoken by individuals with limited English proficiency; require CFPB to issue a final rule to implement language access requirements required by the bill; require the Treasury Department to allocate at least $1 billion within the Emergency Capital Investment Fund for financial and technical assistance grants to community development financial institutions; and authorize CDFIs to collect demographic data from borrowers and applicants for the exclusive purpose of ensuring that targeted populations and low-income residents of investment areas are adequately served. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Scott, D-Ga., manager's amendment to HR 7606 that would modify language that would authorize the Agriculture Department to make payments to producers to assist in reducing costs associated with the utilization of crop nutrients or to adopt precision agriculture practices and specify that the amounts of such payments must not exceed 100 percent of the activity costs in combination with any other federal funds for such activities; modify a provision that would authorize USDA grants for fuel infrastructure upgrades to ensure the environmentally safe availability of fuel containing biodiesel blends at levels greater than 5 percent, as opposed to 20 percent; and make technical changes. Finally, the rule would authorize through June 22, 2022, certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 218-204. [H. Res.
1170, Vote #Vote #260, 6/14/22; CQ, 6/14/22]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The American Energy Independence From Russia
Act. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “DeSaulnier, D-Calif., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep.
Reschenthaler said, “That is why if we defeat the previous question, I will personally offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider H.R. 6858, the American Energy Independence from Russia Act.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 216-199. [H. Res. 1170, Vote #Vote #259, 6/14/22; CQ, 6/14/22; Congressional Record, 6/14/22]

In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “DeFazio, D-Ore., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would authorize a wide range of Army Corps of Engineers projects and programs related to water resource development. It would authorize 18 new navigation, flood control, ecosystem restoration and natural disaster risk management construction projects totaling approximately $23.2 billion in federal funding, including $19.2 billion for coastal protection and restoration in Texas. It would authorize 119 new environmental infrastructure projects totaling over $3.8 billion in federal funding. It would authorize 72 new feasibility studies for possible projects and require the corps to expedite feasibility studies for 14 previously authorized projects. It would remove a requirement that a list of corps projects for potential deauthorization must include projects with an aggregate federal cost of at least $10 billion. Among other provisions, it would authorize $40 million for shoreline and riverine protection and restoration, $25 million for a coastal mapping study and demonstration project, and $10 million to assess opportunities to include solar energy panels in corps properties or water resources projects. It would double to $30 million annually the amount authorized for technical assistance to states in developing water resource plans; reauthorize the Tribal Partnership Program and the Levee Safety Initiative through fiscal 2026; and include a number of policy provisions related to dredging, coordination with tribal governments and climate change resiliency.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 384-37.

Salazar Voted Against The Consumer Fuel Price Gouging Prevention Act To Bar Excessive Or Exploitative Fuel Prices. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would prohibit the sale of consumer fuel at excessive costs during a presidentially declared energy emergency. Specifically, the bill would allow the president to issue an energy emergency proclamation for any U.S. area for a renewable period of up to 30 days. During an energy emergency period, it would prohibit the sale of consumer fuel at a price that is ‘unconscionably excessive’ and indicates that the seller is ‘exploiting’ the circumstances of the emergency to unreasonably increase prices. It would direct the Federal Trade Commission to enforce such violations under existing law related to unfair or deceptive practices. It would establish an affirmative defense for civil and administrative action brought to enforce the violation that an increase in price ‘reasonably reflects’ additional costs or risks taken to produce, distribute, obtain or sell fuel. It would specify aggravating and mitigating factors in determining violations including whether the price grossly exceeds the average price of fuel offered in the 30 days before the emergency proclamation or during a benchmark period established by the FTC; whether the price grossly exceeds the average price offered during the emergency period by other sellers in the same area; and whether the quantity of fuel produced, distributed or sold increased in an area during the emergency period, accounting for usual seasonal variation. Among other provisions related to enforcement, it would require the FTC to prioritize enforcement against companies with sales over $500 million annually; allow state attorneys general to enforce the prohibition through civil action and allow the FTC to intervene in such cases; and establish the Consumer Relief Trust Fund for funds collected from penalties, to be used to provide energy assistance to low-income households. It would also increase from $1 million to $2 million the maximum penalty under existing law and expand FTC enforcement authority for market manipulation and sharing false information with respect to transportation fuel pricing. It would require the Energy Department's Energy Information Administration to conduct surveys of energy companies to collect information on U.S. crude oil and transportation fuel markets and share survey results and related analyses with the public and the FTC. It would require the FTC to investigate and create a strategy to address price manipulation and price gouging practices for gasoline during national or international emergencies.” The bill passed by a vote of 217-207. [H.R.
7688, Vote #Vote #232, 5/19/22; CQ, 5/19/22]

- The Price Gouging Prevention Bill “Prohibit[ed] Price Increases During National Emergencies” And Authorized The Federal Trade Commission “To Issue Penalties For Price Gouging.” “The measure, which is unlikely to garner the Republican support needed to become law, would prohibit price increases during national energy emergencies declared by the president. [...] The bill, called the Consumer Fuel Price Gouging Prevention Act, would also give the Federal Trade Commission the power to issue penalties for price gouging, according to a summary of the legislation. It would prioritize penalizing larger companies, while protecting independently owned gas stations.” [Bloomberg, 5/12/22]

- March 2022: 87% Of Voters Supported “A Crackdown On Price Gouging By Oil Companies, Including 63% Who Strongly Favor It.” “Of all the actions the President and Congress might take to address the problem of rising gasoline prices and long-term energy costs, the one voters support most strongly and most broadly is cracking down on price gouging and excessive price increases by oil companies. Eighty-seven percent (87%) of voters favor a crackdown on price gouging by oil companies, including 63% who strongly favor it. One reason voters are so emphatic about cracking down on price gouging is that they believe oil company CEOs are “profiteering” off of the war between Russia and Ukraine and are using the war as an opportunity to raise gas prices just to increase their profits. [...] 49% say the prices at the pump are a reflection of oil companies wanting to increase their profits as much as possible.” [Hart
Research Associates, 3/15/22]
May 2022: The Average Gas Price Hit A Record High Of $4.59 Per Gallon And Was Expected To Remain High Through The Summer. “Gas prices continued to rise across the U.S. this week, and pressure on the pump is unlikely to decrease as the summer travel season begins. The average price for a gallon of regular unleaded gasoline in the U.S. hit a record of $4.59 on Thursday, according to AAA. It is the highest national average recorded by AAA since they began tracking fuel costs in 2000. On average, prices are about 50 cents more a gallon than they were a month ago. A year ago, the average cost of a gallon of gas was $3.04, according to the group. [...] Prices are expected to remain high throughout the summer. Mr. Gladden of AAA said prices typically decline by the end of summer, but what happens this year remains unclear.” [Wall Street Journal, 5/19/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Consumer Fuel Price Gouging Prevention Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Westerman, R-Ark., motion to recommit the bill to the House Energy and Commerce Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 201-220. [H.R. 7688, Vote #Vote #231, 5/19/22; CQ, 5/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Establish A Federal Trade Commission Unit To Monitor Transportation Fuel Markets And Enforce Penalties For Related Violations. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Pappas, D-N.H., amendment no. 2 to HR 7688 that would require the Federal Trade Commission to establish a transportation fuel monitoring and enforcement unit tasked with collecting and analyzing crude oil and transportation fuel market data to support transparent market prices; identify market manipulation and false information reporting; and facilitate penalty enforcement for violations of relevant statutory prohibitions. It would authorize such sums as necessary through fiscal 2027 for such activities.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 214-207. [H.R. 7688, Vote #Vote #230, 5/19/22; CQ, 5/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Authorize $1 Million For The Federal Trade Commission To Investigate Gas Price Manipulation Through Refining Capacity Reduction Or Other Market Manipulation. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Demings, D-Fla., amendment no. 1 to HR 7688 that would authorize $1 million for fiscal 2023 for the Federal Trade Commission to conduct an investigation to determine if the price of gasoline is being manipulated by reducing refinery capacity or any other form of market manipulation or being artificially increased by price gouging practices, including to consider the impact of mergers and acquisitions in the oil and gas industry. It would require the FTC to report to Congress on the investigation within 270 days of enactment and provide a long-term strategy to address oil and gas market manipulation during times of national or international crisis or emergency.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 217-205. [H.R. 7688, Vote #Vote #229, 5/19/22; CQ, 5/19/22]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The American Energy Independence From Russia Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Scanlon, D-Pa., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Burgess said, “Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, Republicans will amend the rule to consider H.R. 6858, the American Energy Independence from Russia Act, introduced by Ranking Members MCMORRIS RODGERS and WESTERMAN.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 221-195. [H. Res. 1119, Vote #Vote #186, 5/17/22; CQ, 5/17/22; Congressional Record, 5/17/22]
Salazar Voted For Authorizing $1.5 Million For The National Oceanic And Atmospheric Administration Conduct A Study On The Research Needs For Precipitation Estimation. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Stevens, D-Mich., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would authorize $1.5 million for the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration to enter into an agreement with the National Academies to conduct a study and report to Congress within two years of enactment on the research needs for precipitation estimation, which informs local governments and emergency management agencies with respect to flood risk and infrastructure planning. It would authorize $47 million through fiscal 2027 for NOAA to develop a plan to update probable maximum precipitation estimates for the U.S. at least once every 10 years; conduct research on extreme precipitation estimation; improve access to and preservation of all relevant data and studies; and establish and publish best practices for probable maximum precipitation studies.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 333-81. Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of A Bill Increasing Oil And Gas Production On Federal Lands If The Strategic Petroleum Reserve Is Used For A Non-Emergency. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “McGovern, D-Mass., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Reschenthaler said, “Mr. Speaker, if we defeat the previous question, I will personally offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider H.R. 6235, the Strategic Production Response Act. This legislation would require the Secretary of Energy to develop a plan to increase oil and gas production on Federal lands if the President uses the Strategic Petroleum Reserve for non-emergency reasons.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220-210. [H. Res. 849, Vote #Vote #443, 12/14/21; CQ, 12/14/21; Congressional Record, 12/14/21]

- Energy And Commerce Committee Republicans Introduced A Bill In Reaction To Use Of The Strategic Petroleum Reserve “As A Bailout For The President’s Anti-Fossil Fuel Agenda.” “Energy and Commerce Committee Republicans, [...] are introducing a new bill today to protect the Strategic Petroleum Reserve (SPR) and strengthen our nation’s energy security. [...] ‘The Strategic Petroleum Reserve was created by Congress to respond to oil supply disruptions that may arise after a natural disaster or war. The SPR is not supposed to be tapped as a bailout for the President’s anti-fossil fuel agenda, which has led to the highest gas prices in seven years.’ Leader Rodgers said.” [republicans-energycommerce.house.gov, Press Release, 12/9/21]

- President Biden Announced Release Of Strategic Petroleum Reserve To Lower Oil And Gas Prices And Address Post-Pandemic Supply Issues. “Today, the President is announcing that the Department of Energy will make available releases of 50 million barrels of oil from the Strategic Petroleum Reserve to lower prices for Americans and address the mismatch between demand exiting the pandemic and supply.” [White House, Release, 11/23/21]

Salazar Voted For Using Funds Collected From Damages To U.S. Forest Service Property To Help Restore And Rehabilitate Affected Lands. In December 2021, Salazar voted for: “Scott, D-Ga., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Treasury Department to invest any funds collected in a forfeiture, judgment or settlement related to damage to U.S. Forest Service property -- including funds collected prior to enactment -- in interest-bearing accounts, with any interest earned available to the Forest Service to cover assessment, improvement, protection, restoration and rehabilitation activities on affected lands.” Motion agreed to by a vote of 385-42. [HR 4498, Vote #Vote #410, 12/08/21; CQ, 12/08/21]

Salazar Voted For A Study To Assess Designating Areas Along The Utah-Idaho Border As The Bear River National Heritage Area. In November 2021 Salazar voted for: “Leger Fernandez, D-N.M., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require the Interior Department to conduct a study to assess the suitability and feasibility of designating certain areas along the Utah-Idaho border as the Bear River National Heritage Area.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 399-23. [H.R. 3616, Vote #Vote #344, 11/2/21; CQ, 11/2/21]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Provide An Apology On Behalf Of Congress To Those Exposed To Radiation From Nuclear Testing. In September 2021, Salazar voted for: “Leger Fernandez, D-N.M., amendment no. 241 that would provide an apology on behalf of Congress to individuals in New Mexico, Utah, Idaho and other specified states and territories who were exposed to radiation from nuclear testing.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 240 to 185. [HR 4350, Vote #Vote #291, 9/23/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Designate Or Expand New Wilderness Areas On Federal Land. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “DeGette, D-Colo., amendment no. 16 that would insert certain provisions from a bill (HR 803) related to designating certain federal lands in California, Colorado and Washington as new, expanded or potential wilderness areas.” The amendment was adopted 222 to 200. [HR 4350, Vote #Vote #273, 9/22/21; CQ, 9/23/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Modify Land Use Authorities To Preserve Federal Land In Colorado And The Grand Canyon Region. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Neguse, D-Colo., amendment no. 17 that would insert the provisions of bills (HR 577 and HR 1052) that would modify land use authorities for certain federal lands in Colorado and the Grand Canyon region of Arizona.” The amendment was adopted 222 to 204. [HR 4350, Vote #Vote #274, 9/22/21; CQ, 9/23/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Require The Defense Department To Provide Training To Medical Providers On PFAS. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Slotkin, D-Mich., amendment no. 15 that would require the Defense Department to provide department medical providers with mandatory training with respect to the potential health effects of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances.” The amendment was adopted 236 to 186. [HR 4350, Vote #Vote #272, 9/22/21; CQ, 9/23/21]

Salazar Voted Against The PFAS Action Act, Authorizing The EPA To Address The Impacts Of Per-And Polyfluoroalkyl Substances (PFAS) On Drinking Water. In February 2015, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would require the Environmental Protection Agency to take a number of regulatory actions and establish grant programs to address the impacts of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, or PFAS. Specifically, it would require the EPA to designate certain PFAS -- perfluorooctanoic acid and its salts, as well as perfluorooctane sulfonic acid and its salts -- as hazardous chemicals under the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act and determine whether all PFAS should be designated as such within five years of enactment. It would require the EPA to issue a national primary drinking water regulation for maximum contaminant levels of certain PFAS, within two years of enactment, and issue health advisories for PFAS not subject to the regulation. It would authorize $500 million annually through fiscal 2026 for an EPA infrastructure assistance grant program for community water systems affected by PFAS to implement water treatment technologies that can remove all detectable amounts of PFAS from drinking water. It would require the EPA to establish effluent limits and pretreatment standards for PFAS in wastewater and authorize $200 million annually through fiscal 2026 for an EPA grant program to help publicly owned treatment works implement such standards. It would authorize $100 million annually through 2026 for an EPA grant program to test for and install and maintain water filtration systems to address PFAS in school drinking water. Among other provisions, it would require the EPA to add certain PFAS to lists of hazardous air pollutants under the Clean Air Act; issue rules to require toxicity testing on all PFAS by manufacturers; create a public risk-communication strategy regarding PFAS hazards; update voluntary labeling requirements for certain consumer products, including cooking implements, carpets and clothing, to certify that they do not contain any PFAS; and issue guidance on reducing the use of firefighting foam and related products that contain PFAS by first responders.” The bill passed 241 to 183. [HR 2467, Vote #Vote #217, 7/21/21; CQ, 7/21/21]

- Scientists Found Links Between PFASs And Kidney And Testicular Cancer, Thyroid Disease, Liver Damage, High Cholesterol, And Other Diseases. “Because of their widespread use, release and disposal over the decades, PFASs show up virtually everywhere: in soil, surface water, the atmosphere, the deep ocean—and even the human body. The U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention’s Web site says that the agency has found PFASs in the blood of nearly everyone it has tested for them, ‘indicating widespread exposure to these PFAS in the U.S. population.’ Scientists have found links between a number of the chemicals and many health concerns—including kidney and testicular cancer, thyroid disease, liver damage, developmental toxicity, ulcerative colitis, high cholesterol, pregnancy-induced preeclampsia and hypertension, and immune dysfunction.” [Scientific American, 1/22/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Require The EPA To Issue Regulations Requiring Wastewater Infrastructure Fund Applicants To Assess The Impact Of Climate Change On Their Projects. In July 2021, Salazar voted against: “Lee, D-Nev., amendment no. 132 that would require the EPA, within 18 months of the bill's enactment, to issue regulations requiring wastewater infrastructure fund applicants to assess the potential impact of climate change on the proposed project and incorporate measures to mitigate such impacts into the project design. It would require the EPA, in issuing the regulations, to consult with government agencies and stakeholders with experience in addressing climate change impacts on wastewater infrastructure projects and to identify entities to provide technical assistance to applicants to incorporate climate resilience measures.” The motion was agreed to, 220-200. [HR 3684, Vote #Vote #206, 7/1/21; CQ, 7/1/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Protecting American Energy Production Act, Which Would Prohibit The President From Declaring A Moratorium On Fracking Without Congressional Authorization. In June 2021, Salazar voted against: “DeSaulnier D-Calif., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment) on the rule (H Res 508) that would provide for floor consideration of a total of 149 amendments to a five-year surface transportation and ten-year water infrastructure authorization bill (HR 3684).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Jeff Duncan stated: “Madam Speaker, I rise in opposition to the previous question, so that we can amend the rule to immediately consider H.R. 751, the Protecting American Energy Production Act. Now, my bill is straightforward. It prohibits the President from declaring a moratorium on the use of hydraulic fracturing, or fracking, unless Congress authorizes the moratorium. It further expresses the sense of Congress that States should maintain authority for the regulation of oil and natural gas production on State and private lands.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 219 to 188. [H. Res. 508, Vote #Vote #198, 6/30/21; CQ, 6/30/21; Congressional Record, 6/30/21]
Salazar Voted For Authorizing $50.6 Billion Through Fiscal 2026 For Programs And Activities Of The Energy Department’s Office Of Science. In June 2021, Salazar Voted For: “Johnson, D-Texas, motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would codify, expand and authorize $50.3 billion through fiscal 2026 for programs and activities of the Energy Department’s Office of Science. Within the total, it would authorize the following amounts for each of the office's six main research programs: $15 billion for basic energy sciences; $8 billion for high energy physics; $6.5 billion for advanced scientific computing research; $5.4 billion for fusion energy; $5 billion for nuclear physics; and $4.8 billion for biological and environmental research. It would also authorize specific funding for research and development related to advanced particle accelerator science, isotope production, and infectious disease response. It would expand the office’s responsibilities to include construction, operation and maintenance of facilities to support its mission, improve U.S. competitiveness, protect public health and safety and address other national priorities. Among other provisions, it would authorize $500 million annually through fiscal 2026 for a DOE science laboratories infrastructure improvement program; $40 million annually through fiscal 2026 for department education and collaborative research programs; and $2 million annually in perpetuity for department activities to increase diversity, equity and inclusion in fields related to its mission areas.” The motion passed, 351-68. [HR 3593, Vote #187, 6/28/21; CQ, 6/28/21]

Salazar Voted For Congressional Disapproval Of The Trump Administration’s Methane Rule And Reinstating The Obama Administration’s Methane Emission Standards. In June 2021, Salazar Voted For: “Passage of the joint resolution that would provide for congressional disapproval of a September 2020 Environmental Protection Agency rule that reversed 2012 and 2016 rules establishing emission standards -- or new source performance standards -- to limit the amount of methane and volatile organic compounds that can be released in the production, processing, transportation and storage of oil and natural gas. Specifically, the 2020 rule rescinded the methane-specific standards and rescinded the applicability of all standards to transportation and storage activities. The rule also required the EPA, before promulgating new air pollutant standards, to determine that the pollutant causes or contributes significantly to dangerous air pollution. The rule took effect on September 14, 2020. Under the provisions of the joint resolution, the 2020 rule would have no force or effect, and the Obama-era emission standards would be effectively reinstated.” The resolution passed, 229-191. [SJ Res 14, Vote #185, 6/25/21; CQ, 6/25/21]

- In 2016, The EPA Adopted A Rule That Required Oil And Gas Companies To Limit Methane Leaks And Emissions Which Was Later Reversed By The Trump Administration. “‘This is a really encouraging step because methane is such an important greenhouse gas to reduce,’ Drew Shindell, an earth science professor at Duke University, said of Wednesday’s vote. ‘It sends a signal that the administration is serious about this.’ In 2016, the Environmental Protection Agency adopted a rule requiring oil and gas companies to curb methane leaks and emissions from their operations. Late last summer, the Trump administration undid it.” [Washington Post, 4/28/21]

- The Measure Restored Requirements On Companies To Check Every Six Months For Methane Leaks From Equipment Installed After 2015—And Must Ensure Leaks Are Fixed Within 30 Days Of Being Detected. “If enacted, the measure would restore requirements on companies to check every six months for methane leaks from pipelines, storage tanks and other equipment installed after 2015 — and plug any leak within 30 days after it is detected.” [Washington Post, 4/28/21]

Salazar Did Not Vote On Reauthorizing The Energy Department’s State Energy Program. In June 2021, Salazar Did Not Vote On: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would reauthorize the Energy Department state energy program, which provides funding and assistance to states for energy conservation and security activities. It would authorize $90 million annually through fiscal 2026 for the program and allow funds to be used to help states implement, review, or revise their energy security plans, including to outline plans to address physical or cybersecurity threats, in coordination with public and private energy providers.” The motion was agreed to, 398-21. [HR 1374, Vote #Vote #173, 6/22/21; CQ, 6/22/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Manage National Heritage Areas, Reauthorize The Cape Cod National Seashore Advisory Committee, And Designate Or Require Studies On Additional Lands In Several States. In February 2021, Salazar voted against: “Neguse, D-Colo., en bloc amendments no. 1 that would, among other provisions, establish a formal system for designation and management of National Heritage Areas; reauthorize the Cape Cod National Seashore Advisory Commission for 10 years; and designate or require studies on additional lands in several states, including to expand two national monuments in Arizona, establish the island of St. Croix in the Virgin Islands as a National Heritage Area, designate approximately 30.8 miles of the York River in Maine as a recreational river, and add approximately 1,000 acres to the Rough Mountain Wilderness Area in Virginia.” The Amendment was adopted by a vote of 229-198. [HR 803, Vote #Vote #41, 2/26/21; CQ, 2/26/21]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment For The Interior Department To Study If Lands To Be Withdrawn From Mineral Leasing Eligibility Contain Geothermal Resources Or Minerals Needed For Battery Storage. In February 2021, Salazar voted for: “Curtis, R-Utah, amendment no. 3 that would require the Interior Department, in consultation with the Energy and Commerce departments, to conduct a study to determine whether lands that would be withdrawn from mineral leasing eligibility under the bill contain geothermal resources or minerals needed for battery storage, renewable energy technology or electric vehicles.” The Amendment was adopted by a vote of 221-205. [HR 803, Vote #Vote #42, 2/26/21; CQ, 2/26/21]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment That Would Remove Designation Of Potential Wilderness Areas, Block The Bill From Taking Effect Until Certification That No Renewable Energy Jobs Would Be Lost, And Exempt Lands From The Bills Provisions. In February 2021, Salazar voted for: “Neguse, D-Colo., en bloc amendments no. 2 that would, among other provisions, strike from the bill all provisions that would designate "potential wilderness" areas; prohibit the bill's provisions from taking effect until the Interior Department certifies that no renewable energy jobs would be lost as a result of the bill's enactment; require local counties to approve any mineral leasing withdrawals in the bill; postpone the bill's withdrawal of lands from eligibility for mining and mineral leasing until the Interior Department determines that there are no mineral or geothermal resources present in the lands to be withdrawn, other than uranium; and exempt lands in a number of congressional districts from the bill's provisions.” The Amendment was rejected by a vote of 197-226. [HR 803, Vote #Vote #43, 2/26/21; CQ, 2/26/21]
Salazar Voted Against On Passage Of The Protecting America's Wilderness And Public Lands Act, Which Designated Nearly 1.5 Million Acres Of Federal Lands As New, Expanded Or Potential Wilderness Areas. In February 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would designate nearly 1.5 million acres of federal lands in California, Colorado, and Washington as new, expanded, or potential wilderness areas -- including approximately 626,000 acres in California, approximately 733,000 acres in Colorado and approximately 132,000 acres in Washington -- and designate more than 1,200 river miles in Northern California and the Washington Olympic Peninsula as wild, scenic or recreational rivers. It would designate over 1.2 million acres of additional federal lands in California as restoration, recreation, and other protected areas; expand or establish a number of National Park System monuments, recreation areas and other lands in California and Colorado; and effectively prohibit new mining or mineral production activities by withdrawing mineral and geothermal leasing rights for a number of federal lands, including approximately 1 million acres in the Grand Canyon region of Arizona and approximately 200,000 acres within the Thompson Divide in Colorado. Among other provisions, the bill would establish a public-private partnership -- made up of federal, state, and local government officials, and private stakeholders -- to facilitate environmental remediation of federal lands and waters in California damaged by illegal marijuana operations. It would preserve a number of existing rights and usages on designated lands, such as low-level helicopter operations and high altitude training by the military. As amended, it would establish a formal system for designation and management of National Heritage Areas; reauthorize the Cape Cod National Seashore Advisory Commission for 10 years; and designate or require studies on additional lands in several other states, including to expand two national monuments in Arizona and establish the island of St. Croix in the Virgin Islands as a National Heritage Area.” The bill passed by a vote of 227 – 200. [HR 803, Vote #45, 2/26/21; CQ, 2/26/21]

Equal Rights & Workplace Fairness

Salazar Voted For The Rights For The Transportation Security Administration Workforce Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would repeal the Transportation Security Administration's special employment authority and require the agency, within 180 days of enactment, to convert its employee personnel management system to the Title 5 system used for most federal civil service employees. It would specify that non-supervisory TSA screening personnel would remain eligible for collective bargaining until the conversion; require the TSA screeners' labor union to be considered their exclusive representative after the conversion; and require the Homeland Security Department to consult with the union within seven days of enactment on its plans and deadlines to carry out the conversion. Among other provisions, it would prohibit the TSA from reducing pay or benefits for employees during the conversion, including with respect to determining their years of service; specify that TSA workers would continue to have the right to strike; require the TSA to provide a one-time hazard duty bonus payment of $3,000 to each employee who had substantial contact with the public during the COVID-19 national emergency; require the TSA to provide guidance and resources to employees regarding COVID-19 prevention and protections; and authorize the TSA to communicate with organizations representing federal air marshals to address concerns related to health, morale and working conditions, including mandated periods of rest.” The bill passed by a vote of 220-201. [H.R. 903, Vote #172, 5/12/22; CQ, 5/12/22]
Salazar Voted For An Amendment That Would Sunset All Provisions Of The Bill After Fiscal Year 2022 If Funds Have Not Been Specifically Appropriated. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Guest, R-Miss., amendment no. 5 that would sunset all provisions of the bill after fiscal 2022 if sufficient funds have not been specifically appropriated to carry out the provisions.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 200-221. [H.R. 903, Vote #Vote #170, 5/12/22; CQ, 5/12/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment Authorizing The TSA To Make Changes To Its Screening Process Without Regard To Collective Bargaining. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Cammack, R-Fla., amendment no. 3 that would specify that nothing in the bill could be construed to limit the Transportation Security Administration's authority to impose without delay new security screening procedures or requirements, or change, alter or modify existing security screening procedures or requirements, to address a national security or public safety threat, without regard to collective bargaining.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 204-216. [H.R. 903, Vote #Vote #169, 5/12/22; CQ, 5/12/22]

Salazar Voted Against En Bloc Amendment No. 1 For The Rights For TSA Workforce Act. In May 2022, Salazar voted against: “Scott, D-Va., en bloc amendments no 1 that would require the Government Accountability Office, within one year of the bill's enactment, to submit to Congress a report on the Transportation Security Administration's efforts to ensure that recruitment, hiring, promotion and advancement opportunities are equitable and provide for demographics among senior leadership that are reflective of the U.S. workforce demographics; require the GAO, within one year of the bill's enactment, to report to Congress on the TSA's policies and procedures to ensure staff safety in relation to workplace harassment and assault, including incidents of sexual harassment; incidents motivated by an individual's ethnicity, religion, gender identity or sexuality; and incidents in which the alleged perpetrator is a member of the general public; require the TSA to submit to Congress, within 270 days of the bill's enactment, a study on the feasibility of allowing certain employees who carry out screening functions to count toward their employment hours the time they spend regularly traveling between airport parking lots, bus and transit stops and screening checkpoints before and after their regular work day; require the TSA to brief Congress, within 90 days of the bill's enactment, on reports of instances of physical or verbal assault or threat made by a member of the general public against a TSA employee; procedures for reporting assaults and threats; steps taken by the TSA to prevent and respond to assaults and threats; related civil actions and criminal referrals made annually since Jan. 1, 2019; and additional authorities needed to better prevent or respond to assaults and threats; require the TSA, within one year of the bill's enactment and annually thereafter, to submit a report to Congress containing an analysis of the Office of Personnel Management's Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey to determine job satisfaction rates of TSA employees; information relating to retention rates of employees at each airport; and information relating to actions taken by TSA to improve workforce morale and retention; and authorize the TSA to communicate with organizations representing federal air marshals to address concerns related to equipment and training and work schedules and shifts, including mandated periods of rest.” The amendment bloc was adopted by a vote of 215-198. [HR 903, Vote #Vote #168, 5/12/22; CQ, 5/12/22]

Salazar Voted For Reforming Banking Regulatory Law To Allow The Hiring Of Individuals Convicted Of Certain Minor Criminal Offenses Without Approval From A Federal Regulator. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Garcia, D-Ill., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would modify banking regulatory law to allow insured depository institutions to hire individuals convicted for certain minor criminal offenses without approval from a federal regulator. Specifically, it would create exemptions from existing prohibitions on the hiring of individuals convicted of a criminal offense involving dishonesty, breach of trust or money laundering if they committed the offense at least seven years prior; were released from incarceration for the offense for at least five years prior; or committed the offense at age 21 or younger and were sentenced more than 30 months prior. It would also create exemptions for offenses that were expunged, sealed or dismissed, as well as de minimis offenses and "low-risk" offenses such as the use of a fake ID, shoplifting, trespassing and fare evasion if at least one year has passed since conviction or entry into a pretrial diversion program. Among other provisions, it would require the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the National Credit Union Administration to establish an application process for individuals and financial institutions to submit consent applications for offenses not covered by exemptions established by the bill and to consider an individual's criminal history, evidence of rehabilitation and scope of potential employment in reviewing such applications.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 329-88. [H.R. 5911, Vote #Vote #156, 5/11/22; CQ, 5/11/22]

Salazar Voted For The Federal Firefighters Fairness Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would establish a presumption of employment as a proximate cause for certain diseases contracted by federal fire protection employees, with respect to their eligibility for federal workers' compensation benefits. Specifically, it would establish the presumption with respect to chronic obstructive pulmonary disease; a sudden cardiac event or stroke within 24 hours of being engaged in fire protection or emergency response duties; and 14 specified types of cancer, including brain cancer, lung cancer, leukemia and mesothelioma. It would require the Labor Department, in consultation with the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, to periodically review the list of diseases and add a disease to the list by rule upon a petition or determination by the department that there is "significant risk" to firefighters of developing the disease based on the best available scientific evidence. It would establish a process for individuals to petition for the addition of a disease and require the department to substantively evaluate and either grant or deny such petitions within 18 months of receipt. It would require the department, within three years, to evaluate and determine whether to add breast cancer, gynecologic cancer or rhabdomyolysis to the list. It would also require the Labor Department to establish a process by which firefighters filing a claim related to a disease on the bill's list may voluntarily enroll in the National Firefighter Registry or a similar research or public health initiative conducted by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.” The bill passed by a vote of 288-131. [H.R. 2499, Vote #Vote #149, 5/11/22; CQ, 5/11/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment Replacing The Provisions Of The Federal Firefighters Fairness Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Keller, R-Pa., amendment no. 4 that would replace the bill's provisions with language to establish within the Labor Department Office of Workers' Compensation Programs a firefighter special claims unit. It would require the Government Accountability Office to report to Congress on the health care benefits and treatment provided to federal firefighters with certain cancers and other medical conditions, including a description of barriers to the delivery of health care; an evaluation of approved and denied claims; and a description of the standard used to determine causation of condition with respect to claims.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 180-242. [H.R. 2499, Vote #Vote #148, 5/11/22; CQ, 5/11/22]
Salazar Voted For An Amendment Extending The Evidence Filing Period For Federal Employees Compensation Filings. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Joyce, R-Ohio, amendment no. 3 that would insert provisions of a bill (HR 3050) that would require the Labor Department to increase from 30 to 60 days the time period for individuals filing claims under the Federal Employees Compensation Act to supply additional evidence supporting their claim to the Office of Workers' Compensation.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 419-0. [H.R. 2499, Vote #Vote #147, 5/11/22; CQ, 5/11/22]

Salazar Voted Against En Bloc Amendment No. 1 For Federal Firefighters Workers' Compensation, Including 6 Amendments. In May 2022, Salazar voted against: “Scott, D-Va., en bloc amendments number 1, including six amendments to the bill that would require the Labor Department, within three years of the bill's enactment, to evaluate the best available scientific evidence of the risk to fire protection employees of developing gynecological cancer; require the Government Accountability Office, within one year of the bill's enactment, to submit a report to Congress that evaluates the health and safety impacts on fire protection employees of exposure to toxic chemicals and other contaminants that could cause human health problems; require the Labor Department to notify Congress within 30 days of making any decision to approve or deny a petition to add a disease to the list of diseases for which there is a presumption of proximate cause from employment in fire protection, with respect to workers' compensation; require the Labor Department to include, in its annual report to Congress on implementation of the federal employee compensation program, the total number and demographics of employees with diseases and conditions described by the bill, including any recommendations for additional actions to minimize health risks for federal fire protection employees; require the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health to conduct a study on long-term health effects experienced by federal wildland firefighters who are eligible to receive workers' compensation experience after being exposed to fire, smoke and toxic fumes when in service. It would require the study to include the race, ethnicity, age, gender and time of service of firefighters in the study and recommendations to Congress on legislative actions needed to support firefighters in preventing health issues from toxic exposure; and require the Labor Department, within three years of the bill's enactment, to evaluate the best available scientific evidence of the risk to fire protection employees of developing rhabdomyolysis.” The amendment bloc was adopted by a vote of 224-195. [HR 2499, Vote #Vote #146, 5/11/22; CQ, 5/11/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering Several Bills Including The Rights For The TSA Workforce Act, The Federal Firefighters Fairness Act, The Community Services Block Grant Modernization Act, And Supplemental Funding For Ukraine. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1097) that would provide for floor consideration of the Rights for the TSA Workforce Act (HR 903), the Federal Firefighters Fairness Act (HR 2499), the Community Services Block Grant Modernization Act (HR 5129) and legislation to provide supplemental funding for Ukraine (HR 7691) and provide for automatic agreement to a resolution recognizing the right of House employees to unionize (H Res 1096). The rule would provide for one hour of debate on each measure; automatic adoption of managers' amendments to each of the first three bills; and automatic agreement to H Res 1096. It would provide for a structured rule on HR 903, HR 2499, and HR 5129. The rule would also provide for automatic adoption of the Thompson, D-Miss., manager's amendment to HR 903 that would, among other provisions, add language to specify that federal air marshals who are Transportation Security Administration employees are eligible for "availability pay," which is premium pay for federal criminal investigators, as well as overtime pay at rates no lower than they would receive if they were subject to Fair Labor Standards Act overtime pay provisions; require the TSA to provide a one-time $3,000 bonus payment to each employee whose duties require substantial contact with the public during the COVID-19 national emergency; and require the Homeland Security Department to ensure that TSA employees are provided appropriate leave during national emergencies. The rule would provide for automatic adoption of the Scott, D-Va., manager's amendment to HR 2499 that would designate continuation of pay as a payment type subject to federal workers' compensation subrogation policies related to adjustments to compensation paid by the United States in cases where legal liability for damages as a result of an injury or death falls on a third party. The rule would provide for automatic adoption of the Scott, D-Va., manager's amendment to HR 5129 that would add requirements related to conflict of interest policies of organizations eligible for funding under the bill's provisions, including to specify that such policies must require members to recuse themselves from proceedings relating to any contract or transaction from which they or an immediate family member would receive a direct financial benefit and that members do not receive compensation beyond "reasonable expenses" for serving on the board. The rule would provide for the automatic adoption of the DeLauro, D-Conn., manager's amendment to HR 7691 that would increase from approximately $8.75 billion to $9.05 billion funding provided by the bill that may be used to replenish defense article stocks and reimburse defense services and training provided by the Defense Department to Ukraine and other countries in support of Ukraine. The rule would provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to a resolution (H Res 1096) that would approve the August 1996 regulations issued by the Office of Compliance, now the Office of Congressional Workplace Rights, with respect to House of Representatives employees. The regulations would allow employees of member, committee, leadership, caucus and certain other congressional offices to form labor unions. Finally, the rule would authorize through June 10, 2022, certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions. It would also allow proceedings on measures considered under suspension of the rules on May 10 or May 11 to be postponed through May 18." The rule was adopted by a vote of 217-202. [H. Res. 1097, Vote #Vote #44, 5/10/22; CQ, 5/10/22]

Salazar Voted Against The CROWN Act To Prohibit Race-Based Hair Discrimination. In March 2022 Salazar voted against: “This bill prohibits discrimination based on a person's hair texture or hairstyle if that style or texture is commonly associated with a particular race or national origin. Specifically, the bill prohibits this type of discrimination against those participating in federally assisted programs, housing programs, public accommodations, and employment. Persons shall not be deprived of equal rights under the law and shall not be subjected to prohibited practices based on their hair texture or style. The bill provides for enforcement procedures under the applicable laws.” The bill passed by a vote of 235-189. [H.R. 2116, Vote #Vote #82, 3/18/22; CQ, 3/24/22]

- Race-Based Hair Discrimination Was Covered Under Existing Law, But Courts Had Narrowly Interpreted “Race” To Allow Discrimination. “Democrats acknowledged that such discrimination is prohibited under existing federal law, such as the 1964 Civil Rights Act but said courts have misinterpreted the law by narrowly interpreting the meaning of race, thus allowing discrimination against people who wear natural or protective hairstyles.” [CNN, 3/18/22]

- JOY Collective: Black Women Were 80% More Likely To Feel Pressure “To Change Their Hair From Its Natural State To Fit In At The Office.” “Black women in particular are more likely to report feeling discriminated against because of their hairstyles. A 2019 study conducted by the JOY Collective found that Black women were 80 percent more likely to feel that they had to change their hair from its natural state to fit in at the office.” [The Hill, 3/18/22]

- Joy Collective: 66% Of Black Girls In Majority-White Schools Reported Experiencing Hair Discrimination, 87% Of Which By The Age Of 12. “66% of Black girls in majority-white schools report experiencing hair discrimination with 87% of those girls facing the discrimination by the age of 12.” [Joy Collective, Dove CROWN Research Study For Girls, 2021]

Salazar Voted Against The FAIR Act To Prohibit Forced Arbitration Agreements And Class Action Waivers. In March 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would prohibit the enforcement of predispute arbitration agreements that would require a future employment, consumer, antitrust or civil rights dispute to be resolved through arbitration. It would also prohibit the enforcement of predispute joint-action waivers that would interfere with an individual's right to participate in a collective action with respect to such disputes. It would permit the voluntary use of arbitration after a dispute arises; require federal courts, not arbitrators, to determine the applicability of the bill's provisions to a contract; and specify that the bill's provisions would not apply to arbitration provisions in collective bargaining agreements between an employer and a labor organization or between labor organizations, as long as such agreements do not effectively waive an employee's right to seek judicial enforcement of a right arising under existing federal or state law.” The bill passed by a vote of 222-209. [H.R. 963, Vote #Vote #81, 3/17/22; CQ, 3/17/22]

- Forced Arbitration Agreements And Class Action Waivers Took Away Worker And Consumer Due Process Rights, Made It Difficult To Address “Systemic Discrimination Or Widespread Violations Of Law,” And Allowed Corporations To Escape Accountability. “The FAIR Act would prohibit corporations from forcing working people and consumers into pre-dispute forced arbitration agreements and class action waivers, which are hidden in many non-negotiable employment and consumer contracts. [...] Pre-dispute forced arbitration agreements and class action waivers harm working people and consumers while allowing corporations to escape accountability for wrongdoing. Forced arbitration clauses are written to benefit corporations: they select the arbitrators, pick the rules, choose the state in which the proceeding will occur, and decide the payment terms. Private arbitration lacks guaranteed due process protections and proceedings are secret. [...] In addition to making people more vulnerable to abuse by bad corporate actors, forced arbitration agreements and class action waivers are an impediment to the enjoyment of basic civil and human rights. [...] Additionally, the use of class action waivers also substantially diminishes access to justice. Of employees subject to forced arbitration, nearly half are also subject to a class action waiver, making it nearly impossible to address systemic discrimination or widespread violations of law.” [Leadership Conference On Civil And Human Rights, 3/17/22]

- 2017: 60.1 Million American Workers Lacked Access To Protect Their Employment Rights Due To Forced Arbitration, Which Reduced Employers’ Liability For Employment Law Violations. “Extrapolating to the overall private-sector nonunion workforce, this corresponds to 60.1 million American workers who are now subject to mandatory employment arbitration procedures and no longer have the right to go to court to challenge violations of their employment rights. [...] Given the finding that 60.1 million American workers are now subject to these procedures, this means that only 1 in 32,000 employees subject to these procedures actually files a claim under them each year. These findings indicate that employers adopting mandatory employment arbitration have been successful in coming up with a mechanism that effectively reduces their chance of being subject to any liability for employment law violations to very low levels.” [Economic Policy Institute, 9/27/17]

- The FAIR Act Was Step Toward Expanding A Law To Prevent Enforcement Of Agreements For Workers Alleging Sexual Harassment Or Assault. “The U.S. House passed a bill that would void all pre-dispute mandatory arbitration agreements in employment, antitrust, consumer, and other matters, following on the heels of a new law that specifically banned the agreements for #MeToo allegations. The House voted 222-209 to advance the FAIR Act (H.R. 963), moving closer to expanding a bill President Joe Biden signed into law that bars the enforcement of the agreements for workers alleging sexual harassment or assault. The #MeToo law (P.L. 117-90) had bipartisan backing from its introduction, as compared to the FAIR Act which only has one Republican sponsor, Rep. Matt Gaetz (R-Fla.).” [Bloomberg Law, 3/17/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The FAIR Act To Committee. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Bentz, R-Ore., motion to recommit the bill to the House Judiciary Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 208-222. [H.R. 963, Vote #80, 3/17/22; CQ, 3/17/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Strike Collective Bargaining Exemptions From The FAIR Act. In March 2022 Salazar voted against: “Fitzgerald, R-Wis., amendment no. 1 that would strike from the bill a section that would specify that the bill's provisions would not apply to arbitration provisions in collective bargaining agreements between an employer and a labor organization or between labor organizations, as long as such agreements do not effectively waive an employee's right to seek judicial enforcement of a right arising under existing federal or state law.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 184-246. [H.R. 963, Vote #79, 3/17/22; CQ, 3/17/22]

Salazar Voted Against Prohibition Of Denial Of Benefits Under Federal Financial Assistance Programs Based On Hair Texture Or Style Related To Race Or National Origin. In February 2022 Salazar voted against: “Nadler, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would prohibit the exclusion of or denial of benefits to an individual under any program receiving federal financial assistance -- including housing programs, public accommodations and employment -- based on that individual’s hair texture or hairstyle, if it is commonly associated with a particular race or national origin.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 235-188. [H.R. 2116, Vote #48, 2/28/22; CQ, 2/28/22]

Salazar Voted For Protections Against Age Discrimination For Job Applicants. In November 2021 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would prohibit an employer from discriminating against a job applicant in a way that would deprive the job applicant of employment opportunities or otherwise adversely affect the applicant's status based on the applicant's age.” The bill passed by a vote of 224-200. [H.R. 3992, Vote #358, 11/4/21; CQ, 11/4/21]

- Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Conduct A Disparate Impact Claims Study On Job Applicants, Delaying The Effective Date For Age Discrimination Protections. In November
2021 Salazar voted for: “Keller, R-Pa., amendment no. 2 that would delay the bill's effective date until the Government Accountability Office conducts a study and reports to Congress on whether not allowing job applicants to file disparate impact claims has a negative impact on such applicants. It would stipulate that the bill's provisions would not take effect if the study shows there is not a significant negative impact on such applicants.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 197-228. [H.R. 3992, Vote #Vote #357, 11/4/21; CQ, 11/4/21]

• Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Conduct A Study On Job Applicants’ Age Discrimination Claims. In November 2021 Salazar voted against: “Pappas, D-N.H., amendment no. 1 that would require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to conduct a study, within one enactment, to determine the number of pending or filed claims, including claims in closed cases, by individuals who may have been adversely impacted by age discrimination in the job application process. It would require the commission to submit to Congress and make publicly available a report on study results including recommendations for best practices to address age discrimination in the hiring process.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 225-201. [H.R. 3992, Vote #Vote #356, 11/4/21; CQ, 11/4/21]

Salazar Voted For Expanded Employer Requirements To Provide Reasonable Breaks And A Non-Bathroom Private Place For Breastfeeding. In October 2021 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would expand requirements for employers to provide breaks for employees to pump breast milk and allow employees to seek restitution for violations of such requirements. Specifically, the bill would require all employers to provide reasonable breaks as needed and a private place other than a bathroom for employees to express breast milk for a period of two years after such need arises. It would specify that employers would not be required to compensate employees for break time provided unless otherwise required by federal, state or local law. It would specify that break time would be considered hours worked if the employee is not completely relieved from duty during the entirety of the break. It would establish an effective date of 120 days after enactment and require the Labor Department, within 60 days of enactment, to issue guidance with respect to employer compliance. In seeking legal remedy against an employer that does not comply with the bill's requirements, it would generally require the employee to inform the employer and give them 10 days to provide accommodations prior to commencing legal action. It would provide an undue hardship exemption for employers of fewer than 50 employees. For air carriers, it would establish a separate effective date of one year after enactment; specify that accommodations would not have to completely relieve crewmembers from duty during in-flight breaks or provide breaks during critical phases of flight; and require the Federal Aviation Administration to propose regulations identifying appropriate means for air carrier compliance and updating federal law to ensure that expressing breast milk is considered a 'physiological need.'” The bill passed by a vote of 276-149. [H.R. 3110, Vote #Vote #331, 10/22/21; CQ, 10/22/21]

Salazar Voted Against Reversing A Trump Administration Rule That Changed What Information The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Would Share With Companies Accused Of Discrimination. In June 2021, Salazar Voted Against: “Passage of the joint resolution that would provide for congressional disapproval of a January 2021 rule modifying requirements for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission conciliation process, by which the agency is required to attempt to settle unfair employment practice claims with an employer prior to taking legal action against the employer, including through an agreement that the employer will eliminate the practice and provide affirmative relief. The
The Trump Administration Rule Required The EEOC To Provide Information To Employers When Initiating A Settlement Process Including A Summary Of The Case Facts, Identities Of Witnesses And Victims, And The Legal Basis For Discrimination Findings. “The January rule would have required the EEOC to provide information to employers upon initiating the settlement, or "conciliation," process, including a summary of the facts of a case, the identities of witnesses and alleged victims, and the legal basis for a finding that discrimination has occurred. The Republican-led commission said the changes would encourage settlements by allowing employers to weigh the merits of bias complaints early on in the process.” [Reuters, 7/1/21]

Opponents Of The January Rule Argued That It Diverted Limited EEOC Resources Away From Combating Discrimination And Delayed Cases. “But many Democrats and worker advocates said it would divert the EEOC's limited resources away from combating discrimination and delay cases, including by creating a new avenue for time-consuming appeals. In a statement issued last month, the White House criticized the rule's 'onerous and rigid new procedures,' and said it would increase the risk of retaliation against workers who file complaints or participate in discrimination investigations.” [Reuters, 7/1/21]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Require The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission To Submit Annual Reports To Congress Detailing Employment Claims Brought Under The Commission. In June 2021, Salazar Voted For: “Adoption of the Scott, D-Va., en bloc amendments no. 1 that would require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to submit an annual report to Congress on the number of age discrimination in employment claims brought with the commission under the bill's provisions. It would require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to submit to Congress a report, within two years of the bill's enactment, that contains analysis of any disparities faced by individuals with characteristics protected under existing anti-discrimination law in pursuing employment discrimination relief under the mixed-motive evidentiary standard.” The amendment was adopted, 231-192. [HR 2062, Vote #Vote #178, 6/23/21; CQ, 6/23/21]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Delay Implementation Of The Protecting Older Workers Against Discrimination Act Until A GAO Study Determined If SCOTUS Rulings Discouraged Individuals From Filing Age Discrimination Or Employment Retaliation Charges. In June 2021, Salazar Voted For: “Adoption of the Scott, D-Va., en bloc amendments no. 2 that would postpone the bill's effective date until the Government Accountability Office reports to Congress the results of a study determining whether Supreme Court decisions in 2009 and 2013 employment discrimination lawsuits have discouraged individuals from filing age discrimination or employment discrimination retaliation charges and cases with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, and whether the success rate for such cases has decreased. It would prohibit the bill's provisions from taking effect if the study shows that such filings and success rates have not decreased. It would strike language that would allow mixed-motive retaliatory claims in which a complainant demonstrates that a protected characteristic under existing law was a motivating factor for any employment practice, even if other factors also motivated the practice.” The amendment was rejected, 182-243. [HR 2062, Vote #179, 6/23/21; CQ, 6/23/21]

Salazar Voted For Protecting Older Workers Against Discrimination Act Of 2021. In June 2021, Salazar Voted For: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would specify a that adverse actions by an employer in which age was a motivating factor shall be considered unlawful under federal employment law regarding age discrimination. It would specify that a complaining party under such law would not be required to demonstrate that age was the sole motivating factor of an adverse action, thus effectively reversing the 2009 Supreme Court decision in Gross v. FBL Financial Services, Inc. It would establish the same standard of proof in the case of employment discrimination based on disability or retaliation against an employee who opposes unlawful employment practices or participates in investigations or litigations related to such practices. In age-based employment discrimination cases where a court determines that an adverse action would have been taken in the absence of age-based motivation, the bill would allow courts to grant declaratory or injunctive relief and attorneys fees, but prohibit courts from awarding damages or ordering reparative actions by the respondent. As amended, it would require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to submit reports to Congress on the number of age discrimination in employment claims brought under the bill’s provisions; disparities faced by individuals with characteristics protected under existing anti-discrimination law in pursuing employment discrimination relief under the mixed-motive evidentiary standard; and the number of pending or filed claims by women impacted by age-based employment discrimination.” The bill passed, 247-178. [HR
2062, Vote #180, 6/23/21; CQ, 6/23/21]

Salazar Voted For A Bill That Designates Juneteenth To Be Celebrated On June 19 As A National Holiday. In June 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would designate Juneteenth National Independence Day, celebrated on June 19, as the eleventh national federal holiday.” The bill passed by vote of 415 to 14. [S 475, Vote #170, 6/16/21; CQ, 6/16/21]

- Salazar Voted Against Consideration Of Bill To Designate Juneteenth National Independence Day A Legal Public Holiday. In June 2021, Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res
  479) that would provide for floor consideration of the Juneteenth National Independence Day Act
  (S 475).” The bill passed 214 to 208. [H RES 479, Vote #163, 6/16/21; CQ, 6/16/21]

Salazar Voted For Passage Of The Pregnant Workers Fairness Act, Requiring Public Employers And Private Employers With At Least 15 Employees “To Make Reasonable Accommodations To Employees For Known Limitations Related To Pregnancy.” In May 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would require public employers and private employers with at least 15 employees to take reasonable accommodations to employees for known limitations related to pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions, unless the employer demonstrates that such accommodations would impose an undue hardship on their operations. It would prohibit employers from denying employment opportunities to or retaliating against such employees based on the need to provide accommodations. It would prohibit employers from requiring such employees to take paid or unpaid leave if reasonable accommodations can be provided or to accept any accommodation other than a reasonable accommodation arrived at through an interactive process between the employer and employee. It would also provide legal remedies for employees denied reasonable accommodations, including rights to compensatory damages, lost pay and reasonable attorney fees, and it would require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, within two years of enactment, to issue regulations to carry out the bill’s provisions, including to provide examples of reasonable accommodations for pregnant workers.” The bill passed 315 to 101. [H R 1065, Vote #Vote #143, 5/14/21; CQ, 5/14/21]

Salazar Voted Against Establishing The District Of Columbia As The 51st State In The Union. In April 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would provide for the establishment of most of the current District of Columbia as the 51st state in the Union, to be known as Washington, Douglass Commonwealth. It would require, within 30 days of enactment, an election for two senators and one representative for the state in Congress. It would then require the president to issue a proclamation announcing the election results, at which point the state would be admitted into the Union. The bill would define the territory and boundaries of a revised District of Columbia, which would remain under federal control -- including the White House, Capitol building, Supreme Court, and federal office buildings located adjacent to the National Mall and Capitol. All other territory of the current district would be part of the new state. It would provide that district executive, legislative and judicial officers at the time of admission would serve in the respective offices of the state; the state would be considered the legal successor to the district in continued judicial proceedings; and the federal government would retain control of lands currently held for defense or Coast Guard purposes. It would prohibit federal law enforcement agencies from enforcing state laws without state authorization. It would also allow residents of the new federal district to vote in federal elections by absentee ballot in their last state of residence and provide for the repeal of the 23rd amendment to the Constitution, which granted District of Columbia residents the right to vote in presidential elections.” The bill passed 216 to 208. [HR 51, Vote #Vote #132, 4/22/21; CQ, 4/22/21]

Salazar Voted Against The Paycheck Fairness Act. In April 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would narrow the legal defense an employer may use in a lawsuit alleging pay discrimination on the basis of sex. Specifically, it would require employers to demonstrate that a difference in pay between employees is based on a business-related ‘bona fide factor other than sex, such as education, training, or experience’ as opposed to being based on ‘any factor other than sex.’ It would prohibit employers from retaliating against employees involved in lawsuits under fair labor standards law; prohibit employers from relying on a prospective employee’s wage history for hiring or wage determinations; increase employers' liability for compensatory or punitive damages related to pay discrimination violations; and provide for automatic inclusion of all affected individuals in class action lawsuits related to pay discrimination. Among other provisions, the bill would authorize a new Labor Department grant program for public and private entities to carry out negotiation skills training programs to address pay disparities. It would establish an annual national award for an employer that made a ‘substantial effort to eliminate pay disparities between men and women.’ It would require the Labor Department to conduct a number of studies on sex-based pay disparities and require the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to collect compensation data disaggregated by employees’ sex, race and national origin. It would require the Labor Department and EEOC to provide technical assistance for small businesses to comply with the bill’s provisions. It would add a definition of ‘sex’ with respect to federal fair labor standards law, which would include sexual orientation or gender identity.” According to CNBC, the Paycheck Fairness Act “aims to eliminate the gender pay gap and
The Paycheck Fairness Act Aimed “To Eliminate The Gender Pay Gap And Strengthen Workplace Protections For Women.” “The Paycheck Fairness Act, which aims to eliminate the gender pay gap and strengthen workplace protections for women, passed the House of Representatives on Thursday in a 217-210 vote [...] Biden added that a full passage of the Paycheck Fairness Act by Congress would address the wage gap by ‘closing loopholes that have allowed employers to justify gender pay disparities, strengthening provisions for holding employers accountable for systemic pay discrimination, and helping level the playing field for women and people of color by making it easier for workers to challenge pay disparities as a group. Additionally, he said the Paycheck Fairness Act would make it illegal for employers to ask employees about their salary history in the hiring process and promote pay transparency by requiring more employers to report pay data to the government. Right now, at least 18 states already have laws in place that ban employers from asking about salary history.” [CNBC, 4/16/21]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment Granting A “Safe Harbor” For Employers Facing Legal Action For Pay Discrimination If They Took “Reasonable Steps” To Correct The Disparities. In April 2021, Salazar voted for: “Miller-Meeks, R-Iowa, for Stefanik, R-N.Y., substitute amendment no. 4 that would, among other provisions, provide a safe harbor such that employers would not be liable in legal action related to pay discrimination if the employer conducted a voluntary audit of its pay practices within the previous three years and took ‘reasonable steps’ to correct any compensation disparities found by the audit that may have violated fair labor law. It would prohibit employers from requesting or relying on the wage history of a prospective employee for consideration of employment, unless a prospective employee voluntarily discloses such information. It would make it unlawful for employers to prohibit employees from inquiring about, discussing or disclosing wages but allow employers to limit the time, place and circumstances during which employees may do so.” The amendment was rejected 183 to 244. [HR 7, Vote #Vote #107, 4/15/21; CQ, 4/15/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Direct The Labor Secretary To Study The Gender Wage Gap Among Young Workers And Establish A Task Force To Coordinate Efforts To Enforce Equal Pay Laws. ### Ethics and Investigations

Salazar Voted Against The Protecting Our Democracy Act, Which Included Provisions To Strengthen Checks On Presidential Powers And Executive Branch Oversight. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would include a number of provisions to strengthen checks on presidential powers and the executive branch and prohibit foreign influence. Among provisions related to presidential and executive branch accountability and oversight, the bill would void any pardon the president issues to himself or herself. If the president grants a pardon for offenses arising from investigations involving the president or their family members, administration members or campaign employees, it would require the Justice Department to share all materials related to the investigation with Congress. It would exempt the duration of a president or vice president's tenure from the statute of limitations for any federal offense committed by that person prior to or during their tenure. It would include various provisions to limit national emergency powers, including to automatically terminate emergency declarations after 20 congressional session days unless Congress passes a joint resolution of approval and to specify that the president's national emergency powers may not be used to authorize or fund any activity not authorized or funded by Congress. It would require the Justice Department to maintain a log of communications between DOJ and White House officials relating to civil or criminal investigations and require the department's inspector general to review the log for any improper communications. It would specify a list of causes for which the president or an agency head may remove an inspector general. It would strengthen enforcement and penalties under the Hatch Act, which prohibits federal employees from engaging in partisan political activities, including to authorize the Office of Special Counsel to investigate potential violations without first receiving an allegation and clarify that White House senior officials are subject to the Hatch Act. It would expand federal whistleblower protections, including to prohibit retaliation against federal employees who disclose waste, fraud and abuse. Among provisions relating to spending and other Congressional powers, the bill would require appropriated funding to be made available for obligation no later than 90 days before its availability would expire, and prohibit the rescission or deferral of funds in such 90-day period. It would require executive agencies to make public documents used in apportioning appropriations and add congressional notification and reporting requirements related to spending activity. It would statutorily require witnesses subpoenaed by Congress to testify and provide the requested information unless prohibited by federal law or the Constitution. It would affirm Congress' ability to enforce subpoenas through civil lawsuits and require courts to expedite such lawsuits. Among provisions related to elections and foreign influence, it would require major-party candidates for president and vice president to submit their tax returns from the past 10 years to the Federal Election Commission, require the FEC to make such returns public and require the same disclosures annually for the sitting president and vice president. It would require political committees to notify the FBI within one week of any foreign contact by a candidate, or a candidate's family members or employees. It would prohibit political campaigns from accepting opposition research, polling or other non-public information relating to a candidate from a foreign entity. It would expressly prohibit federal officers, including the president and vice president, from accepting gifts from foreign entities without Congressional authorization. It establishes disclosure requirements for internet and digital political advertising and prohibits the use of deepfakes, or materially deceptive audio or visual media, of a federal election candidate. Passed by a vote of 220-208. [HR 5314, Vote #Vote #440, 12/09/21; CQ, 12/09/21]

Salazar Voted For Financial Disclosure Requirements For Judicial Officers. In December 2021 Salazar voted for: “Nadler, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would add judicial officers to a list of public officials who are required to complete financial disclosure reporting. It would require the Administrative Office of the Courts to establish a searchable public internet database of all such reports filed by judicial officers.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 422-4. Salazar Voted Against The IG Independence And Empowerment Act. In June 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would include a number of provisions related to the appointment, authorities, and conduct of federal inspectors general. It would limit the president's authority to remove an inspector general without cause, specifying certain grounds for removal including documented abuse of authority, neglect of duty, knowing violation of a law or regulation, gross mismanagement, inefficiency, and permanent incapacity. It would require the president, not later than 30 days before placing an IG on nonduty status, to notify Congress and provide reasons for the change in status. It would establish a similar congressional notification requirement for federal agencies to place an IG on nonduty status. It would establish guidelines for filling any vacant Senate-confirmed IG position and require the president to submit a report to Congress if a position is vacant for 210 days, including the reasons why the president has not made a formal nomination and a target date for doing so. The bill would expand an integrity committee tasked with investigating IG and employee conduct to include a former IG and expand requirements for committee reports to Congress, including to require semiannual instead of annual reports on committee activities and immediate reports on any 'particularly serious or flagrant problems, abuses, or deficiencies' at an IG office. It would also authorize such sums as necessary for operations of the Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency, which includes the integrity committee. Among other provisions, it would expand IG subpoena power to include individuals who are not federal employees, with approval from a panel of three IGs; require IGs to notify Congress if an agency refuses to provide information or assistance requested by the IG; require IG staff to complete whistleblower training; and allow the Justice Department IG to investigate certain allegations of misconduct involving department attorneys by repealing a provision requiring the IG to report such allegations to the DOJ Office of Professional Responsibility.” The bill passed 221 to 182. [HR 2662, Vote #Vote #195, 6/29/21; CQ, 6/29/21]

Salazar Voted For Supporting Democracy And Protecting Human Rights In Nicaragua. In November 2021 Salazar voted for: “Deutch, D-Fla., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would express the sense of Congress and require the U.S. government to take certain actions related to supporting free, fair and transparent elections and protecting human rights in Nicaragua. It would require the State and Treasury departments to take actions to align diplomatic engagement efforts with the implementation of targeted sanctions, including through international coordination, to support efforts to facilitate the necessary conditions for democratic elections in Nicaragua. Among other provisions, it would require U.S. directors at international financial institutions to increase oversight of any loans or assistance provided for projects in Nicaragua and require the president to impose visa sanctions on individuals who have committed acts of corruption in Nicaragua. It would also require the State Department to submit a number of reports to Congress regarding Nicaragua, including reports on corruption involving Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega, his family and senior officials in his government; Russian activities, including military- or intelligence-related sales to the Nicaraguan government; human rights abuses by the Ortega government; and strategies to strengthen free press and expression. The measure is now cleared for the president.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 387-35. [S. 1064, Vote #354, 11/3/21; CQ, 11/3/21]

In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Meeks, D-N.Y., amendment no. 30 that would suspend U.S. maintenance support for Saudi air force units determined to be responsible for airstrikes resulting in civilian casualties in Yemen.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 223 to 204. [HR 4350, Vote #279, 9/23/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To End Military Support For Saudi Involvement In Yemen. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Khanna, D-Calif., amendment no. 28 that would terminate U.S. military logistical support and transfer of spare parts to Saudi warplanes conducting aerial strikes against the Houthis in Yemen. It would also permanently end intelligence sharing that enables offensive strikes and any U.S. effort to command, coordinate, participate in the movement of, or accompany Saudi-led coalition forces in the war in Yemen.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 219 to 207. [HR 4350, Vote #278, 9/23/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Prohibit U.S. Military Presence In Syria. In September 2021, Salazar voted against: “Bowman, D-N.Y., amendment no. 25 that would prohibit U.S. military presence in Syria without congressional approval, beginning one year after the bill's enactment.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 141 to 286. [HR 4350, Vote #276, 9/23/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted For Providing $1 Billion In Funding For Israel’s Iron Dome. In September 2021, Salazar voted for: “DeLauro, D-Conn., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would provide $1 billion in emergency funding for the Defense Department to provide assistance to the government of Israel for the procurement of the Iron Dome defense system to counter short-range rocket threats. The funding would remain available through Sept. 30, 2024.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 420-9. [HR 5323, Vote #275, 9/23/21; CQ, 9/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking A Bill Prohibiting The President From Withdrawing US Forces From Afghanistan Until All Americans Were Evacuated Out Of The Country. In August 2021, Salazar voted against: “Neguse, D-Colo., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Gallagher said: "I rise today to urge defeat of the previous question so that we can consider my bill, H.R. 5071 [...] requiring daily reporting to Congress on the number of Americans left in the country and the number of Afghan allies that are seeking refuge. The bill also critically prohibits the President from withdrawing our forces until all Americans, who want out, are safely out of the country." A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220-212. [H Res. 601, Vote #257, 8/24/21; CQ, 8/24/21; Congressional Record, 8/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against Funding State Department’s International Security, Military, Diplomatic, And Peacekeeping Programs. In July 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would provide $62.2 billion in discretionary funding for the State Department and related agencies. Among other provisions, it would provide over $9 billion for international security assistance, including $3.3 billion in military assistance for Israel. It would provide $1.9 billion for international peacekeeping activities; over $1.6 billion for implementation of U.S. diplomatic and defense strategy in the Indo-Pacific region, including activities to counter Chinese influence in developing countries; and $1.8 billion for the U.S. Agency for International Development. It would provide $4.6 billion for global health programs, including $760 million for family planning and reproductive health programs. It would provide over $3 billion to address climate change and other environmental issues, including $1.6 billion for a multilateral Green Climate Fund to help developing countries address climate change, $269 million for renewable energy programs, and $125 million to combat wildlife trafficking.” The bill passed 217-212. [H R 4373, Vote #Vote #243, 7/28/21; CQ, 7/28/21]

Salazar Voted For Authorizing An Additional 8,000 Special Immigrant Visas For Afghan Interpreters, Contractors, And Others Employed By The U.S. Government Who Faced Dangers As A Consequence Of Such Employment. In February 2015, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would authorize an additional 8,000 special immigrant visas for Afghan interpreters, contractors, and others employed by the U.S. government who face ongoing serious threats as a consequence of such employment. It would also modify the program to remove a requirement that applicants provide a ‘credible sworn statement’ regarding dangerous country conditions as evidence of an ongoing serious threat, instead requiring them to have "asserted a credible basis for concern about the possibility of an ongoing serious threat" as a result of their employment; remove a requirement that applicants must have performed ‘sensitive and trusted’ activities for the U.S. military personnel; and clarify that Afghan nationals who worked under U.S.-funded cooperative agreements or grants are eligible for the program.” The bill passed 407 to 16. [HR 3985, Vote #Vote #218, 7/22/21; CQ, 7/22/21]

Salazar Voted For To Require The State Department To Consult With South Korean Officials And Korean Americans On Opportunities To Reunited Korean Americans With Family Members In North Korea. In July 2021, Salazar voted for: “Houlahan, D-Pa., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require the State Department to consult with South Korean officials and Korean Americans on potential opportunities to reunite Korean Americans, including through video reunions, with family members in North Korea from whom they were separated after the Korean War armistice agreement. It would also require the department to submit annual reports to Congress on efforts related to Korean family reunification.” The motion was agreed to 415-0. [HR 826, Vote #Vote #209, 7/19/21; CQ, 7/19/21]

Salazar Voted For Prohibiting For 120 Days, Any Arms Sale Or Transfer From The U.S. To The Government Of Saudi Arabia. In April 2021, Salazar voted for: “Meeks, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would prohibit, for 120 days, the sale, licensing or transfer of any defense article or services from the U.S. to an intelligence, security or law enforcement agency of the government of Saudi Arabia. It would permit such activities to resume if the president certifies to Congress that Saudi Arabia, in the previous 120 days, has not forced the repatriation, intimidation or murder of dissidents in other countries; unjustly imprisoned U.S. citizens or permanent residents in Saudi Arabia; or tortured detainees in its custody. It would provide exceptions to the prohibition related to the defense of Saudi Arabia from external threats and the defense of U.S. personnel and facilities in Saudi Arabia. The bill would also require multiple reports to Congress related to intimidation or harassment of Saudi nationals in the United States, including on whether Saudi diplomatic officials in the U.S. used diplomatic credentials or facilities to facilitate harm to or monitoring, surveillance, or harassment of other Saudi nationals in the country; whether any Saudi official engaged in a consistent pattern of intimidation or harassment against journalist Jamal Khashoggi or other individuals in the U.S.; and whether and how the U.S. intelligence community fulfilled its duty to warn Khashoggi of threats against him.” The motion was agreed to 350-71. [HR 1392, Vote #Vote #130, 4/21/21; CQ, 4/21/21]

Salazar Voted For A Resolution Condemning Human Rights Violations In Hong Kong. In April 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the resolution that would state that the House of Representatives condemns certain actions taken by the Chinese and Hong Kong governments, including the adoption and implementation of national security legislation through "irregular procedures," and reaffirms its support for the people of Hong Kong, who "face grave threats to their inviolable rights and freedoms." Among other provisions, it would encourage the president and the State and Treasury departments to implement certain policies with regard to developments in Hong Kong, including to provide protection for Hong Kong residents fearing persecution, support individuals seeking to file a case against China before the International Court of Justice, encourage the appointment of a United Nations special mandate holder to monitor human rights developments in Hong Kong, and continue implementing sanctions.” The bill passed 418 to 1. [H Res 130, Vote #Vote #121, 4/19/21; CQ, 4/19/21]

Salazar Voted For Condemning The Myanmar Military Coup. In March 2021, Salazar voted for: “Meeks, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would express that the House of Representatives condemns the Feb. 1, 2021, military coup in Myanmar. It would condemn any attacks on civilians and call on the Myanmar armed forces to release individuals detained as a result of the coup; return to power all members of the civilian government; and remove impediments on communications, expression and travel. It would call on the president and the State Department to encourage the return to power of civilian government and constitutional reforms to address disenfranchisement of ethnic minorities; impose various restrictions aimed at the Myanmar armed forces and those responsible for the coup, including targeted sanctions allowing exemptions for the delivery of humanitarian assistance; and ensure platforms provided by U.S.-based social media companies like Facebook cannot be used for disinformation campaigns or for advocating violence against the people in Myanmar.” The motion passed 398-14. [HR 134, Vote #Vote #97, 3/19/21; CQ, 3/19/21]

Salazar Voted Against A Family Or Household Member Or Law Enforcement Initiated Red Flag Law Authorizing Judges To Prohibit The Purchase And Possession Of Firearms By People Who Pose An Imminent Danger. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would allow a family or household member of an individual, or a law enforcement officer, to petition a federal district court to issue an extreme risk protection order to prohibit an individual from purchasing or possessing a firearm or ammunition, if the court finds that such purchase or possession poses a risk of imminent personal injury to the individual or others. It would require courts to grant or deny a petition for a temporary order, valid for 14 days, on its date of submission. It would require courts to hold a hearing on a petition for a long-term order, valid for a renewable period of 180 days, within 72 hours of issuing a temporary order or 14 days after submission of the petition. In evaluating a petition, it would require courts to consider recent threats or acts of violence by the respondent, recent acts of cruelty to animals and evidence of ongoing substance abuse. It would also allow courts to consider a respondent’s reckless use or display of a firearm or history of violence or attempted violence. It would establish procedures for the surrender and removal of firearms pursuant to an extreme risk protection order and prohibit the possession of firearms by individuals subject to an order under federal firearm law. It would also specify that there would be no costs for filing a petition and establish a penalty of up to $5,000 or five years imprisonment for making false or frivolous petitions. The bill would also require the Office of Community Oriented Policing Services within the Justice Department to establish a grant program to assist state, tribal and local governments in implementing legislation allowing individuals to petition state or tribal courts to issue extreme risk protection orders, including to enhance the capacity and training of law enforcement agencies and courts to carry out the legislation.” The bill passed by a vote of 224-202. - U.S. Secret Service: In 41 School Violence Incidents Between 2008-2017, “All Attackers Exhibited Concerning Behaviors” “Often Observed By Peers, School Staff, Family Members, Or Others.” “To aid in these efforts, the U.S. Secret Service National Threat Assessment Center (NTAC) studied 41 incidents of targeted school violence that occurred at K-12 schools in the United States from 2008 to 2017. [...] The analysis suggests that many of these tragedies could have been prevented [...] All attackers exhibited concerning behaviors. Most elicited concern from others, and most communicated their intent to attack. The initial indicators of a student who was in distress or exhibiting concerning behavior were often observed by peers, school staff, family members, or others in their immediate community systems. The behaviors that elicited concern ranged from a constellation of lower-level concerns to objectively concerning or prohibited behaviors. Most of the attackers communicated a prior threat to their target or communicated their intentions to carry out an attack. In many of these cases, someone observed a threatening communication or behavior but did not act, either out of fear, not believing the attacker, misjudging the immediacy or location, or believing they had dissuaded the attacker. These findings continue to highlight the importance of encouraging students, school personnel, and family members to report troubling or concerning behaviors, in order to ensure that those in positions of authority can intervene. These same community members need to be trained on identifying risk factors for student violence and students in crisis.” [United States Secret Service National Threat Assessment Center, Report, 11/7/19]

• Journal of Contemporary Criminal Justice: A Study Of 15 Of The Worst Mass Shootings Showed Most “Were Indeed Preventable” And “The Deadliest Mass Shooters Exhibited More Warning Signs” Compared To Other Active Shooters. “This study examined the 15 deadliest public mass shootings in the United States from March 1998 to February 2018 to assess (a) leakage of violent thoughts/intent, (b) leakage of specific interest in mass killing, (c) concerning behaviors reported to law enforcement, (d) concerning interest in homicide reported to law enforcement, and (e) firearms acquisition. We then compared our findings on the deadliest public mass shooters with the Federal Bureau of Investigation’s (FBI) findings on active shooters in general. Overall, the results suggest that most incidents were indeed preventable based on information known about offenders in advance, and that the deadliest mass shooters exhibited more warning signs and were more often reported to law enforcement than other active shooters. Future prevention efforts should aim to educate, encourage, and pressure the public to report warning signs to law enforcement, educate and train law enforcement so that they can more effectively investigate potential threats, and limit firearms access for people who have admitted having homicidal or suicidal thoughts or being interested in committing a mass shooting. These relatively straightforward steps could significantly reduce the prevalence of future attacks.” [Journal of Contemporary Criminal Justice, Research Article, 4/2/19]

• Federal Bureau Of Investigation: A Study Of 63 Active Shooters Found Each Displayed An Average Of 4 to 5 Concerning Behaviors Observable By Others. “The 63 active shooters examined in this study did not appear to be uniform in any way such that they could be readily identified prior to attacked based on demographics alone. […] On average, each active shooter displayed 4 to 5 concerning behaviors over time that were observable to others around the shooter. The most frequently occurring concerning behaviors were related to the active shooter’s mental health, problematic interpersonal interactions, and leakage of violent intent.” [U.S. Department of Justice, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Report, 6/20/18]

Salazar Voted Against The Protecting Our Kids Act To Increase Gun Safety. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would contain several provisions related to limiting gun access. Specifically, it would increase from 18 to 21 years the age at which an individual can legally purchase a semiautomatic weapon; prohibit ‘straw purchases,’ or the acquisition of firearms for sale to another individual other than in the case of gifts between family members or purchases for lawful use in a business; and prohibit individuals from selling or transferring a firearm or ammunition if they have reason to believe the recipient intends to use them in violation of federal law or sell or dispose of them in another state in violation of that state’s law. It would prohibit the import, sale, manufacture, transfer or possession of large capacity ammunition feeding devices, other than for certain law enforcement or testing purposes; prohibit the manufacture, sale or transfer of ‘ghost guns,’ or firearms that lack a serial number issued by a licensed manufacturer, and make such weapons and the assembly of such weapons subject to federal firearm regulations; and authorize the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives to regulate bump stocks, which are devices intended to increase the rate of fire of a semiautomatic weapon in the same manner as a machine gun. It would prohibit the storage of a firearm in a private residence where a minor is likely to access it without permission or where a resident of the household is ineligible to possess a firearm, unless the weapon is secured with a gun storage or safety device, in a reasonably secure location or on the person of the owner. It would authorize $10 million annually through fiscal 2033 for Justice Department grants for state and tribal programs to distribute safe firearm storage devices to the public, and it would require the department to publish best practices for safe firearm storage and gun manufacturers to include such information on weapon packaging. Among other provisions, it would authorize the use of federal law enforcement grants for state and tribal buy-back programs for large capacity ammunition feeding devices; require the FBI to submit to Congress a report regarding the operation of its public access tip line; and require the Justice Department to submit to Congress an annual report including the demographic data of individuals who were determined to be ineligible to purchase a firearm based on a background check performed by the National Instant Criminal Background Check System during the previous year.” The bill passed by a vote of 223-204. - House Republican Leadership Urged Members To Vote Against The Protecting Our Kids Act, Citing Opposition From The National Rifle Association And Gun Owners Of America. “In a ‘whip notice’ sent to rank-and-file members on Tuesday afternoon, House GOP leadership urged a ‘no’ vote on all eight bills, referring to the seven-bill package as the ‘Unconstitutional Gun Restrictions Act.’ They wrote that House Democrats had ‘thrown together this reactionary package comprised of legislation that egregiously violates law-abiding citizens’ 2nd Amendment rights and hinders Americans’ ability to defend and protect themselves and their families.’ The email also noted the opposition of the National Rifle Association and Gun Owners of America, including links to talking points from the NRA about both the gun package and the red flag law.” [Business Insider, 6/8/22]

- House Republican Leadership Noted The National Rifle Association Would Consider Votes On The Protecting Our Kids Act In Future Candidate Ratings And Endorsements. “‘Due to the importance of this issue, votes on this legislation will be considered in future candidate ratings and endorsements by the NRA Political Victory Fund,’ declares one of the memos shared by party leaders. […] But the two gun groups’ inclusion — and the NRA’s threat to downgrade candidate ratings or withhold endorsements should any Republicans back the measures — underscores the enduring influence of pro-second amendment groups on the right, despite the NRA’s recent financial troubles and shrinking membership.” [Business Insider, 6/8/22]

- Center For Disease Control: Guns Were The Leading Cause Of Death Among Children, Above Car Accidents And Cancer. “The CDC publishes data on the leading causes of death among different demographic groups, providing the most reliable data. In 2020, the leading cause of death among children ages one through 18 involved a firearm. There were 3,219 such deaths in 2020, followed by motor vehicle traffic deaths, of which there were 2,882.” [PolitFact, 6/4/22]

- Mass Shootings Rose 46% Between 2019 And 2020 And Increased Another 13% By 2021.

- Center For American Progress: “Rising Crime Rates [Were] Almost Entirely Driven By An Increase In Gun-Related Homicides.” “Rising crime rates are almost entirely driven by an increase in gun-related homicides • From 2019 to 2020, homicides increased a staggering 28 percent. This sharp increase was driven by a dramatic rise in gun-related homicides: ° While nonfirearm homicides increased less than 10 percent from 2019 to 2020, gun homicides rose by 35 percent, the largest annual increase ever recorded. ° In 2020, 8 out of every 10 homicides were perpetrated with a gun, the highest proportion in recent years. • Unfortunately, the rise in gun homicides continued through 2021: Preliminary data suggest an additional 7 percent increase in gun homicides from 2020 to 2021.” [Center for American Progress, Fact Sheet, 6/3/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Protecting Our Kids Act To Committee. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Hudson, R-N.C., motion to recommit the bill to the House Judiciary Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 198-228. [H.R. 7910, Vote #244, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted For Retaining Title I Of The Protecting Our Kids Act To Raise The Age To Purchase A Semiautomatic Firearm From 18 To 21. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Retain Title I of the bill, which incorporates provisions of the Raise the Age Act (HR 3015). Title I would increase from 18 to 21 years the age at which an individual can legally purchase a semiautomatic gun. Specifically, it would prohibit licensed gun dealers from selling a semiautomatic centerfire weapon that has an ammunition feeding device with a capacity exceeding five rounds to an individual the dealer has reasonable cause to believe is under the age of 21, unless the individual is an active duty servicemember or authorized government employee. It would also require the FBI to submit to Congress a report regarding the operation of its public access tip line, including a description of and recommendations to improve protocols and procedures for information sharing between the public access line and FBI field offices.” The title was retained by a vote of 228-199. [H.R. 7910, Vote #Vote #237, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted For Retaining Title II Of The Protecting Our Kids Act To Prohibit Firearms Trafficking Through Criminalizing The Straw Purchase Of Firearms. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Retain Title II of the bill, which incorporates provisions of the Prevent Gun Trafficking Act (HR 2280). Title II would prohibit the trafficking of firearms or acquisition of firearms for sale to another individual, also known as a ‘straw purchase.’ Specifically, it would make it a federal criminal offense for an individual to knowingly purchase or attempt to purchase a firearm for the possession of a third party or to hire, solicit or otherwise endeavor to persuade another individual to do so. It would specify that the prohibition does not apply to bona fide gifts between family members or purchases by the agent of a lawful business, for lawful use in the business. It would require the Justice Department to ensure that its firearm transaction record forms include a statement outlining penalties that may be imposed for violating the prohibition. It would also make it a federal criminal offense for an individual to sell or dispose of a firearm or ammunition to a recipient they have reason to believe intends to use them in violation of federal law or sell or dispose of them in another state in violation of that state’s law.” The title was retained by a vote of 226-197. [H.R. 7910, Vote #Vote #238, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted Against Retaining Title III Of The Protecting Our Kids Act To Include Untraceable Firearms, Such As Ghost Guns Without A Unique Serial Number, Under Firearm Regulations. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Retain Title III of the bill, which incorporates provisions of the Untraceable Firearms Act (HR 3088). Title III would make firearms that lack a unique serial number engraved or cast by a licensed manufacturer, also known as ‘ghost guns,’ and the 3D printing or other self-assembly of such weapons subject to federal firearm regulations. It would make it a federal criminal offense to manufacture, sell, offer to sell, purchase, transfer or receive a ghost gun; to engrave or cast a serial number on a firearm unless specifically authorized by the Justice Department; or to sell, offer to sell or transfer a machine with the sole or primary function of manufacturing firearms to any person other than a licensed manufacturer. Beginning 30 months after enactment, it would prohibit the possession of ghost guns by any person other than a licensed importer or manufacturer. It would also update language related to federal prohibitions on firearms or their components that are undetectable by metal detectors and x-ray machines.” The title was retained by a vote of 226-194. [H.R. 7910, Vote #Vote #239, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted Against Retaining Title IV Of The Protecting Our Kids Act To Criminalize Improper At-Home Firearm Storage And Security In A Household With A Minor Or Resident Ineligible To Possess A Firearm. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Retain Title IV of the bill, which incorporates provisions of Ethan’s Law (HR 748), the Safe Guns, Safe Kids Act (HR 6370) and the Kimberly Vaughan Firearm Safe Storage Act (HR 130). Title IV would make it a federal criminal offense to store a firearm in a private residence where a minor is likely to access it without permission or where a resident of the household is ineligible to possess a firearm, unless the weapon is secured with a gun storage or safety device, in a reasonably secure location or on the person of the owner. It would establish a $500 fine for violations of the prohibition, with an additional penalty of up to five years in prison if a minor or ineligible person obtains the weapon and injures themself or others. It would also establish a Justice Department grant program to assist states and tribes in implementing legislation similar to the new federal requirement. It would also require licensed dealers to provide a secure gun storage or safety device with all rifle and shotgun sales, expanding an existing requirement for handgun sales. It would authorize $10 million annually through fiscal 2033 for Justice Department grants for states and tribes to develop and implement programs to distribute safe firearm storage devices to the public. It would require the Justice Department to develop and publish best practices for safe firearm storage and, beginning in 2025, require licensed manufacturers and importers that serialize at least 250 firearms annually to include a link to the best practices on the packaging of each weapon.” The title was retained by a vote of 220-205. [H.R. 7910, Vote #240, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted For Retaining Title V Of The Protecting Our Kids Act To Regulate Bump Stocks Used To Increase The Rate Of Fire Of A Semiautomatic Weapon. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Retain Title V of the bill, which incorporates provisions of the Closing the Bump Stock Loophole Act (HR 5427). Title V would authorize the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives to regulate bump stocks, defined as any device, part or modification designed to increase the rate of fire of a semiautomatic weapon in the same manner as a machine gun.” The title was retained by a vote of 233-194. [H.R. 7910, Vote #241, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted Against Retaining Title VI Of The Protecting Our Kids Act To Prohibit The Import, Sale, Manufacture, Transfer, Or Possession Of Large Capacity Ammunition Feeding Devices. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Retain Title VI of the bill, which incorporates provisions of the Keep Americans Safe Act (HR 2510). Title VI would prohibit the import, sale, manufacture, transfer or possession of large capacity ammunition feeding devices, other than for certain law enforcement or testing purposes. It would require any such devices manufactured after the bill’s enactment to be engraved or cast with a serial number and date of manufacture. It would specify that the prohibition would not apply to the possession of devices owned before the bill’s enactment. It also would authorize the use of federal grants to state and local law enforcement agencies for compensation for devices surrendered under buy-back programs for large capacity ammunition feeding devices.” The title was retained by a vote of 220-207. [H.R. 7910, Vote #242, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted For Retaining Title VII Of The Protecting Our Kids Act To Require An Annual Department Of Justice Report On The Demographics Of Firearm Purchase Background Check Failure. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Retain Title VII of the bill. Title VII would require the Justice Department to submit to Congress an annual report including the demographic data of individuals who were determined to be ineligible to purchase a firearm based on a background check performed by the National Instant Criminal Background Check System during the previous year, including race, ethnicity, national origin, sex, gender, age, disability, average annual income and English language proficiency, if available.” The title was retained by a vote of 380-47. [H.R. 7910, Vote #243, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering Red Flag Laws, The Protecting Our Kids Act, Budget Enforcement Authority, And Condemning The Great Replacement Theory. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the McGovern, D-Mass., motion to order the previous question on the rule (H Res 1153) that would provide for House floor consideration of two bills (HR 7910 and HR 2377) related to restricting access to firearms, automatic agreement to a resolution (H Res 1151) providing budget enforcement authority for fiscal 2023, and automatic agreement to a resolution (H Res 1152) condemning the "great replacement" theory. The rule would provide for up to two hours of debate on HR 7910; seven individual roll call votes on the question of retaining each title of the bill; and a final roll call vote on passage of the portions of the bill retained in the previous votes. The rule would provide for up to one hour of debate on HR 2377 and automatic adoption of the Nadler, D-N.Y., manager’s amendment to the bill that would require training for law enforcement officers regarding the safe and equitable use of extreme risk protection orders to address bias based on mental health condition and disability and make technical changes to the bill. The rule would provide for automatic agreement to a resolution (H Res 1151) that would provide budget enforcement authority for fiscal 2023, setting a total discretionary spending limit of $1.603 trillion, applicable until a fiscal 2023 budget resolution is agreed to in both chambers. It would authorize spending cap adjustments of up to $2.6 billion for wildfire suppression activities; up to $1.5 billion for continuing disability reviews with respect to social security benefit eligibility; up to $576 million for the Health and Human Services Department health care fraud and abuse control program; and up to $258 million for Labor Department reemployment services and eligibility assessments. It would also authorize spending cap adjustments for disaster relief, not to exceed certain amounts based on formulas related to spending in the previous 10 fiscal years, and it would prohibit any fiscal 2023 appropriations measures from providing advance appropriations, with the exception of funding for certain veterans’ services for fiscal 2024 and up to $28.9 billion in new budget authority for other specified programs funded by advance appropriations for fiscal years 2024 and 2025. The rule would provide for automatic agreement to a resolution (H Res 1152) that would express that the House of Representatives condemns the "great replacement" theory, which is a conspiracy theory advocated by white supremacists suggesting that nonwhite individuals are being brought into Western countries to "replace" white voters and achieve a political agenda. It would state that the House honors the memory and legacy of the victims of the May 14, 2022, mass shooting in Buffalo, N.Y., referring to the shooting as a "white supremacist act of violent extremism," and reaffirms the federal government’s commitment to combatting white supremacy by developing a whole-of-government approach to address white supremacist violence. Finally, the rule would authorize through June 17, 2022, certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions." The rule was adopted by a vote of 218-205. [H. Res. 1153, Vote #236, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted Against Extending The Timeframe For FBI Notification On Background Checks To 20 Days, From Three Days Under Current Law. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: "Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require a licensed gun dealer to wait up to 20 business days, as opposed to three under current law, for notification from the FBI regarding an individual's background check before completing the sale or transfer of a firearm. Specifically, it would allow a prospective gun purchaser to petition the Justice Department to complete the sale after 10 days if no determination on their eligibility has been made through the National Instant Criminal Background Check System and allow the dealer to complete the transaction an additional 10 days after the petition is submitted. It would also require the Government Accountability Office, FBI and Justice Department to submit a number of reports regarding the bill's effectiveness and implementation, including on the number of petitions not adjudicated within the second 10-day period and the bill's effect on the safety of victims of domestic violence and sexual assault." The bill passed by a vote of 219-210. [HR 1446, Vote #77, 3/11/21; CQ, 3/11/21]
• HR 1446 Would Extend The Period For Gun Background Checks From 3 Days Under Current Law To Close The “Charleston Loophole,” Named For The 2015 Mass Shooting There. “The House passed two bills Thursday that would tighten gun sales regulations, sending the measures to a divided Senate. H.R. 8 would expand background checks on individuals seeking to purchase or transfer firearms, and the Enhanced Background Checks Act of 2021 would close the ‘Charleston loophole,’ a gap in federal law that lets gun sales proceed without a completed background check if three businesses days have passed […] The other bill passed Thursday, H.R. 1446, is linked to a shooting in 2015 in Charleston, South Carolina, where a white supremacist used the loophole to obtain firearms he used to kill nine Black people during a Bible study at Mother Emanuel AME Church.” [USA Today, 3/11/21]

Salazar Voted For Requiring Background Checks On Most Gun Sales, Including Those Between Private Parties. In March 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require most purchasers of firearms to undergo a background check through the FBI National Instant Criminal Background Check System. Specifically, beginning 180 days after enactment, it would require any individual seeking to transfer a firearm to first bring the firearm to a licensed dealer. It would require the dealer to take possession of the firearm, complete a background check on the transferee, and return the firearm to its original owner if the transaction is denied. The bill would make a number of exceptions to the requirement, including for loans or gifts between family members; temporary transfers for hunting, use on a shooting range, or pest control by farmers; temporary transfers to prevent imminent death or bodily harm, including self-harm; and transfers to law enforcement personnel, private security professionals, or members of the armed forces, if associated with official duties.” The bill passed by a vote of 227-203. [HR 8, Vote #Vote #75, 3/11/21; CQ, 3/11/21]

• HR 8 Would Expand The Cases Where A Background Check Is Required For Gun Sales, Closing The “Gun Show Loophole.” “H.R. 8, a background checks package meant to enhance reviews of those seeking firearms, would not create a registry or other federal mechanisms for review. Instead, the legislation would expand the cases in which a background check is required for the sale or transfer of a firearm, including for private individuals and groups, closing the ‘Gun Show Loophole.’ The requirements would apply to online sales. The bill would make it illegal for anyone who is not a licensed firearm importer, manufacturer or dealer to trade or sell firearms to another person; current federal law requires background checks only for licensed gun dealers.” [USA Today, 3/11/21]

Health Care

Salazar Voted For Establishing The Advanced Research Projects Agency for Health As An Independent Division Within The Health And Human Services Department. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would establish the Advanced Research Projects Agency for Health, which currently operates within the National Institutes of Health, as an independent division within the Health and Human Services Department and authorize $500 million annually through fiscal 2027 for its activities. The bill would codify ARPA-H’s goals of fostering the development of new health technologies, capabilities and systems, including by translating scientific discoveries into health technologies, providing resources for platform capabilities and research drawing on multiple disciplines and delivering proofs of concept for medical advances. It would allow ARPA-H to cooperate with the Food and Drug Administration to expedite the development of drugs, devices and biological products; share information with the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services to expedite coverage determinations for new health technologies; and award grants and other contracts to carry out its goals, prioritizing funding for domestic recipients conducting transformative health technology research. It would require the president to appoint an ARPA-H director for a maximum of two five-year terms. Among other provisions, it would establish an interagency research council to advise the division on research prioritization and coordination with other federal agencies; require ARPA-H to annually report to Congress on its actions undertaken and results generated; and establish personnel and leasing authorities for the division.” The bill passed by a vote of 336-85. [H.R. 5585, Vote #288, 6/22/22; CQ, 6/22/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To The Advanced Research Projects Agency-Health Act That Would Make Some Technical Changes Including Defining The Scope Of The Agency And Prohibiting The ARPA-H From Awarding Grants To Recipients In Certain Countries. In June 2022, Salazar voted for: “Eshoo, D-Calif., amendment no. 1 to the bill that would specify that there would be no more than six program offices within the Advanced Research Projects Agency-Health authorized by the bill, at least two-thirds of which must be exclusively dedicated to research and development; strike language that would require Senate confirmation of the ARPA-H director; prohibit ARPA-H from awarding any grants and agreements to recipients from Russia, Iran, North Korea, China or certain other countries designated with respect to foreign malign influence; specify that no more than 15 percent of funds made available to carry out the bill could be used for administrative expenses; and specify uses for lease funds received by ARPA-H.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 381-40. [HR 5585, Vote #287, 6/22/22; CQ, 6/22/22]

Salazar Voted For The Restoring Hope For Mental Health And Well Being Act. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize over 30 Health and Human Services Department mental health and substance use disorder programs through fiscal 2027, authorize funding for several new HHS mental health programs and include various provisions to expand access to such services. The bill would reauthorize existing HHS grant programs for five years, through fiscal 2027, including to authorize a total of $9.5 billion for substance use prevention, treatment and recovery block grants; $4.3 billion for community mental health services block grants; $625 million for community mental health services for children with serious emotional disturbances; $300 million to support integrated physical and behavioral health services; $250 million for mental and behavioral health professional education and training; $207 million for nonprofits providing mental health and substance use disorder services for homeless individuals; $150 million for adult suicide prevention and intervention programs, and $125 million for activities to treat heroin and other opioid addiction. Also over five years, it would authorize funding for new HHS mental health programs, including a total of $65 million for grants to expand access to peer-delivered mental health services; $50 million for grants for states, localities and tribes to establish or enhance mobile crisis response teams that divert mental health and substance use crisis response from law enforcement; and $5 million for a center of excellence to support eating disorder identification and treatment. It would require HHS to establish a maternal mental health task force and authorize $50 million through fiscal 2027 for a national hotline for pregnant and postpartum women affected by maternal mental health and substance use disorders. Among other provisions, it would require the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration to develop and periodically update guidance for states to operate and promote the availability of recovery housing and to convene an interagency working group with the Housing and Urban Development Department to support recovery housing for individuals experiencing homelessness, mental illness or substance use disorders. It would require HHS to eliminate a requirement that an individual must have been experiencing opioid addiction for at least one year before admittance into an opioid treatment program. It would remove certain waiver requirements for medical practitioners dispensing Schedule III, IV and V narcotic drugs, including buprenorphine, for maintenance or detoxification treatment. It would increase funding available for the Medicare Improvement Fund from $5 million to $1 billion.” The bill passed by a vote of 402-20. [H.R. 7666, Vote #286, 6/22/22; CQ, 6/22/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To The Restoring Hope For Mental Health And Well Being Act That Would Postpone Certain Provisions Easing Restrictions On Dispensing Certain Narcotic Drugs For Maintenance Or Detoxification Treatment Until January 2024. In June 2022, Salazar voted for: “Griffith, R-Va., amendment no. 8 to the bill that would postpone the effective date of provisions regarding the elimination of certain requirements for dispensing Schedule III, IV, and V narcotic drugs for maintenance or detoxification treatment to Jan. 1, 2024.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 180-239. [H.R. 7666, Vote #285, 6/22/22; CQ, 6/22/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To The Restoring Hope For Mental Health And Well Being Act That Would Require The HHS To Assist And Advise Schools In Establishing Behavioral Intervention Teams. In June 2022, Salazar voted for: “Rodgers, R-Wash., for Ferguson, R-Ga., amendment no. 6 to the bill that would require the Health and Human Services Department, within two years of enactment, to develop best practices for and provide technical assistance to elementary schools, secondary schools and institutions of higher education in establishing and using behavioral intervention teams, including how such teams can mitigate inappropriate uses of mental health assessments, inappropriate involvement of law enforcement and violations of of individual privacy.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 320-103. [H.R. 7666, Vote #284, 6/22/22; CQ, 6/22/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To The Restoring Hope For Mental Health And Well Being Act That Would Require The Justice Department To Submit A Report On The Mental Health Of Law Enforcement And Availability Of Services To Congress. In June 2022, Salazar voted for: “Demings, D-Fla., amendment no. 4 to the bill that would require the Justice Department, in consultation with the FBI, National Institute for Justice and Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, to submit to Congress, within 270 days of enactment, a report on mental health and stress-related responses of law enforcement to traumatic incidents and the availability and utilization of mental health and wellness programming for law enforcement officers.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 411-10. [H.R. 7666, Vote #283, 6/22/22; CQ, 6/22/22]
Salazar Voted For En Bloc Amendment No. 2 For The Restoring Hope For Mental Health And Well-Being Act. In June 2022, Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., en bloc amendments no. 2 to the bill, consisting of six amendments that would insert the text of a bill (HR 2355) that would require the Health and Human Services Department to periodically update materials on when pharmacists may refuse to fill prescriptions and require such materials to include information for pharmacists on verifying patient identity; extend from 14 to 60 days the time limit by which certain controlled substances must be administered to a patient after a practitioner receives the substance; require the best practices for crisis response continuum of care published by HHS to include recommendations on the capacity to meet the needs of veteran patients; insert the text of a bill (HR 2364) that would require HHS to develop and implement an education campaign to raise public awareness of the dangers and use of synthetic opioids, as well as HHS services available to address the misuse of such drugs; require manufacturers and distributors of controlled substances to exercise and maintain a record of due diligence upon discovering a suspicious order and decline to fill the order unless the reasons for suspicion are resolved; and modify and reauthorize for five years an HHS grant program to help states and tribes address opioid and stimulant use and misuse.” The amendment bloc was adopted by a vote of 366-51. [H.R. 7666, Vote #282, 6/22/22; CQ, 6/22/22]

Salazar Voted For En Bloc Amendment No. 1 For The Restoring Hope For Mental Health And Well-Being Act. In June 2022, Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., en bloc amendments no. 1 to the bill, consisting of eight amendments that would insert the text of a bill (HR 1480) that would authorize the Health and Human Services Department to award grants to nonprofits to establish and implement peer-support behavioral health and wellness programs for fire departments, emergency medical services and health care providers; require the Behavioral Health Crisis Coordinating Office established by the bill to support technical assistance, data analysis and evaluation functions for care provided by the Veterans Crisis Line; require the Defense Department to carry out a two-year pilot program to pre-program behavioral health and suicide prevention resources into smart devices issued to members of the armed forces; authorize $101.6 million annually through fiscal 2027 for the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline program, with at least 80 percent of the funding allocated for local crisis centers; require HHS to consult with state, local and tribal public health officials in maintaining the Maternal Mental Health Hotline established by the bill; authorize $130 million annually through fiscal 2027 for HHS, in consultation with the Education Department, to make grants and contracts to entities that provide school-based mental health services and support for children dealing with trauma, grief, suicide risk and violence; require HHS to study the rates of suicidal behaviors among children and adolescents with chronic illnesses, including substance use disorders, autoimmune disorders and heritable blood disorders; and require HHS, in consultation with the Justice, Labor and Housing and Urban Development departments, to conduct a study on the direct and indirect costs of serious mental illness on nongovernmental entities and federal, state, local and tribal agencies.” The amendment bloc was adopted by a vote of 387-32. [H.R. 7666, Vote #281, 6/22/22; CQ, 6/22/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering Several Bills Including The LGBTQI+ Data Inclusion Act, The Advanced Research Project Agency-Health Act, And The Restoring Hope For Mental Health And Well-Being Act. In June 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1191) that would provide for House floor consideration of the LGBTQI+ Data Inclusion Act (HR 4176), the Advanced Research Project Agency-Health Act (HR 5585) and the Restoring Hope for Mental Health and Well-Being Act (HR 7666). The rule would provide for up to one hour of debate on each bill; automatic adoption of manager's amendments to HR 4176 and HR 7666; and floor consideration of three amendments to HR 4176, one amendment to HR 5585 and 17 amendments to HR 7666. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Carolyn B. Maloney, D-N.Y., manager’s amendment that would add a congressional finding stating that the integrity of the federal statistical system relies on the ability of agencies to determine the content of their surveys; allow agency statistical officials to waive the bill's requirements if adding the required data would impair the utility, accuracy or objectivity of the surveys; permit an agency head to make waivers if the agency does not have a statistical official; and make technical changes. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Pallone, D-N.J., manager’s amendment that would authorize $25 million annually through fiscal 2027 for the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration's Minority Fellowship Program. It would increase funding available for the Medicare Improvement Fund from $5 million to $1 billion. It would add various requirements related to Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program services, including to require the provision of physical and mental health screenings for eligible youth released from incarceration, allow eligible youth who are incarcerated pending disposition of charges to receive medical services, and require HHS to issue guidelines to improve access to school-based medical assistance, behavioral health services for children and telehealth services. Beginning in 2024, it would add reporting requirements for health insurance issuers providing pharmacy benefit management regarding drugs covered, amounts of copayment assistance paid and total gross and net spending for prescription drugs under the plan. It would require HHS to conduct and support research on the health effects of smartphone and social media use by adolescents and on the health and developmental effects of media on infants, children and adolescents. Finally, the rule would authorize through July 13, 2022, certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions. It would also allow proceedings on measures considered under suspension of the rules on June 21 through June 24 to be postponed through July 15.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 214-202. [H. Res. 1191, Vote #Vote #280, 6/22/22; CQ, 6/22/22]

Salazar Voted For Reauthorizing The Food And Drug Administration's User Fee Programs For Prescription And Generic Drugs And Medical Devices Through FY 2027. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize through fiscal 2027 the Food and Drug Administration’s user fee programs for prescription drugs, medical devices, generic drugs and biosimilar biological products, and revise certain aspects of the fee programs. It would also include a number of provisions aimed at improving pharmaceutical research, development and supply chains. The bill would authorize $20 million annually for fiscal years 2023 through 2027 for the Health and Human Services Department to establish an emerging technologies grant program to support innovative approaches to drug product design and manufacturing; require HHS to establish an FDA pilot program to designate advanced drug manufacturing technology; and authorize HHS to designate certain higher education institutions as national centers of excellence in advanced and continuous pharmaceutical manufacturing. It would modify the FDA’s Accelerated Approval Program, including to codify labeling requirements for drugs approved under the program and require HHS to specify the conditions for post-approval studies on such drugs. It would include several provisions to increase diversity in clinical drug studies, including to require the sponsors of clinical investigations for new drugs to submit to HHS a diversity action plan; require HHS to evaluate the need for regulatory authorities to ensure post-approval studies for FDA-approved drugs in the case of insufficient demographic subgroup data in premarket studies; and require HHS to convene public workshops on increasing the enrollment of historically underrepresented populations in clinical studies.
Among other provisions, it would reauthorize through fiscal 2027 reporting requirements for pending generic drug applications and modify procedures for HHS evaluation of abbreviated new drug applications for generic drugs. It would modify and reauthorize through fiscal 2027 the FDA’s drug manufacturing facility inspection program, including to require HHS to establish a pilot program to increase unannounced surveillance inspections of foreign facilities; ensure internal coordination among field inspectors and staff on inspection and compliance activities; and post facility inspection information on the FDA’s website annually after the end of each fiscal year. It would reauthorize through fiscal 2027 various pharmaceutical research and development programs and provisions, including the pediatric pharmaceutical studies program, the orphan drug grants program, the humanitarian device exemptions, the pediatric device consortia, the exclusivity of certain drugs containing single enantiomers and the critical path public-private partnership program.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 392-28. [H.R.
7667, Vote #Vote #254, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted For The Incorporation Of Maternal Morbidity Data Mapping Into An Interactive Public Tool. In April 2022 Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Federal Communications Commission, in consultation with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and within 180 days of enactment, to incorporate publicly available maternal mortality and severe maternal morbidity data into its Mapping Broadband Health in America platform, an interactive public mapping tool for visualizing and analyzing broadband and health data.”
The motion was agreed to by a vote of 409-11. [H.R. 1218, Vote #Vote #110, 4/5/22; CQ, 4/5/22]

Salazar Voted For Insurance Coverage For Services Related To Birth Defects, Including Dental Or Orthodontic Care. In April 2022 Salazar voted for: “Eshoo, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require health insurers to provide coverage for services related to the diagnosis and treatment of congenital anomalies or birth defects, including dental or orthodontic care. It would specify that coverage must include any medically necessary service that functionally improves, repairs or restores normal bodily function or appearance, and may not have coverage limits or cost-sharing requirements more restrictive than the predominant requirements under the plan. It would not require coverage of cosmetic surgery to improve appearance or self-esteem.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 310-110. [H.R. 1916, Vote #Vote #109, 4/4/22; CQ, 4/4/22]

Salazar Voted Against Capping The Price Of Insulin At $35. In March 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require private health insurance and Medicare to cover certain insulin products and limit cost-sharing requirements for such products for plans beginning in 2023. Specifically, it would require private insurance plans to cover at least one of each dosage form of each type of insulin, such as short-acting, long-acting and premixed insulin; prohibit the plans from applying a deductible for the insulin products; and cap cost-sharing for the insulin products at the lesser of $35 or 25 percent of the plan’s negotiated price for the product per 30-day supply. For Medicare plans, it would similarly prohibit the application of a deductible for covered insulin products and cap copayments at $35 per 30-day supply. The bill would also increase funding available for the Medicare Improvement Fund from $5 million to approximately $9 billion. As an offset, it would delay for an additional year, through Jan. 1, 2027, implementation of a November 2020 rule ending a safe harbor provision that protects pharmacy benefit managers from federal anti-kickback laws for prescription drug rebates provided to health insurers under Medicare Part D.” Passed by a vote of 232-193. [H.R. 6833, Vote #Vote #102, 3/31/22, CQ, 3/31/22]
• The Affordable Insulin Now Act Capped The Price Of Insulin At $35 Or 25% Of An Insurance Plan's Negotiated Price, Whichever Was Lower. “The House of Representatives voted Thursday to approve legislation that would limit cost-sharing for insulin under private health insurance and Medicare. The vote was 232-193, with 12 Republican members joining their Democratic colleagues to pass the measure. The Affordable Insulin Now Act would cap insulin prices at either $35 a month or 25% of an insurance plan's negotiated price — whichever is lower. The legislation aims to take effect in 2023 but its fate in the Senate remains unclear.” [NPR, 3/31/22]

• Insulin Prices Doubled Between 2012 And 2016. “Advocates of the legislation point to data from the Health Care Cost Institute, an independent nonprofit that studies health care prices, which shows prices for insulin doubled between 2012 and 2016. ‘No one should have to choose between taking their medication as prescribed and putting food on the table or a roof over their head,’ said Rep. Dan Kildee, one of three Democratic lawmakers who sponsored the legislation.” [NPR, 3/31/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering The Marijuana Opportunity And Expungement Act And The Affordable Insulin Now Act. In March 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1017) that would provide for House floor consideration of the Marijuana Opportunity Reinvestment and Expungement (MORE) Act (HR 3617) and the Affordable Insulin Now Act (HR 6833). The rule would provide for up to one hour of general debate on each bill. It would provide for floor consideration of three amendments to HR 3617. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Nadler, D-N.Y., manager's amendment to HR 3617 that would clarify language prohibiting the denial of benefits to an individual under immigration law based on any actions relating to marijuana use or possession that would no longer be prohibited under the bill's provisions. It would provide for automatic adoption of a DeLauro, D-Conn., manager's amendment to HR 6833 that would strike from the bill a provision that would provide $1.5 million for fiscal 2022 for the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services to cover costs associated with the bill's provisions to limit cost-sharing and prohibit deductibles for insulin products covered under Medicare prescription drug plans. The rule would also authorize through April 29 certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 219-202. [H. Res. 1017, Vote #99, 3/31/22; CQ, 3/31/22]

Salazar Voted For Requiring The Health And Human Services Department To Periodically Update Its Guidance On The Social Determinants Of Health. In December 2021, Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Health and Human Services Department, at least once every three years, to update its Jan. 2021 guidance regarding strategies for state Medicaid and CHIP programs to address social determinants of health. It would require the updates to include guidance on strategies states can implement under existing program authorities, updated examples of strategies implemented by states, and guidance for states to incentivize managed care entities to address social determinants of health.” Motion agreed to by a vote of 378-48. [HR 3894, Vote #Vote #425, 12/08/21; CQ, 12/08/21]
Salazar Voted For Increasing Funding For The Non-Profit Foundations That Support The Food And Drug Administration And The National Institutes Of Health. In December 2021, Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would increase funding authorized annually for the independent nonprofit foundations that support the Food and Drug Administration and National Institutes of Health. Specifically, it would require each agency to transfer at least $1.25 million and not more than $5 million annually to its respective foundation.” Motion agreed to by a vote of 374-52. [HR 3743, Vote #424, 12/08/21; CQ, 12/08/21]

Salazar Voted For Requiring The Health And Human Services Department To Implement A Educational Campaign To Raise The Awareness Of The Dangers Of Synthetic Opioids. In December 2021, Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Health and Human Services Department to develop and implement an education campaign to raise public awareness of the dangers and use of synthetic opioids, as well as HHS services available to address the misuse of such drugs. It would establish biennial reporting and independent evaluation requirements regarding the campaign’s effectiveness. It would also require the department to publish a training guide and webinar for first responders and other individuals at high risk of exposure to synthetic opioids on measures to prevent such exposure.” Motion agreed to by a vote of 411-14. [HR 2364, Vote #423, 12/08/21; CQ, 12/08/21]

Salazar Voted For The Opioid Prescription Verification Act. In December 2021, Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Health and Human Services Department to periodically update materials on when pharmacists may refuse to fill prescriptions and add a requirement that such materials include information for pharmacists on verifying patient identity. It would also allow the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, in awarding grant funding for activities to prevent controlled substance overdoses, to give preference to states that have enacted certain requirements related to monitoring prescription drugs.” Motion agreed to by a vote of 410-15. [HR 2355, Vote #422, 12/08/21; CQ, 12/08/21]

Salazar Voted For Providing Funding And Programming To Prevent Suicide And Improve Mental Health. In December 2021, Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-N.J., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Health and Human Services Department, within two years of the enactment, to disseminate evidence-based best practices for preventing suicide and improving mental health among health care professionals. It would authorize $35 million annually through fiscal 2024 for the department to award grants or contracts for health care entities to establish or enhance programs to address mental health and substance use disorders among health care professionals, including training for health professions students. It would authorize $10 million annually through fiscal 2024 for the department to establish a national education and awareness initiative to encourage health care providers to seek support for mental health and substance use concerns and address the stigma of doing so. It would also require an HHS review of the outcomes of programs authorized by the bill and a Government Accountability Office report on the extent to which the federal substance use disorder and mental health grant programs address the mental health needs of health care professionals.” Motion agreed to by a vote of 392-36. [HR 1667, Vote #419, 12/08/21; CQ, 12/08/21]
Salazar Voted For The Improving Health Of Children Act. Salazar Voted Against The Removal Of Confederate Statues From The US Capitol. In June 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would direct the Architect of the Capitol to remove from the Old Supreme Court Chamber the bust of former Chief Justice Roger Taney, who wrote the majority opinion in the 1857 case Dred Scott v. Sanford declaring African Americans ineligible for U.S. citizenship, within 45 days of enactment. It would require the AOC to replace the Taney bust with one of former Justice Thurgood Marshall, the first African American Supreme Court justice, within two years of enactment. It would modify existing requirements related to statues in the National Statuary Hall of the U.S. Capitol to prohibit the display of statutes commemorating individuals who voluntarily served the Confederacy or the government of a state in rebellion against the U.S. and require the AOC to identify and remove any such statues from public display within 120 days of enactment. It would also direct the AOC to remove from the Capitol, within 45 days of enactment, any other Confederate statues or busts in public areas, as well as the statues of three individuals who vocally defended slavery or white supremacy -- former Vice President John C. Calhoun of South Carolina, North Carolina Gov. Charles B. Aycock and Arkansas Gov. James P. Clarke. It would authorize such sums as necessary to carry out the bill's provisions.” The bill passed 285 to 120. [HR 3005, Vote #Vote #196, 6/29/21; CQ, 6/29/21]

Salazar Voted For Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene’s Motion To Prematurely Adjourn The House In Protest Of Democratic Legislation. In March 2021, Salazar voted for: Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene’s motion to prematurely adjourn the House. Newsweek described the motion: “A group of 18 House Republicans has voted against Georgia Representative Marjorie Taylor Greene’s most recent attempt to prematurely adjourn the House—her third such attempt over the last six days. Each of Greene's attempts has been in protest of Democratic legislation and comments introduced in the lower congressional chamber. Each of her attempts has also disrupted congressional work by forcing House members to return to the floor to vote on the matter. ‘I rise today to inform Democrats the radical path you're taking will cause you to lose in 2022,’ Greene said before asking the chamber to adjourn on Wednesday, according to Washington Post congressional reporter Paul Kane.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 182 - 222. [Vote #Vote #56, 3/3/21; CQ, 3/3/21; Newsweek, 3/3/21]

- Rep. Greene’s Repeated Attempts To Adjourn The House Infuriated “Democrats And, Increasingly, Members Of Her Own Party.” “One day after Democrats made an unprecedented move to strip Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene of her committee assignments, the Georgia Republican countered that she’d now have plenty of time to obstruct her opponents’ ‘far-leftist’ proposals and push her GOP colleagues harder to the right. Greene, an ardent supporter of former president Donald Trump, has kept her promise. Her repeated motions to adjourn legislative debate over the past several weeks have forced members to scramble to the House floor and vote to remain in session, a move that is infuriating Democrats and, increasingly, members of her own party.” [Washington Post, 3/10/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of A Bill Providing For Stringent Enforcement Of A Public Health Order Allowing Rapid Deportations. In July 2021, Salazar voted against: “Morelle, D-N.Y., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Reschenthaler said, “Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume. The Biden administration has extended border shutdowns with Mexico and Canada, extended European and other international travel restrictions, and has reimposed mask mandates for fully vaccinated people, contradicting previous CDC guidance and, sadly, choosing to follow the political science, not the science. But, Mr. Speaker, the chaos at our southern border, where illegal immigrants have been apprehended from over 160 countries, undermines any efforts to prevent the spread of COVID-19. That is why, if we defeat the previous question, I will personally offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider Congresswoman Yvette Herrell's PAUSE Act of 2021. This legislation would provide for stringent enforcement of Title 42, a public health order allowing illegal immigrants to be quickly expelled from the United States, and would prohibit HHS and DHS from weakening Title 42’s implementation.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 217-208. [H Res 567, Vote #Vote #232, 7/28/21; CQ, 7/28/21; Congressional Record, 7/28/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The PAUSE Act, Which Would Prohibit The Weakening Of Title 42 Public Health Restrictions On Admitting Asylum Seekers To The United States. In June 2021, Salazar voted against: “Scanlon, D-Pa., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment) on the rule (H Res 504) that would provide for floor consideration of the IG Independence and Empowerment Act (HR 2662); a bill (HR 3005) to remove the bust of former Supreme Court Chief Justice Taney and Confederate statues from the U.S. Capitol; a resolution (H Res 503) to establish a special committee to investigate the Jan. 6 attack on the U.S. Capitol; and a five-year surface transportation and ten-year water infrastructure authorization bill (HR 3684).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Guy Reschenthaler stated: “That is why, if we defeat the previous question, I will personally offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider my good friend’s, Congresswoman Yvette Herrell, PAUSE Act. The PAUSE Act would provide for stringent enforcement of Title 42, and would prohibit HHS and DHS from weakening Title 42’s implementation.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of these four bills. The motion was agreed to 214-195. [H. Res. 504, Vote #Vote #189, 6/29/21; CQ, 6/29/21; Congressional Record, 6/29/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Crisis Act That Would Restrict VP Harris From Using Tax Money To Visit The Southern Border. In May 2021, Salazar voted against: “McGovern, D-Mass., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Mr. Reschenthaler said, “That is why, if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider Congresswoman Ashley Hinson's See the Crisis Act. This legislation would restrict Vice President Harris from using taxpayer dollars to travel internationally until she actually visits our southern border.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 217 to 203. [H RES 473, Vote #Vote #157, 6/14/21; CQ, 6/14/21; Congressional Record, 6/14/21]

Salazar Voted Against The Access To Counsel Act, Requiring Homeland Security To Provide Access to Counsel For All Individuals Subject To Secondary Or Deferred Inspection When Entering The Country. In April 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would require the Homeland Security Department to provide access to counsel for all individuals subject to a secondary or deferred inspection when seeking admission to the United States, effective 180 days after enactment. Specifically, it would require the department to allow such individuals to consult, including via telephone, with legal representation and a relative, petitioner or other connection within the United States within the first hour of a secondary inspection and as necessary throughout the inspection process. It would authorize the counsel to advocate on behalf of the individual by providing documentation and other evidence to the examining immigration officer. It would require DHS to accommodate, to the greatest extent practicable, a request by the individual for in-person counsel at the inspection site. It would also prohibit the department from accepting paperwork from lawful permanent residents subject to secondary or deferred inspection that would give up such individuals' legal immigration status without providing them the opportunity to seek advice from counsel.” The bill passed 217 to 207. [HR 1573, Vote #Vote #129, 4/21/21; CQ, 4/21/21]

Salazar Voted Against The NO BAN Act, Prohibiting The President From Banning Individuals Seeking Immigrant Visas Based On Their Religion. In April 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would explicitly prohibit discrimination based on religion with regard to individuals seeking immigrant visas, nonimmigrant visas or other entry into the United States. It would limit the president’s ability to restrict entry of a class of foreign nationals, including to require that such restrictions be temporary, narrowly tailored and subject to a State Department determination that they are in the interest of U.S. public safety or international stability. It would require the State and Homeland Security departments to notify Congress prior to the issuance of any such restriction and provide information regarding its justification and planned duration; brief Congress within 48 hours of its issuance; and report Congress every 30 days during the restriction on its continued justification and how visa applicants are impacted. It would terminate the restriction, absent intervening congressional action, if the briefing or reports are not provided. The bill would allow individuals present in the United States who are harmed by entry restrictions in violation of the bill’s provisions to seek declaratory or injunctive relief through a U.S. district court. It would also require the State and Homeland Security departments to submit a report to Congress describing the implementation of proclamations by former President Donald Trump that restricted the entry of individuals from certain countries, including the number of refugees... admitted and the number of visa applicants admitted or rejected, disaggregated by country and visa category.” The bill passed 218 to 208. [HR 1333, Vote #Vote #127, 4/21/21; CQ, 4/21/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of The Border Surge Response And Resilience Act. In April 2021, Salazar voted against: “Raskin, D-Md., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Reschenthaler said, “if we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately consider H.R. 2321, the Border Surge Response and Resilience Act.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 216-206. [H Res 330, Vote #Vote #123, 4/20/21; CQ, 4/20/21; Congressional Record, 4/20/21]

Salazar Voted For The Farm Workforce Modernization Act, Allowing Undocumented Agricultural Workers To Apply For Residency Status. In March 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would allow certain undocumented agricultural workers in the United States to apply for certified agricultural worker status and subsequently permanent residency status. It would also overhaul the H-2A nonimmigrant visa program for temporary agricultural workers and replace the E-Verify employment status verification system with a similar system for use by the agricultural sector; and authorize funding for certain Agriculture Department housing programs.” The bill passed 247 to 174. [HR 1603, Vote #Vote #93, 3/18/21; CQ, 3/18/21]

Salazar Voted For The Dream Act, Providing Residency Status For Undocumented Immigrants Who Entered The US As Children Or From TPS-Designated Nations. In March 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would provide legal residency status for certain undocumented immigrants who entered the United States as children or from nations with Temporary Protected Status designation and would prohibit the Homeland Security and Justice Departments from initiating or continuing the removal of such individuals.” The bill passed 228 to 197. [HR 6, Vote #Vote #91, 3/18/21; CQ, 3/18/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking Consideration Of A Bill Requiring The Department Of Homeland Security To Administer COVID-19 Tests To Migrants Prior To Release. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Torres, D-Calif., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Fishbach said, “Madam Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume. If we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to provide for consideration of Congresswoman Miller-Meeks' H.R. 1897, the REACT Act.” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Miller-Meeks said, “My bill would require the Department of Homeland Security to test all migrants illegally crossing our border who they plan to release into our communities for COVID-19.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 212-200. [H Res 233, Vote #Vote #78, 3/16/21; CQ, 3/16/21; Congressional Record, 3/16/21]

Infrastructure & Transportation

Salazar Voted For An Interagency Working Group For The Development Of Advanced Air Mobility Systems. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “DeFazio, D-Ore., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Transportation Department to establish an interagency working group to coordinate efforts related to advancing the development of advanced air mobility (AAM) systems in the United States, particularly passenger aircraft. It would require the working group to develop and submit to Congress an AAM national strategy, including recommendations regarding the safety, operations, infrastructure, security, air traffic concepts and federal investment or actions needed to support the evolution of early AAM, as well as a plan detailing the responsibilities of federal, state and local governments to implement the recommendations. In preparing the strategy, it would require the working group to examine, among other factors, air traffic management and safety concepts relevant to higher levels of traffic density; existing federal programs that could be leveraged to advance the AAM industry; infrastructure needed to support expanded operations of AAM; and steps to ensure a robust domestic supply chain.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 380-30. [S. 516, Vote #Vote #268,
6/14/22; CQ, 6/14/22]

Salazar Voted For Authorizing $25 Million In Grants For A Pilot Program To Assist In The Development And Deployment Of Advanced Air Mobility, Such As Passenger Air Vehicles And Electric Aircraft. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “DeFazio, D-Ore., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would authorize $25 million through fiscal 2023 for a two-year Transportation Department pilot program to award grants to assist state and local governments or transit agencies in developing and deploying infrastructure to support advanced air mobility (AAM) activities, including flying cars, passenger air vehicles and electric aircraft. The bill would authorize planning grants of up to $1 million for recipients to develop a comprehensive plan for AAM infrastructure and construction grants for design, bidding, environmental studies and other activities related to the construction of a public-use vertiport and associated infrastructure to support AAM operations.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 338-73. [H.R. 6270, Vote #Vote #257, 6/13/22; CQ, 6/13/22]

Salazar Voted Against Tabling A Motion To Reconsider The Passage Of The Infrastructure (kill) the Kelly, D-Ill., motion to reconsider the vote by which the bill (HR 3684) was passed, 228-206, immediately prior to this vote.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 228-205. [H.R. 3684, Vote #Vote
#370, 11/5/21; CQ, 11/5/21]

Salazar Voted Against The Infrastructure Investment And Jobs Act, Providing $550 Billion In New Infrastructure Spending. In November 2021 Salazar voted against: “DeFazio, D-Ore., motion to concur in the Senate amendment to the bill that would provide approximately $550 billion in new infrastructure spending, including for surface transportation, broadband, water and energy infrastructure. In supplemental appropriations and increased contract authority, the bill would provide $110 billion for roads, bridges and major surface transportation projects, including $47.3 for highway infrastructure and $40 billion for bridge construction and repair; $66 billion for rail, including $58 billion for Amtrak; and $39 billion for transit, including $5.3 billion for zero- and low-emission transit buses and $2 billion for accessibility improvements. It would provide $25 billion for airports and approximately $17 billion for ports and waterways, including $3.4 billion to modernize land ports of entry and $2.25 billion for water port upgrades, including resilience and electrification projects. It would provide approximately $11 billion for various transportation safety and research programs. It would provide $7.5 billion for electric vehicle charging infrastructure and $5 billion for zero- and low-emission school bus programs. It would establish requirements for many new and existing surface transportation programs to consider the environmental and equity impacts of funded activities and authorize a range of transportation programs related to emissions reduction and climate change resilience. It would provide $1 billion for activities to reconnect neighborhoods by removing or remediating the effects of transportation infrastructure construction in disadvantaged and underserved communities. The bill would provide approximately $65 billion for broadband, including $42.5 billion for grants to states to increase access in unserved areas and $14.2 billion to extend a program initially authorized in response to the coronavirus pandemic that provides stipends to help low-income families pay for internet services. It would provide approximately $62 billion for the Energy Department, including $21.5 billion for clean energy demonstration projects, $16.3 billion for energy efficiency and renewable energy programs, $8 billion for power grid resilience and other electricity projects, and $7.5 billion for fossil energy and carbon management. It would authorize or expand several programs to incentivize clean energy manufacturing, development and adoption. It would provide approximately $55 billion for water infrastructure and safety, including $30.7 billion for the Drinking Water State Revolving Fund, including $15 billion to replace lead service lines and $4 billion to address per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances and other emerging contaminants; and $12.7 billion for the Clean Water State Revolving Fund. Across various departments, the bill would provide funding for climate change response and environmental remediation, including; $11.3 billion for abandoned mine land and water reclamation projects, approximately $5.75 billion for wildfire management, $3.5 billion for the EPA hazardous substance superfund and $3.5 billion for FEMA flood mitigation. It would also provide more than $1.7 billion for cybersecurity resilience programs. The bill would include a number of provisions intended to offset spending, including by rescinding certain unobligated COVID-19 relief funding and establishing tax reporting requirements for cryptocurrency and other digital assets.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 228-206. - White House Projected The $1 Trillion Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Add About 2 Million Jobs Per Year For A Decade. “The $1 trillion infrastructure plan that now goes to President Joe Biden to sign into law has money for roads, bridges, ports, rail transit, safe water, the power grid, broadband internet and more [...] The new law promises to reach almost every corner of the country. It’s a historic investment that the president has compared to the building of the transcontinental railroad and Interstate Highway System. The White House is projecting that the investments will add, on average, about 2 million jobs per year over the coming decade.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

- CNN: Experts Agreed The Infrastructure Spending Was “Sorely Needed To Ensure Safe Travel” And “Efficient Transport Of Goods And Produce.” “Congress passed a $1.2 trillion infrastructure package Friday, approving a signature part of President Joe Biden's economic agenda. It will deliver $550 billion of new federal investments in America's infrastructure over five years, touching everything from bridges and roads to the nation’s broadband, water and energy systems. Experts say the money is sorely needed to ensure safe travel, as well as the efficient transport of goods and produce across the country. The nation's infrastructure system earned a C- score from the American Society of Civil Engineers earlier this year.” [CNN, 11/5/21]

- Washington Post: Infrastructure Spending Included $16 Billion For “Major Projects That Are Too Large Or Complex For Traditional Funding Programs.” “The $1.2 trillion infrastructure bill adopted late Friday creates a multibillion-dollar fund to spur the type of complicated, ambitious projects that have been stymied by decades of tentative investment and inattention from Washington. Modern-day equivalents of megaprojects like the Hoover Dam can benefit broad swaths of the United States, but infrastructure experts say they have often stagnated. [...] Among the projects that could see a boost: the Gateway rail project, a vast plan to expand capacity for train traffic between New York and New Jersey; and a long-delayed effort to replace the outmoded Brent Spence Bridge connecting Kentucky and Ohio, which is one of the nation’s worst bottlenecks. [...] The infrastructure bill includes about $16 billion for 'major projects that are too large or complex for traditional funding programs,' but that have big economic benefits, according to the White House.” [Washington Post, 11/6/21]

- Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Provide $110 Billion For Repairs To Highways, Bridges, And Roads. “The bill would provide $110 billion to repair the nation’s aging highways, bridges and roads. According to the White House, 173,000 total miles or nearly 280,000 kilometers of America’s highways and major roads and 45,000 bridges are in poor condition. And the almost $40 billion for bridges is the single largest dedicated bridge investment since the construction of the national highway system, according to the Biden administration.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

- Axios: The Infrastructure Bill Included $65 Billion For “Building High-Speed Internet Networks, Helping Low-Income Families Pay For Service And Digital Equity Programs.” “The infrastructure bill heading to President Biden's desk includes $65 billion to improve high-speed internet access and affordability. [...] By the numbers: The funding is aimed towards building high-speed internet networks, helping low-income families pay for service and digital equity programs. $42.45 billion in grants to states for broadband projects, which can range from network deployment to data collection to help determine areas that lack service. $14.2 billion to provide a $30-a-month voucher to low-income Americans to pay for internet service. It will replace the current $50-a-month Emergency Broadband Benefit program, offering less money monthly, but increasing the number of those eligible. $2.75 billion for digital inclusion and equity projects, such as improving digital literacy or online skills for seniors. $2 billion each for a rural broadband construction program called ReConnect, run by USDA, and to the Tribal Broadband Connectivity Program run by the Commerce Department's National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA). $1 billion to build so-called 'middle mile' infrastructure to connect local providers to larger internet access points. $600 million for private activity bonds to finance broadband deployment projects in rural areas.” [Axios, 11/8/21]

- The Infrastructure Bill Included $1.75 Billion To Increase The Accessibility Of Transit Systems. “A $1.75 billion fund in the infrastructure package will aim to guarantee that transit stations are accessible, decades after campaigns by disability rights activists to demand lifts on buses helped to spur passage of the Americans With Disabilities Act. Almost a fifth of transit stations were not fully accessible in 2019, according to the most recent Federal Transit Administration data. [...] The bill also includes language about Amtrak, requiring that a person with disabilities be appointed to the railroad’s board and mandating spending on accessibility, which Duckworth said helped show that accessibility was a national issue and not only an urban concern. About 25 million people in the United States report having a disability that limits their transportation options, and the Labor Department attributes lower rates of employment among people with disabilities, in part, to those obstacles. People with disabilities are almost twice as likely as others to use public transit to get around, according to the Transportation Department.” [Washington Post, 11/6/21]
• Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $44 Billion On Water And Wastewater Infrastructure, Including $15 Billion To Replace Lead Pipes And $10 Billion To Address PFAS Water Contamination. “The legislation would spend $55 billion on water and wastewater infrastructure. It has $15 billion to replace lead pipes and $10 billion to address water contamination from polyfluoroalkyl substances — chemicals that were used in the production of Teflon and have also been used in firefighting foam, water-repellent clothing and many other items.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

• Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $65 Billion To Improve The Reliability Of The Power Grid And Boost Clean Power Generation. “To protect against the power outages that have become more frequent in recent years, the bill would spend $65 billion to improve the reliability and resiliency of the power grid. It would also boost carbon capture technologies and more environmentally friendly electricity sources like clean hydrogen.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

• Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $7.5 Billion In Electrical Vehicle Charging Stations And $5 Billion In Electric And Hybrid School Buses. “The bill would spend $7.5 billion for electric vehicle charging stations, which the administration says are critical to accelerating the use of electric vehicles to curb climate change. It would also provide $5 billion for the purchase of electric school buses and hybrids, reducing reliance on school buses that run on diesel fuel.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

• Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Invest $66 Billion In Amtrak, The Largest Federal Investment In The Service Since Its Founding. “To reduce Amtrak’s maintenance backlog, which has worsened since Superstorm Sandy nine years ago, the bill would provide $66 billion to improve the rail service’s Northeast Corridor (457 miles, 735 km), as well as other routes. It’s less than the $80 billion Biden — who famously rode Amtrak from Delaware to Washington during his time in the Senate — originally asked for, but it would be the largest federal investment in passenger rail service since Amtrak was founded 50 years ago.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

• Bipartisan Infrastructure Deal Would Be Funded Through Unspent Pandemic Relief, Unused Federal Unemployment Insurance, And An “Array Of Smaller Pots Of Money.” “The five-year spending package would be paid for by tapping $210 billion in unspent COVID-19 relief aid and $53 billion in unemployment insurance aid some states have halted, along with an array of smaller pots of money, like petroleum reserve sales and spectrum auctions for 5G services.” [Associated Press, 11/6/21]

Salazar Voted For Grants For Projects That Provide Or Improve High-Speed Broadband Service. In November 2021 Salazar voted for: “Pappas, D-N.H., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would allow the Commerce Department to provide grants for projects to improve high-speed broadband service. It would make public-private entities and consortiums formed for the purpose of providing, extending, expanding or improving high-speed broadband service eligible for the grants. Among other provisions, it would require the department, in reviewing grant applications, to request information from other federal agencies regarding existing levels of broadband service in a project’s proposed service areas; require grant recipients to vest any property acquired or improved with grant funds in a public partner or nonprofit for the life of the project; and allow the department to provide credit toward the nonfederal share of project costs.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 410-16. [H.R. 3193, Vote #361, 11/4/21; CQ, 11/4/21]

Salazar Voted For Extending Funding And Authorities For Federal Surface Transport Programs Through December 03, 2021. In October 2021, Salazar voted for: “DeFazio, D-Ore., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would extend through Dec. 3, 2021, funding and authorities for federal surface transportation programs, including highway, public transit, rail and safety and research programs that were previously extended to expire on Oct. 31. It would continue extended authorizations through Dec. 3 for programs funded by the highway and mass transit accounts of the Highway Trust Fund in amounts proportional to amounts authorized for such programs in fiscal 2021. It would extend expenditure authority for the fund through Dec. 4. It would require any federal employees furloughed in the case of a trust fund expenditure lapse to be paid for the period of the lapse. It would also extend through Dec. 4 expiring authorities for Sport Fish Restoration and Boating and Leaking Underground Storage Tank trust fund expenditures. Upon enactment of the bipartisan infrastructure package (HR 3684), it would rescind any duplicate contract authority provided by the bill.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 358-59. [HR 5763, Vote #339, 10/27/21; CQ, 10/28/21]

Salazar Voted Against Considering 3 Resolutions, The 2022 Budget Resolution, The John Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act, And The Bipartisan Infrastructure Package. In August 2021 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 601) that would provide for House floor consideration of the fiscal 2022 budget resolution (S Con Res 14), the John R. Lewis Voting Rights Advancement Act (HR 4) and the bipartisan infrastructure package (HR 3684). The rule would provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to the fiscal 2022 budget resolution (S Con Res 14). It would provide for up to one hour of general debate each on HR 4 and on a motion to concur in the Senate amendment to HR 3684. It would require the House to consider the motion to concur in the Senate amendment to HR 3684 on Sept. 27, 2021, if the motion is not offered prior to that date. It would also provide for automatic adoption of a Nadler, D-N.Y., manager's amendment to HR 4 that would, among other provisions, clarify and expand considerations related to court evaluation of voting rights violations, including to require that courts consider whether a voting practice was designed to and does advance a "valid and substantiated" state interest. The manager's amendment would specify that a provision related to violations in the case of voting practices that have not yet been implemented would apply to practices enacted on or after Jan. 1, 2021, and it would add an "administrative bailout" provision allowing political subdivisions to apply for exemptions to the bill’s preclearance requirements for changes to voting practices if they meet certain eligibility standards related to not implementing discriminatory practices in the previous 10 years.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 220-212. [H Res 601, Vote #258, 8/24/21; CQ, 8/24/21]

Salazar Voted Against The INVEST In America Act, Containing More Than $720 Billion In Surface Transportation And Water Infrastructure Spending. In July 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would authorize more than $720 billion in surface transportation and water infrastructure spending. It would reauthorize federal-aid highway, public transit, rail, and surface transportation safety and research programs for five years, through fiscal 2026, and reauthorize various water infrastructure programs for five or ten years. As amended, the bill would additionally authorize more than $36 billion through fiscal 2026 for activities related to electric vehicle infrastructure, access and manufacturing. It would authorize more than $548 billion through fiscal 2026 for federal surface transportation programs, including $333 billion for federal-aid highway programs; $109 billion for transit programs; and $96 billion for rail programs. It would establish requirements for many new and existing surface transportation programs to consider the environmental and equity impacts of funded activities. It would require the Transportation Department to establish a number of grant programs for project-level investments, including for carbon pollution reduction projects to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from the surface transportation system; development of electric vehicle charging and hydrogen fueling infrastructure; separation or elimination of highway-rail crossings; extreme weather resilience and mitigation improvements; activities to reconnect neighborhoods by removing or remediating the effects of transportation infrastructure construction in disadvantaged and underserved communities. It would authorize $12 billion for a new program to support large highway, transit, and rail projects of national and regional significance. It would modify a transit grant program to require the procurement of zero-emission buses and other vehicles. Within the total for rail funding, it would authorize $32 billion for Amtrak; $25 billion for a new program to fund improvements to major intercity passenger rail bridges, stations, and tunnels grant; $7 billion for passenger and freight rail infrastructure and safety improvement grants; and up to $20 million annually to establish a university innovation institute to research and develop low- and zero-emission rail technologies. It would establish an independent nonprofit known as the Clean Energy and Sustainability Accelerator to facilitate the deployment of emissions reduction technologies, requiring the Energy Department to transfer $50 billion to the accelerator upon establishment and $10 billion annually for the subsequent five years. The bill would authorize more than $117.5 billion for drinking water infrastructure and $54.4 billion for wastewater treatment infrastructure over ten years. It would authorize $53 billion through 2031 for the EPA Drinking Water State Revolving Fund, which provides grants to states to provide loans and other financial assistance to public water systems, and increase the maximum percentage of such funding states may use to assist disadvantaged communities. It would authorize $4.5 billion annually through fiscal 2031 for grants to states to replace lead service lines; $4 billion available until expended for a low-income drinking water assistance program. It would authorize $40 billion through fiscal 2026 for the EPA Clean Water State Revolving Fund, which provides grants to states to provide loans and other financial assistance related to water treatment infrastructure projects. It would authorize $4 billion for a low-income wastewater assistance program, available until expended. It would authorize $2.6 billion to improve water sanitation facilities funded by the Indian Health Service. It would authorize $500 million annually through fiscal 2031 for community water system PFAS treatment grants. It would require the EPA to set national primary drinking water regulations for contaminants including per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances, microcystin toxin, chromium-6 and 1,4-dioxane.” The bill passed 221 to 201. [HR 3684, Vote #208, 7/1/21; CQ, 7/1/21]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment Authorizing States To Audit High Occupancy Vehicle Facilities 10 Years After Construction. In June 2021, Salazar voted for: “Van Duyne, R-Texas, amendment no. 108 that would authorize states, if the Transportation Department determines appropriate, to conduct a review of a high occupancy vehicle facility 10 years after its construction, and to remove such a facility and repay any associated funds.” The amendment was accepted 230 to 178. [HR 3684, Vote #Vote #204, 6/30/21; CQ, 6/30/21]

Salazar Voted Against Blocking H. Res. 179, Redirecting $140 Million In California Transportation Funding To Mental Health And Suicide Prevention. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Agreeing to the Morelle, D-N.Y., motion to order the previous question (thus ending debate and possibility of amendment) on the rule (H Res 179) that would provide for House floor consideration of the For the People Act (HR 1) and the George Floyd Justice in Policing Act (HR 1280).” According to the Congressional Record, Rep. Cole said, “If we defeat the previous question, I will offer an amendment to the rule to immediately adopt H. Res. 178, an engrossment correction to strike funding in the budget reconciliation bill for the Pelosi subway tunnel in California and instead direct the $140 million to support mental health and suicide prevention in States where children do not have the option of in-person instruction in school.” A vote for the motion was a vote to block consideration of the bill. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 220-201. [H Res 179, Vote #Vote #50, 3/1/21; CQ, 3/1/21]

Labor and Working Family

Salazar Voted For Considering Small Business Subcontractor Use As A Significant Factor In Evaluating Federal Contract Offers. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Velazquez, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require federal agencies to consider the extent to which a potential contractor plans to use small businesses as subcontractors as a significant factor in evaluating offers for federal contracts that are required to include a subcontracting plan.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 411-11. [H.R. 7694, Vote #Vote #252, 6/8/22; CQ, 6/8/22]

Salazar Voted For An Annual Small Business Administration Report On Women-Owned Small Businesses. In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “Velazquez, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require the Small Business Administration to submit an annual report to Congress on small businesses owned and controlled by women, including the total number of businesses certified as women-owned small businesses; the amount of fees charged by each national certifying entity for such certification; the total dollar amount and percentage of prime federal contracts awarded to such businesses, including those owned by women who are economically disadvantaged or who are underrepresented in their industries; and the number of recertification examinations conducted.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 402-19. It would specifically allow waivers in the case of a supply chain disruption to allow vendors to substitute unavailable products with others that are normally not eligible under the program, waive maximum monthly allowances for infant formula and waive medical documentation requirements for non-contract formula. It would also require states’ infant formula contracts for the WIC program to include remedies in the event of a formula recall, including how the manufacturer would protect against disruption to program participants.” The bill passed by a vote of 414-9. [H.R. 7791, Vote #Vote #218, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]
Salazar Voted For Requiring Health Care And Social Service Industry Employers To Implement Comprehensive Workplace Violence Prevention Plans. In April 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would require health care and social service industry employers to develop and implement comprehensive workplace violence prevention plans. It would require the Occupational Safety and Health Administration to issue a final standard for such plans, based on 2015 OSHA guidelines, within 42 months of enactment and require employers to develop and implement such plans within six months of the final standard being issued. It would require workplace violence prevention plans to include certain procedures for reporting, responding to, and mitigating risks of incidents of workplace violence, including for employers to investigate and take corrective actions in response to violent incidents. It would require employers to investigate any workplace violence incident, risk, or hazard ‘as soon as practicable.’ It would also require employers to develop and implement plans with participation from employees and employee representatives; provide annual training to employees exposed to workplace violence hazards and risks; and maintain records related to workplace violence plans, incidents, and response for at least five years. The bill's provisions would apply to employers of individuals working in most health care facilities, including hospitals, nursing homes, and drug abuse treatment centers, as well as employers of individuals providing related services, including home-based health care or social work and emergency services.” The bill passed 254 to 166. [HR 1195, Vote #Vote #118, 4/16/21; CQ, 4/16/21]

Salazar Voted Against The PRO Act Expanding Authorities Of The National Labor Relations Board And Protecting Collective Bargaining Rights. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would expand enforcement authorities of the National Labor Relations Board and modify procedures by which employees may unionize and elect representation under federal labor law. The bill would authorize the NLRB to enforce any orders it issues and to impose a number of civil monetary penalties, including penalties of up to $50,000 against employers who prevent or punish organizing activities by employees. It would require the NLRB to seek temporary injunctions against employers charged with engaging in unfair labor practices and allow employees to bring civil action if the board fails to seek an injunction. It would outline a number of procedures by which employees may petition for and elect representation for collective bargaining through an election directed by the NLRB. It would require the NLRB to schedule pre-election hearings within eight days of a petition being filed; prohibit employers from certain interference or participation in such elections; and require the NLRB to certify and order the employer to engage in collective bargaining with an elected labor organization. It would outline procedures for initial collective bargaining between an employer and a union, including to provide for federal mediation services if an agreement is not reached 90 days after the bargaining begins and referral to an arbitration panel if an agreement is not reached in an additional 30 days. Among other provisions, the bill would prohibit employers from taking certain retaliatory actions against employees who participate in a strike, including permanently replacing or discriminating against such employees. It would specify that employees' right to strike is protected regardless of the duration, scope, frequency, or intermittence of the strike. It would modify definitions of 'employee' and 'supervisor,' particularly to narrow the classification of independent contractors and supervisors, two categories of employees not eligible for collective bargaining. It would also authorize the use of collective bargaining agreements that require employees to pay fees to a labor organization as a condition of employment.” The bill passed by a vote of 225-206. [HR 842, Vote #Vote #70, 3/9/21; CQ, 3/9/21]
Salazar Voted Against Requiring Union Elections To Be Held Electronically And Providing Whistleblower Protections To Employees Who Report Labor Law Violations. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Scott, D-Va., en bloc amendments no. 1 that would, among other provisions, require the National Labor Relations Board to implement a system and procedures to conduct union representation elections remotely using an electronic voting system; direct the National Labor Relations Board to promulgate regulations requiring employers to provide notices informing each new employee of their employee rights and protections in a language spoken by the employee; provide whistleblower protections to employees, including those employed by labor unions, who report violations of the 1959 federal labor law related to employer relations with labor organizations; and require arbitration panels settling disputes in initial collective bargaining agreements under the bill’s provisions to render a decision ‘as soon as practicable’ and within 120 days, absent ‘extraordinary circumstances’ or agreement of the parties.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 227 - 196. [HR 842, Vote #Vote #67, 3/9/21; CQ, 3/9/21]

Salazar Voted Against Removing Provisions To Prohibit Employers From Replacing Employees On Strike And Enforcing Unions That Require Dues From All Employees. In March 2021, Salazar voted against: “Scott, D-Va., en bloc amendments no. 2 that would, among provisions, strike a provision providing for the enforcement of collective bargaining agreements that require all employees to contribute fees to a labor organization notwithstanding any state or territorial laws to the contrary; require unions to receive annual written consent from an employee before using his or her union dues for purposes other than collective bargaining; and strike a provision that would make it illegal for employers to permanently replace workers participating in a strike.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 185 - 243. [HR 842, Vote #Vote #68, 3/9/21; CQ, 3/9/21]

Salazar Voted Against Requiring Applicants For Labor Department Apprenticeship Programs “To Be Part Of An Industry Or Sector Partnership Or To Partner With A Labor Or Joint Labor Management Organization.” In February 2021, Salazar voted against: “Hill, R-Ark., amendment no. 10 that would modify an eligibility requirement for Labor Department apprenticeship program grants to require applicants, to the extent practical, to be part of an industry or sector partnership or to partner with a labor or joint labor management organization, as opposed to both.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 236 to 186. [H. R. 447, Vote #Vote #29, 2/5/21; CQ, 2/5/21]

Salazar Voted Against Amending Labor Department Apprenticeship Programs. In February 2021, Salazar voted against: “Stefanik, R-N.Y., amendment no. 22 that would replace the text of the bill to add or modify a number of provisions. Among other provisions, it would authorize additional work-based learning programs, strike the establishment of a Labor Department advisory committee on apprenticeships, and strike an interagency agreement with the Education Department to ‘promote and support’ the integration and alignment of national apprenticeship system programs with educational institutions. It would also increase ‘flexibility’ for the state plan process related to how the national apprenticeship system aligns with state workforce and education activities.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 245 to 175. [H. R. 447, Vote #Vote #30, 2/5/21; CQ, 2/5/21]

Salazar Voted For Reauthorizing And Expanding The Labor Department’s National Apprenticeship System. In February 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would reauthorize and expand programs and activities under the Labor Department national apprenticeship system, authorizing a total of $3.9 billion for program administration and grants to apprenticeship programs. It would largely codify apprenticeship program standards and expand the system to include pre-apprenticeship and youth apprenticeship programs. It would authorize a total of $350 million through fiscal 2026 for the formal establishment of a Labor Department office of apprenticeship to oversee the national apprenticeship system, as well as for program research and evaluation and the establishment of an apprenticeship advisory committee. Through fiscal 2026, it would authorize a total of $70 million for the Labor Department to carry out an agreement with the Education Department to support integration and alignment of the national apprenticeship system with the education system; $475 million for state apprenticeship agencies; and $3 billion for grants and agreements to support apprenticeship programs, including to expand programs in nontraditional apprenticeship industries and high-need social service industries and programs targeting individuals with barriers to employment. It would require state apprenticeship agencies and grant recipients to match 25% of federal funds received. It would establish a number of apprenticeship program quality standards; requirements for registration, planning and implementation of programs by states; and requirements for occupations to be approved as ‘apprenticeable occupations’ within the national apprenticeship system. It would require the national office of apprenticeship to oversee such standards; establish and provide technical assistance to state offices of apprenticeship; and promote diversity within the system through recruitment, employment and retention of nontraditional apprenticeship participants, industries and occupations." The bill passed 247 to 173. [H. R. 447, Vote #Vote #31, 2/5/21; CQ, 2/5/21]

Salazar Voted For The Respect For Marriage Act To Codify The Right To Marry For Same-Sex And Interracial Couples. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would codify the right to marry, regardless of sexual orientation or race. Specifically, it would prohibit any person acting under color of state law from denying full faith and credit to, or any rights based on, a marriage between two individuals on the basis of the individuals' sex, race, ethnicity or national origin. It would allow the U.S. attorney general or a harmed individual to bring a civil action in U.S. district court for declaratory and injunctive relief against an individual who violates these provisions. The bill would also replace the current federal definition of marriage, which defines marriage as a union between one man and one woman, to define a marriage as valid if it is valid in the place where the marriage was entered into and would be considered valid in a U.S. state.” The bill passed by a vote of 267-157. [H.R. 8404, Vote #Vote #373, 7/19/22; CQ, 7/19/22]

- The Respect For Marriage Act Repealed The Defense Of Marriage Act. “The House on Tuesday passed the Respect for Marriage Act, which would protect marriage equality by repealing the Defense of Marriage Act (DOMA) and providing federal protections for same-sex and interracial couples. The bill passed 267-157, with 47 Republicans joining every Democrat voting in favor of the bill. Congressional Democrats mounted the legislative response this week to a concurring opinion by Justice Clarence Thomas suggesting that Supreme Court decisions involving access to contraception and same-sex marriage should be reconsidered, with lawmakers holding votes on a pair of bills that aim to address concerns that more rights could be rolled back. While the Supreme Court struck down sections of DOMA in U.S. v. Windsor and Obergefell v. Hodges, the law still remains on the books." [CBS News, 7/19/22]
Salazar Voted Against Considering The Respect For Marriage Act, A Six-Bill Appropriations Minibus Package, And The Right To Contraception Act. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1232) that would provide for one hour of general debate on each bill, provide for automatic adoption of a manager’s amendment to HR 8373 and make 190 amendments in order to HR 8294. The rule would provide for automatic adoption of the Pallone, D-NJ., manager’s amendment to HR 8373 that would, among other provisions, specify that the bill’s definition of "contraceptive" includes biological products and is limited to products legally marketed under existing Food and Drug Administration regulations; clarify the bill’s definition of "health care provider" to state that providers must be authorized by the state to provide health care services; specify that the bill may not be construed to sanction sterilization procedures without a patient’s informed consent; and make technical changes. The rule would also provide for automatic agreement, upon adoption of the rule, to a resolution (H Res 1230) that would modify standing House rules for the 117th Congress to allow a rule to be called up for floor consideration when the text has been made available to members prior to the convening of the legislative day; allow motions to suspend the rules to be considered on any day of the week; and allow for proxy voting in the Committee of the Whole House, thus allowing delegates and the resident commissioner of Puerto Rico to vote by proxy on amendments. Finally, the rule would authorize, through the legislative day of Thursday, July 21, 2022, non-debatable motions by the majority leader or a designee to suspend the rules and consider, en bloc, measures considered under suspension of the rules on Monday, July 18, 2022.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 219-200. Salazar Voted For Imposing Visa Sanctions Banning Entry To Foreign Individuals Who Are Responsible For, Or Complicit In, The Denial Of Human Rights Based On Sexual Orientation, Gender Identity, or Sex Characteristics. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would impose visa sanctions on foreign individuals responsible for or complicit in the denial of human rights based on a person’s actual or perceived sexual orientation, gender identity or sex characteristics, making such individuals and their immediate family members ineligible for entry into the United States. It would require the president, within 180 days of enactment and biannually thereafter, to submit to Congress a list of individuals determined to be subject to the ban. It would require the State Department to report annually to Congress on implementation of the sanctions, including changes to the list, and any efforts by the president to coordinate with foreign countries to impose similar sanctions. It would also require the department to designate one or more officers responsible for tracking violence and the denial of human rights based on actual or perceived sexual orientation, gender identity or sex characteristics in foreign countries, and to include related information in its annual report on human rights practices.” Passed by a vote of 227-206. [HR 3485, Vote #43, 2/9/22; CQ, 2/9/22]

Salazar Voted For The Postal Service Reform Act, Repealing The Requirement For USPS To Prefund Retirement Benefits, Among Other Reforms. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would repeal a current requirement that the U.S. Postal Service make annual payments to a Treasury Department fund to prefund future retirement health benefits for its current employees. It would require the Office of Personnel Management to establish a health benefits program for USPS employees and their families, separate from the existing program for federal employees. It would require plans under the new program to provide Medicare Part D coverage and require future USPS retirees to enroll in Medicare Part B. It would provide $94 million for fiscal 2022 for the Office of Personnel Management, Social Security Administration, and Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services to carry out the transition, but require the Postal Service to repay the amount in the same fiscal year. The bill would also require the Postal Service to establish annual performance targets; maintain a public, interactive web-tool including performance information broken down by market-dominant products, geographic areas and time periods; and provide the Postal Regulatory Commission with annual information on performance targets and biannual reports on USPS operations and financial performance. Among other provisions, it would codify a requirement that mail be delivered at least six days a week; allow the USPS to enter into agreements with federal agencies and state and local governments to provide non-postal services that would improve those the services, not interfere with postal services, and provide a net revenue; and require the USPS to evaluate and develop a plan to address inefficiencies in the processing of flat mailings, which include large envelopes and magazines.” Passed by a vote of 342-92. It would establish an SEC task force to administer the program and award grants of up to $500,000 to state securities regulators and insurance departments for activities to prevent and combat senior financial fraud, including to identify and prosecute fraud cases; provide educational materials to increase seniors’ awareness of fraud; and improve relevant state laws. It would require the task force to conduct annual audits of the program and report to Congress two years and five years after enactment on grant recipients, the use of grant funds and program effectiveness.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 371-48. [H.R. 5914, Vote #Vote #157, 5/11/22; CQ, 5/11/22]

Salazar Voted For The Securing A Strong Retirement Act Of 2022. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Neal, D-Mass., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would include various provisions to increase employee enrollment in employer-sponsored retirement savings plans, incentivize employers to offer retirement savings plans, and make modifications related to employee contributions to and use of retirement savings accounts. The bill would require employers to enroll eligible employees automatically in their sponsored plans beginning in 2024; establish or expand various tax credits for small businesses that establish retirement plans, including credits related to early eligibility for military spouses; and decrease to two consecutive years the time period after which employers must allow long-term part-time employees to participate in certain retirement plans. It would gradually increase the initial starting age for mandatory retirement plan distributions from 72 to 75 by 2033; reduce tax penalties for individuals who do not take the required distributions; and allow older employees to make increased "catch-up" contributions to their retirement plans. Among other provisions, it would allow retirement plan fiduciaries to choose not to recoup retirement benefit overpayments and place certain limits on recoupment procedures; require the Labor Department to establish an online database allowing individuals to search for the contact information of the administrator of their retirement plans; permit employees to receive matching retirement plan contributions from employers for certain student loan payments; and allow employers to offer small financial incentives, such as gift cards, to boost employee participation in retirement plans.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 414-5. [H.R. 2954, Vote #Vote #86, 3/29/22; CQ, 3/29/22]

- The Securing A Strong Retirement Act Of 2022 Included Retirement Reforms Expanding Auto-Enrollment And Raising The Age For Required Minimum Distributions To 401(k)s. “The House passed the Securing a Strong Retirement Act of 2022 in a vote of 414 to 5 on Tuesday. Known more colloquially as Secure 2.0, Tuesday's legislation builds off The Secure Act that passed on a bipartisan basis in late 2019 and provides a number of retirement reforms, including expanding auto-enrollment, helping those still paying student loans, assisting both small and large businesses offer more retirement savings options, and raising the age for required minimum distributions (RMDs) to tax deferred retirement accounts like 401(k)s.” [Fortune, 3/29/22]

- The Securing A Strong Retirement Act Required All But The Smallest Employers To Offer Auto-Enrollment Retirement Plans. “Perhaps the biggest expansion included in the bill would require all but the smallest employers to offer auto-enrollment in retirement plans, a proven way to get more Americans participating in retirement savings. A 2021 survey found 84% of auto-enrolled employees appreciated the benefit and said it helped them get started at an earlier age. Participants would be automatically enrolled at a contribution rate of 3% of their pay initially and then unless workers opt out, the contribution rate would increase by 1% annually until it hits a maximum of 10%.” [Fortune, 3/29/22]

- The Retirement Plan Allowed Employers To Match Student Loan Payments As Contributions To Retirement. “Student loan borrowers would also get a retirement boost via the legislation, which would basically allow employers to match student loan payments as contributions to retirement. ‘Let’s say you have somebody with significant student loans and really can’t contribute much to their 401(k),’ said Featherngill. ‘This would allow them the opportunity to still get an employer match on the amount paid on their student loans.’” [CNBC, 3/29/22]

Salazar Voted Against Preventing Sequestration Cuts To Medicare And Providing The Senate With Procedures To Increase The Debt Limit. In December 2021 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would extend from Dec. 31, 2021, to March 31, 2022, a temporary suspension of the 2 percent annual sequester of Medicare payments, and provide for payment reductions of 1 percent for the period of April 1 through June 30, 2022. As an offset, it would increase sequestration percentages above 2 percent in fiscal 2030. It would also require budget year debit for 2022 to be rolled over to the 2033 scorecards under statutory pay-as-you-go requirements, thus delaying spending cuts to Medicare and other mandatory programs subject to sequestration that would otherwise be triggered in January. It would delay a number of other Medicare payment reductions and policies, including to extend a temporary increase in payment amounts for physicians to provide a 3 percent increase for services furnished in 2022; delay for one year a provision that would phase in payment reductions for clinical diagnostic laboratory tests, prohibiting any reductions for 2021 and 2022 and prohibiting reductions greater than 15 percent for 2023 through 2025; and delay through 2022 the implementation of the Medicare radiation oncology model. It would decrease from $165 million to $101 million funding that may be expended from the Medicare Improvement Fund for fiscal 2021. Finally, the bill would establish procedures to expedite Senate consideration of a joint resolution to increase the debt limit by a specific dollar amount. Specifically, it would provide for a non-debatable motion to proceed to the joint resolution and, if the motion is agreed to, up to 10 hours of debate on the measure with no amendments or other motions in order, immediately followed by a vote on passage. Such procedures would be valid for consideration of one joint resolution by Jan. 16, 2022.” Passed by a vote of 222-212. [S 610, Vote #Vote #404, 12/07/21; CQ, 12/07/21]

Salazar Voted For Requiring The FTC To Report On Scams Targeting Seniors And To Include Searchable Information On Senior Scams On Its Website. In April 2021, Salazar voted for: “Pallone, D-NJ., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require the Federal Trade Commission, within 30 days of enactment, to submit to Congress a report detailing the number and types of scams targeting seniors and making policy recommendations to prevent such scams, especially scams related to future national emergencies. It would require the commission to include on its website searchable information on senior scams and contacts for relevant law enforcement and adult protective service agencies.” The motion was agreed to 413-8. [H R 446, Vote #Vote #110, 4/15/21; CQ, 4/15/21]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Suspend the Rules and Concur in the Senate Amendment on HR 1868, To Rescind A Scheduled 2% Medicare Cut Under Budget Sequestration. In April 2021, Salazar voted for: “Yarmuth, D-Ky., motion to suspend the rules and concur in the Senate amendment to the bill that would extend from March 31 to Dec. 31, 2021, a temporary suspension of the 2 percent annual sequester of Medicare payments and provide offsets by increasing Medicare sequestration amounts for fiscal 2030. It would also modify a deadline for changes to payments for rural health clinics enrolled in Medicare and restore a transition rule related to determining payment adjustments for disproportionate share hospitals in California.” The motion passed 384-38. [HR 1868, Vote #Vote #98, 4/13/21; CQ, 4/13/21]

- Med Page Today: House Voted To Rescind A Scheduled 2% Medicare Cut Under Budget Sequestration. “The House voted 384-38 Tuesday evening to rescind one of two scheduled Medicare cuts, sending the bill on to President Biden for his signature. […] The measure addresses one of the two budget cuts the Medicare program is facing. One cut, part of the normal budget process, is a 2% -- or $18 billion -- cut in the projected Medicare budget under a process known as ”sequestration." Sequestration allows for presupposed cuts in projected agency budget increases if Congress can't agree on their own cuts. Medicare's budget had been slated for a 2% sequester cut in fiscal year 2020; however, due to the pandemic and the accompanying increased healthcare needs, Congress passed a moratorium on the 2% cut.” [Med Page Today, 4/14/21]

Salazar Voted For Suspending A 2% Cut To Medicare Under Budget Sequestration. In March 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would exempt the budgetary effects of the fiscal 2021 budget reconciliation bill (HR 1319 / PL 117-2) comprising a $1.9 trillion coronavirus relief package from statutory pay-as-you-go requirements, preventing a number of automatic spending cuts to mandatory programs subject to sequestration. It would also extend from March 31 to Dec. 31, 2021, a temporary suspension of the 2 percent annual sequester of Medicare payments. Among other provisions, it would exclude certain pandemic-related unemployment compensation from being classified as income for the purposes of Medicaid and Children's Health Insurance Program eligibility.” The bill passed 246 to 175. [HR 1868, Vote #96, 3/18/21; CQ, 3/19/21; Home Health Care News, 3/22/21]

Tax Issues

Salazar Voted For An Amendment That Requires Companies To Disclose What They Would Pay If Corporate Taxes Increase. In June 2021, Salazar voted for: “Burgess, R-Texas, amendment no. 1 that would require publicly traded companies, if the federal corporate tax rate increases, to disclose what payments they would have made if the rate remained the same as it was on June 1, 2021.” The amendment was rejected 209 to 218. Salazar Voted Against The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act. In May 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill that would authorize the establishment of three new offices focused on domestic terrorism; a Homeland Security Department office to monitor and analyze domestic terrorism activity, a Justice Department office to investigate and prosecute domestic terrorism incidents, and a domestic terrorism section within the FBI counterterrorism division to investigate domestic terrorism activity. It would also require the FBI and the Justice, Defense and Homeland Security departments to establish an interagency task force to analyze and combat white supremacist and neo-Nazi ‘infiltration’ of law enforcement agencies and the uniformed services. It would require the FBI and Justice and Homeland Security departments to submit a biannual joint report to Congress including an assessment of the domestic terrorism threat posed by white supremacists and neo-Nazis. In preparing the reports, it would require the new offices to review each federal hate crime charge and conviction in the preceding six months to determine whether it also constitutes a domestic terrorism incident. It would require the first report to include an analysis of incidents or attempted incidents of domestic terrorism that have occurred in the United States since April 19, 1995, and require subsequent reports to analyze incidents in the preceding six months. Among other provisions, it would require various actions to investigate and coordinate the federal response to domestic terrorism incidents that may also be hate crimes; require the FBI and Justice and Homeland Security departments to make training available to law enforcement agencies related to countering and prosecuting domestic terrorism; and require reports on the implementation of such training to include the number of federal incidents involving a false report of a domestic terrorism or hate crime incident. It would authorize such sums as necessary to carry out the bill’s provisions.” The bill passed by a vote of 222-203. [H.R. 350, Vote #221, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

- The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act Created Homeland Security, Department Of Justice, And FBI Offices To Focus On Domestic Terrorism. “The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act is what Congress can do this week to try to prevent future Buffalo shootings — to prevent future California shootings, future El Paso shootings, future Charleston shootings, future Pittsburgh shootings, future Wisconsin shootings,' Schneider said. [...] Schneider’s bill, which the House passed by voice vote in 2020, would create domestic terrorism offices within the Justice Department, the Department of Homeland Security and the FBI to facilitate better coordination and help the agencies identify risks and homegrown threats. It also would require biannual reporting about the state of domestic terrorism threats.” [NBC News, 5/16/22]

- The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act Specifically Called For Assessments Of Threats Related To White Supremacists And Neo-Nazis. “The Domestic Terrorism Prevention Act would set up offices specifically focused on domestic terrorism at the Department of Homeland Security, the Department of Justice and the FBI. [...] It also calls for assessments of the threat posed specifically by White supremacists and neo-Nazis.” [CNN, 5/18/22]

In June 2022 Salazar voted for: “DeFazio, D-Ore., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would update various requirements and standards for ocean common carriers and marine terminal operators and require the Federal Maritime Commission to initiate related rulemakings, intended to address the effects of supply chain shortages on shipping services. It would authorize $33 million for fiscal 2022, $38 million for fiscal 2023, $44 million for fiscal 2024 and $49 million for fiscal 2025 for FMC operations. Among other provisions, it would prohibit carriers or operators from giving unreasonable preference to or taking discriminatory action against any commodity group or type of shipment; retaliating against shippers, including by refusing or threatening to refuse cargo space accommodations; ‘unreasonably’ refusing cargo space accommodations when available; and charging demurrage or detention fees, which are incurred for delays in unloading cargo, without certifying that the charges comply with FMC rules. It would require the FMC to initiate rulemakings to define unfair or unjustly discriminatory methods with respect to shipping, prohibited practices regarding demurrage or detention charges, and unreasonable refusal to deal or negotiate with respect to vessel space. It would authorize the commission to issue an emergency order requiring carriers or operators to share information related to cargo availability directly with relevant shippers and land carriers to ensure efficient transportation, if the commission determines after a public comment period that congestion of the common carriage of goods has created an emergency situation adversely affecting competitiveness and reliability of the international shipping supply system. It would also require the Transportation Department and FMC to consider the feasibility of identifying federal and nonfederal land, including inland ports, for the storage and transfer of cargo containers due to port congestion. It would authorize the Transportation Security Administration and the Coast Guard to expedite the consideration of transportation worker identification credential applications for applicants who would help provide direct assistance to a U.S. port. It would establish procedures for the FMC to accept and investigate complaints about charges assessed by a carrier; require the FMC to establish a public webpage for the submission of comments, complaints, reports of noncompliance and requests for investigation or alternative dispute resolution; and require the FMC to maintain a consumer affairs and dispute resolution office to assist in disputes involving cargo and household goods shipments and cruises.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 369-42. [S. 3580, Vote #256, 6/13/22; CQ, 6/13/22]

• The Ocean Shipping Reform Act Addressed Rising Ocean Shipping Costs To Ease Supply Chain Challenges And Curb Inflation. “The U.S. House of Representatives approved legislation Monday to improve oversight of ocean shipping, which supporters say will help curb inflation and ease export backlogs. [...] Senator Maria Cantwell said the bill gives the FMC ‘the tools it needs to cut down on extraneous shipping costs and stop shipping carriers from leaving American products like apples, hay, milk and potatoes behind.’ [...] Imports in the nation’s major retail container ports are expected to reach near-record volume in June as retailers seek to meet consumer demand and protect themselves from disruptions in West Coast ports, the National Retail Federation said.” [Reuters, 6/13/22]

In April 2022 Salazar voted for: “Neal, D-Mass., motion to suspend the rules and concur in the Senate amendment to the bill that would remove the normal trade relations status of Russia and Belarus with the United States, effective the day after the bill’s enactment. It would authorize the president, until January 1, 2024, to further increase tariffs on goods from Russia and Belarus following consultation with Congress. It would authorize the president to restore the trade status of either country after certifying to Congress that the country’s president has reached an agreement with the independent government of Ukraine to withdraw Russian or Belarusian forces and cease military hostilities; poses no immediate military threat of aggression to any NATO member; and recognizes the right of the people of Ukraine to independently and freely choose their own government. It also would establish congressional procedures for consideration of a joint resolution of disapproval for such a certification. It would also repeal a sunset date to indefinitely reauthorize the Global Magnitsky Human Rights Accountability Act, which allows the president to impose visa- and property-blocking sanctions against foreign persons with respect to human rights violations. Finally, it would direct the U.S. trade representative to use the voice and influence of the United States at the World Trade Organization to condemn the recent aggression in Ukraine; encourage other WTO members to suspend trade concessions to Russia; consider further steps to suspend Russia’s participation in the WTO; and seek to halt processes related to the accession of Belarus to the WTO.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 420-3. - Congress Voted To Revoke Russia's “Most Favored Nation” Trade Status, Which Opened Russia Up To New “Damaging” Tariffs. “Congress on Thursday voted to revoke Russia’s ‘most favored nation’ trade status, an economic downgrade that opens the door to damaging new tariffs on Moscow over its invasion of Ukraine. [...] Most favored nation status ensures that any member of the World Trade Organization receives equal trade treatment from other members and grants each designee immunity from a raft of steep import penalties. ‘There are two categories you can be characterized under U.S. law: One gets lower tariffs, and one gets higher,’ said Clete Willems, a partner at law firm Akin Gump and a former U.S. attorney at the WTO. ‘All other WTO members get this lower [tariff] rate — the average is about 2.8%,’ he added. ‘And then for non-MFN, the average is around 20%. And so this legislation will change the tariff treatment of all of those products.’” [CNBC, 4/7/22]

Salazar Voted For Concurring With The Senate To Suspend Energy Imports From Russia, Sending The Bill For Presidential Approval. In April 2022 Salazar voted for: “Neal, D-Mass., motion to suspend the rules and concur in the Senate amendment to the bill that would statutorily prohibit the import of Russian oil and energy products into the United States, to be implemented in a manner consistent with the March 2022 executive order banning such imports. It would authorize the president to lift the ban after certifying to Congress that the Russian president has reached an agreement with the independent government of Ukraine to withdraw Russian forces and cease military hostilities; poses no immediate military threat of aggression to any NATO member; and recognizes the right of the people of Ukraine to independently and freely choose their own government. It also would establish congressional procedures for consideration of a joint resolution of disapproval for such a certification.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 413-9. [H.R. 6968, Vote #125, 4/7/22; CQ, 4/7/22]

- Congress’ Votes To Ban Russian Oil Codified President Biden’s Executive Order And Allowed Congress To Reimpose The Ban If It Disagrees With The Executive Branch Later On. “Some lawmakers argued that it was no longer necessary for Congress to act on the oil ban given that Biden had already done so via executive order, but proponents believe it is important to codify the punishment and give lawmakers a say in the matter. The legislation also allows Congress to vote to reimpose the ban if, down the road, lawmakers are uncomfortable with an executive branch plan to allow the purchases of Russian oil again. ‘It’s important to recognize this legislation is not redundant,’ said Sen. Lisa Murkowski (R-Alaska), who led the effort in the upper chamber. ‘It’s ensuring substantive steps will be taken so that the sanctions stay in with some level of reliability.’” [POLITICO, 4/7/22]

- Seven Republicans And Two Democrats Voted Against Banning Russian Oil Imports. “The oil ban bill was opposed by seven House Republicans and two Democrats: Reps. Cori Bush of Missouri and Ilhan Omar of Minnesota. The only three votes against the trade bill came GOP Reps. Matt Gaetz of Florida, Marjorie Taylor Greene of Georgia and Thomas Massie of Kentucky.” [NBC News, 4/7/22]

Salazar Voted Against The America COMPETES Act To Increase The U.S.’s Global Competitiveness. In February 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, comprising a package of provisions related to scientific research and development and international competitiveness, including provisions to authorize more than $135 billion over five years for federal investment in scientific research and development programs; provide more than $52 billion in supplemental appropriations for the U.S. semiconductor industry; and require various actions related to U.S. technological competitiveness and foreign policy, particularly with regard to countering Chinese influence. Among provisions related to science and technology research and development, it would authorize $78 billion through fiscal 2026 for National Science Foundation activities, including $13.3 billion for a new NSF Directorate for Science and Engineering Solutions to support use-inspired research and development that addresses societal challenges such as climate change, global competitiveness in critical technologies, cybersecurity, national security, social and economic inequality, and education and workforce development in science and technology. It would authorize $50.2 billion through fiscal 2026 for Energy Department science activities, including research and development related to climate issues, alternative energy sources and quantum technologies. It would authorize $8 billion through fiscal 2026 for the National Institute of Standards and Technology and expand NIST functions to include information security and cybersecurity research and development activities. Among supply chain provisions, it would provide $52.7 billion through fiscal 2026 in supplemental appropriations to fund a program to incentivize research, development and workforce development related to the production of semiconductors, established by the fiscal 2021 defense authorization law. It would establish a Commerce Department office to lead federal efforts to strengthen supply chains and domestic manufacturing in critical industries, and it would authorize $45 billion through fiscal 2027 for grants and loans under the office. It would appropriate $1.5 billion through fiscal 2031 to support 5G wireless network development. Among foreign policy provisions, it would require the president and State Department to develop diplomatic engagement strategies to address global economic and security development, particularly with regard to countering Chinese influence and economic coercion. It would authorize more than $2 billion in bilateral and regional foreign assistance and $1.25 billion for diplomatic engagement in the Indo-Pacific region for fiscal 2022, as well as over $1 billion through fiscal 2026 for foreign military financing and security programs in the region. It would include various provisions related to global action on climate change, including to establish an interagency task force to monitor climate change in relation to national security risks and authorize $8 billion through fiscal 2023 for contributions to the U.N. Green Climate Fund. It would extend a wide range of duty reductions and suspensions; update certain trade policies to include standards related to environmental, labor, human rights and intellectual property protections; and establish a U.S. Trade Representative committee to review and potentially block overseas investments in foreign adversary nations that could impact U.S. critical capabilities. Among workforce and economic development provisions, the bill would reauthorize and expand the Labor Department national apprenticeship system; authorize several new or expanded NSF programs related to expanding science, technology, engineering and mathematics education, workforce development and participation of underrepresented groups in STEM; create a new class of nonimmigrant ‘W’ visas for entrepreneurs associated with U.S. start-up companies; and reauthorize and expand the Trade Adjustment Assistance program to support individuals and communities that have been adversely impacted by international trade.” The bill passed by a vote of 222-210. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #31, 2/4/22; CQ, 2/4/22]

- America COMPETES Authorized $45 Billion To Bolster The Supply Chain And Increase U.S. Manufacturing Of “Critical” Goods. “The House bill would provide $45 billion over six years in grants and loans to improve the nation’s supply chains and to boost American manufacturing of goods deemed critical for national security and the US economy -- like products for public health, communications technology and food -- according to a summary of the bill provided by House Democrats. Similar to the Senate bill, it would create a new initiative within the Department of Commerce to help promote the resiliency of the nation’s supply chains. The House bill would establish an office that would monitor supply chains, identify vulnerabilities and designate which products are critical. The agency would also be tasked with building up stockpiles to prevent shortages of goods in the event of a future supply chain shock.” [CNN, 2/4/22]

- America COMPETES Invested $3 Billion In Solar Manufacturing To Reduce The U.S.’s Reliance On China. “The House legislation would set aside billions of dollars to bolster research and manufacturing. [...] It would set aside another $3 billion for the nation’s solar manufacturing supply chain, aiming to reduce the country’s reliance on China for parts.” [CNN, 2/4/22]

- America COMPETES Invested $52 Billion In Domestic Manufacturing And Research Of Semiconductors To Decrease The U.S.’s Technological Dependence On Asia. “The House voted Friday to pass the America COMPETES Act, a bill that aims to increase U.S. competitiveness with China and to address the country’s shortage of semiconductors by strengthening the country’s supply chain. [...] The bill includes $52 billion to support domestic manufacturing and research of semiconductors, the chips that are used in electronic devices and have faced shortages throughout the pandemic, contributing to delays and increased costs. The incentives for semiconductor production come as the U.S. has increasingly relied on imports for computer chips. Twelve percent of the world’s chips are made in the U.S., down from 37% in the 1990s, according to industry officials. About 80% are made in Asia.” [USA Today, 2/4/22]

- America COMPETES Funded An Aid Program For Workers Impacted By Increased Imports And Invested In STEM Education Programs. “The measure, known as the America COMPETES Act, passed 222-210 in a near-party-line vote. [...] The legislation would also fund a government program to aid workers who lost jobs or saw their pay cut as a result of increased imports, as well as boost funds for the National Science Foundation and STEM education programs.” [New York Post, 2/4/22]

- American COMPETES Provided “More Than $1 Billion Toward Increasing Diversity” In Science And Technology To Increase STEM Employment. “Congress is aiming to reshape America’s workforce through new legislation that would direct more than $1 billion toward increasing diversity of the scientists, researchers and technologists who drive the innovation economy. The measure includes $900 million for grants and partnerships with historically Black colleges and universities, $164 million to study barriers for people of color in the field and $17.5 million to combat sexual harassment. They’re part of a expansive package of bills known as the America Competes Act, which lawmakers hope will ensure the United States continues to lead the global economy. [...] A report from the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine estimated the United States will need 1 million more people employed in those sectors over the next decade than it is currently on track to produce. The group said the country will not reach that goal without substantially increasing diversity in the labor force.” [CNBC, 2/4/22]

- America COMPETES Included Provisions To Hold China Accountable For Human Rights Violations. “The legislation includes provisions to strengthen US relations with Taiwan, new sanctions for officials in Xinjiang accused of ‘systematic rape, coercive abortion, forced sterilisation, or involuntary contraceptive implantation policies and practices’ and an authorisation for millions of dollars in funding to counter Chinese government censorship and disinformation. [...] Advocacy groups supporting human rights in Xinjiang and Hong Kong applauded the bill. The Washington-based Hong Kong Democracy Council said it was 'elated', and the non-profit Uyghur Human Rights Project said it was 'encouraged that Congress continues to put rhetoric into action’. ‘We are particularly encouraged by provisions meant to provide safe haven for Uyghurs fleeing atrocities, and to tighten scrutiny on Chinese companies complicit in these abuses,’ said Uyghur Human Rights Project executive director Omer Kanat.” [South China Morning Post, 2/4/22]

- America COMPETES Included Provisions To “Offset China’s Market-Distorting Trade Practices.” “The U.S. House of Representatives on Friday narrowly passed a multibillion-dollar bill aimed at increasing American competitiveness with China and boosting U.S. semiconductor manufacturing, despite Republican opposition. [...] It includes changes to U.S. trade rules intended to offset China's market-distorting trade practices, including by strengthening anti-dumping rules.” [Reuters, 2/4/22]

- American COMPETES Authorized $10 Billion To Help Developing Countries Address Climate Change. “The bill also authorizes $8.8 billion this year for Energy Department research and development programs, with that amount increasing each year through fiscal 2026. And it authorizes as much as $8 billion to help developing countries address climate change over the next two years and another $2 billion annually to help developing countries deploy clean energy technologies, expand zero-emission vehicles, promote sustainable land use, and adapt to the effects of climate change.” [Bloomberg, 2/4/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The America COMPETES Act To Committee. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “McCaul, R-Texas, motion to recommit the bill to the House Science, Space, and Technology Committee.” The motion was rejected by a vote of 211-221. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #30, 2/4/22; CQ, 2/4/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Broaden Pell Grant Eligibility To Include Short Term Skills And Job Training Programs And Establish A Data System For Postsecondary Student Academic And Economic Outcomes. In February 2022 Salazar voted against: “Levin, D-Mich., amendment no. 260 that would create a Pell Grant award for career and technical education programs that provide job training and industry-based credentials. It also would require the National Center for Education Statistics, within four years of the bill's enactment, to establish a data system containing information about postsecondary student academic and economic outcomes.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 238-193. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #29, 2/4/22; CQ, 2/4/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Require The Chinese Communist Party To Match The U.S.’s Emission Cutting Targets. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Steel, R-Calif., amendment no. 239 that would express the sense of Congress that the U.S. should seek to require the Chinese Communist Party to match emission-cutting targets established by the U.S.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 265-166. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #28, 2/4/22; CQ, 2/4/22]

184 that would rescind U.S. participation in the U.N. Framework Convention on Climate Change.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 196-235. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #27, 2/3/22; CQ, 2/3/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Commission A Study Measuring Inflation’s Economic Impact On The United States. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Kim, R-Calif., amendment no. 131 that would require the National Science Foundation to commission a study to measure the economic impact of inflation on the country, including impacts on the cost of living, wages and the workforce, U.S. international competitiveness, and rural and underserved communities. It would authorize $1 million to carry out the study.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 279-153. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #26, 2/3/22; CQ, 2/3/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Require A Report On The Humanitarian Impact Of The Confiscation Of Assets From Afghanistan’s Central Bank And Its Financial Impact On China And Chinese Entities. In February 2022 Salazar voted against: “Jayapal, D-Wash., amendment no. 124 that would require the Treasury Department to include, in a report to Congress required by the bill on the financial activities of China and Chinese entities in connection with the finances of Afghanistan and the Taliban, an assessment of the humanitarian impacts of U.S. and multilateral sanctions on entities associated with the Afghanistan government and the freeze of confiscated assets of Afghanistan's central bank; the impacts of existing U.S. and multilateral laws on Chinese government influence in Afghanistan; and the projected impacts on illicit finance activity between China and entities in Afghanistan in the event of a collapse of the Afghan banking system.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 175-255. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #25, 2/3/22; CQ, 2/3/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Update Ocean Shipping Regulations To Address Supply Chain Shortages. In February 2022 Salazar voted against: “Garamendi, D-Calif., amendment no. 89 that would insert provisions of a bill (HR 4996) that would update various requirements and standards for ocean common carriers and marine terminal operators and require the Federal Maritime Commission to initiate related rulemakings, intended to address the effects of supply chain shortages on shipping services. It also would authorize $33 million for fiscal 2022 and $36 million for fiscal 2023 for FMC operations.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 367-59. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #24, 2/3/22; CQ, 2/3/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Require An Annual Briefing To Congress On The Progress Of China’s Emissions Goals And Commitments. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Crenshaw, R-Texas, amendment no. 56 that would require the State Department to brief Congress annually on China's progress and efforts to meet certain previously stated emission goals and commitments.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 264-163. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #23, 2/3/22; CQ, 2/3/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Add The Media And Entertainment Industry To The Apprenticeship Grants Offered By The America COMPETES Act. In February 2022 Salazar voted against: “Castro, D-Texas, amendment no. 43 that would add "media and entertainment" to a list of possible industries eligible for the expanded apprenticeship offerings grants included in the bill.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 216-214. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #22, 2/3/22; CQ, 2/3/22]
Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Require A Report On The Impact Of U.S. Sanctions On Innovation, Emissions Reduction, Climate Cooperation, And Economic Justice. In February 2022 Salazar voted against: “Bowman, D-N.Y., amendment no. 22 that would direct the State and Energy departments to report to Congress on the impact of U.S. sanctions on innovation related to climate change and environmental justice; emissions reduction; and international climate cooperation.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 181-248. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #21, 2/3/22; CQ, 2/3/22]

Salazar Voted For The Republican En Bloc Amendment No. 3, Including 35 Amendments, To The America COMPETES Act. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Lofgren, D-Calif., en bloc amendments no. 3 that would include 35 amendments to the bill that would, among other provisions, strike from the bill a section that would authorize $8 billion through fiscal 2023 for contributions to the U.N. Green Climate Fund; a section that would authorize a global climate change resilience strategy; a section that would establish a Homeland Security Department mentor-protégé program to assist small firms in competing for DHS contracts; a section expanding Defense Production Act authorities with respect to emergency medical supplies during the COVID-19 health emergency period; and section creating a new classification of "W" visas for those involved with start-up companies; and a section that would reauthorize and expand programs under the national apprenticeship system.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 204-225. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #20, 2/3/22; CQ, 2/3/22]

Salazar Voted For The Bipartisan En Bloc Amendment No. 2, Including 53 Amendments, To The America COMPETES Act. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Bonamici, D-Ore., en bloc amendments no. 2 that including 53 amendments to the bill that would, among other provisions, authorize the Treasury Department to hire 10 additional full-time employees for the Office of Foreign Assets Control to carry out activities associated with the Chinese government; express the sense of Congress that the International Olympic Committee should not hold future Olympic games in countries committing genocide; require the Treasury and State departments to issue a determination of whether certain Chinese companies meet the criteria for sanctions under existing human rights laws; require foreign business entities to assign and register an agent with the Commerce Department as a prerequisite to doing business in the U.S.; prohibit the possession, transport and sale in interstate or foreign commerce of American mink raised in captivity for fur production; and authorize $26 million annually from fiscal years 2023 through 2026 to support federal coordination of state supply chain databases. The amendments would insert the provisions of a bill (HR 1447) that would reauthorize funding through fiscal 2026 for ocean and coastal acidification research and response activities by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and the National Science Foundation; a bill (HR 1996) that would establish legal protections for financial service institutions that provide services to marijuana-related businesses operating in accordance with state law; and a bill (HR 151) that would require various actions related to shutting down commercial wildlife markets and preventing the emergence of future zoonotic pathogens.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 262-168. [H.R. 4521, Vote #Vote #19, 2/3/22; CQ, 2/3/22]

Salazar Voted Against The Democratic En Bloc Amendment No. 1, Including 161 Amendments, To The America COMPETES Act. In February 2022 Salazar voted against: “Johnson, D-Texas, en bloc amendments no. 1 that including 161 amendments to the bill that would, among other provisions, state that it is U.S. policy to prioritize the Indo-Pacific region in foreign policy and authorize funding for various U.S. activities in the region through fiscal 2026, including $655 million for foreign military financing activities and $450 million for the State Department Indo-Pacific Maritime Security Initiative; authorize a new Labor Department grant program to expand national apprenticeship system offerings to support critical supply chain sectors facing workforce shortages; add "immersive technology" and "educational technology" as key technology focus areas with respect to supply chain resilience activities; authorize $6.1 billion annually through fiscal 2026 for the Energy Department to fund restoration, infrastructure and modernization projects at the National Laboratories; increase by $740 million funding authorized for Energy Department fusion energy programs for fiscal years 2023 through 2026; and authorize $9.5 billion over 10 years for grants and loan guarantees to assist up to three companies selected by the Energy secretary in implementing innovative industrial technologies on a commercial scale; and repeal the current 25% cap on contributions by the U.S. to U.N. peacekeeping operations.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 221-211. [H.R. 4521, Vote #18, 2/3/22; CQ, 2/3/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering The America COMPETES Act On Global Competitiveness; Restrictions On Sexual Assault And Sexual Harassment Forced Arbitration; And Visa-Blocking Sanctions For Human Rights Violations Against LGBTQ Individuals. In February 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 900) that would provide for House floor consideration of the global competitiveness package, or America COMPETES Act (HR 4521); a bill (HR 4445) to restrict forced arbitration with respect to sexual assault and harassment disputes; and a bill (HR 3485) related to global protections for LGBTQ individuals. The rule would provide for up to two hours of general debate on HR 4521 and up to one hour of general debate on each of HR 4445 and HR 3485. It would provide for floor consideration of 261 amendments to HR 4521, one amendment to HR 4445 and six amendments to HR 3485. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Johnson, D-Texas, manager's amendment to HR 4521 that would make a wide variety of changes throughout the bill. Among other provisions, the manager's amendment would authorize, annually through fiscal 2026, $1 billion for trade adjustment assistance for certain communities negatively impacted by changes in trade and authorize, annually through fiscal 2028, $1.3 billion for trade adjustment assistance for community college and career training programs for workers negatively impacted by changes in trade. It would add Davis-Bacon prevailing wage requirements for laborers and mechanics working on projects under an electric grid vulnerability program created by the bill. It would strike a provision that would require the Energy Department to delegate signature authority to the National Laboratories for certain research, development and other agreements; a provision that would transfer unexpended funds for certain coral reef management, restoration and conservation grants to a coral reef stewardship fund authorized by the bill; and a provision that would require a diplomatic strategy for U.S.-Afghanistan efforts to address challenges posed by Chinese investment in the Afghan mineral sector. It would make numerous technical changes. The rule would also authorize through April 1 certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions. It would allow proceedings on measures previously considered under suspension of the rules on Feb. 1 to be postponed through March 3.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 219-203. [H. Res. 900, Vote #17, 2/2/22; CQ, 2/2/22]

Salazar Voted Against Updating Ocean Shipping Requirements And Requiring The Federal Maritime Commission To Address Effects Of Supply Chain Shortages On Shipping Services. In December 2021, Salazar voted against: “Garamendi, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would update various requirements and standards for ocean common carriers and marine terminal operators and require the Federal Maritime Commission to initiate related rulemakings, intended to address the effects of supply chain shortages on shipping services. It would authorize $33 million for fiscal 2022 and $36 million for fiscal 2023 for FMC operations. Among other provisions, it would require the commission to initiate a rulemaking to establish minimum shipping service standards, including for furnishing suitable equipment and accommodations for receiving cargo and requirements that carriers establish contingency plans to maintain service during periods of port congestion and other market disruptions. It would prohibit carriers or operators from retaliating against shippers by refusing or threatening to refuse cargo space accommodations; failing to furnish containers or facilities needed for transportation services; "unreasonably declining" cargo bookings if the cargo can be loaded safely and timely on a vessel scheduled for its destination; and charging demurrage or detention fees, which are incurred for delays in unloading cargo, without certifying that the charges comply with FMC rules. It would also authorize the commission to issue an emergency order requiring carriers or operators to share information related to cargo availability directly with relevant shippers and land carriers to ensure efficient transportation, if the commission determines after a public comment period that congestion of the common carriage of goods has created an emergency situation adversely affecting international shipping supply system competitiveness and reliability." Motion agreed to by a vote of 364-60. [HR 4996, Vote #Vote #406, 12/08/21; CQ, 12/08/21]

Veterans & Military Family

Salazar Voted For Authorization Of $60 Million To The National Archives And Records Administration To Address The Backlog In Veterans’ Record Requests, Improve The Federal Records Request Process, And Address Freedom Of Information Act Request Backlogs. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Maloney, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would authorize $60 million for the National Archives and Records Administration to address backlogs in responding to military personnel record requests from veterans, improve cybersecurity, improve digital preservation and access to archival federal records and address backlogs in Freedom of Information Act requests. It would require the U.S. archivist to submit to Congress, within 60 days of enactment, a plan to reduce the backlog of requests from the National Personnel Records Center and improve operations efficiency, including an estimate of backlog record requests for veterans; target timeframes to reduce the backlog; and strategies to prevent future backlogs. It would also require the archivist to ensure that the center maintains staffing levels and telework arrangements that enable the ‘maximum processing’ of records requests with the goal of responding to 90 percent of requests in 20 days or less.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 406-21. [H.R. 7337, Vote #Vote #356, 7/14/22; CQ, 7/14/22]

Salazar Voted For Expanding Veterans Affairs Health Care Benefits For Burn Pit And Toxic Exposure During Service To Include Hospital Care, Medical Services, And Nursing Home Care. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would expand VA health care benefits for veterans with service-connected exposure to burn pits or other toxic substances, making such veterans eligible for VA hospital care, medical services and nursing home care. Specifically, it would establish a presumption of service-connected exposure for certain types of cancer and certain respiratory illnesses, including asthma diagnosed after service, for all veterans who served in certain periods and locations where burn pits or other airborne hazards were present, including those who served in Iraq, Afghanistan and Persian Gulf countries beginning in August 1990. It would also expand benefits for certain veterans exposed to radiation during the Cold War and certain Vietnam War-era veterans exposed to Agent Orange. It would require the VA to establish a department working group to assess cases of toxic exposure and make determinations for new or modified presumptions of service-connected exposure based on working group recommendations; conduct outreach to inform veterans of new eligibility following all such modifications; and enter into a five-year agreement with the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine to evaluate scientific evidence related to determining the associations between diseases and military toxic exposure. It would also require the VA to publish a list of resources for toxic-exposed veterans and their caregivers and survivors; include a toxic exposure questionnaire in initial screenings conducted by VA primary care providers; provide department health care personnel with education and training to identify and treat illnesses related to toxic exposure; establish an interagency working group to coordinate collaborative federal research on health consequences of military toxic exposure; and require the National Academies to conduct a study on toxic exposures and mental health conditions and a study on health trends of veterans who participated in Manhattan Project activities. It would provide $500 million for fiscal 2022 for a new fund to support veterans’ health care associated with toxic exposure and authorize the VA to use such funding to improve Veterans Benefits Administration operations, including for claims automation, to support increased claims processing for veterans made eligible by the bill. Among other provisions, it would modify certain VA leasing authorities and appropriate funding for VA medical facility leases, including $922 million for fiscal 2022 for enhanced-use leases, and $1.9 billion for fiscal 2023 and over $3.6 billion for fiscal years 2024 through 2031 for major medical facility leases. It would also include various provisions related to VA personnel policy, including to require the VA, in collaboration with the directors of outpatient clinics and medical centers, to develop and implement a national rural recruitment and hiring plan for the Veterans Health Administration; require the VA to establish qualifications for each human resources position within the department; and authorize the VA to issue retention bonuses, student loan repayment and other incentives to retain and recruit personnel. This version of the bill would not include a blue-slip provision that would specify that contract buy-outs by the VA to employ health care professionals at rural VA facilities would not be considered a taxable benefit or event.” The bill passed by a vote of 342-88. [S. 3373, Vote #Vote #309, 7/13/22; CQ, 7/13/22]

Salazar Voted For A Motion To Recommit The Bill To Expand Veterans’ Health Care Benefits For Toxic Exposure During Military Service To Committee. In July 2022 Salazar voted for: “Bost, R-Ill., motion to recommit the bill to the House Veterans’ Affairs Committee.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 208-219. [S. 3373, Vote #Vote #308, 7/13/22; CQ, 7/13/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering The Active Shooter Alert Act, A Bill To Expand Veterans’ Toxic Exposure Health Care Benefits, The National Defense Authorization Act For FY 2023, The Women’s Health Protection Act, And The Ensuring Access To Abortion Act. In July 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 1224) that would provide for House consideration of the Active Shooter Alert Act (HR 6538), the veterans’ toxic exposure benefits bill (S 3373), the fiscal 2023 defense authorization bill (HR 7900), the Women’s Health Protection Act (HR 8296), and the Ensuring Women’s Right to Reproductive Freedom Act (HR 8297). The rule would provide for up to one hour of general debate on each bill and floor consideration of 650 amendments to HR 7900. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Pallone, D-N.J., manager’s amendment to HR 8297 that would change the title of the bill from the ‘Ensuring Access to Abortion Act of 2022’ to the ‘Ensuring Women’s Right to Reproductive Freedom Act.’ The rule would authorize, through the legislative day of July 15, 2022, non-debatable motions by the majority leader or a designee to suspend the rules and consider, en bloc, measures that were previously considered under suspension of the rules on June 21 through July 12.
Finally, it would authorize through July 19, 2022, certain routine authorities for House proceedings, including for consideration of motions to suspend the rules and same-day consideration of Rules Committee resolutions. The rule was adopted by a vote of 217-204. [H. Res. 1224, Vote #304, 7/13/22; CQ, 7/13/22]

Salazar Voted For Mammography Eligibility For Veterans Who Were Exposed To Burn Pits And Other Toxic Substances As A Result Of Their Service. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require the Veterans Affairs Department to ensure that all veterans who served in certain locations and periods where they may have been exposed to burn pits and other toxic substances are eligible for a mammography screening by a VA health care provider. It would also require the VA, within two years, to submit a report to Congress comparing the rates of breast cancer among servicemembers deployed to such locations with rates among other servicemembers and the civilian population.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 418-0. [S. 2102, Vote #228, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

Salazar Voted For The Veterans Affairs Department To Submit A Plan On Improving Mammography Services For Veterans. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require the Veterans Affairs Department to submit a strategic plan to Congress on improving breast imaging services for veterans. It would require the VA to conduct a telescreening mammography pilot program for veterans who cannot access such services; upgrade all mammography services to use three-dimensional digital breast tomosynthesis technology within two years; and conduct studies on and update department policies to expand access to breast cancer gene testing for veterans diagnosed with breast cancer, as well as access to breast imaging services at VA facilities for veterans with paralysis and other disabilities. It would require the VA inspector general to submit a report to Congress on mammography services provided by the VA. The bill would also require the VA to enter into a partnership with at least one cancer center of the National Cancer Institute in each veterans integrated service network to expand access to high-quality cancer care for women veterans and to collaborate with the Defense Department to submit a report to Congress on all current research and health care collaborations between the departments on treating veterans and active servicemembers who have breast cancer.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 419-0. [S. 2533, Vote #227, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

Salazar Voted For A Required Veterans Affairs Employee Training On Reporting To The Veterans Affairs Inspector General. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require all Veterans Affairs Department employees to receive training on how to report wrongdoing to the VA inspector general’s office. Specifically, it would require the inspector general to develop training that defines the role, responsibilities and legal authority of the office and the duties of employees to engage with the office; identifies mechanisms for reporting fraud, waste and abuse; identifies whistleblower protections for employees; and recognizes opportunities to engage with the office to improve department services. It would require each current department employee to undergo the training within one year of enactment and require new employees to undergo the training within one year of beginning their employment.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 407-11. [H.R. 6052, Vote #226, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]
Salazar Voted For Restoring Full Benefits To Veterans Unable To Complete A Course Or Program Due To An Educational Institution Closure Or Disapproval Of An Educational Program Under The Rapid Retraining Assistance Program. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would permit the Veterans Affairs Department to restore full benefits under the Veterans Rapid Retraining Assistance Program to a veteran who was unable to complete a course or program because of the closure of an educational institution or the disapproval of an educational program by the VA or a state approving agency. It would make the bill’s provisions retroactively effective to the enactment of the March 2021 coronavirus relief law (PL 117-2), which established the retraining assistance program, and require the educational institution to repay the VA for payments already made.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 401-17. [S. 4089, Vote #Vote #225, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

Salazar Voted For An Annual Training On Military Sexual Trauma For Veterans Affairs Peer Support Specialists. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Veterans Affairs Department to provide annual training for VA peer support specialists on how to provide support regarding military sexual trauma and annual training for VA peer support specialists and Veterans Health Administration military sexual trauma coordinators regarding the processing of claims for compensation related to military sexual trauma. It would require the department, in forms for such claims for compensation, to allow veterans to elect to be referred to a Veterans Health Administration military sexual trauma coordinator at the nearest VA facility to their residence. It would specify that peer support specialists are not responsible for assisting veterans with claims for compensation, other than counseling services and guidance, and may not participate in the adjudication of such claims.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 420-0. [H.R. 2724, Vote #Vote #224, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

Salazar Voted For Expanding Death And Disability Benefit Eligibility To Law Enforcement Who Develop Trauma-Related Disabilities Or Die By Suicide As A Result Of Trauma Exposure In The Line Of Duty. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Cohen, D-Tenn., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would expand eligibility for death and disability benefits under the Justice Department’s Public Safety Officers’ Benefits Program to officers who are exposed to traumatic events in the line of duty and develop trauma-related mental disabilities or die by suicide. Specifically, it would establish that post-traumatic stress disorder, acute stress disorder and other trauma and stress-related disorders are presumed to constitute a line-of-duty personal injury if a substantial factor in the disorder was the officer’s exposure while on duty to a traumatic event, defined as a homicide or suicide, violent death, circumstance that poses significant danger to any individual or act of sexual violence against any individual. It would also establish a presumption of direct cause of death or disability in the case of a suicide or attempted suicide by an officer if their exposure to a traumatic event was a substantial factor in the action. It would specify that existing prohibitions on benefit payments in the case of intentional action or voluntary intoxication of an officer would not apply in these cases. It would require the Government Accountability Office, within one year of enactment, to report to Congress on benefits issued under the bill’s provisions.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 402-17. [H.R. 6943, Vote #Vote #223, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

Salazar Voted For First Responder Traumatic Brain Injury And Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder Crisis Intervention Training. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Cohen, D-Tenn., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Justice Department’s Bureau of Justice Assistance, in consultation with other agencies, to develop crisis intervention training tools for use by first responders based on best practices for interacting with persons who have a traumatic brain injury or post-traumatic stress disorder. It would require the office to make the training available as part of the department’s Police-Mental Health Collaboration Toolkit and ensure the training tools are implemented by at least one designated police department. It would authorize $54 million annually through fiscal 2027 for Justice Department police-mental health collaboration grants, including to develop the training. It would also require the Health and Human Services Department, within two years of enactment, to submit a study to Congress on the prevalence of concussions among first responders.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 400-21. [H.R. 2992, Vote #Vote #222, 5/18/22; CQ, 5/18/22]

[H.R. 7375, Vote #Vote #205, 5/17/22; CQ, 5/17/22]

Salazar Voted For Subpoena Authority For The Veterans Affairs Inspector General. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Trone, D-Md., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would allow the Veterans Affairs Department inspector general to subpoena witnesses as necessary to perform the office's duties through May 31, 2025. It would specify that the office is not permitted to subpoena witnesses as part of a criminal proceeding or current federal employees.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 404–6. [S. 2687, Vote #Vote #204, 5/17/22; CQ, 5/17/22]

Salazar Voted For G.I Bill Education Benefits Restoration For Individuals Whose Education Program Closed Or Was Discontinued. In May 2022 Salazar voted for: “Trone, D-Md., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would require the Veterans Affairs Department to issue a certificate of eligibility, which would provide proof of benefit coverage to educational institutions, to individuals applying for a restoration of their G.I. Bill educational benefits after their educational program closed or was discontinued. The bill would require an individual to certify to the VA that they have transferred fewer than 12 credits from the program. It would also strike a requirement that veterans who transfer their educational benefits to dependents must designate a period for which the transfer is effective.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 412-1. [H.R. 6604, Vote #Vote #203, 5/17/22; CQ, 5/17/22]

The Army Rangers units were formed during the war.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 418-0. [S. 1872, Vote #Vote #155, 5/11/22; CQ, 5/11/22]

March 2022: Salazar Voted Against The Honoring Our Pact Act To Expand Veterans Affairs Health Care Benefits To Include Burn Pit And Other Toxic Substance Exposure. In March 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, as amended, that would expand Veterans Affairs Department health care benefits for veterans with service-connected exposure to burn pits or other toxic substances, making such veterans eligible for VA hospital care, medical services and nursing home care. Specifically, it would establish a presumption of service-connected exposure for certain types of cancer and certain respiratory illnesses, including asthma diagnosed after service, for all veterans who served in certain periods and locations where burn pits or other airborne hazards were present, including those who served in Iraq, Afghanistan and Persian Gulf countries beginning in August 1990. It would require the VA to conduct outreach to inform such veterans of their eligibility. It would also require the VA to coordinate federally funded research activities related to health consequences of military toxic exposures; establish a toxic exposure advisory committee to assess cases of toxic exposure; and conduct research based on committee recommendations to make determinations for new or modified presumptions of service-connected exposure. Among other provisions, it would require the VA to publish a list of resources for toxic-exposed veterans and their caregivers and survivors; include a toxic exposure questionnaire in initial screenings conducted by VA primary care providers; provide department health care personnel with education and training to identify and treat illnesses related to toxic exposure; and establish a registry for servicemembers who may have been exposed to per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances due to the release of aqueous film-forming foam on military installations.” The bill passed by a vote of 256-174. [H.R. 3967, Vote #Vote #57, 3/3/22; CQ, 3/3/22]

- 3.5 Million U.S. Military Service Members Were Estimated To Have Been Exposed To Toxic Substances From Burn Pits. “U.S. officials estimate that more than 3.5 million service members who deployed were exposed to toxic smoke from the roughly 250 pits used in Iraq and Afghanistan.” [New York Times, 9/7/21]
• Honoring Our PACT Act Designated 23 Illnesses And Cancers As Linked To Toxic Exposures From “Burn Pits And Airborne Hazards.” “The bill would specifically designate 23 respiratory illnesses and cancers as likely linked to toxic exposures related to military burn pits and airborne hazards exposure. Currently, the Department of Veterans Affairs decides these exposure claims on a case-by-case basis, with the exception of those filed for asthma, rhinitis or sinusitis. The burden of proving one’s illness is related to a burn pit exposure falls on the veteran, leading to delays in health care.” [ABC News, 3/3/22]

• Honoring Our PACT Act Included Veterans Affairs Benefits For Radiation During The Cold War And Additional Illnesses Linked To Agent Orange Used In The Vietnam War. “The bill also provides for new benefits for veterans who faced radiation exposure during deployments throughout the Cold War, adds hypertension and monoclonal gammopathy to the list of illnesses linked to Agent Orange exposure in the Vietnam War, and requires new medical exams for all veterans with toxic exposure claims.” [Military.com, 3/3/22]

• Honoring Our Pact Act Provided Retroactive Veterans Affairs Benefits For Previously Denied Claims And To Deceased Veterans' Survivors. “The bill would open up Department of Veterans Affairs health care to millions of Iraq and Afghanistan veterans exposed to toxic substances during their service even if they don’t have a service-connected disability. The bill also would provide new or increased disability benefits to thousands of veterans who have become ill with cancer or respiratory conditions such as bronchitis or chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, or COPD. The VA would presume that veterans developed their illness as a result of exposure to toxic substances during their service. [...] The bill also provides for retroactive benefits to veterans whose disability claims have been denied and to survivors of deceased veterans.” [AP News, 3/3/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment For A Quarterly Veterans Affairs Report On Cases Of Veteran's Burn Pit Exposure. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Ryan, D-Ohio, amendment no. 23 to the bill that would include provisions of a bill (HR 2601) that would require the Veterans Affairs Department to submit to Congress a quarterly report on each reported case of a veteran's burn pit exposure.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 348-78. [H.R. 3967, Vote #Vote #56, 3/3/22; CQ, 3/3/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Include Cause Of Death In The Veterans Affairs Burn Pit Registry. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Ruiz, D-Calif., amendment no. 22 to the bill that would require the Veterans Affairs Department to take actions necessary to ensure that the burn pit registry can be updated with the cause of death of a deceased registered individual by either an individual designated by the deceased registered individual or an immediate family member of the deceased registered individual, if none is specifically designated.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 425-0. [H.R. 3967, Vote #Vote #55, 3/3/22; CQ, 3/3/22]

Salazar Voted For En Bloc Amendments To The Honoring Our PACT Act To Address Veteran’s Benefits For Toxic Exposure. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., en bloc amendments no. 1, including 23 amendments to the bill that would, among other provisions, authorize $50 million annually for fiscal years 2023 through 2027 for the Veterans Affairs Department to award grants to states for programs that improve outreach and assistance to veterans regarding benefits and programs for which they may be eligible; authorize $150 million for fiscal 2023 for the continued modernization and expansion of capabilities and capacity of the Veterans Benefits Management System to support the expected increase in claims processing for newly eligible veterans pursuant to the bill; require the Veterans Affairs Department to establish an interagency toxic exposure research working group; require the Defense Department to include in each annual budget submission through fiscal 2027 a dedicated budget line item for incinerators and waste-to-energy waste disposal alternatives to burn pits; and increase from 72 to 96 hours the minimum time period within which veterans may be required to notify the Veterans Affairs Department to be eligible for VA coverage when receiving emergency medical care at a non-VA facility.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 331-96. [H.R. 3967, Vote #Vote #52, 3/2/22; CQ, 3/2/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Replace Honoring Our PACT Act’s Text With Expansion Of Veterans Affairs Health Care Benefits For Toxic Substance Exposure. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Miller-Meeks, R-Iowa, for Bost, R-III., amendment no. 5 to the bill that would strike the bill's text and insert provisions of a bill that would expand eligibility for Veterans Affairs Department health care benefits related to toxic substance exposure, including extending the eligibility period from five to 10 years after an eligible veteran's separation. Among other provisions, it would also require the VA to provide toxic exposure-related education and training for department health care personnel; include toxic exposure screening in its patient enrollment health care screening; and conduct studies on cancer rates among veterans and mortality among veterans who served in Southwest Asia.” The amendment was rejected by a vote of 203-223. [H.R. 3967, Vote #Vote #53, 3/2/22; CQ, 3/2/22]

- House Republicans Thought Honoring Our PACT Act Was The Wrong Solution And A “Slippery Slope.” “We’re going to declare 23 presumptive illnesses that are related to burn pit exposure,’ said Takano (D-Calif.) It’s expected to pass the House but Republicans say despite their support for veterans, Takano’s bill is the wrong solution. The bill ‘would expand benefit to more veterans without scientific justification,’ said Rep. Mariannette Miller-Meeks (R-IA). ‘Showing just how slippery a slope this bill would set.’” [Fox 2, 3/2/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment To Ensure The Availability Of Mammography Screenings For Veterans Who Served In Regions During Periods Of Burn Pit Use. In March 2022 Salazar voted for: “Brownley, D-Calif., amendment no. 6 to the bill that would require the Veterans Affairs Department to ensure that mammography screenings are available for veterans who served in the Middle East, Southwest Asia or other regions during periods when burn pits have been or are being used. It would also require the department to submit a report to Congress on rates of breast cancer among servicemembers deployed in these areas, compared to rates among civilians and other servicemembers.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 425-0. [H.R. 3967, Vote #Vote #54, 3/2/22; CQ, 3/2/22]

Salazar Voted Against Considering Improvements To Health Care And Benefits For Veterans Exposed To Toxic Substances. In March 2022 Salazar voted against: “Adoption of the rule (H Res 950) that would provide for House floor consideration of the Honoring our Promise to Address Comprehensive Toxics (Honoring our PACT) Act (HR 3967). The rule would provide for up to one hour of general debate on the bill and floor consideration of 28 amendments to the bill. It would provide for automatic adoption of a Takano, D-Calif., manager's amendment to HR 3967 that would establish a Veterans Toxic Exposures Fund within the Treasury and authorize such sums as necessary for the fund, beginning in fiscal 2023, for expenses related to providing Veterans Affairs Department health care and benefits related to environmental hazard exposure; authorize $30 million in fiscal 2023 for the VA to automate and streamline claims processing to support the expected increase in claims by veterans made eligible for benefits by the bill; modify provisions related to the VA's appointment of five members to a toxic exposure advisory committee established by the bill; and require the department to provide treatment to veterans who participated in response efforts following the 1968 crash of a U.S. Air Force B-52 bomber that caused the release of four thermonuclear weapons in the vicinity of Thule Air Force Base, Greenland.” The rule was adopted by a vote of 220-200. [H.Res. 950, Vote #50, 3/1/22; CQ, 3/1/22]

Salazar Voted For Presenting A Congressional Gold Medal To The All-Black, All-Female World War II 6888th Central Postal Directory Battalion. In February 2022 Salazar voted for: “Perlmutter D-Colo., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would provide for the presentation of a Congressional Gold Medal to the women of the 6888th Central Postal Directory Battalion in recognition of their service and contributions to increase the morale of U.S. personnel stationed in Europe during World War II. The 6888th battalion was an all-Black, all-female battalion that served in England and created processes and filing systems to clear a backlog of undelivered mail to U.S. servicemembers.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 422-0. [S. 321, Vote #46, 2/28/22; CQ, 2/28/22]

Salazar Voted Against Automatic Veterans Affairs Healthcare Enrollment For Discharged Service Members Within 60 Days Of Eligibility. In January 2022 Salazar voted against: “Passage of the bill, as amended, that would require the Veterans Affairs Department to automatically enroll eligible veterans in the department's patient enrollment system, giving them access to VA health care services, within 60 days of receiving confirmation of their eligibility from the Defense Department. It would also require the VA to provide veterans a notification of enrollment, an electronic version of their certificate of eligibility, means to opt out of enrollment electronically and instructions to elect enrollment at a later date.” The bill passed by a vote of 265-163. [H.R. 4673, Vote #14, 1/20/22; CQ, 1/20/22]

Salazar Voted Against An Amendment To Extend Automatic Veteran Healthcare Enrollment To Veterans Discharged 90 Days Prior To The Bill's Enactment. In January 2022 Salazar voted against: “Escobar D-Texas, amendment no. 3 that would extend automatic enrollment under the bill's provisions to veterans discharged 90 days before enactment or later.” The amendment was adopted by a vote of 228-198. [H.R. 4673, Vote #12, 1/20/22; CQ, 1/20/22]

Salazar Voted For The Guard And Reserve GI Bill Parity Act, Including Guard And Reserve Training As Eligible Service For Education Assistance. In January 2022 Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would expand GI Bill benefits for National Guard and Reserve members by including their training as eligible service with respect to educational assistance. It would specify that such benefits accrued through training before Aug. 1, 2025, would expire by Aug. 1, 2040, while benefits accrued through training after that date would not expire. As an offset, it would modify borrower fee rates for certain VA housing loans by delaying certain scheduled rate reductions for several months in 2031 and increasing rates for interest rate reduction refinancing loans closed from July 1, 2022, through Sept. 30, 2030. As amended, the bill would also require the Veterans Affairs Department to provide new veterans with information regarding medical care they are eligible for through VA benefits, including care provided through community providers, mental health care and military sexual trauma care.” Passed by a vote of 287-135. [HR 1836, Vote #Vote #6, 1/12/22; CQ, 1/12/22]

Salazar Voted For An Amendment That Would Strike And Replace Most Of The Provisions In The Guard and Reserve GI Bill Parity Act. In January 2022, Salazar voted for: “Moore R-Ala., amendment no. 2 that would strike the bill’s text and replace it with provisions that would expand GI Bill benefits for National Guard and Reserve members by including certain mandatory drills and field exercises, not including training, as eligible active-duty service with respect to educational assistance. As an offset, it would temporarily increase borrower fee rates for VA interest rate reduction housing refinancing loans.”
The amendment was rejected by a vote of 198-225. [HR 1836, Vote #Vote #4, 1/12/22; CQ, 1/12/22]

Salazar Voted For Codifying And Providing $15 Million In Funding For A Maternity Care Coordination Program For Veterans. In November 2021, Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would codify a Veterans Affairs Department maternity care coordination program and authorize $15 million for the program in fiscal 2022. It would require the department, in carrying out the program, to provide training and support to community maternity care providers with respect to the unique needs of pregnant and postpartum veterans, particularly regarding mental and behavioral health conditions relating to military service. It would also require the Government Accountability Office to submit to Congress, within two years of enactment, a report on maternal mortality and severe maternal morbidity among pregnant and postpartum veterans, with a particular focus on racial and ethnic disparities in maternal health outcomes.” Motion agreed to, (thus cleared for the president), by a vote of 414-9. [S 796, Vote #Vote #374, 11/16/21; CQ, 11/16/21]

Salazar Voted For Expanding Eligibility For Veterans Affairs Department Counseling And Mental Health Services To Veterans And Servicemembers Using VA Educational Benefits. In November 2021, Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would expand eligibility for a Veterans Affairs Department counseling and mental health services program to include veterans and servicemembers using VA educational benefits. It would also require the Government Accountability Office to submit to Congress, within one year of enactment, a report assessing the mental health needs of such veterans and the department’s efforts to address such needs.” Motion agreed to by a vote of 420-4. [HR 4233, Vote #Vote #375, 11/16/21; CQ, 11/16/21]

Salazar Voted For Passage of the Major Medical Facility Authorization Act. In July 2021, Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would authorize approximately $2.1 billion for the Veterans Affairs Department to carry out certain major medical facility projects in various U.S. states in fiscal 2021.” The motion was agreed to by a vote of 413-7. [S 1910, Vote #Vote
#225, 7/27/21; CQ, 7/27/21]

Salazar Voted For Directing The Secretary Of Veterans Affairs To Ensure That Certain Veterans
Medical Facilities Have Physical Locations For The Disposal Of Controlled Substances Medications. In July 2021, Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would require the Veterans Affairs Department to ensure each of its medical facilities that has an onsite pharmacy or a location dedicated for law enforcement purposes has a physical location where any individual may dispose of controlled substances medications. It would require the VA to designate periods during which the public may make use of the location and authorize the department to carry out public information campaigns regarding such periods.” The motion was agreed to 424 to 0. [S 957, Vote #Vote #224, 7/27/21; CQ, 7/27/21]

Salazar Voted For Prohibiting The Veterans Affairs Department From Requiring Copayments From Veterans For Contraceptives That Are Required To Be Covered By Health Insurance. In June 2021, Salazar voted for: “Passage of the bill that would prohibit the Veterans Affairs Department from requiring copayments from a veteran for any contraceptive items that are required to be covered by health insurance plans without a cost-sharing requirement.” The bill passed, 245-181. [HR 239, Vote #Vote #184, 6/24/21; CQ, 6/24/21]

Salazar Did Not Vote On Imposing Harsher Fines On Those Who Seek To Defraud Veterans. In June 2021, Salazar did not vote on: “Nadler, D-N.Y., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill, as amended, that would establish fines, prison sentences of up to five years, or both for individuals who engage in schemes to defraud individuals in connection with obtaining veterans' benefits.” The motion was agreed to, 416-5. [HR 983, Vote #Vote #174, 6/22/21; CQ, 6/22/21]

Salazar Voted For A Bill That Prohibits Veterans Department From Requiring Co-Pay For Contraceptives That Were Required To Be Covered By Health Insurance Plans Without A Cost-Sharing Requirement. In June 2021, Salazar voted for: “Takano, D-Calif., motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill that would prohibit the Veterans Affairs Department from requiring copayments from a veteran for any contraceptive items that are required to be covered by health insurance plans without a cost-sharing requirement.” The motion passed 240 to 188. [HR 239, Vote #Vote #160, 6/15/21; CQ, 6/15/21]

(a private equity holding company of the Cano Health entities prior to this date), which is reported on previous filing. On June 3, 2021, through a SPAC transaction, a public acquisition company purchased all equity of Cano Health entities. The transaction resulted in an exchange of non-publicly traded shares for class A shares on February 14, 2022. The SPAC transaction initiated by the public acquisition company to purchase the Cano Health equity from Primary Care (ITC) Holdings included a Lock-Up Agreement pursuant to which shareholders can only exchange a portion of their non-publicly traded shares for publicly traded shares each year. Although the SPAC transaction occurred in 2021, none of Filer’s shares were exchanged until the date of this reported transaction.</td>

Description: This asset consists of the Class B shares of Cano Health, Inc. the filer was granted upon the event of Cano Health, Inc. going public through a SPAC transaction in June, 2021. As a result of that event, Filer was granted Class B shares of Cano Health, Inc. and subsidiary units of Primary Care (ITC) Holdings (the previous owner of the Cano Health equity that has been reported in the past). These shares have no value (and cannot be sold or traded) until exchanged for Class A shares.

Comments: Pursuant to a Lock-Up Agreement, Filer is only permitted to exchange a certain portion of her Class B shares of Cano Health and subsidiary units of Primary Care (ITC) Holdings (which are paired together) per year. No exchange took place during 2021. The first exchange occurred in 2022, has been reported on a Periodic Transaction Report, and will continue to be reported pursuant to all filing requirements as long as Filer holds the asset.

Primary Care (ITC) Holdings

Description: Asset is a grant of subsidiary units of a private LLC that was the holding company of Cano Health entities, which went public in June, 2021, through a SPAC transaction. Shareholders of the Primary Care entity were granted class B shares in the new Cano Health, Inc. entity pair with subsidiary units of Primary Care. Those class B shares and subsidiary units have no monetary value until exchange for class A shares of Cano Health, Inc.

Comments: Although the subsidiary units of Primary Care held by Filer at the end of the reporting period have no monetary value, we will continue to report the asset until all shares/units have been exchanged for Class A (publicly traded) shares of Cano Health, Inc., since those Class A shares will have value. No exchange of Class B shares and subsidiary units occurred in 2021. Thus, although the holdings have potential future value, the holdings had no value at the end of the reporting period.

Salazar owns $1-$1,000 in shares of Obsidian Energy, a Canadian oil and gas producer. Salazar has generally opposed new drilling off the coast of Florida, which would indirectly benefit Obsidian’s business.

Salazar Has Cosponsored Two Bills That Would Ban Offshore Drilling In Florida, Which Would Benefit Oil Producers In Other Places, Such As Canada. Salazar is a cosponsor of H.R. 5707, the Preserving Recreation, Oceans, Tourism, Environment, and Coastal Towns (PROTECT) Florida Act, and of H.R. 4696, American Shores Protection Act. [H.R. 5707, Summary, accessed 8/16/22; H.R. 4696, Summary, accessed 8/16/22]

Note: There is broad opposition to drilling for oil and gas off the shores of Florida, and that is definitely a larger factor in Salazar’s voting behavior than the miniscule benefits to her portfolio.

| June 2021 | Maria Elvira Salazar and Cano Health, Inc. | Cano Health, Inc. went public via a SPAC transaction in June, 2021. Pursuant to Lock-Up Agreement as part of SPAC transaction, shareholders were granted Class B shares of public entity and subsidiary units of private LLC (Primary Care (ITC) Holdings). No action could be taken with respect to those holdings prior to 1/1/22, then shareholders can exchange 25% of paired Class B/subsidiary units for Class A shares in Cano Health each year (including 25% for the closing date to end of 2021).

Comments: This agreement was part of a SPAC transaction that took the Cano Health entity (all Cano Health equity was previously held by Primary Care (ITC) Holdings, a private LLC) public. Pursuant to this agreement, shareholders in the private LLC can begin exchanging paired Class B/subsidiary units for Class A shares in Cano Health, Inc. on 1/1/22. The first exchange will be for 50% of Filer’s shares (25% for 2021 and 25% for 2022). Filer may then exchange 25% each year thereafter.

Date | Parties To | Terms of Agreement
--- | --- | ---
April 2020 | Maria Elvira Salazar and Primary Care (ITC) Holdings, LLC | Class B Unit Grant Agreement granting filer 5,000 class B units of Primary Care (ITC) Holdings, LLC as part of her previous independent contractor agreement with Cano Health, LLC to anchor a weekly television show and to promote the show and Cano Health. The independent contractor agreement terminated as of Dec. 31, 2020, but filer retains the Class B units granted under this agreement.

Comments: The class B units granted under this agreement had not yet vested as of Dec. 31, 2020. They have since fully vested, so this agreement will not be reported on the filer’s next annual filing. The asset will continue to be reported on Schedule A as long as filer holds the asset and asset is required to be reported.

2015: Salazar and Maietto defaulted on a $2 million mortgage on 7400 SW 72nd Ct, Miami.

2015: Salazar And Maietto Defaulted On Their $2 Million Mortgage On 7400 SW 72nd Ct. “The most problematic of those loans was a $2 million mortgage on the property Maietto still owns at 7400 SW 72nd Ct., which the couple purchased for $780,000, tore down and rebuilt with plans to move in upon its completion. Before the new manse was built, Salazar says she separated from Maietto. She removed herself from the deed, but remained a debtor on the home mortgage loan held by JP Morgan Chase. And in early 2015, the bank claims the couple defaulted on the mortgage. Maietto, 71, told the Miami Herald in a statement that he could not afford the monthly payments and is working on a loan modification. Salazar, 56, calls the period of financial and personal tumult ‘one of the most difficult times of my life.’ Both Maietto and Salazar requested that the Herald submit its questions in writing.” [Miami Herald, 9/27/18]

Salazar Removed Her Name From The Deed, But Was Still A Debtor On The Home Mortgage. “The most problematic of those loans was a $2 million mortgage on the property Maietto still owns at 7400 SW 72nd Ct., which the couple purchased for $780,000, tore down and rebuilt with plans to move in upon its completion. Before the new manse was built, Salazar says she separated from Maietto. She removed herself from the deed, but remained a debtor on the home mortgage loan held by JP Morgan Chase. And in early 2015, the bank claims the couple defaulted on the mortgage [...] The mortgage is a large liability for Salazar, [...] Though she removed herself from the deed on her husband's home, banks don't care who owns a house, only who took out the mortgage loan. Her federal financial disclosure lists the value of her assets as high as $1.8 million -- but her net worth drops into the red once you add in the mortgage on her ex-husband's house.” [Miami Herald, 9/27/18]

Salazar Said That Maietto Agreed To Pay The Mortgage As Part Of Their Divorce Agreement.

“Now eight years past her divorce from home builder and designer Renzo Maietto, Salazar’s decision to purchase millions in Miami real estate with her then-husband ahead of the economic collapse in 2008 has left her with a mess. Her net worth is upside-down, and she’s personally on the hook for a bank note under foreclosure after her ex defaulted on a $2 million home loan. Salazar says the problems are entirely out of her hands, both in their making and resolution: When the couple divorced in the summer of 2010, Maietto said in a settlement that he’d pay the mortgage on the now-distressed Radcliffe Manor property where the couple had hoped to live with their two children. Salazar also signed over the deed to the home to her estranged spouse. ‘Mr. Maietto agreed in the divorce agreement to assume all liability for the property,’ Salazar told the Miami Herald. But legally, they’re still her problems.” [Miami Herald, 9/27/18]

Public Records Provide Conflicting Information And Indicate That Salazar And Maietto Defaulted On 7400 SW 72nd St In August 2016 Rather Than “Early 2015.”

Maietto Fraudulently Claimed A Homestead Exemption On 7400 SW 72nd Ct. While Renting Out The Property. “Before Salazar removed herself from the deed in mid-2010, Maietto began renting out the home, according to the Miami-Dade Property Appraiser's Office, which investigated allegations of homestead fraud at the property following an anonymous tip five years ago. The appraiser's office deemed that Maietto had rented out the property from 2010 through 2013, even though he claimed a property-tax exemption under the guise that the home was his primary residence. The appraiser’s office placed a roughly $7,000 tax lien on the property on Nov. 5, 2013, which Maietto paid two months later. Salazar was on the title for only the first six months of the period in question, and says she never moved into the property after the construction of the home was complete.” [Miami Herald, 9/27/18]
Salazar’s Name Was On The Deed For Six Months While Maietto Claimed A Homestead Exemption. “Before Salazar removed herself from the deed in mid-2010, Maietto began renting out the home, according to the Miami-Dade Property Appraiser’s Office, which investigated allegations of homestead fraud at the property following an anonymous tip five years ago. November 2019: 7400 SW 72nd Was Transferred By Maietto To The Possession Of US BANK TRUST National Association. This Deed Transfer Was Related To A Lawsuit Filed By MTGLQ Investors LP Against Maietto That May Have Been Related To Their 2015 Mortgage Default. [Miami Dade Property Search, accessed 8/17/22]

MTGLQ Is A Subsidiary Of Goldman Sachs That Purchase Non-Performing Home Loans From Fannie Mae And Freddie Mac To Collect The Debts. “Over the last few years, Goldman Sachs' subsidiary MTGLQ Investors has been one of the top buyers of non-performing loans from both Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. In just the last few years, Goldman Sachs used MTGLQ Investors to buy billions and billions in loans from both of the government-sponsored enterprises. And now, MTGLQ is preparing to buy another $1.88 billion in non-performing loans from Fannie Mae... In total, the sale includes 10,300 loans that carry $1.88 billion in unpaid principal balance. And MTGLQ is buying them all. [HousingWire, 10/11/18]

A judge admonished Salazar and Maietto's attorney for “poor judgment” after they sued Wells Fargo for allegedly hiding $10,000 in closing costs.
Salazar And Maietto Had A Lawsuit Against Wells Fargo Over Allegedly Hiding $10,000 In Closing Costs Dismissed With A Hearing Officer Admonishing Salazar’s Attorneys For “Poor Judgment.” “Before they split, the couple also struggled with the debt on another home where Salazar says she lived with her daughters during her separation. Court records show Salazar and Maietto filed a lawsuit against Wells Fargo, alleging that the lender that refinanced their home loan at 6601 SW 71st Ave. had violated Florida’s unfair trade practices laws and the federal Truth in Lending Act by hiding a $10,000 fee during closing. Attorneys for Wells Fargo called the lawsuit frivolous, said the couple received $500,000 cash in the refinancing, and convinced a federal judge to dismiss the lawsuit in 2010. They argued that Salazar and Maietto were trying to get out from under their debt by filing a frivolous lawsuit and sought sanctions against the couple and their attorneys. That motion was rejected, but only after a hearing officer admonished Salazar’s attorneys for ‘poor judgment.’” [Miami Herald, 9/27/18]

One Of Salazar’s Attorneys Was Previously Sued By The City Of Miami Over His Stewardship Of An Apartment Complex In Coconut Grove. “Attorneys for Wells Fargo called the lawsuit frivolous, said the couple received $500,000 cash in the refinancing, and convinced a federal judge to dismiss the lawsuit in 2010. They argued that Salazar and Maietto were trying to get out from under their debt by filing a frivolous lawsuit and sought sanctions against the couple and their attorneys. That motion was rejected, but only after a hearing officer admonished Salazar’s attorneys for “poor judgment.’ Maietto and Salazar said the cash freed up in the refinancing was used to help pay for the construction of their house at 7400 SW 72nd Ct. They said their attorneys recommended that they sue. One of those attorneys, Julio C. Marrero, is well-known to a neighborhood in the district Salazar hopes to represent. He was among a group of property owners sued by Miami City Hall over their stewardship of run-down apartment buildings in a gentrifying, historically black area of Coconut Grove. Marrero’s law firm also represents the couple in their ongoing foreclosure suit with JP Morgan Chase. Salazar said Maietto hired Marrero.” [Miami Herald, 9/27/18]
